Moved by Meister, seconded by Bohjanen, that after review of Application SP15-04 Site Plan Review; and review of the staff report dated 8/10/15; the site plan dated

7/27/07 for additional improvements to Alder Storage located at 6590 US-41S, parcel #52-02-121-071-15, be approved with the following conditions:

1. The applicant will present a site plan, prepared by a licensed surveyor or engineer, indicating one of the following options:
 - a. Confirmation that the placement and configuration of building #4 as presented, including the 30 feet separation from building #3 and 40 foot building width for building #4, will achieve a minimum of 100' setback from the water's edge of the existing pond and minimum of 30' setback from the west property line.
 - b. A revised placement for building #4 (with specified dimensions) that will achieve a minimum of 20 feet separation from the existing building #3 as approved in 2007, and a minimum of 100' setback from the water's edge of the existing pond and minimum of 30' setback from the west property line as required by the Zoning Ordinance.
 - c. Revisions to include a change in building dimension sufficient to preserve a minimum of 100' setback from the water's edge of the existing pond, and minimum of 30' setback from the west property line as required by the Zoning Ordinance.
 - d. Or obtain the necessary variance from the 100' waterfront setback requirement from the Zoning Board of Appeals;
2. Removal or alteration of significant natural features shall be restricted to those areas which are reasonably necessary to develop the site in accordance with the approved plan, however, the existing vegetated buffer within 30' of the west property line shall not be disturbed;
3. The 6' tall fencing and required plants as approved in the 2007 plan shall be extended as far south as necessary to substantially screen the new structure from the residential area;
4. The applicant shall obtain a County Soil Erosion permit before being issued a zoning compliance permit;
5. All new lighting or replaced lighting shall be shown to be in compliance with the current ordinance before a zoning compliance permit will be issued;
6. Existing lighting shall be shielded from the adjacent residential area;
7. Alder Storage Properties shall maintain the landscape areas that are shown on the plan dated 7/27/07;
8. Alder Storage Properties shall clean-up said property upon completion of construction including removal of brush, trees, debris, etc.

- B. Complete Street Project Recommendation for Health Department grant
Woodward summarized the criteria for the Building Healthy Communities grant as sent to her by Scott Ham. The grant stresses policy-making or implementation of projects related to new non-motorized pathways. She feels we have the necessary policy in the Master Plan to support such projects. It is anticipated that the grant would help with design/construction documents for the project.

Sikkema said he thought the project to connect the businesses on the west side of US-41 to the existing bike path would be useful. Smith was concerned about the grade change from the tunnel to the right of way. Sikkema said there are two options: 1) use the existing Village street adjacent to the tunnel to get to road grade, 2) go across the top of the tunnel (but this would be questionable for space). Meister said that in keeping with a walkable community, the ability to get to those businesses would be beneficial. Ventura said he would also support this as a first priority.

Meister asked if there is an existing easement for potential public access to Lake Superior, as he feels this would be a priority. Woodward said that in the original Hiawatha Shores plat there were two road easements, but that land may now be privately owned, potentially requiring negotiation/purchase. The entire lakeshore is abutted by private property, so this could be controversial. Accordingly, the waterfront access would be limited to the shoreline area because of private ownership. Ventura said he prefers the US-41 project, as Lakewood Lane residents can access the Iron Ore Heritage Trail at several existing locations.

Moved by Ventura, seconded by Mahaney, that the Planning Commission recommends that the first priority project to be submitted for a "Building Healthy Communities" grant as facilitated by the Marquette County Health Department is the planning and design of a non-motorized connection along west side of US-41 from the northern-most business parcel south to the existing pedestrian tunnel accessing the main urban pedestrian/bike paths.

VIII. UNFINISHED BUSINESS

Because interested parties were in the audience, the Planning Commission agreed to move agenda item VIII.D to VIII.A.

A. Update on Site Plan Review SP15-03 - Dollar General, PID #106-004-00, 4067 US-41 South access negotiations

Woodward received correspondence from Scott Knowlton, General Counsel for the development company involved in the proposed Dollar General. In the correspondence, the company asks the Township to internally reconsider the stand-alone access. Woodward suggested possible Planning Commission actions to include 1) No response, since there is no formal request for reconsideration by the Planning Commission; 2) Ask Staff or a Commissioner to prepare a response reflecting the Commission's thoughts since a response was requested, which could include informing Mr. Knowlton that thoughts remain unchanged in keeping with findings as expressed in the motion for approval, and offering alternative solutions; or advising Mr. Knowlton to bring his clients in for a meeting to reconsider the site plan and proposed access.

Lee Blondeau, 2001 N. Tracie Ln – In his discussions with Dollar General, Dollar General proposed that they own the frontage currently owned by Blondeau, with the adjacent uses to be accessed via easement. However, then they were informed about the Ordinance requirement for all new parcels to front on a public or private road. He wondered if there is a variance process for this. The Planning Commission asked him to negotiate shared use for that driveway and he did – Dollar General will buy it, they will all use it. Woodward clarified the Ordinance requirements – lots of record can be accessed via easement, but new lots must have direct frontage. Dollar General's purchase of the frontage attached to the Blondeau parcel would make the newly formed Blondeau parcel nonconforming. Blondeau is concerned this will negatively impact negotiations, and he would like to see new development on that parcel. Opportunities don't come along very often.

Laurie Freeman, and Sally Halvorson, property owners of 4067 US-41 S, said that they have a piece of property that is basically land locked if no access is allowed. They asked for help. Their impression is that Dollar General doesn't want to pay the price established by Blondeau for the highway frontage.

Woodward said there are four options: 1) new property owner would not require ownership of the Blondeau access, and would utilize an easement for access (then both parcels would still have frontage on the public road), 2) create a private road meeting County Road Commission standards to access all parcels, 3) create a public road to access all parcels, and 4) keep the existing stand-alone access but connect the parking lots between adjacent parcels to give people the option of using the safer access over the Blondeau parcel.

Blondeau's plan was to install a curb between his easement and the Dry Dock Bar, and for the Dollar General driveway to be placed back far enough to allow a sign on the front portion of the property to advertise the use on his parcel. The property owners pointed out the tax benefits for the Township.

Mahaney pointed out the safety concerns associated with the existing stand-alone access. Smith asked for further clarification of the Township frontage requirements. Woodward clarified. Sikkema asked about the process for creating a private road. Woodward said the road, meeting County Road Commission standards, would come before the Planning Commission for approval. Smith said a 66' wide easement with 80' cul-de-sac at the end would be required by the County.

Sikkema further pursued the option of making it a private road – he thinks the driveway would meet County Road Commission standards. The costs could be shared by the adjacent property owners. Options were discussed with the property owners, who said Dollar General doesn't want their customers to be circulating with truck and bar traffic. The owners said it seems their only option is to have Blondeau create a private road. Ventura said it's not the only option – most companies negotiate access via easements, without ownership requirements, such as the agreement between Holiday Gas Station and Snyder's. It would be simple if Dollar General would accept an easement, as Blondeau has said he is willing to negotiate shared access.

Smith asked if the Township has the ability to waive the Corridor Committee's recommendation and MDOT recommendation and approve a driveway on US-41. Sikkema said it's our Ordinance we would be waiving – MDOT would not be involved in that. The Corridor Committee gives the Township recommendations. Meister discussed the MDOT recommendation for the driveway, if the Township allows direct highway access, including the Corridor Committee's recommendation about a dedicated left turn lane onto Silver Creek Road, which may also result in a prohibition against direct left turns into the subject parcel. Mahaney wondered if Midwest LLC approached the owners of Quiznos regarding shared access. He said it seems that Midwest has not fully pursued their options. The distance of the Holiday driveway from the intersection of M-28/US-41/Cherry Creek Road was compared to the distance of the subject property driveway from the intersection of M-28/US-41/Silver Creek Road. Sikkema said the Silver Creek Road intersection is busier than the M-28/US-41/Cherry Creek Road intersection, and the proposed driveway is closer to the Silver Creek Road intersection than the Holiday driveway is to their intersection.

The possibility of a variance from road frontage requirements was discussed; in that way, Dollar General could own Blondeau's road frontage.

The property owner asked if they could rezone the property to residential, and use the existing driveway. Sikkema said they could make the rezoning request, and the driveway issue wouldn't come before the Board because it wouldn't be a change in use.

The Commission discussed their response to Midwest LLC and Mr. Knowlton. Ventura made a motion as below, including options 1-4. Smith urged another option including direct access via right-turn only. Sikkema said this would also have to be acceptable to MDOT, and he doesn't think that's the best solution. Mahaney said they should exhaust the other options. Sikkema would support a variance from Ordinance frontage requirements to allow Dollar General to own the access. Smith said that the only way the first four options can be achieved is through successful negotiations with Blondeau. He supports a fifth option, as below. Sikkema asked Ventura if he accepted the revised motion with the addition of the 5th option. Ventura asked if there was a second to his motion. Mahaney seconded the motion. Ventura agreed to amend the motion at Smith's request, adding a fifth option, but with a caveat that the first four options should be pursued first. Mahaney rescinded his second to the motion. Smith offered a second to the amended motion.

Moved by Ventura, seconded by Smith, that the Planning Director draft a letter to Midwest LLC, for signature by the Chairman, stating that the Planning Commission position remains unchanged, and the desire is for Midwest LLC to develop the property in a safe way through one of the following options:

1. Utilize shared access with adjacent property via easement.
2. Direct access via a new public road.
3. Direct access via a new private road meeting County Road Commission standards.
4. Apply to the Zoning Board of Appeals for a variance from the frontage requirements of the Zoning Ordinance, allowing the developer to own the access and provide access to adjacent property owners via easement.
5. Allow direct access to the subject parcel via right turn only; with the caveat that the first four options must be pursued first.

Vote: Ayes: 5 Nays: 2 MOTION CARRIED

Woodward said that if the applicant pursued option #5, they would have to return to the Planning Commission for a revised site plan review approval. This was affirmed.

- B. Final draft Ordinance #55 Vehicle Parking and Storage – revisit before public hearing
Woodward said the Attorney input was summarized in the staff memo, and incorporated into the draft, with the exception of his comment regarding the omission of the "one inoperable vehicle that is under restoration for the purpose of a hobby" clause. If the Commission wants to add that back into the Ordinance provisions, she suggested adding it as item #2 in Section 6A, with the current item #2 to become item

#3. Section 6A(2) would read, "One inoperable vehicle that is under restoration for the purpose of a hobby may be stored outside, provided all requirements of Section 4 are met." Sikkema was concerned about the amount of time such vehicle could be stored outside. It was decided to revise Section 6A(2) to read, "For a period not to exceed one year, one inoperable vehicle that is under restoration for the purpose of a hobby may be stored outside, provided all requirements of Section 4 are met." Bohjanen suggested a possible extension upon demonstration of progress. Woodward was skeptical about her ability to determine progress on car repair. However, the Ordinance already has a waiver provision. It was determined this would suffice.

Bohjanen didn't like the proposed syntax change in Section 5 A, B, and D, resulting in a sentence beginning with "Provided however ...". It was decided to accept the changes as indicated by the highlights except that the ". Provided" would be changed to ", provided".

Moved by Bohjanen, seconded by Milton, to approve draft Ordinance #55, The Charter Township of Chocolay, Marquette, MI, Vehicle and Trailer Parking and Storage Ordinance as changed, and to hold a public hearing on the proposed draft at the September meeting, with corrections to include grammar in Section 5 and the addition to Section 6 as discussed.

Vote: Ayes: 7 Nays: 0 MOTION CARRIED

Sikkema recommended discussing item E before proceeding to items C and D. This was agreed.

E. Trustee Maki faxes of 8/4/15 and 8/6/15 for discussion

Sikkema said the Planning Commission had received two communications from Mr. Maki, one dated August 4, the other dated August 5 and received on August 6. He said the Commission is under some obligation to respond to written requests within 14 days, so he sent a response signifying that he would request that the items come up for discussion, with the possibility of being added to the meeting agenda. He said it isn't clear how or if the Commission has to respond. He did respond with an acknowledgement. He asked the Commission if they want to discuss it.

Sikkema introduced the topics of the August 6 information request, along with findings. It was determined there was no need for site plan review for the enlargement of the Silver Creek Church parking lot according to site plan review standards, as this was an expansion that did not result in an increase over 20 percent. A series of lists were requested by Mr. Maki; for the first three items, no such lists are maintained, nor did the Supervisor request the generation of those lists. The fourth list of zoning violations was provided to Mr. Maki in the same manner as provided to the Planning Commission monthly. Mahaney said this was available on the website as well, and Woodward said the information is summarized in the Board update every month.

The lot size for the communication tower approved for Verizon Wireless was discussed – the lot upon which the tower is placed exceeds the minimum lot size requirement of 20 acres. Mahaney said that Mr. Maki's interpretation must be that the leased area constitutes a new lot, however it doesn't. It is not required that the leased area meet the minimum lot size requirement.

The Planning Commission was not asked to take action on a revised Silver Creek Recreation Area access.

Meister asked if Mr. Maki had received the staff responses. Woodward said Gary Walker had directed her to respond to the fax that was sent to the Township Board and Planning Commission, and that response was sent to Mr. Maki along with a response from Gary Walker and Andy Sikkema. Sikkema said he can draft a letter to Mr. Maki referencing that response and any new responses, should the Commission feel the need to address any of the issues.

The contents of the August 4 communication to the Planning Commission were discussed. The first item asks for information dealing with the approval of an accessory building on the Blondeau parcel in 2006, and the groundwater contamination on that parcel. Item two is in regard to the Verizon Tower leased area size, as already discussed. The third item is a question about why the property north of Lakewood Lane was changed from R-1 to WFR in 2008. Sikkema said he didn't think any of the current members were on the Board in 2008. The fourth item is in regard to a suggested revision of the Planning Commission minutes of 6/25/15.

Sikkema could envision no response to the third item other than reviewing the minutes pertaining to zoning changes in 2008. Bohjanen asked if that was a result of a zoning ordinance change. Sikkema affirmed. Bohjanen posed the answer, "Why was it done? It was part of a zoning revision." Woodward said she had reviewed the minutes, and found confirmation of the change, but no associated reasoning. Sikkema said the old minutes are available to anyone, and the Commission has no more information than Mr. Maki in this regard. The Commission asked Woodward to refer Mr. Maki to the appropriate minutes where the change was referenced if known.

Regarding item #1, Woodward said there was no information about building height contained in the application, plans, and memorandums for the Blondeau building at the time of approval in 2006. However, she said this is irrelevant as the building is now a principal structure conforming to height requirements. Formerly the lot may have been considered to have multiple principal buildings. The Commission asked Woodward to check with the DEQ to see if there are any outstanding issues on the Blondeau property.

Sikkema asked for confirmation of Mr. Maki's exact words as reflected in the 6/25/15 minutes regarding WFR vs LSR. Woodward said the minutes reflect what was actually said. Sikkema said they should respond that the minutes from public comment are correct as written. He suggested that he would work with Woodward to draft a response to both letters. The response to the August 6 letter would reflect the previously prepared response from staff and the Township Supervisor.

Moved by Bohjanen, seconded by Ventura, to have a letter drafted by the Chairman and staff to respond to Mr. Maki per the discussion.

C. Land Use Discussion – "C" Commercial & "I" Industrial zoning districts

Woodward encouraged the Planning Commission to consider updates to the use provisions of the Zoning Ordinance to address problems of clarity and omissions, resulting in increased expenditures of time, citizen confusion, lack of consistency, and complicated process. She gave examples of the difficulties as presented in the staff memo. Woodward suggested that when the Commission is ready to move forward with zoning ordinance amendments related to master plan implementation, they had three options to proceed as follows:

1. Amend Section 4 Use Standards without changing current zoning districts or rezoning parcels.
2. Amend Section 4 Use Standards while changing zoning district names to reflect mixed-use options, without rezoning all parcels that are indicated for mixed-use.
3. Amend Section 4 Use Standards while changing zoning district names to reflect mixed-use options, and also rezoning all parcels that are indicated for mixed-use (all at once or in phases).

The Commission had agreed to discuss the land uses allowed in the Commercial and Industrial zoning districts at this meeting.

Sikkema posed the question whether residential should be allowed as a principal or accessory use in the Commercial district. Meister said the commercial frontage is too valuable to let it be converted to residential, so he'd prefer residential uses as accessory to commercial. For example, apartments could be above or behind commercial uses. Sikkema said it would generate supplemental income and double the use of the property, making the development more viable. Bohjanen envisions two levels – the corridor would be commercial with accessory residential, and the adjacent residential area could be residential with accessory commercial. This would enable the outward expansion of the commercial district while not depriving people of their places to live. Sikkema asked if some commercial properties might become viable for multi-family uses – allowing greater density and affordable housing. This might retain residents going through life changes by making rental properties available. Bohjanen prefers multi-family to be located in adjacent residential areas. He doesn't understand why duplexes are allowed on the small lots in Harvey (R-2 district), but not on bigger parcels in the R-1 district or the countryside. He thinks that needs to change. The corridor and neighborhood mixed-use areas make sense to him. Meister sees residential as having the same effect as storage buildings, taking away prime commercial space. He thinks they should be allowed, but located with an increased setback. Bohjanen said he envisions an overlay district where all the residential is 10 feet off the ground, and commercial is in the space in-between. He said many old communities have ground floor commercial and upper floor residential. Sikkema said it's also important that the downstairs not turn into underutilized commercial, being vacant because there is no demand. That space could be repurposed for apartments, although he still envisions residential as an accessory use.

Sikkema asked how to go about the changes per Woodward's suggestion. Meister prefers option #3, but with rezoning in phases. Bohjanen asked about potential public reaction to proposed zoning changes. Woodward suggested sending a letter to property owners who might be impacted by proposed changes to obtain their input. Or this could be done through a special meeting to which they are invited. Sikkema said it would be good to know why some underutilized properties are not being redeveloped. Mahaney thinks it's related to the speed of traffic through Harvey. Sikkema cautioned against requesting a speed survey, because it would likely result in an increase in speed limit. Ventura said Marquette Township is developing like crazy even with highway speed. Mahaney said we don't have the larger parcels available. Ventura agreed, but said he thinks the bigger limitation in Harvey is the lack of public water supply. Smith agreed in reference to fire suppression requirements.

Sikkema said people want to see Harvey more vibrant, so either we need bigger businesses to serve as regional draws, or need to develop more local-serving businesses. The assembly of larger parcels might infringe on existing residential areas. Meister said the mixed-use option makes smaller lots more viable with supplemental income. Smith cited the reuse of the residential building for Iron Bay Computer as a good example.

Blondeau asked if the Township offers tax incentives. Bohjanen said the Board discussed a DDA district years ago, but it wasn't a popular idea. It would mean reinvesting incremental tax revenues. Woodward said the proposed corridor study would involve a feasibility study for a corridor improvement district. Sikkema asked if the corridor study should be done before revising the zoning ordinance. Woodward said that would be the ideal process; however she was asked to put together recommendations for a temporary fix while more comprehensive fixes were being considered. The Commission asked Woodward to research the amount of money it would take to develop such a corridor development plan, and to develop recommendations for changes to Section 4 based on the discussion.

D. Discussion of potential zoning ordinance revisions pertaining to future development along the Harvey corridor

At the April 20 meeting, Woodward had expressed concern about the number of potential properties that could be redeveloped, and the lack of appropriate regulations for buffers and screening for uses that would involve exterior impacts. The Commission asked her to draft ordinance revisions for the prime redevelopment area that would incorporate a mix of uses and improve the pedestrian environment, with special attention to buffering of outdoor storage, display, or sales areas.

Woodward proposes to revise the existing Access Management Overlay District to address these issues, because most potential redevelopment properties would be contained within that District. The District regulations have a well-crafted, transparent process which would keep applicable regulations together in the same portion of the Zoning Ordinance. Woodward also strongly recommends revising the 50' setback requirement of the Access Management Overlay District, which has the effect of making most existing properties noncompliant, and results in a large area of vacant space between the road and the development since the right-of-way is so large. Allowing buildings closer to the right-of-way would create new development more in character with existing development, a more accessible pedestrian environment and more pleasing public space, and make businesses more visible to passers-by. The current setback requirements limit development potential.

She wants feedback on the recommended approach so she can write some sample regulations pertaining to front yard landscaping, parking lot screening, screening of outdoor storage, parking lot connections for non-motorized infrastructure, etc.

Sikkema said he agrees with this approach and the revised setbacks to reduce building setback and encourage parking on the side and rear. Meister agrees. Sikkema said the intent was always that municipalities would revise the access management standards to address community aesthetics. Woodward will continue to work on recommendations. Bohjanen thinks the façade is also important – a nice appearance may not require trees. Woodward said she will promote filtered views and screening.

IX. PUBLIC COMMENT

None

X. COMMISSIONER'S COMMENT

Ventura said Bohjanen's comments regarding facades are well taken and could be addressed with form based codes or hybrid codes. Meister said they need to address the minimum lot size for PUD development and allow PUDs in the AF district. Sikkema said that's a good point and it should be put on a to-do list.

XI. DIRECTOR'S REPORT

Woodward mentioned the budgeted training for webcasts and the Citizen Planner Program. Sikkema is interested in the Citizen Planner program, and possibly Bohjanen. Woodward will see when the training will be in Marquette again, and check on the length of the webcast and send information to the Commissioners.

XII. INFORMATIONAL ITEMS AND CORRESPONDENCE

None discussed.

CHARTER TOWNSHIP OF CHOCOLAY PLANNING COMMISSION MINUTES

Monday, September 21, 2015

I. MEETING CALLED TO ORDER BY: Andy Sikkema at 7:00 p.m.

ROLL CALL

Members Present: Andy Sikkema (Chair), Andy Smith (Vice Chair), Eric Meister (Secretary), Tom Mahaney, Bruce Ventura

Members Absent: Richard Bohjanen (Board), Kendell Milton

Staff Present: Kelly Drake Woodward (Planning Director/Zoning Administrator), Suzanne Sundell (Administrative Assistant), Gary Walker (Township Supervisor), Steve Lawry (Township Manager)

II. MINUTES

August 17, 2015

Motion by Ventura, seconded by Mahaney, to approve the minutes as corrected (page 4, 3rd paragraph in motion, 4th line down, addition in bold "... planning and design of a non-motorized connection along the west side of US-41 ...").

Vote: Ayes: 5 Nays: 0 MOTION CARRIED

III. ADDITIONAL AGENDA ITEMS / APPROVAL OF AGENDA

Motion by Meister, seconded by Ventura, to approve the agenda as written.

Vote: Ayes: 5 Nays: 0 MOTION CARRIED

IV. PUBLIC COMMENT

Randy Hubinger, 214 Riverside Road – provided written and verbal information to the Commissioners related to constructing a privacy fence along their side lot line. The Zoning Ordinance Section 18.2 (D)1.d provides that a 6' privacy fence cannot be placed any further toward the road than the front of the house. Waterfront houses are often placed near the water, and therefore a privacy fence would not be allowed in most of their yard. They would like to put up a privacy fence to screen their lot from their neighbor's, which is a rental property. The fence would still be located 40 feet from the road. He would like to see the Ordinance changed to accommodate these kinds of situations.

Public Comment closed.

Sikkema asked if the information provided could be added to the agenda. Woodward indicated it could. Sikkema asked for motion to put this item on agenda – none was made.

V. PUBLIC HEARINGS

A. CU15-04, PID 123-011-00, 488 Mangum Road, Chiodi, Recreational Use

Public comment was opened.

Sarah Monte, 201 Green Garden – she is about one mile away from the Chiodi farm through the woods. Monte loves what is happening with the farm being open for events. She does not feel that there has been any problem with noise or traffic. Monte stated that thinking of this as recreation not totally accurate because this is a working farm – a better term would be agri-tourism. She thinks it is a great way to expose people to agricultural systems, and the proposed use is fitting for the district. This creates a different venue for people who do not want to have a wedding in a basement or hotel. She feels that it is good for all the farms in the area. As a nearby farmer, she appreciates the increased interest in agriculture that results from people visiting Chiodi's farm. Monte stated it is an excellent use of a farm that is a little bit non-traditional, but still fits within the zoning requirements. It should be encouraged as part of the County's Master Plan which has stated that we should focus on agriculture in all aspects.

Debbie Mahin, 774 Greenfield Road – she applauds these excellent entrepreneurs. It is really difficult to make a living, and they are doing it because of their great idea. She is also a small entrepreneur – she has a food truck and horse-drawn wedding carriage which she would like to bring to their events.

Charlotte Dameworth, 550 Mangum Road – they have been there since 1969. She agrees with everything the other two have said. She and her husband fully support Chiodi's and all they do on their farm.

Bob Mahin, 774 Greenfield Road – he reiterates everything that has been said. This young family has done a wonderful job with upkeep of the farm and it enhances the community. Part of the charm of Chocoy Township is the old farms, and he feels that Chiodi's have done a beautiful job and he hopes they can continue this use.

Sandra Peterson, 401 Green Garden Road – she also supports this use. Her son and daughter-in-law were one of the first couples married there. This supports the use of local food and the hiring of local people.

Tom Ballreich, 447 Mangum – wanted to know if his property tax will go up or down if this gets approved. Sikkema stated that the Planning Commission is not involved in taxes and that would be a question for the Assessor.

B. Proposed amendments to Ordinance #55 Vehicle Parking and Storage

Dick Arnold, 312 West Branch Road – this is the third time he has come before the Planning Commission on a change in the Ordinance, and each time it gets worse. Arnold cited Section 4.C states "Vehicles over 8 feet tall should be stored at least 10 feet from the lot line". Then in Section 4.D.1 it states that "Vehicles and vehicle parts shall not be parked or stored within the required zoning ordinance setback for structures and property lines." He feels there is a conflict between these two provisions. Another concern is Section 4.D.3 which states, “The designated enforcement officer shall have the authority to grant a waiver from this Section ...”. Arnold doesn’t feel that this should be possible – that’s what the Zoning Board of Appeals is for. He doesn’t like Section 7.C that allows for the parking of up to 3 semi-trailers on a property for residential use. He feels this means that every place on M-28 would have 50 foot semi-trailers or container boxes parked in their yard and it doesn’t make sense to him. He stated that even though they are supposed to be parked in the back yard, backyards are where people hold get-togethers. He also wondered why the Planning Commission proposed that fully operable agricultural vehicles can be parked in residential areas.

VI. PRESENTATIONS

None

VII. NEW BUSINESS

A. CU15-04, PID 123-011-00, 488 Mangum Road, Chiodi, Recreational Use

Woodward stated that this is a request to use what is principally a farm and a residence for the owners for a temporary seasonal recreational use involving a farm accessory building and portion of the grounds. A recreational use is a conditional use in this district. This is a 20 acre conforming lot of a size which also meets the minimum requirements for a recreational use. The surrounding properties are mostly vacant farms and forest lands. There are no site plan concerns in relation to soil, floodplains, wetlands, or terrain. The nearest residence is approximately 1,300 feet away with a forested separation. Woodward reviewed the staff use analysis for categorization of this use based on Ordinance provisions. Woodward also stated that she had consulted with the Township Attorney regarding this land use classification, and they are in agreement. It is anticipated that this will be a low intensity use in comparison with some of the other uses allowed in the AF district, such as race tracks, contractor yards and shops, and kennels. Woodward stated that this is basically a short term rental of a farm structure and portion of the farm grounds. Public assembly is not clearly addressed in the zoning ordinance. This use is clearly accessory to the principal use of farm.

Woodward reviewed some recommended conditions for approval involving exterior lighting, on-site parking, potential future parking lot screening, and required amount of public parking in relation to occupancy, etc. The Zoning Ordinance requires 0.35 parking spaces per occupant for various public assembly uses, but occupancy is hard to determine when people are using open space on a farm. The applicant has stated that he currently has room for about 90 parking spaces, so when using the above formula, that would accommodate approximately 257 occupants, and so far he has not had that number of people. Woodward also suggested that the issue of noise be handled per the Noise Ordinance, and the hours of operation be set to coincide. Woodward recommended that the Planning Commission require that the property owners make sure that the clients are adequately served with public facilities and services meeting Health Department requirements, and that before commencement of use they will provide proof of compliance with the other applicable regulations and statutes.

Ventura asked if Chiodi had determined the maximum capacity of the barn. Chiodi stated that they are limited to about 150 – 170 for safety and exit requirements.

Sikkema asked if Chiodi had contacted the Health Department for review of the facility. Chiodi indicated he had not, because they do not provide drinking water or food, and porta-potties are provided for a charge.

Chiodi indicated that the concept started with friends and neighbors coming out to have an event. Then other people started calling. The reason for coming to the Planning Commission is to make sure that they are following the laws and ordinances and have approval, especially since the Township has no “special event” permit available at this time.

Mahaney asked Woodward if what Chiodi is doing is considered illegal. Woodward stated this was a tough question, since people do have events and gatherings on their properties without permits, but this is a more frequent occurrence. Woodward agrees with Chiodi that there is a need to get things “ironed out” so the characteristics of this use and the conditions under which they can operate are clear. Mahaney asked if this is currently prohibited under our Ordinance. Woodward indicated that she thought there was strong support for the idea that it is a use that is permitted in this zoning district. Sikkema indicated that he struggles with this, based on the fact that the people that come there use it for recreational use, but the owners use it for commercial use. Woodward indicated that there are a lot of commercial uses allowed in the AF zoning district. Chiodi indicated that was why they were here, to see how they could be “labeled”. There is a demand for this activity, and they want to know how they can do this for the community. Even if the barn wasn’t there, people would still be using the facility, as they spend most of their time outdoors when the weather is good. Chiodi compared the use to Gitch-Gumee, where the owner has a business for people to pursue recreation.

Mahaney asked about the size of the largest event held there. Chiodi stated about 200 people.

Sikkema asked how many events had been held this past year. Chiodi indicated about 12. Sikkema questioned this based on information on the website, and this was further discussed, as some events were concerts. Sikkema indicated that he just wanted people to understand the level of intensity, and he asked for a projection on the number of events per year. Chiodi replied there would be no more than 25, based on the number of weekend days between May and October. There are 2,100 working hours per year, and they would be open for 150 hours potentially. He figured this was less than 10% of working days per year. It’s a seasonal use, and since that’s their home, that’s all they want it to be. If there was a permitting system for individual events he would have taken that route.

Mahaney asked about potential numbers of people attending each event. Chiodi indicated that they like to keep them as small as possible, so possibly 200. Mahaney asked if he was planning on enlarging the events. Chiodi stated he did not know – but he is open to yearly review. Mahaney asked Woodward about placing parameters on Conditional Uses.

Sikkema asked if the Conditional Use runs with the property. Woodward indicated yes, if the use continued to meet the same conditions as specified. Sikkema clarified that if the property was sold, it would stay with the property and new owners, not with the old owners.

Sikkema asked Woodward how she or the attorney came up with “Recreational Use”, as that needs to be tied to recreational structures, and there are no real recreational structures as defined in the Ordinance in this case. Woodward said that Recreational Use/Structure is interpreted as meaning Recreational Use or Recreational Structure. Sikkema reiterated that the recreational use is for the renter and their guests, but it is a commercial use for the permanent owner. Woodward pointed out that the Recreational Use is intermittent. Woodward further explained that land use classification relates more to what is actually happening on the property than to the impact to the owner. Sikkema asked if that means that someone could be in the AF district and put in a bar, and consider it recreational. Woodward indicated that use is not intermittent. Sikkema argued that you would close at night, and then open the next day. Woodward indicated that there would not be the same standards for a bar as for this use.

Meister indicated that he thought this use is related to agri-tourism. People go there because it is a farm, and they want their event on a farm. Sikkema indicated that agri-tourism is not mentioned in our zoning, but it is mentioned in our Master Plan.

Sikkema asked Chiodi if he felt like he was running a business – Chiodi indicated that he felt like he was running many businesses, with the farm being the primary business. He said that agri-forestry is a commercial use, historically from day one. 1974 is the first time that Chocoy had zoning. Prior to that, people were running commercial farms. Chiodi indicated that he could log his 60 acres and not get a permit, and that would be a commercial venture. Chiodi also indicated that they could be viewed as a park, such as Lakeneland or Gitch-Gumee.

Meister indicated that he felt it was better if they do have a Conditional Use, because that way it would not have to be allowed everywhere in the AF. Sikkema indicated that there are really no criteria to judge where this type of use should be. Ventura indicated that he feels there are criteria in that they have to look at how close the neighbors are and how they will be impacted. He said they’re also talking about a present event, not a future event.

Ventura indicated he had looked over the list of criteria that Woodward had recommended. He feels they are reasonable. As far as the lighting, dusk to dawn lights can be irritating to neighbors, but if they are shielded properly they are fine.

The report from the County Road Commission suggest there be no vehicle parking on Mangum Road, Woodward made that recommendation, and there is room for parking on-site. Chiodi has identified the parking area and the ingress and egress points. Woodward had commented on the frequency of use and the effect on groundcover, which has been addressed in a recommendation for future vegetative screening. Woodward suggested a specification on 0.35 spaces per occupant for parking requirements, which would allow for 257 occupants at maximum, so he feels that the parking being provided is adequate. The hours of operation should be satisfactory for both the family and the neighbors. The question largest in Ventura's mind is that the property owner will insure that clients are adequately served by public facilities. He asked Chiodi about the provision of porta-potties, and if there was some type of formula for this. Chiodi said they are rented and emptied as needed, but he would check with the Health Department. Ventura indicated that this would be covered in the next condition as Woodward suggested – that the applicant provide proof of compliance with all applicable standards. Ventura indicated that the Planning Commission needs to look out for public safety, health and welfare.

Moved by Ventura, seconded by Meister, that after review of Application #CU15-04 for applicants Jeff and Kristin Chiodi for parcel #52-02-123-011-00 at 488 Mangum Rd; and staff report dated 9/8/15; the conditional use of recreational use, specifically the hosting of occasional seasonal public gatherings as an accessory use on a parcel primarily used for agriculture and a single-family dwelling, having been found to meet all required conditions of approval, be approved with the following conditions:

- 1. All exterior lighting (both existing and new) shall be approved by the Zoning Administrator as being in conformance with the applicable standards of the Zoning Ordinance before a Zoning Compliance Permit is issued; and*
- 2. All parking for the proposed use shall be provided on-site, with no parking allowed on Mangum Rd; and*
- 3. If use increases in frequency so that the ground cover of the designated parking area is compromised, and it becomes necessary to use something other than vegetative cover for the parking area, the applicant shall provide a vegetative screen between the parking area and the roadway sufficient to significantly screen the parking lot from view while not obscuring clear vision of the access points; and*
- 4. On-site parking shall be provided at a minimum level of 0.35 spaces per occupant; with the number of parking spaces designated for this use not to exceed 90 as shown on the site plan (90 cars would accommodate 257 occupants per this formula); and*
- 5. The hours of operations shall not exceed 7 am to 11 pm, with the majority of guests to depart by 11 pm; and*
- 6. The property owner will ensure that their clients are adequately served by* essential public facilities and services meeting health department requirements; and

- 7. Before commencement of the use, the applicant will provide proof of compliance with all other applicable statutes, regulations, and ordinances and proof that they have obtained all other necessary licenses or permits to the Zoning Administrator; and*
- 8. Failure of continued compliance with those federal, state, or local statutes, regulations, and ordinances as they existed at the time the conditional use was issued may result in Planning Commission review and revocation of the Conditional Use Permit.*

VIII. UNFINISHED BUSINESS

A. Recommendation on the adoption of amendments to Ordinance #55 Vehicle Parking and Storage

Woodard indicated that last month a few changes were made, and those have been incorporated, and at that time the Planning Commission had agreed to go forward with a public hearing.

Sikkema addressed the concerns of D. Arnold that were stated in the public hearing. Sikkema asked about the section dealing with the three semi-trailers. Woodward indicated that they could not be used for storage. Ventura referred them to Section 7.C, which states “Semi-trailers and similar types of vehicles, or containers designed to be carried on those vehicles, even if currently licensed and operable, shall not be used as storage containers (with or without wheels) on any premises primarily used or zoned for residential occupancy unless they are located in the rear of the property and are at all times substantially screened from the view of persons standing on adjoining roadways and the ground level of adjoining properties by a solid fence or wall meeting all requirements of the Charter Township of Chocoday Zoning Ordinance.”...) Sikkema explained that states they can have them, but they must be in the back yard where neighbors cannot see them.

The next comment concerned Section 5.D, “Fully operable agricultural vehicles may be parked, stored, maintained, or placed upon premises that are primarily used or zoned for residential occupancy if all requirements of Section 4 are met, provided however that such vehicles and associated parts or attachments shall be parked or stored only in the rear yard. The rear yard restriction does not apply on premises used exclusively for agriculture or forestry activities.” Sikkema indicated this would mean if you are in a residential area, they would need to be in the rear yard and substantially screened from the road or adjacent properties. If you are in the AF district, this would not apply. Arnold asked who would decide – Sikkema indicated that first it would go to the Zoning Administrator, and then to the Township Supervisor. Arnold questioned how many vehicles you could actually have on your property – it could be filled up.

Woodward mentioned Section 4.C and Section 4.D.1 which Arnold feels are conflicting. She explained they are not in conflict, and the prevailing section would be that which is more restrictive.

Sikkema asked for any more suggestions. Smith indicated that he felt they had covered most things. Ventura stated that he feels that the Planning Commission has made substantial improvements.

Smith moved, and Ventura seconded, that after holding a public hearing and considering public input, the Planning Commission recommends that the Township Board approve the draft changes to Ordinance #55 Vehicle Parking and Storage as written for the following reasons:

- 1. More clear purpose statement highlighting the relationship between health, safety, and general welfare and the types, location and condition of vehicles parked or stored on properties primarily used or zoned for residential occupancy; and*
- 2. Limitation on the area of the front and side yards that can be used for the storage of vehicles and vehicle parts, and provision for more separation between such storage areas and the property lines; and*
- 3. Limitation on the number of trailers that can be stored in the front yard, and provision that additional trailers be stored in the rear yard and substantially screened from view; and*
- 4. Regulation of the use of RV's for temporary living quarters, and the use of semi-trailers or similar containers for storage; and*
- 5. Provision from improved enforcement in cases where license plates are obscured from view.*

B. Mixed-Use zoning districts draft amendments for "C" district

Woodward stated that last month the Planning Commission had discussed possible updates to the Use Provisions of the Zoning Ordinance to address the mixed use options that had been discussed in the Master Plan. The other recommendation was to modify the provisions of the Access Management Overlay District to address the aesthetics and buffering for potential development in the Harvey area. The Planning Commission agreed this could be addressed by revising the Access Management standards. She was not able to create draft changes for this meeting. The other topic discussed was whether to proceed with the corridor study to get input from the residents before adopting changes. Woodward recommended adopting use changes as soon as possible to improve the opportunity available to property owners in this corridor for implementation of mixed-use development. Woodward drafted use changes for the commercial district.

The Planning Commission had discussed allowing dwellings as secondary to commercial use, as they did not want valuable commercial land to be converted to residential use.

Woodward suggested dwellings that are above the ground floor or behind the commercial use as a permitted principle use. She also addressed civic assembly uses and outside sales, merchandising and dining areas. Also addressed are light indoor assembly and packaging uses. Type I and Type II Home Occupation are added to the list as permitted principal or conditional uses respectively. The Planning Commission had discussed the placement of storage buildings and low-intensity uses involving larger equipment behind other uses. Woodward suggested a 150 ft. setback for these uses, unless they are entirely screened by another building. Woodward added ground floor residential as a conditional use with multiple family only if located on the same lot as a commercial use. Woodward added daycare facilities as a conditional use.

Ventura asked about Item 10 Outdoor Civic Assembly as a principal use, but it's listed as a conditional use. Woodward stated that would refer to places that are used only for outdoor gatherings such as concerts as the only use. Accessory Outdoor Civic Assembly is suggested as a permitted principal use.

Sikkema asked why a day care would be a conditional use, rather than a permitted use. Woodward explained it was for considerations of compatibility with adjacent uses.

Sikkema then asked about the permitted principal use of indoor animal care and boarding. He is okay with the animal care, but not sure on the boarding – possibly a conditional use. Woodward indicated that this could refer to a vet or an animal groomer – the boarding would all be indoor.

Sikkema asked about crematoria being added to funeral homes. Woodward indicated there were probably other regulations that would apply to this. Woodward had done some research on this and was not able to find anything on evidence of a nuisance impact.

Meister pointed out this is a first draft, so there will be some changes made. Mahaney asked about breweries.

Sikkema asked about options for public input on the suggested changes. Woodward indicated that there could be a Special Meeting where we would invite the impacted property owners. Township Manager, Steve Lawry indicated that Chocoley Township is a member of Chamber of Commerce, and they may be able to do the outreach for us. Sikkema also stated that without a Planning Director, the process may be delayed. Lawry indicated that, if possible, a candidate would be going before the Board at the October meeting. This would still mean a November starting date. Lawry indicated that if they think the Mixed-Use policy is close, it could go to public hearing. Sikkema did not think the Planning Commission would be comfortable doing that – he would like to get something out to the business owners to see what their thoughts are. Sikkema also did not think it was wise to tackle this until a new Planning Director has been hired so they can hear the input.

Ventura moved, and Mahaney seconded to table discussion until the new Planning Director has been hired and had time to acclimate to the position.

Vote: Ayes: 5 Nays: 0 MOTION CARRIED

Ventura also indicated that he did not want to lose this – he wanted to make sure that after a new Planning Director is hired and up to speed that it gets back on the agenda.

IX. PUBLIC COMMENT

Tom Ballreich, 447 Mangum Road – his wife had written a comment letter on the Chiodi property, and he wanted to make sure that the Planning Commission had been given the opportunity to review it. Sikkema indicated that they had received the letter.

Sikkema then discussed the request by Randy and Amy Hubinger, 214 Riverside Road, on construction of a fence. He wondered if this would be a Zoning Board of Appeals matter. Woodward indicated that she felt it would be better resolved through a zoning ordinance amendment that would allow equal treatment for similar situations. With the ZBA, there are very specific standards for adopting variances which may not be met. Sikkema's feels that it would be more of a ZBA decision because of the front yard / back yard issue on lakefront property. Woodward said a ZBA interpretation could be considered in this regard, but this is usually done when the language is vague, and in this case, the language is very clear what is allowed.

Sikkema indicated that if they did a Zoning Amendment, all residential waterfront would need to be notified – Woodward indicated that if it is over 14 properties they would not need to be notified individually – notification would be done through the newspaper. Sikkema didn't feel that was very fair.

Woodward indicated that through a zoning ordinance amendment, they could make such fences in front of waterfront homes a Conditional Use requiring Planning Commission review – their standards are a little more flexible. Woodward indicated this would just require a change to the "Fence Section" of the Zoning Ordinance. Sikkema indicated that this would take some time – possibly 6 months.

Meister indicated that this is the Master Plan, so it probably is something that needs to be worked out. It will take time to do, and there are lots of other things to be working on.

Sikkema indicated to Hubingers that they could take it to the ZBA, as it could be spring before the Planning Commission is able to tackle it. Woodward will leave the letter and a note for the new Planning Director.

X. COMMISSIONER'S COMMENT

Meister thanked Woodward for all the high-quality, excellent work that she had done. He is sorry to see her leave.

Smith thanked Woodward and was sorry to see her leave.

Sikkema was sorry to see Woodward go. He was glad to see the list of accomplishments in her resignation letter, as sometimes you tend to forget what has been accomplished.

Ventura thanked Woodward for the things that were “outside of the box” or “inside a garden fence”.

Mahaney enjoyed have Woodward at the Township, and stated he has learned a lot from her, and it will be hard to fill her shoes.

Woodward expressed that she will miss them, also.

XI. DIRECTOR’S REPORT

Woodward indicated that she had put information in the packet on the Citizen’s Planner program. It will start on September 29 from 6 – 10 PM. This is in the budget and a good opportunity.

Sikkema and Ventura asked about the grant for the trail. Woodward stated that she had sent memos to the Board to see what they would like to do. The option they chose was to construct the trail by Cherry Creek School. Part of this decision was based on the possibility of being able to get additional money from the Safe Routes to School funding. Woodward also indicated that the Township had received more money from the grant than originally anticipated.

IV. PUBLIC COMMENT

Jon LeGalley, 132 Brewer Drive stated that he would like to comment on the Smith property by Chocolate Downs. He brought along a petition that was signed by many of the neighbors against the changing of the zoning from Residential to Rural Development. He feels doing this will bring in lower income houses, which would reduce the property values of current homeowners. There is also a water table issue, and the fact that they may be building a road right by hole #1 of the golf course. LeGalley does not see a need for it – the Township has Gitchee Gumme Campground a couple of miles away which is never full, and there is Silver Creek Trailer park which has open pads.

Ron Bennetts, 116 Chocolate Downs Dr. – (handed out a letter to all Commissioners). Bennetts is concerned about his property value. If a road was to come through the area, there would be increased noise and travel, especially with large trailers. There are also concerns about sewage from the potential drain field that will need to be put in to support this. He feels there would be a number of homes along the headwaters of the Chocolate River that would be affected by this. There are already issues with the drinking water in that area, so this would also need to be addressed. Restated that the big concern is property values – Bennetts does not feel something like this is needed or something that the homeowners in the area want.

Candee Varvil, 144 Brewer Drive – she was one of the first to build in that area. Part of the reason for building there was that she felt it was going to be a very nice, upscale sub-division, with single family homes and condos. Varvil has the same concerns about the decrease in her property value. Varvil stated that she has traveled a lot during the winter, and has stayed at many of the 55+ campgrounds and mobile home parks. The reason you don't see them up here is because people have tried them, and they have failed. She feels the type of places that people want to go to have clubhouses with amenities, such as dining, dancing, swimming pools, etc. She feels this would not be added to Smith's property, as it would not make sense. Varvil encouraged the Commissioners to drive down that road at night, or for that matter during the day, when someone would be teeing off there. Varvil also wondered about the access, as she thinks the easement was only granted to the Barbierre family. Varvil foresees many problems, especially related to the campground portion with people in and out. Most people who do camping in the U.P. do not stay in one place for two – three months at a time. Varvil would envision that people showing up there would only be staying a night or two, which would add to the traffic.

April Koski, 127 Brewer Drive – Koski is highly opposed to having a mobile home park in their community. Koski feels that she lives in a pretty upscale neighborhood in Chocolay Township. With the mobile home park, traffic would increase and the value of the homes would decrease.

Henry Bothwell, 110 Chocolay Downs Drive – Bothwell is a relatively new resident in Chocolay Township. They bought their house a couple of years ago on the golf course, as it was a quiet community with a great environment for him and his family. Bothwell is concerned about the traffic and the easement. The easement was designed for residents and members of the golf course. Bothwell is not supportive of the Smith proposal. He hopes that the Commission will look at all the issues. His understanding is that nothing has been submitted by Smith, as yet. Bothwell feels that this would dramatically alter the intent of a no outlet road, and a departure from the original intent.

Public comment was closed.

V. PUBLIC HEARINGS

A. HO-15-02, PID 117-062-00, 168 Sandy Lane, Schlorke, Home Occupation

Tom Murray opened by explaining the application. This is a pretty straightforward request for a Type 2 Home Occupation to use one of the bedrooms in her single family dwelling to operate a medical Qigong treatment room. The area to be used is 170.5 sq. ft. There have been no calls or communications received at the Township office. Murray has given the Planning Commission the Ordinance Requirements for Home Occupations in his Staff Analysis.

Sikkema asked the applicant, Tammy Schlorke, if the operation was contained within the home. She stated it was. Sikkema asked how many clients per day would be expected. Schlorke indicated there would be 2 – 3 clients per day. Schlorke explained that she does medical Qigong, which focuses on the entire person – mind, body, spirit, emotions. The sessions usually last 1 ½ - 2 hours, so she would anticipate approximately 10 clients per week.

Mahaney asked if this is a new business or is it an existing business. Schlorke indicated that she had looked at a couple of places in Marquette for leasing, but they did not give her the quiet and calm that was needed for her clients. Schlorke started about a year ago seeing clients in Marquette, and then did a trial in her home to see if this would work.

Mahaney asked if the business was expected to grow. Schlorke indicated that if it did, she would not anticipate that it would be more than 15 clients per week total. She would only be doing the sessions 5 days per week.

Sikkema asked Schlorke if there would be a problem if there was a limitation on the number of clients to be seen per week. Schlorke indicated it would not be a problem, but she would like to be able to grow to 15 clients per week, if possible. This would be a comfortable number for her.

Sikkema opened the floor for public comment – hearing none, public comment closed.

B. HO-15-03, PID 118-007-00, 428 Cherry Creek Road, Stanley, Home Occupation

Murray opened that this request is for an accommodation of a Type I Home Occupation with a very small portion of the home being used as an office and minimal food deliveries. An additional correspondence memo from Scott Stanley, which was received just prior to the meeting, has been placed before the Commission. There is also correspondence in the packet from Doug and Celeste LaBar, in opposition to the Food Truck.

All the food preparation will be done in the truck, with the truck proposed to be parked in the driveway. Murray has not seen the truck in operation yet, but there is a barbecue operation located on the back of the truck, which is why the truck is extended by an extra 3 ½ feet. The curing of the meat will be done in the truck, and this has risen some concern with residents. There is a requirement in the Ordinance that states no fumes shall be detected outside the property lines. Murray has some concern that depending on the wind direction, the fumes will leave the property lines.

Sikkema opened public comment.

Doug LaBar, 415 Wildwood Drive – LaBar and his wife are concerned about the fumes and possible noise. They are concerned that the smells and food waste will attract insects and vermin.

Frida Waara, 309 Lakewood Lane – Waara is the Real Estate Agent for Scott

Stanley / Keith Kepler. Waara has done some pretty intensive chats with the potential homebuyers, and she wanted to point out that this is not a barbeque operation, it is a smoker operation. The operation is contained in an insulated environment, which is where meat is for an 8-hour period while the smoke rotates. The cooking aromas are very minimal, and they are operating within the truck. The real reason for being before the Planning Commission is because the truck is 28.5 feet long, and the longest allowable is 25 feet. The extra 3.5 feet is the smoker operation that is contained on the truck. Waara also pointed out that the prospective homeowners have been looking to relocate back to the Upper Peninsula because of family, and she has been working to find a home that suits their needs for family and business.

Public Hearing closed.

VI. PRESENTATIONS

None

VII. NEW BUSINESS

A. HO-15-02, PID 117-062-00, 168 Sandy Lane, Schlorke, Home Occupation

Ventura indicated that this seems like a pretty straight forward home occupation use, with little or no impact to the surrounding neighbors. There would not be any traffic impact. The house sits back from the road, so is pretty isolated.

Bohjanen also stated that due to the nature of the business, the three cars that would be there during the day would not all be there at the same time, as this would be a one-on-one practice.

Sikkema asked if there should be a cap on the number. Meister indicated that he would not want to limit it any more than anyone else, such as barber or beauty salon businesses.

Moved by Bohjanen, seconded by Ventura, that after review of Application #HO-15-02 with attachments for applicant Tammy L. Schlorke located on parcel #52-20-117-062-60 at 168 Sandy Lane be approved as presented per the staff report dated November 16, 2015 for a Type II Home Occupation consisting of a Qigong treatment room.

Ayes: 7 Nays: 0 MOTION CARRIED

Ventura also indicated that given the nature of the treatment that Schlorke provides, he does not feel there would be a need to put a cap on the number of clients per day.

B. HO-15-03, PID 118-007-00, 428 Cherry Creek Road, Stanley, Home Occupation

Murray pointed out this is almost a variance – the Ordinance does allow for a 16,000 G.V.W. truck, with a maximum of 25 feet in length. The proposed food truck is 18,500 G.V.W., with a length of 28.5 feet. Murray pointed out the proposed location (which is in the driveway) of the truck on the screen display. Murray had asked the applicants about alternate parking, but the access and elevation of the property would prevent parking anywhere other than adjacent to the garage.

Sikkema indicated that Section E.2 of the Ordinance states, “All work areas and activities associated with the home occupation shall be located either inside the dwelling or in an accessory building.” He feels that if they are working inside the truck, this would not be consistent with the Ordinance. Sikkema also cited Section E.1, which states “Restaurants ... are prohibited as home occupations in all districts.” Sikkema indicated that catering is a permitted use, and this was more likely to fall under that category, as they would not be serving food out of their house.

Regarding the size of the truck, Sikkema referred to Section 6.11.C, which states “Any larger commercial vehicles or equipment, or more than one (1) vehicle as specified in Item B above requires review and approval by the Township Planning Commission under the Home Occupation provisions of the Ordinance.” Sikkema indicated that this would not be a ZBA or variance issue.

Ventura indicated that it is also stated in the Ordinance that there should be no evidence of the Home Occupation as viewed from the street, and this would obviously be viewed from the street, with the truck parked in front of the garage, 30 ft. off the street.

Bohjanen indicated that he thought the concept of no evidence would be like signs, where this would be no different than someone working for Swick’s Plumbing and Heating and keeps his van parked in the driveway. Sikkema indicated that it would be the same for someone that did carpentry work at his home, and parked his company truck in the driveway. The only thing different with this one is that some of the work will happen in the truck. In this case, you would have to disregard the portion that says all activities will be inside the dwelling or accessory building.

Ventura also discussed the portion of the Ordinance that relates to no odors leaving the property. It does not say whether it is pleasant aromas or noxious fumes, just odors detectable to normal senses.

Sikkema asked if the applicant was in the room – Scott Stanley’s wife responded. She indicated that the smoker was run by propane, with a couple of pieces of wood added. There would be very minimal fumes, and no charcoal would be used.

Mahaney asked about home deliveries of their supplies. Mrs. Stanley indicated that this has not all been worked out yet.

Ventura asked how many pounds of meat would be worked with in a day or week. Mrs. Stanley indicated that she had no idea.

Mahaney asked if the smoker is contained in the truck. Mrs. Stanley indicated that it was. She explained that the smoker looks like a refrigerator – it is fully contained and insulated. Keith Kepler (father-in-law) also stated that there is just a tiny bit of wood put in for flavor – the heat is from propane.

Ventura questioned the Conditional Use application – the name on the first page shows the owner as Patricia Laine, but is signed by Keith Kepler. Ventura wondered how this all fit together. Murray explained that the actual truck belongs to Scott Stanley, the property is currently owned by Patricia Laine, and Keith Kepler is the father-in-law who is financing the property. Ventura questioned who is actually getting the permit. Murray stated that Stanley would have the actual permit.

Sikkema stated that this has come up before, and it was decided that the person getting the permit should sign it as agreeing to the provisions of the permit.

Celeste LaBar, 415 Wildwood Drive – she is concerned about the aroma / odor that they would have to smell daily.

Mahaney asked for clarification of the application – it looks like the homeowner, Patricia Laine, is applying for the permit, but yet someone else is operating the business. Mahaney stated that this would be non-transferrable, so would they need to apply again. Murray stated that if the application is approved, the owners and operators will be one and the same, because the sale would take place immediately. Ventura stated that if the permit is approved, the Planning Commission would need to put a condition on it to straighten out the permit. Sikkema asked if the Conditional Use Permit is what is needed to be able to park the truck there. There seems to be two different things going on – one deals with the approval for parking the truck and the other is a Home Occupation, so there needs to be a Home Occupation permit. It was decided that Stanley would also need to fill out a Home Occupation application. Murray stated that the information on the Home Occupation and Conditional Use were similar and will suffice for now.

Sikkema stated that the approval of a Home Occupation would deal with the office inside, and then there is the issue of the oversize truck, which is just an approval.

Mahaney asked for clarification on if the Planning Commission was just approving the truck parking now. Murray stated that this is for permission to park the truck, along with a Home Occupation that is somewhere between a Type I and Type II. Sikkema indicated they would be looking at approving a Type II Home Occupation, along with the parking for an oversize truck. Mahaney asked if the Home Occupation could be approved without the actual application filled out. Sikkema indicated that it could be a condition of approval in the motion. Bohjanen stated that the information is all on the Conditional Use application, and would just need to be transferred to the Home Occupation application.

Sikkema indicated the Planning Commission will deal with the Home Occupation first, and then with the oversize truck.

Sikkema stated that this would not be an accessory building, even though it had been suggested that it was a “movable” accessory building. Smith felt this would be the same as building cabinets in your garage and then putting them in your truck every day. Mahaney questioned if there was a cooking odor – it may not be offensive, but if you have it on a daily basis it could become offensive. Mrs. Stanley indicated that there was a Plan B, that if the odor became offensive they would have to look into cooking during the day. The only problem is that it can only reheat once, so it could only be used the next day, whereas if you are cooking at night it is ready for that day, and could still be reheated the next day.

Ventura stated he was torn because the woodstove that he heats with at home probably puts out more smoke than the truck would, and his neighbors may consider it offensive, but it is legal.

Bohjanen suggested that since there is a Plan B, the Home Occupation could be approved with a condition.

Sikkema stated that the only reason this is coming up is the cooking aspect – the fumes that may or may not be there, and the fact that it is not contained in an accessory building or within the dwelling. Meister indicated that catering is allowed as a suggested use for Type II Home Occupation.

Mahaney asked if the long term plan is to continue to park and cook in the driveway. Mrs. Stanley indicated that is what they are planning, rather than a brick and mortar building. They would also want to keep it a family business. Kepler indicated that Stanley is not sure if there will be noticeable odors – there will only be a little wood put in, it is propane cooking, and the truck is really well sealed.

Moved by Bohjanen, seconded by Milton, that after review of Application #HO15-03 for applicants Scott Stanley and Keith Kepler for parcel #52-02-118-007-00 at 428 Cherry Creek Road, having been found to meet all required conditions of approval be approved with the following conditions:

- 1. The 28.5' commercial vehicle be parked as close to the existing garage as possible to ensure maximum clear vision on Cherry Creek Road.*
- 2. In the event there are substantiated complaints that unacceptable odors are occurring from the cooking / meat smoking operation, the Home Occupation permit would be revised to not allow cooking or meat smoking on the premises.*
- 3. Approval is contingent on appropriate application for Home Occupation by Scott Stanley.*

Ayes: 5 Nays: 2 (Sikkema, Ventura) MOTION CARRIED

Meister suggested that vehicle size be addressed in the Ordinance at some point.

C. Silver Creek Road extension to County Road 553

Murray stated that this item is for review only. Sands Township is looking to extend Silver Creek Road from Teaching Family Homes to M-553. The proposal is to improve it with a gravel based road according to County requirements. This would be good for both Sands Township and for Chocolay Township as a second outlet. Dale Throenle explained the aerial photo and where the roads would be.

Sikkema thought it would be a road built to County standards, and then be maintained year round. Ventura questioned how this would affect Teaching Family Homes, with buildings on both sides of the road.

Steve Lawry, Township Manager, stated that this goes from Teaching Family Homes to M-553, and he prepared this based on a request from the Sands Township Supervisor as a courtesy for any comments or concerns as they go through the planning steps for this project. One of the concerns from the Police Chief was the speed limits. There may be a need to do a speed study on the proposed road to see if it warrants posting lower speed limits. The proposed road crosses land owned by Sands Township, Marquette County, and a portion crosses the Heartwood Forest property. Sands Township and the County already have a 100 - 150' easement across the two parcels that Heartwood Forest owns. Sands Township does want to make sure that it is maintained as a gravel surface to discourage cut through traffic from M-553 to US-41 and to control speeds. The other factor is that Sands Township budget would not allow them to pave. Sands Township has had preliminary discussions with the Marquette County Road Commission engineer, and if built to Road Commission standards the Road Commission would be willing to accept ownership of that road with the gravel surface on it.

Smith asked if the current speed limit on Silver Creek Road is 35 mph. Lawry stated he had not heard back from the Chief, but felt there were no posted speed limits over there. If there are no posted speed limits, the speed limit is 55 mph. Ventura indicated that it was posted 35 mph by the Sands Fire Hall. Lawry indicated that most of the road is not in Chocolay Township, so it would not be under our jurisdiction, but it would be much easier to get it posted before the road is complete. Lawry indicated that there were some curve issues and grade issues, as well as setbacks from the roadway.

Lawry indicated what he needed from the Planning Commission were any comments that they may have. The same offer will be made to the Township Board on their December 2 meeting, and any comments made by the Planning Commission will be forwarded to them.

Sikkema indicated his concerns would be the Township residents that live on Silver Creek Road – he feels that the Township should hold a Public Hearing, conduct a survey, or both to find out what the residents think. The need is probably there more for Sands Township, than for us.

Lawry indicated that this is more of a courtesy from Sands Township – the Chocolay Township residents will probably not see much use for it, unless they were going to the ski hill. He feels that Sands is looking for this mainly for safety concerns, especially with firefighting and location of the fire trucks. There may also be police concerns.

Sikkema asked about keeping it gravel – was this a Chocolay Township concern or a Sands Township concern. Lawry indicated that it was a Sands Township concern, and he felt that County Road 480 would still be the route of choice, as the proposed extension would be longer, curvier, and more of a problem to drive.

Sikkema stated that it might be a benefit to Chocolay Township to have the road paved. It would not only give Chocolay another access out, but it might alleviate some of the traffic on Silver Creek Road when going to Marquette. Sands may want to consider this when going through their study.

Lawry pointed out that there are two forest management parcels that the road would go through, and if the properties are sold, a developer may potentially push for paving. Lawry also indicated there were other potential outlets, such as Timber Creek, which is behind the Sands Fire Hall.

Smith indicated that he grew up on Silver Creek Road, and likes the idea of having another outlet. He doesn't see why it would generate more traffic on Silver Creek Road, or the worry about a cut across road, as not everyone would be cutting across at the same time. The majority of people using it would be traveling to the ski hill, or people that lived at the Crossroads to get to US 41. Smith is for the road. His first concern would be speed limits on the road.

Milton indicated that he thought this was long overdue.

Bohjanen likes the idea.

VIII. UNFINISHED BUSINESS

A. Update on the adoption of amendments to Ordinance #55 Vehicle Parking and Storage

Murray stated there will be more review on this at the next Township Board meeting on December 2.

Sikkema indicated that in the November 4 draft minutes of the Township Board that there were public comments that prompted the need for questions in writing. Also, on page 8, the Township Board will be reviewing questions prepared on this decision at their next meeting, and then make a decision to either continue or send it back to the Planning Commission.

Bohjanen indicated that it was agreed at the Board meeting that there would be specifics answered in response to D. Arnold's comments, but looking through past meetings it appears that these have been addressed many times. These questions / comments will go back to the Township Board for further comment.

B. Update on access to Smith parcel

Murray indicated that this is strictly informational. The first item is a communication from Kendricks Bordeau law office stating there is no easement. The following piece of information was brought to the office by Andy Smith for his father, which is a letter from O'Dea, Nordeen and Burink, P.C. to Laura Katers-Reilly of Kendricks Bordeau. It is not necessary to make any decisions on this. Murray feels that this is for the attorneys to work out, and then we can begin to review the property if there is a proposal.

Sikkema asked if there were things that the property owner could do for development that would not require approval from the Planning Commission.

Murray indicated that at this point, there should have been a Zoning Compliance permit and a Grading permit, both of which have not been applied for. These would have covered the pad that is placed on the property, the wells, the grading, and the stumping.

Sikkema questioned how much work has been done on the property.

Murray indicated that the area was cleared of trees a number of years ago, and the stumps are being piled now for burning. There are minimal roads put in that are not entirely passable, and a couple of test wells have been put in. The test holes for the septic (PERK test) have been dug. Murray indicated that there has not been any formal proposal given to the Township as yet.

Bohjanen asked if there is some effort being made to make sure they are in compliance with the current zoning. Murray indicated that he had not been on the property yet.

IX. PUBLIC COMMENT

Jon LeGalley, 132 Brewer Drive – expressed concern about a conflict of interest for Andy Smith, as he is Paul Smith's son and sits on the Planning Commission. He feels A. Smith should not have a vote or say in this issue.

Candee Varvil, 144 Brewer Drive – had a question about the easement, and her understanding that it was only for the property that Barbierre's owned. Sikkema indicated that was a legal issue between the property owners, and the Planning Commission would not be involved. Murray indicated that as soon as he knows more he will be keeping the Planning Commission informed. Varvil indicated that it seems like a lot of work and expense if he doesn't even have a way to get to the property.

Unnamed person – wondered if there was access to Mangum Road from this property. Murray stated there may be possible access on Gordon Road off of Kawbawgam Road – possibly County Road BU.

A. Smith indicated that if there was any voting action on the Smith property issue, that he would be abstaining from the vote.

X. COMMISSIONER'S COMMENT

Mahaney – none

Smith – none

Ventura – wanted to comment that Tom Murray is filling in, and came in the middle of the process concerning the food truck – glitches are understandable.

Milton – none

Bohjanen – none

Sikkema – thanked both Tom Murray and Dale Throenle for stepping up as the Township is working to fill the vacant position.

Steve Lawry, Township Manager, wanted to clarify that before Murray started, he was the one filling in and had suggested the applicants with a food truck fill out the Conditional Use permit. Murray indicated that all the same information would have been required.

Sikkema asked for an update on the Planning Director / Zoning Administrator position. Lawry indicated that we are running a couple of parallel courses right now – the Board of Trustees has authorized Tom Murray to fill the position temporarily on a part-time basis for up to 6 months, while the Township continues to advertise. Murray is familiar with Chocolay Township, and has done this type of work for the City of Marquette. While Murray is here he is working with Dale Throenle on the procedures as well, so Throenle would be one of the candidates looked at. There may also be some changes in staffing in-house to see what would provide the best option.

Staff Introduction

Murray recapped the Staff Analysis. Included in the packet materials are the application and cover letter, 5 pages of survey information, legal descriptions of separate parcels along with a combined legal, information from Marquette County Health Department, site and soils evaluations, and PERK test. There is also a communication from Township Manager, Steve Lawry, regarding the Marquette County Road Commission right-of-way. This right-of-way is an “over and across” right-of-way, which means the right-of-way could possibly move a little bit over the years. Milton indicated that the road will commonly follow the section line, with the section line being a theoretical thing, so it could possibly wander off the section line. Murray went on to explain the maps that were included in the packet, including the wetlands map. Murray reiterated that the staff analysis talked about the proposed building site, and proposed use of the property. Murray indicated that this should not be part of the decision – after the decision is made, the property owner can use the property for any one of the permitted uses in the district.

Murray indicated he had received two phone calls asking questions about the rezoning, but neither one was opposed.

Murray stated that, if approved, the information would then go to the Marquette County Planning Commission as a courtesy for their comments, and then to the Township Board for first and second readings.

Sikkema asked if the rezoning was specifically requested to allow for the combination of the two properties into one parcel. Murray indicated that the building setbacks in the AF and the WFR district are different, so the same zoning would provide for consistency. Sikkema also stated that this would be of benefit if the applicant would ever want to build an accessory structure.

Public Hearing

Nathan Hoffman, 625 Lakewood Lane – Hoffman is the owner of the property. Hoffman indicated that the primary reason for wanting to combine the parcels is setbacks. By combining the parcels, they would be able to move their house up the hill, which would allow a better view. Mr. Brown is the largest land owner of surrounding properties. According to an email received from Brown, the two parcels had been combined at one time and then split. A copy of Brown’s email was given to the Planning Commission, voicing support of the parcel combination. Hoffman has also been in contact with the Marquette County Road Commission regarding snow removal. The previous owners had a “handshake” agreement. Hoffman is working with the County to get a legal easement. The driveway skirts around the plow truck turnaround, so the easement would allow the County to move snow, and would also allow Hoffman to move it elsewhere. He has talked with neighbors, and has not received any negative comments. Hoffman has done a considerable amount of work on the property. He also has a Soil Erosion permit to make sure that the potential build site was okay.

Discussion

Mahaney stated that it looks pretty straight forward.

Meister indicated that the property in AF is a non-conforming lot, with only 2.75 acres, so this would be a bonus in eliminating a non-conforming parcel.

Hoffman also indicated that all three test sides for septic were positive.

Ventura indicated that he also thought the request was pretty straight forward. He feels that the Staff Analysis is right on. It makes sense to combine the parcels.

Moved by Ventura, and seconded by Bohjanen, that after conducting a public hearing, review of the staff analysis, application for rezoning case #ZA-001-15 for 141 Maple Road, the Planning Commission finds that the proposed rezoning is consistent with the goals of the 2015 Master Plan, and hereby recommends that the Township Board approve ZA-001-15 as presented.

Ayes: 7 Nays: 0 MOTION CARRIED

Milton questioned if Hoffman would be providing a plow turnaround, and if so would it be at the top or bottom of the hill. Hoffman indicated that it would be at the top of the hill. This is where Hoffman is willing to give a legal easement. The driveway will come in on the 2.75 acres. Hoffman indicated that there are several options that could be explored.

B. Discussion – #35 Firearms Ordinance

Murray indicated that this was brought to him by the Township Supervisor. The Ordinance appears outdated, with the biggest problem being in Section 3 (f) referring to the old zoning districts and LS-R (Lake Superior – Residential), but does not include the new zoning of WFR (Waterfront Residential). LS-R included just Lake Superior – Lakewood Lane. WFR also includes the parcels along Kawbawgam Lake, which were AF before the rezoning. The restricted firearm zone would include the Kawbawgam Lake area, which is a popular duck hunting area. Lake Levasseur is not designated as WFR, so you would still be able to hunt there.

Murray stated that the map indicates that only parcels zoned AF would be able to discharge firearms. Murray had also given the Ordinance to the Police Department, and they indicated that it did not include pneumatic guns. Pneumatic guns are not like they once were – they are extremely high powered. The only other changes in the Ordinance would be correcting a few typographical errors. Murray indicated that this was just at the discussion stage, and he was looking for comments from the Planning Commission.

Sikkema indicated that the Ordinance does not prohibit the use of guns, but prohibits the guns within 500 feet of any building. Murray indicated that there is also a provision in the Ordinance which states that consent of property owner is needed.

Sikkema indicated that Section 4 (a) and (b) that the first one is a general statement, and the second refers to the Restricted Zone.

There was much discussion concerning pneumatic guns, such as paintball guns and pellet guns used for pest control. Murray stated that the only time the police would get involved is when you start shooting across someone else's property.

There was some concern about Kawbawgam Lake being in a Restricted Zone and the number of people that duck hunt there. Sikkema pointed out that a shotgun with birdshot is not prohibited.

Sikkema indicated that State Law should be checked regarding the 500 foot restriction – he thinks the State only requires 450 feet – to be consistent. Bohjanen also stated that maybe a better indicator of the type of weapon would be a “muzzle velocity” (i.e. a BB gun has a muzzle velocity of 100 feet per second, versus a rifle that has a muzzle velocity of 800 feet per second or more).

Sikkema also indicated that there are residential properties that are zoned R-1 and R-2 and have 40 acres, but you would not be able to shoot a handgun or rifle.

Ventura indicated that he has had experience with persons shooting across his property, but other laws would be able to take care of that problem – things such as game laws – shooting geese with a pneumatic gun. Ventura also indicated that some of the pneumatics of today have a muzzle velocity approaching that of a 22 cal. short. Murray indicated that it will also go through siding and penetrate into the OSB, as he had an experience with this.

Meister also indicated that he did not want to put a restriction on a PUD plan. Murray will rework the wording.

The Planning Commission decided that if there are no complaints on pneumatics, there would be no reason to change the ordinance to include pneumatics at this time. Murray will make zoning changes, check on State Law for restrictions, and make clerical corrections.

XII. INFORMATIONAL ITEMS AND CORRESPONDENCE

The Planning Commission addressed the correspondence that had been received from Trustee Maki, for comments from the Planning Commission and response by Murray and Sikkema. Sikkema indicated that some of these items may have been dealt with before, and some things are not a Planning Commission issue. Bohjanen indicated that many of the things that are on the list require research.

Issues:

1. Our previous Assessor granted several land division which were not in compliance with the State Land Division Ordinance and the Township Land Division Ordinance.

The Planning Commission does not have any involvement with this.

I am also requesting a complete list of all land divisions approved since 1997.

Does this list exist? The information may be available for specific parcels. It was determined a list does not exist. Questions on specific parcels can be looked at.

I also think that land divisions approval should be done by the Township Board.

The Planning Commission has no control on this. Murray indicated that he thinks what Trustee Maki is referring to are lot splits for platted lots, and these are approved by the Township Board.

2. Access Provisions

Sikkema indicated that this happened before the current Planning Commission. Ventura questioned the four lot access on an easement. Murray indicated that it could be done. The Planning Commission determined that this was just a statement and no response was needed.

3. Contractors Yard in AF Zoning District

This has been addressed previously – just a statement, no response required.

4. Contractors Yards and Mini-Warehouses

This has been addressed previously – no response required.

5. Flashing Signs

This is an enforcement issue. Staff has been asked to review. The five signs include Togos / Michigan Made, Wetmore Hydroponics, Moyle buildings, Welcome Center, and the computer repair shop. Murray has talked with all businesses, and this has been resolved.

6. Display the Zoning Ordinance Map

There are two located in the Township Hall Meeting Room – and there would also be one shown on screen if need in a presentation.

7. Ordinance #55 – Junk vehicles

Smith indicated that this was discussed by the Planning Commission for a number of months. There was a question as to why Trustee Maki did not show up with public comment during that time. On the leakage, we can only take action if you know about it.

8. Groundwater Contamination

Ventura indicated that this had been responded to – there was some type of device put in to skim off the oil on the water.

9. Enforcement of Planning Commission and ZBA Decision

This is not a Planning Commission job.

10. Vacation Rentals

The Planning Commission does not do enforcement.

11. Zoning Ordinance Violations and Nonconforming Uses

a. Does the Township have a list of zoning violations that it is working on?

Yes, there is a list

b. Does the Township have an inventory of nonconforming uses?

This does not exist.

Murray will look at previous correspondence and put something together. He will put together a short letter to let Trustee Maki that the fax has been received and discussed for Sikkema to sign.

VIII. UNFINISHED BUSINESS

A. Continued discussion – Ordinance #35 Firearms Ordinance and discuss a possible February 15, 2016 Public Hearing

Sikkema asked Murray if the Planning Commission would be holding the Public Hearing. Murray indicated that in non-zoning ordinances, this would usually be the case.

Murray indicated the changes that had been made to Ordinance #35 included some spelling corrections, changing old zoning districts to the new zoning districts, and then updating the signatures and dates when approved. Murray indicated he was looking for any changes that may be proposed, and date when the Planning Commission would like to have the Public Hearing.

Ventura indicated that the State regulations for the distance from a building for discharging a firearm was 450' and we were still using 500', so he thought we may want to correct that to bring it in line with the State.

Bohjanen asked about the introduction paragraph, which states "... the Charter Township of Chocoday, a Municipal corporation of the State of Michigan ..." and if this was correct. Murray indicated that this is a correct statement, as far as he knows, but he will check to make sure.

Bohjanen also pointed out there is a clerical error in the definition of "Shotgun", it states "...commonly used to fire multiple ~~projectile~~ projectiles ..." It also goes on to say, "...on each discharge from a single barrel." This is technically correct, but a double barrel is also a shotgun. He proposes changing it to state, "...on each discharge from a single barrel."

Bohjanen also discussed that portion of the minutes where Meister had indicated he did not want to put a restriction on a PUD plan. Bohjanen indicated he agreed with this and felt that Section 3.(f) on Restricted Zone should be changed to not include PUD as that comes with its own restrictions. Sikkema restated the change on Section 3 (f) to read, "...R-1 – Single Family Residential District, R-2 – High Density Residential District, MFR – Multi-Family Residential District, WFR – Waterfront Residential District, MP – Municipal Properties District, C- Commercial District, and I- Industrial District, and ~~PUD – Planned Unit Development~~ ..."

Bohjanen also indicated that he also has a problem with the wording of Section 8 – Repeal, which states "All ordinances or part of ordinances in conflict with the provision of this Ordinance are hereby repealed." He feels to be able to make a statement such as this that all the other ordinances need to be reviewed to make sure there is nothing in them that may cause this to be repealed. Sikkema indicated that he could see there could be a possible conflict with a noise ordinance.

Section 6 – Penalties was discussed concerning the wording of misdemeanor versus a civil infraction. The consensus was to leave the wording as is.

Section 8 – Repeal was discussed, and Sikkema indicated that there was a recent ordinance (Burn Ordinance) that should have this same type of statement. Sikkema asked that Murray and Throenle check into the wording of the repeal portion of that ordinance.

Bohjanen questioned if this ordinance was ready to go for Public Hearing based on the changes. Sikkema asked if Bohjanen wanted this held off until March. It was decided that this Ordinance will go to Public Hearing in February.

B. Commercial Zoning District Uses / 2016 Priorities

Murray indicated that this is being brought before the Planning Commission, as this was something that was discussed at a meeting in August of 2015.

Concerning the Commercial Zoning, Sikkema indicated the thought is to increase the flexibility to allow some form of residential use inside the commercial area, such as apartments on the second floor or behind the business. This would be seen as an accessory use to the property. Sikkema questioned if Woodward had previously found any mixed use ordinances from other jurisdictions that could be used as a model or example. Sikkema felt it would be helpful if some research could be done on this. Murray indicated that a large percentage of the commercial zone is along the highway, so traffic speed may be a problem. Milton thought there may be some problem with fire protection. Sikkema indicated that this is a way to encourage development of some of the vacant property we have, as he doesn't know for sure if they are just not putting things on the market, or if the zoning is keeping development from happening. Murray proposed that a mailing could be sent to all business owners in the next month or two, and have an informal work session to get business owner input. Meister indicated that he thinks part of the idea is to bring more businesses in, and to make it easier for them to succeed. This would give them additional revenue, so it may get some businesses to come in that may not come otherwise, and it would help encourage growth. Bohjanen indicated that even though the majority of commercial is along the highway, there are some that are a block or two off the highway. Because of the way it is situated right now with only one use, the situation keeps coming back to the Planning Commission to rezone the parcel between commercial and residential. If there was mixed use, the rezoning would not be happening as much. Sikkema indicated that this is one of the top priorities for the Planning Commission for 2016, to revitalize the Harvey location. He feels getting ideas down on paper may be difficult because it's hard to know what it will look like. Sikkema feels that having business owners come in is important, but he also feels that owners of vacant property should be included in the discussion also. Sikkema feels that this will be a complex thought – he feels there needs to be something out there as to what the Planning Commission is considering. Ventura indicated that it is important that the Planning Commission have a better idea on what they want to see, and propose that as a starting point. Mahaney pointed out that the Planning Commission does need to be careful with the residential district that butts up along a commercial district, especially with the mixed use – the type of business may have a bigger impact as you are encroaching on a residential neighborhood. Murray also reminded the Planning Commission that they would need to remember the setbacks on the different zoning, especially in the transitional uses. Ventura indicated that we already have this. Bohjanen indicated that he would envision four zones – a commercial zone on the highway, a commercial with residential as a conditional use as the next tier, a residential with commercial as a conditional use as the next tier, and a residential. Bohjanen indicated you could incorporate buffers into the conditional use approval. Sikkema indicated that the zoning may be more of leaving it commercial, and having a residential as a conditional use. Instead of making it a mixed use, the Planning Commission could look at it on a case by case basis. Ventura asked if that is how downtown Marquette is – primary use is commercial, with a secondary use of residential. Mahaney feels mixed use should be pursued. Meister agreed, and felt that it could expand later if needed. Meister wondered about an area such as Corning Street, which is zoned commercial, but has residential along it. Sikkema indicated that if you made it conditional use, people may just look at the zoning, see it as commercial, and not pursue looking into the ordinance to see that it is a conditional use as residential. If it was truly a mixed use, they would be able to look at it and see what the uses were. Sikkema felt the easiest way would be to make residential a conditional use, otherwise you are trying to rewrite the ordinance. Sikkema indicated that possibly there could be an interim addition to the ordinance, which would add residential as a conditional use. Ventura indicated that would be good, as it would then give the Planning Commission time to research and develop their own mixed-use.

Bohjanen indicated that Woodward had put together a chart for the Planning Commission to go over and indicate what they thought should be in each area. It was very complex, and was tabled quite a few times. He feels a similar type of matrix (not as complicated) dealing with one zoning district at a time may work.

Meister indicated that before a letter is sent out to businesses and residential, it would be good if the Planning Commission has a chance to take a look at what they would like to see happen. Meister also indicated that it would be a good idea to touch base with some of the land developers in the area on thoughts to what may be needed. Murray also indicated that possibly in the discussion to have input on what may be stopping people or businesses from coming to the area. Bohjanen indicated that one thing that comes up in every conversation is that Chocoy does not have a municipal water supply.

Sikkema asked that the matrix be brought forward at the February meeting, with a focus on the commercial district. Also, he suggested some research be done on other jurisdictions that may have mixed-use and a listing of what is in the Harvey commercial district that is vacant and could be developed. Meister asked for a zoning map that focuses on the commercial district.

2016 Priorities – Murray went over the priorities that were established in 2015, and the proposed 2016 priorities.

Review and adopt amendments in the Zoning Ordinance to implement the Zoning Plan of the Master Plan, beginning with mixed use options in the commercial zoning district, short term rentals of single family dwellings, zoning classifications, and accessory homesteading activities.

Sikkema indicated that in the zoning ordinance amendments, he thinks most of those have been cleaned up. Woodward had a list on what the Planning Commission had decided on the amendments that needed to be looked at. Sikkema indicated that this priority was to clean up some actions that had been taken.

Meister questioned the zoning classifications, as he thought the Planning Commission had decided they were not going to change the classifications, as they did not feel a need.

Meister asked about short term rentals – is this the term for the vacation and resort rentals. He suggested that since City of Marquette is going through this right now, it be put at a lower priority until they see how things work out in the City. The Planning Commission came to the consensus that this should not be a top priority at this time, but it should not be taken off the list. This will be moved to Priority 4.

Sikkema asked about Accessory Homesteading, such as chickens, should be taken up in 2016. This was discussed quite a bit when writing the Master Plan. Murray indicated that the Planning Commission should review this section in the Master Plan.

Reconsider property access via private roads, easements and driveways.

Sikkema indicated that this has come up in public comment a couple times, but nothing that the Planning Commission has discussed. Ventura indicated that it would have been discussed when Dollar General was trying to get access. Sikkema indicated that there is something on this in the Zoning Ordinance, and Murray indicated that a private road can be access for up to four (4) properties. Meister asked if the current ordinance includes anything about maintenance. The Planning Commission remembered talking about this, but no action was ever taken. The Planning Commission will take a look at this ordinance at the February meeting.

Meister asked about fences for areas such as the front of the house on Lakewood Lane – should this be brought before the Planning Commission. Murray indicated that rather than change the ordinance, which would allow all properties to do this, it would be better to through the Zoning Board of Appeals on individual issues.

Consider a zoning amendment regarding seasonal rentals.

This will be considered under the short-term rentals after the City of Marquette has worked through it there.

It was decided that Priority 2, Priority 3, and Priority 4 will stay the same.

VII. NEW BUSINESS

A. Firearms Ordinance #35

Public Hearing

Sikkema opened the public hearing for the Firearms Ordinance. Throenle indicated that there was a written comment included in the packet (Item VII.A.2) that should be included. No other comments received. Public hearing closed.

Commission Discussion

Sikkema indicated that there had been language received from the DNR that expanded the definition of "buildings". He felt that this made sense. Sikkema also brought up the definition of a “firearm” in the ordinance as reading, “...any weapon or device from which is propelled any missile, projectile, bullet, shot, pellet, or other mass or masses by means of an explosion.” The next definitions include “Rifle”, “Shotgun”, and “Handgun”, but the only time any of these terms are used in the Ordinance is the word “shotgun” in Section 4.b. He feels that this could add confusion to the ordinance, as a firearm would also include a shotgun using bird shot. Mahaney questioned why shotgun is the only firearm mentioned, when the term “firearm” also includes handguns and rifles.

Throenle asked if he should rewrite the definitions and eliminate the separate definitions of shotguns, rifles, and handguns. Sikkema felt this would be a good idea, as the words rifles and handguns are not used in the ordinance.

Mahaney wondered if the firearm definition meant that a pellet gun or BB gun is okay. Sikkema stated he felt they were okay.

Throenle asked if the purpose of this ordinance is to say that you cannot fire a firearm within 450 feet of any building or in a restricted zone. Sikkema indicated it was.

Meister indicated his thoughts are that the building part is for any zone, and then 4.b takes it a step further with the restricted zones.

Throenle indicated that the goal is to make this ordinance easy to understand and enforce, and likes the concept of adding “rifle, shotgun, and handgun” under the definition of a “Firearm” in Section 3.a, and eliminating the definitions of “Rifle” under Section 3.b and “Handgun” under Section 3.d. Throenle does not want the ordinance to become so restrictive you can’t shoot anywhere.

Sikkema stated that the definition of Section 3.a which currently reads, “The word “firearm” as used in this Ordinance, shall mean any weapon or device from which is propelled any missile, projectile, bullet, shot, pellet, or other mass or masses by means of explosives.” be changed to Section 3.a – Firearm, “The word “firearm” as used in this Ordinance, shall mean any weapon or device from which is propelled any missile, projectile, bullet, shot, pellet, or other mass or masses by means of explosives, and shall include, but not be limited to rifles, shotguns, and handguns.”

Sikkema then discussed Section 4.a, and rewrote it to include citizen comments. Section 4.a currently states, “Discharge any firearm within 450 feet of any building located in the Charter Township of Chocolay without the consent of the owner or occupant thereof ...” and is proposed to read “Section 4.a – Discharge any firearm within 450 feet of any occupied building, dwelling, house, residence, or cabin, or any barn or other building used in connection with a farm operation, without obtaining the written permission of the owner, renter, or occupant of the property.”

Section 4.b currently reads, “Discharge any shotgun loaded with slug, ball, buckshot, or cut shell load, rifle or handgun in a Restricted Zone as herein above defined.” and is proposed to read, “Discharge of any firearm in a Restricted Zone, as herein defined above, except that shotguns shall be permitted in the Restricted Zone if it is not loaded with slug, ball, buckshot, or cut shell load.”

Sikkema asked if the definition of “Residence” needs to be expanded. It was decided that Section 3. Definitions will be expanded to include, “Section 3.d Residence – Residence shall mean a permanent building serving as a temporary or permanent home. Residence may include a cottage, cabin, or mobile home, but does not include a structure designed primarily for taking game, a tree blind, a tent, a recreational or other vehicle, or a camper.”

Section 3. Definitions will now include, (a) Firearm, (b) Shotgun, (c) Building, (d) Residence, (e) Restricted Zone.

Meister moved, Bohjanen seconded that after holding a public hearing and considering public input, the Planning Commission recommends that the Township Board approve the draft changes to Ordinance #35 Firearms as changed for the following reasons:

- 1. To designate zoning districts consistent with the zoning districts identified in the current zoning ordinance.*
- 2. To make editorial corrections to the ordinance text.*
- 3. To make consistent with State of Michigan Department of Natural Resources regulations.*

MOTION CARRIED

B. Silver Creek Little League Proposal

Throenle opened with Staff Analysis introducing representatives from the Marquette Little League, Mitch Koetje and Mark Pantti.

Koetje stated that Marquette Little League is in the process of expanding their numbers – they increased by 50 players last year and they expect to keep increasing. To make sure they could accommodate all that wanted to play, an investment of approximately $35,000 was made in upgrades to the field at Silver Creek, with $7,500 of that coming from Marquette Little League. These improvements allowed 9-12 year olds to be able to play full baseball, in comparison to the time-limited that they were allowed prior.

Since there is limited time and field space for all the divisions, and they have a grant opportunity through Little League International, they have developed a concept for the T-ball and rookie ages (5-8) for developing a “rookie complex”. This is smaller in size and would allow the younger players to play proper positions on the field, and to improve their skills. They are suggesting that the rookie field be developed where the soccer field presently sits. Pantti indicated that based on the registration numbers of last year, approximately 43% of the children were from Chocolay Township.

Throenle explained that Marquette Little League is looking to put the “rookie complex” where the current soccer field is. Little League already has approval to reduce the fence on the current field from 312’ to 210’. Part of the consideration of this project is the also depends on the plaque that is located near the soccer field. As part of the build of the soccer field, the field was dedicated to Jack Urbaniak. A conversation will need to be held with the Urbaniak family to determine if this can be changed. The current soccer field is not being used for league play. Other considerations are the traffic flow through the park, and restroom facilities. Throenle stated that if the grant that Marquette Little League has applied for goes through, they are looking for permission to move forward with the project.

Koetje indicated that right now Little League is playing on the field 3 nights per week, and with the addition of the new field, they would be at 5 nights per week. Mahaney asked how long the season lasts. Koetje indicated that it starts sometime in May or June and last until the end of July. Koetje also said another goal for this field is to have a State certified field, which does not exist at this time. The original game plan is to get the main field up to State regulations for tournaments.

Mahaney asked about enrollment numbers. Koetje indicated that they continue to increase.

Brad Johnson, Chocoley DPW Foreman, indicated that another consideration to make this happen is the need to get in touch with Superiorland Soccer Association, as he believes that they are the ones that paid for the irrigation system at the soccer field. Johnson also plans to contact Larry Gould, former DPW Foreman. Another contact would be Al Beck.

Koetje indicated that their plan is to be self-funded. It was also indicated that Marquette Little League is planning on this being long term.

Throenle indicated that this is a redesign of where recreation can happen, and if there is a demand for soccer, there is room for soccer to grow at Beaver Grove. Throenle also pointed out that the Township Board has granted Marquette Little League first use of the field for the next ten years. Disc golf would still exist around the perimeter, and the portion that has the tennis courts would be redone in quarters to have two tennis courts, a full size basketball court, and baseball batting cages and bullpens.

Mahaney asked about the feelings of the soccer association for this project. He feels this is a good idea. Koetje indicated that the soccer association has a very strong commitment from the City of Marquette.

Koetje indicated that 100% of the money that Marquette Little League takes in goes back into the field, equipment, and the kids.

Smith asked if the field at Silver Creek was enough to get a tournament in. Koetje indicated that if they host a District or State tournament, one field is enough.

Mahaney asked if it was anticipated that the project would get done this summer for use next year. Koetje indicated that if he is able to get this approved, he would have it done by June 1 of this year. Provided the grant comes through, Koetje has everything lined up and ready to go.

Meister questioned if the Planning Commission approves this, but then the grant doesn't come through, is there a backup plan. Koetje indicated he was already working on that. Bohjanen wondered about the shortening of the baseball field from 312' to 210', and would this jeopardize the ability to have tournaments. Koetje indicated that the 210' is regulation and shortening would put it into compliance, and the fencing would be 12' high.

Koetje indicated that the grant application had made it to the second level, and indicated to the Commission that the amount asked for was $74,500.

Sikkema stated that his concern was that they would be taking the recreation area and turning it into a baseball complex. He feels that this is a good area right now, as it offers a lot of opportunities for a lot of people, and gives the children of the area a place to go during the summer to play soccer. This would turn it into a baseball complex. He feels it would take away the whole aspect of that neighborhood. Smith indicated that it is a very handy area to get to, and Beaver Grove would not be an option for a 12-year old kid. Sikkema feels that if the Township wants to support a monolithic use such as this, it might be better to do that at Beaver Grove, since there is already a drive involved to get to the Silver Creek area. Sikkema questions if this is the right place to build. Sikkema has a hard time supporting this as it is a special interest use, and will potentially take away from the Harvey area. He feels that having a broad spectrum of uses in our parks is necessary, and this would be taking away from that. Sikkema wondered if there is something else out there that would provide well rounded facilities on a neighborhood basis – things should be closer to the kids that need to use them.

Meister asked if there is any type of information on how much the current field is used. Throenle indicated that there was nothing.

Koetje indicated that Marquette Little League will hear next month if the grant is approved, and if approved, they will have one year to use the grant. Smith asked how soon a decision was needed, and if it was needed to proceed with the grant application. Koetje indicated that they had already applied for the grant. Koetje indicated that if Silver Creek is not the option, they would look at other options in Chocolay Township. Koetje indicated that at this point, City of Marquette was not an option, and they had not approached Marquette Township.

Sikkema asked what was needed from the Planning Commission. Throenle indicated that possibly a motion was in order, which could accept the proposal with the condition that the Little League comes back to the Planning Commission after receipt of the grant for acceptance of the full plan.

Smith asked if there was more room to move the disc golf. Johnson indicated that this had been maxed out. Throenle stated that it started out as a 9-hole course and has now grown to 18 holes. Mahaney indicated that he lives next to Cherry Creek school, and does not see the field being used much. Johnson indicated that DPW is spending lots of time maintaining the field at Silver Creek.

Sikkema stressed that this is a large piece of property, and the Planning Commission needs to look at what is the best use for the Township. He feels that once it is gone, we cannot get it back. Sikkema also feels that there should be a conversation with Superiorland Soccer Association to find out why the soccer field at Silver Creek is not used.

Koetje questioned if this complex does not happen at Silver Creek, would there be an option for this to happen at Beaver Grove. Throenle indicated that although there are 14 acres at Beaver Grove, it would require considerable work due to the slope and the lack of irrigation.

Bohjanen indicated that he thinks the concept is good, and whether the location is satisfactory or not is yet to be determined, but feels the Planning Commission should cooperate and endorse the concept and then get the rest of the answers.

Mahaney moved, Milton seconded to support the baseball complex plan as presented at Silver Creek as described by Marquette Little League.

Vote: AYES: 4 NAYS: 2 (Sikkema, Smith) MOTION CARRIED

Sikkema clarified the motion that all this motion was doing was making recommendation to the Board.

C. Early Coordination Notification

Throenle introduced this topic as being presented to the Planning Commission for their input as to how it would impact Chocoday Township.

Sikkema indicated he had some suggestions, which read "Revisions to US-41 for access of the hospital should not degrade or significantly impact the current flow of traffic along the M-28 / US 41 corridor. Degradation of the currently unimpeded traffic flow in this limited access roadway would impact motorists traveling through the area with no intention of entering the city of Marquette. M-28 / US 41 is the only through route across Marquette County. The construction of the replacement hospital should not significantly increase traffic flow, and any changes should not significantly decrease the traffic flow or increase traffic delays. Consider all access options, not just roundabouts."

Sikkema indicated his concern has always been that just because the City of Marquette wanted something, it should not take away from what is currently there. This is a through route – there are a lot of options they can look at.

Mahaney asked if they were considering a roundabout. Sikkema indicated that it would be near Grove Street.

Sikkema feels they should do whatever the best option is, but keep in mind that this is not a "new" hospital, it is a replacement hospital. This will not generate all new traffic – same side of the road and same street.

VIII. UNFINISHED BUSINESS

A. Review of 2016 Priorities

Throenle indicated the reason this is on the agenda is to make sure these are still the priorities of the Planning Commission. Theses would be the priorities that are listed at the end of the agenda.

Sikkema read through the priorities, and it was determined that these were still the priorities that the Planning Commission would like to see. Smith brought up the “Zoning amendment relating to seasonal rentals” in Priority 4. Mahaney stated that at last month’s meeting, it was determined to wait until the City of Marquette goes through this process. Sikkema indicated he had a lengthy phone message from a resident that was very concerned about this issue. Smith indicated that it seemed like this had come to the Planning Commission attention 3 or 4 times, and it always seems to get tabled with no action taken.

Sikkema asked if anyone wanted to see “seasonal rentals” put on an agenda to deal with this issue – the majority of the Planning Commission stated they did not want to see it on the agenda, and it was felt that this had already been dealt with.

Bohjanen indicated that he had not been at the last Township Board meeting, and at that time a question on the survey was removed that dealt with seasonal rentals.

It was determined by the majority that this would no longer be listed as a priority.

B. Commercial Zoning District Uses

Throenle explained that he took the table as it was before, and reworked it to make it simpler to work through.

Throenle indicated that the Planning Commission should look at VIII.B.5, VIII.B.6, and VIII.B.7 for explanations.

Meister indicated that he thought the Planning Commission had already went through this with Woodward at her last meeting in September.

Sikkema recommended that if anyone has questions on what the assignment actually is to ask them now, so that these can be gone through at the next meeting. The Commissioners need to take a look at the districts on the matrix on VIII.B.7 (MU-C Mixed Use – Corridor, MU-N Mixed Use – Neighborhood, and MU-V Mixed Use Village) and look at the principal and accessory uses, and determine if they are C – Conditional Use (which would require Planning Commission approval or P – Permitted use in that district. Sikkema indicated that the Planning Commission should go through this matrix and determine if they agree.

Smith asked how many districts are they planning on creating. Throenle indicated it was 14.

Sikkema pointed out that in a previous meeting the Planning Commission had stated they possibly did not want to make changes to all the districts in Township, but to start in the Harvey area. Throenle pointed out the zoning map (VIII.B.2), and stated there are three other commercial districts in the Township besides the Harvey area. Throenle indicated that these should be kept in mind when looking at the mixed use districts for commercial.

Sikkema indicated that the second assignment is to take a look at boundaries and determine if they seem appropriate.

Smith asked if the Planning Commission is going to be tackling one district at a time. Throenle indicated that this is how it was passed off to him, with the first area being the corridor.

Smith asked what the process would be to add or change zoning and how long it would take. Bohjanen indicated that this would be a rezoning process. Throenle indicated it could take months. It would need to go through the Public Hearing process with notification of affected landowners.

VII. NEW BUSINESS

A. Zoning Ordinance Text Amendment 34-16-03 – Campground Conditional Use in AF district.

Staff Introduction

Throenle stated there had been a request to add campgrounds to the AF district. The report that is included in the packet has some interesting history. As far back as 1996, campgrounds were included in the RR2 district, which is listed until 2008. When looking through the history, there were various amendments to the RR2 district, none of which removed campground as conditional or permitted use in that district. When the new ordinance was adopted in 2008, the definition for campground was still included, but campground had been removed from the ordinance in the AF district, with nothing explaining why it was removed. It does show up in municipal, which it did not exist under before. This could possibly be an inadvertent move to the wrong category.

Sikkema asked if campgrounds had been in the RP (Resource Production) district. RP ultimately turned into AF. Sikkema asked if RR2 (Rural Residential 2) had all turned into R1. Throenle stated he wasn't sure, but during that period of time Gitche Gumees (example) was tagged as an RR2 parcel, and is now an AF parcel.

Smith indicated that even though he had no prior knowledge of this until he got the packet, he would be abstaining from the vote on this item, as the application was from his father.

Ventura asked about the current ordinance – would someone be able to have a campground on the Township lawn, as this is a municipal property. Throenle indicated that to be defined as a campground, there must be a minimum of 3 campsites and there must be approval by the DEQ. Sikkema asked if the only place a campground is currently allowed in the Township is municipal property. Throenle stated this is correct.

Sikkema asked about the DEQ approval, and if it was needed for public and private campgrounds. Throenle stated that the DEQ looks at the location and issues a separate permit.

Mahaney asked if the definition being used for campground is the 2008 definition. Throenle stated it was.

Ventura questioned what the DEQ would be looking for. Throenle indicated the DEQ would be looking for water issues, space to be utilized, how it affects the surrounding area, the number of sites, type of campground, etc.

Public Hearing

Dick Arnold, 312 West Branch Road - lives in the AF district, and the AF district has 840 parcels, 512 of which are non-conforming (under 20 acres). He was wondering if the parcel in question could be rezoned to commercial, or at the very least, if it has to go into the AF district, to make sure it is a minimum of 20 acres. Arnold doesn't feel the Township is serving the people that live there.

Public hearing closed.

Commission Discussion

Bohjanen stated that the 512 non-conforming properties were probably the RR2s in the old amendment. Sikkema indicated it could be, and some were split before the 20 acre minimum went in.

Ventura commented that according to the definition of campground, it would not apply to a mobile home park. It may apply to recreational vehicles.

D. Arnold (public) indicated that a small area would be more disturbing than a 20 acre parcel. Most people in the AF district have been there 20 – 25 years, and the Township keeps adding uses – race tracks, shooting ranges, etc. The residents moved there because of the larger lots, and by doing this it takes away from the original intent.

Sikkema indicated that with a Conditional Use it would have to go before the Planning Commission, and they would be able to discuss different options – buffer zones, fencing, signage, etc. It would be nice to have something like this documented as a procedure. Smith asked if there was any type of checklist that could be used for submittal of a conditional use application. Throenle indicated that there is – it walks the applicant through the application and site plan, along with setbacks and governmental regulations. This would be applicable to any conditional use.

Sikkema stated that with a conditional use permit, you should not be able to see a use such as this (campground) from an associated property. In the AF district, you expect certain things – cutting trees, farming to the lot line.

Throenle also pointed out that if a campground is operational, and then the owner leaves for 6 months, and then the property is sold, the conditional use would not be permitted. Sikkema stated that if the conditional use is vacated for 6 months or more, it reverts back to the original zoning district and you lose the conditional use. If the campground is active at the time of the sale, the conditional use permit would stay with the property.

Ventura indicated that one thing that might guide the commission on this would be found on page VII.A.2 of the packet, under conditional uses, #5 and #12. Section 4.7.C.5 reads, “Recreational uses / structures, on lots of 20 acres or more, where such development can be accomplished without significant adverse environmental impact.” and Section 4.7.C.12 pertains to kennels, which also has the requirement of 20 acres or more. He feels that campground could fall into the recreational use with the 20 acres or more, and the environmental impact could be expanded to the impact on neighboring properties. He feels this would address Arnold’s comment. Mahaney indicated this would also prevent campgrounds even being considered on some of the non-conforming parcels.

Sikkema asked what are “recreational uses / structures”. Throenle read the definitions from the zoning ordinance, “Recreational structure means a cabin, cottage, camp, hunting camp, mobile home, or other similar structure used intermittently for recreational or vacation purposes and which is not a permanent place of domicile or residency.” and “Campground is a parcel or tract of land under the control of any person wherein sites are offered for the use of the public or members of an organization either free of charge or for a fee, for the establishment of temporary living quarters consisting of any combination of three or more recreational vehicles, tents or other temporary habitable structures or sites.”

Sikkema questioned that if “campgrounds” were added to the conditional use, would there need to be a statement with it pertaining to screening, boundary fences, hours of operation, etc. Bohjanen suggested that they write a page of guidelines for each of the conditional uses, as they are all different. Bohjanen feels that the one most disruptive on the conditional uses is “race tracks” – this would be more disruptive to life than anything else there. Sikkema stated that these guidelines would probably have to be shown as appendices. Ventura indicated that could become a full time job for the Planning Commission, or it would have to go on a case by case basis, which would leave it open to the judgement of whoever is on the Planning Commission at the time. Mahaney stated that there could be general guidelines written up to cover everything. Sikkema indicated then the Planning Commission could go through and decide what would be needed in each particular instance. Ventura indicated this was a good idea as it would then leave it to the sitting Commission – have a checklist that could be looked at, but not ordained. Smith indicated that public hearings also help with this. Sikkema indicated that Dick Arnold had made a good point – that zoning is to protect the residents that are there, and they should have some assurances that whoever sits on the Planning Commission is looking out for their best interests, and not just trying to facilitate some other use of property. Bohjanen pointed out that on the future land use map, there are only two pieces of recreational property – one is the proposed park on the Bayou, and the other is on the south side of the Chocoley River. The recreational properties in the Township are municipally owned.

Sikkema asked Throenle if expanding the checklist would be helpful, or is it better to just leave it on a case by case basis. Throenle indicated it would be beneficial to him to have it on a checklist as things to remind the applicant to think about, but it should still go to the Planning Commission on a case by case basis. Mahaney asked if the Conditional Use permit required a Site Plan review. Throenle indicated it did. Mahaney indicated that this would address many of the environmental issues. Sikkema indicated that if you buy a property in AF, there needs to be some assurance that your investment will be somewhat protected. The conditional use permit needs to put enough restrictions on it to protect the adjacent properties. Bohjanen indicated that writing up guidelines for each conditional use would not be daunting – some would require very little work. As long as they are written up as “guidelines” and not as a “mandate”, and they would still get reviewed at the time of the conditional use.

Mahaney pointed out that in Marquette, at one time 3rd Street was probably all residential, but times change.

Mahaney wondered if there shouldn't be some type of condition, such as not less than 20 acres. Bohjanen indicated, as was pointed out in public comment, that most parcels in the AF district are under 20 acres, so there could be something put in the condition for “campgrounds” that it would pertain to lots of 20 acres or more. Milton asked if this could be accomplished by changing the definition of campground. Sikkema pointed out that this would restrict campgrounds in all zoning districts, such as commercial, that were less than 20 acres.

Throenle indicated that campgrounds are not permitted in any district but AF, except for municipal. The definition could be changed to say, “a parcel or tract of land of 20 or more”, and this would also cover the municipal. This would also cover the conditional use for any other district – would have to be 20 acres or more. He feels the most efficient way would be to change the definition – to start a campground in any other zone would require 20 acres or more.

Sikkema’s concern with changing the definition is that it would set it so that campgrounds could only go in the AF district. Sikkema’s thought is to go district by district. Bohjanen stated the best way for this would be to add it to the amendment. Smith indicated that he felt that anything adding to the AF district should be for 20 acres or more – this would at least make it conforming in the AF district. Sikkema felt that in addition to the 20 acres, there should be buffers and boundaries.

Ventura moved, and Bohjanen seconded that after holding a duly noticed public hearing, the Planning Commission hereby approves Zoning Ordinance Text Amendment Application #34-16-02 as changed, on lots greater than 20 acres with a checklist developed by staff of guidelines for review of a future Planning Commission necessary for approval of the conditional use permit; moves to forward the proposed amendment to the County for comment; and also recommends that the Township Board review and adopt the proposed amendment at their earliest convenience.

Vote: Ayes: 5 Nays: 0 Abstain: 1 (Smith) MOTION CARRIED

Sikkema asked for clarification on where the checklist would be – Ventura indicated that this would be for the Planning Director to have available when preparing for the Planning Commission.

VIII. UNFINISHED BUSINESS

A. Commercial Zoning District Uses

Throenle indicated that a second matrix had been handed out – this one included the first column with an ID number, which had been excluded from the previous handout.

Sikkema stated that the Planning Commission would be looking at “Mixed Use - Corridor”. Ventura stated this would also include “Mixed Use - Neighborhood” and “Mixed Use - Village”. Sikkema indicated that “Mixed Use Corridor” seems very confusing. Bohjanen indicated he felt the logic in coming up with the term was anything that has frontage on US-41 and M-28. Sikkema indicated that by looking at the maps, the only piece he could find that was Mixed Use – Corridor was the Varvil Center. Everything in Harvey was either Mixed Use – Village or Mixed Use – Neighborhood. Sikkema indicated that the Varvil Center is the Industrial area, along with Fraco.

Bohjanen indicated that none of what is on the maps is “as is”, they are “as perceived to be”. Sikkema stated that what needs to be done is to establish what the Planning Commission feels are the correct areas, and then go through the uses and see what is applicable.

Bohjanen indicated that he feels Mixed Use – Neighborhood should be the areas such as Wright Place, Kellogg, Fairbanks, etc. This would be a potential mixed use area. The ideal situation would be to re-designate large areas, as grandfathering will keep everything as is, until they would want to change.

Ventura stated that maybe the first task needs to be where the boundaries are, and then establish the uses. In his mind, the corridor is the major highways.

Sikkema stated that he felt the Varvil Center should be left as Industrial – there are so few industrial areas in the Township, and he didn't feel it was right to take this away. He asked if the Commission should get rid of Mixed Use – Corridor completely, or redefine to areas along major highways.

Bohjanen stated that as long as the Varvil Center is used as industrial, it will remain industrial, but if you have a more permissive designation, then you would be able to have a restaurant there without having a conditional use. Smith felt that industrial should remain industrial. Bohjanen pointed out Item 320 – Manufacturing Establishments - light manufacturing was written in as a permitted use, and heavy manufacturing is a conditional use. Sikkema stated again that if you give up your industrial district, no one will allow you to put in another industrial district. Bohjanen indicated that this goes back to an even bigger question – does the Commission even want to go forward with all the ideas of rezoning the Township. Sikkema indicated he felt they needed to rethink the rezoning in the Village, but leave Industrial alone, as it is too hard to create.

Bohjanen feels that the only area that may benefit from the rezoning would be the downtown district of Harvey – the rest of the Township doesn't really require much. Sikkema agreed.

Bohjanen indicated that this came from the Master Plan, but he felt that the Master Plan was a vision, not a mandate. Along the way, you make the decision as to whether strive toward that vision.

Ventura suggested that what needs to be done is to have the Planning Commission restructure the map to what their idea of the land uses would be. Sikkema indicated the only question he has is if the Planning Commission wants to leave industrial as industrial. Bohjanen indicated that the only part he feels needs to be looked at is downtown.

Industrial will always stay industrial!

Bohjanen asked about the description of "Industrial". Throenle read from the Zoning Ordinance:

“(B) PERMITTED PRINCIPAL USES

- 1. Motor vehicle sales, service, and rental*
- 2. Construction and farm equipment sales*
- 3. Sales of mobile homes, campers, recreational vehicles, boats, and* monuments

4. Wholesale and storage uses
5. Food packaging and bottling works
6. Commercial printing and newspaper offices
7. Contractor's yards and shops
8. Laundry, cleaning and dyeing plants
9. Office buildings

(C) CONDITIONAL USES

1. WECS
2. Other industrial uses, such as manufacturing, research, high technology, and business parks
3. Trails
4. Wireless Communication Facilities
5. Outdoor wood boilers (see Section 6.5) (#34-13-05)
6. Other uses deemed by the Planning Commission to be of the same general character as those permitted and conditional uses”

Smith indicated that he thinks the AF district needs to be looked at, as there are quite a few non-conforming lots in that district. Sikkema indicated that this will go on a priority list, but for right now they will be looking at the Corridor, and give Throenle some direction on what is needed for the next meeting. Bohjanen stated maybe the downtown area could be divided into three districts based on feet from the highway (i.e. the first 300' from highway would be Mixed Use – Commercial, the next would be Mixed Use – Village, and after that would be Mixed Use – Neighborhood). If redesigning the map, would need to look at property lines. Rezoning doesn't mean anything is going to change, but something could change if the residents wanted it.

Ventura wondered about an overlay district – such as a corridor overlay district – and then come up with ideas on what could be permitted there. This makes it easier to put on a map and to work on. Bohjanen indicated that an overlay district requires review.

Smith likes the idea of mixed use with apartments above some of the businesses in the Harvey area. This may be the difference between success and failure.

Sikkema asked if the Planning Commission would like to establish corridor boundaries within the Township. Throenle could then take this information and generate a map for the next meeting.

The Planning Commission established the following boundaries:

1. US-41 Welcome Center to Joliet (stop before Joliet)
2. M-28 US-41 to Nagelkirks (south); US-41 to old bank (north)
3. Cherry Creek US-41 to Ortman (school side); US-41 to Assisted Living

4. Beaver Grove South Big Creek Road to Mangum Road

Throenle will develop a map for the next meeting using these boundaries and establish lines that are 500 feet back. If 50% of the parcel is in the line, it will be classified in the Mixed Use – Corridor. Throenle indicated he would use the Child Care Center as a guide, since this appears to be the farthest back. Sikkema asked for the screen for the next meeting. If the property has no access to the highway, it will not be included in the Mixed Use – Corridor.

None

X. DIRECTOR'S COMMENTS

Throenle indicated he will be looking at the sign ordinance in the near future. State ordinance has changed on how we are to look at signs – political signs can no longer be called political signs, real estate signs can no longer be called real estate signs, etc. Verbage on the sign cannot be used to establish what type of sign it is, so there will be some work needed on the ordinance. Sikkema asked if there will still be restrictions. Throenle indicated the restrictions would be based on the location of the sign, not on the content of the sign – can be called a temporary sign, not a political sign.

Sikkema asked about Marquette Little League. Throenle indicated we have not heard from Little League on the status of the grant. There has been a meeting scheduled on Wednesday with Marquette Little League, Soccer Association, and Chocoley DPW to discuss the plans of the Soccer Association. Then further discussion will need to take place with Urbaniak's concerning the sign.

Bohjanen asked about the Verizon tower. Throenle indicated that in the package there were materials concerning Verizon, and their request to downgrade the building to a platform. The permits have been sent to the County, and the hope is to have the tower completed by summer. Sikkema asked about the platform – Throenle indicated that they will put the concrete down and put the electrical on the platform versus building a shed.

Mahaney asked about the community survey – Throenle indicated that we received approximately 200 responses. He is compiling the data, and it will be going to the Township Board.

XI. COMMISSIONER'S COMMENTS

Bohjanen – none

Milton – brought up the ZBA – variance for a non-conforming structure – wanted to differentiate between a structure that is either Class A or Class B. He wondered if the Planning Commission is the body that should be defining this. Throenle explained the situation – house on Shot Point requested a variance to build on the current house to make it two stories, and the property is 27' from the water. The question came back to the viability of keeping that structure.

Ventura – pointed out the Marquette City Commission minutes from last month. They are looking at rental properties, and the piece that Dan Keller is building by Picnic Rocks. The City Commission is postponing this until they get more information from the Condominium Association. This may be information that the Planning Commission could use when discussing vacation rentals.

Smith – new burger place is nice to see – good burgers

Mahaney – none

Sikkema – none

VII. NEW BUSINESS

A. Community Survey

Throenle indicated that under the direction of the Township Board, a survey was written up and went out with the tax assessment notices in February. The first question was on the fire siren, and a majority of the respondents approved of the siren. The next question concerned businesses in Chocolay Township that are frequented by Township residents. There is a summary on pages 15 and 16 provides comments that were submitted by the respondents. Question #3 concerns businesses that residents would like to see in the Township. The top answers on this question were a family-style restaurant and a desire for postal services (stamps, sending out packages). Questions 4 and 5 concerned additional services and Township spending.

Throenle stated that the survey seemed to indicate the desire to go back to a small business type environment, particularly along the lines of small retail, which would reduce the need to travel into Marquette. Businesses that are in the southern and eastern parts of the Township were not mentioned.

Meister wondered if some of the answers had to do with how the question was phrased (using the word "frequent"). Throenle indicated this may have been a factor in the answers received.

Throenle indicated that there have been approximately 300 responses. Sikkema indicated that mailing the surveys out in the tax assessment notices was a good idea. He wondered if the majority of the responses were paper. Throenle indicated that 67 of the responses were online.

Sikkema asked if the Township tracks usage on the website. Throenle indicated that this was being tracked until the end of last year. At that time, we were averaging about 3,000 hits per month.

Ventura indicated he thought it was interesting that a number of the comments were used to air grievances, and had nothing to do with the question being asked. Throenle indicated that the comments were recorded as written.

Throenle indicated that staff has been asked to look at the survey, and determine what we may see as things to be incorporated into the Township.

Ventura indicated that there were an interesting percentage of the respondents that were in favor of retaining the fire siren.

Sikkema asked the Planning Commission for comments or suggestions on things the Commission should be working on. He feels there is a change of focus based on the responses, and that the Planning Commission is on the right track in developing small business in the corridor area.

Throenle indicated that based on conversations in his office, people would prefer to have the services needed in the Harvey area, and not have to drive to Marquette.

Meister indicated that the Planning Commission needs to structure the corridor to make sure there is availability of property and zoning to create the type of environment that residents are asking for.

Bohjanen feels that the Post Office issue has come up before, and that this should become a priority. Throenle referred to Township Manager, Steve Lawry's memo, which indicates staff will be looking into the possibilities of a branch Post Office, and consideration of the Township providing these services. Throenle also indicated that Iron Bay Computing offers shipping services at their business. This has not been publicized. Additionally, he will talk with Cherry Creek Market. Sikkema indicated that you can already get stamps at Cherry Creek and at the bank out of a dispenser. Sikkema also stated that this has been looked at before, but that the Post Office provides no funding to a business to be able to do this. With FedEx or UPS, you will be able to incorporate a small markup to cover the costs, which you would not be able to do with postal mail.

VIII. UNFINISHED BUSINESS

A. Commercial Zoning District Uses

Throenle indicated that at the last meeting he was asked to come up with maps that showed a 500 foot corridor going down US-41, M-28, and Cherry Creek Road. Throenle indicated he had left the Industrial district on M-28 as is, but included the Unitarian Universalist church to show that there was a break between the industrial and the next commercial. He also mapped out US-41 South below M-28, the Mangum Road area (businesses around Mangum Road and Beaver Grove), and the PUD that is further down in the Township.

Throenle asked about a parcel (Pet Sitter's Kennel) that seems to be spot zoned to accommodate the kennel. Sikkema ventured a guess that when the zoning was changed in 2008, that parcel was in the AF district. Meister asked if this was a 20 acre parcel – Throenle indicated it was not (1 acre). Sikkema indicated that it could have been an RR2, and was switched to AF to keep the kennel conforming. Sikkema asked if that parcel had its own parcel number. Throenle indicated it did. Bohjanen indicated that the kennel was there prior to the 2008 zoning ordinance, but that it would seem logical to make it a grandfathered non-conforming use. Sikkema indicated that if it was non-conforming, it would be non-transferrable to a new owner, so this may have been a concern. Bohjanen asked about the gap between the parcel and the highway that is zoned R1. Throenle indicated that the parcel sits within the property owned by the same owner.

Throenle explained the process he used when marking the 500' line on US-41, around the corner on M-28, and also down Cherry Creek Road stopping at the LDS church. Meister asked if the church is supposed to be commercial. Throenle said he wanted to show that there was non-residential going down Cherry Creek Road. On the other side of the road, there is Ewing Estates, LSS Manor, and Carmen Drive. On M-28 he went down to Nagelkirk's. Throenle also indicated that there is a description in the packet (VIII.A.9.a and VIII.A.9.b), sorted by parcel ID and parcel address.

Sikkema asked Throenle if they should be talking about overlay zoning – Throenle indicated that the 500' line is the first part of the process, to decide which parcels belong in the area to be called Mixed Use – Corridor. Then it would be decided if these parcels would be a change to zoning, or an overlay district to the zoning.

Sikkema started with the map (VIII.A.2) to get input on if anything appeared to be missing or should not be in there. Bohjanen asked about the segment on M-28 between the two parcels where the church is located – there is not a lot of residential between the Unitarian Universalist church and the Rock Shop – and this could be added to the corridor.

Sikkema indicated that there was a discussion last meeting on the Industrial zoning. He feels that industrial should stay industrial. Meister indicated that he agrees with this. Bohjanen indicated this argument is valid, except that if you had industrial added to the Mixed Use Corridor as a conditional use, you would not eliminate industrial, you would actually add to it. Bohjanen indicated that in the Mixed Use Corridor, you will need to define permitted and conditional uses. In this way, you would not eliminate any of the property, but would enable other property to be industrial. Sikkema indicated that a true industrial use would not go there, next to something such as an adult foster care. Milton feels that the uses should not be put together – he also feels that industrial should stay industrial. Sikkema feels that industrial would not take the risk of going into property that is next to a Mixed Use. Ventura indicated that he sees Bohjanen's point, but feels that the Industrial should be kept Industrial, and have the Mixed Use-Corridor on Cherry Creek Road and US-41. Ventura indicated that everything out there right now is either Industrial or Commercial. Ventura asked about the easement – Throenle indicated that this was part of Industrial Drive. Ventura indicated that the Industrial is pretty well buffered from any residential. Throenle indicated that the Industrial district stops at the Rock Shop.

Sikkema asked about the parcels on the south side of M-28 – are they currently residential? Meister indicated that they were commercial, as he rezoned that 25 years ago with his parcel. Sikkema indicated that on the map should also include the parcel to the east (108-020-30).

On M-28 there is the Gateway Plaza on the north side. Throenle went through the parcels. Bohjanen indicated he thought it might be a good idea to include all the smaller parcels in the Mixed Use – Corridor to give the residents more option when they would look at selling their property. Sikkema feels that would just leave residential houses converted to commercial – it would be better to develop the commercial properties across the street. Throenle indicated these would end up becoming a more home-based business. Meister indicated that a larger piece of property would have a more controlled access, with possibly one or two driveways, where on the north side, there would be multiple driveways. Sikkema indicated the north side parcels would have no parking and poor access, and based on what he has seen in other areas, this would be a bad decision. There was discussion on if the residential properties on the north side of M-28 should be in the Mixed-Use Corridor – it was decided that they do not belong in that classification. The parcel that is to the east of the old Northern Michigan bank was discussed – this should be in the Mixed Use Corridor. A question was raised about accessibility – there is none from M-28. Bohjanen indicated that there has been talk about putting a road around the back side of the commercial zone that already exists, going in around the area of the old Wahlstrom's and coming out on the other side of the old Northern Michigan bank. Sikkema indicated that if you create the environment that could be used for commercial, development may occur. Meister indicated that they should encourage commercial.

Discussion continued with the businesses to the north of M-28 and then going up that side of US -41. Remove 117 West Wright Place, as this is a residential and sits below a significant hill – end at the apartments. Sikkema indicated that anything west of Corning and below Terrace is currently commercial, and is currently in Mixed Use. Bohjanen indicated that from the south side of Fairbanks to Main Street, there was a portion not included. The corner of Corning and Main Street is already commercial, so he feels this should be included. Additional properties on Corning were added for consideration for the mixed use, which would cover Hotel Place and Bayou. Fairbanks south of the Bayou would be part of the project; the remainder would be residential, especially since Fairbanks does not have direct access from the highway. Individual parcels were discussed, and were added or removed based on the location either within the business corridor or close to the access from US 41. Properties next to the bayou should be remain as residential.

Individual parcels were discussed on the east side of US 41, with the mapping continuing down the US 41 corridor to the Township properties.

Additional discussion concerning properties along Silver Creek arose, with consideration for the zoning of the properties. It was recommended that the mobile home park should be rezoned as mixed use to accommodate businesses such as the thrift store at the Silver Creek church.

Parcels currently zoned as Industrial (such as Willow Farm and Fraco) will be left as industrial; others will be left as mixed use. Only two parcels would be added to the right side of Cherry Creek.

Throenle indicated he would provide updated maps at the next meeting to verify the additions discussed in all of the areas highlighted on the maps.

Sikkema indicated that now that the boundaries have been established, now the decision comes down to whether to do a straight rezoning of the properties, or should there be an overlay zone. Sikkema asked Throenle to explain the overlay zone at the next meeting. Sikkema also stated that for the next meeting, all members should go through the matrix that had been previously provided, and decide on the uses for Mixed Use – Corridor. This would involve figuring out what should be permitted use and what should be a conditional use (P- Permitted, C – Conditional, N – No). Sikkema and Milton indicated that they would not be at the next meeting, but will try to provide input before the meeting. Sikkema asked that Throenle email the matrix to all Planning Commission members.

X. COMMISSIONER'S COMMENTS

Meister – asked Throenle about the Dollar Store – Throenle indicated that a different firm is looking at the property. Throenle indicated that they had called and asked for specifics – different search group, different property.

XI. DIRECTOR'S COMMENTS

Effective April 19, there will be new flood maps for the Township. The last update was in 1987. There is a link on the website, and you can go in by property address.

The ballfield and soccer discussion – DPW has met with the Soccer Association and Little League. There is now discussion to make Silver Creek the Little League complex and Beaver Grove the soccer complex. 14 acres at Beaver Grove would become the soccer complex, with 2 acres being agricultural. The Permaculture Park has disbanded.

The tennis court project at Silver Creek – multi-use project, which includes two tennis courts / pickleball courts, a full court basketball, and a split of pitching machines / warm up area for Little League. There is a community group looking at raising funds, with a Fun Day planned in June.

Chickens will be coming before the Planning Commission in the future. Sikkema asked who was bringing this before the Commission – Throenle indicated he has had some inquiries from residents and was bringing it before the Commission for discussion.

Sign ordinance will also be coming before the Planning Commission – very tough to enforce, and is 26 pages long.

Investigating a Conditional Use – an individual would like to take the wrecking part of Shaw's Service and put it on an AF district property. The only thing Throenle could find that fit was a Conditional Use for a contractor's yard and shop. If this doesn't fit, there is nothing to offer this individual. Milton asked how much area he had. Throenle indicated that it was a 9-acre parcel. Meister indicated it sounded like it would fit into Industrial much better. Ventura asked how many vehicles would be stored on the property. Throenle indicated 3 – 5 vehicles. The goal of the individual is to stage it for the insurance company, and then it would be gone. Throenle indicated the definition of a Contractor's Yard is, "Outside area of lot or parcel used for storage, and maintain equipment and other materials customarily used in the trade carried on by the contractor." Sikkema indicated that the definition of Contractor's Shop is, "An enclosed space used for housing, operating and maintaining, of equipment and fabrication of building-related products." Milton stated he felt the definition fits. Bohjanen inquired about the property – Throenle indicated it was an AF parcel in the southwest quadrant of the Township. Sikkema stated that you need to look at what you want for the Township – he doesn't feel that you should be able to define yourself as a contractor and then establish whatever type of business you like. Ventura indicated that it was happening in plain view at Shaw's and no one objected there. Bohjanen indicated that if you worked with the concept of Conditional Use, there would be restrictions such as a concrete pad and adequate screening. Sikkema warned that the Township needs to be careful on what is approved. Bohjanen indicated we need to enforce what we already have. Throenle indicated that he is not looking for approval, just wondering if the definition would fit.

Throenle recently attended a Small Town Rural Conference. At that conference he found out there was a potential for funding and resources, such as grants and potential ways to use some of the vacant properties in the Township.

VII. NEW BUSINESS

A. Ordinance 41 Animal Control – Chicken / Poultry

Throenle indicated that since becoming the Planning Director / Zoning Administrator he has received five different calls from residents asking about having chickens on their property. Ordinance 41 has a section that relates specifically to poultry. Throenle then researched different areas of the state, and has included two examples from other communities – both are larger and urban – but he felt the language may be appropriate for Chocolay Township. Throenle indicated that when he received the calls, he had indicated to the residents they should present some type of public comment, either at a Planning Commission meeting, or by some type of handwritten (email or letter). Nothing has been received at this time. In regards to one of the calls, the raising of chickens was for a health alternative for her husband – she wanted to have eggs for personal use without having to go into Marquette and pay the higher prices.

Sikkema asked if Throenle had checked with Marquette Township or Negaunee Township on what they allow. Throenle indicated he had not – at this point he is looking for direction on how the Planning Commission would like him to proceed. Sikkema indicated that there may be different things to look at – the City does not have an agricultural district where residents would be able to raise chickens, but Chocolay does – so it may be a question of “where” you can raise chickens, versus “if” you can raise chickens. One of the examples that Throenle had provided was the City of Ferndale – Sikkema indicated that they probably did not have an agricultural district. Throenle stated that they have a unique situation where they have combined with two other jurisdictions and have formed a large district.

Meister asked what areas of the Township the calls came from – Throenle indicated there were three from the village of Harvey and one on M-28. Mahaney wondered that if you were R-1, but had 10-12 acres, if there could be some type of allowance. Throenle indicated that the ordinance states that anywhere in R-1 is restricted, and only allowed in the AF district.

Ventura asked if Throenle had reviewed the results of the survey that Woodward had done a couple of years ago. Ventura indicated that he remembered the response as being either in favor, or not really having an opinion, even in small lot areas, with certain parameters as to number of birds or size of animals. Ventura indicated that the City had come up with a “policy” basically saying that if the neighbors don’t complain, you could have up to eight chickens. Meister indicated that a couple of barking dogs would be worse than a few chickens.

Mahaney asked if there had been any formal complaints. Throenle indicated that there had been one – it was not so much about the chickens, as it was about the goat that was with the chickens. Throenle indicated he would be looking at chickens only be on a fenced property, and preferably have the chickens contained in a coop. Throenle indicated that one resident had sent a link to a local home supply store that provides chicken coops with up to four coops. Smith wondered if there was a fence, would they actually need to have a coop. Throenle indicated there needs to be a balance – need to keep in mind the potential calls that could come in.

Ventura stated that Ordinance 41 also states that dogs need to be contained.

Throenle indicated that there are other things in Ordinance 41 that need to be looked at, such as “service dogs”. The Ordinance only allows “leader dogs”. Ventura asked about definition of service dogs versus leader dogs. Throenle indicated leader dogs are specifically for the blind, whereas service dogs can be for a multitude of other conditions.

Throenle also indicated that the Planning Commission would need to look at other animals that may fit into the same category as chickens.

Meister stated that he feels chickens are okay, but does not feel that it should be opened up to a huge variety of farm animals. Bohjanen stated that he was surprised that the Ordinance only specified chickens, and did not include other fowl that would be equally as benign as chickens.

Sikkema stated that the Planning Commission needs to be careful on where they are allowing animals – if all districts are open to having animals, where does someone go if they prefer not to be next to chickens?

Smith wondered if there would be any smell associated with chickens – Meister indicated that he has raised chickens before and the smell wasn't that bad – you just need to clean up.

Sikkema asked the Commissioners how they would like Throenle to proceed. Ventura indicated he would like a draft ordinance of some type. Bohjanen indicated he would like personal poultry raising as a conditional use on properties. Sikkema indicated that a conditional use would get pricey. Smith wondered about the Right to Farm Act – this only pertains to commercial lots. Throenle indicated based on previous court cases, the Right to Farm Act would not apply. Smith wondered about the Right to Farm Act case in Gwinn – Throenle indicated they had won the case and are living on a waterfront property raising animals.

Sikkema again asked for direction for Throenle. Smith would like to have more information, especially from Negaunee and Marquette Townships as to what they have done. Mahaney would like to have more review of surrounding townships. Meister would like to look at other communities to see what has been done. Bohjanen agreed with this, but also pointed out that if there is going to be a change in the Ordinance to keep in mind there will need to be a public hearing.

Mahaney asked what Throenle is telling residents now – Throenle indicated that he refers to Section 41.09, telling them that unless they reside in the AF district, it is not allowed at this time. Throenle also informs them that this will be coming under review with the Planning Commission, and that they should be providing public comment.

For the next meeting, Throenle will research other communities in the township to find out how they are handling chickens.

VIII. UNFINISHED BUSINESS

A. Commercial Zoning District Uses

Throenle provided the matrix and explained the codes for the Mixed Use Corridor with:

P = Permitted (no approval needed)

C = Conditional Use (would need a permit)

N = Non-Permitted (not allowed)

Sikkema indicated that the Mixed-Use Corridor was the area that had been defined at last month’s meeting, and basically covers the areas that bound US-41 from Sands Township down to just south of M-28, and on M-28 past Nagelkirk’s on the south side, and just past the Gateway Plaza on the north side.

The Planning Commission proceeded to go through the matrix and determine what types of uses. Meister questioned if there were going to be conditions already written up on the mixed-use – are there certain parameters that would need to be followed (i.e. only in the back, only on the second floor, etc.) for permitted use. Bohjanen indicated that the purpose should be to encourage the use of the corridor for business purposes.

Item 240 Mixed Use Development – Throenle indicated that this will be brought back to the Planning Commission at the next meeting with an expansion of the category numbers.

Item 310 Industrial Service Establishment – Planning Commission would like Throenle to look at definitions of “Medium” and “Heavy”.

There was significant discussion on 932 – Food Trucks and Mobile Vendors. Sikkema indicated the issue that we have in Chocoday Township is that there is not a permitting process. The Planning Commission may want to look at making this a permitted use for the property, but then enact an ordinance that would require a permit to operate. Sikkema feels that if you want to encourage home-style restaurants, by allowing food trucks it makes it hard to compete as the food trucks have very little overhead. Sikkema feels that there needs to be some type of ordinance in regard to vending. Ventura asked if restaurants need to have a permit to operate in the Township. Throenle replied they did not need a permit to operate – this would be controlled by the County Health Department. There was a concern that food trucks are not contributing to the community through taxes. Throenle suggested that he put this item on the agenda for the June meeting to start working on an ordinance. Sikkema indicated that this would not be a Planning Commission ordinance, but a Township ordinance. It would be up to the Township Board to initiate a request to the Planning Commission to write the ordinance.

IX. PUBLIC COMMENT

X. COMMISSIONER’S COMMENTS

Bohjanen – indicated that the Firearm’s Ordinance that the Planning Commission brought before the Township Board was shot down. In the Board minutes, it says that it was approved and sent for a second reading, but the ordinance had been changed to not allow any firearms in the restricted districts. The lawyer had reviewed the ordinance and re-submitted to the Board with two versions – the first was the original version from the Planning Commission and the second version excluded residential districts from the ordinance.

Ventura – none.

Smith – none.

Meister – none.

Mahaney – none.

XI. DIRECTOR’S COMMENTS

As of April 19, there is a new flood plain map. Ventura asked about changes – Throenle indicated there were no significant changes. Smith indicated that the DEQ must have some flexibility in flood plain issues.

Throenle will be attending Part IV of a group called Stronger Economies Together. This is the central UP corridor that gets together to cover a multitude of topics including Street Clusters, Recreation, Arts and Entertainment, etc. Areas included are Manistique, Escanaba, and Marquette.

The Township has received a grant award from the Marquette County Community Foundation for the Silver Creek Tennis Court project. There has also been paperwork submitted for a DNR Passport grant for this same project.

The Campground Amendment will be on the June Board agenda.

On the Firearm’s Ordinance, shotguns have been prohibited in all districts except for AF. This will be difficult to enforce on Kawbawgam Lake.

IV. PUBLIC COMMENT

Mark Maki, 370 Karen Road – would like to comment on a couple of items –on Page 2, 4th paragraph of the minutes, there was discussion regarding the “chicken issue” which stated, “...Ventura indicated that the City had come up with a “policy” basically saying that if the neighbors don’t complain, you could have up to eight chickens. ...” Ventura indicated that this is not an official policy – if the City does not get an official complaint, they do not pursue it. Maki also has a couple of complaints – Chocolay Shores Apartments has a number of junk vehicles and storage of contractor equipment. Years ago, the Zoning Board of Appeals granted them an expansion to build a building to house some of their equipment in. He feels that this is leaking into the Chocolay River. Similarly, Hudson Mechanical has a lot of outdoor storage, and seems to keep growing. Also wondered if the Holiday Gas Station is in compliance with the sign ordinance – there seems to be a lot of signage there. As a follow up on Conditional Use requirement, Maki would like to know what has been done with testing requirements that the Planning Commission put on the golf course and the junkyard on South Big Creek Road. He remembers this was to be done on an annual basis. Maki also wondered when the junkyard was approved to go from a junkyard to a full scale scrap metal business. There was also some cleanup required on Besola’s property on US 41 – would like to know where that stands. Maki would like to get the Planning Commission's thoughts on windmills – this is not a big issue in Chocolay, but has become a big issue in Schoolcraft County and Delta County. Maki also had a question on billboards, and his understanding that the Township does not allow billboards. Maki has called CUPPAD on prohibitions that the State may have, but has not received any language on this.

Deborah Mulcahey, 633 Lakewood Lane –issues concerning Chocolay Shores – has worked with previous Zoning Administrators about the number of vehicles and types of activity going on there. This seems to be an ongoing issue. Mulcahey also questioned the amount of time that has been spent on the chicken issue, and the failure of the Board or Planning Commission to deal with the issue of short term rentals. For the past two years, all the Planning Commission has done is punted, with their plan being to wait until the City of Marquette makes some type of decision on this. Chocolay Township does not have rental code enforcement. In reviewing the Zoning Ordinance, it clearly states that “unless it states that it is okay to do something, it cannot be done”. The Zoning Ordinance is silent on short term rentals and on chickens. Prior to 2013 / 2014, Mulcahey had worked with Jennifer Thum, and there was a memo sent to the Planning Commission in 2011, which stated in part “...According to the ordinance, anything rented for less than one month is considered a hotel or a B & B. For our meeting, I would like to discuss the situation with you...”. Thum then addressed the definition of hotels in her memo. Before that, Thum had worked with Mike Summers (Township attorney). Mulcahey also thanked those that respond to emails and phone calls.

Public comment closed at 7:15.

VIII. UNFINISHED BUSINESS

A. Ordinance 41 Animal Control – Chicken / Poultry

Throenle indicated that he had done some background research concerning chicken ordinances in the surrounding communities – City of Marquette has an ordinance on the books prohibiting chickens and have no future plans of changing this. Negaunee Township covers chickens under their Animal Control Ordinance, and chickens are not permitted on property less than one acre. Throenle also looked at Forsyth Township, who had gone through a legal case a couple years ago concerning the Right to Farm Act, and there is no livestock or poultry in non-agricultural areas. Sands Township considers chickens as pets, and they are allowed in the Township. West Branch Township refers to chickens under “Light Agricultural Activities” and under that is permitted in those districts.

In reference to Chocolay Township, Throenle reviewed the Master Plan and survey associated with the Plan. The surveys tended to show there was no middle ground – residents were either strongly for chickens or strongly against. Throenle also reviewed the current Ordinance and found several other items that should be addressed if the Planning Commission is planning on changing the ordinance – service dogs are not included in the current ordinance, animals under “reasonable control” needs a better definition, spelling error, holidays need to be specified, and fees need to be adjusted within our fee schedule.

Throenle then offered suggestions to the Planning Commission – property size, confinement issues, maximum number of chicken / poultry based on acreage, impoundment if violation occurs, separate definitions concerning animal and poultry.

Throenle went over his recommendation on what the Planning Commission should be looking at when considering the question of poultry in districts other than AF – minimum acreage required, number permitted per determined acreage, is permit required, containment required, definition of poultry as opposed to animal, and enforcement / impoundment fees and requirements.

Mahaney stated that the suggestion on maximum number, acreage and distance are important. Mahaney researched other areas in the State of Michigan and was surprised at how many allowed chickens on one acre of land.

Sikkema stated there is not a prohibition on owning chickens in the Township, just that there are restrictions in certain areas. Sikkema stated the first discussion before the Planning Commission is to determine if the Planning Commission wants to modify the ordinance to allow for chickens in districts other than AF. He feels there is no sense in moving forward until this has been determined.

Bohjanen indicated that by looking at the survey, there seems to be more support for having rules that would enable the raising of chickens than against it. He feels a permit should be required, along with a site plan from the owner and an approval document from the neighbors. Bohjanen feels that it is worth looking at this, and that it should be presented to the Township Board to see if they are in favor of moving forward with this.

Milton questioned if it would become a Zoning Board of Appeals problem for a variance. Milton feels that the Ordinance needs to have some work done on it anyway, and would be in favor of expanding the districts where chickens are allowed.

Ventura feels that this is something that needs to be looked at. After re-reading the comments of the survey conducted a couple of years ago, most people that responded are in favor of this with constraints. He feels setback rules need to be looked at more than total acreage. There also needs to be some type of confinement mode and a limit on number, which may vary with size. Ventura is in favor of moving forward.

Smith, Meister, and Mahaney were also in favor of moving forward and taking a look at this ordinance.

Sikkema indicated that there will need to be general guidelines that are given to Throenle as he starts putting this together. Bohjanen had recommended that something be put together that he could present to the Township Board for their input before anything is started on the re-write. The Planning Commission agreed that this was a good idea.

Some suggestions on things to be included were setbacks and distances, non-commercial use, personal consumption, limited number of chickens either by a flat number or a formula based on acreage and animal units, and permitting (Throenle felt this would become an enforcement issue – permitting pros and cons were discussed, and it was determined this will be left out at this point), containment, and enforcing / impoundment requirements and fees.

Bohjanen indicated that so far chickens had been discussed – has anybody asked about goats. This brought up a discussion on other types of animals that should be addressed in the rewrite of the ordinance. It was decided to allow for goats, rabbits, sheep, miniature ponies, and potbelly pigs. Bohjanen suggested these types of animals should be grouped into small animals.

Throenle will get this information put together, and Bohjanen will present to the Township Board.

B. Commercial Zoning District Uses

Throenle indicated that he had taken the matrix that was presented to the Planning Commission last meeting and split it into three matrixes – principal use, permitted use, and not permitted with the intent of looking at it and determining if it makes sense.

Sikkema read through the matrix.

Throenle referred to VIII.B.2.c.2 – Proposed Principle Use. Corrections were made on “Item 936 – On-site agri-tourism ex. Special event hosting, ~~corn maze~~, hayrides, and other events open to the public.” Delete corn maze. “Item 942 – ~~On-site composting accessory to a farm operation.~~” This Item should indicate None.)

VIII.B.2.c.3 – Proposed Conditional Use. Item 243 – Accessory residential home occupation – Tier 1. This item was not addressed at the last meeting. After discussion, Throenle will take a look at this and determine Tier 1 versus Tier 2, and bring back to the Planning Commission. Item 437 – WECS towers over 35 feet in height. It was noted that this does not address WECS under 35 feet. *Item 437 was changed to read WECS towers and alternative energy. Item 955 – On-site renewable energy production accessory to a farm operation. This should be None, as farming is not allowed in this district.

VII.B.2.c.4 – Proposed Use Not Permitted. Item 911 – Farm operations as defined by the Michigan Right to Farm Act, PA 93 of 1981 as amended, provided operations are consistent with all applicable GAAMPS. Ventura indicated that this was suggesting that if you meet the GAAMPS, then farming was legal. Item 911 was changed to read “Farm operations as defined by the Michigan Right to Farm Act, PA 93 of 1981.” Item 961 – Tree planting, harvesting, sawing, chipping, temporary storage, and transport of forest products, as well as forest research facilities. Does not include the process of wood products with other raw materials as a manufacturing operation. Meister questioned if this included being able to clear a lot. Throenle indicated this referred to an on-going operation, such as Christmas tree planting and harvesting. Item 961 will stay as is.

VIII.B.2.c.1 - Full land use matrix. Maki questioned Items 211 and 212 – these are showing as permitted uses, but currently contractor yards and outdoor storage are conditional use. It was decided by the Planning Commission to move “contractor yards” from Item 212 (permitted use) to Item 213 (conditional use). This will change the other matrixes.

Sikkema indicated that the matrix should go before the Township Board for their input before proceeding any farther. Throenle indicated that the full matrix would be the most appropriate for the Board. Sikkema also indicated that in the introduction it should be brought up that the major thought process in this matrix is to reinvigorate the commercial district in the Township. Ventura indicated that part of the discussion should also include whether this should be an overlay district or a zoning ordinance.

Throenle indicated that he would have this ready to go to the Board for their August meeting.

IX. PUBLIC COMMENT

Mark Maki, 370 Karen Road – commented on the agricultural zone of the zoning ordinance – what about factory farms, such as chicken and hog farms. Most communities provide language where these are only allowed on certain lot sizes. The way the ordinance is written now these would be allowed. Also commented on the survey – this was done when there was a lot of focus on agriculture and many of the surveys that were on the agricultural groups in Marquette submitted responses to them. He is not sure that the results are reliable as far as Chocolay Township residents are concerned.

Deborah Mulcahey, 633 Lakewood Lane – commented on the 2013 survey as far as the data was concerned – there were as many in favor as not in favor of chickens, ducks, sheep, etc. Mulcahey questioned the zones this would pertain to. Sikkema indicated that they were looking at all districts other than the AF district. Mulcahey wanted the Planning Commission to be aware that the people who indicated that they lived in the WFR district were opposed to the ability of people to have chickens. She asked that the Planning Commission keep this in mind when looking at this issue. Also wanted to address the proposed firearms ordinance – the ordinance does not address arrows. Mulcahey stated although it is not an explosion, it is a projectile.

X. COMMISSIONER’S COMMENTS

Bohjanen – none

Milton – none

Ventura – agrees with Mulcahey on the issue of crossbows and arrows.

Smith – none

Meister – none

Mahaney – none

Sikkema – none

XI. DIRECTOR'S COMMENTS

Throenle indicated that he is working on a way to streamline the tracking of zoning violations. Sikkema indicated that this was an important part of the job, and that he appreciated that Throenle was tackling it. Bohjanen asked if Woodward had left the matrix that she presented to the Planning Commission on a regular basis. Throenle does have this and will update for the Planning Commission.

The SET (Stronger Economies Together) conference that Throenle has been a part of is now working on corridor priority planning for the Central UP. Ventura asked if this was the Marquette, Escanaba, and Manistique consortium. Throenle indicated it was. Throenle indicated the goal of the conference was to establish economic development directives to see how they can improve the entire central corridor.

ZONING CHANGES FOR MIXED USE OF THE US 41 CORRIDOR AREA.

The Township Board and Planning Commission discussed the reasons for looking at mixed use zoning on the U S 41 corridor. Commissioner Sikkema explained that the reason the Planning Commission was looking at mixed use as an accessory use in that commercial district is that they want to open up more opportunities to encourage and stimulate business in Chocolay Township. The industrial use the Planning Commission is envisioning is light industrial. The US 41 corridor they are looking at is from the Welcome Center to the kennel on the corner of Ortman Road and includes the section on M-28 slightly past the Gateway Plaza and Nagelkirk’s and Cherry Creek Road to Ortman Road. The current industrial zones are the old Varvil Center area and Fraco. The Planning Commission does not intend to change that. The multi-use corridor was determined by any parcel that was 50% or more within 300 feet of the highway centerline. The Planning Commission would like Board feedback before they pursue the multi-use district.

The Board in general agreed that opening up land use with multi-use in the described commercial area is a good way to encourage business and is in favor of the Planning Commission pursuing this change. The residential area would remain the same.

Chair Sikkema indicated that food trucks are allowed as an accessory use in Chocolay Township. This seems to be a booming business and he feels that the Board may want to consider a Food Truck Ordinance.

ORDINANCE REVISIONS FOR KEEPING ANIMALS IN RESIDENTIAL DISTRICTS.

Over the past 5 years the Planning Commission has discussed the question of chickens and other farm type animals being allowed in residential zoning district. There seems to be a growing interest in this by residents. We have vast areas in Chocolay that allows farm animals, but the question is should residential areas allow this. The Planning Commission would like direction from the Township Board before continuing to look at this.

Planning Director Throenle indicated that the Animal Control Ordinance needs updating with or without adding poultry.

The majority of the Board agreed that the Planning Commission can pursue allowing poultry in nonagricultural areas in the Township and also look at the entire Animal Control Ordinance for necessary updates/changes.

MASTER PLAN PRIORITIES FOR INCLUSION IN 2017 BUDGET AND AGENDA.

Priority 1

- Asset Management Plan for Township roadways
- Begin planning for implementation of high priority Master Plan projects
- Finish incomplete proposed zoning ordinance amendments
- Monthly land use explorations in preparation for amending of the Zoning Ordinance to implement the Zoning Plan of the Master Plan, Zoning Classification, Accessory Homesteading Activities, etc.
- Necessary updates to the Lot Split, Land Division Ordinances and Sign Ordinance
- Plan for four-season transit facility

Priority 2

- Consider need to amend the Animal Control Ordinance for consistency with agricultural regulations
- Consider need to amend the Nuisance Control Ordinance in relation to permitted agricultural activities
- Further amend the Zoning Ordinance to address changes in State Legislation
- Further amend the Zoning Ordinance to implement the Zoning Plan of the Master Plan
- Reconsider approach to private road regulation
- Reconsider the Accessory Homesteading Activities regulations after evaluating public input

Priority 3

- Consider Firewise zoning regulations - Education

Trustee Maki had questions on sign ordinance review and billboards. Chair Sikkema answered that the changes they are looking at are state level changes on dealing with temporary signs. We can no longer categorize political signs or realtor signs etc.; they must all come under the designation of temporary signs. The State permits billboards, and the Township allows billboards in specific areas. Trustee Maki also feels that the Land Division Ordinance needs to be cleaned up and that land divisions should go in front of a public body, not an individual such as the assessor.

PUBLIC COMMENT.

Deborah Mulcahey, 633 Lakewood Lane – Asked the Board not to pit neighbor against neighbor with the wording of the Animal Control Ordinance. She asked if the term short term rental is defined in mixed use zoning. She suggested that when looking at the Animal Control Ordinance the Township should look to State law 287.26232 on dogs on leash. She asked that short term rentals be placed on this agenda and it was not.

Dave Mowen, 475 Lakewood Lane – Impressed by the service and hard work done by the Township Boards. He sees Lutey’s as a tremendous improvement to this community and would like the Board recognize Lutey’s for what they have done since purchasing the property.

VII. NEW BUSINESS

A. Ordinance 62 Animal Control

Throenle started the discussion with a recap of things that had been discussed at prior meetings, and items that needed to be addressed. Those items include: Service dogs; definition of "reasonable control"; spelling error in definition of "dog"; Holidays need to be specified; and impoundment fees. Throenle also indicated that other changes are needed to correspond to updated State and Marquette County regulations, such as licensing.

Throenle has decided to tackle the ordinance in two phases – the first is to take the ordinance “as is” and clean up the language and the second phase would be to address the poultry issue. Throenle indicated he would like the Planning Commission to address the first phase at this time. Throenle has included in the packet the current ordinance (VII.A.2), the suggested changes (VII.A.3), and a cross-reference sheet (VII.A.4) for differences between Ordinance 41 (old ordinance) and Ordinance 62 (suggested new ordinance).

Sikkema questioned why the ordinance number had changed. Throenle indicated that because of the amount of language change and the amount of deletions and additions of sections, it was decided it was easier to give it a new number. Sikkema then suggested going page by page and making the corrections, deletions, and additions that the Planning Commission suggests.

As part of the process, updates were incorporated during the discussion, and the proposed Ordinance 62 is attached.

Throenle will forward the proposed ordinance to the Police Department for review of the new language and how it affects enforceability.

ORDINANCE 62 ANIMAL CONTROL

SECTION 4 ANIMAL CONTROL OFFICER

The qualifications, duties, and authority for the Animal Control Officer are:

(A) Qualifications

The Animal Control Officer shall:

1. Be employed by the Township and shall serve within the Police Department.
2. Meet the requirements of the Michigan Department of Agriculture for animal control.
3. Be paid a salary as established by appropriate resolution of the Township Board In lieu of all fees and other remuneration under the Statutes of the State.

(B) Duties

The Animal Control Officer shall:

1. Promptly investigate any incident involving any animal reported or seen running at large.
2. Based on the Officer's investigation, the animal may be seized, transported and impounded at the impound facility in accordance with the provisions of this Ordinance or the Statutes of the State.
3. Issue citations to any person in violation of the provisions of this Ordinance or the Statutes of the State.
4. Promptly investigate all reported animal bites and, if there is human exposure, search out and attempt to discover the animal involved, the owner of the animal, and proceed as described in Section 8 of this Ordinance.
5. Inspect kennels for the purpose of licensing and may suspend or revoke a license if the Animal Control Officer has reason to believe conditions exist which are unsanitary or inhumane to the animals.
6. Investigate complaints of any animal alleged to be dangerous to persons or property, and if such complaint is justifiable, impound the animal or take other appropriate action.
7. Investigate complaints of cruelty to animals and seize, transport and impound such animal, pursuant to Public Act 70 of 1877 as amended.

(C) Authority

The Animal Control Officer shall:

1. Be authorized and empowered to enter upon any property where animals are being kept, and, if there is probable cause to believe that this Ordinance is being violated, for the purpose of making inquiries about any animals on the property.
2. Determine if the owner of such animals has complied with the appropriate provisions of this Ordinance; if not, the owner shall be notified of the provisions of this Ordinance and allowed ten business days to comply.
3. Be deputized to enforce this Ordinance and the Statutes of the State pertaining to animals, and to make complaint to the District Court or other appropriate Court in regard to any violations.

SECTION 5 LICENSES FOR DOGS

- (A) All dogs four months old or over in the Township must be properly licensed and have proof of a current rabies vaccination, unless the dog is properly licensed under procedures established by the State of Michigan and the County of Marquette.*
- (B) Current dog licenses issued by other counties within the State of Michigan prior to residence in the Township shall be honored and valid for the remainder of the calendar year in which they were issued.*
- (C) Any dog not confined in an enclosure, or not immediately engaged in hunting, must wear a collar at all times with a current license and rabies tag attached.*
- (D) No dog shall be exempt from a rabies vaccination, unless a registered and practicing veterinarian of the State of Michigan certifies in writing that such vaccination would be detrimental to the health of the dog.*
- (E) No license or license tag issued for one dog shall be transferable to another dog. Whenever ownership or possession of any dog is permanently transferred from one person to another within the same County, the license of such dog may likewise transfer, upon written notice given by the last registered owner to the County Treasurer who shall note such transfer upon the Treasurer records. This Ordinance does not require procurement of a new license or the transfer of a license already secured where the possession of a dog is temporarily transferred for the purpose of boarding, hunting, trial or show.*

SECTION 6 KENNELS

- (A) Any person or persons who want to own, keep or operate a kennel in the Township shall apply to the County Treasurer or County-authorized agent for a kennel license.*
- (B) Any person who at any one time owns four or more dogs at a single location within the boundaries of any non-agricultural area within the Township, shall on or before June 1 of every year apply for a County kennel license.*

SECTION 7 ENCLOSURES

- (A) All animal enclosures shall be structurally sound and maintained in good repair to protect the animals from injury, to shield them from the sun and adverse weather conditions, to contain them and to keep predators out.*
- (B) All enclosures shall be constructed and maintained so as to enable the animals to remain dry and clean.*
- (C) All enclosures shall be constructed and maintained so as to provide sufficient space to allow each animal to turn about freely and to easily stand, sit and lie in a comfortable, normal position.*
- (D) The floors of an enclosure shall be constructed so as to protect the animal's feet and legs from injury.*
- (E) Each enclosure shall be provided with a solid resting surface or surfaces which, in the aggregate, shall be of adequate size to comfortably hold all occupants of the enclosure at the same time.*
- (F) If a house with a chain is used as an enclosure for an animal kept outdoors, the chain used shall be placed or attached so that it cannot become entangled with the chains of other animals or with objects. The chain shall be the type commonly used for the size of animal involved and shall be* attached to the animal by means of a well fitted collar. The chain shall be at least three times the length of the animal as measured from the tip of its nose to the base of its tail and shall allow the animal convenient access to the animal house.

SECTION 8 ANIMAL BITES AND PROCEDURES

- (A) Any animal kept as a pet that bites a person or other animal, penetrating the skin, shall be securely confined by the owner inside an appropriate building or enclosure for a period of ten calendar days. In the event the Animal Control Officer has reason to believe the stipulation of this section will not be complied with, the Animal Control Officer shall take custody of the animal and confine it at the impound facility for ten business days at the expense of the owner or agent.
- (B) Any animal running loose after biting a person or other animal causing penetration of the skin, and whose owner cannot be determined, shall be confined for ten business days at the impound facility.
- (C) Any wild animal that shall bite or scratch a person causing penetration of the skin shall be immediately destroyed according to State-defined suspected rabid animal procedures.
- (D) Any animal, domestic or wild, which has bitten a person or other animal causing penetration of the skin that cannot be apprehended may, at the discretion of the Animal Control Officer, be immediately destroyed according to State-defined suspected rabid animal procedures.
- (E) Any animal, as previously described in any of the above sections, that should die or become ill during the time of confinement will be suspected as rabid and treated according to State-defined suspected rabid animal procedures.

SECTION 9 IMPOUND FACILITY

- (A) Any animal observed to be in immediate danger by a Law Enforcement Officer or Animal Control Officer may be removed from the situation by the quickest and most reasonable means available and placed in the impound facility.
- (B) Any animal found running at large may be seized by a Law Enforcement Officer and if the owner of the animal cannot be located, impounded in accordance with the Statutes of the State.
- (C) Upon impoundment of an animal, the Law Enforcement Officer or Animal Control Officer shall make every reasonable effort to promptly notify the owner of the animal and inform the owner of the location and how custody can be regained in accordance with the regulations of the Township and the impound facility.
- (D) Any animal not redeemed within the impound period shall be disposed of in accordance with the provisions of the impoundment facility.
- (E) Impound fees shall be posted at the impound facility and the fees must be paid upon redeeming the animal.
- (F) Impound fees will be set annually by the Township Board and posted in the Township's Adopted Fee Schedule.
- (G) Any owner after notification of impoundment, who willfully fails to redeem the impounded animal, shall be cited for cruelty by neglect of said animal under the Cruelty Statutes of the State.

SECTION 10 KILLING AND/OR SEIZING OF ANIMALS

- (A) Any animal that enters an enclosure which is owned or leased by a person raising livestock or poultry that is unaccompanied by the owner shall be in violation of this Ordinance. The Owner or leasee of such enclosure or his or her agent may apprehend or kill such animal while it is in the enclosure without liability for killing such animal.*
- (B) It shall be lawful for any person to seize an animal running at large upon his or her property in violation of this Ordinance or the Statutes of the State of Michigan and to turn the animal over to a Law Enforcement Officer.*
- (C) In no event shall the provisions of this Ordinance exonerate a person from compliance with the criminal laws of this State, including the safe discharge of firearms.*

SECTION 11 PROHIBITION OF LIVESTOCK OR POULTRY IN NON-AGRICULTURAL AREAS

- (A) No livestock shall be owned, kept, possessed, harbored or kept charge of within the boundaries of any non-agricultural area within Chocolay Township.*
- (B) No poultry shall be owned, kept, possessed, harbored or kept charge of within the boundaries of any non-agricultural area within Chocolay Township.*

SECTION 12 VIOLATIONS

- (A) It shall be unlawful for any person or owner to allow any animal of any age, licensed or unlicensed, wearing or not wearing a collar to:
 - 1. Run at large, except working farm dogs and hunting dogs while actively engaged in the activity for which they are trained and under the direction of the owner. An animal need not be physically restrained, but must be under reasonable control of the responsible person.*
 - 2. Be within the confines of any public park that prohibits animals. A service dog accompanied by its owner shall be exempt.*
 - 3. Destroy or deface property, real or personal.*
 - 4. Soil or pollute with body waste the property of persons other than the owner.*
 - 5. Attack or bite a person.*
 - 6. Show vicious habits or harass passers-by, when such person(s) are lawfully in a public place.*
 - 7. Cause serious annoyance by loud and/or frequent noise.
- (B) It shall be unlawful for any person to:
 - 1. Remove a collar or tag from any animal without the permission of the owner.*
 - 2. Decoy or entice any animal out of an enclosure or off the property of the owner.*
 - 3. Seize, harass or tease any animal while held or led by any person or while of the property of the owner.

SECTION 13 ENFORCEMENT

- (A) This Ordinance shall be enforced by the Township Animal Control Officer, by the Township Police Department, or by a person or persons as the Township Board may designate.*

- (B) In the event of any violation of any provision of this Ordinance or the laws of the State, an Animal Control Officer or Law Enforcement Officer may take such measures as may be necessary to initiate and pursue enforcement action against such violator as a civil infraction.
- (C) The Court, upon a finding of guilty, shall assess the penalties in accordance with the penalty provisions of this Ordinance.

SECTION 14 PENALTIES

- (A) Any person violating any provision of this Ordinance shall be deemed responsible for a civil infraction, and upon an admission of responsibility or a finding of responsibility, shall be subject to payment of a civil fine of not less than $50.00 or more than $300.00, plus costs and other sanctions, for each infraction.
- 1) Repeat offenses shall be subject to increased fines in accordance with this section.
 - 2) The increased fine for a repeat offense under this section shall be as follows:
 - a) The fine for any offense which is a first repeat offense shall be no less than $75.00 or more than $300.00, plus costs and other sanctions; and,
 - b) The fine for any offense which is a second repeat offense or any subsequent repeat offense shall be no less than $100.00 or more than $300.00, plus costs and sanctions.

SECTION 15 PRESERVATION OF CERTAIN RIGHTS

- (A) Nothing in this Ordinance shall be construed to prevent the owner of an animal from recovery in an action at law from any Law Enforcement Officer or any other person, except as herein provided.
- (B) Nothing in this Ordinance shall be construed as limiting the Common Law liability of the owner of an animal for damages committed by said animal.

SECTION 16 VALIDITY

Should any action, clause or provision of this Ordinance be declared to be invalid, the same shall not affect the validity of this Ordinance as a whole, or any part thereof, other than the part so declared invalid.

SECTION 17 REPEAL

Ordinance 41 and all ordinances or parts of ordinances in conflict with the provisions of this Ordinance are hereby repealed.

SECTION 18 EFFECTIVE DATE

This Ordinance shall take effect thirty calendar days from _____.

Follow Up: Throenle asked that the Planning Commission look over the above ordinance and consider if there are any other changes that need to be made at the next meeting, along with the discussion of the poultry issue.

B. Ordinance 29 and Ordinance 29A Amendment – Street Address Numbers

Throenle indicated that this came about due to a situation that happened when a police call came in, and police went to the property where there are two similar dwellings, and entered the wrong dwelling. There were no address markings on the two dwellings. Throenle indicated that there is nothing in our current address code that requires the numbering for multiple dwellings on a property.

Throenle indicated that there is also a discrepancy with the Ordinance itself, as when an amendment was made, it was referred to as Ordinance Amendment 29A, which causes confusion in determining the correct action to take. Throenle is suggesting that Ordinance 29 and Ordinance Amendment 29A be combined into new Ordinance 63.

Throenle is recommending that the Planning Commission do a review and rewrite of Ordinance 29 and 29A to combine both documents, add language to the new ordinance to require the numbering of multiple dwellings on a property, and add language to the new ordinance to require all properties within the Township be required to display a property number.

The Planning Commission then went through the Ordinance to review changes that should be made. Bohjanen indicated that in some areas the mailboxes are in groups by the side of the row, so this would not be an indication of which house they belonged to – putting a number on your mailbox will not be a good identifier.

ORDINANCE 63 ADDRESS NUMBERS

SECTION 1 PURPOSE

The purpose of this Ordinance is to secure and maintain the public health, safety and welfare of the residents and property owners of the Charter Township of Chocoday by providing for street address numbers to be affixed to buildings and/or driveway entrances on properties located within Chocoday Township.

SECTION 2 TITLE

This Ordinance is to be known and cited as the "Charter Township of Chocoday Address Numbers Ordinance".

SECTION 3 DEFINITIONS

For the purpose of this Ordinance, the following terms shall be used:

Word or Phrase	Definition
Dwelling	Means any structure designed for human occupancy, either permanently or on a temporary basis
Street	Means the named or numbered way, public or private, that provides access to a structure or place of business
Street Number	Means the number assigned to premises by the Township
Owner	Means, but not be limited to, any person or persons owning premises, occupying or in the possession of any property
Occupant	Means a person, firm, corporation, or other entity occupying and in possession of a premises upon which a structure or a place of business is situated, whether or not as an owner, and shall include but not necessarily be limited to lessees, tenants, and land contract vendees
Structure	Means a permanent building on a property greater than 100 square feet Exception: Tents or units located on premises designated as a campground and hunting blinds are not considered structures.
Township	Means the of the Charter Township of Chocoday

SECTION 4 IDENTIFICATION REQUIREMENTS

All structures, dwellings and places of business shall be identified by a street number assigned to the premises by the Township, and the number assigned to the premises shall be displayed in the following manner:

- (A) The street number shall, at a minimum, be affixed to a structure or place of business in numbers not less than three and one-half (3 1/2) inches in height. The number must be clearly visible and legible from the street.

- (B) If the street number is not clearly visible from the street when affixed to a structure or place of business in accordance with subsection A, then the street number shall be displayed in numbers not less than three and one-half (3 1/2) inches in height which shall be affixed to a sign or mailbox placed adjacent to the driveway or road entrance to the structure or place of business. The sign or mailbox shall be constructed of durable material and shall be mounted not less than four feet above ground level.
- (C) Multiple dwellings or places of business on a property shall be identified with a sequential pattern of letters, numbers, or combination of letters and numbers to facilitate identification of the individual structure or place of business on the premises in the event of an emergency.
- (D) Private roads or drives that provide access to multiple structures, dwellings and places of business must have numbers at the entrance from a public road and have numbers at any branches on the private road that separate the structures, dwellings and places of business.

SECTION 5 CONFLICTS IN NUMBERING

The Township shall have the authority to change any existing numbers or numbering systems to resolve conflicts or confusion which may exist now or in the future.

SECTION 6 ENFORCEMENT

Any owner or occupant who, after receipt of a notice pursuant to Section 4 of this Ordinance, fails to display street numbers in accordance with the provisions of Section 4 within the time limits specified in the notice, shall be responsible for a civil infraction, and, upon a finding of responsibility, shall be punishable by a fine of not more than Twenty-five Dollars ($25.00) plus Court costs for each offense.

Each and every day during which such violation continues or is permitted to continue shall constitute a separate offense, and shall be punishable as such.

Any violation of this Ordinance is hereby declared to be a public nuisance per se, and, in addition to the penalties specified herein for such violations, the Township may seek to enforce compliance with the terms and provisions of this Ordinance by means of any and all other remedies or measures available to it by statute, ordinance, resolution, regulations, or civil or criminal law.

SECTION 7 REPEAL

Ordinance 29, amendment 29A, and all ordinances or parts of ordinances in conflict with the provisions of this Ordinance are hereby repealed.

SECTION 8 VALIDITY

Should any action, clause or provision of this Ordinance be declared to be invalid, the same shall not affect the validity of this Ordinance as a whole, or any part thereof, other than the part so declared invalid.

SECTION 9 EFFECTIVE DATE

This Ordinance shall take effect thirty calendar days from _____.

Throenle will forward the proposed ordinance to the Police Department and Fire Department for review of the new language and how it affects enforceability.

VIII. UNFINISHED BUSINESS

A. Commercial Zoning District uses

Throenle indicated that there was nothing in the packet for this, as prior to the packets being published he had conversations with the Marquette Township Planner and the Chocolay Township Manager. The Marquette Township Planner will be providing the language that they are using in Marquette Township – this will simplify the process for Chocolay. Throenle also needs to find out from the County if there is a requirement for sprinkler systems for new businesses that may end up in the corridor, and if so, then there is a water requirement that needs to be addressed.

IX. PUBLIC COMMENT

None

X. COMMISSIONER'S COMMENTS

Meister – none

Smith – asked about the AT&T tower at Silver Creek – how long is the lease period? Throenle replied he thought it was indefinite. Smith indicated he thought it was going to be up on the hill, but ended up in a flat piece of property that had potential for other development. Throenle indicated that the tower was pushed back as far as possible, to be able to develop the Rec Area.

Milton – questioned if there will be a brush drop off. Throenle indicated he will ask DPW and get the answer for next meeting.

Bohjanen – he is happy for the Township that the Bayou property was able to be purchased. Throenle indicated that the UP Land Conservancy orchestrated the purchase. The Township does not own it.

Sikkema – none

XI. DIRECTOR'S COMMENTS

Throenle indicated that he will be attending a meeting on Wednesday (August 17) to discuss the Silver Creek Recreation Area – traffic flow and safety issues.

Throenle will be digging more into the sign ordinance. There will also be more discussion on billboards.

Sometime in the future, the scrap yard on Big Creek is now closed and there will need to be discussion on what will happen with that property.

CHARTER TOWNSHIP OF CHOCOLAY PLANNING COMMISSION MINUTES

Monday, September 19, 2016

I. MEETING CALLED TO ORDER BY: Andy Sikkema at 7:00 p.m.

ROLL CALL

Members Present: Andy Sikkema (Chair), Richard Bohjanen (Board), Kendell Milton, Bruce Ventura

Members Absent: Andy Smith (Vice Chair), Eric Meister (Secretary), Tom Mahaney

Staff Present: Suzanne Sundell (Administrative Assistant), Dale Throenle (Planning Director/Zoning Administrator)

II. ADDITIONAL AGENDA ITEMS / APPROVAL OF AGENDA

Motion by Ventura, and seconded by Bohjanen, to approve the agenda as written.

Vote: Ayes: 4 Nays: 0 MOTION CARRIED

III. MINUTES

August 15, 2016

Motion by Bohjanen, and seconded by Milton, to approve the minutes as written.

Vote: Ayes: 4 Nays: 0 MOTION CARRIED

IV. PUBLIC COMMENT

Deborah Mulcahey, 633 Lakewood Lane – On the issue of a separate position for the Zoning Administrator – why not keep Zoning in-house, and look at using CUPPAD for Planning. The next issue was the survey that had been done with the postcards – this required the resident deciding what district they were in. The results of the survey were flawed, and Mulcahey would ask that the Planning Commission note that the WFR district did not support poultry. The issue with this was due to private wells and septic systems, and there is always the on-going issue of enforcement. Mulcahey is confused on the animal control in relation to dogs. The Ordinance indicated that Animal Control would be checking for kennels. Would there be a separate person doing animal control? In Section 12 Violations, Mulcahey questioned the statement “...need not be physically restrained, but must be under reasonable control...” What is the definition of reasonable control? Also, there were exceptions to hunting dogs - need to keep in mind that hunting dogs are not always perfect. The definition of “Owner” states a time period of 5 days – not quite sure what this means. Mulcahey was bothered by Section 4(B)7, which states that the officer would “Have discretion to refrain from making a determination that an animal is a potentially dangerous animal ...” She feels that basically all animals are dangerous. In Section 4(C)2 it states that if there is non-compliance, the owner shall be notified of the provision of this Ordinance and allowed ten business days to comply. She feels that the Planning Commission should look at this closely. In Section 11, Poultry, as far as personal use goes, is not commercial. This would seem to mean no selling, but what about bartering or giving away. Ordinance 63 – be mindful that not everyone has a mailbox and that some may not be able to comply with the marking on both sides, as there are sometimes rows of mailboxes. If the Planning Commission is really concerned, they may want to take a look at the green vertical signs on properties – may want to make this an option for people.

VIII. UNFINISHED BUSINESS

A. Ordinance 62 - Animal Control

Throenle presented the revised document that was discussed at last month’s meeting. The first discussion will address the language changes and changes that are recommended by the Police Department, and then the issue of poultry will be addressed. The document being reviewed is VIII.A.1.7 of the packet.

Definitions:

Livestock	Means animals used for human food and fiber or animals used for service to human beings Includes, but is not limited to, cattle, swine, sheep, llamas, goats, bison, horses and rabbits
-----------	---

Throenle questioned the inclusion of rabbits in livestock, as they do not fall into the same category as cattle or horses. Sikkema indicated that he feels that raising rabbits would fall under the category of livestock, not pets. It was decided that rabbits will stay in the category of livestock.

Owner	Means, but not be limited to, any person or persons owning premises, occupying or in the possession of any property, having proprietorship of an animal, right of property of an animal, or an authorized agent; Any person who keeps, harbors, has care of, custody of or control of an animal for a period of five or more calendar days; Any person that allows any animal to remain on his or her premises for a period of five or more calendar days.

Throenle questioned if “five or more calendar days” is an accurate measurement. Sikkema felt that this may be referring to visiting animals (pet sitting, guests with animals). This would refer to the owner of the property, not the owner of the dogs. The wording will stay as is.

Section 4(A)2:

Removed “Meet the requirements of the Michigan Department of Agriculture for animal control.” and renumbered the remaining points.

Police comment reflected there was no special training required.

Section 4(B)5:

Removed “Inspect kennels for licensing and may suspend or revoke a license if the Animal Control Officer has reason to believe conditions exist which are unsanitary or inhumane to the animals.” and renumbered the remaining points.

Police comment was that the Health Department does the inspecting and licensing.

Section 4(B)7:

Added “~~Have discretion to refrain from making a~~ Shall make a determination that an animal is a potentially dangerous animal if the officer determines that the animal’s behavior was not the result of the victim abusing or tormenting the animal, was directed toward a trespasser or person committing or attempting to commit a crime, involved was not the result of accidental or instinctive behavior while playing, did not involve a significant injury, or other similar mitigating or extenuating circumstances.”

Ventura indicated that there were some difficulties with this whole paragraph – the Police officer is coming on the scene after the fact and would not have witnessed the incident. He doesn’t feel there should be discretion in an ordinance. Sikkema asked if this was written internally – Throenle indicated that he found this in several other ordinances that he was researching. Discussion ensued with the pros and cons of the word “discretion”. Ventura suggested there be a change of wording.

Section 6(B):

~~Any person~~ Any owner who at any one time owns or harbors four or more dogs at a single location within the boundaries of a non-agricultural area within the Township shall apply for a County kennel license on or before June 1 of every year have a valid County kennel license posted on the premises.

Throenle indicated that this was a rewording of the original. After discussion, wording was changed as reflected above.

Section 8(A):

Any animal kept as a pet that bites or scratches a person or other animal, penetrating the skin, shall be securely confined by the owner away from other animals inside an appropriate building or enclosure for a period of ten calendar days. The owner shall immediately report any unusual behavior or appearance change during the ten calendar day period to the Animal Control Officer. In the event the Animal Control Officer has reason to believe the owner will not comply with this section, the Animal Control Officer shall take custody of the animal and confine it at the impound facility for ten business days at the expense of the owner.

Bolded wording added as comment by Police department. Changed to add the phrase “or scratches”.

Section 9(G):

Any owner who willfully fails to redeem the impounded animal after notification of impoundment shall be cited for cruelty by neglect of said animal under the Cruelty Statutes of the State.

Throenle indicated he had changed the language to make it a little easier to read. No other changes were made.

Section 10(B):

The Animal Control Officer may, at his or her discretion, shoot a dog running at large if it is determined the dog is chasing or harassing deer.

After discussion, the Planning Commission decided to delete this.

Section 12(B)3:

Seize, harass or tease any animal while held or led by any person or while ~~of~~ on the property of the owner.

Ventura indicated there was a typographical error on this – changed “of” to “on”.

Section 14(B & C):

None of the language has changed – only the numbering.

Section 11 Livestock or Poultry in Non-Agricultural Areas

- A. No livestock or poultry, except chickens, shall be owned, kept, possessed, harbored or kept charge of within the boundaries of a non-agricultural area within Chocolay Township.
- B. The keeping of chickens ~~poultry (such as chickens, turkeys, ducks, or geese)~~ in non-agriculture districts shall be subject to the following requirements:
 - 1. A ~~poultry~~ chicken permit is required prior to ~~poultry~~ chickens being permitted on the premises.
 - 2. ~~Poultry~~ Chicken owner(s) may not keep more than ~~three~~ six ~~poultry~~ chicken hens on the premises at any one time. Hens are for personal use only and not for any business or commercial use.
 - 3. ~~Poultry use is restricted to personal use;~~ No selling of ~~poultry~~ chickens or eggs is permitted.
 - 4. Roosters are prohibited.
 - 5. ~~Slaughtering of any poultry on the premises is prohibited.~~

6. Poultry Chickens shall not be kept in any location on the property other than in the backyard. (Exception: Waterfront residential can be either in the front yard or backyard if screened from public view.)
7. Poultry ~~hens~~ Chickens shall be maintained in a fully enclosed structure or a fenced enclosure and shall be kept in the enclosed structure or fenced enclosure at all times. Fenced enclosures and structures are subject to all fence and structure provisions and restrictions in the Township Zoning Ordinance.
8. Poultry Chicken structures, or the portions of other structures used to house or provide shelter for small animals, shall not exceed two hundred square feet of ground floor area nor exceed ~~twelve~~ ten feet in height. ~~Maximum ground floor areas for poultry set forth above may be increased by fifty percent for each acre in addition to the minimum lot size for the zoning district.~~
9. ~~No~~ An enclosed structure shall ~~be located within any setback area~~ follow all zoning setback requirements for the zoning district.
10. An enclosed structure or fenced enclosure shall not be located closer than thirty feet to any ~~occupied~~ residence on an adjacent property.
11. All structures and enclosures for the keeping of poultry chickens shall be constructed and maintained so as to prevent rats, mice, or other rodents or vermin from living underneath or within the walls of the structure or enclosure.
12. All feed and other items associated with the keeping of chickens likely to attract rats, mice, or other rodents or vermin shall be secured and protected in sealed containers.
13. All poultry chickens shall be kept in compliance with the Michigan Department of Agriculture Generally Accepted Agricultural and Management Practices for the Care of Farm Animals.

Throenle indicated that he had looked at several different models to come up with Section 11. Ventura questioned (B)5 on the slaughtering of chickens. He indicated that most people who are raising small amounts of chickens are doing so for the eggs and the meat. The Planning Commission decided to remove (B)5 from the proposed language. After discussion, it was decided to change the wording of “poultry” to “chicken”. There was also discussion on the number of chickens that should be allowed – changed from three to six. There was also some discussion on how location of chickens should be done on Lakewood Lane – front or back, it would need to be obscured from public view.

Bohjanen moved, and Ventura seconded that the draft of Ordinance 62, as amended, be submitted for Public Hearing for the next meeting, and publish the necessary notices.

Vote: Ayes: 4 Nays: 0 MOTION CARRIED

B. Ordinance 63 - Street Address Numbers

Throenle indicated that the only change recommended by the Fire Department is in Section 4(C) “On roads that provide access for two-way traffic, numbers on a mailbox must be placed on both sides of the mailbox to enable emergency response vehicles to see the numbers from either direction.” This may not always be possible to put numbers on both sides, as some people put up snowboards to protect their mailboxes, so the numbers would need to be on the snowboards.

(A) ~~The street address number shall, at a minimum, be affixed to a structure or place of business in numbers not less than three and one-half (3 ½) inches in height. The number must be clearly visible and legible from the street.~~

(B) ~~“If the street address number is not clearly visible from the street when affixed to a structure or place of business in accordance with subsection A, then the street number shall be displayed in numbers not less than three and one-half (3 ½) inches in height which shall be affixed to a sign or mailbox placed adjacent to the driveway or road entrance to the structure or place of business, and is visible from both directions of travel. The sign or mailbox shall be constructed of durable material and shall be mounted not less than four feet above ground level.”~~

The Planning Commission suggested removal of Section of 4(C).

There was a question on the requirement of affixing the street number to a structure or place of business. It was determined it needs to be in the ordinance for emergency purposes.

Section 3 Definitions:

Street Address Number	Means the number assigned to the premises by the Township
------------------------------------	---

Ventura moved, and Milton seconded that the draft of Ordinance 63, as amended, be submitted for Public Hearing for the next meeting, and publish the necessary notices.

Vote: Ayes: 4 Nays: 0 MOTION CARRIED

IX. PUBLIC COMMENT

Deborah Mulcahey, 633 Lakewood Lane – felt that Section 4(B)7 should be go to our attorney for legal opinion. Mulcahey also felt that people should be encouraged to put up the vertical signs with fire numbers, which are more visible.

X. COMMISSIONER’S COMMENTS

Bohjanen – none

Milton – none

Ventura – none

Sikkema – brought up the issue of vacation rentals. He had been in a small community over the weekend where there was one person that was buying up available property and converting them into vacation rentals. Sikkema did not know what their ordinance was like. Our ordinance cannot be enforced, but we are not addressing the issue. He feels this is a disservice to the Township residents. If nothing else, we should at least clean up the ordinance. The other issue he has is commercial dumpsters. He wondered if this should also be addressed by the Planning Commission on what is allowed. He feels we should try to keep our community looking nice. Bohjanen stated that about a year ago he drove the Township and looked for instances of blight, and didn't find that many. Sikkema feels that these may be issues the Planning Commission should be looking at.

XI. DIRECTOR'S COMMENTS

Throenle indicated that he would like some direction on a matter. There is an individual in the AF district that has a short term rental. If he pursues this individual for not having a Conditional Use permit, he feels that he is doing selective enforcement. He would like to put short term rentals on a future agenda for the Planning Commission.

Throenle also indicated that in a recent MTA publication, there were two articles he would like to point out. The first one is State legislation dealing with Medical Marijuana law, which states the Townships have the option not to permit Medical Marijuana business within the confines of the Township, unless it is in the Ordinance. The second one is legislation on chickens that would supersede what the townships have on the books.

Throenle indicated that he would like to propose in addition to the Public Hearings next meeting, he would like to get back to the overlay districts, and possibly the Sign Ordinance. Sikkema suggested just adding the Sign Ordinance on for the next meeting, along with the Public Hearings.

Throenle indicated that he has done several hundred observations this year – the difficulty in going to a particular property is that on any given day it may be clean. He feels that Zoning is enforcement by sight – he is not able to go on the property without permission, so he is restricted on the taking of pictures.

Members Present: Andy Sikkema (Chair), Andy Smith (Vice Chair), Eric Meister (Secretary), Richard Bohjanen (Board), Kendell Milton, Bruce Ventura

Members Absent: Tom Mahaney

Staff Present: Dale Throenle (Planning Director/Zoning Administrator)

II. ADDITIONAL AGENDA ITEMS / APPROVAL OF AGENDA

Sikkema requested an item to be added to the agenda to discuss short term rentals. Item added would be VII.E.

Motion by Ventura, and seconded by Meister, to approve the agenda as amended.

Vote: Ayes: 6 Nays: 0 MOTION CARRIED

III. MINUTES

September 19, 2016

Motion by Milton, and seconded by Bohjanen, to approve the minutes as written.

Vote: Ayes: 6 Nays: 0 MOTION CARRIED

IV. PUBLIC COMMENT

William Todd, 1075 Ortman Road – requested to speak in relation to item VII.D. He was deferred until that item on the agenda.

Jim Dunn, 3210 M-28 – looked for clarification on zoning for his three parcels. When he purchased the properties he was told they were residential, and residential only. He did not receive notification that his property had been changed to agricultural (AF) in 2008. He sought clarification from the Planning Commission as to how he can develop his property.

He also spoke in relation to short term rentals. He bought his property with the intent of not having short term rentals next to his property. He again asked for clarification from the Planning Commission on the direction to take on this subject.

Dick Arnold, 312 West Branch -- brought up the number of acres of agriculture property in the Township. He expressed concern on how development can occur on agriculture property – size of accessory buildings and number of buildings on the smaller agriculture lots. He asked that the Planning Commission to lower the square footage permitted on a property. He was also concerned with the requirement that if a building was built 60 feet from the lot line, the height of the building could be 60 feet. This would be unacceptable on smaller agriculture acreage.

He requested that additional surveys of the Township residents be considered in order to get more information on what the residents of the Township want. He expressed concern that if the citizens are not heard, then the Planning Commission determines direction. He also noted that the citizens of the Township do not participate in the process as they should.

He expressed concern about the signage on the highways throughout the Township. He described the passing lanes and the inconsistency along the highway. He also addressed the cross-hatched area heading north on US 41 at the intersection of M-28. The public is not paying attention to the cross-hatched area, and are using it as a right turn lane. This should be addressed to the Road Commission.

Deborah Mulcahey, 633 Lakewood Lane – asked the Planning Commission to look at priorities and how they are established. She expressed concern that the priorities have changed, and that priorities have changed based on a small minority of people within the Township.

Throenle added that Mr. Dunn’s properties are each 1/2 acre in size.

V. PUBLIC HEARINGS

Public hearings were deferred to agenda items VII.A and VII.B, respectively.

VI. PRESENTATIONS

None

VII. NEW BUSINESS

A. Ordinance 62 – Animal Control

Throenle introduced the ordinance to the Commission for consideration, and requested that the public hearing be opened for ordinance consideration.

Public Hearing

Deborah Mulcahey, 633 Lakewood Lane – stated she provided written comment along with her husband. Both are opposed to allowing chickens everywhere throughout the Township. She indicated 60 percent of the properties in the Township now allow for chickens. She indicated that if this passed, there would be nowhere in the Township that residents could live chicken-free. She stated that a majority of the residents in the Lakewood Lane area and the waterfront district said no to chickens in the 2013 community survey. She requested a review of this information to point out that some areas of the Township are opposed to having chickens in their districts.

Laurie Krzymowski, 741 Lakewood Lane – stated she is anti-chicken in residential areas. She expressed that she was, at one time, diagnosed with a spot on her lungs from residue found in the chicken coop that she played in as a child, even though the coop was cleaned and painted after the chickens were removed.

She also referred to a Center of Disease Control (CDC) report that was recently released that indicated an increase in salmonella in relation to chickens. She expressed that we should limit our exposure for the quality of water, quality of health, and not increase the amount of salmonella in the community. She stated the information she referred to could be found on cdc.gov.

Commission Discussion

Bohjanen opened the discussion with a look at section 6.B on page four of the proposed ordinance. He asked that if you are in the AF district are you not required to have a kennel license. Sikkema replied that the license is still required, and Throenle confirmed.

Discussion followed concerning the verbiage of 6.B, and the item was modified to read: "Any owner who at any one time owns or harbors four or more dogs at a single location within the Township shall have a valid County kennel license posted on the premises."

Bohjanen addressed Section 8.A and Section 10.A as duplicated sections. Sikkema responded that they were in each section for a good reason; he asked Bohjanen which section would be most appropriate for the text to be retained. Discussion continued, with Ventura suggesting that sections 8, 9, and 10 be combined into one section. Sikkema responded that each section had a different function, with a suggestion to remove section 10.A and renumber 10.B to 10.A, and renumber 10.C to 10.B. Commissioners agreed.

Bohjanen requested a grammatical change in section 11.B.9. He requested that the phrase "closer than thirty feet to any residence" be changed to read "closer than thirty feet from any residence." Commissioners agreed.

Ventura asked Throenle if the penalties in Section 14 should be in the Township schedule of fees or if it should be in the ordinance. Throenle indicated it could be in either place. The difference would be the fee schedule would be part of the annual budget, where the ordinance language would have to be changed via public hearing, Planning Commission approval, and Township board approval. Throenle indicated the reason for the fee range in the ordinance is to provide a range for civil court consideration. He was unsure as to if the fee schedule could contain a range. No change in the document was requested.

Smith raised a question concerning puppies. If more than four pups were at a residence, would a kennel license be required? Throenle responded that he would interpret the ordinance to require the license if the pup was kept longer than four months. Discussion continued to determine if a change should be made to address the issue.

Ventura asked for a clarification on the licensing of dogs. Discussion followed as to what was considered a properly licensed dog. Throenle indicated the reason for item 5.B was to allow for new residents in the County to bring in their dogs without concern for relicensing until the calendar year expired.

Meister suggested changing item 5.B to read "current dog licenses issued by other jurisdictions". Commissioners agreed.

Ventura suggested making the sentence part of 5.A. Commissioners agreed, and requested the renumbering 5.C to 5.B, 5.D to 5.C, and 5.E to 5.D.

Bohjanen mentioned that the Commission hears limited opinions during public comment. He stated that he did not know the statistics concerning chickens, especially since the only comments presented were from those that did not want chickens. He addressed the salmonella comments presented during the public hearing, and indicated he would want to defer the decision on the ordinance until he had time to read the latest CDC information. Ventura stated that salmonella is also prevalent in the wild bird population, especially finches at bird feeders.

Sikkema requested additional comments from the Commissioners; there were none. Bohjanen made a suggestion to defer the motion until he had time to review the CDC information. Sikkema asked if the item could be tabled. Throenle stated if the ordinance was tabled, then a new public hearing would not be necessary as it would be an extension of the process.

Discussion followed concerning the next direction for the ordinance.

Throenle asked if sending a link to the CDC information via email would be sufficient. Sikkema indicated that it would.

Bohjanen moved, and Ventura seconded the ordinance be tabled until the next meeting to allow time to review the latest CDC information.

Vote: Ayes: 6 Nays: 0 MOTION CARRIED

Throenle asked for a motion to clarify which ordinance language would be brought before the Commission at the next meeting.

Meister moved, and Ventura seconded the ordinance language that will be presented at the next meeting will contain the changes already suggested.

Vote: Ayes: 6 Nays: 0 MOTION CARRIED

B. Ordinance 63 – Address Numbers

Throenle introduced the ordinance to the Commission for consideration, and requested that the public hearing be opened.

Public Hearing

No public hearing.

Commission Discussion

Sikkema brought up the size of the numbers on the mailboxes and signs. He suggested that the size be changed to two inches for the mailboxes and road-located signs. He suggested the language in Section 4.B be changed to “shall be displayed in numbers not less than two (2) inches ...”. Discussion followed, and Commissioners approved the change.

Ventura moved, and Bohjanen seconded that after holding a public hearing and considering public input, the Planning Commission recommends that the Township

Board approve the draft version of Ordinance # 63 Address Numbers as changed for the following reasons:

- 1) To require that multiple dwellings or places of business on a property be identified for emergency response purposes;
- 2) To require address numbers to be visible from both directions of travel;
- 3) To make editing changes to the ordinance text;
- 4) To repeal Ordinances # 29 and # 29A and replace them with Ordinance # 63.

C. Zoning Ordinance – Section 18.1 Signs

Throenle stated that the purpose of this item was to inform the Planning Commission that discrepancies were found in the sign ordinance that were in contrast to the Supreme Court findings in the case of Reed et al v. Town of Gilbert, Arizona, et al. He said the purpose of bringing this to the Commission was to address language in the ordinance that looked at signs and sign enforcement based on the content on the signs. Current language in the ordinance looks at signs based on content: political, real estate, etc.

Ventura commented, and Meister agreed, that the only portions of the ordinance to look at should be the language that pertains to content. They did not want to look at the remainder of the ordinance, as a lot of time had been invested in writing that section of the ordinance.

Sikkema stated that Throenle should look at the MDOT specifications for signs for guidance, especially to see how MDOT is addressing the sign issue based on the Court decision. He also asked Throenle to look at the MDOT definitions (for items such as off-premise and on premise) to see if the definitions in the Township ordinance align with what MDOT has.

Throenle stated his understanding of direction. He understood his direction should be to match up with MDOT, and to look at the content-based language in the ordinance.

Sikkema suggested the Township manager bring the topic to the corridor meeting discussion.

Throenle will look at other townships, especially Marquette Township, to see how other entities are addressing the issue.

D. Acreage By Zoning District

Throenle stated that in researching an issue for zoning, he did a study of the parcel acreages based on the zoning district in which the parcel was located. He found that there were size discrepancies in every district, and those size differences were causing issues for the use of the properties within those districts. He referred to Dick Arnold's public comments as being an example of the issues within the district. He referred to the acreage breakdown attachment within the packet for the Commissioners to review.

He pointed out that the residential parcel sizes were the ones that triggered the discussion. The size ranges are from less than 1/2 acre to more than 10 acres, and 80 parcels in the R-1 district are greater than 10 acres.

Throenle stated that in 2008 the zoning districts were changed, and impacted all districts, especially in the AF district. The RR-2 parcels were incorporated into the AF district, which requires a minimum of 20 acres for development. If, however, the parcel meets the minimum setbacks for the district, multiple buildings can be placed on the lot, which presents an issue with acreage and district development.

Throenle indicated that one parcel is up for sale in the R-1 district that has a large acreage that the owner is having a difficult time selling because buyers are looking to put horses on that parcel.

Throenle asked for direction on this. He asked if the ordinance need to reflect changes that accommodate the larger parcels within a district.

Deferred public comment was taken at this time.

William Todd, 1075 Ortman Road, spoke concerning his two properties on Ortman Road, and the difficulty he was having in selling those properties. Under the R-1 designation, property owners cannot have horses on the larger acreage.

Deborah Mulcahey, 633 Lakewood Lane – stated to the Commissioners that they should not be surprised that this acreage issue is occurring within the Township. This contributes to the uniqueness of the Township. She said to take a look at the issues that have occurred as a result of the 2008 ordinance, but spot zoning, which is illegal, should not be a solution to the problem.

Jim Dunn, 3210 M-28 – indicated that he did not receive any notification that his property had been changed to agricultural (AF) in 2008. He is not able to resolve his issue with his properties because of this.

Meister asked Throenle if structures could be put on those parcels if they were not already built. Throenle stressed that he is not going to pursue spot zoning on any of the parcels within the Township. He stated that the parcels in question that do not conform are known as lots of record if they were recorded prior to 2008. He said that as long as the setbacks for the district were met for those parcels, you could build on the parcels; otherwise, it is considered a “dead” parcel in that district. Meister asked if Mr. Dunn could build on his property. Throenle responded he could, as long as he was able to meet the setbacks. Throenle pointed out that the parcels were small, which meant that building on those parcels may be difficult because of the 30 foot setbacks around the property and the minimum size requirement for the residence meets the 800 square foot minimum.

Mark Maki, 370 Karen Road – told Mr. Dunn that he could apply for a variance for his property based on the restrictions related to those properties.

Laurie Krzymowski, 741 Lakewood Lane – suggested that Throenle look at form-based code to address the situation within the Township. She indicated that it would be a tremendous amount of work to make it happen, but it would be an option to look at to correct the situation.

Commissioner discussion took place at this point. Smith pointed out that Dick Arnold has been talking about this issue for a long time. Smith also pointed out that the properties could be a problem in that they could take on the characteristics of the district without being able to sustain those characteristics. He provided an example of building on AF properties that were never really supposed to be AF in character. Meister indicated that his property was originally RR-2, and he was able to raise chickens on that property 20 years ago.

Meister asked how many lots that were affected, and if they could be handled through variances. Sikkema asked how many of the lots affected were built on. Throenle responded he did not know, but could find that information for the next meeting.

Sikkema suggested that the multi-use district was the original priority, and this issue should be addressed in the future.

Ventura shared that the form based code resolution might be an overlay to apply solutions for the additional permitted uses for those non-conforming parcels. He also pointed out to Throenle that the acreage numbers on the attachment did not calculate correctly. Throenle said he would fix that column of number for the next meeting.

Sikkema asked for direction for Throenle to pursue. Some discussion ensued concerning form-based code.

Bohjanen suggested that the districts be broken down to an example of R-1A, R-1B, R-1C, etc. He took exception to the fact that correcting the problem would be considered spot-zoning.

Sikkema asked the Commissioners for direction. He stated it is on the priority list, and asked if the issue should be addressed after the multi-use district was addressed. Commissioners agreed it should be addressed, but wanted to limit the districts to R-1 and AF. Ventura wanted to look at the issue holistically, and address the problem from different vantage points. Throenle suggested a compromise of looking at R-1 and AF. Bohjanen pointed out that the legal notices were posted, even though the individual property owners were not notified. Smith indicated that the County had changed the process so that property owners had to be notified. Additional discussion took place concerning the notification process.

Throenle again addressed the issues with parcel owners not being able to sell, and potential buyers not being able to buy properties based on zoning classification. Smith pointed out that the RR-2 properties were not intended to ever permit the AF scenarios of large number of animals or large number of buildings. Instead, the parcels were intended more for larger residential use. He went on to say the Commission should address the business overlay district first, and then address the AF district as the next item. Other Commissioners agreed.

E. Short Term Rentals

Sikkema introduced the topic by talking about the correspondence that was received and the comments made by the public during the public comment related to the issue. He asked the Commissioners if they wanted to move the item to the priority list. He asked them to consider one of three options: 1) no action, 2) put the item on the priority list, or 3) ask the Board again for direction on the issue.

Bohjanen felt that short term rentals should be put in as conditional use in all zoning districts and have rules for it.

Meister stated that the Commission already had two priorities – the corridor and the AF district discussion. He suggested that it be discussed in January when the Commission discusses the priorities for the year to see where it falls on the priority list.

Ventura pointed out that the issue needs to be as addressed, since it is becoming a growing business question.

Sikkema polled the Commissioners, and they agreed to follow Meister's suggestion. He also reminded the Commissioners to make sure that follow up is completed to ensure the topic is discussed in January.

Smith asked what came up on the survey concerning the short term rental question, as he believes that should be considered when establishing priorities for the year. Throenle stated the question was pulled off the latest survey that went out to Township residents last year. Sikkema asked if more information should be gathered via a survey.

Bohjanen pointed out that in the town hall meeting last year that only two residents spoke on the issue: one was for, and one was against.

Meister said yes, if the Board authorizes the expense for the survey. He said he would like to see if opinions had changed on the subject.

Sikkema asked if the Commissioners would like to be involved in the wording of the questions after staff drafted the questions that would be sent out; Commissioners responded yes.

Throenle stated he would bring to the next meeting or the December meeting the questions for consideration and the costs associated with sending out a survey mailing, as well as the processes and costs associated with analyzing that data.

Bohjanen asked if the survey could be included in the next routine mailing. Throenle stated that the mailing would not be sent out until March. Sikkema followed up with the comment that the priority had to be established first before the survey could be sent out, so the timing might be right to get the question sent out.

Ventura expressed that when looking at the survey data, the Commissioners must also take into the consideration the minority public opinion when considering the issue, and to keep an open mind during the discussion.

IX. PUBLIC COMMENT

Deborah Mulcahey, 633 Lakewood Lane –asked the Commission why bother with another survey as the major area affected would be the waterfront district properties. She stated the survey data gathered in 2013 indicated the residents in the waterfront district did not want short term rentals.

She indicated that the issue has been up for consideration since 2011, and it has not been addressed. She claimed the residential district is being heavily impacted by the issue.

She indicated that it was embarrassing that the issue has not been addressed.

Laurie Krzymowski, 741 Lakewood Lane – stated that there is a short term rental two doors down from her property. Vacationers kept her husband awake until 3:00 am. She pointed out that there are a lot of surgeons, pathologists, and radiologists that live on Lakewood Lane. She asked the Commissioners, by show of hands, if they wanted those professionals to be making a life-changing decision after a lack of sleep. She indicated that renters have also disturbed bedtime for her children.

William Todd, 1075 Ortman Road – asked if there was anything he could do short-term to get his property rezoned to enable him to sell his property. Throenle pointed out there is a small parcel within his property that houses the kennel that is zoned AF, which generates questions as to how to zone the property. Sikkema indicated that he should speak with Throenle to discuss the possibilities of how to approach the rezoning question.

X. COMMISSIONER’S COMMENTS

Bohjanen – indicated he will not be on the Planning Commission after November.

Milton – no comments

Ventura – no comments

Smith – no comments

Meister – no comments

Sikkema – told the Commissioners he was resigning after the December meeting.

DIRECTOR’S COMMENTS

Throenle stated everything he had for consideration was covered during the meeting.

VII. NEW BUSINESS

A. Proposed 2017 Meeting Dates

Sikkema indicated that he had received one phone call on this item, and the request was to not make the meetings too early, in order to allow for the public to attend. There was discussion among the Planning Commission on meeting time. Throenle also stated that if the Township Board would decide to change their meeting date, it may become necessary to choose a different day.

Mahaney moved, and Smith seconded the dates for the 2017 Planning Commission meetings be approved as written. The starting time for the 2017 meetings will be 7:00 PM EST.

Vote: Ayes: 6 Nays: 0 MOTION CARRIED

VIII. UNFINISHED BUSINESS

A. Ordinance 62 – Animal Control

Throenle introduced the ordinance by referring to the Public Comment that was received and is “XI.D Correspondence – Place” in the Commissioner’s packets. The public comment was asking the Commission for consideration of initiating a leash law in Chocolay Township. Throenle indicated that the changes discussed at the last meeting have been incorporated into the ordinance under VIII.A, and the document is currently up to date with those changes. Throenle also pointed out that there were a couple errors in last month’s discussion – the first being the discussion on Section 8 (A) and Section 10 (A) duplication, and the fact that a paragraph was inadvertently deleted from the document (see page VIII.A.3), which reads:

“Section 10 Killing and / or Seizing of Animals

(A) Any animal that enters an enclosure which is owned or leased by a person raising livestock or poultry that is unaccompanied by the owner shall be in violation of this Ordinance. The Owner or lease of such enclosure or his or her agent may apprehend or kill such animal while it is in the enclosure without liability for killing such animal.”

Throenle indicated that if this paragraph was put back into the document, there would be a need to have another Public Hearing.

The second item is in reference to licensing of dogs and retaining of their license when they come from another state. After researching this, Throenle discovered any animal brought in from another state must be licensed within 30 days in the state of Michigan. The only license that would be valid in Chocolay Township would only be licenses issued in the State of Michigan.

The third item up for discussion was the request for information from Center for Disease Control (CDC) on the issue of chickens. Throenle indicated that the primary direction from the CDC on that issue is hygiene and the washing of hands after handling of chickens.

The fourth item is clarification of the survey data from 2013. It has been mentioned several times in public comment that the residents in the waterfront district did not want chickens, but the survey data shows that this statement is in error and that 57% of the residents in WFR are in agreement that chickens should be allowed. The only two districts that do not wish to have chickens are the “Corridor Cluster Mixed Use” and the “Village Residential”. Throenle feels that the Village Residential can be addressed by the setback requirements.

Commission Discussion

Sikkema opened discussion on the item regarding the deletion of the paragraph on killing and / or seizing of animals.

Meister questioned if this would already be covered by the State of Michigan under state statute. Throenle indicated that he had not researched this, so he was not sure.

Sikkema indicated that if the animal is in the act of hunting, it would not be considered an “uncontrolled” dog. This seems to be in conflict with this paragraph.

Mahaney indicated if a person had chickens, and a domesticated animal crosses over into their property, they are probably not going to call the Township, but instead will react to what is happening.

Sikkema indicated that this would also be true with a dog crossing over into a herd of cattle – even if the dog is not harassing the cattle.

Bohjanen wondered how this interacts with or contradicts the Firearms Ordinance.

Ventura questioned whether the presence of a dog in a livestock enclosure warrants violence against the dog. If the dog is about to kill or attack in some way, then it would be considered self-defense or defense of your property. But if the dog is just present, it does not constitute a danger. Ventura feels the wording is pretty wide open for interpretation.

Smith asked if originally this language was written into the ordinance twice. Throenle indicated that it was originally in Section 10 (A), and 8 (A) had been copied to Section 10 (A) in error. The language being discussed would be reinserted into Section 10 (A) if approved.

Meister wondered if the Township even had the authority to include this in the ordinance, and does not feel that this should be in the ordinance.

Ventura also pointed out that the obeying of the ordinance is placed on the animal, not the owner.

The consensus of the Planning Commission was to leave Section 10 (A) out.

Throenle referred the Commission to Section 5 (A) of the Ordinance, which states:

“(A) ... Current dog licenses issued by other jurisdictions prior to residence in the Township shall be honored and valid for the remainder of the calendar year in which they were issued.”

Throenle requested it be changed to:

The Planning Commission agreed with this change.

Throenle directed the Planning Commission to the correspondence from Irene Place concerning leash laws.

Bohjanen stated this could be handled by the posting of signs stating “Dogs must be on leash”.

Mahaney indicated that there is a problem with dogs on the bike path. Ventura stated he feels most of the owners are responsible. Mahaney felt that if the dog is on a leash, there is less of a chance of an incident happening.

Throenle wondered about the enforcement of leash laws.

Sikkema stated it would probably be based on complaints. Consensus of the Planning Commission was to leave a leash law out of the ordinance.

The Planning Commission then moved on to discuss the information regarding the CDC view on chickens and salmonella.

Ventura stated that by looking at what the CDC furnished, salmonella is a “direct contact” disease, and you would have to have contact with the animals. This would not be an airborne disease. He doesn’t feel that chickens in the backyard would increase the likelihood of contacting salmonella.

Meister stated that people could be educated when filling out the application to have chickens.

Bohjanen stated that even though the article was dated October of 2016, there was no new information concerning salmonella. He also stated that salmonella from chickens is not a problem in domestic well water. When a well is properly placed, having chickens on your land would not contaminate the well.

Sikkema stated that livestock and other forms of poultry would be restricted to the AF district, and chickens would be allowed in all districts.

Mahaney moved, and Ventura seconded, that after holding a public hearing and considering public input, the Planning Commission recommends that the Township Board approve the draft version of Ordinance #62 Animal Control as changed for the following reasons:

- 1) To align the Township regulations with those of Marquette County and the State of Michigan;
- 2) To permit and regulate chickens in the non-agricultural zoning districts within the Township;
- 3) To make editing changes to the ordinance text; and
- 4) To repeal Ordinance #41 and replace it with Ordinance #62.

MOTION CARRIED

B. US 41 and M 28 Business Corridor Overlay District

Throenle introduced this for review to make sure all documents are ready to forward to the Township Board for direction. The review will consist of going through the changes that have been made to the matrix and discussion on Home Occupations – differences between Tier 1 and Tier 2. Throenle has also included a new overlay map which includes 171 parcels that were identified as part of the overlay district.

Commission Discussion

Discussion began with Item 243 in the matrix, which involves home occupation.

Sikkema started the discussion – Mixed Use Development, Accessory Use. The question would be if the Township should allow accessory use for Home Occupation. Tier 1 would refer to home occupations that you would not be able to tell there was a business there, such as telephone answering and solicitation, home crafts, computer programming and desktop publishing, typing or secretarial service, fine arts and writing, consulting service, mail order business, or home office. He felt that this should be a Permitted use. The commissioners agreed.

Home Occupation – Tier 2 would include carpentry and cabinet maker, catering or food preparation, dressmaking, sewing, or tailoring, pet grooming service, barber or beauty service, nail or personal care salon, electronic or equipment repair, or assembly operations. These would be Conditional Use Home Occupations in the Residential districts.

Meister stated that if you are in the Mixed Use Corridor, you are already in the Commercial district, so there should be no need to have additional restrictions or restrictions greater than anywhere else.

Sikkema stated that some of the properties in the Mixed Use are zoned as R1 and R2, which would make Mixed Use harder to accept, but that doesn't mean you can't change to boundaries of the overlay zone. In looking at the map, Sikkema thought that West Fairbanks should not be included as it is currently all residential. Smith also questioned West Main, since they are currently residential.

Throenle indicated that in reference to West Main, there is only one non-residential parcel there, and that would be the Bayou. In reference to West Fairbanks, all the parcels are R2.

Sikkema asked the Commissioners if Tier 1 – Home Occupations should be set to permitted in the matrix if the West Fairbanks properties were removed. All agreed that it should.

Bohjanen questioned why the Bayou was not included. Throenle indicated that the 300 foot boundary established as the base criteria for the corridor did not include the Bayou, as it was outside the 300 foot boundary.

Meister questioned the overlay district - the last time the Planning Commission talked it was not decided if it should be an overlay or not. He was wondering why they are not including all commercial in this, such as Beaver Grove. Throenle indicated that the original discussion concentrated on the US 41 area in Harvey. Meister recalled the discussion about Beaver Grove being that they did not want to expand the commercial area there, but that they would allow the new uses. Sikkema indicated that the Planning Commission was going to be looking at other commercial areas, once the corridor area was done.

Smith asked Meister if he was suggesting that anything commercial fall under the Mixed Use. Meister suggested that instead of an overlay, that the commercial district be changed to allow for the new uses, such as residential above or behind the business. This would include expanding the commercial district.

Mahaney wanted to clarify that they would just be changing the ordinance regarding commercial. Meister indicated that instead of doing an overlay just for Harvey, to make changes regarding commercial in other areas.

Throenle indicated they were looking at the corridor first to get everything cleaned up, and then to expand out to other areas of the Township.

Sikkema stated that one of the original goals was to revitalize the village of Harvey, and encourage people to develop here.

Throenle would like to have the Township Board give the Planning Commission direction. Smith asked if this had not already gone before the Board. Throenle indicated that they had not given a direction on how to proceed with this. Sikkema stated that what the Planning Commission is trying to do with this overlay district used to be the norm. For some reason, communities moved away from this. Now it seems we are moving back in the other direction. Milton indicated that with the Building Code there is a fire separation between residential and commercial, so those types of building details may control how residential areas can expand. Sikkema stated that when the discussion starts in Beaver Grove, the residents should be asked if they feel they live in a residential area or a commercial area, since most of Beaver Grove is residential. Bohjanen indicated that the residential in Beaver Grove is spotty.

Throenle feels there needs to be more detail before it goes to the Board, so he would like to let the Planning Commission have one more shot going street by street within the proposed corridor. He stated that there are three possibilities on how to approach this – overlay district, form-based code, or underlay district.

Sikkema requested the discussion return to the Tier 2 – Home Occupation decision. The Planning Commission decided that Home Occupation – Tier 2 would be a Permitted Use in the Mixed Use Development.

Ventura would like a definition of overlay versus rezoning, as rezoning would create lots of problems.

Sikkema felt that by spring, there should be a public meeting to bring the public in to let them know what is planned.

Mahaney asked if this fits into the Master Plan. Throenle stated that it does.

X. COMMISSIONER'S COMMENTS

Mahaney – none

Meister - none

Smith – would like to get a copy of the complaints that are being received.

Bohjanen – is in the process of appointing new members to the Planning Commission. He would be happy to take any input. There are six applications he is looking at.

Milton – none

Ventura – has submitted his letter of resignation, effective December 31, 2016. He has spent 11 years as a Planning Commissioner, but feels it is time to move on. He stated he has enjoyed working with the group.

Sikkema – thanked Ventura for his words of wisdom and expertise that he has brought to the Planning Commission.

DIRECTOR'S COMMENTS

Throenle indicated he has two things the Planning Commission will be looking at. The sign ordinance will be on the agenda soon, as he cannot legally enforce the signs based on content. They will also need to address structures which have writing on them.

Throenle presented what is being proposed at the Silver Creek Recreation Area. Throenle presented the concept drawing to the Commissioners. The intent would be for the Marquette Little League to add four smaller fields where the soccer field is currently located. A grant is in progress for the tennis courts, and we should hear from the DNR within the next couple of months. The project would also include new playground equipment, expanded parking, and a pavilion. The cell tower money will be going into a special recreation fund and some of that may be channeled into this project.

Throenle also indicated that there is consideration for a Soccer Complex. There are some state owned parcels in Beaver Grove that are being looked at. Superiorland Soccer Association has approached the Township about developing a 23-acre complex there.

Throenle will also be including the "Township Insights" along with the "Planning News" in the Commissioner's packets.

A quote had been requested from Pride Printing on pricing for the printing and mailing of some type of brochure or postcards. Pricing was given to the Planning Commission for their information.

VII. NEW BUSINESS

A. Business Survey

Throenle indicated that there are two reasons for completing the Business Survey. One is to gather information to complete the Business directory on the Chocolate Township website, and the second reason is to gather direction from those businesses as to where they are headed and what they are planning to do, so that as the Planning Commission proceeds with the overlay district they have a better feel for what the Township needs are.

Throenle intends to visit the businesses to deliver the survey so that he is able to speak with a representative of the business to explain the intent of the survey. Going forward with plans for the corridor, Throenle feels that this is the ideal time to be doing this. Throenle would like the commissioners to look at the survey and give him input. One error that has been brought to his attention is on Page 7, Question 28 on the No answer should read “No (please go to question 29)”.

Throenle pointed out that the first section is primarily for the website directory. The idea for this section came from the kiosk that is located at the Welcome Center. Information obtained from Chocolay businesses could be added not only to our website, but also to the kiosk. The second portion, which starts on page 3, is the business portion of the survey to determine what the business needs are and how the Township can help, especially looking at #6 – Business Challenges and #11 – Business Service Needs.

Commission Discussion

White stated that the survey is quite in-depth, and was wondering what the timeline for starting the surveys was, if approved. Throenle indicated that he would like to be able to start in January, and hopes to finish by the end of the first quarter.

Ventura asked if Throenle was going to visit all businesses and explain the survey. Throenle indicated that this is his plan. Throenle also hopes to be able to get the businesses involved and possibly be able to spark interest in getting the CABA (Chocolay Area Business Association) group going again. Ventura asked if Throenle also plans on surveying people with Home Occupations. Throenle indicated this would be a little harder, but he would like that to be part of the process – it may involve posting on our website and having them come to us.

Meister wondered if there should be information on the survey about the overlay district that is in the planning stage. Sikkema asked if this would be specific questions. Meister indicated it would not have to be specific questions, but something open ended to see what their feelings were. Sikkema stated it may need to be more specific so that business owners would know what was being asked. Ventura suggested that it could possibly just be an informational paragraph, and not a question that would need a response, but more to provide the rationale for the survey.

Smith wondered if the businesses affected by the overlay district should be made aware of what is being considered. Throenle indicated that by making the businesses aware, it may generate some interest at the south end of US 41 also.

Sikkema is concerned that with a survey that is 8 pages long, many businesses may not want to take the time to do it. Mahaney stated that this is a good reason for Throenle to hand deliver. Throenle indicated that the survey may look a little intimidating, but really should not take more than 10 – 15 minutes to do it. Throenle would like to increase the rate of return that is typical on surveys. Ventura stated that it is also good public relations to hand deliver and talk with the businesses.

White indicated that it would be nice to get more of the businesses at the Planning Commission meetings to get their suggestions and ideas for the Township.

Mahaney wondered about the length of the survey – maybe something should be stressed to the business owner about the two different sections. Throenle indicated that it could be separated into two separate surveys – Part 1 if they would like to be included in the Business Directory on the website and Part 2 for more detailed information on the type of business and business needs for the corridor overlay discussion.

Mahaney questioned Part 1, #7 on Business owners – he wondered if this should be an optional question, as some business owners may not want that information on the webpage. Throenle indicated that Part 1 of the survey is basically all optional.

Ventura stated on the first page, he had looked at #6 – Description of business attributes and #11 – Description of business purpose, and was questioning why #6 would be more important than #11. Throenle will switch the order. Ventura also stated there should be more examples of attributes – White suggested “handicapped accessible”.

VIII. UNFINISHED BUSINESS

A. US 41 and M-28 Business Corridor Overlay District Matrix

Throenle indicated that he has updated the matrix on #243 and #244, to include the full description of Home Occupation Tier 1 and Home Occupation Tier 2.

240 Mixed-Use Development
Two (2) or more different land uses integrated in a single structure or on the same lot.
ID	Accessory uses	Mixed Use Corridor
		P	C	N
243	Accessory residential home occupation - Tier 1 -- (mixed in the same building) can consist of the following uses: 131, 132, 181, 185, 211, 214, 216, 221, 222, 223, 231, 243, 422, 913, 926, 927, 934, 943, 944	x
244	Accessory residential home occupation – Tier 2 -- (mixed on the same lot) can consist of the following uses: 131, 132, 141, 142, 151, 161, 171, 181, 182, 183, 184, 185, 211, 214, 215, 216, 217, 221, 222, 223, 224, 231, 232, 321, 331, 422, 423, 435, 437, 512, 521, 611, 621, 631, 632, 913, 921, 926, 927, 943, 944, 951	x

Commission Discussion

Meister questioned that #116 and #117 are showing they are prohibited – shouldn't they be allowed? Single family dwellings are not allowed in the mixed use, but if they already exist it seems they should not be prohibited from doing Home Occupations. Sikkema indicated that they would still be governed by residential zoning, until such time that they change their use.

Sikkema stated that if a business is already in the commercial district it would follow commercial zoning. If it was a residential property, and no changes are made to it, it would be considered a residential property and would follow residential zoning conditions. Throenle indicated that this would be with the condition that they could use the property as a mixed-use property according to the overlay district.

Throenle indicated that if the property exists today as a residential property, it can take on the attributes of the overlay district. If something would happen to that property, then it would revert to the original zoning of the parcel prior to the overlay. Ventura felt that if something burned to the ground, you would need to follow the overlay, not the original zoning – if a residence burned down, in order to rebuild they would need to establish a commercial business first, then have an accessory residence. Ventura indicated that the reason for the overlay district is to encourage business. White discussed the fact that it didn't seem fair to the property owner that if they chose not to establish any type of business, because of the fact they were in the overlay district, they would not be able to rebuild as a residence. Meister stated he thought the discussion had been that if you were residential, and you chose to stay residential, you would not need to go commercial, and you would be able to build a house if something happened. He questioned if you would be able to put an addition on your house if you are in the mixed use district. Throenle indicated that it is up to the Planning Commission to determine what the rules will be for the overlay district.

Sikkema indicated that as the Planning Commission goes forward on this, they need to be careful on the conditions that will be put into place, as you may still have residential. The Planning Commission is not trying to destroy neighborhoods – the whole thought process on the mixed use district was to revitalize existing commercial businesses in the area. They will also need to be careful to not create a lot of sprawl.

Ventura indicated that the overall concept is good, but the Planning Commission will need to revisit the maps. The boundary lines were arbitrarily set at 300 feet from US 41 on both sides – this is what needs to be tweaked at this point. Throenle indicated that this is the next point on the agenda.

Smith asked what the rules are – zoning primary, overlay secondary? The Planning Commission has not created the rules for the overlay yet.

Sikkema asked for any more changes on the matrix.

Meister questioned #961 – this could possibly be interpreted that you would not be able to plant a tree or cut a tree. Ventura indicated that he thought this had been discussed when the previous Planner was here, and this was considered to be more of a commercial timber harvest, versus maintenance and landscape planting.

Discussion went back to #116 and #117 – Ventura questioned if there should be another column in the matrix labeled “NA – Not Applicable”. Meister stated if it's not applicable, it could be deleted. Sikkema stated that it should probably be left in, otherwise it may be looked at as an omission.

White moved, and Ventura seconded, that the land use matrix as modified will be used as the document for establishing uses for the proposed US 41 / M-28 Business Corridor Overlay district.

Vote: Ayes: 7 Nays: 0 MOTION CARRIED

B. US 41 and M 28 Business Corridor Overlay District

Throenle presented maps of the overlay district, with the intent that the Planning Commission will be able to walk through it by section and delete any parcels they feel should not be included in the overlay.

Commission Discussion

The Commissioners then proceeded to walk through the sections parcel by parcel, looking at current zoning and determining if it made sense for the parcel to be included in the overlay district.

IX. PUBLIC COMMENT

None

X. COMMISSIONER'S COMMENTS

White – none

Milton – none

Ventura – has enjoyed working with the Board, Staff and public. Thanked everyone for the opportunity.

Smith – will miss both Ventura and Sikkema

Meister – has appreciated all the work Ventura and Sikkema have done on the Commission

Mahaney – has been nice working with Ventura and Sikkema.

Sikkema – was great working with the Commission – have worked through a lot of things and still a lot to be accomplished. Good luck to the Commission in the future and welcome aboard to the new members.

DIRECTOR'S COMMENTS

Throenle thanked both Sikkema and Ventura for their work in the Planning Commission, and is looking forward to working with the new commission.

Throenle indicated there will be some new zoning coming before the Planning Commission with the casino property. There may be some rezoning questions that will come up with multi-family housing units due to expansion replacing some of the residential currently out there.

Marquette Little League will be doing a presentation at the January Planning Commission meeting on plans for the Silver Creek Recreation Area.

CHARTER TOWNSHIP OF CHOCOLAY PLANNING COMMISSION MINUTES

Monday, January 16, 2017

I. MEETING CALLED TO ORDER BY: Secretary Eric Meister at 7:00 p.m.

ROLL CALL

Members Present: Eric Meister (Secretary), Tom Mahaney, Kendell Milton, Andy Smith, Jon Kangas, Donna Mullen-Campbell

Members Absent: Judy White (excused)

Staff Present: Dale Throenle (Planning Director/Zoning Administrator), Suzanne Sundell (Administrative Assistant)

II. APPOINTMENT OF MEETING CHAIR

Meister explained there was a unique situation that had presented itself – the member holding the position of Chair had resigned as of December 31, 2016, and the member holding the position of Vice Chair had a term expire as of December 31, 2016, so there was a need to appoint a member to serve as the Chair for this meeting.

Meister made a motion for Andy Smith (former Vice Chair) to Chair this meeting. Smith declined, as this will be his last meeting, and he is resigning. Meister accepted, but indicated that he was not looking to take on this position full time.

A motion was then made by Mahaney, supported by Smith to have Meister chair this meeting.

Vote: Ayes: 6 Nays: 0 MOTION CARRIED

III. ADDITIONAL AGENDA ITEMS / APPROVAL OF AGENDA

Motion by Milton and seconded by Kangas to approve the agenda as written.

Vote: Ayes: 6 Nays: 0 MOTION CARRIED

IV. MINUTES

December 19, 2016

Motion by Milton, and seconded by Mahaney, to approve the minutes as written.

Vote: Ayes: 6 Nays: 0 MOTION CARRIED

V. PUBLIC COMMENT

Donald Wren, General Manager, Ojibwa Casinos (Marquette and Baraga) – he is at the meeting to pass on information concerning the Casino Project. In the original plan, there was a plan to move three existing homes to make room for townhomes. This proposal has been scratched. They will be moving the three homes in question to an area off of Acorn Trail. That road will continue on and tie into the main casino road. They are working with MDOT to provide better access off of M-28. They have been meeting with people in the community, including a neighbor that had some concerns with accessibility to her property from the Casino property. Wren wanted everyone to know that the KBIC is committed and would like to work with the Boards and Commissions to accomplish whatever needs to be done. Mahaney asked about the timeline for construction. Wren indicated they are in the planning stage right now, but the plan is to have this project done by September of 2018. There are actually two projects going on at the same time – Chocoy and Baraga. The Baraga property will be getting a facelift, and is expected to be completed by February of 2018.

Mitch Koetje, Marquette Little League – would like to reserve time to talk on VIII.B – Silver Creek Recreation Area Project.

VI. PUBLIC HEARINGS

None

VII. PRESENTATIONS

Planning Intern Presentation

Throenle introduced Molly Wetter, who is a student at NMU. Molly went over the projects that she has accomplished during the past semester. Silver Creek Recreation Project will help serve as a communication tool at presentations and meetings. She explained her color schemes, and the relationship to earth qualities. Molly also worked on the News You Can Use”, which is an information packet given to Township residents that goes over recycling information, meeting dates, Township holidays, and other pertinent information. The Annual Report was also updated with a new color scheme and formatting. Molly has also produced a Recreation Guide which lists all sites in the Chocoy Township area, along with information on each site and a map as to where they are located. She has also set up a sample web page which corresponds to the Recreation Guide and provides all the same information.

Meister asked if Molly will be continuing with the Township. Molly indicated that is up for discussion.

VIII. NEW BUSINESS

A. Planning Commission Officers

Throenle indicated that in looking at the Bylaws for the Planning Commission, in Section VI it states that the election of officer will be in June, which would leave the Planning Commission with permanent officers. In order to change the bylaws, you must provide 15 days’ notice to each member of the Planning Commission by mail for the meeting to take place. Throenle recommends that the Planning Commission motion to amend the bylaws at the next meeting.

Commission Discussion

Meister indicated that this probably was an oversight from two years ago, when the terms of the Commission were changed to end as of December 31. Kangas questioned if there should be anything incorporated into the bylaws for an officer that leaves mid-term. Throenle stated that this is already covered, with the order of succession in the bylaws. Throenle also indicated that according to the bylaws there should also be a Vice Secretary. If the bylaws are not changed, the Commission will have to wait until June to appoint officers.

Milton moved, Kangas seconded, to recommend changing Article VI of the Planning Commission Procedures and Bylaws to change the election meeting for officers from June to January, and to change Article X of the bylaws to permit notification of proposed changes to the bylaws via email. Staff is directed to send notification to all Planning Commission members at least 15 calendar days prior to the February meeting.

MOTION CARRIED

B. Silver Creek Recreation Area Project

Throenle introduced the project, which dates back to January of 2016, when a Sands Township resident approached the Township on repairs that were needed on the tennis courts at Silver Creek. Around this same time, members of the Marquette Little League board presented a concept idea to the Planning Commission that outlined plans for expansion of Little League offerings at the Silver Creek Recreation Area. A committee has been formed, and they are now looking for support from the Planning Commission to move forward with their plans.

Mitch Koetje, Marquette Little League – Marquette Little League is excited to be a part of this project. He feels it will be a benefit to Chocolay Township, as well as, Marquette Little League. This is one of the biggest projects they have looked into, and they are planning on expanding their program opportunities by looking at four smaller fields that will key into the age groups of 5 – 8 years old (T-ball and Rookies programs). This will give them the ability to run bases that are the appropriate length for them, pitchers mounds that are actually in reach of home plate, having a chance to swing for the fences, or hit one to the fence. He feels this is a great opportunity for player development and improvement. The Silver Creek Complex would become a facility for ages 5 – 12, all at one facility. In 2016, the minors and majors programs (ages 9 – 12) were playing consistently, and were bringing in 10 – 25 families, 4 – 6 times per week. With the expanded use, we could be looking at 60 – 100 families, 4 – 5 times per week. If supported by the Planning Commission, Marquette Little League is prepared to hit the ground running. The timeline is to potentially get started in 2017, with the potential to play baseball in 2018 on the smaller fields. They would continue to use the larger fields during 2017. There is lots of community involvement, which makes it possible to do the improvements Marquette Little League want to do.

Part of the plan on the larger fields is to have the fencing moved in to a depth of 200'. They would like to maintain the 16' high fence as an added safety measure, and also extend the fence to the playground area. The committee has also talked about how this plan will fit into the Master Plan and the Recreation Plan. The plan also includes limited traffic going through the park on a one-way road, no disruption to the disc golf course that is already in place, incorporate angled parking, maintain access to the cell tower and allow for the buffer of trees around it, moving the playground equipment with the hopes of enlarging the playground. There have been continued discussions of maintenance and upkeep. There is also an opportunity to involve a recreation trail, possibly ADA access at some point, and other opportunities for improvement.

Commission Discussion

Milton asked if there will be tournaments scheduled there. Koetje stated there is always an opportunity for tournaments. By bringing the larger field in by 200', it would be a more appropriate size for tournaments. Koetje also stated he does not know of anything else like this in the U.P. Meister questioned the financing. Koetje indicated that they have applied for a $20,000 grant through Little League International, and are waiting to hear on this. A yes on that grant would give them the opportunity to look for more grants and funding opportunities. This grant would provide them with the funds to move the fence on the large field and build the four smaller fields into functional fields. Throenle also indicated that a DNR Passport grant has been approved for $64,000 which will be applied to the tennis courts. Throenle also pointed out that the two dugouts that are sitting there were built entirely with in-kind donations, and are worth approximately $38,000.

Throenle also pointed out there are two different proposals regarding the road going through the park. The Township owns a parcel to the west that could be use as the exit for the road going around the park (would come out around Willow Road). The other option would be to circle through the park and come out the entrance. The first option gives more parking. The second option would be less parking, and also going by the playground area. If the first option is used, the area going by the playground could become a walking path.

Throenle went over the plan for what is now the tennis courts – the courts would be divided into quarters with there being a full basketball court, 2 tennis courts with pickleball, and the last quarter would be batting cages and bull pens for Marquette Little League. This project has been approved by the DNR, and work will be starting in the spring.

Throenle indicated there are also plans to move the entire soccer complex to the Beaver Grove area.

Meister indicated he likes Plan A, and feels it would be nice to move the walking path south a bit to allow for more area in the playground. Smith asked Koetje about the meeting they had with Superior Soccerland. Koetje indicated that it was a productive meeting, and they were looking at the options for expansion for soccer in Beaver Grove.

Meister asked what staff was looking for. Throenle indicated that he is looking for approval of the project, and secondly, if approved, which proposal the Planning Commission is interested in.

Mahaney asked about the road that is currently there. Throenle indicated that the asphalt already extends about half way, and would not need to be replaced. Mahaney also asked about the construction – would it be piecemealed? Koetje felt that the fields were in good shape, and they would not be full sod and dirt to start with. It will be a playable, functional setup. Additional things would be having dugouts in place and irrigation changes to maintain the area.

Meister asked the Planning Commission if they have a preference on which Site Plan. The preferred plan would be Plan A, both by the Planning Commission and Marquette Little League.

Smith asked if there had been any feedback from the neighbors. Throenle indicated that they have not been notified of the new plans – he was looking to get Planning Commission approval to move forward. Meister asked if the boundaries would change much – Throenle indicated that it would basically still be the same footprint.

Kangas asked what the plan was for installing the new access road. Throenle indicated that even if the road cannot be built at this time, the project would not come to a halt as Little League is willing to stagger its schedules. Milton stated that the purpose of purchasing the triangle piece of property was to provide more access to the area. Mahaney stated that this was an ambitious project! Meister stated that Marquette Little League has done well with what they have accomplished so far, and he sees this as a good sign.

Pastor Kevin from Silver Creek Church commented that this has been a fun committee to work with – there are some great connections that have helped put together a plan to be able to visualize what the project is going to look like – not only for the Planning Commission, but also for the community. He believes that this is something that the community can and will buy into. Silver Creek Church and the Thrift Store have indicated that they are ready to step up and support this project financially. He feels it will improve the overall quality of life in the community. This has taken an awesome direction, and it will be something the community can build on. There will be lots to do, no matter what your age. He is proud to be a part of it, and is looking forward to selling the community on this project.

Joanne Parks, Sands Township – her family had lived in Skandia for a period of time. The recreation area sold them on buying property, as they were able to walk through the woods to the park – lots of tennis and basketball. After doing two fund raisers, one of which was on the recreation area property, she has seen firsthand how the community supports this project. The whole project is about bringing families together.

Mahaney moved, Mullen-Campbell seconded, to support the proposed recreation project for Silver Creek Recreation Area, to include Site Plan A with the road to the west, as presented, and to present the project to the Township Board for Board consideration.

Vote: Ayes: 6 Nays: 0 MOTION CARRIED

C. Short Term Rentals

Throenle indicated that this subject has been brought up several times in the past, but what has prompted the renewed discussion are phone calls that he has received in the past week asking questions about what is allowed. Throenle is taking an approach to define and clarify these rental situations within the scope of new language to address the questions. Throenle is also recommending a different approach to reach a solution. Rather than trying to “fix” the old language, he is providing the Planning Commission with a list of questions to formulate a draft ordinance with conditions and rules that would need to be followed. Mullen-Campbell asked if Throenle was referring to Airbnb’s. Throenle indicated that these rentals already exist in the township. Airbnb is getting to be a very popular thing, and is growing by leaps and bounds. Throenle indicated that Chocoday Township has some very interesting characteristics when it comes to these rentals. The way our current ordinance is written, attorney opinion states it would probably not be enforceable.

Commission Discussion

Meister asked the Planning Commission what their view of short term rentals are – allowed or not allowed? After a poll of the Commissioners, it was decided they are not opposed to having short term rentals in the Township. Mahaney asked if the Township is receiving any complaints at this point on short term rentals. Throenle indicated that the Chocoday Police have received no complaints. Throenle received one complaint last winter when snowmobiles showed up at the wrong property looking for a key and another about a bag of trash left on a weekend that animals got into. Mahaney feels that this speaks of the renters that are coming into the township.

General Considerations

- 1. Should there be consideration in the ordinance to prevent long-term rentals from becoming short term rentals? It was felt that it is okay to convert, as long as it is not a multi-family dwelling.
- 2. Is property ownership important? For example, will outside entities, such as property management companies, be permitted to buy / manage a short-term rental property? Throenle indicated that this is a non-question, as we are unable to dictate who owns property.
- 3. People renting long-term should not be permitted to have a short-term rental. Yes or No? It was felt that they should not be permitted to sublet. This would probably refer back to the lease agreement and how that is written, which should cover if you’re allowed to sublet the rental.

4. General thoughts toward short-term rentals lead to requiring a permit to operate. Good idea or no? Homestead was questioned – if you are still living there and renting (such as a bed and breakfast) – will ask the Assessor. The Planning Commission felt this is a good idea – could be a two part permit – Conditional Use permit and a permit asking about safety, etc.
5. Should all short-term rentals be required to register with a valid listing site, such as Airbnb or HomeAway as part of the permitting process? It was felt that we can't require how people market their property to potential customers.
6. Accessory dwelling units cannot be rented as either a short-term or long-term rental. Yes or No? It was felt that accessory dwelling units cannot be rented, as it does not meet our current zoning ordinance.

Neighborhood Considerations

7. Short-term renters should be held to the same standards as permanent residents in terms of noise, trash, etc. Are there further issues that should be considered? It was felt that short-term renters should be held to the same standards, if not stricter, and this would be included in the permitting process.
8. Hosts / owners must actively work to prevent issues from impacting neighbors. Are there further issues that should be considered? This should be included in the permitting process, and after a set number of violations, would have their permit revoked.
9. A host / owner must be available, either on the property or within _____ miles radius of a property in order to rent. Yes or No? (Keep in mind snowbirds for this item.) Can the host be other than the owner? It was felt that there should be someone (whether it is the owner or a designated representative) to be held accountable and to contact in case of an emergency. This could possibly be a part of the permitting process.
10. Signs or no signs permitted for the location? It was felt that they should have the same rights as anyone else would be able to. Cannot control based on content, only on size.
11. What should the neighbor reporting process be if there is an issue at a neighboring rental? This was talked about in prior questions – depending on the issue they may be contacting the owner, the Township, or the police.
12. When looking at neighborhood character, how can the neighborhood's character be preserved while at the same time permitting short-term rentals? Would need to look at number of people and number of vehicles being permitted on the property. They would still need to be in compliance with the zoning ordinance. Need to explore a little more.
13. How should these neighbor issues with short-term rentals be addressed?

Issue #1 – “I don't want my neighborhood filled with party houses. Let's keep it nice and quiet.”

Issue #2 – “I don't want strangers next door to me. I do not want to worry about my kids outside.

Issue #3 – “I don’t want loud parties going on at all hours of the night next door to me.” On any of these issues, there would need to be “substantiated” complaints from neighbors. Most calls would be going through the police. The owner would also need to take responsibility.

- 14. Should the number of short-term rentals be limited in a given neighborhood? For example, should a maximum of one rental per every three residences be established? If so, how will it be monitored and who gets to determine who is first in line? Or should the option be open to anyone that wants to rent their property on a short-term basis? The option should be open to anyone that wants to rent their property out.

Economic Consideration

- 15. One important point to consider in this issue is the economic aspect of the rentals, in terms of how much will be spent in the local area (on items such as food, groceries, gas, and entertainment) as a result of the rental. Is this a valid consideration for the discussion? It was determined that this is a positive bonus, but this is not a significant factor.

Local and Large Events Consideration

- 16. Can larger events be held at a short-term rental (such as a wedding, graduation party and 50th wedding anniversary) if the number of occupants remaining after the event does not exceed the established maximum? It was felt it was okay to have an occasional party, but not to become a regular large event venue. Tolerance would drop if this was something that was happening every weekend.
- 17. Should short-term rentals, with a special permit, be allowed during large events or certain seasons, especially since there are room shortages in the Marquette area? Examples would be Christmas / New Years, UP 200 sled dog races, Ore to Shore bike race, and Hiawatha Festival, as well as during the weekend events that occur during the summer months in the Lower Harbor and surrounding communities. This would become a cumbersome permitting process, but will take a look at.
- 18. Will food services (such as catering or food trucks) be permitted at a short-term rental location? It was determined that it shouldn’t be allowed.

IX. UNFINISHED BUSINESS

A. US 41 and M-28 Business Corridor Overlay District Regulations

Throenle stated that the matrix has been cleaned up and is going before the Commission for next step process. Updated maps were presented with properties that are being considered for the Mixed-Use Corridor.

Commission Discussion

Kangas indicated that he thought the properties behind McDonalds and the property behind the old Wahlstrom's should be included. It was agreed by the Commissioners these should be included.

Meister asked if this needs to go before the Board before proceeding. Throenle indicated that they could, but he felt the Board would put it back to the Planning Commission for language. There was some discussion on zoning versus overlay. The area will maintain the original zoning district, with the overlay giving additional commercial availability for the properties in the overlay district.

It was decided that Throenle should move forward with language to be presented at the next meeting.

X. PUBLIC COMMENT

Doug Hall, 1181 Ortman Road – if your house burns down, the insurance company would provide you with a check for what you were insured for – this was directed toward comments made during the discussion of the overlay district.

XI. COMMISSIONER'S COMMENTS

Mahaney – Good to have the new commissioners on board. Sorry to see Andy Smith leave. On the subject of short-term rentals, he feels they really need to take their time and consider the issues – he likes the way that Throenle presented this to the Commission to be able to work through the questions that may exist.

Smith – This is his last meeting – he has been on the Commission for about 8 years. He feels he is not able to give the appropriate amount of time to preparation for the meetings, but has enjoyed his time on the Planning Commission.

Meister – Thanked Andy for his time on the Planning Commission – his perspective will be missed. Also, Meister had taken the Citizen Planner class – he feels it is worthwhile and provides a lot of good information.

Kangas – Would have liked to do the Citizen Planner class, but is not able to work it in during his current workday.

Mullen-Campbell – Is really happy to be on the Planning Commission, and to be part of the township in this capacity.

Milton – Welcome to the new commissioners. Sad to see Andy go. Interested in doing the Citizen Planner class.

XII. DIRECTOR'S COMMENTS

Throenle stated that the Commissioners may want to start thinking about when to hold the joint meeting with the Township Board. This is normally held on a night that one or the other group is having their regular meeting.

Throenle expressed his appreciation for Andy Smith's time on the Planning Commission, and will miss his insights into Township Planning.

Marquette County has announced that they are in the process of updating their Master Plan.

Throenle has started handing out “Township Insights” at the meeting for Commissioner information.

In the March time frame, paper packets will be disappearing and be replaced with tablets. The packets will be on the tablet, along with Zoning Ordinances, Master Plan, Recreation Plan, and any other documents that may be needed. Training will be forthcoming at one of the next meetings.

II. APPOINTMENT OF MEETING CHAIR

Throenle explained to the Commissioners that they would need to elect a chair to cover this portion of the meeting. Once they have considered and approved the By-Laws, they would go on to elect officers of the Planning Commission.

A motion was then made by Mahaney, supported by Smith to have Milton chair this meeting.

Vote: Ayes: 6 Nays: 0 MOTION CARRIED

III. ADDITIONAL AGENDA ITEMS / APPROVAL OF AGENDA

Motion by Kangas and seconded by Mahaney to approve the agenda as corrected (Under VI. Public Hearings should read "Public Hearing is deferred to item VIII.C.)

IV. MINUTES

January 16, 2017

Motion by Kangas, and seconded by Mullen-Campbell, to approve the minutes as written.

Vote: Ayes: 6 Nays: 0 MOTION CARRIED

V. PUBLIC COMMENT

Tony Harry, 6369 US 41 South – Harry handed out information to the Commissioners. He indicated that he had started an ATV / ORV Club in Marquette County, and is working on a UP wide trail. He would like Chocolay Township to partner with the Marquette County ordinance. He indicated that there was a UP wide map in his packet. He is looking for support to be able to go through Chocolay Township as a connector. He indicated that he has much information, including information from Governor Snyder on multi-use trails. The Club is currently working on a trail, along with maintaining other trails. He feels the program would be huge. Milton asked if this concerned ATV's on public road. Harry indicated it did.

VI. PUBLIC HEARINGS

Public Hearing is deferred to Item VIII.C.

VII. PRESENTATIONS

VIII. NEW BUSINESS

A. Planning Commission By-Laws and Officers

Throenle indicated that at the January meeting, it was discussed that changes were necessary in the Planning Commission by-laws to be able to appoint officers for the coming year. The way the by-laws were written provided for election of officers in June. In order to be able to change this, the members of the Planning Commission needed to be notified by mail of this intent at least 15 days prior to the next regular or special meeting of the Commission. This was mail to Planning Commission members on February 2, 2017.

Mahaney moved, Smith seconded, to change the language in Article VI of the Planning Commission Procedures and Bylaws from, "Said officers shall be elected by the Chocolay Township Planning Commission from among its members, at its June Annual Meeting." to "Said officers shall be elected by the Chocolay Township Planning Commission from among its members, at its January meeting."

Vote: Ayes: 6 Nays: 0 MOTION CARRIED

Mahaney moved, Mullen-Campbell seconded, to change the language in Article X of the Planning Commission Procedures and Bylaws from, "amendments or repeal shall be submitted by mail to all members" to "amendments or repeal shall be submitted by mail or electronically to all members"

Vote: Ayes: 6 Nays: 0 MOTION CARRIED

B. Planning Commission Election of Officers

Throenle indicated that since the Bylaws have been amended, the Planning Commission may now elect officers for the year. Throenle stated he had conversation with Meister, and that Meister was open to be considered for any position.

Moved by Smith, seconded by Kangas to nominate Tom Mahaney as Planning Commission Chair

Vote: Ayes: 6 Nays: 0 MOTION CARRIED

Moved by Mahaney, seconded by White to nominate Eric Meister as Planning Commission Vice-Chair

Vote: Ayes: 6 Nays: 0 MOTION CARRIED

Moved by White, seconded by Mahaney to nominate Donna Mullen-Campbell as Planning Commission Secretary

Vote: Ayes: 6 Nays: 0 MOTION CARRIED

Moved by Mahaney, seconded by Mullen-Campbell Andy Smith as Planning Commission Vice-Secretary

Vote: Ayes: 6 Nays: 0 MOTION CARRIED

At this point, Milton handed the leadership of the meeting to the new chair, Tom Mahaney.

C. Rezoning Request – R-1 to Commercial

Throenle opened the discussion by presenting some of the historical data in relation to the request from the Keweenaw Bay Indian Community (KBIC) for rezoning a portion of their property where the Casino parking lot is at right now. The parcel referred to is Parcel A, with the legal description of the property as follows: North 660 feet of the South 1,392 feet of the E ½ of the SE ¼ , except the West 150 feet thereof, Section 12, Town 47, Range 24 West, Chocolay Township , Marquette County, Michigan. KBIC is looking to rezone only a portion of the parcel, as they would like to keep the west 150 feet of that parcel as Residential.

Throenle indicated to the Planning Commission and the audience that this meeting is being held to rezone the property. At this time, the project is not being considered. Any comments in regards to the project will come at a later time.

Throenle indicated that the primary zoning in the area is residential, including the parking lot. He stated he had pulled a record card on the property, with the latest date showing as 1994. This record card states that this parcel was “tax exempt” and at one time was considered to be in trust. The parking lot was built under this understanding, later to find out that it was not trust property. The parking lot was established in 1997, as verified by pictures taken of the casino.

Throenle indicated that there were several factors he had to take into consideration. The first consideration was the question, “Does it make sense to have a commercial property in a residential area?” Throenle indicated that there could be concerns of “spot zoning”. The second consideration was, “This is residential, but there is a commercial operation that exists on Tribal property, which borders the residential property.” This property borders on other Commercial property, spot zoning would not be a factor. The third consideration was, “The parking lot itself had been there for 20 years.” This is not a new parking lot, and has been used for 20 years to access a commercial operation.

Mahaney asked if the property is Trust land. Throenle indicated that the parking lot is not Trust land, and at this time, is under the jurisdiction of Chocolay Township. Throenle then went over the map indicating which parcels belong to KBIC.

Public Comment

Jason Ayres, Real Estate Officer, KBIC, 16429 Beartown Road, Baraga MI – The past 20 years this parcel has been an accessory to a commercial property. Even without considering the future plans, it does make sense to consider a rezoning of this parcel. He realizes there are a lot of public concerns, but those are permitting issues, and not necessarily rezoning issues.

Linda Rossberg, 1975 M-28 East – has lived at this address since 1989. She indicated that this is the fourth time she has appeared before the Planning Commission or Township Board in regards to rezoning properties and development. Each time there are the same issues – not only with KBIC, but other properties, which were being looked at to turn into commercial. Rossberg was involved in the Comprehensive Plan of 2005, where it was decided that this are remain residential. She extremely opposes any rezoning in that area.

Janet Amundsen, 2029 M-28 East – ten years ago the community went through this with Dr. English, which ended with the property being turned over to Northern Michigan University. Her fear is the water usage that will be needed by the project. Her water comes from inland, coming towards Lake Superior. She is now on her 4th well – her well is 40 feet down. She feels that Chocolay Township should keep control of the parking lot. If this goes into Trust, the Tribe will be able to do whatever they want.

Rick Stoll, 1927 and 1931 M-28 East – he disputes the rezoning. The parking lot parcel is not surrounded by any other commercial property therefore the zoning should not be changed. Stoll pointed out that in 1989, the land adjacent was residential plots with no Tribal ownership. The land, which is under Tribal Trust status, is currently used for a commercial purpose. Stoll feels that how the land is being used under Tribal trust should not be the determining factor for a zoning decision on adjacent property. They are two separate entities. Stoll also pointed out that the future land use plan projection for this area is flawed, and the zoning should not be changed. The future land use is assumed to be commercial. Implementation of the plan is based upon the zoning changes – once one parcel changes, all other adjacent parcels are subject to change. Stoll also feels that Tribal ownership outside of the Trust areas is residential property and should not become commercial just because the adjacent Tribal land is used as commercial.

Genevieve Morgan, 216 Kawbawgam – the casino parking lot is directly behind her property. She opposes the change of zoning. When they moved there a year ago, they did not expect to have commercial property behind them. She is also concerned about what would happen to the property value. Throenle indicated that this was an assessor question.

Jill Hendrickson, 2023 M-28 East – she is very concerned about the possible change in zoning. She feels that the area should remain residential. She also has concerns about the water – if the property goes commercial, she feels this will have a huge impact on their water. There have been many studies done over the years. She then handed out a letter to the Commissioners.

Mike Angeli, 212 Kawbawgam Road – he grew up in Harvey, lived in Marquette for 10 years, and recently moved back to Harvey. He felt there were a lot of concerns if the property is rezoned to commercial – increased traffic and water uses. Cause and effect – if the Planning Commission makes it commercial, it will affect all who live there. Angeli is opposed, as it will go through his backyard.

Public Hearing closed.

Commission Discussion

Throenle pointed out to the Commissioners that the Master Plan of 2015 shows future land use for this property to be commercial. There was a question from the audience that since the Master Plan is being used as the basis for the decision, was this given to the public and everyone notified. Throenle explained that the previous Zoning Administrator would have sent out a survey. There were several public hearings that would have taken place. Stoll feels that the public should have had better notice. Mahaney explained that when you sit down to do a Master Plan, this does not happen in one meeting – it takes many meetings to devise a Master Plan. This process is gone through every five years. Mahaney suggested it is always wise to pay attention to meetings and minutes of the Township. Another question from the audience was how the public is notified. Throenle indicated that Township requirement is notification of residents within 500'. This is sent to the owner of record based on our assessing database. This is also posted in the newspaper and on the Township website and bulletin boards. Mahaney stated that a Master Plan tries to anticipate future growth - it is used as a guide in making decisions.

Milton stated he remembers spending lots of time looking at boundaries. When developing the Master Plan, casino expansion was taken into consideration for zoning purposes.

Smith asked why the commercial zoning was not going to the highway. Throenle indicated that at this time, there is no intent to expand beyond the parking lot to the north.

Mahaney asked if there were any plans on the proposed parking, such as island, buffers, etc. Throenle indicated that this is not part of the consideration for the rezoning and will be brought forward at a later date when the actual project is proposed.

Kangas asked about the west 150' – is this deep enough to build residential. Throenle indicated that it was.

Smith asked about the checklist on how this will proceed. Throenle indicated that this is a guideline, as once it goes to the County level, they could still change the decision.

Kangas asked if the rezoning was foreseen in the Master Plan. Throenle indicated that it was.

Moved by Smith, seconded by Milton, that after conducting a public hearing and reviewing the staff analysis for rezoning case #ZA 17 01 submitted by the Keweenaw Bay Indian Community, the Planning Commission finds that the proposed rezoning is consistent with the goals of the Master Plan, 2015 Edition, and hereby recommends that the Township Board approve ZA 17 01 as presented.

Ayes: 5 Nays: 1 (White) MOTION CARRIED

Throenle explained that the process will now be to send the recommendation to the County Planning Commission for their review, and then it will go to the Chocolay Township Board for approval.

IX. UNFINISHED BUSINESS

A. Short Term Rentals

Throenle indicated that this was started last month, and he has included the answers to the questions from that meeting.

Smith asked about the current rules on renting your property – was wondering about the clarity on the number of days. White indicated that it doesn't specifically say "short term rentals". According to the State, you lose your tax exemption after 14 days. Throenle indicated that in the Zoning Ordinance, a "Bed and Breakfast" is not to exceed 14 days, "Hotels" would be a standard overnight, and "Resorts" is not for a period for any less than one month. There is a need for clarification on a definition of short-term rental. Smith asked about an attorney recommendation. Throenle indicated that the attorney will usually look at the ordinance after a recommendation from the Planning Commission.

White indicated that it is necessary to define "short-term". She feels this would be 30 days or less. Throenle indicated that due to the number of different events that are held in the area year round, short-term rentals have become an alternate choice. He feels there is a need to have rules and regulations in place to protect the Township. Smith was concerned about the time frame to get something like this in place, and wondered if there was anything that the State had in place for this. Milton questioned if there would be a possibility of having a tax on the rentals. Smith indicated that the homeowner would have to register the house as a tourist destination.

Smith indicated that all the questions the Planning Commission is looking at already have ordinances in place.

Supervisor Bohjanen indicated he thought maybe a simple thing to do in this case is to add a definition of “short-term rental” to the zoning ordinance, and then put into the zoning districts as a Conditional Use. The property owner would then have a permit. The list that Throenle is putting together would provide the owner / renter with a list of rules, and a checklist to make sure everything is covered. It was discussed that it doesn’t seem like it needs to be that complicated. The Planning Commission discussed what the time frame should be – days, weeks, months – over the course of a year.

The Planning Commission then went on to answer questions starting with #19.

Commission Discussion

General Considerations

- 1. Should there be consideration in the ordinance to prevent long-term rentals from becoming short term rentals? It was felt that it is okay to convert, as long as it is not a multi-family dwelling.
- 2. Is property ownership important? For example, will outside entities, such as property management companies, be permitted to buy / manage a short-term rental property? Throenle indicated that this is a non-question, as we are unable to dictate who owns property.
- 3. People renting long-term should not be permitted to have a short-term rental. Yes or No? It was felt that they should not be permitted to sublet. This would probably refer back to the lease agreement and how that is written, which should cover if you’re allowed to sublet the rental.
- 4. General thoughts toward short-term rentals lead to requiring a permit to operate. Good idea or no? Homestead was questioned – if you are still living there and renting (such as a bed and breakfast) – will ask the Assessor. The Planning Commission felt this is a good idea – could be a two part permit – Conditional Use permit and a permit asking about safety, etc.
- 5. Should all short-term rentals be required to register with a valid listing site, such as Airbnb or HomeAway as part of the permitting process? It was felt that we can’t require how people market their property to potential customers.
- 6. Accessory dwelling units cannot be rented as either a short-term or long-term rental. Yes or No? It was felt that accessory dwelling units cannot be rented, as it does not meet our current zoning ordinance.

Neighborhood Considerations

- 7. Short-term renters should be held to the same standards as permanent residents in terms of noise, trash, etc. Are there further issues that should be considered? It was felt that short-term renters should be held to the same standards, if not stricter, and this would be included in the permitting process.
- 8. Hosts / owners must actively work to prevent issues from impacting neighbors. Are there further issues that should be considered? This should be included in the permitting process, and after a set number of violations, would have their permit revoked.

9. A host / owner must be available, either on the property or within _____ miles radius of a property in order to rent. Yes or No? (Keep in mind snowbirds for this item.) Can the host be other than the owner? It was felt that there should be someone (whether it is the owner or a designated representative) to be held accountable and to contact in case of an emergency. This could possibly be a part of the permitting process.
10. Signs or no signs permitted for the location? It was felt that they should have the same rights as anyone else would be able to. Cannot control based on content, only on size.
11. What should the neighbor reporting process be if there is an issue at a neighboring rental? This was talked about in prior questions – depending on the issue they may be contacting the owner, the Township, or the police.
12. When looking at neighborhood character, how can the neighborhood's character be preserved while at the same time permitting short-term rentals? Would need to look at number of people and number of vehicles being permitted on the property. They would still need to be in compliance with the zoning ordinance. Need to explore a little more.
13. How should these neighbor issues with short-term rentals be addressed?
Issue #1 – “I don’t want my neighborhood filled with party houses. Let’s keep it nice and quiet.”
Issue #2 – “I don’t want strangers next door to me. I do not want to worry about my kids outside.
Issue #3 – “I don’t want loud parties going on at all hours of the night next door to me.” On any of these issues, there would need to be “substantiated” complaints from neighbors. Most calls would be going through the police. The owner would also need to take responsibility.
14. Should the number of short-term rentals be limited in a given neighborhood? For example, should a maximum of one rental per every three residences be established? If so, how will it be monitored and who gets to determine who is first in line? Or should the option be open to anyone that wants to rent their property on a short-term basis? The option should be open to anyone that wants to rent their property out.

Economic Consideration

15. One important point to consider in this issue is the economic aspect of the rentals, in terms of how much will be spent in the local area (on items such as food, groceries, gas, and entertainment) as a result of the rental. Is this a valid consideration for the discussion? It was determined that this is a positive bonus, but this is not a significant factor.

Local and Large Events Consideration

16. Can larger events be held at a short-term rental (such as a wedding, graduation party and 50th wedding anniversary) if the number of occupants remaining after the event does not exceed the established maximum? It was felt it was okay to have an occasional party, but not to become a regular large event venue. Tolerance would drop if this was something that was happening every weekend.
17. Should short-term rentals, with a special permit, be allowed during large events or certain seasons, especially since there are room shortages in the Marquette area? Examples would be Christmas / New Years, UP 200 sled dog races, Ore to Shore bike race, and Hiawatha Festival, as well as during the weekend events that occur during the summer months in the Lower Harbor and surrounding communities. This would become a cumbersome permitting process, but will take a look at.
18. Will food services (such as catering or food trucks) be permitted at a short-term rental location? It was determined that it shouldn't be allowed.

Remaining Questions

19. What type of safety accommodations (such as fire exists, smoke detectors, fire extinguishers, first aid kits and carbon monoxide detectors) must be provided at a short-term rental unit?
As determined by Fire Department or County codes.
20. Should issuance of a permit be dependent on a documented fire and safety inspection? If so, who would provide this service?
Safety inspections – to be determined
21. Should issuance of a permit be dependent on proof of liability insurance? If so, what should the minimum amount be?
To be determined
22. Should a guest registry be required? If so, who will monitor and check the registry often?
It was determined this was not needed
23. Accessory dwelling units cannot be rented as either a short-term rental or long-term rental. Yes or no?
The intent of accessory was for immediate family. Final consensus was NO.
24. What type of substantiated violations can be issued for a short-term rental? Does a certain number of substantiated violations (say three), revoke the short-term rental permit, and if so, for how long?
Citations would be issued to the homeowner – would need to be a written violation – has to be substantiated.
25. Will the standards applied to short-term rentals for noise, trash, etc. be the same as applied to all other dwellings in the same neighborhood?
Yes
26. Should short-term rentals be required to have wildlife-proof trash containers for guests that leave prior to scheduled trash pickup?
Yes

27. Will food services (such as catering or food trucks) be permitted at a short-term rental location?

No

28. Other safety considerations?

No comments

29. Environmental Considerations (such as trash and water usage)?

No comments

30. Cost of permit?

Conditional Use is $250 - part of this is a yearly review

31. Issued permit for one year, multi-year, or permanent?

Two to three years, based on fee – would depend on restrictions that have been placed on the permit. Possible annual renewal as insurance policies are annual policies.

32. Other considerations.

Throenle will put together a definition of short-term rental for the next meeting. Mullen-Campbell questioned the fee and did not want it to be too high. Throenle explained that the affordance of the fee would come down to individual decisions and if it made sense for them to continue to rent. Mahaney wondered about making sure that the renter knows the rules of the Township – Throenle felt this would be the responsibility of the owner.

Milton mentioned that when people are doing Site Plans, it would be helpful to have a checklist and the zoning of the adjacent parcels with it.

X. PUBLIC COMMENT

Dick Arnold, 312 W Branch Road – commented that it was nice to see new members on the Planning Commission. He would like to see the AF district changed – currently in the AF district there are 8,000 acres, 841 parcels with 512 of those parcels under 20 acres and therefore non-conforming. Most people that live on non-conforming lots want to live in the country to enjoy the wildlife and the forests. There are accessory buildings of unlimited size and numbers. Prior to being zoned AF, they were zoned as Rural Residential – the Commissioners may want to consider going back to that.

XI. COMMISSIONER'S COMMENTS

Kangas – none

Mullen-Campbell - none

Milton – none

Smith – he agrees with D. Arnold – this has been brought up many times and he would like to look into this and get it on the list of priorities for this coming year.

Mahaney – none

White - none

XII. DIRECTOR'S COMMENTS

The next meeting for the Planning Commission will be on Monday, March 20th, starting at 5:30 PM with a Joint Meeting with the Township Board, and then have the regular meeting of the Planning Commission starting at 7:00 PM. The agenda will include establishing priorities. The Joint Meeting will also involve handing out tablets, along with a tutorial, with the intent that March will be the last meeting there will be paper packets. There will be a Public Hearing scheduled for the Planning Commission.

In reference to D. Arnold's comments, Throenle indicated there are many parcels in the Township that are non-conforming. He is planning on bringing this up at the ZBA meeting on Thursday, Feb. 23rd to see if he can get some guidance.

Throenle also pointed out the informational material he had placed on the table – Township Insights and Township Voice.

VII. NEW BUSINESS

A. Conditional Use Permit CU 17 01 - 6448 US 41 South

Public Comment

Francis Ward, owner of 6448 US 41 South – he has a potential buyer for the property, and they would like to put in a daycare center. Frank pointed out that the permitted principle uses for Commercial property which are listed in the Zoning Ordinance. He feels a daycare center would have substantially less traffic that the permitted uses, so he does not understand why daycare center would not be listed in the permitted uses.

Staff Introduction

Throenle indicated the reason that the only reason Mr. Ward is listed on the application is that he is the property owner, and there has not been a sale as of yet. The property in question is the old Root 41 restaurant, and the property has been vacant for several months. The property is being sold, along with the property behind it. The daycare will be contained in the existing structure, with the only addition being a fenced in area in the same location. There is more than adequate parking to support a daycare. Notice had been sent to surrounding landowners, and no comments have been received. The daycare would run Monday through Friday, 6:00 AM to 6:00 PM. The noise factor would be minimal.

Commissioner Discussion

White asked who the potential owners of the daycare are. Throenle indicated they were in the audience – David and Sue Ridolphi. White asked about the licensing for the daycare. Sue indicated that they have already met with licensing and the Fire Marshall, and a business plan is in place. Sue is a teacher and will be there until school starts, at which time she already has a Director and Lead Caregiver hired. David is a contractor, and will be the one that will be doing the modifications inside.

Milton asked what the daycare capacity would be. Sue indicated that it could go as high as 60 – 75 children, but this would depend on the age of the children. They will also be providing latchkey services, if needed, for both morning and afternoon.

Mahaney asked about an outdoor play area. Sue indicated this will be enclosed in the back – at this point there is nothing commercialized planned. They would like to have a little race track in back to ride three wheelers, a couple of swings, and a few “diggers”. Sue indicated that anything permanent has to be installed by a professional and inspected by a professional – at this point, they are just planning on keeping it natural. David indicated this will be a 75’ x 75’ area (approximately).

Meister indicated he felt it was pretty straight forward – a daycare meets the general characteristics of the permitted uses in that district.

Mr. Ward asked for an explanation of a “Conditional Use” permit. Throenle stated it applies to uses that are outside the permitted uses, and based on that the Planning Commission needs to approve the use of the property, along with any “conditions” they would place on the permit. Throenle indicated that the Conditional Use permit goes along with the property. Ward asked about any additions that may be put on the property – would there be a need to come back to the Planning Commission for those. Throenle indicated that they would still need to come back to the Planning Commission for a Site Plan Review.

David indicated that there is a modification he would like to make right away – there are two furnaces in the back, and he would like to add a storage area to the back of the building and move the mechanical equipment into that area – 16’ x 40’. This would be storage for the outside equipment. White indicated he would still need to get a permit from the County.

Mahaney stated it seemed like a good reuse of the building. White agreed it would be a good asset to the area.

Meister moved, Kangas seconded, that after public comment and staff review and analysis in consideration of Conditional Use application CU 17 01, and the understanding that the proposed use is compliant with all terms of "Section 16.2, Conditional Use Permits Basis of Determination and General Standards" and the intent of the Zoning Ordinance, the Planning Commission approved Conditional Use Permit 17 01, with the addition of allowing an addition of up to 16' x 40' on the west end of the building.

Vote: Ayes: 6 Nays: 0

MOTION CARRIED

B. Planning Commission Priorities

Throenle indicated this is just a matter of taking what was given by the Township Board, and incorporating them in the Planning Commission Priorities for 2017 – 2018. Throenle indicated that based on the Board's recommendations, Priority 1 should include the Asset Management Plan, Mixed-Used Corridor, Short Term Rentals, and Zoning Ordinance review and where the conflicts exist (with possible review of two ordinances per meeting).

Meister asked about the four-season transit facility. Throenle indicated that this was something that the former Planning Director (Kelly Drake Woodward) had seen as a need for the Township. Mahaney also stated this was one of the comments that was seen as a priority in the Master Plan. It was agreed that this should stay on the list. Meister indicated that the issue with this was that there was no money to build it – may need to look at grant money that is available. Mahaney feels that this is needed in the Township. Steve Lawry (Township Manager) addressed the issue of grant money. There had been grant money available in approximately 2010. Lawry and Planning Director Jennifer Thum met with Al-Tran, Marq-Tran and the director of MDOT. Marq-Tran did have a grant for bus-stops that they were not using. MDOT urged them to spend on this or return to MDOT. Marq-Tran did not choose to do this, so the grant money expired and went back to MDOT. Lawry stated that at the time, based on the ridership, Chocolay Township was not considered a priority. He felt that this would be the case until such time that the Board membership changes. We could go ahead and apply for grant money without involving MarqTran, but we would still need to involve them as the service provider, so it is best to try to involve them at the beginning. It was suggested that this be dropped to Priority 2. A better way to approach is to get the right people on the Authority Board to support this idea. Milton asked if the four-seasons would need water and sewer. Lawry indicated it would.

Throenle asked that since there were no Priority 3 items, could Priority 4 be moved to Priority 3.

Kangas indicated that on the Priority 1 list, we are showing the Asset Management Plan for roadways. He asked that the sewer system and possible water system be included in this item.

IV. PUBLIC COMMENT

June Rydholm – 221 Lakewood Lane – wanted to comment on Short Term Rentals. She is very much against them. She has had experience with them next door to her – drinking, drugs, and partying – she has a shared driveway, and the cars would be lined up in the driveway all hours of the night. They would litter the beach with all kinds of garbage. She was the one making them picking it up – she doesn't feel she needs to be the police for the beach. The other experience was with renters two doors over – these renters would be going to the bathroom on the trees and trashing the bayou with bottles. In many communities across the United States, they are stopping short term rentals for the above reasons. She also wanted to know how the short term rentals affect our census numbers.

Robin Smith, 2441 M-28 East – her parents owned the Bed & Breakfast. She still has the B&B with a Conditional Use permit. This is a short term rental. She lives in the main house on the property. She feels this is a wonderful thing for our community. There are a lot of people that come from all over the United States and Europe. Smith would like to speak to the Planning Commission about changing the definition of a bed and breakfast. Smith is a certified massage therapist and a yoga teacher, and she would like to be allowed to offer these services to her guests. She has a room in her house that she already uses for her own personal practice, so would not be expanding. Her family has owned the property since 1924. The idea came up when guests started asking about yoga retreats. The capacity of the B&B is 4 guests. This would limit the amount of traffic. Smith stated there are no State of Michigan requirements to operate a yoga studio, but she maintains her studio as if there were requirements, with things such as continuing education. Smith has joined a yoga alliance group, which provides for continuing education and oversight on the operation. She has intake forms that are filled out by the guest indicating the level of fitness. Smith feels this would be good for the Marquette area, as it will increase tourism. Smith also stated she has never had a problem with her guests. Smith indicated that she feels the Marquette area is becoming more holistic. Throenle indicated that the definition would be discussed later in the meeting with Item VIII.B on short term rentals.

Dick Arnold, 312 West Branch Road – would like to address the vehicle ordinance. Vehicles don't have to belong to the resident. His neighbor doesn't live there, but stores all his tractors there. The zoning ordinance indicates that the Zoning Administrator can grant leeway to a situation, but it also says that he is not able to do it. The Ordinance also says that you can park vehicles and parts in the front yard. He doesn't feel that the Ordinance was looked at enough. There is no size limit on boats, trailers, etc. His neighbor has three recreation vehicles in his front yard, and according to the Ordinance he can fill up the backyard with recreation vehicles. Agricultural vehicles in a residential area – no number on how many, owner can be anyone, and they can be "maintained" in the yard. He has lived here a long time, but it now seems that you don't know for sure what is going to be next to you. He is also concerned about the BBQ truck parked in the driveway on Cherry Creek Road. Things just don't seem to matter to the Township. Accessory buildings – need number of how many can be on the lot. Needs to be a formula for how big the lot is to determine number of square feet for these buildings.

Jennifer Bruggink, 673 Lakewood Lane – has owned the property for 19 years, and lived there for 18 years. When they moved in, there were families living there, including one long term rental. When the renters moved, the owners decided to do short term rentals. She has 50', so there isn't any space – not able to grow trees or bushes, and she doesn't want to live between two barrier walls. She is very concerned that short term rentals could become okay with the Township. She doesn't want to have to worry about who is next door. The noise and vacation atmosphere make it hard for residents who have to work the next day. There is also an issue with trash, as the people that make the trash are not usually there on trash pickup day. The landlord has provided a dumpster for trash removal, but this is an eyesore. She did not buy the house for that type of environment – for lake living and the residential neighborhood. She encouraged the Planning Commission to consider the people that are already living there. Mahaney asked if she had ever called the police. Bruggink indicated she usually calls at least once per week during the summer and special events.

Jenny Cammerata, 669 Lakewood Lane – she does not support short term rental. She lives in a neighborhood – you know your neighbors and you trust your neighbors. She used to clean for a short term rental, and oftentimes, the beach was littered with beer cans, and there have been times where there has been drug use that she had to clean up. She does not support short term rentals. She feels the Planning Commission needs to pay attention to the language and how the ordinance is written because it could be okay in certain cases. This will not work if the homeowner is not present, because no one is taking care of the property. From what she has seen, someone rents a short term rental, and then you start seeing additional people show up with tents and RV's – as many as 25 people, where there should have only been 5 or 6.

V. PUBLIC HEARINGS

Conditional Use Permit CU 17 02 Public Hearing is deferred to item VII.A

VI. PRESENTATIONS

Presentation of Citizen Planner Certificates (this portion of the meeting was overlooked, so was done at 9:00 PM when the second part of the meeting started).

Throenle indicated there were four people that completed the Citizen Planner Seminar – certificates were handed out to Kendell Milton, Judy White, and Donna Mullen-Campell.

VII. NEW BUSINESS

A. Conditional Use Permit CU 17 02 – 140 Carmen Drive

Staff Introduction

Throenle indicated that the property is located behind Main Street Pizza, which is owned by Brandon and Jess Croney. He would like to operate a small contractor yard to store equipment and materials to be used for his business. The material used is a noninvasive material, with no threat to the environment. There have been no negative comments received from adjoining property owners. No business transactions or other activities, other than storage, would occur on the property. Maximum amount of people would be 3 or 4 at a time when they are getting the materials needed. Throenle does not see a traffic problem or a noise issue. Throenle indicated that he would recommend approval, as he feels this is a good use for the space, as it sits behind Main Street Pizza. There should be no impact on Main Street / Big Burger as they have no entry accessing their property to the back.

Applicant Discussion

Croney indicated that he had spoken with the Main Street Pizza owner and their only concern was that anything stored there would not be a groundwater issue (Croney owns Jet Black Asphalt Seal Coating). Croney has talked with DEQ and about disposal should there be a spill. Croney feels he is going above and beyond – getting a building permit, pouring a concrete pad with rebar and putting side braces on it. Croney is also clearing the stumps, rather than just pouring over it.

Mahaney indicated that the sheet shows that the product is asphalt based. Croney explained it is a thickened cold tar product. All he does is add water to it. Insurance does not consider it asphalt based. It is stored in a completely contained unit, and can only be released by opening the three shutoffs.

White asked about fencing. Croney plans on doing a 6-ft wood panel fencing. White indicated that the Ordinance stated it needs to be an 8 foot fence. Croney stated that was fine – he would prefer it being higher. Meister asked if Croney was fencing the west side, or was he going to leave the tree screening. Croney indicated that he would like to do it in the future. Meister stated that it looked a little thin in back by the home. Croney indicated he would have no problem planting additional trees there.

Mahaney asked if Croney was intending to gravel the lot. Croney indicated that was his plan. Mahaney asked about number of vehicles – Croney stated he had around a dozen vehicles and trailers.

Smith wondered if there was a checklist for Conditional Use permits. Throenle indicated that he did not have one. Throenle indicated that things such as number of vehicles could be limited by a condition on the permit.

Mahaney asked if there were any plans to build a structure at the site. Croney indicated he does not do maintenance, so he has no desire or need to build anything there. Meister indicated that with a Conditional Use, you would have to come back to the Planning Commission. Smith indicated that the potential use needs to be considered, in case of sale.

Mahaney asked how this fits with the Master Plan. Throenle indicated that this is Commercial property, and fits in with the uses listed there.

Milton indicated that a contractor's yard next to a Class A highway is a valuable piece of property.

There was some discussion on the number of vehicles that could be in the yard at one time. Smith explained that the reason for this was because the Conditional Use permit goes with the property, and if the property was sold tomorrow there needed to be some guidelines as to what is acceptable. Throenle indicated that the type of trucks that will be in this contractor yards are the crew cab type – smaller and less noise.

Commissioner Discussion

Smith indicated there needs to be conditions – to leave it wide open causes problems. He feels it is very important that this is done right. This is a conditional use, so it needs to have conditions. It sets the bar for everyone. Smith feels there should be limits set on hours of operation, days of work and what's stored. Smith would like to see a generic checklist to make sure they are considering everything.

Mahaney indicated there were some things that the Commission needs to discuss such as hours of operation and days of work. Milton asked if it was going to be electrified. Croney indicated there was no need for electricity – he would not be there after hours, and there would be no maintenance being performed.

The hours of operation were discussed – many different options were discussed.

The decision was made that hours would be Monday through Saturday from 6 AM – 7 PM, and Sunday 9 AM – 3 PM. These hours would be year round.

The number of vehicles was then discussed – Throenle indicated that the size of the lot is limited (0.63 acres) and the size for the container (180 sq. ft.), which will greatly decrease the number of vehicles if you set the condition that all vehicles must be on the lot. It was also suggested that Croney may be able to negotiate with other property owners (Habitat for Humanity, Cherry Creek Market) to be able to have employee parking on their lots.

With fencing, the Planning Commission feels that the whole area should be enclosed. Croney felt he would need some additional time to fence the west side, such as by September 1, 2017. Other sides will be fenced immediately, primarily for security and visual reasons.

Milton asked if there would be deliveries made to the property. Croney indicated that once a month there would be a delivery of seal coat by a tanker. This would not be on Sunday.

Maintenance was discussed, such as changing a tire, oil changes, etc. in the yard. This would need to be contained. Croney indicated that he does not feel they will be doing this, as he usually has his mechanics (who are off site) go over the vehicles before starting up for the spring. Throenle stated maybe it should be limited to emergency repair. Supervisor Bohjanen commented from the audience wondering who would normally regulate this. It was noted that the owner would need to go through the MDEQ. Bohjanen felt that there should not be regulating at this point – if Croney decided he wanted to do maintenance, it would then need to go through the MDEQ.

Kangas asked about the driveway on Cherry Creek Road. Croney feels this would be a safer entrance, rather than the entrance on Carmen Drive. The entrance on Cherry Creek would allow for a better line of sight. Kangas indicated he was glad that Croney had thought about the line of sight, but questioned whether it was a good idea to put another driveway on Cherry Creek Road if it was not needed, especially from an access management perspective. Kangas is also concerned about the speeds on Cherry Creek Road. Throenle pointed out that the speed limit is 45 mph. Smith indicated Marquette County would have control on the addition of a driveway. Meister stated that having access from Cherry Creek Road would be safer than pulling out off of Carmen Drive onto Cherry Creek Road. Croney indicated he would like to add the driveway in the fall.

Mullen-Campbell moved, Kangas seconded, that after public comment and staff review and analysis in consideration of Conditional Use application CU 17 02, and the understanding that the proposed use is compliant with all terms of “Section 16.2, Conditional Use Permits Basis of Determination and General Standards” and the intent of the Zoning Ordinance, the Planning Commission approves Conditional Use Permit 17 02, with the additional conditions of:

1. Completion of a fence by September 1, 2017 along the west property line.
2. Hours of operation will be limited to Monday through Saturday, 6:00 AM – 7:00 PM, and Sunday from 9:00 AM – 3:00 PM, year round.

Vote: Ayes: 7 Nays: 0 MOTION CARRIED

A motion was made at 8:50 PM to take a short 5-minute break.

Vote: Ayes: 7 Nays: 0 MOTION CARRIED

Meeting resumed at 8:55 PM.

B. Zoning Ordinance Rewrite

Mahaney moved, White seconded to skip this agenda item at this meeting.

Vote: Ayes: 7 Nays: 0 MOTION CARRIED

VIII. UNFINISHED BUSINESS

A. Review of Planning Commission Priorities

Meister asked Throenle to give more detail on the Asset Management Plan. Throenle indicated that Manager Lawry will be working on this as part of his responsibilities to go in-depth on roads, the sewer system, and a potential water system. This would then go to the Planning Commission. Kangas asked if Lawry would be collaborating with the Road Commission on this. Throenle indicated that Manager Lawry is part of the US 41 Corridor Group.

Mahaney asked about the order of the priorities. Throenle indicated that the Planning Commission is not held to a certain order.

Meister asked about the Nuisance Control Ordinance – Throenle indicated that this is to take a look at the Ordinance in the AF zoning district.

Mahaney asked about the Accessory Homesteading Activities – Throenle indicated that this had to do with the trend for different structures on a property, and the possibility of renting these structures (i.e. two houses on the same property – is one able to be rented).

Meister moved, Mahaney seconded, to accept the 2017 – 2018 Planning Commission priorities as presented.

Vote: Ayes: 7 Nays: 0 MOTION CARRIED

B. Short Term Rentals

Throenle opened this discussion with a trip he had taken downstate to a conference last week and a side trip he had taken to the Boyne Highlands area. All areas at the base of the mountain are rentals. He then went to Harbor Springs, where everything along the lake was a rental, and the homes were huge. After seeing this, he would like the Planning Commission to keep the rural character of our area in mind when looking at definitions for short term rentals. He would also suggest staying with the size restrictions that are currently in our Ordinance.

Mahaney asked how to police this – Throenle indicated that they would still need a Zoning Compliance permit for an addition.

Meister felt the only way to make it acceptable is to have restrictions that would make it fit in with what is there. Mahaney also felt that the owner or someone who is responsible for the property needed to be local.

Throenle felt that short term rentals need to be looked at district by district. Meister stated that they could possibly look at road frontage. Throenle stated that the Planning Commission will need to use caution when establishing restrictions.

The Planning Commission then went through the definitions.

Zoning Ordinance Definitions in Relation To Short Term Rentals

Bed & Breakfast

Current

Means a use that is subordinate to a single-family detached dwelling unit in which transient guests are provided sleeping rooms (not to exceed four (4) rooms) and a breakfast only, in return for payment; is the owner's personal residence; is occupied by the owner at the time of rental; and, the length of stay of any guest is not to exceed 14 consecutive days and 30 days in one year.

Proposed

A use of a single-family dwelling unit in which guests are provided temporary sleeping rooms, meals, and related amenities in return for monetary payment to the owner.

The dwelling unit is the owner's personal residence, is occupied by the owner at the time of rental, and the owner does not provide more than four sleeping rooms for guests.

The length of stay for the same guest is limited to 14 consecutive days and 30 days in a calendar year.

Discussion

In the proposed, the related amenities would involve any kind of services that would be provided to the guests. The current only includes breakfast. The change would allow the owner some flexibility on if they wanted to provide coffee, treats, or other meals, or other services such as yoga or massage therapy.

The question was then raised about Home Occupation. Throenle stated that if this is just offered to the guests, it would not be considered a Home Occupation. If it was offered to the public, then it would be necessary to obtain a Home Occupation permit.

There was some discussion on length of stay, and it was decided by the Commissioners that this should be a decision made by the owner, and not regulated by definition. The Planning Commission suggested the following for the Proposed:

A use of a single-family dwelling unit in which guests are provided temporary sleeping rooms, meals, and related amenities in return for monetary payment to the owner.

The dwelling unit is the owner's personal residence, is occupied by the owner at the time of rental, and the owner does not provide more than four sleeping rooms for guests.

~~The length of stay for the same guest is limited to 14 consecutive days and 30 days in a calendar year.~~

Campground

Current

A parcel or tract of land under the control of any person wherein sites are offered for the use of the public or members of an organization either free of charge or for a fee, for the establishment of temporary living quarters consisting of any combination of three or more recreational vehicles, tents or other temporary habitable structures or sites.

Proposed

A tract of land under the control of an owner or owner designee where the land is divided into sites offered for use by organizations or the public for the establishment of temporary living quarters consisting of any combination of three or more recreational vehicles, tents or other temporary habitable structures or sites.

This tract of land can be offered for use either free of charge or for a fee.

Discussion

Throenle explained this is in this discussion because he felt the language needed to be cleaned up in regards to "tract of land". The State of Michigan requires five camping spaces. Throenle also indicated that Chocolay Township has a campground at the marina, which has two camp pads which were built by a DNR grant in 2010. Because we are governmental, we are exempt.

Meister asked if there was any reason that we would need to match to the State. Throenle indicated that this was not necessary. Mahaney asked if campground was an allowable use in the AF district. Throenle stated it was.

The Planning Commission decided to go with the Proposed definition.

Dwelling, Multi-Family

Current

A structure containing two or more dwelling units designed for residential use, with or without separate kitchens or dining facilities, and conforming in all respects to the standards set forth in Section 6.3. These may include apartment houses, apartment hotels, rooming houses, boarding houses, fraternities, sororities, dormitories, row houses, townhouses, and similar housing types, but not including hotels, motels, hospitals, or nursing homes.

Proposed

A structure containing two or more dwelling units designed for residential use, with or without separate kitchens or dining facilities, without interior access to the other dwelling units, and conforming in all respects to the standards set forth in Section 6.3 of this ordinance.

This definition does not include hotels, hospitals, or nursing homes.

Discussion

Throenle indicated that since the Proposed is already pointing to Section 6.3 there was no need to go through the list.

The Planning Commission went with the Proposed definition.

Dwelling, Single-Family

Current

A structure containing not more than one dwelling unit designed for residential use and conforming in all respects to the standards set forth in Section 6.3.

Proposed

A building designed for use as one dwelling unit where no more than one family may occupy the dwelling unit.

A single-family dwelling unit must meet all requirements described in Section 6.3 of this ordinance.

Discussion

There was a question on why the proposed includes “no more than one family”. Kangas read the definition of family from the zoning ordinance. This seems to be consistent with the definition.

The Planning Commission agreed with the Proposed definition.

Hotel

Current

Means a structure designed, used, or offered for residential occupancy for any period less than one month, including tourist homes, resorts and motels, but not including hospitals and nursing homes.

Proposed

A place of business that rents multiple rooms at the same location for temporary occupancy, and has generally offers other amenities that may also be offered to the public (such as restaurants, pools, meeting rooms, and retail stores).

The length of stay for the same guest is not limited to a set number of calendar days.

This definition does not include hospitals, nursing homes, or group homes.

Discussion

Due to some confusion because of definitions of tourist homes, etc., this has been rewritten to clean up the language. Kangas requested that line two of the proposed definition read "... occupancy, and ~~has~~ generally offers ..."

This change was agreed upon by the Planning Commission and the proposed definition was accepted.

Recreational Unit

Current

Means a tent or vehicular type structure, primarily designed as temporary living quarters for recreational, camping or traveling use, which either has its own motive power or it is mounted on or drawn by another vehicle which is self powered. (Such unit shall not include a mobile home as defined herein.)

Proposed

A tent or vehicular type structure, primarily designed as temporary living quarters for recreational, camping or traveling use, which either has its own motive power or it is mounted on or drawn by another vehicle which is self powered.

This definition does not include mobile homes.

Discussion

Mullen-Campbell asked about "tiny houses". Throenle indicated that in this case they would not be considered a recreational unit.

The Planning Commission agreed on the Proposed definition.

Recreational Structure

Current

Means a cabin, cottage, camp, hunting camp, mobile home or other similar structure used intermittently for recreational or vacation purposes and which is not a permanent place of domicile or residency.

Proposed

A permanent structure used intermittently for occupancy for recreation or vacation purposes and which is not a permanent place of domicile or residency.

This definition does not include tents, blinds, tree houses or trailers generally used for travel or camping.

Discussion

The Planning Commission agreed on the Proposed definition.

Resort

Current

Means any parcel or tract of land under the control of any person wherein buildings or building space are offered for the use of the public or members of an organization, either free of charge or for a fee, for temporary living quarters incident to recreational use for any period less than one month.

Proposed

A tract of land under the control of an owner or owner designee where two or more structures are offered for use of the public or members of an organization either free of charge or for a fee, for the establishment of temporary living quarters for any period less than one month.

A resort has generally offers other amenities that may also be offered to the public (such as restaurants, pools, meeting rooms, and retail stores).

This definition does not include bed and breakfast, hotels, short term rentals, hospitals, group homes, and nursing homes.

Resorts are limited to the AF zoning district.

Discussion

Throenle indicated that the Proposed language was modified to distinguish between a single family dwelling.

Resorts are currently listed in the AF district as a conditional use.

Mahaney asked if there were currently any resorts in Chocolay Township. Throenle indicated that we don't. Meister indicated that the language doesn't differentiate between a hotel and resort. Mahaney suggested that in a hotel everything is contained, whereas in a resort, it would be spread out, with more than one structure. Mahaney questioned as to why this would not be able to apply to the waterfront district. Throenle will remove the sentence "Resorts are limited to the AF zoning district.” The Planning Commission approved the Proposed definition, minus the above removal.

Short Term Rental

Current

None

Proposed

A dwelling unit, owned and/or operated by the property owner, providing temporary accommodations for periods as short as one overnight stay, and rented more than fourteen days per year.

Such rentals are only permitted in specific zoning districts – AF, C, R1 and WFR – and must meet the established regulations for Short Term Rentals (section to be defined).

Such rentals are not permitted in any zoning district if restricted by deeds or covenants.

Additional Language for Consideration

This definition does not include the use of campgrounds, hotel rooms, transitional housing operated by a nonprofit entity, group homes such as nursing homes and adult foster-care homes, hospitals, or housing provided by a substance-abuse rehabilitation clinic, mental-health facility, or other health care related clinic

This definition does not include housing units owned by a business entity and made available on a temporary basis to employees of that business entity or employees of a contractor working for that business entity.

Discussion

Throenle indicated that he recommends that the language needs to keep the language of anything restricted by deeds or covenants. Also, there is the stipulation of fourteen days – after this, the homeowner would lose their PRE.

There was much discussion about length of stay. Throenle indicated that the line, “A dwelling unit, owned and/or operated by the property owner, providing temporary accommodations for periods as short as one overnight stay. ~~and rented more than fourteen days per year~~”

Throenle indicated there was a need to rewrite the long term rental length of stay.

With the revision of the above, the Planning Commission agreed on the Proposed definition.

Structure

Means any constructed, erected, or placed material or combination of materials in or upon the ground, including, but not by way or limitation, buildings, mobile homes, radio towers, sheds, signs, and storage bins, but excluding fences, sidewalks, and paving on streets, driveways, parking areas, and patios excluding uncovered open porches not to exceed four feet above grade and not to encroach into the front yard setback by more than six feet in front of the single family dwelling.

Proposed

Placement of constructed, erected, or placed material or combination of materials in or upon the ground, including, but not by way or limitation – buildings, garages, mobile homes, pole barns, sheds, signs, and towers that will be in use more than six consecutive months.

This definition does not include fences, sidewalks, paving on streets, driveways, and parking areas.

This definition does not include patios and uncovered open porches or decks that do not exceed four feet above grade and not to encroach into the front yard setback by more than six feet in front of the dwelling unit.

Milton stated that code says 21” – Throenle stated that ours shows 4’. Milton feels that it should match the building code – anytime you need a handrail.

The Planning Commission decided to leave the definition of structure for another meeting, as there are many different aspects that need to be discussed in this definition.

Rural Character

Current

The rural character of Chocolay Township embodies a quality of life based upon traditional rural landscapes, activities, lifestyles, and aesthetic values. The measures of this quality of life and what future rural developments to look like can be found in the Comprehensive Master Plan. For purposes of this section, rural character shall also be defined to mean areas perceived as having a low density pattern of development, being generally void of man-made improvements such as city essential services and exhibiting open fields, farmlands or woodlands as common elements of the visual landscape.

Proposed

None

Throenle will bring the updated definitions back to the May meeting.

C. Mixed Use Corridor

XI. DIRECTOR'S COMMENTS

Throenle stated that he obtained much information from the conferences he attended. One of the key pieces was the availability of low interest loans from the USDA. These loans not only cover residential, but also infrastructure such as roads and sewer systems.

Next meeting there may be a potential Site Plan Review for the KBIC Casino project. If not in May, it will happen in June.

Suzanne Sundell is the new Community Development Coordinator – this will be a great help to Throenle and Manager Lawry as the Township moves forward with different projects.

There is a scenario that will come up next meeting – the property across the street (St. James the Less) is up for sale. Realtors are marketing the property as commercial, but it is zoned residential (R1). The Planning Commission will need to discuss the rezoning of this property. (Churches are a conditional use in a residential district)

Thanked the Planning Commission for their patience in going through the Conditional Use permit.

Mahaney questioned if the PC would be discussing Short Term Rentals next month. Throenle indicated that this is going to depend on if the Site Plan happens.

White asked about the possibility of having a special meeting in order to get caught up with some of the items that are pressing. This would be a possibility.

In regards to the Site Plan, there have been preliminary plans which have been reviewed by Chocolate Township personnel and the Fire Department. Kangas asked about the test well findings. No results yet. Throenle also indicated that KBIC is planning on having a Town Hall Meeting prior to the Site Plan review. There is a possibility that this could be combined with a Special Meeting.

IV. PUBLIC COMMENT

Janet Amundsen – 2029 State Highway M-28 East – she had some things she would like to have cleared up. Who makes up the agenda for the Planning Commission meeting (Throenle indicated he did with input from the Planning Commission), who makes up the agenda for the Township Board (Township Manager, with input from the Board of Trustees), when are packets received (Thursday prior to meeting), how soon are minutes posted (approved within 3 working days of meeting, draft within 8 working days of meeting), who started the Casino parking lot rezoning (KBIC requested the rezoning). Amundsen thanked the Township for giving her a copy of the US Geological Survey, but questioned the year the report was made. She feels there were not as many houses and other properties that would be drawing down the wells. Amundsen questioned the Commission on if they had read the whole report. Amundsen also has concerns about the increase in highway speed – she feels that this is very dangerous. She wondered if the Board plans to represent the homes on M-28 on this matter. Mahaney stated that the Township has no control over this, as it is a state designated highway. White suggested that Amundsen contact MDOT.

Matt Blondeau – owns the apartment building at 125 Kawbawgam – he would like to address some zoning issues that he is facing. Blondeau's property is zoned Multi-Family Residential, while the apartment building across the street is zoned Commercial. This has created some setback issues for him, as he only has 2 acres – not able to rebuild in case of fire or to expand. He felt that his property should have been zoned Commercial. He would like the Planning Commission to look into this issue further and try to correct the zoning discrepancies. This property was used as a motel for forty years before the zoning ordinance was adopted, so he felt it should have been commercial from the start. Blondeau felt it should align with building codes. Mahaney asked Throenle if this is something that should go to the ZBA. Throenle indicated that he would be addressing this in his Director's Comments later, as this is not the only property out there with issues such as this. Throenle has gone through records and can find nothing indicating why things got changed in 2008. Meister pointed out that the Commercial district does not allow multi-family, so this would create a new problem.

John Wilson, 1987 M-28 East – he is a year round resident. He is for short term rentals, if regulated properly. He has used them himself when visiting other cities. Prior to buying their home, they had a long term lease at 1963 M-28 East, which had a short term rental next door, with its own driveway. There were no problems while living there. Now that they live at 1987 M-28 East, they have had multiple issues with a short term rental next door, as they have a shared driveway – the renters park on their property, ring their doorbell trying to get in, take their firewood – the renters seem to think that both properties are the rental. He has called the police. On the other side, there is a family camp with their own driveway – there are people coming and going all the time, but there are never any problems. He feels there needs to be some sort of compromise, possibly with permits, regulating the number of short term rental in the area, not having permits issued to owners with shared driveways, limits on the number of overnight guests, limit on number of vehicles that can be parked there. There needs to be a mechanism to revoke the permit if there are too many complaints. He would like to volunteer his time, and would like to be more involved as this goes forward.

Deborah Mulcahey, 633 Lakewood Lane – she is totally opposed to short term rentals. Mulcahey does not feel that Chocolay Township should follow the City of Marquette. She feels there is no impact to local economy in Harvey – very few businesses. Enforcement is a very difficult thing – how does the Township determine there are more than four unrelated people? Historically, our present Township attorney has stated that it will be difficult to enforce. Our prior Township attorney, Mr. Summers, in writing talked about rental properties and calls them a commercial operation. In 2011, Jennifer Thum, previous Planning Director / Zoning Administrator had also addressed short term rentals. Mulcahey would like to know what the economic benefit to the community is. She sees a big negative. The Township is losing people – the rental properties don't bring census numbers. She feels we need to remember that we are a rural township for zoning. The legislation proposed for short term rentals moves slowly. People are dealing with short term rentals worldwide. Mulcahey stated she lives in a residential community and wants to stay in a residential community.

Linda Rossberg, 1975 M-28 East – commended the Planning Commission for wanting to serve when issues such as these come up. Rossberg provided a handout, which was included in the packet under correspondence. She had provided this information, as she had the sense that there was not a lot of history out there, so she went back and gathered information – minutes, letters to the editor, and things related to the casino. For over 30 years there have been concerns about the water in that area. It doesn't matter what type of commercial business it is – the concern is the homeowners and the wells going dry. At one of the meetings she attended, a spokesperson from KBIC stated that their intent was not to take away the water from the people out there. She has been a homeowner on M-28 for over 28 years – there have always been problems – it not only is undrinkable, but the tannins stain clothes. They have water – just not good water. She went through the Master Plan to see where the Township is getting their information – it stated that the majority of people get their information by word of mouth and the newspaper. She felt that one of the major goals of the Master Plan was to protect water resources. She felt the way the questions were asked in the survey were kind of misleading, which may have led people to believe that there was a need for commercial development. She has talked to several experts that indicate they would not build in that area. She is not opposed to the Casino – she is opposed to development. She previously worked for MSU Extension, and she sincerely hopes that the Planning Commission will gather information before making a decision.

Tony Harry, 6369 U.S. 41 South – he started an ATV / ORV club in Marquette County. He would like the Planning Commission to look at the ordinance to allow ATVs and ORVs to ride far right on Marquette County roads and connected trails. He worked with the Planning Commission in Marquette Township, and was able to get approval from them, and to seek approval from the Marquette Township Board. They have changed their ordinance to allow ATV / ORV to use County roads from 7:00 AM to 10:00 PM. They are looking for a connection to get through Chocolay Township, and to be able to get gas and lodging. They have a trail by the Casino, but they are not able to connect to it.

VII. NEW BUSINESS

A. Zoning Ordinance Rewrite

Staff Introduction

Mahaney read the background portion of the memo presented to the Planning Commission. There are changes that have occurred since the ordinance was written in 2008. Considerations were not included for some of the issues the Planning Commission is facing (short term rentals, extended growing season structures, temporary structures, and alternative energy possibilities). In some zoning districts, there are large numbers of non-conforming parcels. Some sections are very lengthy and difficult for citizens to comprehend and comply.

Mahaney also read the staff recommendations that Throenle had presented as to the possible ways for the rewrite to occur. Three possible solutions are: (1) Planning Commission and staff take on the task, (2) budget in the next cycle for a firm or organization to complete the rewrite, or (3) retain the current ordinance and continue to make changes to the language.

Commission Discussion

Meister indicated that if a complete rewrite were going to be done, he would suggest having professionals do it. He would like to have some dollar amounts associated with this. Meister indicated that option 3 is like filling potholes, but the second option would be preferable.

Throenle indicated that the 2008 rewrite cost approximately $16,000. His estimate for the 2018 rewrite would be around $25,000. White asked who had written the 2008 ordinance – Throenle indicated he thought that CUPPAD had. Throenle indicated that he has no historical documents on this. He feels that there is a lot of ambiguity, zoning maps that need to be cleaned up, and language that needs to be cleaned up.

Throenle would need to put out a Request for Proposal (RFP) and specify the criteria such as number of town hall meetings, surveys, and the timeframe to accomplish. There would also be constant updates to the Planning Commission and Township Board. With everything else that is going on, Throenle does not see the Planning Commission being able to take on the rewrite of the Zoning Ordinance.

Mahaney feels that some of the challenges for the Planning Commission is that they do not always understand the language of the ordinance – this makes it very time consuming.

Mullen-Campbell feels that you would understand the ordinance better by doing it themselves.

Throenle feels there needs to also be some type of statement in our ordinance that allows the Planning Commission more flexibility.

Mahaney questioned the information that would be given to someone rewriting the ordinance. Throenle indicated we could survey people to see how we can balance all the inconsistencies in the Township.

Throenle indicated that now is the time, as we are going into budget planning for next year.

Meister feels that it is a good idea to have professionals rewrite the zoning ordinance. Smith agreed with Meister. Smith also indicated that the rewrite that Marquette Township did provided much more clarity. Mullen-Campbell also agrees that a rewrite by professionals is a good idea. Kangas felt it was monumental, and he is in support of hiring professionals to do the rewrite. White (as a Township Board member) stated she has gone through the ordinance a number of times, and she feels that the ordinance needs to be simplified and clarified for easier use, and if a professional can do that, she is all for it.

White moved, Mullen-Campbell seconded, to recommend to the Board that monies be made available during the next budget cycle to fund a search for a firm or organization to complete the rewrite of the Zoning Ordinance by the end of 2018, with a requirement that the Planning Commission direct the process and input for the revised ordinance.

B. Review of Existing Ordinances – Ordinance 47 and 57

Staff Introduction

Throenle indicated that the purpose of bringing these two ordinances to the Planning Commission was based on a recommendation by the Board at the joint meeting in March. Ordinance 47 and Ordinance 57 were selected as they were one page ordinances.

Commission Discussion

On Ordinance 47 (Watercraft Speed), Kangas questioned if Throenle knew if Act 303, Public Acts of 1967 was still applicable. Throenle indicated that he would have to check into that. Kangas indicated that everything else in the ordinance made sense – his concern was referencing Acts that are that old.

Smith stated on Ordinance 57 (Bicycle and Snowmobile) that he believes to allow snowmobiles on a bike path there had to be an ordinance written in order to achieve funding to have a bike path with snowmobile access (with MDOT input).

Throenle indicated all he was looking for is Planning Commission input on if the language needed changing.

Mahaney wondered if Ordinance 57 was even necessary. Smith indicated that his understanding is that anytime you have a bike path over an MDOT right-of-way, there is a need for an Ordinance.

Kangas brought up the formatting on the different ordinances. Throenle indicated that in order to change the formatting, the ordinance would need to have a Public Hearing.

Meister moved, Kangas seconded, to table Ordinance 47 Water Craft Speed for review of reference to Act 303, Public Acts of 1967.

Vote: Ayes: 6 Nays: 0

MOTION CARRIED

Meister moved, Kangas seconded, to accept Ordinance 57 Bicycle and Snowmobile as written and to hold the recommended ordinance for a public hearing that will be scheduled in the future.

Vote: Ayes: 6 Nays: 0

C. Conditional Use Checklist

Staff Introduction

Throenle stated that at the last meeting, Smith had requested a checklist for reviewing conditional use permit requests. Throenle has attached a proposed checklist which incorporates the information the applicant must provide and the information outlined in Section XVI of the Zoning Ordinance regarding conditional use permits. This checklist would be used as part of the hearing process.

Commission Discussion

Mahaney asked about the 500' notification condition – Throenle indicated that is part of the checklist that is on the application.

Meister asked about guidelines for conditional use such as number of vehicles, etc. so the Planning Commission can be consistent. Throenle will work on guidelines for this.

Throenle asked that the Planning Commission accept this checklist, and be aware that as things come up, they can be added to this.

Kangas moved, Meister seconded, to adopt the Conditional Use Permit checklist as presented.

Vote: Ayes: 6 Nays: 0

VIII. UNFINISHED BUSINESS

A. Planning Commission Priorities – 2017-2018

Throenle indicated that this was a minor change, but for ease of printing the agenda he would like to remove the priorities to a separate sheet, which will be included in the packet.

Kangas indicated he felt that having priorities on the agenda does not seem like the right place, but having them available as a separate sheet is a good idea.

Kangas moved, Mullen-Campbell seconded, to remove the priorities from the agenda and provide a list of priorities in the packet material, as referenced in VIII.A.1.

Vote: Ayes: 6 Nays: 0

MOTION CARRIED

B. Mixed Use Corridor

Staff Introduction

Throenle indicated that he is looking for direction on the mixed use corridor. He is looking to see how he can condense the material.

Commission Discussion

Meister feels that some of the information can be combined.

Throenle indicated that he will plan on starting with the language at the meeting to go forward on this project.

Smith questioned the rezoning of St. James the Less Episcopal Church – who is responsible for the rezoning? Throenle indicated that property owners are retaining the right of refusal (even on the intended use). Meister indicated that this is the responsibility of the buyer / seller – either apply for a rezoning or wait until the mixed-use district goes into effect. It could become a condition of purchase when making an offer.

Smith feels that the rezoning that was done in 2008 is unfortunate, and it was not well publicized. Most people did not even know it was happening until it was done – not only in Chocoday Township, but most of Marquette County. Now residents are notified in writing if there is going to be changes.

C. Short Term Rentals

Staff Introduction

Throenle indicated that last month the Commission went through definitions of short term rentals, and these are presented in the packet. Throenle indicated that there are two bills that have been introduced into the House and Senate, with the same language, which are addressing short term rentals specifically. The goal of the bill is to make a blanket application which states that a short term rental is not a commercial use of property, but is a residential home, and should not be subjected to a special use or conditional use permit, or any different procedure from anyone else that lives in that same zone. If these bills were to go into effect, they would supersede anything we may have in place. Throenle is looking for direction from the Planning Commission on how to move forward.

Commission Discussion

Meister asked if this would take away any of the restrictions that the Planning Commission may put on short term rentals. Throenle indicated it would. Kangas stated it would take away any local control. Throenle stated that both bills were introduced at the same time from different areas of the state.

Mahaney felt it was prudent to wait and see what the State does.

White asked Supervisor Bohjanen (in the audience), if there was anything provided to him at the Michigan Township Association conference that he attended when he went to a session on short term rentals. Bohjanen indicated there was not anything provided, except for the fact that you need to have it spelled out in your definition and conditions. He feels that conditions are necessary. Bohjanen also indicated that the Township could still have restrictions when it comes to the health and safety of the residents.

Mahaney moved, Meister seconded, to table short term rental definitions until next meeting when more information may be available on the proposed House Bill (4503) and Senate Bill (329).

Vote: Ayes: 6 Nays: 0

IX. PUBLIC COMMENT

Deborah Mulcahey, 633 Lakewood Lane – casinos, short term rentals, and now ORVs. She remembers the meeting three to four years ago and there was not much support at that time. She is also upset that the Commission did not deal with the short term rentals. The concept of short term rentals is already here – hotels, resorts. She is not opposed to short term rentals, she is opposed to short term rentals in Waterfront Residential. She is concerned about fences – would like the Commission to think about requiring surveys when people are doing buildings. When they bought their property, there was an issue of encroachment on one side which was not a problem, but on the other side the neighbor kept moving the survey stakes, along with mowing their grass to his satisfaction. Now they came home this past spring, and there is a generator adjacent to their house (electric with a gas line). An air conditioning unit has setback requirements, but not generators. This could become a safety issue if they would decide to put their driveway right on the property line (which is legal). She feels that people should be required to obtain a survey before they build, and asks that the Planning Commission discuss this.

John Wilson, 1987 M-28 East – was wondering if it is possible to offer to pay for his neighbor’s driveway in order to alleviate the problem of a shared driveway. Would he need a permit? Throenle indicated Wilson would need to speak with MDOT first. Once again, he offered assistance with short term rentals. Smith indicated that Wilson would also need to take a look at any easements that may be associated with doing this, and go through an attorney to make sure things are done properly.

Tony Harry, 6369 US 41 South – just wanted to let the Planning Commission know that he has been a resident of Chocolay Township for 35 years, and has worked in the Marquette Public Schools for 33 years. He is a DNR recreational instructor. The education is getting out there, and he has taught many classes across the UP. He is trying to get a UP wide trail – he is trying to get a safe way to get in and out of Chocolay Township. He feels this would be a boost to the community with money being spent at local businesses. He is very familiar with the ORV program – grants and other things. He offered his assistance in making this happen.

X. COMMISSIONER’S COMMENTS

White - None

Mullen-Campbell – None

Kangas – None

Meister – None

Smith – None

Mahaney – Great meeting again. Thanked everyone for attending. Mahaney brought up that fact that during discussion on agenda issues, the discussion is for the Commissioners. The public has their time to speak on any of the issue during the two Public Comment periods.

The Commissioners asked about when they would be receiving tablets.

XI. DIRECTOR’S COMMENTS

Throenle updated the Commissioners on changes in staff – Sam Gerber has been hired as the new Assessor, starting on June 1, 2017. Kristin Cannoot is our new Administrative Assistant in the Clerk’s office who started May 15, 2017 – she will be involved with packet preparation, along with her other responsibilities.

The tablets have been purchased, but are not working as expected. As the new Community Development Coordinator, Suzanne will also be taking over responsibility for technology. We are working with Lasco to come up with some suggestions, and then will be looking at getting the necessary funding.

Next month there will be a Site Plan review on the agenda.

The Casino project is moving forward – they are now looking at connecting to the Township’s sewer service. There are still some issues to be resolved before they come to the Planning Commission for Site Plan review. There is still not a defined project plan.

Throenle would like to resolve the issues regarding some of the zoning issues that are happening in the Township. He would like to take this by quadrants. This would be in keeping with the Master Plan. The Planning Commission felt this would be a good idea.

Supervisor Bohjanen commented that in discussion with KBIC, it sounds like the speed limit change will start east of Kawbawgam.

IV. PUBLIC COMMENT

Janet Amundsen, 2029 M-28 East – questioned the June 22 ZBA meeting and wondered if this was a private meeting, since only the people that are within 500 feet were notified. Attended Board meeting a month ago and is disappointed in her Township leaders. Questioning who is in charge of the Township. She feels that everything that has been KBIC related was not done in the proper order. Attended KBIC town hall meeting and feels most residents are more concerned about water storage and test wells, not the hotel, gambling, and restaurants as those will happen either way. She feels the bottom line is water quantity, not quality. She thanked the commission.

Deborah Mulcahey, 633 Lakewood Lane – She is upset that the agenda material was not available sooner than mid-morning. Short term rental have been a problem for 6 years, and now there are three new things on the agenda. Casino, wastewater – she wants to make sure that there is no cost to Chocolay residents. Site review on the storage units – need to look at lighting, vegetative buffer and fencing, acreage needs to be combined. Has a concern with 140 Carmen Drive - looks horrible and fence is not constructed on any portion – it is not behind Main St Pizza but adjacent. Need to be mindful of other residents. Short term rentals definition should be addressed.

V. PUBLIC HEARINGS

CU Permit 17-03 Daycare:

Dale Throenle reminded attendees that the current homeowners, Don and Lori Carlson, are applying for the permit and that they are not the ones who will be running the daycare. Read an email from the neighbor who lives at 130 Katers from Lance Gilliam. Question 1: Will the homeowners be living in the house? Answer: The owner/operator will be living in the house, the daycare will not be a separate business. Question 2: Is this a business that only the homeowners will run or will there be additional employees? Answer: The homeowners will run this business and there will be no additional employees. Question 3: Is there a maximum number of children that this daycare will provide for? Answer: Yes, the maximum number of children is 10. Throenle also read a letter that supports the fact that there is a need for additional daycare in the area.

PUBLIC COMMENT

Tina Brandel, 201 Terrace Street – she runs an in home daycare which is licensed for six children. She explained the difference between a center and an in-home daycare. She feels there is a definite need for this type of business. She explains that she has been running her daycare for 13 years and has a waiting list.

Mellisa Gilliam, 120 Katers Drive – wondered about the hours the daycare will be open. No problem with the daycare, she is concerned with her two dogs and the chain link fence that separates the property. She is worried that a child may put their hand through the fence and get hurt by her dogs.

Donna Marine – 150 Edgewood Drive – she bought property in a residential area and not one with businesses in it. Questions if there are restrictions or anything about running a business within a residential area. Mahaney stated there are within the Township Zoning Ordinance, such as home occupations, or in this case a Conditional Use permit, which is what the applicant is going through right now, that is the process to allow or deny the daycare. Marine went on to say she is unfamiliar with the process and is wondering how this works, vote on it? Mahaney replied that this is the process we are doing right here and we will vote on it tonight. There is a process, Conditional Use Permit turned in to Throenle, reviewed and then comes to the Planning Commission and the Commission will vote on it. Marine went on to explain that her whole adult life was spent looking after children and she came here to retire and she thought this was the kind of place where she could be free from that kind of thing and she wants it noted that she would not like the daycare there.

Abbey Lawrence – no address stated – she and Kyle Carlson are the ones that would like to open the daycare in the home after purchasing it. The business hours are primarily 7 to 5:30, licensing requires her to be compliant with state rules in order to keep her license, she has liability insurance and would like to put in a wood, privacy fence to have a more appropriate barrier so there is no liability issue on her end. Lawrence stated she had thought about dividing the backyard to keep kids away from the neighbors with the dogs. Mahaney asked her if she has thought about the maximum children she would have. Lawrence responded that licensing does not allow her to have more than 12 children and that for the space she has she doesn't think that she would exceed 10. It depends on the age of the kids in the group. Meister asked if the fencing she is talking about is something she is planning on doing? Lawrence responded, if it's deemed necessary, absolutely and then follow the zoning ordinance to obtain that. Mahaney asked if the hours of operation are mandated by the state? Lawrence responded, no, that you choose hours when applying for a license and that it is safe to say that she will be licensed from 6:00 AM until about 5:45 PM, with main hours being 7:00 AM to 5:30 PM. Lawrence indicated they would not be open on the weekends and no evening or overnights. Mahaney asked if it would be open year round? Lawrence responded correct. White asked if Lawrence is applying for a day care center or a family day care? Lawrence responded that it is considered a group daycare. She is currently running a daycare in Gwinn and is zoned through Forsyth Township - she has been through this process before. Four of the five families from Gwinn are interested in coming to the new daycare and she has daily calls from people looking for daycare. White asked Lawrence if other than her own family would she have children there on weekends. Lawrence responded she is not licensed for weekends, and family is not considered as part of the daycare. Throenle interjected that children will not be outside before 9:00 AM. Lawrence stated that they will be courteous to the neighborhood and that they encourage children to behave. Mahaney asked if she will be working this alone or expect to hire? Abbey responded that depending on the ratio of children she can be alone with up to six children. Mahaney asked if Lawrence was planning on hiring someone? Lawrence responded she was. There was some discussion between Throenle and the Planning Commission on the hiring of employees.

VII. NEW BUSINESS

A. Conditional Use Permit CU 17-03 Daycare

Staff Introduction

Throenle went through information that was presented in his staff comments in the packet.

Commission Discussion

Throenle indicated this is a home occupation, but falls under the home occupation of daycare. Daycare license under the State of Michigan, requires an additional employee after you reach six. This is part of conditional use, so there will not be a need for a separate home occupation permit. Under State law, Lawrence is required to have one or two employees. Meister asked for clarification on the location of the privacy fence. Throenle requested that there be a condition of a privacy fence between 130 and 120 Katers. Mahaney stated that the Commission would like to add the fence condition as a requirement. He then asked Lawrence if she will hire additional employees. Lawrence responded that she plans on hiring two employees. Kangas asked if the State has a requirement on background checks. Lawrence indicated it does.

Meister moved, White seconded, that after public comment and staff review and analysis in consideration of Conditional Use Permit CU 17 03, and the understanding that the proposed use is compliant with all terms of Section 16.2 Conditional Use Permits Basis of Determination and General Standards and the intent of the Zoning Ordinance, the Planning Commission approves Conditional Use Permit 17 03 with the following conditions:

(1) A six foot privacy fence be constructed between 120 and 130 Katers Drive.

B. Site Plan Review – Hudson Storage Units

Staff Introduction

Throenle introduced the proposed storage units Hudson Properties at 110 and 120 Carmen Drive and read the description of the property. The proposed storage units will be located in a commercial district, the only residential district is to the south of the proposed units, which is LSS Manor on Cherry Creek Road. Both lots are non-conforming lots of record. Three storage units are proposed: one is 40 x 130, the second is 40 x 60 and the third is 40 x 120. Scott Swenor (UP Engineering) will be representing the engineering firm.

Applicant Discussion

Scott Swenor – UP Engineers and Architects – He lives in Chocolay, his partner Mark Daavettilla was pulled away and not able to be at the meeting.

Commission Discussion

Throenle directed Commissioners to section VII.B.4 and proceeded to walk through the site plan review checklist. Proposed snow storage is a concern. Swenor replied that it would be pushed between two of the storage units. Mahaney asked Throenle if there is a fence. Throenle replied that there is a silt fence. Kangas asked if that silt fence would be to prevent erosion during construction. Throenle recommended a fence as a requirement. Mahaney, suggested a fence on the back side with the storage units being 24/7 and housing units behind it - would give more privacy. There is not much of a buffer there for the trees, maybe fence should extend all the way, access from the back. Milton interjected, there is an existing building there and would not want snow pushed over the line and affecting drainage with the existing building. Throenle directed the Commission to a graphic to show where buffers and fence could be placed. Some of the tree line may be preserved. Throenle suggests that leaving trees could be requirement along with the fence. He also indicated that storage units typically do not generate a lot of noise but car lights could be a problem, however, tree buffer and a fence could diminish that. Kangas questioned plan sheet C103 as he is trying to figure out the contours. Meister asked if we have the authority to require a fence, Mahaney said to approve the site plan, he believes we do. He asked if there would be any utilities, Swenor replied that if there are any lights they would be downward facing. Swenor asked if they could move buildings closer to Carmen Drive to allow more space in the back for a buffer to leave more trees. Mahaney stated setbacks are already at the limit. Smith asked about storm water retention required. Throenle commented that the silt fence is there during construction, the storage units are drive in and drive out, not looking at a whole lot of water, just snow removal. There was some discussion on access. Throenle suggested that access could be a requirement. Swenor asked if the two lots could be combined to allow two buildings. Mahaney responded there was no approval for that. Throenle indicated we would need to pull this site plan off the table if that were the direction the engineers were going. Swenor responded that he withdrawals that idea. Smith would like storm water retention because the new buildings with metal roofs will be creating a lot of run off. Meister asked if the ditch would affect the property owner. Mullen-Campbell questioned where LSS Manor pushes their snow. Mahaney asked Throenle if they could approve it with conditions, as there was concern about the six foot strip on the east side of the large building, especially if that was sold separate without a permanent easement from Hudson? The Commission would like to see the easements, snow removal, storm water retention, privacy fence and buffer issues addressed at the next meeting.

Meister moved, Kangas seconded, to table the Site Plan Review to either the July 6, 2017 Special Meeting or the July 17, 2017 Regular Meeting to allow the applicant to address concerns of the Planning Commission.

Vote: Ayes: 7 Nays: 0

C. Site Plan Review – KBIC Casino Remodel / Expansion

Staff Introduction

Throenle began the discussion by adding a letter sent from Gundlach Champion regarding landscaping, which Mahaney read. Throenle confirmed that each member of the Commission received the detailed plans. Throenle stated that there are representatives from Gundlach Champion and KBIC in the audience. Throenle described the expansion to include a hotel, restaurant, entertainment venue, casino expansion which is on the tribal trust land, as well as a conference center. The lot size, currently a parking lot, is 21.59 acres; he also provided a description of adjacent zoning districts and land uses. Throenle showed a graphic while describing the land and describing the moving of three homes to a residential site, the location of the new road, hotel, entertainment center, water tower and casino. The casino expansion is on Tribal trust land and is not up for discussion tonight. The fire department will have access to the new water tank.

Applicant Discussion / Commission Discussion

George Meister, project manager, GEI Consultants (Scott Richards; for water questions) G. Meister proceeded to go over the drawings which are part of the agenda materials. He highlighted the MDOT plans for acceleration/deceleration lanes for entrance and exit from the casino. These are decided by MDOT, not the Township or Casino. The eight-foot wide shoulder will become a two-foot wide, paved shoulder with a two-foot wide gravel shoulder. All permits will come through MDOT. He then described the new entrance and parking lot and he feels that about half of the residential traffic from Kawbawgam will use the new route and should reduce traffic on Kawbawgam. He discussed the utilities, specifically the elevated water storage tank and pump house as well as the three test wells. There will be a new hydrant that will be specifically for the fire departments use. He addressed the concerns regarding water quality and quantity with the three test wells, the water is not coming from a basin, the water is coming from water that is moving north to Lake Superior. The pump tests have shown very little impact on the surrounding area. After an eight-hour test, one of the test wells went down a quarter of an inch. The projected peak use will be 132 gallons per minute, giving a pump capacity of 264 gallons per minute. Milton asked if that is all three wells together – Richards stated it was. Mahaney questioned how long they have been testing the wells. Richards replied that they have been tested for eight hours, the initial test was to consider impact to see where the test wells should be sighted and the goal is to turn the test wells into production wells. Once permitted, Mahaney asked if the wells have to meet a certain State requirements. Richards stated yes, as they are type 1 water supplies. Mahaney questioned if the preliminary tests were felt to be adequate. Richards replied he does – they have done a lot of exploratory wells. There was a question from the audience on recovery. Richards stated that they came right back. Once the final permit test is done that information will be available. Mahaney asked if the State is there during the testing. Richards replied no, but the information would be submitted to them. Mahaney asked about the abandoned well on the plans – wondered if this is the existing well. Richards replied there are two wells, and both wells will be abandoned. Richards stated that the new wells will not have any residents to the south - nothing developable there. Throenle interjected to show in the graphic where the wells are. Mahaney asked if there will be monitoring wells to the south and if they are required? Richards replied that they are not required at this time, but it is highly recommended. If it is shown that the wells are drawing down the wetland then they are required. Smith asked if there are multiple aquifers out there? Richards replied that the wells are non-confined aquifers. They are not in the sandstone, they are in a layer between the clay lens and sandstone. Milton asked if they use screens? Richards replied screening coarse medium clean sand. Mahaney asked how deep the wells are? Richards replied that from the bottom of the casing they are 100 to 110 feet for all three. Kangas asked Scott to cut to the chase - will the DEQ permit these wells? Richard replied that he thinks so and that they there is a lot of money invested in this and that they have been very cautious. Kangas stated that there are enough concerns out there and he thinks it's definitely warranted. Mahaney asked if the DEQ approval that Kangas mentioned going to happen before construction. G. Meister replied that it has been permitted along the way and then at the end they will need a final permit. Mahaney asked to go back to the highway and asked if they feel that with the new entry and exit if the two-foot paved shoulder is adequate with the new speed limit. Mullen-Campbell interjected that the speed limit change is proposed east of Kawbawgam. Throenle confirmed that the change is well past Kawbawgam. Kangas asked Township Manager, Steve Lawry (in the audience) about the exact location. Lawry stated, that MDOT has been asked to take into consideration the pedestrian traffic and the campground that is out there, but they have not determined the exact location yet other than it will be east of Kawbawgam Road. Kangas stated that MDOT is listening. Mahaney's concern is with the acceleration lane and the two-foot shoulder, that it is not much of a buffer with people walking or biking. G. Meister replied it is up to MDOT. Mahaney thinks it would be prudent to bring it up to KBIC because with the speed limit change people will not immediately slow down from the speed of 65, so two feet is not much of a buffer for non-motorized traffic. G. Meister replied that they will review it. Mahaney responded that with the push that Marquette County has with non-motorized he sees that area being used quite a bit and with the Heritage Trail just to the south of it, there are people using it - it would be prudent to enlarge the shoulder. G. Meister responded that he agrees with that and widening it to five feet. Milton asked if there would be any access for private homes to tie into water? G. Meister replied no. G. Meister indicated the other item to note on the public utilities is the sanitary sewer. It will be a combination gravity and forced main sewer, and the receiving system looks to be able to handle that. Looking at the design, the line would be turned over to Township once completed, allowing residents to tie into the sewer. He sees that being a bonus to this project for the residents. Mahaney questioned if this would run alongside the highway. G. Meister responded it will be on the right of way. Mahaney questioned when this would begin. G. Meister responded that would probably be a next year project – not fully designed yet. Milton asked what size pipe they would use? G. Meister responded they would start with eight-inch and it would vary as they go. Milton if this is an eight-inch forced main. G. Meister responded that the forced main would probably be more in the size of four-inch. Mullen-Campbell asked, what the average depth of residential wells in the area. Throenle responded roughly about 40 feet. Mullen-Campbell questioned if the KBIC deeper well would drop the level of their wells. G. Meister indicated it would not. There was a question on what the capacity of the storage tank is. G. Meister replied it is planned to be 75,000 gallons as of right now and a big part of that is for fire suppression needs. This will also be used for the casino. Mahaney asked if they are pretty confident on their construction schedule. G. Meister replied yes, the tentative start date is July 24th and that is based on getting the remainder of the permitting process complete. Most of the big construction should be done by the end of September of next year and by the end of 2018 that will be pretty well wrapped up. There was some discussion on storm water, retention basins, and snow removal. Throenle asked G. Meister to address lighting. G. Meister commented that it will be a down lit style light. He referred to the packet and that it shows lumens etc. It will not be like a Walmart, it will be designed with modern features. It was stated that our ordinance requires that type of lighting. Throenle commented about the dark sky concept. Commissioner referred to the letter we received and asked about the tree being planted in each parking island along with a light, is that going to be an issue. G. Meister replied, no, it is in accordance with the ordinance. Kangas asked if we can recommend approval of this site plan contingent upon receipt of all state permits - wells, public sewer, MDOT permit. G. Meister responded that holding off construction until all permits are through is not realistic.

Commission Discussion

Kangas asked how the motion should be stated with permits not being complete. Mahaney asked if the sewer has been approved and if permits are issued through the Township. This is permitted through the DEQ. Mahaney commented that we don't know if that will happen. Questioned if there would be a reason the Township would not take ownership. Manager Lawry responded that the Board has addressed that issue, but at this point if the DEQ denied this they would have to suggest another way. This is the way the DEQ has suggested it be done. It may take a while. Mahaney asked Lawry if he thinks the permitting will happen. Lawry responded yes. Kangas indicated he thinks we should hold them to the promise in the letter we received today on proper screening on the east side with the fence and mixture of plantings. Mahaney asked Throenle if the landscaping would have to be specified? Throenle responded, yes. Milton asked what the street address is - Throenle responded 105 Acre Trail.

Before the vote, E. Meister indicated his relationship with G. Meister – he has no financial interest in the business. The Planning Commission indicated they had no problem with E. Meister voting.

Mahaney moved to approve with conditions, Kangas seconded, that after staff review and Commissioner discussion, Site Plan Review Application SR 17-35 is approved in accordance with the standards outlined in Section IX of the Zoning Ordinance, with the following conditions:

- (1) The letter dated June 16, 2017 regarding landscaping issues is part of the accepted site plan review.*

IX. PUBLIC COMMENT

Deb Mulcahey, 633 Lakewood Lane – commended the Commission on thorough review of the project. Regarding the Casino, she expressed her dissatisfaction with the timing of the information being available to the public. Suggestion to G. Meister she would like them to use native seeds and plantings. Right of way is a safety issue heart and she would like proper signage, especially for people from out of the area. With water quality, it was mentioned there is very little impact, but she feels there should be no impact. She is very concerned about the water.

Mark Maki, 370 Karen Road – commented about the public hearing, Mahaney corrected him that it was a typo error. Site Plan Review should be submitted 30 days prior, does not believe the timeline was followed. Maki also feels the zoning ordinances have not been followed. Water issue should have been part of the rezoning. Feels no one cares. No letters from fire department, police department, county health department, DEQ, state highway dept. Feels they should have approved it. Private road discussion, commercial driveway and he will put those in writing.

Janet Amundsen, 2029 M-28 – widening of the highway, wondering what side of the road the space will come from? She would like it to come from the KBIC side, not the lake side. Wants to know if the plans were available to the public, and if so where would she be able to see them. Throenle responded yes, but that we currently do not have a scanner to accommodate that size of paper, however, the plans are listed as part of the agenda materials. She attended the town hall meeting and wanted a copy of the plans instead of a goodie bag.

Jennifer Misigan – VP KBIC – She would like to thank everyone for their due diligence. She apologized to Janet for not having a copy of the plans available for her. Their intent is to be really open with the community and transparent and to be good neighbors.

X. COMMISSIONER'S COMMENTS

White – Mark was right - plans should have been submitted 30 days prior to the meeting and it wasn't. Throenle interjected that they were. White stated that she was looking at a date of May 31, the day it was signed. Throenle responded that it was a supplemental document and the original was submitted May 18. Throenle indicated on it was on the first page of the application, VII.A.1.

ROLL CALL

Members Present: Tom Mahaney (Chair), Eric Meister (Vice Chair), Donna Mullen-Campbell (Secretary), Kendell Milton, Jon Kangas, Judy White (Board)

Members Absent: Andy Smith (Vice Secretary)

Staff Present: Dale Throenle (Planning Director/Zoning Administrator), Kristin Cannoot (Administrative Assistant)

II. ADDITIONAL AGENDA ITEMS / APPROVAL OF AGENDA

Motion by Meister and seconded by Kangas to approve the agenda with additions; change the day of the week from Monday to Thursday.

Vote: Ayes: 6 Nays: 0 MOTION CARRIED

III. MINUTES

None to approve – minutes for the June 19, 2017 meeting will be on the agenda for the July 17, 2017 meeting.

IV. PUBLIC COMMENT

Lynn Staubin – Property manager at 201 Cherry Creek Rd – Expressed her concerns about the Hudson Storage Units; questions about snow removal, ice forming in parking lot as snow melts (there are elderly residents), rain water run off onto property, requested for downcast lighting requested, fence to be pleasant to look at and easily maintained, leave as many trees as possible to form a natural buffer.

Deborah Mulcahey – 633 Lakewood Lane - Expressed concerns about the Hudson Storage Units, not a good neighbor, Hudson junk, (clean up their mess), water retention, mosquitos. Feels that the minutes are not reflective of public comments, feels she was treated inappropriately at the last meeting. Feels Meister should have recused himself from Casino project vote. Concerned about the Casino and water quality and quantity. She is wondering what the impact of the Dutch Campground will be on residents.

Sherry Nelsen – 1849 M28 – Expressed concerns about water from the original casino construction, she had to put in a new well, wants an answer about water. Mahaney informed her that it was all addressed at the last meeting.

Dalia Pavalkyte – 1943 State Hwy M28 – Concerned about expansion of the highway, water and that the highway expansion will be too close to homes.

Mark Daavettila – UP Engineers and Architects – Asked if he could be part of the Commissioner's discussion regarding Hudson Storage Units later in the meeting. Commissioners approved that.

Connie Barto – 1951 State HWY M28 E – Concerned about highway regarding entrance to casino, brought up previous developments, wants to know where the water for the tower is coming from and what effect it will have. Concerned about casino expansion.

Frank Somerset – Cottage on M28 – Discussed the poor water quality, low water table, he wants the casino to replace his well so he has clean water.

Mark Maki – 370 Karen Road – KBIC issues; He feels that the new commercial entrance goes across residential zone. Water tower, view of it should be part of the site plan review. Talked about what zoning should be doing. Discussed the Hudson development easements; need to amend the plat.

Andy Larsen – 130 Carmen Dr. WHWL FM – He supports the Hudson Storage development, but wants trees on the west and north left as a barrier as he is concerned people will drive across WHWL property.

Linda Rossberg – 1975 M28 E – Concerned about water quality/quantity, referenced a letter from Governor Snyder requesting further dialogue with KBIC in regard to the airport site (letter dated April 22, 2016), litigation if wells are negatively impacted, lives in a residential area and does not want commercial.

Public Comment Closed at 7:30 p.m.

A. Site Plan Review SR 17-35 – KBIC Casino Remodel / Expansion Vote Rescind

1. Staff Introduction - Throenle requests the vote be rescinded. Throenle accepts responsibility for the clerical error.
2. Applicant Discussion - None
3. Commissioner Discussion - None

White moved, Milton seconded, that the Planning Commission rescind the vote taken on June 19, 2017 in regard to site plan review application SR 17-35 as the application did not meet the minimum thirty day submission date requirement found in section 9.1 in the Township Zoning Ordinance.

Vote: Ayes: 6 Nays: 0

MOTION CARRIED

B. Site Plan Review SR 17-35 – KBIC Casino Remodel / Expansion

1. Staff Introduction – Throenle addressed public comment regarding the 500' notification requirement and the MDOT highway easement; No personal property will be taken for the expansion, it will all be on the State easement. He told the audience that at the June 22, 2017 ZBA meeting the hotel and water tower were both approved. Throenle used a graphic to show the audience and Commissioners where everything is located and which parts are zoned commercial and which are zoned residential.

2. Applicant Discussion – None

3. Commission Discussion – Kangas asked if the existing wells will be abandoned. Peter Dupuis, Gundlach Champion, answered that three wells will be abandoned.

Mahaney asked about the depth of the existing wells. Dupuis responded, he does not know, they are 50 gpm, the new wells are 132 gpm and are 100' to 120' deep and they have been monitored by Chuck Thomas from the DEQ. Dupuis reiterated the well information from the last meeting and that no water will be taken from residents. The well field development will begin next week and on July 17th the final eight hour test required by the DEQ will be conducted. Mahaney inquired if the final well test needs to be approved by the state. Dupuis responded, yes.

Throenle addressed the sewer line that KBIC will be building. It is on an MDOT easement, the casino will pay for the construction of the sewer line and will then be a customer of the Township when the Township takes ownership of the sewer line. This will only affect the residents who choose to hook up to the new sewer line.

An audience member asked about security at the casino. Don Wren from KBIC addressed security issues and explained that KBIC has a full time police force.

Meister brought up a possible conflict of interest as his son works for GEI and is involved in the casino project. The Commissioners all agreed that there is no conflict of interest and value Meister's input in this decision.

Kangas expressed a concern over the 30 day paperwork requirement regarding the clerical error and would rather follow a democratic process than a bureaucratic process. Kangas suggested the timeline be amended for future meetings to avoid wasting time. Kangas stated that the Commission will follow the process as required for this particular meeting. Meister suggested it be added to a future agenda to correct the timeline. White and Milton agreed. Milton brought up the fact that the Commission approved the site plan before and he is in favor of approving it tonight. Meister stated that there is no new information.

Kangas reiterated Throenle's statement regarding the highway; that MDOT has the final say. As a Commissioner, Kangas would not recommend something that was not safe and feels it is not the Commissioners place to decide how the highway should be done. Highway safety has to prevail in that situation.

Kangas moved, Mahaney seconded that after staff review and Commissioner discussion, Site Plan Review Application SR 17-35 is approved in accordance with the standards outlined in Section IX of the Zoning Ordinance, with the following condition:

- The letter dated June 16, 2017 regarding landscaping issues is part of the accepted site plan review.

C. Conditional Use Permit CU 17-04 – Dutch Homes, LLC Campground

1. Staff Introduction - Throenle addressed an error that has led to the CU permit for the campground showing up on tonight's agenda; if approved, the Commission will proceed directly to the site plan review. Mahaney asked if the green area on the map in the packet is AF. Kangas asked if the area shown had been previously prepped as a golf course. Throenle responded yes and then showed a graphic to clarify the location of the proposed campground for the Commissioners. Throenle stated that there are two concerns regarding this particular location; 1. The residential property to the North and the potential development of said property. 2. The entrance to the property comes directly Chocoy Downs Rd. Throenle stated that the campground would have to be licensed by the State of Michigan before opening.

2. Public Hearing Open at 8:15 p.m.

Mark Maki – 370 Karen Road – Asked if there is a site plan available. Mahaney stated that site plan review comes next. Commented on conditional use requirements; garbage, police, fire, trash and traffic, type of road, impact on river, wetlands and natural characteristics. Maki proceeded to tell the Commission how he feels they should interpret the conditional use permit.

Deborah Mulcahey – 633 Lakewood Lane – Concerned that while looking at the map she could not figure out where the Chocoy River is, is it in a flood plain, flood zone. Concerned about traffic and passing lanes for casino. Discussed calling of a meeting in under 30 days and wants the public to have 30 days to review items.

Public Hearing Closed at 8:20

3. Commission Discussion -

Milton is asking for clarification on tonight's process. Mahaney explained that the Commissioners can approve the conditional use permit to allow a campground and then deny the site plan if they feel it is unacceptable. Milton asked if this was applicable to this AF parcel. Throenle responded, yes. Meister stated that usually conditional use and site plan are discussed together. Throenle responded that tonight they are separate. Meister asked what recommendation the Commission gave to Mr. Smith the last time he came to this body for advice and direction. Throenle responded, Smith was told he needed rezoning approval and prove that he has access to the parcel through an easement. Meister stated that if the Commission is just approving conditional use then it meets the requirements, well isolated and buffered. Meister and Mahaney both question the road and traffic, however, feel it is more part of the site plan. Milton states that it is Consistent with the area. Mahaney states that it is a large enough parcel and questioned the squiggly line. Throenle stated that is the Chocoley River and that it shows up that way on the map as the southern border of the property. Mahaney asked if the campground needs a DEQ permit. Throenle stated yes and they need to have a State of Michigan operator's license as well. Meister asked what the distance from the campground sites to the river. Al Conrad, project manager, stated half a mile. Meister asked what the setbacks from the camp sites to the property line are. Conrad responded 100 feet.

Meister moved, White seconded that after public comment and staff review and analysis in consideration of Conditional Use application CU 17 04, and the understanding that the proposed use is compliant with all terms of Section 16.2 Conditional Use Permits Basis of Determination and General Standards and the intent of the Zoning Ordinance, the Planning Commission approves the Conditional Use Permit 17 04.

D. Site Plan Review SR 17-34 – Dutch Homes, LLC Campground

1. Staff Introduction – Part of the Commissioner discussion
2. Applicant Discussion – Part of the Commissioner discussion
3. Commissioner Discussion –

Mahaney stated that the campground parcels look close to the property line. Conrad stated that the road is twenty feet off of the property line and the campsites are thirty feet. Mahaney asked how far from the northern boundary line south to the campsites; where the tail end of that camper would park. Conrad discussed the two way road. Mahaney asked what the proposed road surface is. Conrad stated that NMU insisted on gravel. Meister commented that it seems that would create a dust problem by the cart sheds. Conrad stated that there is continuous traffic there already from the golf course. Kangas asked where the road would travel. Mahaney asked if Conrad is responsible for that road. Conrad stated they are responsible for the easement and that they maintain NMU's roads. Mahaney asked if NMU is aware of the development. Conrad responded yes and the easement was moved 700 feet at Conrad's expense with NMU's approval. Mahaney asked if NMU was notified. Throenle responded, yes and then showed on a graphic the other properties that were notified.

White asked if they are just providing electrical for the campground sites. Conrad responded, full hookup with electrical and water and then discussed the well and a pumping test. Mahaney asked if the well pumping test was monitored by the DEQ. Conrad responded that it was monitored by McDonald Well Drilling and the information was forwarded to the health department which supplies the DEQ with all of their data. Meister asked if all water needed final approval by the DEQ. Throenle responded yes. Mahaney asked about NMU not allowing ATV's on that easement. Conrad responded, yes and that they are discussing an easement with KBIC. Throenle addressed the Commission to let them know that ATV/ORV discussion should not be on the table at this time as Chocolay does not allow ATV/ORV traffic in that area. Throenle added that within the campground they may use ATV's / ORV's.

Mahaney asked if there are any concerns for Conrad for the residential property to his north, specifically fencing. Conrad responded that the property is currently vacant and that there is a natural ten foot barrier of jack pine and that if need be in the future they would put up a fence. Mesiter commented that a well planted tree line is a better barrier.

Meister asked about traffic and if it is an MDOT responsibility. Throenle addressed public concerns regarding the amount of traffic entering and existing off of M-28 as there will be 91 sites. The campground is open May through October, therefore, traffic is only a concern during those months. The Commissioners discussed other campgrounds and their lack of entrance/exit lanes to the campground. Milton asked about a sign. Throenle responded that is a different issue. Mahaney asked how MDOT could be involved. Throenle suggested that Kangas put it on the 41 Corridor group's radar. Kangas responded that he would run it by the group. Conrad discussed that the campground would be promoted as a seasonal rental so there is not so much in and out. They plan on utilizing a Pure Michigan DOT sign. White asked the name. Conrad responded, Stay and Play.

Throenle addressed the fact that this is a unique situation as the entrance goes through a residential area. Conrad stated that there are eight to nine homes. Meister stated that the residents chose to build on an entrance road to the golf course and are familiar with the traffic. Kangas stated that the campground traffic is usually safer, slower traffic than what you have on the highway. White is all for it and for developing in that area. Meister is concerned about the dust by the clubhouse, but if NMU requested it he is ok with it. Milton asked if they will have home brew like Gitchee Gumme. Conrad stated that on the site plan there will be a home brew, there will be a drain field and septic tank and that the soil analysis shows great sand that is very permeable. Kangas questioned the location for the waste. Conrad stated that the bar would be 150 feet from it.

Mahaney asked if the campground will be completely shut down October through May. Conrad responded that water will be shut down prior to the first freeze. Throenle stated that no matter what it will close by October 31, freeze or not. Mahaney asked about people being able to access it year round. Conrad stated that there will be a gate for people wanting to use it as a day camp with no water and they will not plow through the winter. Throenle addressed the ninety day maximum to live in an RV. The Commissioners discussed it and after Throenle researched the ordinance, it does not apply to campgrounds.

White moved, Kangas seconded that after staff review and Commissioner discussion, Site Plan Review Application SR 17-34 is approved in accordance with the standards outlined in Section IX of the Zoning Ordinance, with the following condition:

- Proof of final DEQ licensing and approval

VIII. UNFINISHED BUSINESS

A. Site Plan Review SR 17-33 – Hudson Storage Units

1. Staff Introduction - Throenle stated that the Site Plan is pretty much the same, the difference in this particular application is the redesign as requested by the Commissioners at the previous meeting regarding snow removal, lighting, run off, storm water, fencing, easements for eastern storage unit and security.
2. Applicant Discussion – Part of the Commissioners discussion
3. Commissioner Discussion –

Mark Daavetilla, UP Engineers and Architects, questioned the easement. Mahaney responded that it is important and that if that parcel would be sold without an easement the new owner has no access. Mahaney stated that it looks like they are trying to cram as much as possible on the space. The building should be shifted over to eliminate the problem. Daavetilla feels that the access easement would be up to the future buyer to deal with that. Milton stated that it is a legal document that is submitted to the county that allows that parcel to be accessed. Daavetilla hopes to have everything approved and the access easement as a contingency. Mahaney addressed the concerns from the last meeting; the fence along the south side and that the land owners from the west and south expressed their concerns at tonight's meeting regarding fencing, natural barriers of trees and water retention. Mahaney stated that he drove back there and that the property line is right on top of the group home and that all water is going in that direction. Daavetilla stated that there are some trees being kept as they are outside of Hudson's property line and he addressed that the lighting will be downcast and attached to the buildings for security. Mahaney questioned lighting. Throenle stated that it is not part of this site plan review.

Meister asked if there will be a ditch along the southern property line for storm water. Daavetilla responded, yes, all of the storm water will go to the basin. White directed the Commissioners to C103. Daavetilla asked if there is a storm water, snow removal ordinance that he can refer to. Mahaney stated that it is a concern for the existing neighbors and that the southern lot line drops toward the group home. Throenle addressed the aesthetic aspect more than zoning and that the property division should have adequate buffers.

Daavetilla stated that as undeveloped property, all of the snow and runoff melt away anyway. Mahaney stated when developed there will be hard surfaces such as metal roofs, and paved surfaces that will cause the melting snow and water run off to go directly south instead of being partially absorbed into the ground. Daavetilla stated that they went with a five year storm.

Milton asked the height of the snow pile. Daavetilla does not know and continued to ask for an ordinance to refer to. Kangas states that he sees the attempt being made to remove water properly, but it is not adequate in his opinion. Mahaney stated that snow removal is always a guess. Kangas asked how often snow is removed. Mahaney stated, after a snow storm. Meister asked if the five year flood plan accounts for just the buildings or does that cover the gravel areas. Daavetilla responded top soil and gravel.

Mahaney states the concern for a fence to give privacy to the group home Daavetilla asked if the fence would be for screening, privacy and security, or headlights. Kangas replied that it would be a visual buffer between the zoning districts. Milton stated it would be to make sure the snow stays on their property.

Kangas wants to recommend it with three conditions. Kangas wants the easement, fence and curbing. Mahaney wants to deny based upon conditions and bring it back with a proper site plan. Commissioners Meister, Kangas and Mahaney discussed what a proper site plan would entail. Daavetilla stated that they want to be good neighbors and would provide what is required or desired and then brought up the access easement. White asked the possibility of going from three buildings to two. Mullen-Campbell suggested an L-Shaped building. Mahaney stated that those suggestions would eliminate the easement problem.

Throenle stated that the easement needs to be in place prior to construction. Milton said it would have to be done through a surveyor or lawyer. Daavetilla feels that an easement can be obtained in twenty minutes. Throenle stated that has to be a legal document and to go through filing in the courts. Kangas stated it has to be recorded. White interjected, recorded with the county. Discussion of changing plans, Daavetilla stated that would require new building permits.

Daavetilla stated that Hudson wants to use some of the storage units for personal property. Kangas stated that he gets what Hudson is trying to accomplish and if it means the mess will be cleaned up it gives him more incentive to see this project happen, however, the issue is the surrounding properties and considering this development as if it were separate ownership; it needs to be looked at long term. Mahaney suggested moving the building over. Daavetilla stated the plans are not changing.

Kangas moved, Milton seconded, that after staff review and Commissioner discussion, Site Plan Review Application SR 17-33 is approved in accordance with the standards outlined in Section IX of the Zoning Ordinance, with the following conditions:

- Proof of access easement on parcel 52-02-440-002-00 or moving of the building to accommodate the same
- Provide screening by way of fencing on the south property line
- Curbing or bollards along the west property line to restrict traffic from continuing westward off the property

Vote: Ayes: 3 Nays: 3 (Mahaney, White, Mullen-Cambell) MOTION FAILED

Further Commissioner discussion; Mahaney stated we have a tie and questioned Throenle as to what happens next. Throenle informed the Commissioners as to how they may proceed. Mahaney's comment is that he is not opposed to the use of the property, he is opposed to the design. White and Mullen-Campbell both agreed with Mahaney. White feels it should be developed. Mahaney feels it is being crammed and would be a burden to surrounding properties and the lack of an easement is a glaring error on the site plan.

Daavetilla questioned if the Commissioners may deny based on the fact that they do not like the design. Mahaney interjected, the lay-out, not the design. Throenle informed the Commissioners that they may deny based upon specific reasons listed so the applicant may address/correct them in order to move forward. Daavetilla feels all of the requirements have been met and that the vote should be based on that, not whether the Commissioners like the look of it. Throenle cautioned the Commissioners that in order to deny the application, there needs to be specific reasons. White stated if we do not like the design it is not a good enough reason to deny. Throenle stated, yes. White stated she will change her vote. Throenle stated that the motion needs to be restated with new wording and a new vote.

Meister addressed the five year storm and that we need to trust that the engineers are accurate. Daavetilla stated that the engineers have met all of the specifications. Mahaney stated he still has a problem with how close the building is to the property line and would like to see a new site plan. Mullen-Campbell asked about lighting. Meister stated that lighting needs to meet Township standards. Throenle stated that the lighting ordinance requirements are quite extensive. Kangas is in support as long as the easement is completed prior to construction, natural tree buffers remain and would not need to see anything else except restricting traffic to the west.

Throenle and the Commissioners discussed options and rules to approve, deny or do a new motion.

Milton moved, White seconded, that after staff review and Commissioner discussion, Site Plan Review Application SR 17-33 is approved in accordance with the standards outlined in Section IX of the Zoning Ordinance, with the following conditions:

- Proof of access easement on parcel 52-02-440-002-00 be obtained prior to proceeding with the construction of the storage buildings
- Bollards or some sort of traffic control device on west to keep cars from accessing the property next door
- Fence or barrier to south to give the appearance of a screen including trees
- Downcast lighting

B. Mixed Use Corridor – moved to July 17, 2017 agenda

C. Short Term Rentals – moved to July 17, 2017 agenda

IX. PUBLIC COMMENT

Mark Maki – 370 Karen Road - Discussed the easement and how to obtain one. Brought up the KBIC driveway across residential zone. Talked about amending the plat for an easement. Mahaney questioned Maki, won't their lawyers tell them that. Maki responded, lawyers will let them do whatever they want. The township needs to tell them what to do.

Deborah Mulcahey – 633 Lakewood Lane – Pleased with review of project and asked what happened with Jet Black and how poor it looks; fence is still not constructed. Related to that, she brought up the casino and water issues. She feels that those questions and issues were not addressed. Storage units should have vegetative buffer along the fence on the outside so the public sees the vegetative buffer.

IV. PUBLIC COMMENT

Jenny Camerata – 669 Lakewood Lane – Opposed to short term rentals when homeowner is not present, however, she is ok with renting a room.

Deborah Mulcahey – 633 Lakewood Lane – She is not opposed to short term rentals, but to where short term rentals are allowed. Asked if short term rentals are conditional use or carte blanche. She wants all of her comments as part of public record. She commented on zoning history. Her opinions on short term rentals included concerns about decrease in affordable housing, decrease in housing values, elevated prices for property, they are a commercial operation and they are an economic disadvantage.

Mark Maki – 370 Karen Road – Commented on the Township’s lack of enforcement. Proposed language for short term rentals lacks a focus.

Discussed the way Commissioners should do things. He stated that short term rentals should not be allowed in R1 and WFR zones. He commented that Jennifer Thum's township emails were intentionally deleted.

June Rydholm – 221 Lakewood Lane – Concerned with short term rentals using beach, families bringing tents and trailers when no homeowner is present. Feels it is dangerous with dogs, noise, beer parties. Township should watch who is buying property.

Peter Ollila – 633 Lakewood Lane – He is opposed to short term rentals and they need to be enforced.

Lori Krzymowski – 741 Lakewood Lane – She does not want short term rentals in her neighborhood because of the disruption from renters. Doctors live in the neighborhood and they need sleep and a good quality of life. She does not want short term rentals allowed anywhere, if they are allowed they should be limited to a certain area and have hard wired smoke detectors.

Stepanie Gencheff – 597 Lakewood Lane – She is opposed to short term rentals less than thirty days.

Public Comment Closed at 7:25 p.m.

VIII. UNFINISHED BUSINESS

A. Mixed use corridor

Staff Introduction – Throenle stated this has been brought back for continued discussion and the goal is to wrap it up in the next few meetings. Throenle directed the Commissioners to keep in mind the five questions on page VIII.A that need to be considered/answered while having the discussion.

Commissioner Discussion – The Commissioners, with direction and advice from Throenle, discussed and went through the mixed use corridor matrix and re-categorized, combined and deleted various items. Throenle stated that the revised matrix will be brought before the Commissioners for review at a future meeting.

The Commissioners decided to review the new matrix at the next meeting and then notify the parcel owners of a public hearing regarding changes when necessary.

B. Short Term Rentals

Staff Introduction – Throenle addressed Maki’s public comment regarding Jennifer Thum’s deleted emails. He stated that no emails have ever been intentionally deleted. There is a two year retention policy and that covers Thum’s emails. Throenle stated for the record that he has never told anyone that they could rent their property as a short term rental, nor has anyone from the Township. Throenle stated that the language concerning short term rentals has not been defined. Throenle directed the Commissioners to note the highlighted verbiage in the proposed language sections for the definitions. The word “family” needs to be defined for use in the definitions. Mahaney asked if there is legal precedent for the word family. Throenle stated no. Throenle proposed that the definition for Rural Character be pulled out of the definitions and placed as a precursor at the front of the Zoning Ordinance.

Commissioner Discussion – Mahaney read verbatim the current and proposed language for the Zoning Ordinance Definitions in relation to short term rentals. After discussion of each definition/proposed definition the Commissioners approved the proposed definitions for Bed and Breakfast; Campground; Dwelling, Multi-Family; Dwelling, Single-Family; Hotel; Recreational Unit; Recreational Structure; Resort; and Structure. Throenle will research riparian rights, as brought up by Milton, to possibly add to the Rural Character section.

The proposed definition for Short Term Rental changed to: A dwelling unit providing temporary accommodations for periods as short as one overnight stay. Such rentals must meet the established regulations for Short Term Rentals (Section to be defined). Such rentals are not permitted in any zoning district if restricted by deeds or covenants.

C. Non-Conforming Lots

Staff Introduction – Throenle stated that this is on the agenda to remediate non-conforming lots/parcels that have been zoned inappropriately in 2008; for example parcels zoned as waterfront that do not touch any water. The goal is to rezone the non-conforming lots to bring some consistency. Throenle directed the Commissioners to the three main concerns from residents are listed on page VIII.C.

Commissioner Discussion – Throenle would like to bring a list of the non-conforming lots to the next meeting for remediation. Mahaney asked Throenle to clarify that the goal is to bring the non-conforming lots into the existing zoning districts. Throenle stated yes, to bring them into a conforming status. Mahaney confirmed that this will be accomplished in the next meeting.

IX. PUBLIC COMMENT

Deborah Mulcahey – 633 Lakewood Lane – Discussed and quoted Jennifer Thum’s letter. Family is a nebulous issue, it should be looked at as a number, don’t say family. A definition of short term rental is already in the ordinance under resort. She wants to know if short term rentals are approved or not. If so, why aren’t we enforcing them.

Lori Krzymowski – 741 Lakewood Lane – Referred to five year master plan and asked if the Commissioners were familiar with a charrette. She described a charrette and how it works and suggested that the Commissioners may consider utilizing a charrette.

Stephanie Gencheff – 597 Lakewood Lane – Asked Throenle to answer Mulcahey’s question about where short term rentals are allowed. Throenle stated that he would not because it is part of public comment.

Peter Ollila – 633 Lakewood Lane – Why do we have ordinances if we are not enforcing them. He knows short term rentals are controversial.

X. COMMISSIONER’S COMMENTS

Mahaney – None

Meister – None

Mullen-Campbell – None

XI. DIRECTOR’S COMMENTS

Throenle presented an interactive map to the Commissioners. The interactive map was created by Joe Lawry, Steve Lawry’s son, who did the maps while interning with the Township. Throenle demonstrated for the Commissioners and audience how it works.

XII. INFORMATIONAL ITEMS AND CORRESPONDENCE

Throenle informed the Commissioners that he will not be available for the August 21, 2017 Planning Commission Meeting. He asked the Commissioners if they would prefer to keep the date as scheduled, change the date, or postpone. The Commissioners agreed to postpone to the September 18, 2017 regularly scheduled meeting.

Mahaney motioned, Kangas seconded to schedule the next meeting for September 18, 2017 and skip the August meeting.

IV. PUBLIC COMMENT

Throenle indicated there are two spokespersons that would like to do a presentation on the Short Term Rental issue, and would like additional time to speak. Mahaney questioned how long the presentation will be – it was indicated by spokespersons Jennifer Bruggink and Scott Emerson that it would take approximately 10 minutes. The Planning Commission approved this, and after discussion on where to add this item, it was decided it should be dealt with as a presentation.

Motion by White, and seconded by Meister that the presentation be included as part of agenda under Item VI. Presentations, with a limit of ten minutes.

Vote: Ayes: 7 Nays: 0 MOTION CARRIED

Patrick Dudley, 2413 M-28 East – he is a vacation rental owner who opposes any bans of vacation rentals in Chocolay Township. He appreciates the concerns of the residents of Lakewood Lane, but feels there are other ways to resolve issues rather than outright bans. He has owned his house since 1990, and started doing vacation rentals in 2005 when family circumstances changed. The rental dollars pay for the property taxes and upkeep of the home he plans to retire to. He rents strictly through Airbnb, and has strict rules that the renters must comply with. He knows of no complaints from the neighbors. Many of his renters return every year, and have some type of tie to the area – current and former residents of Marquette County and parents of NMU students. He pays 6% sales tax, along with higher property taxes. When he travels for work, he almost exclusively stays in short term rentals. This allows him a better experience of the community. The issue on Lakewood Lane appears to be a lousy neighbor issue. He feels there are many ways to control this – a permit process, with maximum occupancy, permit fee, number of homes allowed as short term rentals per applicant, renewal process, complaints substantiated. Also, there should be a safety check. He feels banning a single area opens up the issue for a ban Township wide.

Kenlyn Hubbard, 121 Wintergreen – Hubbard's in-laws live at 739 Lakewood Lane. She supports short term rentals – she feels people take better care of their property. She stated that many people have family-owned camps along Lakewood Lane that they would like to keep in the family and retire to. Short term rentals are a way to provide an income that would allow the taxes and upkeep on the property until the time they can retire. There are other ways to control short term rentals. The Township needs to allow the community to expand.

Hal Pawley, 643 Lakewood Lane – he has lived there for 23 years, and is definitely against short term rentals. He has four places that do short term rentals within 1/4 mile of his house, and they have not done anything to improve their properties. He is against all the disturbances that come with short term rentals – parties, music, fireworks. This is not why he moved to Lakewood Lane. He tried to confront on his own, but now calls the Chocolay Police Department whenever there is a problem. He thinks the Township should take action to put an end to short term rentals.

Ruth Ziel, 734 Lakewood Lane – she is one of seven families that have deeded access to a pathway to the beach. Last year she was told by a renter that she was not allowed on the beach. When everyone left, and the places were closed, there was a lot of garbage. She ended cleaning up after the renters. She feels there should be phone numbers for residents to call if there is a problem. She has used Airbnb and there are always numbers posted. Trash is also put out on Sunday when the renters leave, and not picked up until Wednesday – this creates a nuisance with animals and birds. Has the Planning Commission considered the septic systems and the age of these systems. There is a lot of work to be done.

George Krzysmoski, 741 Lakewood Lane – there are always concerns about trash, septic and water, but he would like to bring up issues such as tax fraud and insurance fraud – when renting out a house, you are not insured with a homeowner's policy. There are lots of safety issues. There is a lot of work that needs to be done. We are encouraging tax fraud by allowing the rentals.

Peter Ollila, 633 Lakewood Lane – opposed to short term rentals. The Planning Commission needs to reflect on what has been going on since 2011. The former supervisor, Gary Walker, and the current supervisor, Richard Bohjanen, have both stated on record at Township meetings “short term rentals are not illegal because they are not prohibited in the waterfront district”. The only thing that is permitted in the Waterfront Residential is a single family dwelling. Zoning laws throughout the state are written to show what is permitted. He went on to cite a Supreme Court decision from 2003. Some of his neighbors have been getting questionnaires from their insurance companies concerning number of people in house and if they are related. This triggered him to call his insurance company – he has a residential policy that runs less than $1,000 per year. In questioning his insurance company, a long term rental policy would cost approximately 2 – 2 1/2 times the residential amount, and his company would not offer a policy on short term rentals. This would be under a resort / commercial basis and would cost 4 – 5 times the amount.

Stephanie Gencheff, 597 Lakewood Lane – Lakewood Lane lots are sometimes only 50 feet wide. Some homes are 20 feet away from the next home. She likes knowing who is sleeping 20 feet away from her, and does not feel this makes her selfish. The difference between a hotel and short term rental is that you can call the front desk of a hotel and have the problem taken care of. After the Township Board meeting the previous Monday, where M-28 short term rentals showed support, she went to the neighbors of the short-term rentals that were at the meeting. There was mixed feelings. She is having trouble understanding why the Township Board and Planning Commission feel so compelled to ignore Lakewood Lane residents who have gone on record stating their opposition to short term rentals.

Richard Bohjanen, 140 Edgewood Drive – (Township Supervisor) He made a couple points. (1) Definitions must be concise, clear and true; (2) Most resorts are rentals, but not all rentals are resorts; (3) Some hotels are short term rentals, but not all residences are hotels; (4) It may be more appropriate to define the term vacation rentals; (5) It appears that we deal with long term rentals in the same way as short term rentals, that is, they are not delineated in the ordinance, (6) In order to be understood by all, the ordinance needs to be amended; and he finished with (7) “Not everything stated as fact is factual, some are opinions. These are my opinions.”

Marla Buckmaster, 519 Lakewood Lane – has lived at this address for 22 years and prior to that she lived in the 600 block of Lakewood Lane – has lived on Lakewood Lane since 1971. She loves Lakewood Lane, loves the diversity of Lakewood Lane. She loves walking the beach and meeting the people that live there – sometimes as many as 20 miles per day. Up until three years ago, when she had to stop walking, she knew almost everyone on the beach. There were no complaints on short term rentals. She received a phone call a couple weeks ago in regards to the petition that was being circulated in opposition to short term rentals. Her response to the caller was that short rentals have always been a part of Lakewood Lane, that she loves the eclectic nature of Lakewood Lane, and that she does not believe laws should be based on one bad experience of one person. They should be based on the negative experience of a broader population. Observations were that stories seemed to grow (climbing an apple tree to cutting down an apple tree) and that people who signed the petition may not have had an understanding of what they were signing. She also stated that people that signed the petition received notice of the last Township Board meeting, and those that were unwilling to sign the petition were not notified, so the deck was stacked in opposition to short term rentals. She feels there is a “mass hysteria” on Lakewood Lane based on some untruths, some exaggerated events, and a lack of factual information.

Kim Parker, has short term rental on 483 Lakewood Lane – he would like to comment on the trash, disorderly conduct, and other things. People, whether they are residents, short term renters, or long term renters, can be bad. He has been renting for ten years with no complaints. He also does not understand the magic number of 30 days – a person can be a bad renter no matter what the time frame. Short term renters are good for the economy. He works with Airbnb who is very good at vetting.

Deborah Mulcahey, 633 Lakewood Lane – the magic of 30 days is based on the ordinance. She is concerned about the short term rental definitions. She is totally opposed to short term rentals on Lakewood Lane. She would like to know what the Planning Commission vision is. If the plan is to allow short term rentals along Lakewood Lane, she would ask that the Planning Commission remove Lakewood Lane from the WFR zoning district and make a separate zoning district for the properties that are abutted by Lake Superior and a county road, which would include north side of Lakewood Lane along with the properties on Shot Point. If short term rentals go forward, she would ask that they be a conditional use as opposed to permitted use. The Master Plan before 2015 did not include anything on short term rentals. The current zoning ordinance does not list vacation rentals or short term rentals as either a permitted use or a conditional use. In 2008, her property was converted to WFR from R1, and now the Township is looking to allow commercial operations. The Township should take into consideration everyone’s property rights. In the Master Plan, volunteers are discussed. Short term renters typically do not volunteer. There is also the issue of availability of affordable housing.

VI. PRESENTATIONS

Jennifer Briggink, 673 Lakewood Lane – she questioned if the members of the Planning Commission would like to have their neighbors changing on a regular basis. There was an overlay district to protect lakefront. Then Lakewood Lane was changed to WFR. She wants a sense of community and neighborhood that comes from having long term neighbors. This provides stability. She wants to be able to tell her children where to go in case of an emergency or if someone has an extra key – you can't do this with a short term renter. She is looking for community neighborhoods that build health, trust, resilience, relaxation, etc. There is a difference between Lakewood Lane and M-28. M-28 has bigger lots, more wooded, more private. The letters in the packet from people that are in support are not residents. The people that rent out their houses are businesses. Lakewood Lane should stay residential.

Scott Emerson, 119 Lakewood Lane – he has lived on Lakewood Lane for 38 years. He feels this is a global issue – there is a global boom in short term rentals, the definition of which is less than 30 days. This has been driven by web-based companies, and their business plans are very unique. The other term thrown around is “creative destruction”. Short term rental business plans encourage illegal activity. Zoning laws scramble to try to accommodate these business plans. He feels that this is a dangerous trend. The zoning laws are part of the resident's protection. As governments try to accommodate these businesses, problems have arose such as (1) decrease in availability of long term rentals; (2) creation of dark zones, which are blocks of outside investor properties; (3) increases in complaints, such as noise, trespass, creation of party houses, etc.; and, most importantly, (4) loss of neighborhood character – loss of sanctuary. When you look at integrated health, one thing that stands out is sense of community, and if this is lost, it increases your stress. Two things that are contributing to this are non-owner occupied short term rentals and density and concentration of short term rentals in residential zones. His recommendations to the Planning Commission are: (1) Don't rush this – it is continuing to evolve and sort itself out, and we need to learn from other's experience; (2) the main thing to address is the non-owner occupied short term rental; (3) Keep the Township regulations on this simple and enforceable; (4) Need to enforce the existing zoning ordinance; (5) Ordinance change proposal (short term rentals in all commercial zones, and short term rentals in all residential zones, including Lakewood Lane, and a conditional use with 5 acres or more). Handouts were given to Planning Commission.

Presentation closed at 8:25 PM. Short recess.

Meeting resumed at 8:32 PM.

IX. Short Term Rentals

Staff Introduction

Throenle indicated that on the cover memo, the Motion from the Township Board should be:

“Rhein moved Engle second to give the Planning Commission three months to come up with a viable plan to present to the Township Board on Short Term Rentals.”

MOTION CARRIED (Nays – Maki, White)

Throenle also indicated that when the packet was put together, the Short Term Rental Definition page was inadvertently left out. It has now been put as a separate handout to the Planning Commission, along with additional copies on the back table for the public. There is also one email that was received in the correct time frame.

Comments on the packet information: Short term rentals have been in the Township since the 1980's. Since that time, there have been six zoning administrators, five of them since 2002, one for a period of three months. With this change in administrators come different interpretations of the zoning ordinance. In regard to the Jennifer Thum letter of 2011, at the time there was a motion made to direct the staff to consult with the Township Attorney. There does not appear to be any follow up to this motion. Thum then resigned in February of 2012. He has consulted with the Police Department an outline of complaints generated from Lakewood Lane for the past year – nine complaints were found, most with the people not knowing the ordinances. There is a need to be able to get this information out. There is no distinction in the Police calls as to the type – short term rental, long term rental, resident. Throenle has had two rental related incidents reported to his office – one of someone showing up at the wrong residence by mistake to request a key and the other was concerning trash. There may also be group owners of a single property for consideration in this discussion.

Another consideration is that there are two bills in front of the Michigan Senate and House right now – Senate bill No. 329 and House bill No. 4503. Both are in committee right now, and have identical language. If approved as written, the discussion on short term rentals will become a moot point.

Throenle pointed out that as the Planning Commission goes forward, the definitions need to be concise, as there could be many interpretations.

Based on emails and discussion, Throenle stated the arguments for opposition are loud music and noise, unleashed pets, fireworks, no respect for property or neighbors, privacy issues, safety issues, and trash. The arguments for are enhanced tourism, assistance in paying for the existing property and keeping it in the family, income for local businesses, not a hotel or resort, property rights, and an option to use if circumstances change in the future. Throenle also discussed the term “commercial”.

Throenle explained that the Planning Commission is directed by the Township Board to come up with a viable plan in a three month period – there does not have to be an ordinance in place in that time frame. His recommendations are: (1) Develop a plan; and (2) Continue working on the short term rental ordinance at the same time.

Throenle pointed out that the document laying on the Commissioner's table was a petition that was signed by residents of Lakewood Lane – 183 signatures representing 135 properties.

Throenle also encouraged the Planning Commission to consider the long term vision for the Township – 10 to 15 years out. This should be based on the vision in the Master Plan.

Commission Discussion

Mahaney asked how many properties are in the waterfront district. Throenle explained he has two maps that show Lake Superior property – Lakewood Lane to Shot Point. It does not include anything on the river or on Kawbawgam Lake. This would include the ECF districts that are classified as Superior 1 and Superior 2. When running a report on properties that are less than 100% homestead, 37% fall into this category.

Smith questioned why, if we have a Zoning Ordinance and it appears that it is being violated consistently, we are not enforcing it. Throenle indicated it comes back to ambiguity of the ordinance – very hard to take to court and enforce.

Mahaney indicated that he has been researching this – this is a tough issue, and with the bills that are in the House and Senate he wonders what will happen if they do go through. There is a lot to consider.

Smith asked if there has ever been an attorney opinion requested. Throenle indicated that the first was a verbal from Mike Summers and the second was a written from Roger Zappa.

Kangas felt that the Planning Commission needs to adopt a definition for short term rental (or vacation rental), there will continue to be the ambiguity which makes it a challenge for staff to be able to enforce it. The reason that this is so public now is because of the internet – properties can no longer fly under the radar. He feels that it ultimately comes down to the property owner / manager responsibility. Attention has been diverted at this point to focus on one small district, when the real need is to take a look at the big picture. Need to focus on the definition.

Milton indicated that he like the term “vacation rental” – he feels this term fits better.

Meister thought it would be useful to include other concerns when talking about short term rentals such as requirements, restrictions, protection of property owners, and the entire township.

Kangas indicated that in his time on the Planning Commission there has never been talk of allowing short term rentals unrestricted in the Township.

Smith indicated that he would like there to be some type of criteria behind the definition of short term rentals. No reason to reinvent the wheel.

Meister feels the definition is a good place to start. Kangas feels if you have a definition it allows you to make a better determination on which district it would be considered appropriate in.

Throenle indicated that the definition should be fluid.

Smith moved, Kangas seconded, to have the Planning Director follow through on the motion that was made on September 12, 2011 and look at a broad range of communities for the next meeting.

Vote: Ayes: 7 Nays: 0

MOTION CARRIED

X. PUBLIC COMMENT

Peter Ollila, 633 Lakewood Lane – the proposed definition of short term rentals – the first sentence needs boundaries. Less than 30 days, monthly, what about February?

John Peterson, 733 Lakewood Lane – has live here for 47 years. Has not seen any change in the fireworks ordinance – still the same from year to year. People are complaining about the trash problem – people are putting out there in bags - need to put in garbage cans. The people who took the petition up and down Lakewood Lane were basically harassing the public.

Jennifer Bruggink, 673 Lakewood Lane – the one thing that wasn't mentioned previously was community. Other issues can be resolved. Community is about quality of life. She thinks there approximately 200 – 225 parcels on Lakewood Lane with water frontage. She apologized for the fact that some residents may have felt harassed – if it's hard to tell someone you won't sign their petition think of how hard it would be to tell someone you don't like what they are doing. Hopes there are some rules that can be made concerning short term rentals.

Kenlyn Hubbard, 121 Wintergreen Trail – wanted to talk about community and neighbors. Her mother-in-law who lives on Lakewood Lane has a neighbor on one side who is wonderful, on the other side is the neighbor from hell. Everyone wants community and good neighbors. Short term rentals are not a bad thing – make some rules, but don't cut them out. Community comes from the heart, not property.

Deborah Mulcahey, 633 Lakewood Lane – the two pieces of legislation in committee – suggested the Planning Commission look at the Birch Township Supreme Court decision. Sense of community and property rights are important to her. The WFR district specifically says the permitted use is single family dwellings. There is nothing about short term rentals. Mulcahey, Jennifer Thum, and Mike Summers had many discussions about this issue. She stated that the Supreme Court has ruled that if something is not specified as allowed, then it is not allowed. Any attorney will say that enforcement may be problematic. Mulcahey read one sentence from a document from a previous attorney, "... The conversion of what is otherwise a single family dwelling in a residential for seasonal rental on a periodic basis to different families or groups is a commercial use by definition ...” If you are going to have zoning, you should do the enforcement.

Public comment closed at 9:52.

XI. COMMISSIONER'S COMMENTS

White – Stated that this is her last meeting. She has given notice to Supervisor Bohjanen than she no longer wishes to serve on the Planning Commission. She stated she has learned a great deal, and has a lot of respect for the members of the Planning Commission. The Planning Commission is derived of many talents and much experience – they give up their time for the community and the citizens should be proud of all the work that they have done.

Milton – None

Kangas – Something to remember during the short term rental discussion – if it's not enforceable, the Planning Commission is probably wasting their time.

Mullen-Campbell – Don't be too discouraged – there is a lot to digest on the subject of short term rentals. Feels the Planning Commission needs to persevere.

Smith – None

Meister – Feels the Planning Commission needs to get the overlay district back on the agenda.

Mahaney – Thanked the audience for their comments. Also wondered about the tablets – Suzanne will have a report the next meeting.

XII. DIRECTOR'S COMMENTS

Throenle thanked the Planning Commission for their patience, and also apologized for the quality of the packets.

Throenle had also recently completed FEMA training and has been designated as the Flood Plain Manager for Chocolay Township. In the future, this may mean looking at certifying our community which would possibly help with reductions in flood insurance for the residents.

IV. PUBLIC COMMENT

Mark Maki, 370 Karen Road – referred to Throenle’s letter dated October 3 in the packet concerning short term rentals. Doesn’t agree with the statement, “...After reviewing public comment, staff has determined short term rentals there is no documented evidence that short term rentals are causing problems in the Township”. Maki then referred to a letter in the packet from Deborah Mulcahey stating that this has been on the agenda since 2011, and quoted several items from that letter.

Deborah Mulcahey, 633 Lakewood Lane---Commented on the Bed and Breakfast section of the mixed use district information. Objects to increase to six and in the multi district to 10. Mulcahey also asked Throenle if he had checked for efforts in historical protection along the lakeshore. Mulcahey feels that the Planning Commission is not moving along with short term rentals as directed by the Board. Also, has concerns about fires being allowed on the dunes. She feels there are many diversions when discussing short term rentals. Mulcahey would also like to see Lakewood Lane and Shot Point rezoned.

David McNamee, 809 Lakewood Lane---His property has been in the family since the 1940’s. Was approached with the petition, refused to sign. How many short term rentals are in Chocolay Township? Did research online, saw that many places are having many problems with the short term rentals. Seems there are laws in place, just need to be enforced. Maybe it's an enforcement problem? How many disturbance calls have had an Officer show up? Doesn't see the short term rental as a problem but does see the confrontation of people living on Lakewood Lane as a problem. They shouldn't be able to dictate what someone does with their property.

Kim Young, 2339 M-28 East---Her property has been in the family for generations. She has seen many properties from M-28 listed for sale as short term rentals on Airbnb, where present owner will show how to be managed as such. Marquette is growing and she feels the Township needs to be careful as to not sell out the limited water front for such use. Has talked with Throenle regarding these heated issues and feels that many voices should be heard and all pros and cons should be considered. She currently owns a commercial rental property in Marquette.

VII. NEW BUSINESS

A. Flood Plain Insurance Program Community Certification

Staff Introduction

Throenle attended a FEMA class regarding Flood Plain Insurance as his duties have been amended to include Flood Plain Management. As of 2015, when the new maps came out, it is required to have Flood Plain Insurance in certain areas of Chocoday Township. He introduced the Community Rating System (CRS) would allow residents to be eligible for a discount on the required insurance based this system. This is outlined in section VII.A.1 of the packet. This could have significant savings to the residents in those areas, who are required as part of their mortgage to carry this insurance. This process has already been initiated. He is asking the Commissioners if it would make sense to proceed. This rating system will help to inform the residents in those areas of the process involved in how we obtain their status in the Flood Plain. He also referred to the table (Preferred Risk Policy Premium Table) located in VII.A.6 of the packet. This would be the information that would be sent to the public.

Commission Discussion

Kangas asked what effort it would take to make this possible? Throenle stated it would be minimal as this information is published by FEMA. Then main thing would be getting this information out to the public.

Mahaney questioned the time frame. Throenle indicated that once you achieve the points it goes forward.

Meister asked if there was an annual renewal on the rate change—Throenle indicated that it was his understanding that it would happen when the individual insurance came up for renewal.

Mahaney asked how to get points. Throenle directed the Planning Commission to VII.A.1—Table 2. Told them some things are already done so this could be ready by spring.

Meister stated it sounded like it would be safer, save the residents some money and protect the properties.

Milton asked if on the maps you can find the residences. Throenle stated that the maps are laid over an aerial view---they are assumed in the flood plain unless they can be proven out. Throenle also stated that there is a link to the FEMA information on our website.

Mahaney asked if there are any other Upper Peninsula communities doing this rating system. Throenle stated there may be one other.

Smith questioned if this would make it easier to build on some of the properties in the Township. Throenle indicated that the CRS is about insurance costs and helping to keep them lower.

Mahaney asked if there would be public notice to the residents once the system is in place. Throenle indicated that this would be part of the educational process.

Throenle stated that Marquette County is a high flood area, so this plan would be beneficial to many residents.

Kangas moved, Rhein seconded that the Zoning Administrator begin the process for a Community Rating System (CRS) certification for the Township.

VIII. OLD BUSINESS

A. US41/M-28 Business Overlay District

Staff Introduction

Throenle asked that the Planning Commission move this along as it had been on hold. He referred to revised maps which are now included in the packet. He wanted to go over the definitions and language for the overlay district to allow multiple possibilities on the same parcel. There are several that need to be considered, one being the Church across the street. It is zoned R1 and cannot be used as a commercial property as it stands. Another is the red house on the corner and is zoned commercial and the vacant property across the street. Kangas had come aboard in the middle of this process but has read through it and feels it makes sense except for the one change on the Site Plan Approval.

Site Plan Approval

Site plan approval shall be required in accordance with the requirements of Section 9, Site Plan Review. The type of site plan review required and the site plan review process shall follow the procedures identified in Section 9. Site plans must contain all of the information required in Section IX.

Meister thought it seemed complete but does see some problems with the Table 1- Overlay District Used (page 7)-Commercial – Bar, tavern or other alcohol service establishment shows as conditional use in the table, and a permitted use in the narrative on page 9. Meister thought the table could be removed. Kangas pointed out that was a Quick Reference Guide. Table changed to show use as “Permitted”. Meister also showed that under the “Residential”, Multiple family dwelling unit was shown as “Permitted” in Table 1, but in the narrative it was listed as “Conditional” under “Apartments”, townhouses, condominiums, and other similar uses. This was changed to “Conditional” on Table 1.

Use	Permitted Use	Conditional Use
Commercial
Bar, tavern, or other alcohol service establishment	x
Residential
Dwelling unit in a mixed-use building	x
Live / work unit	x
Multiple-family dwelling unit		x

Mahaney had a question in the Recreational Facility on Page 3, concerning golf courses. After discussion, it was decided that golf courses be removed.

Word or Phrase	Definition
Recreation facility	A non-commercial recreational facility consisting of primarily open space including, but not limited to parks and playfields and playgrounds. and golf courses.

Meister has a question about “Building Entrances” on page 11. He felt there would be times you wouldn’t want entrances on two streets. Kangas questioned if it referred to the building entrance or the property. Based on the description, he is envisioning a Walgreens, on a corner lot with the main entrance oriented towards the corner. This was changed to include “Entrance to...”.

Building Entrances

Entrance to buildings located on corner lots or lots that front upon two or more streets or roads shall be required to have a principal entrance onto each street or a corner entrance oriented toward the intersection of the two streets.

Smith asked if there was anything pertaining to clear sight distances. Throenle said the only thing would be on page 1 under “Effective turning radius”. Kangas stated that this would mostly be under MDOT and would be required.

Kangas moved, Smith seconded, to accept US41/M28 Business Overlay District document as amended.

Vote: Ayes: 6 Nays: 0 MOTION CARRIED

Throenle indicated the next step is to schedule a Public Hearing to incorporate this into the Zoning Ordinance.

Rhein moved, Mahaney seconded to set up the Public Hearing on the Overlay District for the December Planning Commission meeting.

Vote: Ayes: 6 Nays: 0 MOTIONED CARRIED

B. Short Term Rentals

Staff Introduction

Throenle stated the intent for tonight it to look at the plan to be submitted to the Township Board at the December meeting. This plan is covered in section VIII.B.1 of the packet.

Throenle wanted to clear up a couple of comments that were made during public comment. There was a comment regarding two documented issues, but there have been no documented enforcements against any short term rental in the Township since the 1980’s. Throenle also cautioned on short term rentals being defined as vacation rentals, as this could be misleading. Short term rentals are used by many that are not necessarily using them for vacation, such as professionals associated with the hospital or college.

Throenle stated there may be a need for a Town Hall meeting to involve everyone in the Township.

Throenle presented VIII.B.1, which is a Short Term Rental Plan to be looked at by the Planning Commission for presenting to the Board. Throenle stated he is also in the process of looking at short term rentals in other communities in the Upper Peninsula, as Marquette is a unique environment.

Throenle feels this cannot be done in a short period of time. Once approved, the plan will be submitted to the Board. The Planning Commission will continue to work on the language.

Throenle referenced No. 7 on the Plan which discussed the House (4503) and Senate (329) bills concerning short term rentals that are still in committee. He is currently monitoring these, and the Michigan Township Association feels that there should be some progress on this by the end of the year. The State of Wisconsin has already passed their version of these bills.

Commission Discussion

Meister questioned No. 5 of the Plan---“Determine if language for long term rentals should be included in the Township Zoning Ordinance.” Kangas also wondered about No. 3 of the Plan---“Determine if definitions for long term rentals should be included in the Township Zoning Ordinance. Kangas stated that the definition does not currently exist, and there does not seem to be any problems. He feels that the distraction of long term definition should be eliminated, and they should focus on the language for short term rentals. Rhein feels at some point the Planning Commission should be looking at long term rentals.

After discussion, the Planning Commission agreed that No. 3 and No. 5 concerning long term rentals should be taken out of this plan.

Mahaney went on to read the remainder of this Plan.

Kangas stated it seemed like a good plan---wondered about setting milestones/dates for when items should be achieved. Smith wants to make sure that the Planning Commission stays on track for this.

Meister moved, Kangas seconded, that the Short Term Rental Plan, as changed, be submitted to the Township Board for consideration.

Vote: Ayes: 6 Nays: 0 MOTION CARRIED

IX. PUBLIC COMMENT

Mark Maki, 370 Karen Road - Feels everything to do with short term rentals is been stalled. There seem to be no rules anymore. There have been no short term rentals allowed on Lakewood Lane since 1977. Grand Marais Township has 26 people and they amended their ordinance years ago. He also asked for information on determinations made concerning violations.

Deborah Mulcahey, 633 Lakewood Lane - Feels this has been a constant game of Kick the Can since 2015. There has been talk tonight of safety, insurance, flood plains— those people chose to live in a floodplain – she chose to have her house on Lakewood Lane, but did not choose to be in a fire area from people that don't know when they should or should not have a fire. She questions the statement that people felt embarrassed or harassed by the petition – she received thank you letters and hugs. Questioned what will be done about people that are currently putting their short term rentals up for sale. She stated her definition of a vacation rental. Implored the Planning Commission to do their job.

Peter Ollila, 633 Lakewood Lane - Enforcement, if you're not going to do it, it's useless, waste of time. Do it or don't have an ordinance.

Lori Krzysmoski, 741 Lakewood Lane - Has some safety concerns, would like to see something added to the Short Term Rental Plan that would make a violation a civil infraction, not a criminal offense. Also, have some safety monitoring of the short term rentals - consider the density of short term rentals as smaller lot sizes don't meet current building standards, to maybe include some buffers, also fire safety.

X. COMMISSIONER'S COMMENTS

Rhein – None

Milton – None

Kangas – he has been sitting on the Planning Commission since the beginning of the year, and not since 2011. He feels the Planning Commission can be hasty on this and do it really sloppy and regret it. The process is slow, but wants to get it done right the first time.

Smith – None

Meister – Welcomed Don Rhein to the Planning Commission.

Mahaney – questioned when the tablets will be available versus the packets. Suzanne Sundell indicated one is being tested at this time, with the hopes of being able to provide them soon. Mahaney asked about the use process – Sundell indicated that they would keep their tablets, and when the packet was available they would receive an email to download from the website.

DIRECTOR'S COMMENTS-

Throenle requested the Planning Commission to consider rescheduling the November

20 meeting to November 27.

Mahaney moved, Kangas seconded, that the November Planning Commission meeting be moved from November 20 to November 27.

IV. PUBLIC COMMENT

Perry Laing, 625 Lakewood Lane – In favor of short term rentals, he has a cottage on the same property as his home that he wants to rent out. He is taxed as a second residence on this property therefore paying additional taxes. He likes short term rentals as he feels the owner has the ability to kick someone out after a few days vs. a longer rental term. Also thinks that the owner should have residency in at least the county of their property and have rules that are enforced. Would like to see a policy put in place to have the Police fine the renter for the first violation and if there is a second one, the owner should be fined. Also, if short term rentals are terminated from the Township, will there be any compensation for those that want to rent their properties.

Stephanie Gencheff, 597 Lakewood Lane – There are more issues than fireworks and noise involved with short term rentals. There are trespassing and parking issues as well that need to be addressed.

VII. NEW BUSINESS

A. Noise Ordinance Rewrite

Staff Introduction

Throenle stated in reference to the short term rentals, noise and fireworks are the most common complaints but there others such as trespassing and parking. In reviewing the ordinances related to these complaints he found that they need to be reviewed and revised. There are no signs in Chocolay Township determining “quiet zones” for hospitals or schools, and there was a section in the noise ordinance that prohibited construction on weekends.

Additional language was needed to bring the noise ordinance up-to-date. For example, noise from motorized lawn care equipment was not covered.

Commission Discussion

Mullen-Campbell asked about a decibel meter, Throenle stated some places have them but they are expensive and users have to be trained to use them properly.

Meister asked how to determine what is “excessive” as some people have a lower/higher tolerance of noise. Police could visit but is it hard to enforce?

Mahaney asked if Chocolay Township has had any noise issues that Throenle was aware of?

Throenle commented that this would be found in police records, but it was not reported to his office. This can be documented but is hard to enforce due to the fact that most times the source of the noise is hard to prove by the time law enforcement shows up.

The Commission had several questions and concerns pertaining to the existing ordinance and agreed it needed to be changed. Some of the concerns were: all construction, snow and trash removal, lawnmowers, signal devices, ice cream trucks, ski and snowmobile trails and emergency situations. After much discussion, the following revisions to the proposed ordinance were the decision of the Commissioners:

Ordinance 64 Noise

Section 4 Prohibition

(C) Snow removal, snow trail grooming, and commercial trash removal are exempt activities that can be performed any time.

Section 5 Prohibited Noises and Acts

(G) Construction or Repairing of Buildings and Roads

Except in the event of an emergency:

- i. The demolition, excavation, alteration, construction or repair of any building or structure other than between the hours of 7 a.m. and 10 p.m., where such activity results in the creation of unusually loud noise or noise which annoys, disturbs, injures, or endangers the comfort, rest, health, peace or safety of others.

ii. Road and general construction is exempt with prior approval from the Township Board.

(I) Business Operations and Other Premises Activities

- i. The carrying on of any business operations, or any other activities upon any premises in such a manner so as to create any excessive, unnecessary, or unusually loud noise, which disturbs, injures, or endangers the comfort, rest, health, peace or safety of others at a distance of fifty feet or more from the edge of the business ~~operation~~ property

Section 6 Violations

A violation of this Ordinance shall be deemed to be a civil infraction, and any person, firm, or entity found responsible therefore shall be subject to a fine of not to exceed ~~three~~ five hundred dollars ($~~300~~ 500.00) for each offense.

This Ordinance shall take effect thirty calendar days from February 12, 2017 ~~2018~~.

Kangas moved, Rhein seconded that proposed Ordinance 64 Noise to be presented for public hearing as changed at the January 2018 meeting.

Votes: Ayes: 7 Nays: 0 MOTION CARRIED

B. Proposed Fireworks Ordinance

Staff Introduction

Currently fireworks are not included in Chocolay Township's ordinance. Throenle has researched many ordinances, and found one from the city of St. Ignace. He spoke with the St. Ignace staff; they told him there were disturbances at all times with fireworks and since they have set their own guidelines and enforced them, they have not had many problems with them. Throenle is proposing that Chocolay Township do the same in setting a new ordinance.

Commission Discussion

The Commission had concerns and questions such as: were there any complaints? Does the noise ordinance have anything set for fireworks? Fireworks aren't always used in the designated days, should allow extended times for the 4th of July. In discussing this, the Commission has decided on the following:

Ordinance 65 Fireworks

Section 4 Prohibition

No person shall ignite, discharge or use consumer fireworks within the Chocolay Township, except during the following times:

1. On the day preceding, the day of or the day after a national holiday as defined herein, except the Fourth of July, as defined herein between the hours of 8 AM and 1 AM consistent with Section 7 (2) (b) of Michigan Public Act 65 of 2013.
2. Between the hours of 6 PM and 11 PM on Fridays and Saturdays with a permit issued from the Township.
- 1.3. Three days preceding, the day of, or three days after the Fourth of July, between the hours of 8 AM and 1 AM consistent with Section 7 (2) (b) of Michigan Public Act 65 of 2013.

Meister moved, Mullen-Campbell seconded to make the changes to the proposed Ordinance 65 Fireworks and to present the ordinance for public hearing at the January 2018 meeting.

Votes: Ayes: 7 Nays: 0 MOTION CARRIED

VIII. UNFINISHED BUSINESS

A. US41/M-28 Business Overlay District

Throenle recommended the Commissioners review the revised definitions to ensure the revisions have been made to their satisfaction, and to determine if additional revisions need to be made prior to the public hearing.

Throenle stated that Steve Lawry, Township Manager also recommended the public hearing date be moved to the January 2018 meeting to accommodate citizens that may not be able to attend or provide comment for the December 2017 meeting due to the holidays.

Kangas moved, Rhein seconded, that the language for the proposed US 41 / M-28 Business Overlay District be accepted as written and the proposed US 41 / M-28 Business Overlay District public hearing be moved from December 17, 2017 to the January 2018 meeting.

Votes: Ayes: 7 Nays: 0 MOTION CARRIED

B. Short Term Rentals

Staff Introduction

Throenle pointed out for several months the Planning Commission has been working on a plan concerning several aspects of short term rentals, and the Commissioners developed a plan for the issue. Throenle presented this plan to the Board as part of the Board's November agenda and they informally accepted the plan with a June 1, 2018 date for the Planning Commission to have a draft version of recommendations ready for the Board.

Throenle has been conducting surveys from other Planners in the central UP area to see different variations concerning short term rentals. He has been concentrating on areas with waterfront. He asked the Commission to finish the definitions tonight.

Commission Discussion

Mahaney asked how many areas Throenle was checking into. Throenle replied twenty to twenty-five townships, to get as many with waterfront as possible. Some are hard to find contacts for, and he will continue to gather that information.

Smith commented it is good to look at others so we don't reinvent the wheel. He would like to see the ordinances to check for pros and cons, so that the language can be written correctly.

Meister would like to see links from the web to reference the ordinance.

As short and long term rentals have been allowed in the Township since at least 1980, Throenle stated the language for short term rentals should apply to long term rentals as well.

Smith felt there could be problems with short term rentals as the time frame is shorter, help eliminate problems for opposing people. Smith also feels long term rentals haven't been an issue. Kangas replied that short term rentals may not be a problem but could become one.

Mahaney asked if it should be a Rental Ordinance, not just a Short Term Rental Ordinance. This would combine the short and long term rentals with terms special to short term rentals if needed. He felt they should follow the same ordinance as they have the same issues....noise, fireworks, parking, garbage, etc. Rhein felt they should be combined as well.

Throenle asked if the landlord should be held responsible. Rhein thought they could be fined. Smith talked about having it in the ordinance, and asked if it is violated would they lose the rental rights, and questioned if that was legal.

Mullen-Campbell also asked if there has been any progress on the bills in the House and Senate pertaining to short term rentals. Throenle answered there has not been any and if they do not come out of committee they are finished for the year.

Rhein and Mullen-Campbell suggested twenty-eight days or less be classified as a short term rental, anything twenty-nine days or more would be a long term rental.

Throenle pointed out that after fourteen days property owners that rent would lose their principal residence exemption for tax purposes.

Throenle asked if the Rural Character definition should be removed as a definition and moved to the introduction of the Zoning Ordinance. Smith asked where the definition was currently located, and Throenle stated it was in the definition section in the official Zoning Ordinance. Milton stated that rural character was all part of the Master Plan. Throenle recommended rural character be taken off the definition list as a definition and leave it out until the Commissioners decided where to put it.

Rhein interrupted the discussion and asked to be excused at 9:05 for a work commitment. He was excused.

Mullen-Campbell would like time to read the Rural Character definition over, as she was concerned about man-made improvements in the statement. Smith sees it as a statement, more of a definition for the Master Plan. Meister doesn't see it as a definition, it's in the Master Plan, so it should be a general goal. Kangas would like to see it left alone, as it creates confusion, and is not part of the short term rental discussion. Mahaney sees it as a definition as well.

Throenle suggested it be brought back to the December meeting for additional discussion with the review of the proposed definitions.

Commission Decision

After much discussion, the following changes were proposed:

Long Term Rental

Proposed

A dwelling unit providing temporary accommodations for periods of twenty-nine successive days or more.

Such rentals must meet the established regulations for Property Rentals (section to be defined).

Such rentals are not permitted in any zoning district if restricted by deeds or covenants.

Short Term Rental

Proposed

A dwelling unit providing temporary accommodations for periods of twenty-eight days or less.

Such rentals must meet the established regulations for Property Rentals (section to be defined).

Such rentals are not permitted in any zoning district if restricted by deeds or covenants.

IX. PUBLIC COMMENT

Stephanie Gencheff, 597 Lakewood Lane – Short term rentals and single family homes are different, they should not be held to the same laws. Have listened to many people at the podium complain about short term rentals. Do the police document the complaints to the property owners? Had a long term rental next to her and are still friends after they moved. Thinks it's a mistake to combine the rules for short and long term rentals

Laurie Krzysmoski, 741 Lakewood Lane – Has been both a short and long term renter. Short term renters are different, they don't treat property the same. Long term renters are members of the community, they act like a homeowner. There are different boundaries from a short to long term renter, exercise different levels of caution, have different set of rules regarding this.

Perry Laing, 625 Lakewood Lane – Address the noise ordinance, modify it. Agree that people should be able to do what they want with their property, but if they are going to be a short term renter the property owner should set rules and post them on the property. If they violate the rules the renter should be asked to leave. Also, maybe ask for a significant fee to be refunded if there are no issues, people would think twice.

The noise exceptions discussed sound good but contracting work doesn't always go as scheduled, how does a contractor get Board approval when they only meet once a month?

X. COMMISSIONER'S COMMENTS

Rhein – No comment, excused early for a work commitment.

Milton – None

Kangas –None

Smith – Would like to see a list of the complaints from the Zoning department put in the packets. Does not have to include their names.

Meister – None

Mahaney – Appreciates the comments from the public, their input is important. Wants them to know that the Commission appreciates it.

IV. PUBLIC COMMENT

Scott Emerson, 119 Lakewood Lane – Has been involved in the community for 40 years, also served on the Planning Commission. He has concerns regarding fireworks. He researched sixteen Township ordinances in Michigan, twelve in northern Michigan and four in lower Michigan and found one in Acme Township that he thought would work well for Chocolay Township. He presented the Commission with a copy of the ordinance.. Also discussed prohibiting sky lanterns.

VII. NEW BUSINESS

A. 2018 Meeting Dates

Staff Introduction

The following Planning Commission meeting dates were submitted to the Township Board for approval:

Monday, January 15	Monday, July 16
Monday, February 19	Monday, August 20
Monday, March 19	Monday, September 17
Monday, April 16	Monday, October 15
Monday, May 21	Monday, November 26
Monday, June 18	Monday, December 17

The November date was changed from the third Monday to the fourth due to the Thanksgiving holiday.

Commission Discussion

Mahaney questioned the February 19 date as it is President's day, would the Township be closed? Throenle stated the Township is open on that day and would not be an issue.

Mullen-Campbell moved, Kangas seconded, that the meeting dates for 2018 for the Planning Commission be published as written.

Votes: Ayes: 5 Nays: 0 MOTION CARRIED

Don Rhein joined the meeting at 7:20.

B. Planning Commission Priorities for 2018

Staff Introduction

Throenle stated each year the Planning Commissioners should review the established priorities for the Planning Commission to determine if those priorities are still valid for the upcoming year.

Commission Discussion

Meister recommended adding the National Flood Insurance Plan (NFIP) Community Rating system as a priority 1. The Commissioners changed some of the priorities around and removed some. After discussion, the following priorities were voted on:

Planning Commission Priorities for 2018

Priority 1

- Asset Management Plan for Township roadways, sewer and water systems
- Begin planning for implementation of high priority Master Plan projects
- Complete and adopt language for short term rentals
- Complete and adopt language for US 41 and M-28 Business Corridor Overlay District regulations
- Review existing ordinances
- Consider rewrite of current zoning ordinance
- NFIP Community Rating System
- Further amend the Zoning Ordinance to address changes in State Legislation
- Recreation plan review and update

Priority 2

- Further amend the Zoning Ordinance to implement the Zoning Plan of the Master Plan
- Monthly land use explorations in preparation for amending of the Zoning Ordinance to implement the Zoning Plan of the Master Plan, Zoning Classification, Accessory Homesteading Activities, etc.
- Plan for four-season transit facility
- Reconsider the Accessory Homesteading Activities regulations after evaluating public input

Priority 3

- Consider Firewise zoning regulations
- Reconsider approach to private road regulation

Rhein moved, Mullen-Campbell seconded, that the priorities for the Planning Commission for 2018 be published as changed.

Votes: Ayes: 6 Nays: 0 MOTION CARRIED

VIII. UNFINISHED BUSINESS

A. Noise Ordinance

Staff Introduction

Throenle asked that the number for the recommended ordinance be changed from 64 to 66, as there is already an ordinance 64 (Alger-Delta Franchise Agreement). He also stated that he spoke with Supervisor Bohjanen about some minor language changes, and he presented those to the Commissioners.

Commission Discussion

There was a brief discussion about the changes, and the Commissioners found no problems with the recommended changes.

Commission Decision

Kangas moved, Meister seconded, that proposed Ordinance 64, Noise be renamed to Ordinance 66, Noise and be presented for public hearing as changed at the January 2018 meeting.

Votes: Ayes: 6 Nays: 0 MOTION CARRIED

B. Fireworks Ordinance

Staff Introduction

Throenle stated he had recommendations in the packet, but after a conversation with the Police Chief, he recommended that the proposed permitting process and extended times for Fourth of July be removed from the proposed ordinance.

He also recommended adding a restriction for sky lanterns as outlined in the ordinance from Acme Township.

Commission Discussion

There were many concerns regarding fireworks, such as allowing fireworks for special occasions (birthdays, weddings, anniversary), weather, permits, and sky lanterns. Also concerns regarding legal aspects and liability.

The following change was added to the proposed ordinance as a definition:

Sky lantern	An unmanned device with a combustible fuel source that incorporates an open flame in order to make the device airborne
-------------	--

Language in Section 4 was changed as shown:

Section 4 Prohibition

No person shall ignite, discharge or use consumer fireworks within the Chocolay

Township, except during the following times:

- 1. On the day preceding, the day of or the day after a national holiday as defined herein between the hours of 8 AM and 1 AM consistent with Section 7 (2) (b) of Michigan Public Act 65 of 2013.*
- 2. No person shall release or cause to be released an untethered sky lantern.*
- 3. Between the hours of 6 PM and 11 PM on Fridays and Saturdays with a permit issued from the Township. One permit per property address per calendar year will be allowed.*

Commission Decision

Rhein motioned, Milton seconded, the fireworks ordinance as modified.

Votes: Ayes: 3 Nays: 3 MOTION FAILED

Throenle recommended they save the language as modified with Step 3 included until the Acme Township ordinance could be researched.

Meister motioned, Mullen-Campbell seconded, that the modified language be accepted but this be tabled until the January meeting to review. This would give Throenle time to research the ordinance from Acme Township that Scott Emerson had presented to the Commission.

Votes: Ayes: 6 Nays: 0 MOTION CARRIED

C. US41 / M-28 Corridor Overlay District

Staff Introduction

Throenle had a conversation with the Township Supervisor regarding the name for the district. As the current name implies, the proposed district is overlaying business opportunities over the entire corridor, which is primarily a business corridor already. A better name for the corridor would be the “Mixed Use Overlay District”.

Throenle also reviewed the document, and clarified language (such as definitions), included a section defining the corridor boundaries, and formatted the document to make it easier to read and follow.

Commission Discussion

Throenle suggested one change to the “Residential Uses” section

Residential Uses

Dwelling unit in a mixed-use building

A dwelling unit located in a building with non-residential land uses

Removing “Such units may not be located on the ground floor of the building”.

Meister asked about the construction of storage units vs. retail commercial, Throenle commented they are covered under the section “Habitable Space”.

Mahaney questioned contractor yards, Throenle commented they need to be reviewed in future discussions but would be covered in the “Commercial Uses” section under commercial. Milton asked if the changes were going to public hearing in January, and if the changes were to be added in the Zoning Ordinance. Throenle replied the date is correct, and the changes will be put in the ordinance as section 5.5

Commission Decision

Kangas moved, Rhein seconded, that the language for the proposed Mixed Use Overlay District be accepted as changed and be presented to the Township residents at public hearing at the January 2018 meeting.

Votes: Ayes: 6 Nays: 0 MOTION CARRIED

D. Short Term Rentals

Staff Introduction

Throenle has developed a list of 290 cities, villages, and townships in the UP. He narrowed it down to 65 townships that are on waterfront, and from those randomly chose 34 townships and researched their ordinances for language on short term rentals.

Throenle discovered that there was a mix of information in the researched ordinances. Some townships had rentals as conditional use, some did not specify any information, and others permitted use in all districts. There was no consistency across the ordinances, other than the short term rental time frame, if specified, was set to 14 days, except in the case of Keweenaw County, where the time frame was set to six months.

Only three had additional language defining criteria for the rentals. This led to the question, “What is the problem with short term rentals in Chocolay?” Throenle stated he could not separate language for short term rentals from long term, as the only distinction between the two was time. Throenle recommended language to be added to the zoning ordinance that states “Rentals for a fee are permitted in all districts” to remove the distinction between short term and long term rentals.

Commission Discussion

Kangas felt it was an easy solution but doesn’t make the problem go away. He felt it didn’t address issues such as trespassing and garbage. Throenle stated it wasn’t just a rental problem for those issues as they happen to home owners as well.

Rhein felt if the ordinances were dealt with and put in place the local authorities could handle any issues accordingly.

Meister felt garbage is covered under junk and goes back to the owner to be held accountable. Throenle stated that people complain but there is no documented proof of violations or citations, so he asked if it is perceived or an actual problem in the Township. Mahaney also felt there may be issues but just not known/heard of.

Milton asked about inspections, Throenle commented that the Township would have to have people contracted out to do this. If this were to be followed, then inspections for both long and short term rentals would have to take place.

Throenle also stated that hotels in Marquette are taking on a new direction. They are going for the extended stay, which is basically a short term rental with a desire to meet the needs of business travelers and other that want different types of accommodations.

Kangas and Rhein felt his wouldn't be the end of the short term rental discussion as those opposed would continue with their attempts. Mullen-Campbell felt the ordinances would be a good place to start in moving forward with this plan. Milton felt they shouldn't be able to tell people what to do with their property.

Commission Decision

Mahaney suggested Throenle move forward with a recommendation for the Commission for the January meeting.

IX. PUBLIC COMMENT

Chad Laurich, 512 County Road 480 – He is for short term rentals, has one across the street from him. It was an old, vacant house and has been fixed up. The outside has been landscaped and it is good to see people using it.

Public comment closed 9:12.

III. MINUTES

December 18, 2017

Motion by Meister, and seconded by Milton, to approve the minutes as written.

Vote: Ayes: 6 Nays: 0 MOTION CARRIED

IV. PUBLIC COMMENT

Scott Emerson, 119 Lakewood Lane – Is a physician involved in the community for 40 years. He has heard of many complaints regarding fireworks. Feels an increase in the number of days that fireworks are allowed will lead to more complaints. Also feels it will lead to more potential fires, danger, and liability to the Township. Also referred to the adverse effects that impulse noise has on a person's health. Should follow the Police chief recommendation and follow the State law.

Tom Noren, 169 W. Main – Has been an UP doctor since the mid 70's. Stated his concerns regarding the negative effect fireworks have on the birds and other wildlife in Chocolay Township. Also applauded Chocolay Township on the continued efforts to enhance the natural splendor around us, such as the Bayou Nature Preserve.

Joe Holman III (and Anthem), 210 Riverside – has a service dog and the fireworks have a negative effect on pets and vets. Should follow the State law as when it is planned, it is easier for them to adjust to. Should respect pets and vets.

Marla Buckmaster, 519 Lakewood Lane – read the letter in the Planning Commission packet from Bill and Marsha Karas, 195 Lakewood Lane. Also agrees with them.

Tim Hunt, 2361 US 41 S – is a veterinarian in Chocoley Township and stated that dogs don't get rid of the fear of fireworks and with the increased number of days, it would have a negative effect on them.

Ruth Ziel, 734 Lakewood Lane – has lived in Chocoley since 1990, feels the fireworks already are more than the allowed thirty days. Can't always tell where they are coming from to report them to the authorities. Also fears the fireworks would have a negative effect on the land values.

Dr. Daniel Arnold, 111 Lakewood Lane – has lived in Chocoley since 1979, Chocoley is a bedroom community, people live here for the peace and quiet. Don't make fireworks easier and for more days, stick to the State law. He would restrict it more than the State law if he could.

Mary Pat Linck, 367 Lakewood Lane – has lived here since 1972, the state ordinance is more than enough time. Fireworks go off most of July. Looks forward to the end of July as it is a relief when they die down. Asking for problems we don't need, adhering to State law is the best way to go.

Jude Catallo, 119 Lakewood Lane – according to the Chocoley procedures and bylaws, Article 4, Section 6, everyone on Planning Commission shall vote unless a financial conflict causes it to be unethical. Urged Mr. Mahaney not to contribute discussion or vote regarding fireworks, as they have been sold at a business his family owns.

Cindy Baker, 123 Ridgewood Drive – can't add more than what has already been said, emailed, or phoned in. Obvious that somebody that stands to gain financially can or try to pass this through.

Public comment was closed at 7:30 pm

B. Planning Commission Bylaws

Staff Introduction

Staff has reviewed the current Planning Commission bylaws and noted some items need to be revisited, added, or updated for clarification and consistency. See the following for the Procedures and Bylaws section:

Article IV Township Planning Commission Meetings

Section 6.

Voting – Every member who shall be present when a question is last stated by the Chair shall vote for or against the motion unless (1) excused by unanimous consent of the Planning Commission members present or (2) the member ~~is financially interested~~ has a financial interest in the question. (Amended ~~2-87-01-18~~)

Article V - Duties of the Executive Committee

Section 1. The Executive Committee, or their designee, shall prepare agendas for monthly meetings and make necessary arrangements for special and monthly meetings. (Amended, 01-18)

Article VIII - Fiscal

The fiscal year of the Chocolay Township Planning Commission shall be January 1 to December 31 of each year.

The Chair, or their designee, shall prepare an annual budget to be presented to the Chocolay Township Board for their approval. (Amended ~~7-97~~, 01-18)

Article XI Rules of Order

For meetings of the Township Planning Commission, the rules of parliamentary practice comprised in ~~“Roberts Rules of Parliamentary Procedure”~~ “Robert’s Rules of Order Newly Revised” shall govern in all cases in which they are not inconsistent with the standing rules and orders of the Chocolay Township Planning Commission and not contrary to any laws of the State of Michigan. (Amended ~~8-02~~, 01-18)

Article XIII Agenda and Packet

Materials to be included on the agenda or in the packet for Planning Commission consideration will be accepted from the public until 12 p.m. on the Tuesday preceding the regular or special meeting of the Commission.

Correspondence will be accepted from the public until 12 p.m. on the Tuesday preceding the regular or special meeting of the Commission. Submitted correspondence must contain the name and address of the submitter to be included in the packet. (Amended 01-18)

Staff also noted some changes be clarified in the Public Participation Policy as well. The following were presented:

II. Public Comment

Public comment is an opportunity for citizens and organization representatives to voice their opinions to the Planning Commission.

1. Individuals wishing to speak must be recognized by the Chairman prior to speaking. Individuals not following this rule are subject to dismissal from the meeting.

2. Individuals must state their name and address for the record. Individuals representing an organization must state their name and the organization they represent for the record.
3. All speakers will be limited to three (3) minutes per person. No person can grant his or her time to another speaker.
4. The Commission Secretary, or designated representative, will be responsible to keep time on speakers and inform the Chairperson when time limits have expired.
5. At the close of public comment, Commission members may address issues raised by speakers during public comment.

Commission Discussion

The commission discussed the proposed changes, including the definition of the Executive Committee and changes to the Public Participation Policy. Commission felt the changes were pretty much straight forward and agreed to make the above changes.

Commission Decision

Meister moved, Rhein seconded, to revise the Planning Commission Procedures and Bylaws as revised.

Votes: Ayes: 6 Nays: 0 MOTION CARRIED

Milton moved, Rhein seconded, to revise the Planning Commission Public Participation Policy as written.

Votes: Ayes: 6 Nays: 0 MOTION CARRIED

VIII. UNFINISHED BUSINESS
A. Proposed Noise Ordinance #66

Staff Introduction

Throenle stated the language was approved last month to move this ordinance forward to a public hearing. There was one memo from the Police Chief added and one item of correspondence, from Dr. Emerson that was given to the Commissioners after a misunderstanding about including the document in the packet.

Also discussed with Supervisor Bohjanen a change in the following definition:

Section 3 Definitions

Horn	A device in good working order that is capable of emitting sound audible under normal conditions from a distance of not less than 200 feet greater than 50 feet.
------	---

Consider the following change to the following Ordinance as well:

Section 5 Prohibited Noises and Act

(I) Business Operations and Related Activities

i. The carrying on of any business operations, or any related activities in such a manner so as to create any excessive, unnecessary, or unusually loud noise, which disturbs, injures, or endangers the comfort, rest, health, peace or safety of others from the edge of the business property

Public Hearing

Scott Emerson, 119 Lakewood Lane – his understanding that he can't present items to the Commission for Public Hearing? Throenle responded he can but it won't be included in the public minutes. Emerson has read through the ordinance and looks good, and he gave the Commissioners two documents for consideration.

Perry Laing, 625 Lakewood Lane – is going off of the old ordinance and asking for two changes. One being that contractors don't have to get the ok from the Commission to work out of the designated time as they Commission only meets once a month. The second change is allowing an individual, who wants to do their own repairs to their property, to be able to work on their property on the weekend. As it stands, they can only work from 7 a.m. to 9 p.m. weekdays.

Public hearing closed at 8:00 p.m.

Commission Discussion

While the Commission was preparing to discuss Throenle stated that the two issues presented by Laing in the public comment had been covered in a previous Noise Ordinance discussion and are listed in the proposed Ordinance under Section 5, G, i and ii. (These were the public comments regarding Construction time and days allowed)

Mahaney questioned if the language reviewed presented in the proposed Ordinances tonight will go to the Township Board. Throenle stated yes, language determined tonight will to the Board for consideration of adoption as an ordinance.

Meister questioned the 50 feet rule, what is someone owns more than the 50 feet, say 300 feet. Also felt this dealt with mostly commercial properties, not residential.

Milton felt traffic is loud so some noises have to be louder to be considered a problem.

Smith questioned the difference from the existing ordinance and what Dr. Emerson is proposing. Mahaney replied the distance it's allowed to carry if it's a business/commercial property. Throenle also commented that if it's residential, once it crosses the property line it would be a violation.

Throenle also asked to address the public, in doing so he pointed out that whatever is passed here tonight, does not become law. This is a recommendation from the Planning Commission to the Township Board for the recognized language. The Board has three options:

1. Accept the language as written
2. Modify the language as they see fit
3. Reject the language and send it back to the Planning Commission to modify

The Commission also decided to change the Ordinance language as shown:

(I) Business Operations and ~~Other Premises Related~~ Activities

i. The carrying on of any business operations, or any ~~other related~~ activities ~~upon any premises~~ in such a manner ~~so~~ as to create any excessive, unnecessary, or unusually loud noise, which disturbs, injures, or endangers the comfort, rest, health, peace or safety of others ~~from at a distance of fifty feet or more from~~ the edge of the business property

Commission Decision

Rhein moved, Milton seconded, to send the Noise Ordinance to the Board with the changes we made tonight.

Votes: Ayes: 6 Nays: 0 MOTION CARRIED

B. Proposed Mixed Use Corridor

Staff Introduction

Last month, the Commissioners reviewed and revised the proposed Zoning Ordinance language for the Mixed Use Overlay District and approved adding the proposed language to the January 2018 meeting for public hearing.

369 notifications were sent to property owners that were located within 800 feet of the center line of the proposed district. This was to accommodate the proposed 300 feet identified for the district on either side of the center line and the required 500 feet for property owner notification. Five notifications were returned as undeliverable due to address issues. Also one call for expansion of the map that would have to go before the board if the Commission decided to go ahead with that.

Throenle indicated there were two responses from residents; both were positive. One wanted to extend the corridor to be included and the other was happy regarding some changes they want to make to their existing business.

Also, the Public Hearing was listed in the Mining Journal within the time frame in December.

Public Hearing

Mark Maki, 370 Karen Rd – feels the map doesn't go far enough to include the Welcome Center and the Jehovah Witness Hall. They were never designed to be commercial, the Jehovah Witness Hall is currently residential. Maybe they should be removed from the district. This could be a chance for rezoning. He asked when looking at a map online, how can you tell what the overlay district would it be.

Richard Bohjanen, 140 Edgewood Drive – if you choose to add the extra property to the Overlay District, do you have to extend the notifications? Throenle said he would have to take a look at the notification map that was used but doesn't feel it is an issue. It would have to go to the board and notifications could be sent out then.

Public hearing closed at 8:38 p.m.

Commission Discussion

Mahaney and Meister both asked to participate in the discussion but to be recused from the vote due to conflict of interest with both owning property within the corridor. This was voted on and granted by the remaining Commissioners.

Milton moved, and Smith seconded to allow Mahaney to participate in the discussion but be exempt from voting on Public Hearing for Proposed Mixed Use Corridor.

Votes: Ayes: 4 Nays: 0 MOTION CARRIED

Milton moved, and Rhein seconded to allow Meister to participate in the discussion but be exempt from voting on Public Hearing for Proposed Mixed Use Corridor.

Votes: Ayes: 4 Nays: 0 MOTION CARRIED

Throenle stated that in following the process here tonight, the Planning Commission could approve the map as presented and send to the Township Board for consideration of adding the additional parcels. Mahaney asked if they would have to hold another public hearing and Throenle stated the language does not affect the map. The language does not identify the individual parcels.

Meister questioned why the one resident wanted to be included in the Overlay District and Throenle stated is was from the stand point he may want to use his property for commercial use in the future and thought now would be the time to address this now versus the future.

Mahaney was wondering why the property was not included and Smith was thinking the same, he thought was included. Throenle stated there were some properties that weren't considered usable during previous discussions. Commission discussed the area being a swampy area, smaller lot sizes and the quantity of commercial driveways this would create on M-28. After discussion they felt comfortable leaving the new proposed area out.

Rhein questioned what would happen if the Jehovah Witness were to ever sell their property. What about potential runoff in the swampy area. Mahaney felt that would be a DEQ issue.

Smith wanted to address Mr. Maki's issue regarding finding the Overlay district online. Throenle said they would be able to select a certain parcel and it would tell you the underlying zoning and would also show that it is in the Overlay and would show you what you can do with the property.

Mahaney questioned the tax bills, if this would put you in a different zone. Throenle stated his understanding is if you were in the Overlay and are currently a R1 you can select to stay in that zone or be commercial. You would revert to the underlying designation in that zone.

Commission Decision

Milton moved, and Rhein seconded that after providing required notification to the public, holding a public hearing and considering public input, the Planning Commission recommends that the Township Board approve the Zoning Ordinance language for the proposed Mixed Use Corridor as written to provide the capability of expanding the business presence in the Township business corridor, and to attract additional prospective business owners into the Township.

C. Proposed Fireworks Ordinance #65

Staff Introduction

Throenle addressed the audience and asked before they call his office regarding an issue in the Planning Commission packet to please read/research through the material being presented prior to calling. Some of the calls are due to being misinformed regarding the subject at hand.

At the December meeting the Commissioners reviewed language for the proposed Ordinance 65 Fireworks and decided to table it for January, as there was a tie vote.

The main discussion was for Section 4, item 2 in the proposed section. There is a memo from the Police Chief and one correspondence item that was received and they are included in the packet.

One call came from a resident in the agricultural forestry district asking if fireworks could be allowed in the larger parcels without permit as they don't disturb anyone.

For Smith, who was absent last month, and the audience, there was one definition added regarding the sky lanterns. Also, language was added in Section 4 Prohibition pertaining to this.

Sky lantern	An unmanned device with a combustible fuel source that incorporates an open flame in order to make the device airborne
-------------	--

Section 4 Prohibition

No person shall release or cause to be released an untethered sky lantern.

Commission Discussion

Mahaney inquired if the sky lantern was similar to a kite. Throenle answered yes, a heated kite. They can go wherever they want and come down anywhere, not necessarily in the Township. They may still be hot when they come down.

Mahaney stated the intention of the permit was for special occasions but with the letter from the Police Chief they should consider striking it. Meister agreed. Meister also asked if it was removed would it be in line with the State law? Throenle stated yes, it would be except the definition added regarding sky lanterns.

Mullen-Campbell asked how is the public informed regarding this. Throenle stated it would be a combination of the ways including the news, and it will be published in the Mining Journal if it does become ordinance.

Throenle also stated to the audience that they do have the right to call law enforcement regarding fireworks. There were folks who called him regarding this that were unaware of this. We also need a public education process and it is up to him to figure this out. Comments regarding how to make this happen can be sent to him.

Throenle also reminded the public that this does not prohibit all fireworks. This doesn't include the low impact fireworks such as sparklers.

Commission Decision

Milton moved, Rhein seconded, that proposed Ordinance 65 Fireworks be presented for public hearing as changed at the February 2018 meeting.

Votes: Ayes: 6 Nays: 0 MOTION CARRIED

Mahaney asked about tabling the rest of the Agenda for next month. Meister asked to just get it done. The rest of the Commission agreed to get them done.

D. Zoning Ordinance Updates (formerly Short Term Rentals)

Staff Introduction

From now on these will be known as Zoning Ordinance Updates. This change was made to accommodate additional changes, and there are many, that will occur as a result of adding to the Zoning Ordinance.

Tonight we are looking to wrap up the discussion related to short term rentals, definitions need to be finalized so the correct language can be added to the Zoning Ordinance.

First change proposed is to the Dwelling, Rental section of the ordinance.

Dwelling, Rental

Current

None

Proposed

A dwelling unit providing temporary accommodations for periods of one day or more for a fee.

~~Does not include bed and breakfast, group homes, hospitals, hotels, nursing homes or resorts.~~

This definition does not include bed and breakfasts, group day care facilities, group day care homes, hospitals, hotels, nursing homes or resorts.

The second one is under the Resort section.

Resort

Current

Means any parcel or tract of land under the control of any person wherein buildings or building space are offered for the use of the public or members of an organization, either free of charge or for a fee, for temporary living quarters incident to recreational use for any period less than one month.

Proposed

A tract of land under the control of an owner or owner designee where one or more structures are offered for use of the public or members of an organization either free of charge or for a fee, for the establishment of temporary living quarters for any period less than one month.

A resort ~~has~~ generally offers other amenities that may also be offered to the public (such as restaurants, pools, meeting rooms, and retail stores).

The last one is under the Structure section.

Structure

Means any constructed, erected, or placed material or combination of materials in or upon the ground, including, but not by way or limitation, buildings, mobile homes, radio towers, sheds, signs, and storage bins, but excluding fences, sidewalks, and paving on streets, driveways, parking areas, and patios excluding uncovered open porches not to exceed four feet above grade and not to encroach into the front yard setback by more than six feet in front of the single family dwelling.

Proposed

Placement of constructed, erected, or placed material or combination of materials in or upon the ground, including, but not by way of limitation – buildings, garages, mobile homes, pole barns, sheds, signs, and towers that will be in use more than six consecutive months.

This definition does not include fences, sidewalks, paving on streets, driveways, and parking areas.

This definition does not include patios and uncovered open porches or decks that do not exceed four feet above grade and do not encroach into the front yard setback by more than six feet in front of the dwelling unit.

Commission Discussion

Milton questioned if Section 6.3 of the Zoning Ordinance regarding the definition of a structure, building codes, occupancy, and habitation needed modification. Throenle stated that there is no language in 6.3 that needs modifying, it outlines the standards for housing. Throenle also stated that 6.3 identifies and clarifies what is a dwelling.

Milton also stated a tent would be above ground but you wouldn't want to live in one for very long. Throenle stated that 6.3 covers key elements, it deals with the square footage of a structure. The square footage has to be 800 square feet and one side has to be at least 20 feet, this prevents single-wide mobile homes from being brought in on properties. And it also has to meet county, federal and state respects of building and fire codes. Milton stated this is what he was wondering.

Meister asked if this would be the end of the definitions Throenle stated yes, once these are approved, they language will be inserted and will come back to the Commissioners for approval. They will then have one more chance to look them over for approval in February and then come for public hearing in March.

Commission Decision

Meister moved, Milton seconded, that the proposed definitions for the Zoning Ordinance be accepted as changed.

Votes: Ayes: 6 Nays: 0 MOTION CARRIED

E. Planning Commission Priorities

Staff Introduction

At the December meeting the Commissioners established their list of priorities for 2018. Throenle asked for Commissioners to review the list to see if there are any changes that the Commissioners might want to make.

Commission Discussion

Smith had concerns regarding a resident wanting some 600-800 properties that were rezoned in 2008 from R2 to AF district to be relooked at as they are not in compliance. Would really like to see this get looked at as it could lead to potential problems in the AF district.

Meister felt instead of doing a new zoning map, could look at them by acreage size.

Mahaney asked how it would be decided the order these priorities are handled, and who decides this. Throenle stated the list will be sent to the Board and they may decide to get rid of some or all of them. Throenle suggested the Commissioners wait and see, as they can be ranked at a later time.

Mahaney also questioned the fact that there is a priority concerning the corridor and asked if there is more than the Mixed Use that we just decided on. Throenle stated to leave that on there in the event it would come back from the Board for consideration. He stated it could always be checked off later.

Commission Decision

Add a priority to the Priority 1 section to relook at the zoning ordinance structure for property increase.

Milton moved, Meister seconded, to send the Revised 2018 Priorities with the changes, to the Board for recommendations.

Votes: Ayes: 6 Nays: 0 MOTION CARRIED

IX. PUBLIC COMMENT

Perry Laing, 625 Lakewood Lane – couple questions and observations. In regards to the Noise ordinance, as having worked as an audio engineer in broadcasting for several years, is fascinated how you think you will stop noise at 20-100 feet, it's impossible. What are the restricted noises and are they allowed during the allotted times of 7 a.m. and 10 p.m? Weekends? Suggest the fireworks follows the State ordinance. Does the fireworks ordinance cover sparkly fountains and sparklers? Can those be set off any time? Will this new ordinance you discussed here tonight take care of the short term rental concerns? If you put a tether on a sky lantern, it's ok?

Mahaney answered they are currently working on the definitions for the short term rentals, they start with them and they go into the ordinance.

Public comment closed 9:29.

X. COMMISSIONER'S COMMENTS

Rhein – None

Milton – None

Kangas – None (due to employment in Township)

Smith – None

Meister – None

Mullen-Campbell – None

Mahaney – Thanked Throenle for the help during the meeting. He offered congratulations to Jon Kangas, the new Township manager, and said he will be missed on the Planning Commission. He also thanked the public for all the input tonight.

XI. DIRECTOR'S REPORT

Throenle – Planning Director's report from now on will contain the Board update that we send monthly to the Boards so what was in the packet tonight was sent to the Board. Also something buried in the Bylaws that we missed the last couple of years, there is a section stating the Commissioners need an annual Commissioner report, so it will be put together for the next meeting.

VII. UNFINISHED BUSINESS

A. Proposed Fireworks Ordinance # 65

Staff Introduction

Last month the Planning Commission approved proposed Ordinance 65 Fireworks with changes, moving the ordinance forward to the public hearing this month. There is one other minor change in the wording in Section 4, as shown below.

Section 4 Prohibition

No person shall ignite, discharge or use consumer fireworks within ~~the~~ Chocolay Township, except during the following times:

Public Hearing

No public comments, closed at 7:13

Commissioner Discussion

Rhein felt the Planning Commission did a fine job on this ordinance. No other comments from the Commission.

Commission Decision

Milton moved, and Rhein seconded, that after providing required notification to the public, holding a public hearing and considering public input, the Planning Commission recommends that the Township Board approve Ordinance 65 Fireworks as amended to establish regulations regarding fireworks in the Township.

Vote: Ayes: 6 Nays: 0

MOTION CARRIED

B. Zoning Ordinance Updates

Staff Introduction

Staff prepared an extracted Zoning Ordinance with the pages that will be affected by Commissioner decisions. The documents for this process included:

- 1) Extracted pages from the current Zoning Ordinance (VII.B.1) in the packet materials
- 2) Extracted pages from the proposed Zoning Ordinance with the changes included (VII.B.2) in the packet materials

- 3) A cross-reference summary document (listed as VII.B.3) in the packet materials, that showed the relationship between the two documents and the proposed change for each recommended item.

These are not only related to short term rentals but other district regulations to bring them up to date.

Using the cross-reference sheet (VII.B.3) each of the changes were discussed.

Items on the cross reference sheet, 1 through 14 are the definitions that the Planning Commission has approved over time have been included. There was one minor change to the Resort definition to be changed:

Resort	A tract of land under the control of an owner or owner designee where one or more structures are offered for use of the public or members of an organization either free of charge or for a fee, for the establishment of temporary living quarters for any period less than one month. A resort has generally offers other amenities that may also be offered to the public (such as restaurants, pools, meeting rooms, and retail stores).
--------	--

Items 15 through 25 were the individual Zoning Districts Regulations.

There were also proposed additions added to the Conditional Uses sections in the Zoning district stating:

Other uses deemed by the Planning Commission to be of the same general character as those permitted and conditional uses

The phrase Township Comprehensive Plan has been revised to Township Master Plan throughout the document.

There were changes suggested in the Site Plan Review section:

9.1 Application and Review Procedures

(A) Application Procedures

1. An application for Site Plan Review by the Planning Commission shall be submitted at least twenty one (21) days prior to the next scheduled Planning Commission meeting to the Planning Director, who will review the application materials with the Zoning Administrator to ensure that the requirements of Section 9.1, are met, then transmit it to the Planning Commission.
2. An application for Site Plan Review shall consist of the following:

- a. A completed application form, as provided by the Township.
- b. Copies of the Site Plan as requested by the Planning Director.
- c. Payment of a fee, in accordance with the Adopted Fee Schedule.
- d. A legal description, including the permanent parcel number, of the subject property.
- e. Other materials as may be required by this Section, the Planning Director, the Zoning Administrator or the Planning Commission.

2. Final Site Plan Review

- a. Final Site Plans shall include the following information.
 - 1) Small scale sketch of properties, streets and use of land within one quarter (1/4) mile of the area.
 - 2) A site plan at a scale not to exceed one (1) inch equals sixty (60) feet (1" = 60'). Additional copies may be requested by the Planning Director.

Commission Discussion

Mahaney questioned where the Adopted Fee Schedule could be found and Throenle stated it is part of the annual budget review and it is posted on the Township website.

Milton would like to see an addition to the Final Site Plan Review, as letter, "h" stating: Adjacent property owner zoning should be added to the site plan along with the application.

Mahaney also questioned if it was common to grant extensions on building and Throenle responded that it depends on how far into construction it is.

Smith also stated most other townships require a grading storm water retention plan, it has come up in the last couple site review plans he has been involved with. Chocoy Township is one of the only townships that does not require it. Milton felt this was a drain commissioner issue, but also agreed it should be added. Smith and Manager Kangas both stated they would be willing to help with the language regarding it. Throenle will get together with them and bring back language to the Commission at the March meeting for review.

Mahaney asked if this would be an amendment to the ordinance. Throenle stated yes and will add Milton's request to add letter "h" and if the Commissioners approve, he will bring it back at the next meeting as language for addition in section 9.1.

Commission Decision

Rhein moved, Milton seconded, that the proposed Zoning Ordinance be presented for public hearing as changed at the March 2018 meeting.

Vote: Ayes: 6 Nays: 0 MOTION CARRIED

There will be a public hearing on this in the March meeting.

C. Planning Commission Priorities

Staff Introduction

Staff recommended that the Commissioners look at the items under each priority category, and number them in order of importance for consideration.

Commission Discussion

Throenle asked that the priority pertaining to the Recreation plan be moved up to the top area of the list as our Recreation plan expires at the end of the year. The DNR requires we have this submitted in time to apply for DNR grants for next year.

Mahaney asked if this looks at the complete Township or certain projects, Throenle replied it is the complete Township.

Throenle stated, when looking at this with Township staff for the next five years, the DNR will not fund a grant if not identified in the plan. The Recreation plan serves as a guide, the Township doesn't have to do everything on the plan, but if it is not listed on the plan, it will not be considered for grant money.

Milton asked if this is updated every five years, Throenle stated that is the minimum but feels this should be done on an annual basis to see there are any changes to be added. He said the same goes for the Master Plan, staff and the Planning Commission should be checking this on an annual basis as well.

Smith asked if the priorities were set and asked if a Priority 2 could become a Priority 1 at any time. Throenle responded they could, they were decided that they were not the hot button items as the ones in Priority 1 but they can be added to an agenda for a particular meeting. An example would be if some grant money came in, we could move something up. Also noted, these numbers are not set in stone and can be changed at any time.

After input from Staff and discussion the following top six priorities were numbered in order according to priority per the Planning Commission.

Planning Commission Priorities for 2018

Priority 1

1. Complete and adopt language for short term rentals (in progress)
2. Complete and adopt language for US 41 and M-28 Business Corridor Overlay District regulations (in progress)

3. Recreation plan review and update
4. Begin planning for implementation of high priority Master Plan projects
5. Asset Management Plan for Township roadways, sewer and water systems
6. National Flood Insurance Program (NFIP) Community Rating System
 - Consider rewrite of current zoning ordinance
 - Further amend the Zoning Ordinance to address changes in State Legislation
 - Non-conformities regarding properties in the Agriculture / Forestry (AF) district
 - Review existing ordinances

Priority 2

1. Plan for four-season transit facility
 - Further amend the Zoning Ordinance to implement the Zoning Plan of the Master Plan
 - Monthly land use explorations in preparation for amending of the Zoning Ordinance to implement the Zoning Plan of the Master Plan, Zoning Classification, Accessory Homesteading Activities, etc.
 - Reconsider the Accessory Homesteading Activities regulations after evaluating public input

Priority 3

- Consider Firewise zoning regulations
- Reconsider approach to private road regulation

Commission Decision

Mullen-Campbell moved, and Smith seconded, that the priorities for the Planning Commission for 2018 be published as changed.

Vote: Ayes: 6 Nays: 0

D. Planning Commission Bylaws

Staff Introduction

In preparation for the new year, the Commissioners reviewed the Procedures And Bylaws Of the Chocoley Township Planning Commission and the related Public Participation Policy, and last month the Commissioners approved the language for both documents.

The documents that were included in the front of the packet are now officially adopted by the Planning Commission. From now on, they will be included in your packet, whether electronic or paper.

There was no further discussion needed on this.

VIII. NEW BUSINESS

A. Mixed Use District Map Amendment

Staff Introduction

The Board reviewed the language and the map, along with the proposed additional properties. The Board approved sending the language forward for a second reading, and approved sending the map without the additional properties forward as well, while sending the proposed additions to the map back to the Planning Commission for consideration.

Staff is recommending that the Commissioners:

1. Determine if the mixed use district map should be amended to reflect the recommended additions.
2. If the answer to the first recommendation is “yes”, Commissioners should review the proposed map changes through Commissioner discussion, and provide any additional revisions, if necessary, to the proposed map amendment.

Throenle stated this is just strictly for the map as the languages have already been reviewed by the Board but they felt the map needed more notification to residents.

Commission Discussion

Milton felt they decided there were too many highway accesses there and Throenle commented there is an access management section in the ordinance that determines this. Manager Kangas commented it's its own separate overlay district that covers the US 41 and M-28 corridor, and the US 41 Corridor Advisory is looking into. In the ordinance it is known as the Section 5.3, the US 41- M-28 Overlay District.

Commission Decision

Smith moved, Rhein seconded, that the mixed use district map be amended to include the identified (green) parcels, and be presented for public hearing as changed at the March 2018 meeting.

Vote: Ayes: 6 Nays: 0

MOTION CARRIED

Rhein moved, Maynard seconded, to remove from the mixed use overlay map the ten parcels around W. Terrace.

Vote: Ayes: 6 Nays: 0

MOTION CARRIED

B. Planning Commission Annual Report

Staff Introduction

Please review the attached document as it is written. Staff has put together a summary of the activities with the intent of keeping the document brief. Commissioners, however, can decide if the document should be expanded.

2017 PLANNING COMMISSION ANNUAL REPORT

Planning Commission Activities and Requests

The Planning Commission had a busy year. Each meeting throughout the year was related in some way to the proposed mixed use overlay district or the short term rental discussion. The Planning Commission completed the following activities and requests in 2017:

- Made recommendations for a future design for the Silver Creek Recreation Area
- Completed work on Ordinance 62, Animal Control
- Completed work on Ordinance 66, Noise
- Completed draft work on Ordinance 65, Fireworks
- Spent a considerable amount of time in relation to short term rentals, and prepared a set of draft definitions for consideration
- Reviewed and completed work on language for a proposed mixed use overlay district
- Reviewed and approved a rezoning request for the proposed casino project
- Reviewed and approved a contractor yard conditional use permit
- Reviewed and approved a conditional use permit for a day care / preschool
- Reviewed and approved site plans for the proposed casino project

- Discussed the necessity of rewriting the Zoning Ordinance
- Approved a National Flood Insurance Community Rating System project
- Reviewed and approved the site plan and conditional use permit for a proposed campground
- Reviewed and approved the site plan for proposed storage units
- Reviewed and approved a checklist for conditional use permits

Planning Director Activities

In the early part of 2017, Molly Wetters, an intern from Northern Michigan University, assisted the Planning Director in establishing a document and web presence branding for the Township. The Planning Director has adopted this format for the primary documents for the Township. She also established the base outline for a recreation brochure that will be further developed in 2018. Later in the year, Joe Lawry assisted the Planning Director, and developed two sets of interactive documents (an interactive history of the Township, and an interactive recreation directory) for the Township website

In addition to preparing Planning Commission packets, the Planning Director:

- Attended training sessions on wind energy, the 21st Century Infrastructure Report, marijuana statutes, job development for local communities, training of youth in career technical education, climate adaptation, broadband, disaster planning and entrepreneurship in the County
- Participated in a week-long FEMA training session related to flood plain management
- Attended the Small Town and Rural Development Conference

Commission Discussion

Mahaney questioned what was gathered from the training on wind energy. Throenle answered that seemed to be contentions on both sides regarding wind energy. There are many aspects such as size, density, noise, impact on wildlife, etc. Some people view it as an aesthetic problem and some see it as a way to earn money with their property. Solar also seems to be changing with technology.

Commission Decision

Mullen-Campbell moved, Rhein seconded, that the 2017 Planning Commission Annual Report be forwarded to the Board as written.

Vote: Ayes: 6 Nays: 0 MOTION CARRIED

IX. PUBLIC COMMENT

Ryan Soucy, 330 W. Terrace – Thank you for listening to my comments, you probably don't hear that enough. Thank you for making the consideration for me.

Public comment closed 8:36 pm.

X. COMMISSIONER'S COMMENTS

Rhein – Welcome to Susan, hope you found it interesting and thanks for joining our team

Milton – None

Maynard – Thanks Don, ready for the quick quiz...not.

Mahaney – Thank you Ryan for coming to meeting and speaking about your concerns, nice job on packet Dale

Meister – Absent

Smith – None

Mullen-Campbell - None

XI. DIRECTORS REPORT

The report that is included in your packet is taken from the monthly Board update that all staff submits to the Township Board. We are looking at taking a different direction. We are looking at adding this as a newsletter on the Township website. Throenle's report would be in the web report, will advise in the future if this in fact how it will be. The concept is to provide information to the public as a whole, keeping them informed. Hopefully this addresses some communication issues that there seems to be in the Township.

The Zoning ordinance was brought up by the Supervisor at the Board meeting and there was a motion made and passed to form a committee that will look at not only the Zoning ordinance but the rest of the ordinances. It will be made up of two Board members, the Planning/Zoning administrator, the Manager, Department of Public Works, and the Supervisor. They are also asking for two volunteers from the Planning Commission to be added. This would not be an open meeting.

These would be recommendations that would come back to the Planning Commission for consideration, more of a direction.

Throenle is hoping this committee comes back with recommendations for the Zoning ordinance as there are budgetary issues if it is not touched this year.

Please advise the Manager if you are interested to be on this committee.

Throenle will be attending a NFIP/FEMA conference in June, the goal is to learn how to set up the community rating system.

Throenle will also be attending a conference this week on storm water, this will also be related to flood plain management. With the combination of the two conferences the hope is to help us on a path for the flood plain. Throenle stated FEMA is looking at mapping all of the lakeshores for the Great Lakes to include them into their flood plain maps, and he would like to see the impact how it would affect the Lake Superior shoreline, particularly M-28 & properties on Lakewood Lane.

VII. UNFINISHED BUSINESS

A. Mixed Use District Map Amendment

Throenle stated that last month, the Commissioners reviewed and revised the proposed Mixed Use Overlay District map, and moved the map forward to a public hearing at the tonight's meeting.

He reminded the Commissioners they reviewed and approved the map with the recommendation of removing ten parcels on West Wright Street and Terrace Street west of US 41 South, and adding fourteen parcels on the north side of M-28 to extend the district from the intersection of US 41 South and M-28 to Chocolay River Trail.

He stated one hundred notifications were sent to property owners within 500 feet of the proposed changes; forty-eight were sent to those affected by the West Terrace Street removal, and fifty-two were sent to those affected by the additions along the north side of M-28.

Throenle presented the map and discussed the map and the district options with the audience concerning the existing parcels and the proposed addition.

Public Hearing

Matt Hellman, 111 Chocolay River Trail – thanked Throenle for the presentation, doesn't want the proposed additions to go multi-use, wants them to remain residential, worried about blighted properties. Has no objections to the removal of the ones proposed for removal on the map.

Derek Anderson, 116 Chocolay River Trail – felt the district needed to remain consistent with the Master Plan. He felt any new zoning should occur after the Township follows through on recommendations relative to commercial development design guidelines, particularly in the Harvey commercial center.

Phil Johnson, 125 Chocolay River Trail – part of the Chocolay River Association, grew up in a neighborhood off of Grove Street with the commercial development in his backyard. Feels even though Throenle talked about a 100 foot setback from the flood plain and Silver Creek, he would still be able to see beyond the 100 feet. Opposed to this in his backyard, feels it will decrease the land values.

Patricia Hellman, 111 Chocolay River Trail – heard talk of the Master Plan as a vision, feels it shouldn't be blindly followed. They (people of Chocolay River Trail) are the people of the community the Planning Commission represents, they don't want this, and hoped the Planning Commission would listen. Moved here as it was a small community and residential. Talked of fixing businesses that we have before moving forward.

John Sorenson, 115 Chocolay River Trail – wife went to Northern, took them 35 years to come back here and have a camp, mailing address is by Grand Rapids.

Wanted a place in Traverse City, just went there a few weeks ago and it's a zoo, doesn't want that to happen here. Traverse City used to resemble what Chocolay is now.

Brian Dixon, 123 Chocolay River Trail – concerned about the smaller properties being changed to mixed use as they may have business such as a small engine repair and could be environmentally damaging.

Garry Koehn, 119 Chocolay River Trail – had been coming here for 44 years, researched many aspects before choosing a place to live. Moved here in 2012 as he felt it was a quiet neighborhood with a good quality of life. Suggested building a park or using the wetlands to make something similar to the Bayou area so the whole community can benefit. Feels development will mess with Mother Nature.

Cindy Anderson, 101,103,105 Chocolay River Trail – currently lives in an apartment in Marquette Township, wants to build on her property someday. Likes quiet and being away from commercial traffic, would possibly reconsider building if the mixed use was passed. Is opposed and feels would affect Silver Creek and land values.

Karl Shunk Jr, 119 Wintergreen Trail – has lived in Harvey for 40 years, grew up hunting and fishing wants the same for his kids. Didn't buy a house in Marquette Township, wanted trees and space between neighbors, this is why he chose Chocolay. Believes it shouldn't be about millennials, they may never come. We work hard and should be able to come home to clean air and elbow room.

Matt Calcaterra, 170 E. Main – bought his house on Chocolay River 30 years ago, is opposed the change to mixed use supports what people have said here tonight. Was concerned about notices only going out to people within the 500 feet of this proposed change, some people may not even be aware of the changes.

Dean Wegleitner, 126 Chocolay River Trail – moved from Montana 10 years ago. Lives on Chocolay River Trail because of the seclusion and is tucked away from the bigger city of Marquette. Was a small town kid, likes Harvey how it is. Hopes the kids and grandkids can enjoy it someday as well. Harvey is all about being a Yooper.

Mike Dayton, 114 Chocolay River Trail – agrees with everyone here. Concerned about the impact on property near the creek, could impact the water quality and the wells in the area.

Matt Gephart, 121 Chocolay River Trail – closest to a millennial that you will get in this room. Opposes for the same reasons that have been said. Wonders if any possibility for the businesses that are currently closed in Harvey, can they change to mixed use?

Jennifer Bruggink, 673 Lakewood Lane – not from the neighborhood, drives into Marquette regularly and sees the empty, blighted buildings on US 41, asks that you do whatever you can to encourage development there before opening the Township up to more commercial development.

Eric Rose, 107 Chocolay River Trail – opposed, feels there is plenty of commercial property in the community. Appears to have a higher ratio against than for.

Alex Petrin, 136 Wintergreen Trail – he is a millennial, new to the area, chose Harvey intentionally, didn't want the proximity to the big box stores and travel on the strip corridor. Chose for the access to the trails, is a good mix of wilderness, fun, exercise, and air.

Marla Buckmaster, 519 Lakewood Lane – lived here since 1971, has seen many changes in the Township, especially within the last year. Doesn't feel the Master Plan has considered what the casino will do to the Township. Feels that any development will add to what the casino will do.

Public hearing closed at 8:30.

Commission Discussion

Milton advised that the Township has responsibility to all the people that live here, Commissioners have to think of the future on many aspects such as water, fire protection, and sewer. Feels these need to be in place before more commercial can be added. The Master Plan doesn't address the need for water and sewer. The commercial overlay is the first step in realizing the problem. There are also building codes and those would also affect mixed use.

Maynard commented there are many issues ahead in the future, but the issue in front of us is about today. Decisions are made with amount of information available.

Commission Decision

Rhein moved, Mullen-Campbell seconded, that the Planning Commission would go ahead with vote.

Vote: Ayes: 4 Nays: 0 MOTION CARRIED

Rhein moved, Maynard seconded, to remove the small section on the proposed map of West Terrace(10 properties) and keep the green area (14 properties) M-28 out of the mixed use.

Vote: Ayes: 3 Nays: 1 (Milton) MOTION CARRIED

Throenle commented that the Planning Commission recommendation will now be forwarded to the Township Board, and the Board will consider the map and decide whether or not to follow the recommendation of the Planning Commission. He invited the public to attend the Board meeting on April 9, 2018 at 5:30 and make public comments then as well. He also told the audience they could send emails or a letter that would be included in the Board packet. Throenle stated that the Board has three options with this recommendation: 1) they can accept it as presented, 2) modify it, or 3) reject it and send it back to the Planning Commission. When asked, she stated there is no way to predict the Board decision.

B. Zoning Ordinance Updates

Throenle said last month the Commissioners reviewed and revised the proposed Zoning Ordinance language updates, and moved the language forward to a public hearing at the March meeting.

He added that the Commissioners reviewed and approved the language with a recommendation to include two additional items in Section 9.1.2 Final Site Plan Review. He said staff added those sections after the meeting to address adjacent property zoning and storm water management. He stated both sections were added (9.1.2.o and 9.1.2.p, respectively) prior to publishing the document for public review for the public hearing.

Public Hearing

Jennifer Bruggink, 673 Lakewood Lane – has rentals next door on the east and the west, both used as short and long term rentals for the last ten years. There is a huge difference in long versus short term rentals and doesn't believe they should be considered the same. Have called the police when there have been parties from the short term rentals and don't usually have to talk to the long term renters. There isn't always an owner to call, they may not live here or in this time zone.

Laurie Krzymowski, 741 Lakewood Lane – has young children, property lines are close, has a neighbor wanting to rent home, but waiting to see what is permitted. Concerned could be rented to a sexual predator. Also concerned about insurance coverage of short term rentals.

Stephanie Gencheff, 597 Lakewood Lane – against short term rentals. Reminded the Planning Commission of the survey of all on Lakewood Lane residents where most people were opposed. Felt by omitting long and short term rentals and putting them together as rentals is sneaky. Thinks short term rentals should be classified as their own as 30 days or less and not allow them in residential areas. She also questioned the mixed use district.

Perry Laing, 625 Lakewood Lane – felt it would be easier to evict a short term renter there for only a few days rather than a few months, the eviction process can be a long process and could take months. By not defining short from long term rentals, as a landlord it would be harder to challenge a renter in a long term rental as opposed to a short term. There are more people in the Township, not just Lakewood Lane, that may want to have a short term rental. Suggests again that any issues should be brought to the authorities. Feels you should be able to the property owner to maintain their property and the environment of the property in a congenial manner and not cause angst to the neighbors in the process.

Public hearing closed at 8:55 pm.

Commission Discussion

Maynard commented that it seemed all talk was about short term rentals and not the language of the zoning ordinance. Throenle explained the ordinance itself had language changes to address overall concept of rentals as a whole, and the definitions were completed before she became a Commissioner. He stated most of the definition language was completed in relation to short term rentals. There are other changes within the proposed ordinance that have evolved over several months that are also included. He said doing it all at once saves from having multiple public hearings.

Commission Decision

Milton moved, Rhein seconded, that after providing required notification to the public, holding a public hearing and considering public input, the Planning Commission recommends that the proposed Zoning Ordinance language as presented be forwarded to the Township Board for approval.

Vote: Ayes: 4 Nays: 0 MOTION CARRIED

C. Planning Commission Priorities

At the last meeting, the Commissioners revised the 2018 Planning Commission Priorities, and established the order of importance for each section of priorities. Throenle presented a final draft of the priorities for Commissioner approval.

Commission Discussion

Mullen-Campbell felt they looked good.

Commission Decision

Maynard moved, Mullen-Campbell seconded, that the 2018 Planning Commission Priorities be published as written.

Vote: Ayes: 4 Nays: 0 MOTION CARRIED

VIII. NEW BUSINESS

A. Recreation Plan Review and Update

Throenle pointed out that the Township Recreation & Natural Resource Conservation Plan has been mentioned in several meetings and will expire at the end of the year. This plan, which is required to apply for Michigan Department of Natural Resource (MDNR) grants, must be submitted by the end of the year to the DNR for the Township to be eligible for MDNR grants in 2019.

Throenle requested the Commissioners direct staff as to how the Commissioners would prefer to review and update the document. Suggested methods presented were:

1. Review each section, and make recommendations through several meetings.
2. Direct staff to write a draft version of the document, and present the document for review at future meetings.
3. Decide on a different method of developing and reviewing the document.

Commission Discussion

Commissioners questioned Throenle about what had been done in the past. Throenle replied that past practice was to write a complete plan and present it to the Commission for review.

Commission Decision

Maynard moved, Rhein seconded, that the Planning Commission choose option #2 to update the Recreation & Natural Resource Conservation Plan, which directs staff to write a draft version of the document, and present the document for review at future meetings

Vote: Ayes: 4 Nays: 0

IX. PUBLIC COMMENT

Jennifer Bruggink, 673 Lakewood Lane – as she reads the zoning language changes, it changes the definition of a rental dwelling, meaning any dwelling that is rented. Now the language for the intent of the single family residential district did not change. You are recommending that any kind of rental dwelling be allowed in the single family district. You have not made a distinction to the Township about kind of a rental dwelling is permitted, you have said any kind.

Public comment closed at 9:10 pm.

X. COMMISSIONER’S COMMENTS

Rhein – it has been a long meeting, feels the Planning Commission has done the Township well, keep moving forward. We have the whole community to think of. Likes the new tablets.

Milton – even vacant land can be rented.

Maynard – great to see so many people here and hear so many voices both in support and criticism of some decisions that were made or to be made. Hope the fervor keeps up.

Mullen-Campbell – thank you to Throenle for the information given to the public before the first public comment. She felt it gave direction to the Planning Commission tonight.

XI. DIRECTOR’S REPORT

From this point forward, there will be not be a director’s report as we will be using the Township newsletter. This will give the Commissioners the information that is presented to the Board.

XII. TABLET TRAINING

This was postponed until April due to three Commissioner’s absence.

IX. NEW BUSINESS

A. Asset Management Plan

Throenle reminded the Commissioners that Asset Management is one of the Planning Commission priorities for 2018. Township Manager, Jon Kangas, presented an overview of the proposed maintenance plan for the Township roads, which was included in the packet. Kangas reminded them this plan is tentative and can be re-prioritized as necessary.

Kangas stated that following this plan, for the first year, would allow the Township to preserve a good percentage of the roads that were the most recently paved to get as much done as the Township can for the money.

Mahaney noted that some of the roads are connected to Sands Township. He inquired if Sands Township could be asked to contribute. Kangas stated this is technically a County Road Commission road but without funding they can't always keep them up. We could check with the County Road Commission if Sands Township would have any interest in doing a joint project with us.

Meister asked if the Township checked into interest rates, getting bonded and using the revenue of the millage to pay back the loan. Mahaney agreed that it could help get more done and keep residents happy. This would also save on supply costs as they rise annually. Kangas stated this could be presented to the Board as an option.

Kangas stated he would check with the County Road Commission regarding this, but asked to do the first phase, crack sealing, for 2018. This would give them time to get a bid package together for the 2019 season. The Planning Commission had no objections but would like Kangas to explore the bond idea as well.

Maynard asked about gravel as some areas are going back to this. Kangas stated there are some roads in the Township that would be good candidates.

Smith asked who was in charge of deciding the plan and Kangas stated he and DPW Foreman Johnson were, with input from the Marquette County Road Commission. Johnson stated the County Road Commission will help with the addition of ditches along roads planned for maintenance, if they are notified a year prior.

Mahaney made the recommendation for Manager Kangas to investigate the bond process to present to the Board and continue with the first year project of crack sealing.

Throenle stated the next three Agenda items are basically discussion related. This will be a Planning Commission thinking session to establish direction.

B. Master Plan / Recreation Plan

The Recreation Plan has to be re-written by the end of this year. The DNR requires the Recreation Plan to be updated every five years. At the last meeting the Commissioners directed staff to update the plan for submittal to the Michigan DNR and present a draft document to the Commissioners for review and comment.

When looking at the current plan in preparation for this activity, staff has found a direct interaction with the Township Master Plan under the Community Description section in the recreation plan. In this section, there is a description of the fourteen character areas identified in the Master Plan.

This raises a point of discussion for the Commissioners. The recreation plan in the past has been written with two topics in mind: 1) develop a vision of recreation for the Township for the next five years, and 2) write the plan to be consistent with the Township vision in the Master Plan.

The current recreation plan was adopted and submitted to the DNR in 2014, and the current Master Plan was adopted in 2015. Throenle stated there are three options:

1. Keep the zoning as we have it now.
2. Character zoning as currently in the Master Plan.
3. Develop a hybrid of both, somewhere in between.

Chapter 7 in the Master Plan is where all these areas are defined.

Throenle stated there have currently been issues with the language in the Master Plan. The Marquette County Planning Commission references our Master Plan when we submit anything for approval on our zoning ordinance. If the plan does not match up with the language, they recommend to not go with it. We are being held, by the County, to the fourteen character areas because they are in the plan.

Throenle reminded the Commissioners the importance of the Recreation Plan. The Township is able to write a variety of DNR grants but it needs a revised Master Plan on file, one that fits with the plans in the Recreation Plan.

Meister stated he felt the Recreation Plans was pretty current, and asked if the current zoning was in conflict, could it just be modified to fit in with the character areas. Throenle stated it was not but he was putting it out for discussion to tie it together to make sense.

C. Non-Conforming Properties

Over a long period of time, numerous references, presentations and public comment have been made at Planning Commission meetings in regards to the number of non-conforming parcels that exist in the Township. Issues for property owners and their neighbors related to those non-conformances is how to place structures on those properties, what available uses they can do on those properties (especially in the AF district), and what will happen to those properties in the future.

As indicated at a previous meeting, there are a large number of AF properties (42%) that are non-conforming, yet they have “full” agriculture capability on their property. Conversely, some AF properties that are smaller lot sizes (one reference is 50 feet wide) cannot meet minimum setbacks of 30 feet to build on their property, even though zoning setbacks on those properties prior to 2008 would have given them that capability.

Throenle suggested they discuss this by districts, starting with the AF and R1 districts. They are the largest and AF seems to have the most issues. Smith agreed.

Throenle discussed with the Commissioners issues some residents were having splitting lots in the AF district. They would like to split for their family’s future but with the size requirements, it is hard to do. Also have people questioning the size of the property for horses.

Smith asked if there are townships that have ordinances written according to size? Throenle stated he didn’t know that answer but would be willing to look into it. Rhein agreed, he would like to know as well, it would help base their decisions.

Motion by Rhein, seconded by Meister, to look at R1 and AF districts to redefine them better to suit the time, this includes the Master Plan and Recreation Plan.

Vote: Ayes: 7 Nays: 0 MOTION CARRIED

D. Addition to Township Ordinances

Staff recently had a conversation with the Township Police Chief regarding the enforcement of the Township ordinances. One issue in particular would be if there could be an addition to all ordinances similar to the Ordinance 49 False Alarm ordinance pertaining to a billing procedure.

The purpose for this procedure would be to bill those property owners where multiple substantiated calls occur throughout a calendar year and where tickets have been issued on the property, but those receiving the tickets do not show up in court. As the Chief indicated, the only recourse from the court is to issue a warrant; however, if the ticket was issued to an individual from out-of-town, that warrant may never be served as that person may not come back to the area.

The current ordinance states if a resident gets a ticket, gets the warrant and doesn’t show up in court, it is currently added to your taxes. So the Chief is suggesting that if the ticket is issued to someone from out-of-town, the property owner be responsible for the payment if it is not collected.

Rhein and Maynard can see both sides, would want the money collected but not sure about holding the property owner responsible for someone else's business. Maynard felt maybe under a business situation (like a rental) it would be ok but not sure about a personal situation. Throenle stated it could happen when you have multiple people owning a home, like a trust, are all people who own the house responsible?

Mahaney asked about the legal aspect of it, if the property owner refuses to pay it, because they didn't do it, are they still responsible? Feels the Township attorney should be contacted regarding this. Meister also recommended talking to the attorney.

XII. DIRECTOR'S REPORT

One more item for consideration, under the direction of the Township Board, Throenle was asked to present the idea of opting in to the Marijuana laws. The Board is looking for a recommendation from the Planning Commission to see if it is something to looking into. Throenle also reminded the Commission of a memo he received from the Township Police Chief stating he was against opting in for safety reasons. Throenle also stated he was personally against it for moral reasons and can't see it as viable.

By not opting in, the Township would have to do nothing as they are currently not opted in. If they want to opt in, they would have to establish guidelines as there are five aspects related to marijuana: growing, processing, testing, transporting, and selling.

Supervisor Bohjanen feels there are medical benefits to using marijuana, however, the medical card isn't the same. He feels the processing, for pharmaceutical purposes, would be the most useful, but if the Township has to opt in for all of it, he is against it. Throenle stated you can opt in and have guidelines. It would be the Planning Commission responsible for the ordinance.

Smith asked if this was different from the people currently growing marijuana in the Township. Supervisor Bohjanen answered that there is no one growing legally in the Township as the Township would need to be opted in.

Mahaney asked why this wasn't in the packet, feels they need more information. Kangas stated it was discussed at the Township Board meeting, but because Throenle put the Planning Commission packet together before going to a conference, it did not make it to this packet. Rhein and Maynard suggested tabling this for the next month.

IV. PUBLIC COMMENT

Jackie Calcaterra, 170 E, Main St. – Walks/bikes the Iron Ore Heritage Trail several times a week in the summer and winter. She is concerned about the dust, noise, and speed from the ATVs, even if there is a speed limit sign. Would like to keep Harvey peaceful.

Tony Marusich, 422 Lakewood Lane – Walks the trail. There are hundreds of miles of trails for the ATVs, doesn't see the point for them to come through a residential neighborhood. Concerned with the noise, dust, and for little children walking or riding their bikes on the trail.

Carol Fulsher, Administrator for the Iron Ore Heritage Trail – She announced on Facebook that the ATV trail would be on the Agenda, as this is what she thought. Wants to make it clear they have a lease with the State of Michigan, since 2012, to manage the portion of the Heritage Trail discussed. It is to be non-motorized but the snowmobiles have a compromise from the home owners for it to be non-motorized from April 1 to November 30. The Iron Ore Heritage trail is being managed as non-motorized under a director's order and that is how they plan to keep it. If ATVs wanted it lifted, they would have to go through them and they have no intentions of lifting the director's order. They put thousands of dollars in Chocolay on the trail. They added a trail to Lion's field, trail markers, kiosks, signs, clean up, cut the grass, etc. They put counters up last year and there were 5000 people using it in July last year, more than the counters in Negaunee and Negaunee Township.

Deborah Mulcahey, 633 Lakewood Lane – Members of the Board are paid by the Township to represent the citizens of this community. Asked them to excuse themselves from discussions and voting on an issue if they have conflict or perceive conflict. Followed with additional comments regarding short term rentals.

A. Master Plan Update – Chapter 7 Future Land Use Plan

Staff Introduction

Staff has reviewed Chapter 7 of the Master Plan, 2015 Edition with the intent of looking at proposed revisions of Township zoning districts that were approved in 2015. No action has taken place on this section of the plan, so the question remains as to the “next steps” for this chapter.

Staff has concluded that the proposed districts outlined in the Master Plan, 2015 Edition were an attempt to: a) develop consistency within the zoning districts, b) address the WFR language for river front properties, and c) address the need for undeveloped space within the Chocolay River floodplain.

Commissioner Discussion

There was extensive discussion of the zoning and changing of zoning within the Master Plan. Areas of discussion were:

1. Proposed zoning districts outlined in section 7 of the current Master Plan.
2. Non-conforming parcels in the Agriculture / Forestry district (AF)
3. Consideration of reducing minimum acreage size in AF to ten acres
4. Consideration for additional language to accommodate larger parcels in R-1 and WFR (five acres or more) to permit limited additional activities on those parcels (such as horses or other agriculture activities)

Commission Decision

The Commission asked Throenle to have additional maps showing the implementation of the discussion for the next meeting.

B. Master Plan Update – Chapter 8 Project Priorities

Staff Introduction

Staff has reviewed a portion of Chapter 8 of the Master Plan, 2015 Edition with the intent of looking at projects identified for action, either through the Planning Commission, Township staff, or others.

After review of the Chapter 8 language in the Master Plan, 2015 Edition, Staff recommended the following for Commissioner action:

- 1) Review the priorities to determine the direction necessary to implement the proposed projects. Staff asked the Commissioners to consider the following when reviewing the projects:
 - a. Is the project still considered a viable project for consideration or should it be removed?
 - b. If the project is still considered viable, should it be revised?
 - c. Are other projects missing from consideration that should be included (such as National Flood Insurance planning consideration)?

Commissioner Discussion

Commissioners took on the task of prioritizing the first part of Chapter 8 in the Master Plan, Economic Development. There was much discussion with differing view points but the Commissioners were able to agree on a tentative order in which to move forward.

Throenle also asked the Commissioners to look at the rest of the priority sections and come up with a ranking for the next meeting, which would help move the process along.

IX. PUBLIC COMMENT

Tony Harry, 6369 US 41 South – There’s a professional horse place next door, check with them on the amount of property needed for 1, 2, or 3 horses.

X. COMMISSIONER’S COMMENTS

Rhein – Great effort tonight

Milton - None

Maynard – None

Meister – Notices the three beach accesses are now closed due to the stairs being damaged in the storm. Anything the Township could do to gain access to at least one?

Township Manager Jon Kangas commented that MDOT has made this decision due to the repeated expense to fix them in the spring or after storms. If the Township were able to get any kind of state funding, we would be have to fund the repairs.

Smith – How is the grant/bond funding for the roads coming? Did the Township look into it at all?

Township Manager Jon Kangas stated he has not finished the research on fees, interest rates, etc. He is hoping to have something for the Commission for the next meeting.

Mullen-Campbell – None

Mahaney – None

XI. DIRECTOR’S REPORT

There’s a joint meeting of the Township Board and the Planning Commission on July 16, 2018. Everyone is required to be there at 5:30 for the Joint Meeting and then the Planning Commission meeting will follow at 7:00. Agenda to be determined.

July 21, 2018 there is an event, Harvey Daze, to be held at the Silver Creek Recreation Area. It will start at 10:00 a.m. There will be music, a car show, disc golf tournament, food trucks, fire department will be there, and kids races. It is being hosted by the America’s Best Value Inn with the concept being to get the neighborhood and the Township together. Also, looking for volunteers for the dunk tank.

IV. PUBLIC COMMENT

Mark Maki, 370 Karen Road – First comment was regarding the Master Plan and the multi-use ordinance. Questioned why the north side of M28, which is in the Master Plan, didn't get supported. Will question these comments in writing, but stated he has been told information he requested has been sent to his Township email, but said he doesn't look at email delivered to that account. Also questioned why some businesses in the Township are excluded from being able to have an apartment attached to their business. Feels this language should be put in all commercial zones. Expressed concerns for the sign at Lakenenland, feels it is oversized per the Zoning Ordinance.

A. Master Plan Update – Chapter 8 Project Priorities

Staff Introduction

The review of the Master Plan, Chapter 8 began last month with the Commission prioritizing the Economic Development section. The prioritizing of Chapter 8 will continue with the Energy Infrastructure section and continue on until complete.

Commissioner Discussion

The Commissioners worked on Chapter 8 to prioritize by category and were able to complete most of this chapter, leaving two categories for the next meeting. After discussion the following priorities were decided upon.

Commissioner Decision

Motion by Meister and seconded by Rhein, to table the remaining work on the Chapter 8 priorities until the August meeting.

MOTION CARRIED

Chapter 8: PLAN IMPLEMENTATION - PROJECT PRIORITIES AND TIMELINE

Note: The following sections were extracted from Chapter 8 of the Chocoley Township Master Plan, 2015.

This is a multi-year, adaptable document that each department, commission, and board should use to guide their activities and justify their budget proposals.

As part of the Annual Report, all departments in Chocoley Township should assess and summarize progress toward the outcomes and targeted strategies of this plan which are intended to achieve greater community sustainability and resilience. In particular, staff, commissions, and elected officials should maintain consistency with the guiding principles of Chapter 2 and policies of Chapter 7. Actions should be prioritized based on the Priority Decision Criteria. Staff should report progress made toward the administrative, regulatory, and capital projects detailed in Chapter 7: Strategic Plan for Community Resilience.

Township decision makers can decide on benchmarks to help evaluate progress toward Township goals. The following are examples:

- Number of businesses with profiles contained in the Township database and online business directory
- Number of entrepreneurial referrals resulting in assistance
- Number of businesses attending the annual “meet and greet” event
- Number of prime development properties with profiles contained in an online directory
- Amount of private funds invested in the restoration of vacant, blighted, or underutilized properties
- Number of businesses associated with local food system support
- Number of businesses associated with “green” or “clean” technology industries
- Number of promotional or educational documents distributed
- Number of interns involved in local government activities
- Number of employees/Board/Commission members involved in mentoring activities
- Number of employees/Board/Commission members attending educational and training programs
- Number of collaborations involved in local projects
- Amount of grant funds leveraged for local or collaborative projects
- Number of volunteers involved in supporting projects

Included in this section are priority implementation matrices for the capital projects of the Township Master Plan and Recreation Plan. These projects are evaluated against the Priority Decision Criteria that are detailed in Chapter 2: Foundation of the Plan - Community Values. Also included are approximate costs if known. The resulting score indicates the priority of that project, and will impact timeline for implementation. However, if opportunities for funding or project partners arise in the time since the creation of this implementation plan, project scores may change, and priorities may shift.

The following acronyms are contained in the priority implementation matrix.

IX. PUBLIC COMMENT

Cheryl Sherony, 1781 M-28 E. – Had questions regarding the sewer expansion project on M-28 regarding the widening of the highway, the lift stations, etc. Township Manager Jon Kangas answered what he could but informed her until they have final confirmation of the project, nothing is set in stone.

Jennifer Bruggink, 673 Lakewood Lane – Has been a way for a while, not sure where short term rentals stand. Was recently in California visiting and saw many articles in the papers pertaining to short term rentals in Lake Tahoe, Nevada regarding noise, garbage, and the changes to character of neighborhoods they had on a community. Asked when dealing with the short term rental topic, to research how other communities have and are dealing with them before inventing another wheel.

X. COMMISSIONER’S COMMENTS

Rhein – Accomplished quite a bit with the joint meeting, felt it was good direction to follow, looking forward to working with the Planning Commission to get them accomplished.

Milton - None

Maynard – Appreciates the comments from the public, nice to see people engaged on many side of issues. great having audience input Mahaney – Agrees with Maynard, good to have public comment, good or bad. Thanked the Commissioners, Board, and Throenle for the good meeting.

Meister – None

Smith – This will be my last meeting, moving to Marquette Township.

Mullen-Campbell – Thanks to the audience for coming and for the input.

IV. PUBLIC COMMENT

Dalia Pavalkyte, 1943 M-28 – Has lived here for 4-1/2 years. Neighbor is a short term rental, new people every week, and is concerned they don't know the rules. Loud music, kids screaming...has confronted them but it repeats every week....what should she do? What rules are there for this?

Deborah Mulcahey, 633 Lakewood Lane – Confused why short term rentals are under new business on the agenda. Doesn't want short term rentals in all of Chocolay Township, particularly residential areas. Confused on maps for the overlay, especially the area of M-28 & Kawbawgam. What is the flood area? Have it explained? Encouraged the Township to get transportation shelters not only in existing areas (Krist Oil and grocery store), but maybe some on M-28. Glad to see issues with Firewise being addressed. Asked the Planning Commission to be progressive in protecting the welfare and safety of the rural community.

Stephanie Gencheff, 597 Lakewood Lane – Is very disappointed in the decision to allow short term rentals in residential zones. Wants her neighbor to be a resident. Feels it's for the short term rentals on M-28 as they have more area, Lakewood Lane residents have smaller properties and are on top of each other. Also feels that the "owner occupied" rentals are fine as the "landlord" also lives on the properties to monitor them.

Elizabeth Delene, 232 Kawbawgam – Wants to know what she can do regarding noise and garbage from the casino. She presented a tape of the noise around her house and pictures showing the garbage littered. She had trees as a buffer, but came home one day and those were cut beyond the easement. Had new windows and new shades installed due to the noise and lights; they don't help. Wants to know who to call regarding these issues. Has called the casino to no avail.

Nancy Rife, 202 Wanda Drive – Has lived there for 32 years and has seen many changes. Has concerns with her house being rezoned as commercial, wondering how she would be able to sell it in the future as it borders the parking lot of the casino. Doesn't understand the rezoning process for this.

Bill Karas, 195 Lakewood Lane – Has owned the property since 1975, had left the area for work and rents his house which has a 12 page lease document. Has a long term rental (tee pees) to the east and a short term rental to the west of his house. There is a difference between the two rentals. Feels long term rentals are fine but the short term rentals should be regulated. There should be permits, rental policies and if the policies are broken there should be fines. Thanked the people that serve on the Planning Commission and the Township Board.

A. Master Plan Update – Chapter 8 Project Priorities

Staff Introduction

The review of the Master Plan, Chapter 8 continued this month with the Commission prioritizing the Community Transportation and Water and Wastewater Infrastructure sections.

Commissioner Discussion

The Commissioners discussed the two remaining sections of Chapter 8 and were able to complete the prioritizing process. After discussion the following priorities were decided upon.

Chapter 8: PLAN IMPLEMENTATION - PROJECT PRIORITIES AND TIMELINE

Note: The following sections were extracted from Chapter 8 of the Chocolay Township Master Plan, 2015.

This is a multi-year, adaptable document that each department, commission, and board should use to guide their activities and justify their budget proposals.

As part of the Annual Report, all departments in Chocolay Township should assess and summarize progress toward the outcomes and targeted strategies of this plan which are intended to achieve greater community sustainability and resilience. In particular, staff, commissions, and elected officials should maintain consistency with the guiding principles of Chapter 2 and policies of Chapter 7. Actions should be prioritized based on the Priority Decision Criteria. Staff should report progress made toward the administrative, regulatory, and capital projects detailed in Chapter 7: Strategic Plan for Community Resilience.

Township decision makers can decide on benchmarks to help evaluate progress toward Township goals. The following are examples:

- Number of businesses with profiles contained in the Township database and online business directory
- Number of entrepreneurial referrals resulting in assistance
- Number of businesses attending the annual “meet and greet” event
- Number of prime development properties with profiles contained in an online directory
- Amount of private funds invested in the restoration of vacant, blighted, or underutilized properties
- Number of businesses associated with local food system support
- Number of businesses associated with “green” or “clean” technology industries
- Number of promotional or educational documents distributed
- Number of interns involved in local government activities
- Number of employees/Board/Commission members involved in mentoring activities
- Number of employees/Board/Commission members attending educational and training programs
- Number of collaborations involved in local projects
- Amount of grant funds leveraged for local or collaborative projects
- Number of volunteers involved in supporting projects

Included in this section are priority implementation matrices for the capital projects of the Township Master Plan and Recreation Plan. These projects are evaluated against the Priority Decision Criteria that are detailed in Chapter 2: Foundation of the Plan - Community Values. Also included are approximate costs if known. The resulting score indicates the priority of that project, and will impact timeline for implementation. However, if opportunities for funding or project partners arise in the time since the creation of this implementation plan, project scores may change, and priorities may shift.

The following acronyms are contained in the priority implementation matrix.

Township Manager, Jon Kangas, gave a brief synopsis regarding the Asset Management Plan which pertains to the Water and Wastewater Infrastructure sections of Chapter 8 in the Master Plan. Also advised the Planning Commission they will be getting a copy of the Asset Management Plan for review.

VIII. NEW BUSINESS

A. Fire Number Consideration

Staff Introduction

Recently staff presented a list of Planning Department projects to the Board for 2018 through 2019. One project discussed was to review and update the Master Plan, and one of the programs to be added to the plan was the Firewise program from the National Fire Protection Association that will provide protection measures for properties in the Township.

Over the years, conversations concerning fire numbers for properties in the Township have occurred. These conversations have led to many interesting discussions, all of which involve concern for Township residents and related fire safety for their properties.

Commission Discussion

Staff has discussed this with the fire chief who is very supportive of this idea. The Chief feels this would help with a quicker response time to a fire in an area that has many homes on one road/lane or in a more rural area.

Commissioners asked who would be required to have these and it was discussed that the residents in the less dense areas such as the AF districts and more remote areas of the Township would require this. Not as much need in the more dense areas such as Harvey.

Also asked was if it could be done with the Township ordinance. Staff felt it would be beneficial to be in the ordinance as it would address the properties without addresses and would address issues of the consistency of size, placement, reflection, etc.

Staff would research how other townships around the area approach and pay for this kind of number system. Would also check how fire insurance would play into this for the Township.

Commission Decision

Mullen-Campbell moved, Rhein seconded, that the Planning Department continue researching the use of fire numbers in the Township, and report the findings at a future Planning Commission meeting.

Vote: Ayes: 6 Nays: 0

MOTION CARRIED

B. Rezoning Considerations

Staff Introduction

There are three existing commercial areas that would be eligible for the overlay district:

- 1) Intersection of US 41 South and County Road 480 – two parcels
- 2) US 41 South near Beaver Grove – six parcels
- 3) Intersection of M-28 and Kawbawgam Road – currently three parcels

Additionally, the Master Plan recommendation is to expand the commercial properties at the intersection of M-28 and Kawbawgam Road to include an additional fifteen parcels. This expansion would change two Multi-Family Residential (MFR) parcels and thirteen Residential (R-1) parcels to Commercial (C).

Waterfront Rezoning

There are two additional sections of the Township that would be affected by rezoning.

One section, located on the south side of Kawbawgam Road, is twenty-seven parcels currently zoned WFR that does not have waterfront access. These parcels have been identified in the Master Plan to be rezoned to R-1.

The other section, located along the Chocoday River stretching from Harvey south, is currently zoned as R-1. This area, also identified in the Master Plan, affects 128 parcels. Primarily, this rezoning also coordinates with the FEMA flood plain mapping for the area.

Commission Discussion

Commissioners discussed the pros and cons. The intent is not to expand the overlay district but to cover the commercial properties that are already there. Also discussed if there was financial obligation to the property owner, which there is not as they are already being assessed as a commercial property.

This is also cleaning up some areas to match the future planning map that is in the current Master Plan.

The following was decided upon by the Commission.

Commission Decision

- 1) Meister moved, Milton seconded, that the overlay district map and language be expanded to include the current Township commercial areas – two parcels at the intersection of US 41 South and County Road 480, six parcels on US 41 South near Beaver Grove, and three parcels located at the intersection of M-28 and Kawbawgam Road, and to move the consideration to a public hearing.

Vote: Ayes: 6 Nays: 0 MOTION CARRIED

- 2) Rhein moved, Milton seconded, that the zoning for two parcels located on the East side intersection of M-28 and Kawbawgam Road be changed from Residential (R-1) to Commercial (C), and add them to the Mixed Use and to move the consideration to a public hearing.

Vote: Ayes: 5 Nays: 1 (Mahaney) MOTION CARRIED

- 3) Maynard moved, Rhein seconded, that the zoning for twenty-seven parcels located along the south side of Kawbawgam Road be changed from Waterfront (WFR) to Residential (R-1) to be consistent with the Master Plan, and to move the consideration to a public hearing.

Vote: Ayes: 6 Nays: 0 MOTION CARRIED

- 4) Maynard moved, Mullen-Campbell seconded, that the zoning for one hundred sixteen parcels located along the Chocoday River be changed from Residential

(R-1) to Waterfront (WFR) to be consistent with the Master Plan, and to move the consideration to a public hearing.

Vote: Ayes: 6 Nays: 0 MOTION CARRIED

C. Zoning Ordinance Updates – Rental Language

Staff Introduction

At the June, 2018 Township Board meeting, the Board approved a portion of the zoning ordinance updates; however, they did not approve the rental language that was included in the proposed ordinance. They voted to send the language back to the Planning Commission for further consideration.

At the August 2018 Township Board meeting the Supervisor put together a list of considerations from the Board in regards to rentals for the Planning Commission to look at and are included in the packet tonight.

Commission Discussion

Staff reviewed the recommendations and presented them to the Commission for consideration for required updates to the Zoning Ordinance. Staff asked for revisions to language to clear up the conflicts found.

The Commissioners reviewed the Board recommendations and the following were agreed upon.

IX. PUBLIC COMMENT

Deborah Mulcahey, 633 Lakewood Lane – Has a problem with some of the maps marked “other flood areas”. Why does FEMA feel some of these areas on M-28 are flood areas, they are 40 feet above flood area. Questioned why they are expanding the commercial area on Kawbawgam when it is clearly a “spot zoned” area, why not just expand the “spot zoned” area? Also questioned why the Planning Commission is approving a police ordinance, should be civil infractions which are easier to deal with.

Stephanie Gencheff, 597 Lakewood Lane – Agrees with everything the previous speaker said. Doesn't feel Chocolay should allow short term rentals in residential areas.

Dalia Pavalkyte, 1943 M-28 – Questioned what the rules were about drones, had one overhead a few weeks ago. Also asked who registers violations of rentals? Who to call when witnessing bad behavior on the beach.

Dale Throenle, Chocolay Township Staff – Advised Pavalkyte to call the Police/911 if you see anything dangerous or encroaching on your property.

X. COMMISSIONER'S COMMENTS

Rhein – Felt the meeting was very productive & accomplished quite a bit on different scenarios.

Milton – Thank you Dale for your presentation

Maynard – Thanked the lady for the subject of drones and would like to give that some thought. She hears the concerns regarding the short term rentals and feels the points from the evening are clear, concise, enforceable, serious, and believes they are good rules for rentals of all kinds.

Mahaney – Agrees with the other Commissioners, good meeting, good start on the different business that is put in front of them

Meister – Made good progress tonight

Mullen-Campbell – It was a good, productive meeting. Would also like to congratulate Township Manager, Jon Kangas on his appointment to the Governor's transportation committee.

XI. DIRECTOR'S REPORT

Generally comments are online in the Newsletter. He has a conflict with the September 17, 2018 meeting. He presented a couple of options – could prepare a packet and still have the meeting or change the meeting date to September 24, 2018. Commissioners decided to change the date to September 24, 2018.

CHARTER TOWNSHIP OF CHOCOLAY PLANNING COMMISSION MINUTES

Monday, September 24, 2018

I. MEETING CALLED TO ORDER BY: Tom Mahaney at 7:00 p.m.

ROLL CALL

Members Present: Tom Mahaney (Chair), Eric Meister (Vice Chair), Donna Mullen-Campbell (Secretary), Cory Bushong, Susan Maynard, Don Rhein (Board)

Members Absent: Kendell Milton

Staff Present: Dale Throenle (Planning Director/Zoning Administrator), Richard Bohjanen (Township Supervisor), Jon Kangas (Township Manager) and Lisa Perry (Administrative Assistant)

The Commission welcomed Cory Bushong as the newest member of the Planning Commission. Cory is fulfilling the remainder of Andy Smith's term. The Commission discussed the position of Vice Secretary, the position Smith held for 2018.

Motion by Rhein, seconded by Mullen-Campbell, to approve Cory Bushong as Vice Secretary for the remainder of the term.

Vote: Ayes: 6 Nays: 0 MOTION CARRIED

II. ADDITIONAL AGENDA ITEMS / APPROVAL OF AGENDA

Motion by Rhein, and seconded by Maynard to approve the agenda as written.

Vote: Ayes: 6 Nays: 0 MOTION CARRIED

III. MINUTES

August 20, 2018

Motion by Meister, and seconded by Rhein, to approve the minutes as written.

Vote: Ayes: 6 Nays: 0 MOTION CARRIED

IV. PUBLIC COMMENT

Deborah Mulcahey, 633 Lakewood Lane – Had a number of issues and concerns. Does not like that the communications from citizens and residents is at the end of the agenda. Has repeatedly shared in writing and spoken over the years that she does not support short term rentals throughout the community. Shared her concerns of parking on the Township right of way. Hopes the Township will flush out many concepts pertaining to the Rental Ordinance including permit/registration issues, violations, and fees. Also questioned the changes to the residential characteristics. Stated the Commission had done many good things and not to put it behind, asked the Commission to be responsible for taking credit on the good things they have done without destroying the Township going forward. Invited the Commission to walk the Lakewood Lane area to see the implications of allowing short term rentals.

Judy Smith, 320 Kawbawgam – Has done a short term rental with her home for one year but does not do it anymore as she lives there now. Wanted to share the positive side of short term rentals. Has met some really good people from all over the world. Neighbors helped keep an eye on her place. The people that stayed took her suggestions and enjoyed Marquette. Always rented through AirBNB where there are rules to abide by. She also has rules renters had to follow.

VII. UNFINISHED BUSINESS

A. Rezoning Considerations

Staff Introduction

Last month, several rezoning considerations were brought to the Planning Commission for consideration. All were approved as presented except for the properties located at the intersection of M-28 and Kawbawgam Road.

Additionally, the commercial properties in this area were to be considered for addition into the mixed use overlay district.

However, when the motion was made, the properties on the east side of Kawbawgam Road were incorrectly identified in the motion as residential. The motion made, as identified in the minutes from the August 20 meeting, was:

“Rhein moved, Milton seconded, that the zoning for two parcels located on the East side intersection of M-28 and Kawbawgam Road be changed from Residential (R-1) to Commercial (C), and add them to the Mixed Use and to move the consideration to a public hearing.”

Unfortunately, staff did not catch the error until the minutes were prepared for the meeting.

Commissioner Discussion

The Commission discussed their intentions of the vote and decided to rescind the vote from the August 20, 2018 meeting and amend the previous motion.

Commission Decision

- 1) Maynard moved, Rhein seconded, to rescind the motion made on August 20, 2018 that recommended rezoning two parcels on the east side of M-28 and

Kawbawgam Road from Residential (R-1) to Commercial (C), and adding them to the Mixed Use and to move the consideration to a public hearing.

Vote: Ayes: 6 Nays: 0 MOTION CARRIED

- 2) Maynard moved, Meister seconded, that the zoning for two parcels located east of the intersection of M-28 and Kawbawgam Road be changed from Multi-Family Residential (MFR) to Commercial (C) to be consistent with the Master Plan, add them to the consideration for the Mixed Use Overlay district for the commercial properties located at the intersection of M-28 and Kawbawgam Road, and to move the consideration to a public hearing.

Vote: Ayes: 6 Nays: 0 MOTION CARRIED

B. Master Plan Update – Chapter 8 Project Priorities Final Review

Staff Introduction

Over the last three meetings the Commission reviewed Chapter 8 of the Master Plan, 2015 Edition to establish priorities in each of the categories in the section and the final draft was presented for review. Throenle gave Bushong a brief overview.

Commissioner Discussion

Commissioners confirmed they had read through the draft and made the motion to accept.

Commission Decision

Meister moved, Rhein seconded, that the revised priorities in Chapter 8 of the Master Plan be accepted as written.

Vote: Ayes: 6 Nays: 0 MOTION CARRIED

C. Rental Considerations

Staff Introduction

At the August 2018 Township Board meeting, the Supervisor put together a list of considerations from the Board in regards to rentals for the Planning Commission to look at. Those suggestions, along with additional comments from Max Engle, Mark Maki, and Don Rhein were forwarded to the Planning Commission for consideration.

The Supervisor has also requested the Planning Commission look at the language in Section 3.1 of the Zoning Ordinance. He is asking the Planning Commissioner's consideration on revising the language to clear up the conflicts found in the section.

At last month's meeting, the Commissioners looked at the recommendations from the Board, and developed a table of criteria for consideration for rentals in the Township. That updated checklist is attached.

Based on the review of the checklist and additional recommendations, staff has prepared three additional documents for consideration:

- 1) A draft of a Township Information document
- 2) A draft Rental Property Permit
- 3) Rental definitions for consideration to be changed in the Township Zoning Ordinance

Staff also asked the Commissioners do the following prior to the meeting:

- 1) Review the Rental Considerations Checklist to determine if changes are required
- 2) Review the draft outline of the Township Information document to determine if changes or additions should be included
- 3) Review the draft Rental Property Permit to determine if additional criteria should be added to the document
- 4) Review the proposed definitions for the Township Zoning Ordinance to determine if changes or additions are required

Throenle attended a combined conference of the Michigan Municipal League and the Michigan Association of Planners. He explained one of the presenters had software that showed how many short term rentals were within a certain jurisdiction and it showed from 150 websites (ex. AirBNB, etc) there were 30 rentals officially listed in Chocolay Township. Throenle said a spokesperson for the Michigan Municipal League stated emphatically that she believes after the November election the State lame duck session will pull the short term rental proposals out from committee and consider them for vote before January.

Commissioner Discussion/Decision

First item discussed was the Rental Considerations Checklist. The section regarding "Require a surety deposit from renters (to property owner)" is listed in this packet as a "yes" from the Planning Commissioners, however, in the minutes from the August meeting the Commissioners had voted "no" and it was an oversight in the September packet.

In August the Commission also voted on another section of the Rental Considerations list that resulted in a tie vote (3-3). It was the section pertaining to "Establishing number of occupants in the unit". The Commission felt this was too difficult to enforce from the Township's standpoint and should be a landlord/rental issue. The Board recommended it but after a lengthy discussion of the pros and cons the Commission voted (5-1) not to recommend this. Rhein was the single "Nay" vote and his concerns were pertaining to the septic systems handling the extra volume. Throenle stated this is where the individual ordinances (noise, fireworks, trash, etc) come in to play to help with the issue of too many people.

Maynard asked to refresh her memory why the Commission said no to the requirement of off street packing and the maximum vehicles on site. Meister stated this is covered in the parking ordinance. Throenle confirmed this and the fact that the parking ordinance applies to the whole Township.

Meister moved, Maynard seconded, that the Rental Considerations checklist be accepted as revised.

Vote: Ayes: 5 Nays: 1 MOTION CARRIED

A draft document outline containing different aspects of the community and summary of ordinances was presented to the Commission to discuss. The intended audience for this document is for the community as a whole but also for the landlords of rental properties to extract out information that pertains to their property and that can be given to their renters. The document contains items for renters such as a summary of the ordinances, recycle information, and recreation information. The document would also include information for residents of Chocolay Township regarding Zoning and Building permits.

Throenle noted that this document can always be updated if the need arises.

The Commission requested the addition of the Township website address in the document for easier access to the website for additional information. Meister also suggested adding a disclaimer in the document to read the whole ordinance for the summarized ordinances.

Mullen-Campbell moved, Maynard seconded, that the draft outline of the Township Information document be accepted as revised and be kept loose for changes.

Vote: Ayes: 6 Nays: 0 MOTION CARRIED

Throenle also presented a draft document that the landlord would have to have on file with the Township. This document would act as a permit/registration and would require a fee. There were some suggestions regarding violations and other additions to the document but nothing was finalized. When the whole process of rentals is done, this will be the last document to finish up. Having this application on file will help four Township departments: Police, Zoning, Fire and Assessing as they will know if it's an owner or a rental property. No motion was made as this document is a work in progress.

The Commission also discussed proposed definitions to the Zoning Ordinance Section II (34-18-02) for Property Rentals. It was discussed to change all languages that stated "Rental Dwelling" be changed to "Registered Rental Dwelling" throughout the ordinance.

Maynard moved, Rhein seconded, that the proposed definitions for the Zoning Ordinance be accepted as presented.

Vote: Ayes: 6 Nays: 0 MOTION CARRIED

Final item in this section is a recommendation from the Commissioners on what they would like to see in the "Rental Ordinance". There is no document at this point, this will be a discussion item and will move forward from there but Throenle feels this should be a separate ordinance as it would be easier to enforce.

Throenle did ask the Commissioners to include how many penalties before a property is removed from rental consideration. He also asked if they are removed how should it be done? He is requesting something done in stages with so many occurrences and the rental is finished. The amount of the fines would have to be set as well and he suggested an annual registration so the property records can be kept up to date.

The Commission asked if this would be enforceable for long term rentals as well as short term rentals and Throenle stated yes it would be as it would be its own ordinance. The Police Chief is asking for this specifically as he is looking at mobile home parks where there are repeated calls to specific addresses and the owners would get the message that this can't and won't be tolerated.

The Commission also felt in the instance of an apartment building, it should be by unit as it would not be fair for all units to be punished for the one to two bad renters.

The Commission also discussed many aspects of enforcement, penalties, fees, and appeals process. They also felt there should be some some sort of system, where some penalties should be worse than others. Throenle felt they had a good start and Commissioners decided to move forward on the ordinance document.

D. Non-Conforming Parcels and Zoning Updates

Staff Introduction

Over a long period of time, numerous references, presentations and public comment have been made at Planning Commission meetings in regards to the number of non-conforming parcels that exist in the Township. Issues for property owners and their neighbors related to those non-conformances is how to place structures on those properties, what available uses they can do on those properties (especially in the AF district), and what will happen to those properties in the future.

Staff has completed an analysis of parcels in the Township to determine the level of non-conformance across the districts. Staff used the chart found in section 6.1 of the Township Zoning Ordinance that specifies the minimum lot size and lot width in each zoning district as the base elements for the analysis.

The parcel analysis was based on three criteria:

- 1) Comparison of parcel lot size to the minimum lot size in each district to determine parcels not conforming to the minimum lot size
- 2) Comparison of parcel lot width to the minimum lot width in each district to determine parcels not conforming to the minimum lot width
- 3) Determination of parcels not meeting both the minimum lot size and the minimum lot width.

The parcel data was extracted from the Township Assessing database. Record counts include all parcels listed on the database.

Properties excluded from the comparisons included:

- Parcels not containing a zoning value (some parcels have a blank on the database)
- Parcels having a value of zero in the acreage field (value was used for minimum lot size)
- Parcels having a value of zero in the frontage field (value was used for minimum lot width)

Additionally, properties in the R-1 district were evaluated to determine which parcels were connected to the sewer system to meet the criteria for lot size for those parcels connected to the system. Staff also compared the zoning ordinances from 1997 and 2008 to determine how zoning districts were modified to the current zoning standards.

Staff set up two “what-if” scenarios. Scenario one was to change the minimum acreage in the Agriculture Forestry (AF) district to 10 acres to determine how the change would affect the non-conformance in lot size in that district. Scenario two was to change the minimum lot width in the Residential (R-1) and Waterfront (WFR) districts from 125 feet to 100 feet to determine how the change would affect the non-conformance in lot width in those districts.

Staff asked the Commissioners to decide if the Planning Department should take further action on this item.

Commissioner Discussion

In past meetings the Commission had discussed changing the AF district minimum from 20 acre parcels to 10 acres for the ease of splitting the lots, making it easier for the property owner to pass the property onto the next generation. This conversation had Throenle thinking if the AF properties were a problem what other zoning districts are affected by similar situations.

Commission Decision

It was suggested by the Commission to concentrate on the AF district as there are more non-conforming properties than conforming. Meister gave some history toward the end of the discussion. He stated that during Planning Director Jennifer Thum’s time with the Township there was a sub-committee that had made maps to bring back the RR2 zoning district with five acre parcels. Meister suggested the maps may still be around.

The Commission felt this was good to keep pursuing to get the number of non-conforming lots down in the AF district.

VIII. NEW BUSINESS

A. Proposed Public Hearing Dates for Rezoning Requests

Staff Introduction

Several motions were made and approved during the last meeting regarding rezoning possibilities within the Township. There are four separate rezoning issues to be addressed at public hearing as a result. They are:

- 1) Expanding the mixed use overlay district to existing commercial properties at the intersection of US 41 South and County Road 480, US 41 South near Beaver Grove, and three parcels at the intersection of M-28 and Kawbawgam Road
- 2) Changing two parcels located at the intersection of M-28 and Kawbawgam Road from Multi-Family Residential (MFR) to Commercial (C), and adding those properties into the mixed use overlay district consideration
- 3) Rezoning 27 properties along the south side of Kawbawgam Road from Waterfront (WFR) to Residential (R-1)
- 4) Rezoning 116 parcels along the Chocoley River from R-1 to WFR.

Staff suggested numbers one and two go to the Planning Commission for public hearing in October in order to go to the Board for the First Reading at the November 12 meeting and numbers three and four go to the Planning Commission for public hearing in November in order to go to the Board for the First Reading at the December 10 meeting.

Commissioner Discussion

None

Commission Decision

Rhein moved, Mullen-Campbell seconded, that the Planning Department proceed with the public hearing schedule as presented.

Vote: Ayes: 6 Nays: 0 MOTION CARRIED

IX. PUBLIC COMMENT

Deborah Mulcahey, 633 Lakewood Lane – Gave a history of Lakewood Lane on why there are a high percentage of non-conforming lots in Chocoley Township. She has not verified Throenle's comments from this evening regarding short term rentals but if there are only 30 short term rentals out of the 3000+ properties in Chocoley Township, which is less than 1%, how much time and energy has been spent on the issue of short term rentals? There is something known as the State of Michigan's Public Nuisance Statue, it works very well to deal with problems the Commission would deal with. Does the Planning Commission really want to go through leases and ordinances? Maybe ask the Planner to pull ordinances from around Michigan and tweak them. Why work so hard to deal with this? Maybe have a percent allowed for "green space"? Feels short term rentals comes down to the issue of money, not the community but instead money for the property owner.

Judy Smith, 320 Kawbawgam – Money from short term renting did benefit her, but she doesn't make much money. It benefitted her by allowing her to put in new windows and get a new vehicle. Would have never been able to do that without renting. Loves sharing her house with people. Grew up here and would rent all the time when she came back home...how many more rentals now than before? In regards to the penalties discussed tonight, maybe give a warning first then give a fine. Where does renting just a room in your house come into this?

Jill Bradford, 555 Little Lake Road – She was on the committee mentioned earlier by Eric Meister, has a recollection of the committee and may have some notes, would be willing to talk to the Commission about it. In regards to the penalties for rentals, you have to be careful as she had a coworker who made it her pastime to call the police on her neighbors, not saying we have people in the community like that but they could make it a game. Landlords deserve an appeals process as you can't always control who is in your house. Feels the Nuisance laws takes care of people that are around.

I. MEETING CALLED TO ORDER BY: Tom Mahaney at 7:01 p.m.

ROLL CALL

Members Present: Tom Mahaney (Chair), Eric Meister (Vice Chair), Donna Mullen-Campbell (Secretary), Cory Bushong (Vice Secretary), Susan Maynard, Don Rhein (Board)

Members Absent: Kendell Milton

Staff Present: Dale Throenle (Planning Director / Zoning Administrator), Richard Bohjanen (Township Supervisor), and Lisa Perry (Administrative Assistant)

II. ADDITIONAL AGENDA ITEMS / APPROVAL OF AGENDA

Motion by Rhein, and seconded by Maynard to approve the agenda as written.

Vote: Ayes: 6 Nays: 0 MOTION CARRIED

III. MINUTES

September 24, 2018 Planning Commission meeting

Motion by Meister, and seconded by Mullen-Campbell to approve the minutes as written.

Vote: Ayes: 6 Nays: 0 MOTION CARRIED

IV. PUBLIC COMMENT

Stephanie Gencheff, 597 Lakewood Lane – stated this was her third time to defend the short term rental petition. She referenced Dr. Bohjanen’s letter in the Mining Journal regarding 87% respondents on the survey, which Bohjanen said represents the people who were undecided or were in favor of short term rentals. She has a neighbor at 633 Lakewood Lane who could not be at the meeting but wanted it mentioned that since the house next to her changed from a short term rental to a long term rental there have been no issues. Gencheff requested not to lump together long and short term rentals as they are not the same.

Deborah Mulcahey, 633 Lakewood Lane – She lives at 633 Lakewood Lane so the person that Stephanie was talking about lives at a different address. She had concerns regarding the recreation plan. She did not want a negative impact from work already done or lose any future grants because of perceptions of what is allowed in Chocolay

Township. She wanted language included in the revised recreation plan that would not allow overnight parking of any vehicles in park and recreation areas or to be used as temporary or long term storage for commercial vehicles. She wanted no camping in these areas unless designated as a campground, and she wanted signage added to these areas designating this. She felt some areas are often not inviting or unusable. She said she discussed with this with the Planner, Police Chief, and Manager. She said the Township needs to think about impact of receiving present and future trust fund money. She said she can verify with the State of Michigan Administrators with the trust fund program.

Dustin Hennessey, 101/103 Juliet Street – Spoke on the proposed rental regulations, and asked what is the difference between a rental or resident who is not following the ordinances, and he felt there is no difference. He asked why the Township should place additional regulations on someone bringing business to the Township. He asked what the registration fee would be for, as there are not any inspections associated with rentals in Chocolay. He stated he already pays higher taxes for having a non-homestead place in the Township which should be considered his fee. He is also against the proposed commercial rezoning that is on the agenda. He owns the residential property that presently connects the existing commercial and residential areas and would never sign off to have it changed to commercial, as it is a residential area.

Ryan Anderson, 225 Jean Street – His property connects along the back of the property being discussed. He was speaking for himself and his neighbor (Nicholas Smaby, 229 Jean St.) who could not be at the meeting. As a property owner, he respects that an owner can do what they see fit to do with their property but Anderson and Smaby are both against the land behind their homes rezoned to commercial. Anderson felt it would alter the substance, flavor and feel of their neighborhood. Anderson and Smaby understood the owner's desire to make a fair profit on the sale of his land. Anderson would like to work together and in good faith to find a way to do this with everyone impacted. He has small children and does not want this in their back yard.

William Todd, 1075 Ortman Road – He has lived here over 40 years, and he is the resident responsible for proposing the zoning change. He presented a map of the proposed parcel to the Commissioners. He has recently been approached by a nationally known general store developer inquiring about a portion of the property he owns along US 41 located between Veda and Juliet Streets. The parcel is 500 feet long and 200 feet deep and sits 200 feet from both of the mentioned streets. The developer discussed their interest with Throenle, who informed the developers that the property was currently zoned R1 (Residential) and could not develop this property unless it was changed to commercial status. Todd discussed this with Throenle who informed him that "spot zoning" was unlawful in Michigan, but stated there was commercial development property about 200' to the north that could be considered as a connection to the commercial zone to the north.

He has owned these parcels since 1989. In regards to the privacy issues brought up, he felt the people who connect to his property via Veda and Jean Streets have been blessed with large back yards and plenty of privacy. He wants to be a good neighbor and if the commercial zone were extended, he would work with the developer to leave as many of the trees possible. He added the parcel is a low lying piece of land and is not desirable as an additional lot for homeowners. He said having a developer willing to improve the land and build a retail store would be the best use for this unused parcel and would be low impact to this neighborhood, would not affect privacy, and would also add to the Chocoley Township tax base. He does not feel this would impact the owner of the duplex which is the neighbor 250 feet to the north of this property. Todd said that the owner does not live on the property and it may increase the value of his property. He brought this before the Commissioners tonight for discussion but invited anyone to look at the parcel and surrounding neighborhoods.

A. Commercial District Extension Consideration Request

Staff Introduction

Throenle presented that Bill Todd, a resident that owns property on US 41 South just below the current commercial district, had asked for consideration of possibly extending the commercial district from the current southern boundary near Juliet Street to include properties fronting on US 41 South to Veda Street. Throenle said this meeting will be a session to gather information to see what could be done. Throenle said Todd was asking for this consideration before submitting a formal rezoning request.

Throenle stated the extension of the commercial district is not identified in the 2015 Master Plan. However, he pointed out the future commercial district extends down US 41 South, and is directly across the highway from the properties in question on the Future Land Use map found in the Master Plan.

Commissioner Discussion

Throenle presented the Commissioners with maps of the proposed parcel and surrounding neighborhoods in the current zoning district that were included in the packet. Throenle pointed out Mr. Hennessey's property in relation to Mr. Todd's and stated Mr. Hennessey's property had to be commercial as well as it is the connecting property to the commercial district.

The developer that Todd referred to has not pursued any other venue in the Township and chose not to come before the Commission for a public hearing for the zoning change. There is no open offer on the parcel; this was just discussion for the Planning Commission to consider.

Mahaney asked who made the final approval or disapproval. Throenle stated the Planning Commission starts the process then it would go to the Township Board for final approval. Maynard asked if the parcel has anything on it. Throenle asked Todd who said the parcel was empty. Throenle asked the Mahaney to include Todd in the conversation to answer the questions regarding his property, but not the remainder of the public. Mahaney agreed.

Mahaney asked for clarification of the properties included in the discussion. He also asked if it was up to the owner or the Planning Commission to change the zoning. Throenle stated it was the Planning Commission and Township Board that make those decisions but it has to be done with public input from the owners of the properties in that area along with other interested parties.

Meister asked if it was different zoning at one time and Throenle stated he would have to go back over past maps but this is off of the 2008 map. Maynard asked if there would be tax implications for Hennessey with a zoning change to commercial. Throenle stated not necessarily as Hennessey has no PRE (Principal Residence Exemption) on that property, and said the question should be referred to the Assessor.

Rhein felt this should remain residential, and he does not want to see commercial property built in a residential area. He said there are places in the commercial zoned districts available where they could build. Meister agreed with Rhein. The neighbors have established homes and once it is zoned commercial there is enough property that more could be added in that district.

Throenle reminded the Commissioners that they could not restrict a parcel based on a proposed development. The development would be determined on what is allowed in the commercial district.

Mullen-Campbell felt that commercial is good for Chocolay Township but wanted to keep the residential in mind. Mahaney could see this either way, was not sure a house could be built on the parcel but he could see the resident's side, too.

Mahaney asked Todd if he had been approached to sell for residential purposes and he stated he had not. Todd also stated it would not be the all of the parcels, just the center of the three.

The Commissioners discussed how hard it would be to make a decision without knowing the footprint of what is being proposed for the lot. Throenle stated that once it is zoned commercial anything could be built there if it met the zoning requirements for commercial properties.

Maynard said if there was a developer who could develop this into affordable housing and keep it residential, she would feel more comfortable with that.

Meister asked if the neighboring property owners could buy this property and extend their property lines to the highway. Throenle stated it could be done. Todd also commented that he had some conversations but the compensation would not be as much. He would, however, consider this if the price was right.

Mahaney asked if Throenle wanted a decision for the Master Plan. Throenle stated according to the Future Land Use map in the Master Plan the area in question is to be left as residential. He said there would be a couple things that would have to happen. One was hold being a formal public hearing with an expense to Mr. Todd for the formal application, notices to neighbors and a presentation to the Marquette County Planning Commission which would come back with the recommendation not to do it as it is not in the current Master Plan. The other was to address the considerations across the highway for the properties that have not yet been changed to commercial even though it is in the Master Plan.

Meister asked is a PUD (Planned Unit Development) could be done and Throenle stated that conversation did not come up but it could be a possibility depending on the quality of the land and how much would be used. Throenle said a PUD starts at one acre and this parcel is 2.5 acres. Meister stated this may be a case as some of the buffer could be kept in the back.

Mullen-Campbell also mentioned concerns about wells and septic systems.

Commission Decision

Throenle stated the reason for this meeting was to let Todd know which way to go in his decision process. Todd would have expenses for the formal application he could avoid if he got an outcome tonight. If the Commissioners decided to go with the idea of allowing commercial in that area, there would also be expenses for the notices to the neighbors, and an amendment to the Master Plan would have to be presented to the County.

Throenle has spoken with Todd and Throenle's personal recommendation would be for the Planning Commission to recommend Todd to meet with his neighbors, discuss further the various aspects such as PUD, the commercial aspect, etc. before coming back with the formal application. Throenle feels that commercial decision is not the only solution for the property.

Mahaney asked the Commissioners their thoughts. Rhein, Maynard, and Meister felt the property should stay residential. Bushong, Mullen-Campbell, and Mahaney could see it both ways.

Motion by Rhein, and seconded by Maynard to keep the said property as residential not commercial.

B. 2019 – 2023 Recreation Plan

Staff Introduction

Throenle told the Commissioners that every five years the Township is required to submit an updated recreation plan to the Michigan Department of Natural Resources (DNR) in order to remain eligible for DNR recreation grant funding consideration. The plan for the Township is required to be submitted by February of 2019 in a DNR-defined format if grants will be pursued during the 2019 DNR funding year.

The DNR has stated in prior recreation plan training presentations that "if it's not in the plan, it won't be funded." Staff was in the process of reviewing and revising the plan with a focus on those criteria, and was looking to update sections with recommendations from the Planning Commission, Township staff, and the public.

Commission Discussion

Throenle presented the highlights of the proposed Recreation Plan. There are twelve recreation areas within the Township that Throenle presented for considerations for maintenance and recreation promotion. There will be a public survey sent to the residents of the Township to get public comment. The plan would come back to the Planning Commission in December for approval and would be presented to the Township Board in January for approval to be submitted to the DNR for consideration for 2019 grants. There are grants the Township would like to pursue in 2019 so there is a sense of urgency to finish approval of the plan.

Some of the proposals Throenle presented were:

Brochures and Maps

- Printed and online brochures and maps for all Township recreation
 - Includes public and private
 - Information to be made available at the Township office, local businesses and the Welcome Center
 - GIS maps showing recreation locations throughout the Township

Signs

- Directional signs for all recreation areas and trails
 - Includes public and private
 - “You are here” signs along the trails and at the recreation sites
 - Bike routes on non-established trails
- Establish “uniform” sign for the Township (color, size, etc.)
 - Cost of Pure Michigan signage $360 per year per sign
- Township site signage for:
 - Beaver Grove Agriculture Area
 - Brower Recreation Area
 - Green Bay Street Park
 - Green Garden Site
 - Kawbawgam Pocket Park
 - Voce Creek Recreation Area
 - Wick Site

Trail Town Designation

- Establish trail connection with Marquette – potentially county-wide
- Pure Michigan designation for tourism and trail usage

Electric Charging Stations

- Wi-Fi devices (phones, tablets, etc.) for trail and recreation site visitors
 - For electric and hybrid automobiles and visitors traveling through the area

Recreation Site Maintenance

- Establish long-range maintenance schedules for all Township recreation equipment and sites
- Establish funding for long-range maintenance and potential additional staff

Recreation Promotion

- Promotion of recreation on Township website and social media
- Interactive maps and recreation locations on the Web
- Video flyovers (drone) of Township properties and make available online
- Develop programs of recreation interest with KBIC, Cherry Creek School, 4-H, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts and other local clubs and organizations
- Virtual reality of Township recreation (web based)
- Coordinate with Marquette Chamber of Commerce and Travel Marquette

The Commissioners added the following suggestions:

- Would like to see all properties not presently surveyed, to be surveyed to designate Township properties lines to allow development
- Security cameras for some sites, including the MDOT turnouts
- Appropriate signage for direction/usage of the sites
- Address parking and lighting issues at some of the existing sites

IX. PUBLIC COMMENT

None

X. COMMISSIONER'S COMMENTS

Rhein – None

Milton - Absent

Maynard – Should Todd, Hennessey, and neighbors need the services of MARS (Marquette-Alger Resolution Services), they are a great mediation service here in town.

Mahaney – Thanked Throenle for the Recreation Plan presentation, and he would like to see more focus on the plan, as there are many Township properties that residents do not know about. He would like to see the property lines established on these properties so development of them can begin. He felt these parcels are a real plus for the residents of the Township.

Meister – None

Bushong – Would like to learn more about the grant process for the Recreation Plan; felt there are 20 years of improvements and would like to know how they are decided and prioritized. He also asked about dates that were mentioned for the plan (such as February).

Throenle told Bushong that the Recreation Plan is the five year vision and the DNR will not fund anything that is not in that plan or the applicant would have to find alternate funding. As far as determining which one to be done, it is a matter of choosing which to prioritize in that specific year, as all items are not all attempted at once. He added February is the date that the Recreation Plan has to be submitted to the DNR.

Mullen-Campbell questioned if the decisions come through the Planning Commission and then to Marquette County. Throenle stated they will weigh in before this gets to the Township Board. The Planning Commission will be seeing this again at next month's meeting.

XI. DIRECTOR'S COMMENTS

Throenle told the Commissioners if they have not been to any of the places mentioned during the meeting that they should put them on their list of places to visit. He also reminded the Commissioners that meeting in November is the week after Thanksgiving and there will be public hearing that night regarding the mixed use districts.

A. Rezoning from Multi-Family Residential to Commercial

Staff Introduction

In August and September, the Planning Commission decided to change the zoning district for two parcels located at the intersection of M-28 and Kawbawgam Road from Multi-Family Residential (MFR) to Commercial (C).

Although fifteen parcels were identified in the Master Plan to be included in the Commercial zoning district for this area, the Commissioners decided to address only the two identified as MFR to be rezoned, and to leave the other parcels for future consideration.

The Commissioners recommended the decision be addressed in a public hearing at the October meeting; this hearing was postponed until the November meeting.

The changes the Planning Commission has recommended are consistent with the zoning recommended for this area.

The two parcels affected by this change are:

- 52-02-007-033-00 101 Kawbawgam Road
- 52-02-007-045-00 125 Kawbawgam Road

Throenle received two comments from the property owners. The first comment was from the property owner on the corner of M-28 and Kawbawgam Road. She visited the Township office and approved the change verbally, and she said she had no issues with this being done. The other comment was from the second property owner who has a written comment in the packet and was also in the audience this evening. There have been questions for staff to answer, but no comments were against the change.

Public Hearing

There were no public comments.

Commissioner Discussion

There were no questions or comments from the Planning Commissioners.

Commission Decision

Mahaney moved, Maynard seconded, that after providing required notification to the public, including a public hearing and considering public input, the Planning Commission recommends that the Township Board approve changing the zoning districts for the two parcels located at the intersection of M-28 and Kawbawgam Road from Multi-Family Residential (MFR) to Commercial (C).

Vote: Ayes: 6 Nays: 0 MOTION CARRIED

B. Mixed Use Overlay District Extension
Staff Introduction

Over the last several meetings, the Planning Commission discussed applying the mixed use overlay district to the remaining commercial areas within the Township. The Commissioners decided to apply this overlay district to five parcels located at the intersection of M-28 and Kawbawgam Road, two parcels at the intersection of County Road 480 and US 41 South (Kassel's Korner), and six parcels at the intersection of Mangum Road and US 41 South.

Application to two of the five parcels located at the intersection of M-28 and Kawbawgam Road assume that those two parcels are rezoned from Multi-Family Residential (MFR) to Commercial (C).(these were approved in the previous Public Hearing this evening)

The Commissioners recommended the decision be addressed in a public hearing at the October meeting; this hearing was postponed until the November meeting. The changes the Planning Commission has recommended are consistent with the zoning for each area.

The five parcels affected by this change at the intersection of M-28 and Kawbawgam Road are:

- 52-02-007-033-00 101 Kawbawgam Road (currently zoned MFR, with a motion in the previous hearing to change to Commercial (C))
- 52-02-007-034-00 100 Kawbawgam Road
- 52-02-007-045-00 125 Kawbawgam Road (currently zoned MFR, with a motion in the previous hearing to change to Commercial (C))
- 52-02-007-046-00 no assigned address
- 52-02-007-049-50 128 Kawbawgam Road

The two parcels affected by this change at the intersection of County Road 480 and US 41 South are:

- 52-02-116-023-00 6385 US 41 South
- 52-02-121-053-00 6400 US 41 South

The six parcels affected by this change at the intersection of M-28 and Kawbawgam Road are:

- 52-02-121-002-50 6483 US 41 South
- 52-02-121-002-55 6485 US 41 South
- 52-02-121-002-60 6481 US 41 South
- 52-02-121-027-00 6448 US 41 South
- 52-02-121-028-00 6448 US 41 South
- 52-02-121-030-00 6456 US 41 South

Throenle stated there were 59 notifications sent out, and one was returned as "undeliverable". There were some questions to staff but no comments of anyone being opposed to this change. There was one written comment in the packet (submitted for both public hearings) in favor of the change.

Public Hearing

There was one question from a member of the audience asking for clarification of the location of commercial properties on the map that was supplied in the packet. Throenle answered the question, stating the properties were those that were currently zoned commercial.

Commissioner Discussion

There were no questions or comments from the Planning Commissioners.

Commission Decision

Meister moved, and Rhein seconded, that after providing required notification to the public, holding a public hearing and considering public input, the Planning Commission recommends that the Township Board approve applying the mixed use overlay district to five commercial properties located at the intersection of M-28 and Kawbawgam Road, two commercial properties located at the intersection of County Road 480 and US 41 South, and six commercial parcels located at the intersection of Mangum Road and US 41 South.

C. 2019 – 2023 Recreation Plan Survey

Staff Introduction

A new Township Recreation Plan is in the process of development. Last month, the Commissioners reviewed potential parts of the plan, and provided comments in relation to those proposed ideas.

Staff has prepared a draft recreation survey that will be used to solicit input from the public in regards to the direction for Township recreation over the next five years.

This survey will be available to the public via a link on the Township web page and through paper copies that will be available at the Township office. The survey will start on Saturday, December 1st, 2018 and comments will be taken online through Monday, December 31st, 2018.

A card with the web link to the survey will be included in the December tax statements to reach as many residents in the Township as possible, and to reduce mailing expenses for this survey.

There are three items listed on this card:

1. Information regarding the Township Newsletter.
2. The link for the Township Recreation Plan survey.
3. The link for the Marquette County Master Plan survey.

The survey was included in the packet for Commissioner's to review and comment, asking the Commissioners to advise staff of any additions, deletions, or changes to any of the survey questions. The essence of this survey is to see if our Recreation

Plan is headed in the right direction.

Commission Discussion

Maynard asked, along with posting on the Township web site and sending out cards, if there would there be any notification of the survey to the media. Throenle stated he had not intended to put it in the paper, but it can be done. In the past it was done via the mail but due to the timing it worked to have it sent with the tax bills.

Mahaney asked if it could be put on the Township sign with the web site listed. He would like to see it get to as many residents as possible. Throenle stated it could be done.

Throenle also stated he will be meeting with the Chocolay Township senior citizens during one of their weekly get-togethers in December to explain the survey to them as well.

Mahaney asked if this survey was safeguarded so people could not turn one in multiple times. Throenle stated he would hope people would be honest but he could not keep people from filling out a false survey.

Meister referred to past surveys when he stated mailings were sent out, but he did not believe it was advertised in the paper, and there seemed there was a good response. Throenle recalled there were roughly 600 responses to the last survey. Meister thought that number was pretty good. Maynard noted that everyone gets a tax bill.

Maynard thought it was a good to have a column in the survey questions relating to not knowing where a site was when discussing some of the recreation properties. She felt this would help with the possible need for signage in the Township. Throenle agreed and felt this could be a priority once the survey is complete.

The Commissioners discussed a few questions but all agreed it looked like a thorough and comprehensive survey.

Mahaney and Throenle agreed one of the key survey questions was regarding how people access Township information. Some people do not access the Internet, and this question will help to define alternate ways of communication. Meister asked about an email list so residents could provide their emails and get information this way. Throenle stated he could add this as a question, but suggested that some may not wish to answer it because the survey data would no longer be anonymous. Mahaney thought maybe the email list could be incorporated with the next tax bill, and this way the survey could be kept anonymous.

Commission Decision

Meister moved, and Bushong seconded that the recreation survey as changed be made available to the public for a period of thirty days starting on December 1.

Mahaney asked Throenle about maps regarding this rezoning as well as the one in item VIII.B. Throenle stated there aren't physical maps for the public tonight but he will have them on the TV screen for everyone to see.

Staff Introduction

In August and September, the Planning Commission decided to change the zoning district for twenty seven parcels located on the south side of Kawbawgam Road above Lake Kawbawgam from Waterfront Residential (WFR) to Residential (R-1). The purpose of this change is intended to remove those parcels from the Waterfront Zoning District as they do not have direct access to Lake Kawbawgam or any other body of water. The Commissioners recommended the decision be addressed in a public hearing at the November meeting; this hearing was postponed until the December meeting.

Forty notifications were sent out to properties within 500' of these parcels and one was returned undeliverable. He had several calls inquiring about possible tax increases but no written comments.

The changes the Planning Commission has recommended are consistent with the zoning recommended for this area, and this decision is based on the recommended zoning presented in the Township Master Plan. Throenle stated this change will not affect taxes due to rezoning, the only change with doing this is for the map in the Master Plan. This also takes properties out of the Waterfront that do not belong there.

The twenty-five parcels identified in the Township Assessing database affected by this change are:

- 52-02-007-045-10

Two additional parcels will be included as part of this change; currently those two parcels do not have parcel identification numbers, but will be assigned parcel numbers in the near future.

Public Hearing

Jim Tillison, 121 Wintergreen Trail – Curious how to obtain a copy of the Master Plan.

Throenle answered it can be accessed on the Township website (which he demonstrated how to access it) or Tillison can come into the Township office to look at the written copy. Throenle also told him he could call or come in during business hours and he would be happy to answer any questions he has pertaining to the Master Plan.

Kenlyn Hubbard, 121 Wintergreen Trail – had a question to one of the maps presented on the TV screen about colors/properties. Throenle explained the differences.

Commissioner Discussion

There were no questions or comments from the Planning Commissioners as this has been discussed in previous meetings.

Commission Decision

Mullen-Campbell moved, and Rhein seconded that after providing required notification to the public, holding a public hearing and considering public input, the Planning Commission recommends that the Township Board approve the changing the zoning district for twenty-seven parcels located on the south the side of Kawbawgam Road above Lake Kawbawgam from Waterfront to Residential (R-1).

MOTION CARRIED

B. Rezoning from Residential to Waterfront – Chocolay River Corridor

Staff Introduction

Throenle brought the map on the TV screen for the public to see. Throenle explained that along the Chocolay River and a portion of Cherry Creek there are a number of parcels that are labeled residential but the Master Plan indicates they should be waterfront due to their location directly on either side of the river.

The changes the Planning Commission has recommended are consistent with the zoning recommended for this area, and this decision is based on the recommended zoning presented in the Township Master Plan.

Throenle stated again that even though it is changing from Residential to Waterfront zoning, it will not affect the taxes. He has discussed this with the Township assessor and taxes will not increase due to this zoning change. It does not however, mean taxes will not change in the future based on the property itself. Taxes do not have anything to do with the zoning.

The concept of adding this to the Waterfront district is for future planning that the Township has in terms of waterfront areas. In the waterfront areas, we will have the FEMA Community Rating System which will be coming forward in April-May 2019. The rating system will affect how FEMA looks at properties and how the Township gets information out to residents about flood plains, etc. Having these properties listed in the Waterfront zoning is one step in the rating system to get us in a general concept for FEMA where flood insurance can get reduced for everyone in that district.

The Community Rating System is based on a points system. You get points for notifications, making sure the zoning ordinance is correct, right now the Township is a rating of ten with the ideal rating being one.

For every level we come down, the people with flood insurance or looking for flood insurance, the price drops by 10%, and will continue to drop by 10% with each level to level six. Maximum reduction will be 40% if we do everything recommended in the rating system.

The one hundred twenty-one parcels identified in the Township Assessing database affected by this change are:

Public Hearing

Dave Schuessler, 135 Wintergreen Trail – Asked if there was any documentation to help ease the affected residents that this rezoning to waterfront will not affect their taxes. Throenle commented that in the letter that was sent out, there is a statement to that affect.

Throenle also explained that the assessor has a five year plan and assesses 20% of the properties a year. He does this based on the property value, not where the property lies according to zoning district. This does not guarantee your assessment will not change in the future, but it will not be related to the zoning changes in any way. He is also not sure where the assessor is regarding his assessments this year. Schuessler's concern is so much of his property, where it does touch the river, is not accessible and is in the flood plain. They cannot make any improvements because of the DNR so he was concerned with it being zoned waterfront.

Throenle stated in 2017 FEMA redid the flood maps and many people that had federally backed mortgages were required to have flood insurance. Throenle stated there are ways to remove your property from the flood plain in terms of elevation. He would be happy to explain this more if anyone wanted to come in to the Township office to discuss it with him. He does not want to take the Planning Commission's time this evening to do that.

Jim Jenkin, 164 Timberlane – Asked what this rezoning would do for development of the land.

Throenle stated this is where the Community Rating System comes into play. In the terms of residential and waterfront, in the terms of what you can or cannot build etc., the two districts are almost identical. The only difference in waterfront is you have to be 100 feet back from the edge of the water to put up a structure, residential you do not have that restriction unless you are along the water. Where this would come into play with the Community Rating System, it is easier to identify a group of properties regarding requirements.

Jenkin also asked if this would bring another set of requirements on how you maintain your property. Throenle stated those are already in place from the County, DEQ, FEMA, Army Corp of Engineers and DNR. FEMA may have more requirements in the future.

Jenkins also asked if there are any red flags for anyone due to the fact some of the properties are wetlands. Throenle stated Marquette Building Codes is following the FEMA regulations to stay ahead of FEMA to prevent violations. Jenkins also asked if this goes through if there would be more restrictions for property owners. Throenle stated it would not as the Zoning Ordinance covers this.

Kimberly Thomsen, 135 Wintergreen Trail – Questioned changes to flood plain maps based on elevation.

Throenle stated the maps did not change much regarding numbers, what did change was banks stating certain mortgages needed flood insurance.

Throenle stated as far as the floodplain, FEMA coming in and doing new mapping in the near future will not happen due to the fact their next step is to map the entire Great Lakes shoreline. The flood maps that are on record will remain for a while unless there is some drastic event that takes place. Throenle also stated the flood plain map is available on the Township website or he can be reached at the Township office to discuss this.

Jim Tillison, 121 Wintergreen Trail - Was notified his property was in the flood plain, he had his property assessed he was not in the flood plain but then it was changed. He had to go through an elevation survey to prove that he was not. Wants people to know they can do this.

Throenle had a final note to residents, what the Planning Commission recommends this evening will go to the Township Board for approval, if they were not comfortable with what is presented tonight there will be another opportunity to speak at the Board meeting.

Kenlyn Hubbard, 121 Wintergreen Trail – Questioned if the assessor looks at waterfront property the same, is lake frontage the same as river frontage? For example, she is 100 yards from the river and didn't have access much due to the river being flooded. She wants to make sure waterfront assessments won't affect the taxes.

Throenle stated he did not want to speak for the assessor as far as what the assessor does, but he had a conversation with the assessor and the assessor assured him he does not look at a property based on the zoning.

Manager Kangas interjected regarding the assessor's land value maps, stating these maps take that into consideration. Ultimately assessment comes down to the value of the structures on your property and the value of the land itself.

Hubbard asked how the FEMA maps work. She feels they are bogus.

Throenle stated this comes back to a general problem of how the maps are created. The branch of FEMA that takes care of Township business is out of Chicago and the mapping branch is out of D.C. The maps are derived from aerial views and given to the branch in D.C. He did not want to get into a FEMA discussion at the meeting as he wants to have a public town hall in the future. He suggested coming in to the Township office to discuss this further.

Faye Williams, 1180 M-28 – Does not understand how taxes will not go up, what about the SEV?

Throenle stressed again that taxes are not assessed by zoning district, the assessor has assessing districts.

Williams asked why are we bothering doing this now? Throenle stated it is to get us consistent with the Master Plan and set up for the FEMA Community Rating System. William's house is two feet under the flood plain and cost him $10,000 for a septic system when his drain field plugged up due to the fact it had to be raised above the flood plain. He has never seen the water come that high so he doesn't understand.

Throenle stated there have been three scenarios in the last two years that water has come up on the river. The Community Rating System is to protect the property owners from these scenarios.

Mahaney stressed when this subject came before the Planning Commission as a public hearing there was no intention to raise the taxes, it was looked at as being along the water so it should be waterfront district to be in line with the Master Plan. Manager Kangas suggested to come into the Township office and talk with the assessor and have him explain your property assessment to you.

Commission Discussion

Maynard stated she lives on Lakewood Lane and has been present at several meeting where these zoning changes were discussed and it was her first question asked if the taxes were going to go up and Throenle had stated no, they would not. She feels comfortable with this change and will vote for it. Manager Kangas also interjected that your taxes may go up but it will not be due to the zoning change. Mullen-Campbell live on waterfront on Riverdale and had concerns. Her husband came to the office and talked with Dale and he explained it to him. She did some research along with the explanation and is comfortable with this change. Bushong stated he lives on Timberlane on a property related to the discussion as well, is below the flood plain and from a zoning perspective it is not much different than the current zoning. Milton added there were two new GPS satellites put into space today; he feels the FEMA maps may have more information as these satellites will have more capability in elevation and radius.

Commission Decision

Maynard moved, and Rhein seconded that after providing required notification to the public, holding a public hearing and considering public input, the Planning Commission recommends that the Township Board approve changing the zoning district for one hundred twenty-one parcels located along the Chocoley River and a portion of Cherry Creek from Residential (R-1) to Waterfront Residential (WFR).

C. Proposed 2019 Meeting Dates

Staff Introduction

Dates for the Planning Commission meetings were submitted to the Board for approval. All dates, are on the third Monday of each month. One question that came up in the Board meeting is if the Planning Commission wants to change the start time of the meeting.

The approved dates are:

Monday, January 21	Monday, May 20	Monday, September 16
Monday, February 18	Monday, June 17	Monday, October 21
Monday, March 18	Monday, July 15	Monday, November 18
Monday, April 15	Monday, August 19	Monday, December 16

Commission Discussion

The Commissioners discussed among themselves to change the meeting start time and came up with 6 PM and decided this would work for all involved.

Commission Decision

Rhein moved, Bushong seconded, that the Planning Commission change the starting time of their meetings in 2019 to 6:00 PM.

Vote: Ayes: 7 Nays: 0 MOTION CARRIED

Maynard moved, Rhein seconded, that the meeting dates be accepted as presented.

Vote: Ayes: 7 Nays: 0 MOTION CARRIED

Throenle interjected to propose February 18, 2019 as the date for the Joint meeting with the Township Board. He recommended the Joint meeting start at 5:30 PM and the Planning Commission meeting start at 7:00 PM on this night.

Mahaney asked if there was an urgency for the Joint meeting at the beginning of the year. Throenle stated that the Board is supposed to set direction for the Planning Commission for the year. Last year it was late, done in June and the Planning Commission was already into the agendas.

Mahaney then questioned why it was not held at the end of the year, as that would give the Board time to hash it over. Throenle asked Richard Bohjanen, Township Supervisor to weigh in. Bohjanen stated the Board has quite a lot of business to transact at the end of the year, such as the budget, appointments, etc. He also stated if it was done at the end of the year, a whole year would be gone by without any concurrence of laying out the plans for the Planning Commission for the rest of the year.

Throenle asked if Bohjanen was suggesting two Joint meetings in 2019 and again Bohjanen stated the end of the year is a busy agenda for the Board.

Throenle suggested to go ahead with the February meeting and establish at that meeting an ongoing schedule for future meetings.

Meister suggested the Planning Commission set their agenda in March after the Joint meeting. Bohjanen suggested may the Planning Commission set their agenda in January and they can discuss it for concurrence at the Joint meeting. The Board just likes to know they are on the same page. Mahaney said it does help to give direction if the Board is thinking of something the Planning Commission may not be. Throenle reminded them that the direction for the Planning Commission generally has a two-year length.

Bushong moved, Maynard seconded, that the joint meeting with the Township Board be set at 5:30 PM on February 18, 2019.

D. Proposed M-28 Campground

Staff Introduction

An applicant is working on a proposed campground project to be located on M-28 east of Shot Point and east of Lakenenland. The applicant has requested a preliminary site plan review to determine if this is a viable project for that location prior to purchasing the property.

Staff Findings

In reviewing the project, staff has found a number of benefits for this particular location:

- 1) The proposed project will be located on the existing ATV / ORV and snowmobile trail (trail 417).
- 2) The proposed project will be located close to existing Township recreation (Lakenenland and Jeske Flooding).
- 3) The proposed project will provide an additional recreation location for those visiting the Township.
- 4) The proposed project will provide “friendly” competition to the other campgrounds in the Township, as it will provide different amenities (teepees and yurts, for example).
- 5) The proposed project will be located in an area that does not affect many Township residents.

Staff recommends that the Commissioners review the proposed campground and determine if the project should be pursued. The applicant is requesting the Commissioners to give recommendations on the project and to provide feedback on changes that should be modified or added to the project.

Two drawings (one with the elevations listed and the other with the elevations removed) and an aerial view of the area were attached for Commissioner review. The applicant has provided printed drawings of the project that were available at the meeting.

If the project is to be pursued, staff is requesting the Commissioners to direct staff to begin the process for a conditional use permit for the proposed campground.

Commission Discussion

Throenle reminded the Commissioners this is where Shaked and his group (see earlier Public Comment) be included in the conversation to answer questions. He told them there are very few residents affected in the area around the proposed site and they would be notified in the formal process of this project. The applicant is open to any suggestions and ideas on this proposal.

Mahaney asked what the zoning was in this area. Throenle stated it is Agricultural/Forest, and the applicant would have to come in for a conditional use hearing. The good news is the property is over the 20 acres but is required to have to have a conditional permit for the campground according to the Chocolay Township Zoning Ordinance.

Mullen-Campbell asked if an ATV trail goes through this property and if it would be kept and Throenle stated there was and it would remain there.

Maynard asked how many acres is the property, and was told approximately 300. She also asked where the closest house was, Throenle stated there are very few and thought the closest was by Jeske Flooding.

Maynard asked how many people would be in the campground if it was full, Shaked replied in the first phase approximately 100. He explained that there will be less sites to allow people to have space and privacy.

Rhein asked about the water aquifer, as there have been issues in the past. Throenle stated this was closer to Sand River and felt this was a different aquifer. Meister interjected that the DEQ would be involved and do multiple tests. Throenle added this would be the conditional use portion of the formal application as the DEQ, State, Health Department, Township and County would all be involved.

Shaked stated he hopes to have the campground open year round in the future, and he would provide RV camping, hiking, biking, amenities, and many more outdoor activities.

Throenle stated he camps a lot and was excited about this. He feels there will be a big draw with the ATV/ORV trail going through it. Also the snowmobile trails goes along there, and there will be space, so you will not be jammed in.

Shaked wants to have an education center to educate the people in the heritage history of the area such as Native American history.

Maynard asked if there would be a caretaker and was told the plan was to have someone there.

Rhein felt it would be great to get more people into our area using our businesses.

Mullen-Campbell thought it would be good to work with Native American ideas.

Commission Decision

Meister moved, and Milton seconded that staff should move forward with a conditional use permit application process for the proposed campground, and present that application at a future Planning Commission meeting for consideration.

E. Proposed ATV / ORV Trail

Staff Introduction

A proposal has been presented to staff for consideration of adding a section of three County roads as a potential ATV / ORV connection in the Township. This proposed trail includes the following connections and directions:

- The western portion of the trail originates at the former railroad grade, crosses through DNR property near Lake LeVasseur, connects to Kawbawgam Road, and heads south on Kawbawgam Road to the intersection of Kawbawgam Road and Mangum Road.
- At the intersection of Kawbawgam Road and Mangum Road, the trail would continue east on Mangum Road to the Sand River Road intersection.
- At the intersection Mangum Road and Sand River Road the trail would go north on Sand River Road and reconnect to the railroad grade trail.

Currently, the only designated ATV / ORV trail in the Township is the Marquette-Manistique Trail that goes along the former railroad grade; this trail provides access from the Ojibway Casino to Manistique (see attached trail map). ATVs and ORVs are also permitted to ride on State lands located in the Camp Four Road area, but this area is not connected to the Marquette-Manistique Trail.

There have been several decisions regarding the ATV / ORV question from the Township Board and the Marquette County Board of Commissioners over the last several years. They are:

- May 17, 1999 Township Board Meeting
The Township Board voted to exclude Chocolay Township from the first Marquette County ORV ordinance. This exclusion prohibited all ATV / ORV traffic on County roads in the Township.
- June 9, 2008 Township Board Meeting
The Board voted to support using the eastern portion of snowmobile trail 417 for ORV usage. This established the ATV / ORV usage from the casino to points east on the former railroad grade.
- May 20, 2013 Township Board Meeting
The Board voted to keep the ATV / ORV road exclusions in the Township, and to support the latest version of the County ORV ordinance.
- June 18, 2013 Marquette County Board of Commissioners
The Commissioners approved the County ORV ordinance, which excludes ATV / ORV traffic on county roads in Chocolay Township and other jurisdictions (see Section 2.a in the attached County ordinance and the County ORV ordinance map)

Commission Discussion

Throenle reminded the Commission there is a DNR trail in that goes through Chocolay Township and permits ATVs on the trail. The trail comes up from the Manistique area. It starts at the entrance to the casino and goes east, and it would go directly through the campground that was proposed earlier in the meeting.

There are ATVs allowed in that area right now; they are also able to ride in the State lands (Camp 4 area). There is a connection problem; there is no trail connecting the two existing trails.

Throenle is asking the Commissioners to look at this to see if it makes sense, then the Township would have to write an ordinance to allow ATV on County roads within the Township due to the fact the Township is currently opted out.

Mahaney asked if this would go through Township property on the east end of the proposed route, where it comes off of the current snowmobile trail to access Kawbawgam Road. Throenle stated it is State land.

Mahaney also questioned the ordinance for signs, would all these roads have signs. He is concerned there would nothing preventing the ATV from going somewhere they should not. Throenle stated on the existing trails there are signs stating when you cannot go any farther. Township police have been presently giving tickets to ATVs that are on Township roads due to the fact they are not supposed to be there.

Throenle commented he would have Tony Harry, President of the ATV / ORV club, Team Riders in Marquette answer some of the questions.

Harry explained Yamaha has certain grant programs for people working on trail systems and the DNR can be contacted to see what is available. He has been working on trails throughout Upper Michigan. He said Marquette Township has opened their trails to County roads, and they have set times for their Township roads.

Harry commented that all County roads are open in the Upper Peninsula except for Chocolay Township. Throenle added this would be addressing existing ATV traffic in the Township, by giving a route that would establish a trail connection in the Township without going through major residential areas at this point. This would be a preliminary start for ATV traffic in the Township. If this trail works, and has a good reputation, it could lead to a discussion in the future to expand further into the Township.

Throenle stated this has been a contentious in the past and this could be an attempt to show that ATVs can ride in the Township without harm.

Throenle stated there are approximately 10 parcel owners along this route. Mahaney asked if they would be notified and Throenle answered they would be due to an ordinance being written.

Supervisor Bohjanen mentioned that Sand River Road is the boundary between Chocolay and Onota Townships and was curious how Onota Township feels about this.

Throenle stated it would have to be discussed with Onota Township to make it a joint decision. If Onota Township has already opted in, there would have to be a joint decision between both Boards.

Meister asked Harry if this would allow people to go from east to west, a way to get around Marquette. Harry answered yes.

Throenle stated there is more to be done but the primary question right now is if the Commissioners see this as a viable project to move forward with. If it is, staff will have to be directed to work with Harry and his crew. Harry stated he would help with anything as he works on trails all over the Upper Peninsula.

Throenle stressed the Planning department wants to establish a trail with minimal impact to folks in the Township but also wants to provide access to come in from outside of the Township and vice versa.

Meister felt it opened up a lot of area with little impact and was a good plan for the ATV people to access a much larger area.

Rhein and Mullen-Campbell agreed and felt it would help bring people through the Township.

Mahaney main concern is signage to prevent the ATVs from coming past the Kawbawgam Road area. Throenle stated that he has had several discussions regarding signage with the Commissioners. It is a problem throughout the Township and this is why it was made a priority for 2019.

Mahaney reminded Throenle he was on the Commission when they had a open meeting proposing an ATV trail and it was declined, he just wants to assure the residents there will be proper signage.

Harry also stated that during the time of the last public meeting, there was some misrepresentation of the ATV club. He wants to work with the people on this project. Mahaney wants it to be clear that this is just a recommendation for this to advance. Throenle answered there is a lot of work to be done for this to happen, he needs a recommendation from the Planning Commission one way or another to do that work.

Commission Decision

Bushong moved, and Rhein seconded that the proposed ATV / ORV route be recommended for consideration, and that staff should begin the process of drafting an ATV / ORV ordinance.

Vote: Ayes: 6 Nays: 1 (Maynard) MOTION CARRIED

F. Proposed Amendments to Ordinance 39 Waste Water Collection System

Staff Introduction

Throenle reminded the Commission this was the item added to the Agenda at the beginning of the meeting tonight.

Manager Kangas provided a memo that stated:

“Pursuant to prior consent of the Township Board, staff has drafted a minor revision to the Waste Water Collection System Ordinance. I request this language be considered by the Planning Commission as a late addition to the agenda for the December 17, 2018 meeting. If the Planning Commission is so inclined to consider the proposed changes, we would expect to schedule a Public Hearing for the January 2019 Township Board meeting to consider the changes.

Section 5 Use of Public Sewers Required

ADD

(C)

Any property abutting the public rights-of-way of Riverside Road, Glenwood Road and Highway M-28 East where public sanitary sewer exists, but only those sections commencing at manhole number 156 and terminating at manhole number 172, shall be exempt from this Section until such time as:

1. The existing on-site septic system fails for the respective property, or
2. An undeveloped property is developed to the extent of requiring a waste water system.

The intent of this paragraph is to waive any connection requirements along the KBIC sewer extension route until the existing drain field fails, or until a property is developed for the first time.

In addition to the language proposed above, we have evaluated the internal costs of changing the sanitary sewer billing cycle from quarterly billing to monthly billing. The added cost is anticipated to be less than $200/month and we feel that cost can be accommodated by the new sewer rate adopted by the Township Board at their December 10, 2018 meeting.

Section 9 System Charges or Rates
(E)
Billing and Payment of Charges

1. Service charge and surcharges.

CHANGE

Line 2, first word: change from “quarterly” to “monthly”.

As stated above, the intent of this word change is to change the sewer billing cycle from four quarterly bills to 12 monthly bills as a result of the new Township Board adopted rate of $54/Equivalent Unit/month.”

Commission Discussion

Throenle stated for the recorded record the Commissioners were taking a brief moment to read through the memo.

Meister asked if this exemption would cover all of the sewer line, including the new extension. Kangas answered yes, it would cover all of the sewer owned by the Township.

Mahaney asked how the response has been for people wanting to hook up to the new sewer. Kangas answered there has been no requests as of yet to hook up, but have sold approximately 24 laterals to residents to help them save money down the road when they have to connect.

Mahaney inquired of the wording regarding the failure of the septic system, if the pumping of a septic system is considered a failure. Kangas answered no, that would be considered maintenance of a properly operating system. Throenle stated it would be if you were to call the DEQ to have your system replaced, this is would be when you have to connect.

Bushong questioned if you add a second drain field. Throenle stated anything that requires an enhancement or replacement of what you already have would require you to connect.

Kangas reminded the Commission of the current language that requires everyone to connect as soon as the Township accepts the new extension into the existing system. The intent of the Board was to never to require the adjoining properties to connect at this time because it was the Keweenaw Bay Indian Community asking and paying for the extension. He did not want it to be a “penalty” for living along the best feasible sewer route for that project.

Maynard has heard some grumbles regarding feeling pressure to have to connect, she feels this is more fair.

Kangas did not feel people were pressured, just offered an opportunity to save some money now. Interpretation is up to the receiver.

Mahaney asked if a resident asked if there would be a fee to connect now. Kangas answered there will always be a fee.

Kangas also stated that there will be another fee that will need to be discussed as the sewer ordinance is revised. It deals with properties that have multiple connections for one parcel.

Bushong asked what the cost to the homeowner would be to connect, outside of the fee. Kangas answered it would be between the contractor and the property owner. It would be the owner's responsibility to hire a contractor.

Mullen-Campbell felt the monthly billing makes sense, but Mahaney disagreed. She felt it was easier for residents to have monthly but could also see how business would want quarterly billing.

Throenle interjected with the fact that the Township will be getting new billing software and the commercial could be separated from the residential (which it is already) but all commercial properties would have to be either all monthly or all quarterly, there is no in between.

Meister asked if the reasoning behind this would be for residents to budget their bills easier with monthly payments. Throenle stated it was the reasoning due to the rate increase.

Maynard asked if there have been issues with late payments with the current quarterly billing. Throenle stated there have been but it also helps with the fact if you miss a payment on monthly you would only get a late fee on one month, versus getting a late fee on three months.

Meister felt as a former business owner, most places would pay their bills more often to avoid late fees, feels there should not be a difference in monthly or quarterly billing.

Kangas commented that if this goes forward to the Board there will be a letter sent out to all sewer customers before the public hearing.

Meister asked if someone can pay ahead and Kangas commented that some people already to that, especially snowbirds. Meister felt monthly would be the best option, people can pay monthly or pay ahead whatever is best for them. Mahaney felt it would be good to put the options for payment in the letter sent out. Meister agreed.

Kangas thought quarterly was good due to the fact the Township is not set up with autopay of any kind yet and it would be less checks for people to write. Rhein asked if the Township was working on getting a credit card payment system. Throenle stated that it was being worked on with the new financial system that is being installed in 2019. He was hopeful the Township would get to that point, may not happen in 2019 but the Township is heading in that direction.

Commission Decision

Meister moved, Maynard seconded to recommend approval of the addition of paragraph C, as indicated above, to Section 5 of Ordinance 39 to grant a connection waiver to parcels abutting the KBIC sanitary sewer extension until such time as the on-site septic system fails or the property is developed for the first time, and to refer the proposed revision to the Township Board for Public Hearing.

IX. PUBLIC COMMENT

Faye Williams, 1180 M-28 – Has the Planning Commission done any studies on the water levels on the Chocolay River. Mahaney commented none that he knew of. Williams was wondering if anything was being done to widen the bridge on Green Bay Street to get the water down. Throenle commented there is a replacement project for that bridge in 2020.

Kangas commented the authority of the bridge is the Road Commission. Williams then asked about the snowmobile trails and Maynard commented that the DNR would be responsible for them. He thanked the Commission for answering all of his questions.

Public comment closed 9:15 PM.

X. COMMISSIONER’S COMMENTS

Rhein – Accomplished quite a bit today, feels the Commission works good together, looking forward to another year. Wished Meister well in his retirement from the Planning Commission and thanked him for his service.

Milton – None

Maynard – Wished everyone Happy Holidays and Merry Christmas.

Meister – End of his term, has been a pleasure working with staff and the Commission, wished them luck in the future.

Bushong – Merry Christmas and Happy Holidays.

Mullen-Campbell – Merry Christmas and Happy Holidays, thinks Santa will make an appearance at everyone’s house this year. Thanked Throenle for all the great information in the packet.

Mahaney – Wished Meister well, could not believe he is leaving, and thanked him for his service. Great public turnout tonight, felt it was great. Thanked Throenle for the great packet.

XI. DIRECTOR'S REPORT

Thanked Meister for the pleasure of working with him and said Meister will be missed. Reminded the Commissioners of the blue card in their packet with the information for the Township and County surveys and Township Newsletter. He told everyone Merry Christmas and Happy New Year and said he will see everyone in January.

VIII. NEW BUSINESS

A. Election of Planning Commission Officers

Staff Introduction

Each year, the Planning Commission must elect new officers as directed by Section VI in the Planning Commission Procedures and Bylaws.

“The officers of the Chocolay Township Planning Commission shall consist of a Chair, Vice-Chair, Secretary, and Vice-Secretary. The Executive Committee shall consist of Chair, Vice-Chair, and Secretary. Said officers shall be elected by the Chocoday Township Planning Commission from among its members, at its January Meeting, and shall serve for a period of one year. (Amended 2-17)”

Members eligible to be elected as officers is outlined in the same section. Don Rhein, who is the Board-appointed representative to the Planning Commission, is eligible to be elected to all officer positions except the Chair.

Commission Decision

Motion Number 1

Rhein moved, Milton seconded, to elect Mahaney as the Chair of the Planning Commission.

Vote: Ayes: 6 Nays: 0 MOTION CARRIED

Motion Number 2

Mahaney moved, Rhein seconded, to elect Maynard as the Vice-Chair of the Planning Commission.

B. 2018 Planning Commission Annual Report

Staff Introduction

As required by the Planning Commission By-Laws, an annual report is to be prepared and presented to the Board.

Commissioner Discussion

Soucy commented that the report was helpful coming on board, he felt it was a good synopsis and professionally done and thanked Throenle for that.

Commission Decision

Rhein moved, Milton seconded, that the 2018 Planning Commission Annual Report be forwarded to the Board as written.

Vote: Ayes: 6 Nays: 0

MOTION CARRIED

C. Proposed 2019-2020 Planning Commission Priorities

Staff Introduction

Each year, Planning Commissioners should review the priorities established for the Planning Commission to determine if those priorities are still valid for the upcoming year. Attached is the current priority document, and a document outlining the proposed 2019 – 2020 priorities.

Commissioner Discussion

Throenle commented that he changed the priorities from 1, 2, 3 to High, Medium, Low to allow the distinction of importance. Throenle also commented that he moved the Firewise project to a High priority due to the fact the Township is pushing fire protection.

There are seven new priorities that were not on last year's list but he wanted the Commissioners to know that all the priorities are for 2019 and 2020, not just 2019. Whatever is approved this evening will be presented at the Joint meeting with Township Board in February. Mahaney was glad for the clarification of the calendar year as the heading was confusing.

Throenle stated that one of the priorities that has not been done in the past and is the responsibility of the Planning Commission is to establish a Capital Improvement Plan. The Township has the budget but not the plan. This would require the Planning Commission to look at the budget and establish a five year plan for the assets the Township has.

Mahaney asked if the Planning Commission would be choosing the priorities of the Township and would the Board reveal a budget number? Throenle commented yes, there would be a simple format of the budget and the Planning Commission decides which priorities to allocate money to for the next five years. It shouldn't be difficult as the Capital Improvement budget is there already and is spread out over five years. Basically this is review at budget time to see if it makes sense.

Mahaney asked if this was done one year at a time and Throenle said the Capital Improvement it was for a five year scenario with an annual review.

Soucy stated he thought it was actually a six year plan according to the statute and Throenle commented yes it was.

Maynard asked if this is something that the Planning Commission has not done in the past. Throenle stated that was correct, the more he gets into the position, the more he finds has not been done. This is something that is in the Planning and Enabling Act, and The Planning Commission needs to do this as it is a legal requirement. However, the State has not come back and told us we have to do something. Mahaney commented he did not remember doing this in his time on the Planning Commission.

Mahaney asked if the budget amounts would change year to year and Throenle stated this depends on many things like tax income and other revenues and expenditures.

Mahaney asked if this would have to go to a public hearing, Throenle stated no, it would be a budget plan that is forwarded to the Board for approval.

Milton asked if this includes vehicles and was told by Throenle yes this would be recommended by the Planning Commission according to priority and where the money is allocated.

Mahaney asked if this would be a one or two month item and Throenle stated he would take the budget and put it in a format where the priorities are and present to the Planning Commission for their comments. Mahaney asked if the Township Board would have the final say and Throenle stated they would.

Throenle also stated the Recreation Plan was not completed in 2018, so we do not have a Recreation Plan on file with the DNR right now. This makes us non-compliant and unable to get funding from the DNR right now.

However, if this budget plan is filed with the DNR by May, we would be eligible for passport grants from the DNR this year.

Rhein asked where Planning Commission is with the Recreation Plan and Throenle stated he was about two-thirds of the way through it. There was not a good response of residents taking the survey. There were roughly 1,500 notifications sent out and to date there are approximately 65 surveys returned. The deadline has been extended until the end of March and he may extend it until June.

Throenle has also moved the Chocolay River Watershed Plan up on the priorities as the plan has not been updated since 1999.

He said the Shoreline Stewards Plan goes along with the Firewise Program and the Community Rating System in priority.

He pointed out the Marijuana Ordinance would be discussed later this evening in the meeting.

Mahaney asked for clarification on the wording for opting in on the County ATV Ordinance. He asked if it should just say "to consider opting in" versus "develop the process for opting into". Throenle stated he worded it this way as it was a recommendation from the Planning Commission to opt in on certain roads. Mahaney and Maynard felt it was misleading and felt it sounded like they were opting in for all roads in the Township. Throenle asked if they would like it to read "Consider process for opting into the County ATV / ORV ordinance for proposed routes on Kawbawgam Road, East Mangum Road, and Sand River Road”. Mahaney stated ONLY those roads and thanked Throenle for the clarification.

Mahaney asked the meaning of “Rewrite the Zoning Ordinance”. Throenle answered it would be the entire ordinance, and he said it can be done in sections. Throenle continued that there are items in the ordinance that need updating and may have not been discussed in a long time.

Commission Decision

Maynard moved, Rhein seconded, that the priorities for the Planning Commission for 2019 - 2020 be published as changed, and forwarded to the Board for consideration at the joint Board / Planning Commission meeting in February of 2019.

Vote: Ayes: 6 Nays: 0 MOTION CARRIED

D. Marijuana Facilities Ordinance Consideration

Staff Introduction

On November 6, 2018, Michigan voters approved Proposal 18-1, which legalized recreational marijuana and created the Michigan Regulation and Taxation of Marihuana Act (MRTMA). On December 6, 2018, the act became law, and as a result of this act, each community is now required to decide if it is going to allow or prohibit state-licensed recreational marijuana establishments.

Staff has reviewed the act, and is recommending the Township opt out of the act for the following reasons:

- Allowing recreational facilities in the Township does not necessarily increase the income for the Township. Conversations with law enforcement indicates that most, if not all, revenues received will be redirected to law enforcement related to the establishments.
- State law is in conflict with current Federal law at this time in relation to the drug status of marijuana nationally.
- Law enforcement officials have gone on record (including the County Sheriff) stating providing these establishments are not a good option for local communities.
- The Act is ambiguous in several areas, and opt in language may be difficult to defend in court per documents from the Michigan Municipal League.

Commissioner Discussion

Throenle stated unlike the Medical Marijuana Act where you had to opt in, the Recreation Marijuana Act is the opposite and you have to opt out. There are several entities in the Upper Peninsula that are opting out due to the many unknowns at this time.

Throenle stated several times that if you opt out, you can, at any time, revisit this ordinance and opt in once the legal aspects are worked out.

Chocolay Township Police Sergeant Tony Carrick was at the meeting and presented the issues from a police standpoint and answered any questions the Commission had. He also said there are many unknowns and laws that have yet to be determined.

Throenle told the Commission that the monies collected cannot yet be put in federal banks due to the fact this is a State law, not a Federal law.

Carrick also stated that security would be an issue. The facilities would have to rely on the local, county and state law enforcement because an individual, legally, cannot have a weapon (gun) and marijuana on the same property. He added that most of those agencies are already operating understaffed and over budget, so protection could be an issue.

Mahaney commented that he believes Negaunee Township and Sands Township opted in. Throenle added the consideration that there would be entities around Chocolay Township opting in that Chocolay would not have to.

The Planning Commission discussed and asked different questions of all aspects relating to marijuana.

Maynard felt most voters did not read the law before voting and she would rather opt out now and revisit the ordinance once the laws are clarified. This would help to protect the Township. She would like to decide which of the five aspects or limit where they could take place within the Township.

Rhein stated if they changed the ordinance in any way, there would be a public hearing and the public would get a chance to speak. He has no problem with it but would like the law to be better clarified by the State.

Mullen-Campbell stated that over 50 percent of the Township voted in favor, that should mean something.

Soucy stated he did not want to shut the door on this as it could be a factor in economic development. He also felt it was up to the Planning Commission to create the conditions and environment so there could be an effective, working facility that does not have nuisances associated with it. He would also like to add a sunset clause to assure this gets revisited once the State gets the regulations set. Throenle interjected that a sunset clause could be an issue due to the fact it could inadvertently get missed down the road and then the Township would automatically get opted back in.

Milton would like to wait for clarification of the laws as well. He reminded the Commission that in the past the Board has done the opposite of the recommendations that have come from the Planning Commission.

Mahaney stated that 60 percent of Michigan wanted this. He does not want to shut the door completely on this, and he wants it in the ordinance that it can be revisited at any time.

Mahaney asked if the Township would be looking at just the retail part of the marijuana and Throenle stated the Planning Commission is looking at all five aspects. The five aspects are growing, processing, transporting, testing, and selling. Mahaney also asked Throenle what would happen if someone came in now to get the license. Throenle stated he would have to research it as he was not sure.

Throenle stated Colorado is having issues and are trying to fix them. Michigan is just starting and he would like more clarification to be able to do his job. There are other ordinances that could be affected by the decisions made. There are many laws yet to be covered concerning marijuana and most people do not know the ramifications yet.

Commission Decision

Maynard moved, Rhein seconded that proposed Ordinance 67 Marijuana Establishments be presented for public hearing as written at a future Planning Commission meeting.

Soucy moved, and Rhein seconded an amendment that there is a sunset of December 6, 2019 on this until the Board of Licensing and Regulatory Affairs develops further regulations defining the law.

Maynard, under the Rules of Order, can either accept or reject the amendment. Maynard rejected it.

Vote: Ayes: 3 Nays: 3

ORIGINAL MOTION FAILED

Throenle stated he would add this to next month's agenda as he is adamant the Township is unprotected at the moment. There needs to be something on the books to protect the Township.

Throenle stated once again that once this is passed does not mean it cannot come back and be revisited. It is done with the Zoning Ordinance all the time, it is happening in this meeting with the next item on the agenda.

Mahaney stated he does fear this would not be revisited. There is nothing in the current ordinance to state this and would like to see something added, Soucy feels there should be something added due to the fact sometimes ordinances are revisited and have a hard time being brought about. He also commented there is a lack of clarity from LARA on this subject.

Carrick interjected that this would reduce crime as it is legal now but it also opens it up to different kinds of crime. He said it was not the smokers or user of marijuana; it would be the people that would take advantage of the people selling it. There would increases in armed robberies, breaking and entering, etc to the business selling it.

After more discussion the following motion was made.

Rhein moved, Maynard seconded that proposed Ordinance 67 Marijuana Establishments for public hearing at the next Planning Commission meeting.

Rhein then rescinded his motion to make some changes and proposed a new motion.

Rhein moved, Soucy seconded to proceed with Ordinance 67 Marijuana Establishments be presented for public hearing at the March 2019 Planning Commission meeting.

Vote: Ayes: 6 Nays: 0 MOTION CARRIED

Planning Commission Chairman Mahaney called for a five minute break at 7:55 PM. Commissioners returned at 8:00 PM.

E. Rental Considerations

Staff Introduction

In September 2018 the Commissioners developed a rental checklist for rentals in the Township. The Commissioners also reviewed draft Zoning Ordinance definitions, a proposed rental form, and a draft outline of the Township Information document. Staff was given direction to draft a separate rental ordinance in relation to this topic. Staff determined that the best form of tracking rentals in the Township should be through an annual registration process, and staff has updated the draft rental form to reflect that direction.

Staff reviewed the Commissioner's comments, suggestions, and directions, and prepared a draft ordinance for the Commissioners to review.

As part of the development of the draft ordinance, language related to the ordinance must be updated in the Township Zoning Ordinance.

Commissioner Discussion

Throenle stated this was not under "Old Business" as it is a new consideration. Draft definitions are the same with some revisions. The concept tonight is to discuss having a registration for all rental properties in the Township.

There would be a rental form to be filled out annually at no cost and would require the owner of the property or a manager/contact for the property to live within the Township or 25 miles of the Township boundaries. This would insure that if problems came about with the rental, there would be someone close to call and deal with them. Soucy asked if the landlord lived on the property and rented if they would be subject to this as well. Throenle stated from his understanding of the tax perspective they would be, if a room is being used as rental or office space it would be a partial

PRE on the property. He said this will come down to honesty of people renting their properties. Maynard stated it could come from the neighbors who are not happy as well. Mahaney agreed as it has been the case in the past.

The registration would not define if the property was a long or short term rental. In the ordinance it would be changed from "rental dwellings" to "registered rental dwellings".

According to the registration, it would require all renters, long or short, to be given a copy of the Township Information Guide. The information in the guide deals with Township history and demographics, ordinance information, and general information. This could also be used for people who are new to the Township.

Throenle stated he attended a planning commission conference that introduced new software that tracks rental properties and it showed there were 30 Air B&B type rentals in Chocolay Township. This is less than one percent of the 3,000+ properties in the Township.

The information on the registration would help provide information to the Township police, the zoning department, and assessing department.

Soucy what would happen if someone fails to get registered. Throenle stated it would be looked at case by case and he will need to get the word out to residents in the Township regarding the registration. The company presenting the material about the 30 rentals discussed earlier did not provide the addresses. Some information could possibly be extracted from the assessing data base by looking at the PRE information.

Throenle told the Commission the numbers/amounts for violations have to be discussed in the proposed ordinance. They are preliminary, they need to be discussed and simplified.

Rhein suggested the fines increase with each occurrence. Mahaney offered an opposition to this, pointing out violations may not be the landlords fault. Throenle suggested that the first violation be "X" amount, second violation an increased fine, and the third violation be immediate suspension of their registration which would put them in violation of the ordinance. They could appeal the violation in court.

Rhein asked about the appeal. Throenle reminded the Commission there are State laws that pertain to rentals as well and this is where the hearing could help the landlord with appeal. Mahaney liked the idea as it puts the responsibility on the landlord and Rhein agreed.

Mahaney felt $100 as the fine is lenient but with the revocation listed it would be good. Throenle asked the Commission what they thought would be a good amount for the fine. Rhein stated even $200 isn't major but it shows that the Township is serious about the violations.

Milton stated the first violation could be $100 and a notice, stating what would happen if there are more violations, the second violation would be $100 and a final notice, and the third time $100 and revoke the registration.

Throenle stated he would put this together for the next Planning Commission meeting.

Soucy suggested having a requirement of a landlord quarterly inspection written in the registration form. Milton felt a short term rental would have this as they would be cleaning it often. Throenle stated he has no internal enforcement as he cannot legally go past the front yard or inside a property. Mahaney felt the form should be kept simple.

Before the motions were made, Throenle asked the Commission if they had any objections to the zoning districts where registered rentals are located. He said the only zoning district they are not included, in terms of recommendations, is in the industrial district.

Soucy made mention of the House bill #4046 that was introduced last week would preempt any/all short/long term rentals. Rhein asked if it was similar to the bills that were introduced before and Throenle commented he thought it was identical.

Maynard read from the bill, that if it was enacted the bill would consider all vacation and short term rentals to be considered residential uses and allow them in all residential zones. The bill also specified that rentals of twenty-eight days or less are not subject to a special use or conditional use nor can they face a procedure that is different from those required for any other dwelling in the same zone.

Rhein felt that based on this the Township would be covered by distinguishing them as rentals, not short or long term rentals.

Commission Decision

Maynard moved, Rhein seconded, that the proposed definitions and language for Ordinance 68 Rentals be accepted as presented.

Vote: Ayes: 6 Nays: 0 MOTION CARRIED

Milton moved, Rhein seconded, that the proposed definitions and language for the Zoning Ordinance be accepted as presented.

F. Structure Placement Considerations

Staff Introduction

When issuing permits for structures in the Township over the last two years, an issue has arisen as to the placement of structures that are less than 100 square feet in size for properties that are zoned either Single Family Residential (R-1) or Waterfront Residential (WFR).

Staff Findings

There is an exemption in footnote 2 in Section 6.1 of the Township Zoning Ordinance that states:

“A detached accessory building less than 100 square feet and so located that no portion is located in the front yard setback is exempt from the provisions of this ordinance.”

This particular exemption creates a scenario where sheds and other structures under 100 square feet can be placed directly on the property line between neighbors, and could potentially develop a “fence” of structures on that line.

Commissioner Discussion

Throenle suggested to the Commission to remove the second part of the footnote so residents would not be able to put a structure right on the property line, even though it may be under 100 square feet.

Mahaney asked if it would have to be within 6 feet from the property line. Throenle stated it would be within 6 feet. Everything else would stay the same in terms of the other setbacks.

Soucy asked if this could create non-conforming issues and Throenle stated that it could. If they had documents showing the structure was there prior to the change it would not be an issue.

Soucy asked about a situation where there is already a fence there. Throenle answered that a fence is different scenario. One would have to abide by the setback regardless where the fence is.

Commission Decision

Milton moved, Rhein seconded, that we eliminate footnote 2 in Section 6.1 of the Zoning Ordinance to be presented for public hearing as written at a future Planning Commission meeting.

X. COMMISSIONER'S COMMENTS

Rhein – Felt they went over quite a bit of stuff tonight, got some stuff ironed out. Thanked Soucy for stepping up and being on the Commission with them. Felt with his expertise, he would be a great asset to the Planning Commission.

Milton – Nothing at this point.

Maynard – Welcome Ryan.

Mullen-Campbell – Glad to have a new face, knows his son from Cherry Creek.

Soucy – Happy to be here, happy to give back to my community. Looking forward to a good year here.

Mahaney – Thanked Throenle for the three hour meeting. Thanked the Commissioners for a wonderful meeting.

XI. DIRECTOR'S REPORT

Thanked Soucy for joining them and appreciated his input. Thanked the Commissioners for the animated discussion tonight; he appreciates that it went back and forth. He also appreciates everyone looked at the issues and dug into them.

Also, on the table is a color chart from the Casino folks are asking for a color preference for the water tower. The choices are between the first two blues on the first line, there is a lighter and darker blue. They are asking for a preference, as the Zoning Appeals mandate was to pick a neutral type color. The Commission chose lighter blue (15BL Tank White).

Reminder that next month is the joint meeting at 5:30 PM with the Planning Commission to follow at 7:00 PM.

He reminded the Commissioners to take the Recreation survey, if they haven't already.

A. Proposed 2019-2020 Planning Commission Priorities

Staff Introduction

Throenle stated the priorities were included in the packet for the Planning Commission to have an opportunity to review and change them, if needed, based on the recommendations from the Board at the joint meeting held earlier in the evening. If no changes are required, the priorities have to be approved.

Commission Decision

Milton moved, Rhein seconded, that the priorities for the Planning Commission for 2019 - 2020 be published as written.

B. Rental Considerations

Staff Introduction

Staff made some changes to the proposed Ordinance 68 Rentals, and included that document in the packet for Commissioner review. The changes were highlighted in the ordinance document.

Staff included a document in the packet containing the proposed changes to the Township Zoning Ordinance for one additional review by the Commissioners. Changes to the ordinance were highlighted in the document. A cross-reference document was also provided showing the location of the proposed changes in the full Zoning Ordinance.

Staff put the draft registration form in the packet for one additional review by the Commissioners.

Commission Discussion

Milton questioned if the renter would be getting a copy of the actual ordinance. Throenle replied the owner would be given a copy of the Township Information document, which includes a summary of the ordinances, and would be required to provide the information to anyone renting the property.

In regards to penalties for not registering a rental property, staff discussed the question with the Township Supervisor, Richard Bohjanen, and Bohjanen felt there was no reason for different stages of violations. Bohjanen suggested the penalty in the ordinance be set to "not more than $500 for each violation" as the other Township ordinances cover all other violations.

Mahaney asked who would make the decision of the amount of the fine; Throenle stated it would be a determination factor. Mahaney brought this up as there may be a possibility of inconsistency in enforcement of the fine. Throenle stated it could go the other way as well, he could issue the fine, it goes to court, and the judge reduces it.

Maynard asked is the size of the rental would make any difference, Throenle stated that it would not matter.

Milton asked if there would be a fee with the registration. Throenle answered he is recommending there is not be a fee as the owners will have a tax implication for renting the property, and he said it will be up to the Assessor to determine what the tax change would be. Throenle also stated if the registration is free, more people would be more apt to register their rental property.

Throenle reminded the Commission that the primary reason for the registration of rentals is to find out where they are located.

Soucy had concerns regarding the owner/ agent supplying the Township Information document to anyone renting the property. Throenle stated he would advise any owner/agent to get a paper, signed by the renter, stating they did in fact give the renter a copy of the Township Information document. Throenle also stated, in his position as Zoning Administrator, he has to trust that people are doing the right thing.

Maynard commented when she has rented short term, her contract had a place to sign that she had received a copy of the house rules. Throenle stated that is where the owner/agent has to be aware they need to have something similar in their contract signed by the renter that the renter has received the information to prevent any legal matters in the future.

Bushong requested the following be added to the last bullet in Section 5: "It is suggested that the owner maintain proof of delivery of the Township Information document to the renter." Throenle updated the ordinance document to reflect the change. Maynard stated it could be added to the Registration form, and Throenle updated the form with the additional language.

Maynard suggested that during the registration process, the owner/agent receive a list of suggestions that are expected of their tenants. This may help make their life easier. Throenle answered that he could put together a checklist and include it with the registration process. The Commission felt that was a good idea.

Commission Decision

1) Maynard moved, Rhein seconded, that the proposed definitions and language for Ordinance 68 Rentals be accepted as revised and that the proposed ordinance be presented for a public hearing at a future Planning Commission meeting.

Vote: Ayes: 7 Nays: 0 MOTION CARRIED

2) Maynard moved, Rhein seconded, that the proposed definitions and language for the Zoning Ordinance be accepted as presented, and that the proposed zoning ordinance changes be presented for a public hearing at a future Planning Commission meeting.

3) Maynard moved, Mullen-Campbell seconded, that the draft Rental Property Registration be accepted as revised.

Vote: Ayes: 7 Nays: 0 MOTION CARRIED

VIII. NEW BUSINESS

IX. PUBLIC COMMENT

Stephanie Gencheff, 597 Lakewood Lane – Questioned why renting your property could double or triple your property taxes. Throenle answered if you do, and the PRE (Principal Residency Exemption) is removed, your taxes triple. She asked if someone only rents for a short period of time if they were subject to this and Throenle answered it would be prorated. Manager Jon Kangas interjected that there is a court decision regarding this and the Assessor would have to take this into account. She asked questions regarding a Bed and Breakfast, Throenle advised her to talk with the Assessor regarding it. She feels this would cause people to rent “on the black market”. Throenle stated there are people in the community that would advise him of rental locations.

COMMISSIONER’S COMMENTS

Rhein – Good job on this, way to work together.

Milton - None

Maynard – None

Mullen-Campbell – None

Soucy – None

Bushong -

Mahaney – Reminded the Commission next month’s meeting will be starting at 6 PM. Thanked Throenle for the packet.

X. DIRECTOR’S REPORT

Throenle would like to take the Sign section out of the Zoning Ordinance and make it into its own Ordinance. He would like the Planning Commissioners to think about it and consider it for next month’s meeting. Rhein asked to have a copy of that section sent to the Commissioner’s before the next meeting for review.

VI. PRESENTATIONS

Char Spruce (Planner) and Lauren Luce (Senior Planner), representatives from the Marquette County Planning Department are in the process of updating the Marquette County Master Plan. The plan has been updated by chapters in the past but has not been updated as a whole since 1982.

In order to do this they have been attending Planning Commission meetings of the twenty two local units of Government in Marquette County. Two do not have Planning/Zoning so they will attend the work meetings.

They were looking for open dialog with the Commissioners to work on County issues and opportunities. To do this they have separated Marquette County into four regions which will allow for region rallies in about a year (Chocolay Township is in region called Borealis Beach with Marquette City and Marquette Township). These rallies will include the information that is being gathered at the various Planning Commission meetings in the County and the community survey that is being conducted.

They were looking for input on broader issues that may be impacting Chocolay Township, neighboring jurisdictions, or even outside the County. Economic development and transportation are two issues that go beyond the local boundaries.

The dialog was opened to the Chocolay Township Planning Commission. The Commissioners brought up what they felt could be issues: municipal water, expansion of current sewer, keeping the township rural and being environmentally aware of the rivers and Lake Superior, affordable housing, aging in place, and public spaces.

The Commissioners also discussed the need for the bus hub to be more accessible and have longer hours, be more accommodating to the people of the community.

The County representatives asked about development of Chocolay Township's corridor, and the Commissioners felt there is a need for development. They said they do not want to be Marquette Township in terms of growth.

The Commissioners were asked how they felt the implementation of the Township Master Plan was going. The Commissioners answered that it is an ambitious plan, felt most people were optimistic but there would always be pros and cons. The Commissioners also felt the plan was focused and task oriented.

The Commissioners were asked how Chocolay Township worked with other surrounding communities. The Commissioners commented that Throenle and Soucy both serve on the UPFE Council (UP Food Exchange) which meets with other planners in the area. There are also the US 41 Corridor meetings, and all the feedback has been important over the years. The Commissioners also have access to the City of Marquette Planning Commission minutes each month in the packet as well.

The Commissioners were asked about the Township relationship with the County, and if any improvements were needed. The Commissioners felt Throenle would be best suited to answer this question. Throenle commented that the connection with the County is pretty good in both the planning and the zoning perspectives. He also commented that as a region perspective it would be nice to come together as a region for grants that would benefit the region versus each individual entity trying to get grants on their own. Examples would be trail systems that benefit the region or flood storm water initiative for the whole region, and fire protection would be beneficial for the whole region as a wildfire would affect the whole region. He also added shoreline protection as there is erosion along the lakeshore that would affect many areas in the County.

The Commissioners also added climate change as the watershed of the Chocolay River has reached one its highest peaks in history.

The County reminded the Commissioners and the audience to take that survey and reminded them all of the information, along with the survey, can be accessed at mqtccoplan.org. Maynard commented that the survey is very easy and can be done in minutes.

VII. UNFINISHED BUSINESS

A. Proposed Ordinance 67 Marijuana Establishments

Staff Introduction

On November 6, 2018, Michigan voters approved Proposal 18-1, which legalized recreational marijuana and created the Michigan Regulation and Taxation of Marihuana Act (MRTMA). On December 6, 2018, the act became law, and as a result of this act, each community is required to decide if it is going to allow or prohibit state-licensed recreational marijuana establishments.

Staff reviewed the proposed law with the Planning Commissioners during the January meeting. At that time, the Commissioners reviewed a draft of proposed Ordinance 67 Marijuana Facilities, and voted to send the proposed ordinance to public hearing at the March meeting.

Staff attended a seminar in Marquette on the issue in February. The seminar, presented by two local attorneys, covered employer responsibilities and the discrepancies in the Michigan law as it stands now. The presentation also included financial data that indicated the permits, fees, and taxes acquired from opting in would be significantly lower than expected for each municipality, especially if that municipality did not provide more than one license in its jurisdiction.

Early in February, the City of Marquette was considering opting out, and at the end of February, voted to do so, with the primary reason of waiting to see what State rules and regulations are established in regards to recreation marijuana sales.

Recently, the City of Stephenson opted out, stating similar reasons.

Public Hearing

No public comments.

Commission Discussion

Throenle added that there are a couple more law enforcement issues related to this subject. The first is the drug dogs will have to be replaced as they are trained to sniff out marijuana as illegal, so they would have to be replaced at a significant cost. The second is how to deal with the legalization from an employer standpoint. Also, the benefits to opt in would have to be decided on how the money would be given to the townships.

Throenle also added many more entities across the Upper Peninsula that have opted out since the last conversation of this topic. The primary reason given is they do not know what the rules are and how it would affect their entity.

Milton feels this could affect the commercial overlay district and the number of houses and businesses that are available to become a distribution center. He feels they should wait until some rules are put in place.

Maynard commented that she has not changed her mind regarding this as she has done extensive research and would like to wait until the rules and regulations are clear. She was primarily interested from the mental health point of view. She does not want the Township to be exposed at this time.

Mahaney commented that the Governor has appointed a work group of sixty individuals from various backgrounds to work on defining the details of this law.

Soucy commented that the Governor has abolished the original board that would be responsible for approving the applications and establishing the rules as it was not fast enough so she created a whole department with experts, and it is expected to move along faster.

Soucy also added maybe the Commission could work on some of the district regulations while the ordinance plays out.

Rhein thought that would be a good idea to wait and see how this develops around the region. Chocoy could adopt some of their ordinances after seeing the pros and cons.

Mahaney felt with the new work group this may move quite a bit faster.

Commission Decision

Maynard moved, and Rhein seconded that after providing required notification to the public, holding a public hearing and considering public input, the Planning Commission recommends that the Township Board approve Ordinance 67 Marijuana Establishments as written.

B. Rental Considerations

Staff Introduction

Last month, the Commissioners reviewed and updated a draft version of the proposed Ordinance 68 Rentals. Along with that review, Commissioners also reviewed the proposed zoning definitions and additions to the Township Zoning Ordinance, and reviewed and updated the Rental Property Registration form. The Commissioners voted to send the ordinance and documents for public hearing at the March meeting.

Public Hearing

No public comments.

Commission Discussion

Mahaney stated they have been discussing for quite some time and feels the Commission is comfortable moving forward. He asked if any of the other Commissioners had any other comments.

Maynard stated it was exactly as she remembered and would comfortable with a motion.

VIII. NEW BUSINESS

A. Ordinance 65 Fireworks Revision

Staff Introduction

At the end of 2018, the State Legislature passed HB 5939, HB 5940 and HB 5941, which changed the criteria for discharging fireworks in the State of Michigan. Three items that are included in the bills are revised dates and times that fireworks are permitted, a revised mandatory civil fine, and a ban on fireworks during burning bans.

Based on this change in criteria, Ordinance 65, Fireworks needs to be revised to conform to the new criteria.

Commission Discussion

According to Throenle there are significant changes in the dates and times. Fireworks will be only be allowed Memorial Day weekend, the week of the Fourth of July, and the weekend of Labor Day. The penalty has also been raised to $1000.00 with half of the money collected going to the enforcing police department. There has also been a change that fireworks cannot be discharged during a statewide fire ban even if it is during a permitted date.

Mahaney asked how a state wide ban is announced. Throenle stated the primary ban information is on the DNR website. The Township follows the DNR website whenever they receive calls. If the Governor declares the ban it would be through the media.

Maynard stated some villages post the notice on their public boards. Throenle commented that we can look into procedures for posting but reminded people of the DNR website or that they can call the office.

Commission Decision

Milton moved, Rhein seconded, that proposed Ordinance 65 Fireworks be presented for public hearing as changed at the April 2019 meeting.

B. Proposed ATV and ORV Ordinance

Staff Introduction

At the December meeting, the Commissioners discussed the possibility of opening an ATV and ORV route on the east end of the Township. This route, stretching on portions of Kawbawgam Road, Mangum Road and Sand River Road was presented to the Commissioners. One of the primary purposes of this new route would be to provide legal access to the Camp Four trails in the State forest area, access to the Jeske Flooding ramp off of Sand River Road, and to provide a potential additional route for winter snowmobile traffic.

The Commissioners requested a proposed ordinance be prepared, with the understanding that the DNR would provide mapping and approval for the connection between the current ATV and ORV trail (otherwise known as the former railroad grade) and Kawbawgam Road.

Currently there is no approved DNR trail access into the Lake LeVasseur.

A map was presented at the meeting showing the proposed route.

Commission Discussion

Throenle started the discussion by presenting a map of the proposed route and informed the Commission that the DNR and the local ATV group were in the process of talking with a property owner for an easement along the proposed route. There was no confirmation to date for this access.

Mahaney had asked about signage as he did not see anything in the ordinance regarding signs for the proposed route. Throenle informed the Commissioners that signs were not part of the ordinance. Throenle stated it should be the ATV group responsible for securing signs but he would also talk with the ATV group and the DNR regarding signage. They would have to confirm with the Township that the signs meet their approval. Mahaney stated the signs are a crucial part of this plan.

Throenle told the Commissioners that he would like to look at the language in the ordinance before the completed plan is proposed to the Commission, to insure it works for the Township. Throenle stated he would not ask for approval on the ordinance until all the pieces, including signage, are in place. Mahaney stated he would like assurance that signage will be in place before the ordinance moves along. Chocolay Township Manager Jon Kangas interjected that if the ordinance had Planning Commission and Township Board approval the Township could talk with the Marquette County Road Commission to see their expectations of the routes proposed.

Throenle reminded the Commissioners that this is not a quick process, that there will be many opportunities for the public and the Commission to weigh in on the progress before this ordinance is a reality.

Mahaney asked if the State was a major land owner; Throenle answered not in the proposed route as there are many landowners and they would also have to be notified regarding the proposal. Throenle stated he has had conversations with several of the land owners in the proposed area and they are looking forward to it.

Throenle commented that the ATV group will have to do some heavy education with the vendors on the east end of the Upper Peninsula who send riders to the Township. The riders are given the understanding that the Township has open trails for ATV/ORV and it does not. Riders are given no map or direction.

Maynard stated she does not want to get in the way of recreation opportunities but she also wants protect the residents from unauthorized ATV traffic. Throenle agreed as it puts an impact on the Chocolay Police department. Rhein commented regarding past conversations with the police there needed to be some kind of trail, and he feels this would be a good start. He also commented that there will always be pros and cons no matter what.

Maynard asked if this ordinance was approved would it be hard to go back and change it back. Throenle stated that it would be hard to go back; not impossible but hard to undo.

Throenle asked Chocolay Township Police Sergeant Anthony Carrick to join the conversation. Carrick stated he is not pro ATV but felt this was the least invasive option to see if ATV traffic would work in the Township.

Mahaney asked Carrick if there are many complaints within the Township regarding ATV/ORV traffic. Carrick commented that they do get frequent calls on Trail 417 (Heritage Trail) due to bike and foot traffic in that area. He also commented there have been other complaint calls in different areas but nothing substantial.

Maynard asked if a "sunset" clause would be an option, where the Township could try this for a year and see how it works. Throenle reminded the Commission the problem with a “sunset” clause would be if it was inadvertently missed, there could be trouble for the Township as it would automatically revert back to being opted out and could lead to big issues. Throenle reminded the Commission that this would be like any other ordinance where it can be examined and modified at any point in time. Mahaney asked if this would go for public comment before approval and Throenle answered it would.

Manager Kangas stated there was a Director’s order stating the only way the Heritage Trail could have motorized traffic outside of the winter months would be for the order to be lifted and the Heritage Authority is opposed to.

Throenle has been animate with the ATV/ORV group that they would not have access to the Township businesses at this point in time.

Maynard suggested, if this ordinance does pass, considering the fines for non-compliance. This would maybe give responsibility to be in compliance. Throenle stated in the current proposal there is a proposed fine; he asked Officer Carrick how this would be enforced. Carrick answered it comes down to discretion. Most incidents are with people who do not know where they are going or do not have knowledge of current laws.

Throenle stated it would have helped if a representative of the DNR and the local ATV group were in attendance at the meeting tonight to give insight to what their plans are.

Manager Kangas commented there are more minimal options available but they do not make the most sense. This option was chosen as the most sensible.

Throenle told the Commission they had a few choices, first being opening the trail at all, second being open the trail partially, or third, wait for the folks proposing the trail to be in attendance and give more information. Carrick stated he felt the ATV/ORV group has wanted this for long enough time and they will be doing what they can to educate people in hopes of expanding their trails in the future. He also stated the Township police are set up to do enforcement for this.

Commission Decision

Rhein moved, and Maynard seconded to table this until we get the DNR and the ORV club in here to give us better background on the proposed ordinance.

C. Sign Ordinance Discussion

Staff Introduction

As presented at the last meeting, staff outlined the possibility to the Commissioners of extracting the sign portion of the Zoning Ordinance and putting it into a separate ordinance.

Several reasons exist for this:

- 1) The sign portion of the Zoning Ordinance is approximately 23 pages in length.
- 2) Definitions for this section are not included in the overall definitions of the ordinance.

3) There are some discrepancies in the existing language that cause confusion when interpreting the ordinance language.

For example, the definition of Freestanding sign contains language that states: “May also be referenced as a Pole, Ground, or Monument Sign.” There is no definition for a Monument Sign, but later in section 18.1.H.3.b.5, there is a distinction made between the height of a freestanding sign and a monument sign. The same is true for section 18.1.I.1.a.

Commission Discussion

Throenle stated the sign section of the Zoning Ordinance would be easier to tweak or fix if needed if it was its own ordinance. Throenle also commented that as it stands now the fee for enforcement is the fee for the entire ordinance (currently $200), it could instead be set up as a police power ordinance where it could be enforceable and the fee set up accordingly.

Mahaney asked if the Commissioners were to rewrite the sign section as its own ordinance if it would be shortened. Throenle commented that his predecessor (Kelly Drake Woodward) wanted this section to be defined as possible to cover any possible circumstance. Maynard felt this was achieved after reading the whole section. Throenle also stated he did not want to tweak a lot of the language as it is very thorough, but he would like it to be a bit easier to interpret when residents want information regarding signs.

Throenle stated the key element would be separated as its own ordinance so changes would not impact the whole Zoning Ordinance.

Soucy stated if this was a police power ordinance it would help the Planner abate non-conforming signs. Throenle agreed.

Commission Decision

Maynard moved, and Milton seconded that Section 18.1 Signs be removed from the Township Zoning Ordinance and be put into a separate Township ordinance for Planning Commission consideration at a future Planning Commission meeting.

IX. PUBLIC COMMENT

Stephanie Gencheff, 597 Lakewood Lane – Felt it was a wise decision for the Planning Commission to opt out of the retail marijuana until there was more information available from the state for their recommended regulations. She felt the Township could look at Colorado for guidance. Also stated she had given her email for Township information and wondered when she would get information. She was advised it was scheduled to start in May.

X. COMMISSIONER’S COMMENTS

Rhein – None

Milton – Asked if everyone had taken the Recreation survey.

Maynard – Felt she knew more about signs than possible after reading the twenty-three page section for signs in the Zoning Ordinance.

Soucy – CUPPAD has an open Prosperous Places place making grant which is an opportunity that communities can apply for. It ranges from $500 to $5000 with a one to one match. This is open for application until May 3, 2019. This is for a community public space type project that is very flexible. He said this would be a great opportunity and he does not think Chocolay Township has received one of these grants in the past as a community. He said the Bayou Nature Preserve has gotten one in the past as an organization.

Bushong – Good meeting, good discussion.

Mahaney – When the Commission had previously left the proposed ATV ordinance and moved onto the sign ordinance he did not mean any offense to anyone; he felt the Commission had discussed it and wanted to move on. He does appreciate all comments.

XI. DIRECTOR'S REPORT

There will be a site plan review on the agenda for the next meeting which will be something different and it will be a formal process. Thanked the Commissioners for the great discussion this evening.

Motion by Bushong and seconded by Soucy, to approve the minutes as written.

IV. PUBLIC COMMENT

Scott Emerson, 119 Lakewood Lane – Not a fan of motorized recreation but feels the need for the Township to accommodate the people that enjoy the sport. He is in support of Proposal 5 and recommends the Planning Commission write a letter of support for to the DNR for that proposal. He also recommends an addition to the letter stating there would be no further expansion or additional ATV trail be approved by the Township in the future. Also would like the DNR to encourage the snowmobiles to use the ATV trail in the winter as it would take snowmobile traffic off of trail 417 which goes through a densely populated residential area and would give the residents some relief from the snowmobile traffic in the winter.

Jude Catallo, 119 Lakewood Lane – She has been aware of comments regarding ATVs in the Township due to noise, dust, etc. Feels the proposal mentioned before that is approved by the DNR is the best route. Feels this is the most efficient and there would be less irritation for the people of the Township.

Kendall Milton joined the meeting at 6:09 PM.

Public comment closed at 6:10 PM.

A. Proposed Ordinance 65 Fireworks Revision

Staff Introduction

At the end of 2018, the State Legislature passed HB 5939, HB 5940 and HB 5941, which changed the criteria for discharging fireworks in the State of Michigan. Three items that are included in the bills are revised dates and times that fireworks are permitted, a revised mandatory civil fine, and a ban on fireworks during burning bans. Based on this change in criteria, Ordinance 65 Fireworks needs to be revised to conform to the new criteria.

Staff developed a draft set of changes to the ordinance that are included in the packet, and the Commissioners reviewed the language during the March 2019 meeting. The Commissioners made no changes to the language that was presented, and voted to present the Ordinance for a public hearing at the April 2019 meeting.

Maynard stated that there has been a fair amount of discussion regarding fireworks ordinance in the past and this would potentially be a last opportunity to make comments regarding fireworks.

Public Hearing

Scott Emerson, 119 Lakewood Lane – State has done some good things but there are also some not so good. He recommends the Commission support the revisions but add to the ordinance, for clarification, the years that represent July 5th falling on a Friday or Saturday and go out for a decade at a time. Also would like to see some public service announcements in advance to remind Chocolay citizens of the enforcement and fines. Should also include something regarding they should not be discharged on Lake Superior beaches and waters. The mess of plastic fireworks is terrible after the Fourth of July, would not be as bad if they were biodegradable.

Public hearing closed at 6:18 PM.

Commission Discussion

Milton felt the thirty days in the previous ordinance was excessive and Mullen-Campbell felt listing the weekends ahead that are affected by the ten years was a good idea.

Soucy liked the point made regarding the trash left of the beach but feels this would be hard to enforce. He asked Officer Carrick, who was in attendance, his opinion.

Officer Carrick stated they do try to enforce this, when it is a private residence it can be hard to determine the correct driveway. People shooting fireworks can be fined for the Fireworks ordinance along with littering.

Maynard asked Carrick where it is listed regarding the littering. Carrick answered it is basically any public land, which the beach and water are public land. Throenle interjected that it was in Section 5.5 of the proposed language. Carrick recommended the best thing to do would be to call 911 and file a complaint. They answer approximately twenty a month during the warmer weather.

Throenle asked Carrick if it would enhance the ability to enforce the ordinance if Lake Superior was added as part of the language. Carrick stated it would make it clear in that area, when the shooters read it. There is also the Chocolay River and Lake Lavasseur, and the public beaches and waterways, so it would help enforcement in these areas. Carrick also stated from an enforcement standpoint, unless you own at least a five acre parcel of land, it is illegal to light off the bigger fireworks as they spread over a greater distance and would land of other people's land.

Carrick also explained they will generally educate people on the ordinance with a warning and an explanation of the law before giving a citation as there are many out of town people who do not know the laws.

Maynard felt it would be great if there were more specific guidelines. It would be better for the wildlife. Felt if they were going to make changes to the ordinance they could add language to reflect the concerns about debris and waterways.

Throenle made a recommendation for consideration to add the following to Section 5.5 of the existing 65 Fireworks Ordinance:

"A person shall not discharge consumer fireworks in such a manner so as remnants from consumer fireworks land on public property, public beaches, public waters or the property of another."

Throenle asked Carrick if Lake Kawbawgam was public or private. Carrick answered that all water, from an enforcement standpoint, in Chocolay is public. The exception may be if a resident has a pond on his or her property.

Throenle cautioned the Commission that if they were to add a decade of dates that the fifth of July is on a weekend to the ordinance, the ordinance would have to be updated every ten years. From the Planning & Zoning scenario, someone would have to remember to do this in ten years. Carrick commented that anything you do to clarify dates is good but this would be something that would be on the Chocolay Police website as a reminder. Carrick suggested they add language that would inform the public that these dates would be made available on the Township website and/or Facebook page.

Throenle suggested adding a number nine to Section 5 stating “The Township will be responsible to post the dates that fireworks are permitted to be discharged on the Township web site.”

Throenle reminded the Commission and audience that it would be up to the public to know when the burn ban is in effect. There is now a link to the DNR burn ban site on the Township website.

Commission Decision

Maynard moved, and Bushong seconded that after providing required notification to the public, holding a public hearing and considering public input, the Planning Commission recommends that the Township Board approve Ordinance 65 Fireworks as revised.

B. Proposed ATV and ORV Road Discussion

Staff Introduction

At the December meeting, the Commissioners discussed the possibility of opening an ATV and ORV route on the east end of the Township. This route, stretching on portions of Kawbawgam Road, Mangum Road and Sand River Road was presented to the Commissioners. One of the primary purposes of this new route would be to provide legal access to the Camp Four trails in the State forest area, access to the Jeske Flooding ramp off of Sand River Road, and to provide a potential additional route for winter snowmobile traffic.

The Commissioners requested a proposed ordinance be prepared, with the understanding that the DNR would provide mapping and approval for the connection between the current ATV and ORV trail (otherwise known as the former railroad grade) and Kawbawgam Road.

Currently there is no approved DNR access into Lake LeVasseur.

A map was presented at the meeting showing the proposed route.

Staff presented the proposed ordinance language and the proposed map route at the meeting in March. Based on discussion with the Commissioners, the largest road block in the process is the issue of signage. Staff contacted Tony Harry, President of Trail Riders Alliance of Marquette County (T. E. A. M.) and Rob Katona, DNR Trails Specialist to see if they could attend the meeting in April. Both are in attendance to answer questions in regards to this project.

Tony sent an email with a link to a Yamaha presentation, which was sent via email to the Commissioners.

Staff contacted the Marquette County Road Commission in regards to the placement of signs along the proposed route. The Road Commission provided information stating that signs were not permitted in the right-of-way along County roads, so further discussion would have to take place with the Road Commission for ATV / ORV route signs to be posted. The Road Commission forwarded a document for consideration when setting up the trail.

Rob Katona forwarded several documents for consideration for the trail. The documents include a proposed trail, signage documents and a pamphlet from the City of Manistique that provide additional references for the project.

Staff traveled the proposed route, took pictures of identifying locations on the trail, and calculated distances along the proposed route. There are two sets of calculations: set one started at the intersection of the road entrance into Lake LeVasseur and ended at the intersection of Trail 417 and Sand River Road; set two started at the intersection of the road entrance into Lake LeVasseur and ended at the intersection of Kawbawgam Road and M-28. Additionally, there are several areas along the proposed trail that intersect with the North Country Trail.

Commission Discussion

Rob Katona from the DNR and Tony Harry from the Trail Riders Alliance of Marquette County (T. E. A. M.) took the podium to answer questions from the Planning Commissioners. The question and answer session was also opened to the residents in attendance at the meeting.

Bushong asked Throenle if he had done an inventory of how many year round residents were along the proposed route. Throenle answered he had not done year round but did a rough estimate of all the residents would be approximately a dozen, which includes the residences on the Alger County side of the route. There is also one residence at the entrance of the Jeske Flooding on a private road.

Maynard asked clarification on the maps provided and Throenle explained the difference. One being the proposed route Plan7? and the other is the trail recommended by the DNR. Throenle went on to explain the reason there are two different maps is basically the loop back of going to the casino. This was the reason for the new proposal in the first place.

Bushong asked why there were no recommended motions in the staff introduction section. Throenle answered that this is a discussion at this point but the Commissioners can make a motion at any time.

Tony Harry commented that he had started an ATV/ORV club in Marquette County and this would be a loop to get to Camp Four. He has been working to get trails throughout the whole Upper Peninsula and would like to get Chocolay Township involved as it is the only Township not involved with ORV.

Harry is willing to help to get special grants for signs. Most of the trails in the Upper Peninsula are shared trails with snowmobiles. Throenle interjected that the County would not permit signage on the right-a-way of County roads unless the DNR designates it as trail. Currently only standard traffic signs are permitted on County roads. This would affect Kawbawgam and Mangum Roads, Sand River is a bit tricky as it deals with two different road commissions. Jon Kangas, Township Manager, stated they would allow “No ATV” signs where they are not allowed, but not signs that designate the route.

Harry commented that he takes care of the Silver Creek Trail in Newberry and works with Alger County S.O.R.V.A club and maintain the Two Hearted Pine Ridge Trails. There are many County roads pertaining to these trails and they all have ATV signs on them. Luce County also have them.

Mullen-Campbell asked how long Harry has been involved with ATV/ORV. Harry stated he started in Alger County with the Duck fires in Newberry approximately 2013 but had started a club before that when working with Alger County. He volunteered with the building of the trails and also helped with signs. This is his passion and is also a youth instructor. He has also started his own small safety program. He invited any youth to attend on April 26 at the Deerton schools. Like to get kids involved and teach them the correct rules dealing signs, safety when dealing with horses, walkers, bikers, etc on the trails, and respect for everybody.

Maynard asked how old the Plan 7 was, Harry answered one year. Maynard also asked how old the DNR plan was, Throenle answered shortly before the other one. There was also a Plan 6 but they combined the DNR Plan & 6 to make 7 which has the least upset for the Township.

Maynard asked that the difference between the DNR Plan and Plan 7 as Camp Four is shown with both of the proposed plans. Throenle stated with Plan 7 you can go left or right coming north from Camp Four and head towards the casino or that area, such as Lake LeVasseur instead of having to go around the whole loop of the DNR Plan to get there. Maynard also asked if the casino has weighed in on either one of these plans. Harry commented the casino encourages his club to park in their parking lot from the existing trail. Throenle stated they had not weighed in but the end of the current trail ends at the casino entrance.

Maynard stated the Commission had discussed an easement that would be required and asked if this would be required for both plans. Throenle stated it would only be for Plan 7 as the DNR Plan would come down Sand River Road and all of those are County roads. Harry’s club is working on getting the easement from the private property owner. Maynard asked if all bets would be off if this easement didn’t go through. Throenle stated this would not be the case as there other options. Most of the trails have been clear cut as it was a ski trail.

Residents in attendance asked if they were included in asking questions/commenting on this subject, Throenle stated it was up to the Commission, and Maynard commented this discussion affects the public in large way so she is inclined to say yes.

One resident asked what the total count of people is along proposal 6 route that would complete the loop versus the count along the Sand River Road route.

Throenle answered roughly 12 properties around the whole loop and 7-8 the other route. Bushong commented there are four residents from Lake LeVasseur and Camp Four Road. Carrick confirmed four fulltime residents and most have ORVs as he has had conversations with them regarding the laws. Throenle stated there is a new property owner in that area that has an ORV and has to trailer his ORV to Camp Four Road to stay compliant. The resident felt there was less confusion with proposal 5 and keep it simple. Throenle stated the confusion comes from the trail connections.

There is vehicle access to the proposed area so an ATV would not be needed to get to the proposed area. The resident also commented it would be ok to use your legs to get to places, it would be better for your health versus riding a machine. Throenle commented he did not intend to imply there was no vehicle access and apologized if it sounded that way.

Carrick commented from a law enforcement standpoint, it would be better to drive the ATV into the LeVasseur parking lot than leave it on a trail to walk in. This would reduce the risk of the ATV going missing.

Another resident asked if the only difference between trails 5 & 7 is the connection from Mangum Road intersection and the west of the casino to which Throenle stated yes. The resident asked what the difference in the mileage between the trails and Throenle commented the distance from the intersection of Trail 417 heading out to the highway down Kawbawgam Road is 6.9 miles.

Throenle stated for the record that he is not an opponent of ATVs in Chocolay Township and this provides access to folks on the Eastern half of the Township with very low impact on an essential neighborhood and it allows for less fuel to be burned. This would be the only trail Throenle would support.

A resident asked to hear from Rob Katona, DNR representative, on their proposal and why it was the best route.

Katona stated his department, of the DNR, is involved to administer and manage the ORV program as a big picture. Trail 417 goes across the entire eastern Upper Peninsula and has traffic that funnels into the Township.

Five years ago the DNR started to look at ways of connecting through this part of the region. Multiple areas have been looked at and there have been obstacles locally with the City of Marquette and Chocolay Township. The DNR wants to figure out the best route, minimizing the amount of impact on residents and the environment.

They looked into County roads in the area and also checked with the Forest Service property which is now under review to be opened up. The route they are looking at utilizes existing roads that are opened up to pretty much every type of ORV, from bikes to jeeps.

Once the DNR gets approvals they would have to submit them into a proposal which is a lengthy process. This includes all the permissions from all the land owners in permit form or letter giving permission of use to the public. A letter of support from the Township, supporting the proposal they would choose would be great, without the support and permission the DNR doesn't have a proposal. If the DNR gets the support it is reviewed by seventeen reviewers and this could take as long as four months to a year to get a recommendation. When this is approved or denied is when the DNR can start applying for grant funding through the ORV Trail Improvement Program. This funding grants can be used for maintenance, signage, and anything associated with a new ORV route.

Katona stated that while listening tonight it sounds like the signage is important, they had to go back and forth in the past for agreement with the County to permit signs on designated routes. They are not always in favor of this. Other counties have had their own local signs that have been adopted by the Township ordinance and if the County does not allow this then the Township would have to move towards a designated route. This is some of the challenges he sees here if signs are an issue.

Harry may be able to approach the County to get a short term route with some signage while they try to designate the route or if the Township wants to wait for a formal proposal which would be more long term.

Milton asked if the DNR needed a commitment from the Township. Katona answered that a letter of support would go a long way and also some movement to enacting an ORV ordinance if Harry does have a discussion. Katona cannot speak for the County but it has helped in the past if the Township is in support.

Throenle asked when the proposal was put together, Katona answered about 2008, six years ago. If you look at the map from the proposal, Chocoley is now the only one not connected.

Carrick asked if having the trail would help the police apply for funding for ORV patrol, similar to the snowmobile patrol. Katona answered that it would and it goes by mileage per county. Carrick stated it would help if they could get funding and add someone on just for ORVs.

Maynard commented there seemed to have been enforcement issues, in the past, where the Trail 417 ends at the casino as it is difficult for the police to get there for enforcement. Carrick answered that it could be if the patrols have to travel a great distance to reach the troubled area. Funding for a designated patrol officer would help as it would be his job to enforce just the ORV trails.

Maynard had two concerns, one being the property owner who has not provided an easement. She found it hard to offer an opinion before the property gives their opinion. Mullen-Campbell stated the said property was next to State land. Maynard then commented that led to another question if the State would allow another entrance. There are many parts here and still many what ifs. Throenle stated that is why this is mainly for discussion and not decision tonight.

Throenle asked Katona for his opinion on the difficulty for the extra piece being proposed from Trail 417 down past Lake LeVasseur. Katona stated the DNR recently reviewed the forest roads under Public Act 288 and found there were a number of roads that were not currently on their inventory. Due to the timber sales in the proposed area there is newly formed road that is on the boundary and meets the criteria to be a forest road. There has been consults with the wildlife and forest resource divisions and local staff, they are supportive of using it as a local connector, not a designated route as that would be a different process, but is open to ORV use.

Maynard stated there does not seem to be much activity in that area that would affect wildlife, if the proposal 7 and/ or any activity should happen, what would happen to the wildlife.

Carrick interjected and informed the Commission that from a patrol aspect there is heavy vehicle traffic in that area. He stated there are ORVs, berry pickers, and cars. Carrick stated this route would help with enforcement by allowing the police department to apply for grant money for law enforcement.

Bushong asked if the proposed route 7 is currently supported by the Chocolay Township police and Carrick answered that it is. Carrick also stated that he and the police chief had a long discussion regarding proposal 7 and they both feel this route would cause the least amount of enforcement issues.

Mullen-Campbell commented that she felt it was time to connect the Upper Peninsula. She has relatives that would love to take their ORVs to the casino but can not.

Maynard stated she was glad there was no voting tonight as she would like to hear more from the public regarding this, both pros and cons.

Throenle stated that education is the key, education is the key to everything. He also proposed that the Commission consider another public hearing on this topic in the future. This would allow it to be publicized and inform the public on what is being proposed to prevent accusations of it being "slam dunked". This way the public can give feedback. Maynard commented she got the sense from the Commission that was a good idea.

Richard (Doc) Bohjanen, Township Supervisor, asked to comment as this would come across his desk at some point. He stated that the Township will never own this trail even if the Township approves it; it would be between the DNR and Harry's ATV club. Bohjanen also stated the Township opted out of the County's ORV ordinance, but that was done at a time when the ordinance would have allowed ORVs anywhere in the Township. There was good reason at that time to opt out. He stated that the ordinance would have to be amended and the Township would have to be willing to amend it. He felt there was a simple amendment that would cover some of the public's concerns by stating that the Township would not allow ORVs anywhere in the Township except on Mangum and Sand River Roads, and maybe Kawbawgam Road depending where this would go. He also stated if the Township were to give a letter of consent to proceed down this path, there is a lot of more that has to happen before this decision comes back. He also told the Commission in order to amend the ordinance all the residents that live along the proposed route would get letters regarding the amendment. The next public hearing would be at such time when the Commission would be looking at rewriting the ordinance.

Maynard commented there is a device and process in place so the Commission does not have to come up with their own suggestion for a public hearing. Bohjanen stated that a public hearing is not wrong but there would be one if the Commission amends the ordinance.

Bushong asked if the Commission could request a public hearing with a draft ordinance. Throenle answered yes. Throenle commented that he had a conversation with the County (missed to put in the staff introduction) about what would happen with that ordinance if the Township would have to anything and the County's answer was no. The explanation for this was Chocolay as a township is opted out unless we write an ordinance as a Township to opt in or ask the County to completely opt us in and remove the Township from the County ordinance as opted out. Throenle stated we are looking at limited access for the ATVs, the proposed ordinance already has the language in it specifically states that "no ATVs allowed except for on designated roads" This would also have a public hearing.

Throenle commented that he felt Maynard was looking for public opinion to help formulate the decision of the Township going forward. Maynard answered yes as she has looked at almost thirty years of conversation on this subject hoping they may not need to "go down this road again". Bushong asked if the draft ordinance could state more specifically so the public knows what they are commenting on. Throenle answered it could, there are a couple ways for this to be put out there. Maynard stated this sounded reasonable. Throenle stated if he had a motion he could bring this language back at a future Planning Commission meeting.

Commission Decision

Bushong motioned, Maynard seconded a "draft" ordinance be presented for the Planning Commission to review and subsequent public comment.

VIII. NEW BUSINESS

A. Site Plan Review – Marquette Veterinary Clinic / Animal Hospital Staff Introduction

A formal site plan review has been brought forward to the Planning Commission for new construction of the Marquette Veterinary Clinic / Animal Hospital on the existing site. Removal of the existing structure would be after completion of the new office. This is different from a preliminary site plan review from the standpoint that the Planning Commission has right to approve or deny upon the conditions presented.

Staff has reviewed the plans that were supplied, felt it was a good design, and only had one question regarding the storm water runoff. Pictures were supplied in the packet and discussed.

Commission Discussion

Ken Czapski, architect of the project and Bill Sanders, landscape architect, were present to answer any technical questions the Commission had. Also present was Dr. Brauer to answer any operational questions.

Czapski stated that all the storm water runoff from the roof will be discharging to landscape zones. This means that even through the reshaping of the asphalt paving, it will not be discharging any more than current use.

Sanders showed the Commission, from supplied pictures, where the parking improvements would be and demonstrated where the runoff would be directed toward green space.

Maynard asked what the difference was in the amount of asphalt from the existing building to the new building due to the fact asphalt does not absorb runoff. Sanders commented he did not have the exact quantity but there is more than currently. The existing driveway towards the hardware store will not change as far as runoff goes. Czapski reminded the Commission that the roof runoff will be caught in landscape zones.

Throenle asked about the runoff with the existing building in existence during the construction of the new structure. Sanders commented until the slab is poured, there would be less runoff due to exposed sand but the paving would be the last thing done after the old structure comes down. This should not be much change at all due to sequence of construction. Demolition was estimated to take two days.

Maynard asked how long the construction would take. Sanders answered that they were told once they get approval and weather permits, construction would start in May and be done sometime in October. If it gets too late they would not be paving until the spring.

Maynard commented it was an attractive design, Throenle commented that after reviewing the project, the runoff was the only question he could find as it was well designed. Throenle has worked with Sanders in the past and knows he pays attention to the landscaping.

Soucy asked how well the existing basin handles storm water currently, they have not had any problems and the current design holds the water and snow, this design will not be altered.

Bushong discussed with the Commission his recusal to vote on this as he works for, but does not own, one of the contractors doing a mechanical bid proposal for this project. Throenle reminded the Commission that they would have to vote to allow Bushong to recuse himself and it would have to be an unanimous vote. Throenle stated if the Commission did not see any conflict they cannot vote to allow his recusal. The Commission discussed this and did not see any conflict and allowed Bushong to vote.

Maynard moved, Mullen-Campbell seconded that the Planning Commission does not allow Bushong to recuse himself on this subject.

Vote: Ayes: 4 Nays: 0 MOTION CARRIED

Throenle asked if the Commissioners had any further questions regarding the proposal. Milton asked what ordinance they were providing the site plan for, is it the new one that was revised. Throenle stated this was not a requirement in our checklist to be provided. Milton felt he had asked for this to be added, Throenle stated he would go back and look into this. Throenle stated tonight's project would not be affected by this and Milton agreed.

Commission Decision

Maynard moved, Bushong seconded, that after staff review and Planning Commissioner discussion, Site Plan Review Application SR 19-03 is approved in accordance with the standards outlined in Section IX of the Zoning Ordinance.

Vote: Ayes: 5 Nays: 0 MOTION CARRIED

B. Preliminary Site Plan Review – Kawbawgam Road Storage Units Staff Introduction

An applicant is working on a proposed storage unit project to be located at 125 Kawbawgam Road. The applicant has requested a preliminary site plan review to determine if this is a viable project for that location.

In reviewing the project, staff has found a number of benefits for this particular location:

- 1) The proposed project will be located on property the owner controls, and will meet all setback requirements for the site.
- 2) The storage units are a "low impact" project. No water or sanitation will be required for this project.
- 3) Lighting for the units will be "downcast", which will limit light emissions in the neighborhood.
- 4) The proposed project will be located in an area that does not affect many Township residents.
- 5) The proposed project will provide additional storage units for Township residents and visitors.

Pictures for this proposed site were included in the packet for the Commissioners to see. Matt Blondeau, owner of the proposed site was also on hand to answer any questions the Commissioners had. Blondeau also owns the apartments on the same side of Kawbawgam Road and has a contract to buy the apartments across the road from the proposed sight.

He plans to rehab the apartments he is currently buying and wants to improve the entire intersection. The traffic should be minimal, the property will be well lit and there will be a security system in place.

Commission Discussion

Maynard was happy to see the plans had down lighting, this is important for the tenants due to the fact there will be multiple buildings. She also stated she felt the area could use more trees.

Bushong asked about the projected timeline and Blondeau stated he would be start as soon as he got approval. He would not want to build late into the year and try to fill them for winter. He would have one filled and build another. These do fill up fast and it would not be a lingering project.

Throenle commented that storage unit facilities have added on all over the County. This is not a business that is “fly by night”.

Milton asked if this was part of the Commercial Overlay and Throenle stated it had recently been rezoned to Commercial. Bushong asked if there were any Zoning conflicts and Throenle stated there was none.

Mullen-Campbell asked if the hundred feet size building would be OK with winters we have and Blondeau stated he planned them north and south was for the wind, so it would blow between the buildings. Blondeau stated it is sand on the site so the drainage should be OK and he will be adding gravel.

Commission Decision

Bushong moved, and Milton seconded that the proposed storage unit project should proceed with recommendations made from the Commissioners to a formal site plan review at a future Planning Commission meeting.

Milton – None

Soucy – Great job to the acting Chair.

Bushong – Good discussion all around, felt the ORV comments had an aura around them but glad to see it moving in a direction. Appreciates the understanding on the vet’s clinic as he is not an owner or vested party in the contractor, he is employed by the potential mechanical contractor.

Campbell – Is OK with everything decided tonight. Was sick last month and missed being at the meeting.

A. Sign Ordinance – Remove from Zoning Ordinance and Revise
Staff Introduction

Due to the absence of Dale Throenle, Planning / Zoning Administrator, Tom Mahaney, Planning Commission chair, gave a brief overview as outlined by Throenle in his Director's Comments included in the packet materials.

Mahaney reminded the Commission they had voted at the March meeting to remove the sign ordinance section from the Chocolay Township Zoning Ordinance and make it a separate ordinance.

Commission Discussion/Decision

There were no decisions made by the Planning Commission but they decided on some recommendations to forward to Throenle to consider for the next Commission meeting. They are as follows:

1. Have a separate section for real estate signs
2. Review the definition of temporary signs
3. Investigate any new signage type or signage material not in our definition
4. Add a note in the very last section stating "This ordinance is not intended to regulate the content"
5. Make everything consistent under "temporary signs" so it is no longer calling out specific content within that temporary sign (ex: Temporary signs are no longer valid XXX days following the purposes for which they are placed)
6. Supervisor Bohjanen stated concerns Throenle has with enforcement of this and other ordinances. Throenle would like them clearly defined as to who would be responsible for the enforcement, the Police or Throenle as the Planning Director. Mahaney would like to discuss this with Throenle when he is back at the June Meeting. Bohjanen stated the reason as to why items get contested. He felt it was due to confusion within the ordinance. Rhein felt the ordinances should be defined so they cannot be disputed.

IX. PUBLIC COMMENT

Stephanie Gencheff, 597 Lakewood Lane – Has never been offended by any sign, has read through the ordinance and feels it boils down to enforcement. Feels there needs to be written clear steps for whoever will be enforcing this ordinance regarding citations, deadlines, and penalties. Wished the Commission good luck with this ordinance as it is a lot of work.

Public comment closed at 7:11 PM.

X. COMMISSIONER'S COMMENTS

Rhein - None

Milton – None

Soucy – Discussed with Commission about the Michigan Launch Initiative. He explained there is a Public Private Partnership (P3) organized by the Michigan Aerospace Manufacturers Association that is considering the Sawyer International Airport in Marquette County as a launch facility for small to midsized satellites. Discussed some of the changes that that could bring to the area. Stated that the community should watch for this as it is a fast moving timeline. He also felt the area is a contender as they are in close proximity with Michigan Tech and Northern Michigan University with potential to attract talent to the region, also this area has decent infrastructure.

Bushong – None

Campbell – None

Mahaney – Felt they gave Throenle direction to go for the Sign Ordinance.

XI. DIRECTOR’S REPORT

Mahaney read the Director’s Report that Throenle had in the packet. One of the items mentioned was the fact Throenle had a conflict with date of the July Planning Commission meeting. He asked the Commission to discuss and make a recommendation on the three options he listed, which were:

1. Hold the meeting on the original date, similar to tonight with his absence.
2. Move the meeting to the Monday after the original date, July 22 at 6 PM.
3. Cancel the meeting.

Throenle stated he, personally, had no preference. With this the Commission made the following motion.

Mullen-Campbell moved, and Rhein seconded that the July 15, 2019 meeting be moved to Monday, July 22, 2019 at 6 PM.

Vote: Ayes: 6

Nays: 0

MOTION CARRIED

Soucy asked for clarification of the alternative ordinance that the Board voted to forward to the Planning Commission at the May 13, 2019 Township Board Meeting. Rhein (Board representative) answered that Richard (Doc) Bohjanen, Township Supervisor had presented an alternative ordinance, at the Board meeting regarding marijuana facilities, that he would like the Planning Commission to consider at a future Planning Commission meeting.

IV. PUBLIC COMMENT

Deborah Mulcahey, 633 Lakewood Lane – Thought there was discussion on the Sign Ordinance, hopes this will not be written as a police enforced ordinance, feels that would be a waste of resources. Also spoke on temporary signs, feels this is offensive. Is glad to see the Fence Ordinance will be reevaluated, feels the need for a survey to put up a fence. Spoke on the Master Plan, asked why the Township is spending time and money on this again as the Township ignores it when they don't want to deal with it. Feels the gun range should have an applicant's name listed, not a LLC. She has concerns with the size, parking and noise. Also felt there need to be restrooms/washroom facilities due to the lead. She is not for or against the shooting range, would like public health and safety to be considered.

Public comment closed at 6:08 PM.

A. Proposed Enclosed Gun Range – Preliminary Site Plan Review

Staff Introduction

An applicant is working on a proposed enclosed gun range project to be located at 2288 US 41 South. The applicant has requested a preliminary site plan review to determine if this is a viable project for that location.

In reviewing the project, staff has found a number of benefits for this particular location:

- 1) The proposed project will be located on property the owner controls, and will meet all setback requirements for the site.
- 2) The enclosed gun range is a “low impact” project. No water or sanitation will be required for this project.
- 3) No external lighting will be necessary; if it is added, it will be downcast lighting over door entries to the range.
- 4) The proposed project will be located in a commercial zoning district; this does not affect many Township residents or adjoining businesses.
- 5) The proposed project is a self-contained project. All noise generated from the range will be contained within the range (see attached range sound test).

In reviewing the project, staff identified a potential parking concern for this particular project. There is limited parking available in the front of the store; however, the range can only accommodate two shooters at the same time, so parking can be arranged to handle the increase.

The owner, Tom Kolinsky, was in attendance at the meeting to answer any questions the Commission may have. Also in attendance was Chocolay Police Chief, Scott Jennings to verify information.

Commission Discussion

Soucy questioned why it was considered a permitted use and why it was listed under commercial uses in the entertainment category as he was not able to find that in the Zoning Ordinance. Throenle answered it was due to it being located in the mixed use district and Throenle also explained it would fall under entertainment as it is listed as “such as”, which is an interpretation. It would be the combined call of the Planning Commission and the judgement of the Zoning Administrator. Soucy didn’t feel it was listed and would not be covered under this section. They agreed to disagree on the subject.

Soucy then questioned where the sound test came from and Kolinsky commented that it came from him and is provided as an example of sound decibels from a contained shooting range when they do testing and is not an actual schematic but he can get one for the future if needed. There are different things on a gun such as flash suppressor on the firearm, type of ammunition used, and length of the barrel that could alter the sound readings. Throenle added the only time you would hear anything would be if the door was open while someone was shooting as the noise would otherwise all be contained. Kolinsky also stated there should be no shooting in the range prior to anyone opening the door to reduce the risk a bullet escaping.

Rhein asked Chocolay Township Police Chief, Scott Jennings his thoughts on having a gun range in the Township. Chief Jennings answered felt it is a good idea as it would be contained. He felt it would be better than someone shooting in a gravel pit. He also felt the owners have researched it and are doing it right. Chief Jennings also felt the decibel numbers were pretty accurate, and he does not feel this would impact animals next door. He also commented it would be a good fit with the gun shop. Milton agreed.

Throenle reminded the Commission this is not an approval of a plan, but an approval of a concept.

Rhein asked what the plan was for the disposal of the lead. Kolinsky answered that the factory has specific guidelines for when to change out the self-contained filtration system. Because lead dust is a concern, there are HEPA filters that take in clean air and filter outgoing air. Kolinsky also explained there are deflectors that deflect the lead into a bucket made of ER500 steel that decelerates the bullet and drops it into the bucket. Once the bucket is full it gets sealed and there are qualified companies that come and buy it.

He also stated there is access to a restroom/hand washing facility in the gun shop and the range would never be open unless the shop was open due to monitoring. There will also be a range officer on sight when the range is open.

Bushong asked for confirmation of the size as there seem to be discrepancies with the information provided. He wanted Kolinsky to confirm the dimensions.

Soucy reminded the Commission he was comfortable with everything except the procedure that this would be covered by the permitted use as stated earlier. Throenle explained when the mixed use language was written, it was written with intent this would not be an all-inclusive list, as there would be items in the future that would not have been thought of. This was the specific reason for "such as" in the ordinance.

Throenle stated this would be a lengthy process to change the Zoning Ordinance to reflect this type of change for every business type, as it would have to go through a couple readings with the Township Board and that would take a minimum of four months.

Soucy feels this would set a bad precedence; this could set the Commission up for challenges in the future as it is not identified in the Zoning Ordinance.

Kolinsky asked if the issues could be cleared up at a different time as he is under some time restraints.

Throenle asked for clarification to the vote, and asked if the Commissioners were telling the proposed owner that his plan would be delayed if he came to the Commission with a formal site plan, as the owner would like to know this before he spends $300,000 on his proposed project. Rhein stated Soucy has good points regarding the Zoning Ordinance, he has a 3-2 vote and we also have two people missing from the Planning Commission this evening.

Kolinsky informed the Commission that regardless of what is thought there is not a wide margin on money made in firearms and there is fierce competition with stores such as Gander Outdoors, etc. This is an attempt to continue to do business in Chocoday Township and he would be taking an entrepreneurial risk.

Supervisor Bohjanen added that when they (the Planning Commission at the time) made the decision in multiple use overlay zone they went through a chart of 450+ uses and made decisions which should be in each of the categories of prohibited, permitted, and conditional. When doing this, it was decided they could not anticipate everything that might happen. This is the reason for the “such as”. He said you can reinvent the wheel with any conflict that may come up or use some common sense. Chocoday Zoning Ordinance language is set up so the Zoning Administrator uses the judgement to determine if the subject is applicable.

A resident asked to speak, Mullen-Campbell gave permission, he questioned if this could be considered a sportsman’s club. Just a thought if this would alleviate the zoning questions. Soucy answered he felt this was not a condition the Commission could put upon the applicant and felt they could not “trade” this, but felt it was a good thought.

Soucy asked about if there could be another interpretation by the Zoning Board of Appeals and Throenle stated it would still be another delay as the agenda for June had already been set.

Commission Decision

Milton moved, and Rhein seconded that the proposed enclosed gun range project should proceed with recommendations made from the Commissioners to a formal site plan review at a future Planning Commission meeting.

Vote: Ayes: 3 Nays: 2 (Rhein, Mullen-Campbell) MOTION CARRIED

B. Zoning Ordinance – Fence Language Discussion

Staff Introduction

When issuing fence permits to Township residents, there are discrepancies between neighbors when looking at the length of fences between properties.

There are four concerns with the current language in the Zoning Ordinance:

- 1) The location of the fence in relation to the front of the house
- 2) The distance of the fence from the lot line

- 3) Lack of a survey requirement for determining where the fence can be placed on the property
- 4) No application fee or inspection for properties in the AF (Agriculture Forestry) district versus the other zoning districts.

Also in question was if there should be a length for fencing and should vegetation considered as fencing. Staff is looking for clarification for this language from the Commissioners.

Commission Discussion

Soucy felt item #4 was originally intended because of the Right to Farm Act, where agriculture buildings and property didn't have to be inspected. Chocolay's AF district also includes residential houses and he feels that the fourteenth amendment in the Constitution has the equal protection clause in it. This states that all property owners in similar situations should be treated equally under the law. He feels if it is continued to be enforced this way for residential properties there could be a potential issue by treating those properties different from other residential properties in other districts of the Township. Soucy did state he feels an exception should be made in the case where fences are being kept for livestock, etc.

Rhein feels the length should be a requirement. He also felt there should be a survey done if it were to be put on the property line to avoid disputes. He does see the problem of maintenance doing it this way, if the neighbors are in a dispute.

Throenle interjected that he had included language in the materials he gave to the Commission. There is a section stating an abandoned or unmaintained fence shall be removed. He could spend his forty hour week driving around the Township determining the condition of fences. This can lead to subjective interpretation regarding the status of the fence.

Rhein stated it was probably put in there as an authority standard. Throenle answered that it could lead to him being the bulldog in a property dispute. Mullen-Campbell asked if there are issues like this in Chocolay and Throenle stated there were.

Milton felt if surveyors were involved the property owners could lose their garage, meaning sometimes the lot lines aren't where one thought they were. Soucy asked at what point would the adverse possession rights take effect due to the survey results. Throenle answered it has come up over the years when a property owners had a survey done when they want to sell their property. Bushong stated he was in favor of a survey before construction. Soucy agreed and after that it would be a civil issue and not the Township's responsibility.

Throenle stated the first thing he tells residents applying for a Zoning Compliance Permit is they must know where the lot line is because he does not and he has no way of finding it without a professional survey.

Mullen-Campbell asked if plat maps helped and Rhein stated no, even the survey sticks in the middle of the street are not even close. Bushong stated two different surveyors could put them in different locations.

Soucy felt the section "I" could be amended to help with the condition of fences. Throenle asked how to determine what is "good condition/ well maintained?" He also stated there are many loop holes in the maintenance section. Throenle stated the biggest concern is the placement of the fence from the lot line as to maintenance.

Bushong stated this is similar to the "such as" in the previous agenda item. Sometimes an ordinance can work two ways and is subjective. It may need to be reviewed by a committee and voted on, not by a single arbitrator determining if it is good or bad. Disrepair and public safety are some issues to consider when looking at the condition of a fence.

Soucy stated that some communities have a blight committee that looks at these issues. Bushong stated the committee would protect the individual.

C. Master Plan Discussion

Staff Introduction

The current Township Master Plan is due for an update. To begin the process, discussions on direction for the plan must take place in order to define the process that will be presented to the public.

The Master Plan, 2015 Edition focused primarily on redefining the Township into fourteen character areas. Those areas were referenced primarily in Chapter 7 of the plan, with the intent of establishing new zoning districts that would be based on the character of the different districts. (see the attached extracted pages from Chapter 7, Appendix L and Appendix M in the Commissioner packet).

Before staff can begin updating the plan, staff requests a direction from the Commissioners in relation to the character area / zoning district discussion – should the direction toward setting up character areas as defined in the existing plan continue, or should the direction be to stay with the current zoning districts that are established.

Either way, the plan requires an update. Staff would prefer to have the direction for the plan prior to beginning the update process, so that the direction reflects where the Commissioners would like the plan to go.

Commission Discussion

Throenle started by presenting the Commission with a map showing the fourteen character areas. He stated there are nine zoning districts, seven are referred to in the Master Plan, two that are not are PUD and municipal properties.

Kelly Drake Woodward designed this plan so the character areas were to be based on the people and the activities in those areas. Her ultimate direction was to have those areas rezoned.

Throenle explained that in 2017 the Commissioners looked at this and wanted to leave the character areas alone and work on the zoning map. Throenle added he would have no problem mapping the character areas with the current zoning if that is the direction the Commission would want to go.

Soucy asked how many future zoning districts there would be and Throenle stated there are fourteen character areas which translates to eleven future zoning districts. This would increase our current zoning form seven to eleven.

Throenle stated in doing this they would have to take the map apart by parcel and define the districts, as was done with the mixed use district language. If this is what the Commission chooses Throenle said he will update the Master Plan with this in mind or he would extract that language out if the Commission chose not go that way. Throenle stated either way it would be a lot of work.

Milton stated it would have to be done as a group as it is part of the Master Plan, Rhein agreed, but was unsure of the best way to go as both ways would be a challenge.

Soucy felt legally the zoning in a community must be based on a Master Plan according to the Zoning Enabling Act. He feels they should not go against the Master Plan. He does see how it is complicated, he likes the direction it was going but it would be a lot of work and could result in many non-conforming uses. Maybe simplify it by combining some of the districts. Bushong and Mullen-Campbell agreed.

Throenle stated that is what he needed as far as a direction. He will start with the language for the updates in the Master Plan. In respect to Soucy's comments, Throenle stated if the Commission will be doing an update, he will want to make sure the Commissioners follow the updates in future decisions.

Throenle stated he will take Commissioner comments under advisement and come back with the start of the Master Plan at a future Commission meeting.

IX. PUBLIC COMMENT

Stephanie Gencheff, 597 Lakewood Lane – Stated when Chocoday Township surveyed the residents in 2010 & 2013 the reasons they chose to live in the Township were rural character, nice neighborhoods, and liked the community. Only 3/10 of one percent chose to live here for proximity to businesses, keep that in mind while updating the Master Plan. Feels fences belong on property lines and the setback for fence maintenance is nuts. Gun ranges are not considered a zoning issue in the rest of the country, it is a special use permit or conditional use and the applicant should not have to wait for the Township to redo the Zoning.

Deborah Mulcahey, 633 Lakewood Lane – Stated the size concerns for the shooting range were taken from the information provided in the agenda materials and it doesn't match up to the plans. The lead containment from an air perspective is only 90-97% contained and she feels this is a concern for people visiting the surrounding area of the proposed project. Does not feel there should be an expedited review for this. Still is confused on the owner/landowner of the proposed gun range, feels it is contradictory.

Public comment closed at 8:06 PM.

X. COMMISSIONER'S COMMENTS

Rhein - None

Milton – Would like to see on all future site plans the zoning of any adjacent lots.

Soucy – Feels the Commission probably heard enough from him tonight. Great job to Donna on being Chair.

Bushong – Found the meeting interesting as always. The controversial items seem to be where you learn the most and get the best perspective. Although we agree to disagree at times, it is probably the best learning experience that challenges us on how we think of things in the future.

Campbell – Agreed with Cory & Ryan. Learns a lot at every meeting, careful of what she says and listens very much.

XI. DIRECTOR'S REPORT

Reminded the Commission that the July meeting is on the 22nd, not the 15th as previously scheduled. Each Commissioner has been given a document for training, and he told the Commissioners there are limited funds for this but if anyone wants to attend to come and talk with him. The Township would cover as much as they can but if everyone went there would not be enough in the budget.

IV. PUBLIC COMMENT

Deborah Mulcahey, 633 Lakewood Lane – spoke on the fence ordinance not being included in old business and the need to require surveys before they are installed. She also spoke on the proposed storage units in the commercial district and the need to keep in mind vegetative buffers and lighting. She has concerns regarding the proposed enclosed shooting range (size, zoning, safety issues such as lead, signs that she feels are in violation, parking).

Scott Emerson, 119 Lakewood Lane – spoke on his concerns as a toxicologist regarding the proposed enclosed shooting range (lead), and also language that is found in the Zoning Ordinance regarding this. He feels that the applicant and Planning Commission received an incomplete review of the zoning laws. He feels that the shooting range is in conflict with the Township's zoning ordinance, quoting Section 1.5 of the Zoning Ordinance and Ordinance 61 – Firearms. He also spoke on details of lead exposure in firing ranges.

Mark Maki, 370 Karen Road – spoke on (1) the proposed storage units on Kawbawgam

Road – feels there should be a conditional use issued on this, (2) his concerns on the proposed shooting range, zoning ordinance regarding contractors yards.

A. O'Reilly Auto Parts Site Plan Review

Staff Introduction

Planning Director Throenle introduced the Site Plan review application and plans. A courtesy notice was sent to all properties within 500 feet, with no comments received back. The property is commercially zoned. Throenle indicated that the easement on the south side of the property needs to stay open, as this provides access for the building that was moved behind the property and the apartment that is behind the motel. This easement was part of the site plan, and was granted as part of the sale of the property. He introduced Paul Engel, Anderson Engineering (this was via a phone conversation), which is the engineering firm that drew up the plans.

Commission Discussion

Mahaney asked about the timeline for the project. P. Engel stated that pending approval, they would then move forward with the permits that will be needed by the County, and MDOT approvals; they have obtained the services of a water installer for new wells. Everything depends on when approvals come in. Throenle questioned what the target date for completion of the entire project. P. Engel stated once they have all the permits, O'Reilly is ready to commit to the 90 day construction cycle. If this does not happen before winter, the project would proceed once the road restrictions are off in 2020.

Soucy questioned snow storage and what the plan for that was. P. Engle indicated there are large landscape islands to the right and left of the driveway, an area in front of the store that could be used, and to the left of the building. Mahaney indicated there appears to be vegetation in the front. Mahaney also stated that the big concern would be not blocking the views. P. Engel indicated there was a large area to the northwest that could also be used. Mahaney asked about curbing – Engel indicated it was a mountable curb. P. Engel felt they could work with staff to relocate the plantings that would be in the way. Soucy asked about the shared use and maintenance agreement for the easement. Throenle stated this is already done, as it had to be in place before the sale was closed. MDOT has signed off on this, based on the easement.

Commission Decision

Soucy moved, and Rhein seconded that after staff review and Planning Commissioner discussion, Site Plan Review Application SR 19-43 is approved in accordance with the standards outlined in Section IX of the Zoning Ordinance, with the following conditions:

1. Landscaping on the northwest side of the building be moved to accommodate snow storage.

Vote: Ayes: 7 Nays: 0 MOTION CARRIED

B. Blondeau Storage Units Site Plan Review

Staff Introduction

Throenle introduced the site plan review for the storage units at 125 Kawbawgam Road. The storage units will sit on 1.93 acres. It is zoned commercial and has an overlay zoning of mixed use. Throenle pointed out Kawbawgam Pocket Park, the area where the storage units would be located, and the apartment building that sits on the parcel on an aerial view of the project area. The storage units have two functions – one for storage for the residents of the apartment building, and the other is to provide public storage. There is a tree buffer along the Pocket Park. The only question received was which way the storage buildings would face. Throenle indicated that all four units would not be going up at the same time. Mahaney asked about the time frame.

Commission Discussion

Matt Blondeau, 156 West Park Street – he is the property owner, and has recently bought the apartments across the road from the proposed storage units. He would like to build two of the units this year, with the remaining two being built next year. He would like to improve look of the whole area, and they do have plans to make things look nice. He would like the entrance to Kawbawgam Road look better. Each building would have 20 units.

Mahaney asked if this was a definitive time frame. Mahaney asked Throenle if it was acceptable to have this stretch over a two year period. Throenle indicated that it was, but if the Commissioners preferred, they could approve two units now, and have Blondeau come back to have the other two units approved when he is ready to put them up. Mahaney questioned the comment on the use of the land. Throenle explained that this is an interpretation and how they are using the storage units on that property. Mahaney was also concerned that there would be two different uses on one parcel. Throenle indicated that this would not be the first time for two different businesses to be on one parcel, and gave examples.

Blondeau indicated that he thought since this was in a mixed use district, that the intent was to be able to do this.

Maynard questioned that of the 20 units in each building, there was only one unit in each building that is ADA accessible. In the general population, 12% of the population are physically disabled – she felt two might be a better number. Blondeau indicated that would be acceptable.

Mahaney questioned the driveway. Blondeau indicated that at this time, there is an easement that has a circular driveway that is there. Rhein wondered about the upkeep of the driveway with the increased traffic that would result. Blondeau indicated that it is already being maintained, and this would continue.

Soucy felt there was not a fully complete site plan for review – they have the floor plan, the structural assessments, and a survey, but not all the things that are required of a site plan such as the easements, grading and drainage, landscaping, and the driveway are not shown in the plan. Throenle stated that the drainage is actually going into the gravel at this time, and the snow storage is shown on the survey. Throenle indicated he didn't see the need for such detail when it's only four buildings on a parcel. Soucy asked how to make the distinction on how much of a site plan needs to be submitted and questioned what is considered a complete site plan. Throenle indicated that there has been much less detail submitted to the Planning Commission, and those have been approved by the Planning Commission. Mahaney agreed with Soucy, and would like to see a definitive driveway – there is no architectural notation showing where it is going to be. Mullen-Campbell stated that this is a low hazard storage unit, and they are all over the place. She asked, why be so fussy??

Throenle indicated that it is identified on the survey as having ingress and egress. Possibly the detail of this could be a condition. They would be using the existing driveway. There is driveway actually showing going over to the units, but that could easily be shown.

Mahaney asked if Throenle felt there was a possible conflict of land use. Throenle stated he did not, based on his interpretation. Throenle explained there are already multiple parcels in the Township that are already running multiple businesses on a parcel. Throenle indicated that this was also a mixed use of the property, as some would be for the people renting the apartments, and the rest would be for the general public. Throenle feels that it is an extension of what is already there.

Mahaney questioned a possible lot split. Throenle stated he would have to look up the specifications on that, but he would assume that there is enough room to do that, but that would come back to the project having a separate entrance, unless an easement is granted across the current property to the new property. Milton indicated that if you split it, there would need to be another 30' setback. Throenle indicated that he already has the 30' setback from the road. Blondeau felt that it would be better if the lot could stay together, so that in the future in would all flow together. Mahaney felt this should be explored so the Commission does not run into a conflict with the division of lots. Mahaney indicated that he is not opposed to the project, but wants to make sure that they are doing the right thing. He also felt that the site plan needs to be more detailed.

Milton asked about zoning – Throenle indicated it was a commercial lot. Milton indicated that you do not need to have 30' setbacks on a commercial lot. Throenle indicated that you do from the road, but the sides would be 5'.

Throenle indicated that this would not be purely commercial, so wondered at what point you consider them separate. Throenle indicated that the Commission could ask Blondeau to explore this and then come back to the Planning Commission. Mahaney felt this was a good compromise, so they are not setting any precedents.

Mullen-Campbell asked if they should approve it with conditions. Throenle indicated that he feels it should be tabled with conditions and work out details and allow Blondeau to explore the different scenarios.

Milton questioned if the only problem was if Blondeau was going to split the lot. Soucy indicated that there is also the identification of the driveway. Milton feels that it is already identified. Mahaney stated he did not think it was clear – there's lines on the site plan, but there is nothing definitive there. Mahaney would like to see more detail and have it definitive. Rhein stated that usage of the property needs to be worked out. Mullen-Campbell asked what is involved in splitting a lot. It was stated there is a lot of work involved in splitting a lot. Rhein indicated they would need to get a survey, bring it in to the Zoning Administrator, and hire a lawyer to draw up the plans. Mullen-Campbell stated that the summer is short, as it is August already, and that the plans look good to her.

Throenle asked Blondeau when he was planning on getting started. Blondeau indicated that he would like to get going the next week, if approved. Blondeau indicated that there is not a lack of a driveway. Maynard questioned that if there are two issues – splitting the lot and where the driveway is supposed to be – if the Commission could set aside the splitting of the lot, and ask Blondeau to show the Commission specifically where the driveway is going to be, would he have to wait for another meeting to do that.

Throenle indicated Blondeau would have to wait for another meeting, as the Commission is requiring a site plan drawing with the lines on. Blondeau indicated that in aerial shots, you are able to see the existing driveway. Throenle indicated that the Commission was concerned with is how traffic will flow.

Soucy indicated the site plan is the legal agreement with the developer on how the applicant is going to develop it. For consistency, he feels this is an important piece of the development and should not be allowed to slide. Milton felt there should be no question on where the driveway is going to be, as everything around there is sand. Bushong asked if there could be a condition added to the motion concerning the driveway being connected between building one and two.

Rhein suggested that possibly the motion could include a condition that Blondeau must use driveways one and two, and that way he would not be able to move existing driveways.

Mahaney asked if the Commission would have approved the O'Reilly if there had not been a definitive driveway. Mullen-Campbell indicated that one was right along the highway. Milton asked what driveway they would be using. Mahaney indicated that it was spelled out in the site plan that they had an easement. Mahaney indicated that it does not have to have that kind of detail, but by looking at Blondeau's site plan, he can't tell where you would be pulling in and out of. Milton indicated that Blondeau has an easement also. Mahaney questioned if Milton could see the difference – in O'Reilly's you have a definitive driveway, and on Blondeau you are just saying that it's there somewhere.

Maynard questioned if it made a difference if a business was in the heart of Harvey or if it was something more rural. Bushong felt that the type of business should be taken into consideration – a large store should have a more detailed site plan, whereas the storage units would not necessarily need that sort of detail. He felt that the storage buildings would be the best use of that property, and it would be a shame if a minor detail put a stop to the project. Bushong felt that the plans were fairly well put together, although not extremely definitive, but they are in line with the project that Blondeau is asking to do. Mahaney stated that the parcel is zoned commercial, and wondered if we were going to start doing spot zoning since the project is rural. Bushong asked if it was zoned commercial, or mixed use. Mahaney felt that everyone needs to be held to the same parameters. Milton questioned Mahaney on how detailed we were going to get.

Throenle indicated that he is hearing some hesitancy in the Commissioners on approving this, regardless of if the driveway is there or not, so he would recommend tabling the request so that can be ironed out, and bring it back to the Planning Commission at the next possible opportunity. The concept is that the driveway will be drawn in to show the use and the flow of the driveway. Throenle indicated that he will take the hit on the driveway scenario.

Commission Decision

Mahaney moved, and Soucy seconded to table the Blondeau Storage Building project until there is further information on a site plan review for a designated driveway and the split of property is addressed.

MOTION CARRIED

C. Lake Michigan Armory Enclosed Shooting Range Site Plan Review

Staff Introduction

Throenle indicated that this concept was brought before the Planning Commission at the last meeting, with the recommendation to put a Site Plan before the Planning Commission at this meeting.

The applicant is looking to move a fully enclosed gun range to the site (storage container). This would be behind the existing business (Lake Michigan Armory). Throenle has received one comment from the business next door (the veterinary clinic) that they had no objections to the shooting range. Throenle explained where the shooting range would be located and where the parking would be. There are large trees that buffer from the storage units in the back, and vegetative / fence buffers on each side. There would be a maximum of three people that could actually be in the container at the same time (2 shooters and one shooting range officer). The range would not be open unless the store was open and there was a shooting range officer available.

Tom Kolinsky from Lake Michigan Armory was on hand to answer questions.

Commission Discussion

Soucy questioned how we would know that those conditions would be maintained if we did not have it as a special condition. Kolinsky indicated that they have legal requirements that there be someone on site, either in the shooting range or through the use of cameras.

Mahaney questioned what the direction of the shooting would be – Throenle indicated it would be towards the storage units. Soucy questioned where the storage units were located, and Throenle indicated that they were situated behind the buffer of trees. Soucy indicated that the site plan does not identify buildings on the adjacent properties. Throenle indicated that it does in terms of the staff report and the site plan review.

Mahaney stated that he was absent at the last meeting, and had a few questions that may have been brought up at that meeting. Throenle asked that Kolinsky to give a little detail on the shooting range. Mahaney asked that he be given a few minutes before Kolinski could speak.

Mahaney questioned where a shooting range would come under permitted principle uses or conditional uses. He does not see where it fits in the Zoning Ordinance. Throenle indicated that his interpretation is that it falls under “Amusement and Entertainment”. Throenle stated that this comes back to the definition of amusement. Amusement is a wide open term. Throenle indicated that entertainment depends on the individual. Throenle asked if this was anything other than a gun range, would the Commissioners still have the same questions. If the answer is yes, Throenle felt the Commission would need to go back and tear the Zoning Ordinance apart. Throenle asked if every piece of amusement needs to be defined. Soucy felt that it is subjective to what it is, and the Planning Commission does not have discretionary decision making power in site plan review, so you have to abide by the ordinance. That would suggest that it should be sent to the Zoning Board of Appeals for interpretation. Soucy indicated that at this point, that does not say anything about the appropriateness of use, as he is not looking at that at the moment. Soucy stated that suggests that there is a need to follow the Ordinance and follow procedures. Mahaney feels it falls under a special use. Throenle indicated that his interpretation of the Ordinance disagrees with that. He feels that whatever is contained in this storage unit (model trains, RC controlled cars, archery range, shooting range) are not defined in the Ordinance at this time. He asked the Commissioners if they wanted to go down that path, and tear the Ordinance apart, and try to come up with every type of use that there is. In Throenle's interpretation, "other places of amusement" was to cover that – we do not define every retail store that comes into the Township. Throenle indicated that amusement is a term that defines a whole array of what people consider amusement.

Soucy suggested that the applicants should meet with the Zoning Administrator early in the process when they have a use that is not identified, and work through the correct channel of getting the use added on a case by case basis. Soucy feels that if this is something the applicant truly wants, another three months added to the process is not out of the realm of normal things that people do with zoning in communities across Michigan. Throenle respectfully disagreed, as this would make it very difficult for entrepreneurs that come up with ideas.

Maynard is concerned about the public health and safety of the residents, and the Planning Commission is tasked with providing this, and with this particular use there is the concern of lead exposure, and the idea of the lead being transferred from clothing to the home. After the debacle in Flint, she is particularly sensitive to the issue of lead exposure, and while it may be possible to convince her that there may be measures possible to extract the lead from the container, she is not convinced that is where the problem stops. Throenle felt there was a much greater risk of being exposed to lead in an outdoor shooting range, than in something that is self-contained with safety procedures in place. Throenle indicated that with an outdoor shooting range, you are shooting into a bank of dirt. When it rains, that lead is now going into the aquifer. A second instance is shooting long range, missing the embankment or shooting in the air, and having no idea where it comes down. He feels there is a much greater threat with outdoor shooting ranges. Throenle laid out a demonstration of fishing supplies, all of which contain lead. Throenle indicated that he could open a fishing store in the container, and make lead objects. Lead is used for steelhead fishing, pointed out lead-head jigs that come in pure lead form, and he is touching that lead when he takes it out of the container. He can take lead in a melting pot, pour it into a form, and make those same sinkers. These can be purchased from any fishing store anywhere. His point was that he could buy any of these supplies anywhere, and that lead as a whole is not just contained to people that shoot. Throenle indicated he would have more damage from the fishing supplies, than from going to a shooting range. Millions of fishermen do this every day.

Maynard indicated that as a founding member of the Chocoy Raptor Center, she has seen the effects of lead poisoning, and seeing eagles die of lead poisoning, that the example presented by Throenle shows the perversity of lead as used by all types of sportsmen.

Mahaney stated that he feels Maynard is correct, and that she is looking out for the community. Mahaney indicated that he can go to the store and buy them or refuse to buy them. Throenle indicated that you also make the choice to go to a shooting range and shoot. Throenle stated he was trying to show a point that people crafting with lead (whether it be fishing, or stained glass lead frame mosaics) are breathing the fumes. Maynard stated that does not make it healthy. Throenle asked if that meant that any business coming into the Township that would potentially sell products made of lead (such as a fishing / tackle store) would be denied. Throenle stated that he is a conservationist and sportsman, and respects what Ducks Unlimited did with steel shot. He also understands that he, as a fisherman, has a responsibility, even though it does not stop him from fishing. When he walks into a shooting range, he knows the risk. He does not feel that we as a Township can tell people to not take that risk. Maynard indicated that when you leave the shooting range, you will not be leaving naked. Throenle stated that on various occasions he has watched people leave the restroom without washing their hands, and would be more at risk of shaking hands with that person. Maynard indicated they would have to agree to disagree.

Mahaney also questioned what type of weapons would be discharged, maximum caliber, and required inspections. He feels that this requires a separate ordinance for this type of business. Under Indoor Theatres and other Amusement, Mahaney does not see how this would be the same as an indoor theatre – he feels it would suggest things like an arcade or bowling. Throenle indicated that his mind set would suggest a shooting range. Mahaney indicated they would have to agree to disagree, as it comes down to interpretation. Mahaney feels that this is so open-ended.

Tom Kolinsky, Lake Michigan Armory, stated that the caliber is defined in “self-contained”. He could have a .50 caliber shot in this container if he chooses to line it with AR 500 steel, which is not penetrable by .50. He is choosing to go with the largest caliber allowed being a .308 rifle, and rifles would only be allowed for sighting in, and will be regulated. The company takes the liability if a bullet escapes, which is why you line the container with appropriate AR 500 steel.

Soucy questioned the liability - if that is based on law. Kolinsky stated this is common sense. The person with anything higher than a .308 would not be able to get in. Soucy indicated that there is no condition that the Planning Commission can hold him to if a bullet escapes. Kolinsky stated if someone breaks in, there is an alarm system. Throenle indicated that there would be a range officer to oversee what someone is shooting in the container, and that person would know what can and cannot be shot in that container.

Soucy feels that the fact the Planning Commission is having this discussion suggests that this use has additional health and safety consideration beyond what is normal for a typical entertainment use, which suggests that this needs to be considered through a different process – either update the ordinance or send to the Zoning Board of Appeals for clarification.

Throenle indicated that no matter what the business, there are certain liabilities that go along with it. We have become a very litigious society if we can sue anybody for anything. Throenle indicated that he feels that to have a special condition on this just because it is a shooting range takes it far outside the scope where this is going.

Kolinsky asked for permission to approach the podium, which was denied by Chair Mahaney.

Soucy asked about the comment made at the beginning about this being a non-conforming use and the point about not contributing to the continued non-conformity of this use. Throenle indicated that the container fits within the scope of being placed on the property. Maynard questioned a comment made by Throenle that the intention of a non-conforming use would over time be brought to conforming. Throenle indicated there a quite a few of non-conforming parcels in the Township based on depth of the parcel, width of the parcel, acreage assigned to it, etc. Soucy asked if it was then based on dimensions of the parcel. Throenle indicated that in some cases, the parcel itself is non-conforming, but there is a section in the Ordinance that states as long as you can meet setbacks in the lot of non-conformance you are good to go. Maynard asked if you are allowed to expand. Throenle indicated that you could, as long as you can stay in the confines of the property and meet the setbacks.

Throenle indicated that this was not a separate business, as it is used to promote the business.

Maynard indicated that Throenle had stated that the Vet clinic had stated verbally that they were fine with the intended use of the container, but Maynard wondered about the property that is 450' on the other side had given any written permission, based on the Firearms Ordinance. Throenle indicated he had not received any response from them.

Police Chief Scott Jennings spoke on the Firearms Ordinance, and feels that as long as the shooting is done within the container, nothing can escape and it satisfies the intent and spirit of the ordinance. The stated purpose of the Firearms Ordinance was to protect the buildings, property and people from stray bullets and reckless use of firearms. This contained unit, along with a certified instructor, is vented and minimizes the exposure to the people inside to lead, gases, and gun powder. The instructor is there to insure the integrity. He feels that it is a fine accompaniment to the business.

Throenle explained the shooting range is comprised of a heavy ventilation system in the container that controls the flow, and that the ventilation system pushes forward toward the target, which minimizes the risk to the shooter. Maynard stated there would not be any risk if they only shot copper bullets.

Kolinsky stated that majority of bullets are copper jacketed, so the exposure to lead is minimized. S. Emerson interjected from the audience stating that copper jacketing makes no difference in the exposure based on scientific data, and that is not correct data. Emerson stated he is the expert on this subject, and would be happy to speak to the Planning Commission on this. He indicated he could also talk about the Zoning Ordinance. Throenle voiced objection to this.

Mahaney interjected and stated he would like to hear what Emerson has to say regarding health concerns. Kolinsky stated he would let Dr. Emerson speak as Kolinsky was a 35-year health provider, and then Kolinsky would like to speak. Throenle suggested that Dr. Emerson go first. Mahaney stated he wanted Kolinsky to go first.

Tom Kolinsky, representing Lake Michigan Armory as President – stated that the issue is on a shooting range and lead contamination. He stated that the shooting range has a ventilation system that takes the air flow from behind forward to a filtration system comprised of four or five filtration systems, with one being a HEPA filter so that none of the air that escapes the range has lead contamination. Kolinsky brought up carcinogens (smoking, gasoline, Roundup) and how they are responsible for more deaths than lead exposure. He stated that everything is about personal choice and what you expose yourself to, and how you clean it up. In relation to taking lead home on your clothing, there may be parts per million or parts per billion on your clothing. With the airflow technology, it is all filtering away, and the blast is going down range. This is regulated by OSHA, MIOS, NAHC, NAVFAC, and EPA, and is compliant for air flow and discharge.

Mahaney asked about filters and how often they are changed. Kolinsky stated that the filters are on a meter system, which indicates when they need to be changed based on air flow. The person who will be cleaning the range will have a special coverall suit to protect against themselves against lead exposure. Kolinsky has also invested in a non-explosive vacuum for unspent gun powder down range. There are policies and procedures on how to clean from the shooting line going forward. The container is designed with a deceleration chamber, so that when it hits into the bullet trap it goes around in a circle, decreasing the splatter of the bullet, which produces a more formed bullet and less lead exposure. Kolinsky indicated that this is not haphazard, and the industry regulates itself.

Mahaney questioned the noise. Kolinsky indicated there would be acoustic panels and the door is closed. At 10' away from the building outside would be no higher than the decibels from a lawnmower. The farther away you get from the container, the less noise there will be. Throenle also indicated there would also be vegetation wrapped around the outside.

Scott Emerson spoke on the firearms ordinance, and feels the ordinance is very specific. It does not say anything about discharge of firearms in a container. Emerson feels that approving this would be a violation of the Firearms Ordinance. He stated that after serving on the Planning Commission for sixteen years, he knows how zoning ordinances are supposed to work. Emerson feels that this is a decision that the Zoning Board of Appeals would have to make. Emerson stated that Kolinsky had a very poor understanding about lead poisoning, as it doesn't cause cancer. Emerson feels that there is inadequate testing (pre and post) on people that use these types of shooting containers. There is no amount of lead that is safe, and the American College of Medical Toxicology just issued a warning on these types of shooting ranges. One of the problems is that they may have mitigated the lead exposure to the person in the container, but they have not taken care of the take home. When you fire, it is not necessarily what comes out of the barrel, but the lead vapor that is emitted, and the air flow is not fast enough to mitigate the inhaled vapor from the ejection port. Emerson stated that this will then enter your lungs, and in seven seconds is in your brain. Lead is an insidious poison that affects your neurologic system, decreases IQ points, and has been associated with CDC levels of alarm. The take home lead issues are another problem. You would need to have a decontamination process before entering and leaving the container. He feels that this type of shooting range is a toxic hazard that can leave the "amusement" area. It is not just a personal risk, but a public health risk.

Throenle indicated that there are all types of contaminants that people take home every night.

Mahaney stated there seems to be a lot of concerns and issues from the zoning aspect to the health and welfare of the public. Throenle interjected to clarify that Chief Jennings is the one that enforces the Firearms Ordinance, not the Zoning Administrator. Throenle highly respects the opinion of the Chief – he gave the shooting range idea to the Chief for comments. Mahaney then asked for commissioner comments.

Milton stated that he feels it is offering a service that is ancillary to their business. Maynard still has concerns about the public health. Soucy felt that procedurally speaking they should not approve it as it is not a permitted use in the district, and that it should be going to the Zoning Board of Appeals to make that determination or determining if this use can be added to the Zoning Ordinance. Throenle asked if this meant that any future businesses coming into the Township that are not specifically identified would have to go through the Zoning Board of Appeals. Soucy indicated that the applicant should be meeting with Throenle to make sure they are meeting all of our laws. Soucy stated we should not be taking short cuts – that they need to go through the proper channels. Throenle stated he does not see it as a short cut, and that he takes offense to that statement. Bushong felt it comes down to the “amusement” definition, and at this point it appears the commission cannot agree on this. Bushong felt that since the commissioners cannot all say that this use is classified as “amusement”, it then becomes a Zoning Board of Appeals question. Mullen-Campbell had no comment, but agreed with Maynard on concerns about public health.

Kolinsky asked if the Commission was taking questions from the floor. Mahaney stated they were not.

Commission Decision

Maynard moved, and Soucy seconded to deny application based on concerns that the Commission has about public health and zoning compliance.

IX. PUBLIC COMMENT

Deborah Mulcahey, 633 Lakewood Lane – spoke on site plans and what needs to be included. With the storage units, she did not feel it was a site plan. She had concerns on landscaping, driveway, vegetation, and the easement. With the shooting range, it's best to transfer to copper bullets and lead free primers. Spoke on lead exposure and it is not a personal choice. Applicants need to be directed to provide a complete site plan.

Tom Kolinsky, Lake Michigan Armory – stated that he had provided an official site plan. Stated he would like to lodge a formal complaint, as he doesn't believe Planning Commission members should be calling local neighbors and discouraging them by giving their opinion of a firing range, and then try to coerce them to go against the neighboring property. Commissioner Soucy explained that he had called the Veterinary Clinic and asked how they felt about the shooting range, as he was a new commissioner and trying to do his research. Kolinsky asked if Soucy had called the neighbor on the other side, and Soucy replied he had not. Kolinsky indicated that there was a little bit of a disagreement on what Soucy and the Vet clinic conversed about. Kolinsky was instructed to contact the Township Supervisor. Kolinsky asked what the process was with the denial – is he able to resubmit the application again. Is there an appeal process?

Dale Throenle, Planning Director, Chocolay Township – addressed the harassment by township residents to new businesses coming into the Township. There needs to be an enforcement ordinance against citizens harassing their neighbors regarding issues related to the Township. He stated that Lake Michigan Armory was asked to remove the gun sign from the front, as the harasser found it “offensive”. He asked the Commissioners to plant that seed in their brain, as he will be bringing it back to the Commission for further consideration. Soucy indicated this sounded like a civil issue. Throenle indicated that the person involved continues to do this on multiple properties throughout the Township. Maynard asked about a restraining order. Throenle indicated that there are times that the individuals feel threatened by this harasser. Throenle indicated that this is an ongoing problem, and needs to be stopped. Commissioners felt this was outside the scope of the Planning Commission, and that it was a civil issue – a police matter.

Public comment closed at 8:33 PM.

X. COMMISSIONER’S COMMENTS

Rhein – None.

Milton – feels a shooting range is a good thing to have at the point of sale. There are a lot of things that go into firearms / pistols. There needs to be a lot more education on guns with the general public, so that they are buying the proper gun for the use intended.

Maynard – None.

Mahaney – stated it is hard at times to try to make the right suggestions for the community and not holding personal grudges. The Planning Commission tries to interpret the information that comes to them, but they are not experts. Mahaney also asked Throenle about getting full size site plans. Throenle stated we do not have the capability at the Township to print these – it would have to be something provided by the applicant. Mahaney indicated that there is so much detail, which makes it really hard to read.

Soucy – feels Bushong made a good suggestion on the distinctions on site plans. Maybe simpler uses could have a more simplified site plans. This is something that should be considered in the future.

Bushong – he is in favor of both projects that were denied, but feels it is all in the details. Things take time and they have to go through the process. He hopes both will continue forward.

Campbell – is pro-business for both projects also.

XI. DIRECTOR’S REPORT

Throenle discussed the purpose of a preliminary review, and the responsibility of the Commissioners to catch the things that need to be addressed. The purpose of a preliminary is to decide if the idea makes sense, and if it is an idea that the applicant should go forward with. Mahaney indicated that they are not experts, and they rely on Throenle to present the information to them. Throenle indicated that this is a “team” thing. If the driveway would have been caught in the preliminary, they could have breezed through that decision.

Throenle will not be available on the meeting scheduled for August 19th. Maynard will also not be available. Commissioners decided to move the meeting to August 26th.

CHARTER TOWNSHIP OF CHOCOLAY PLANNING COMMISSION MINUTES

Monday, August 26, 2019

I. MEETING CALLED TO ORDER BY: Tom Mahaney at 6:07 p.m.

ROLL CALL

Members Present: Tom Mahaney (Chair), Susan Maynard (Vice Chair), Donna Mullen-Campbell (Secretary), Cory Bushong (Vice Secretary), Kendell Milton, Ryan Soucy

Members Absent: Don Rhein

Staff Present: Dale Throenle (Planning Director/Zoning Administrator), Richard Bohjanen (Township Supervisor), and Suzanne Sundell (Deputy Clerk).

II. ADDITIONAL AGENDA ITEMS / APPROVAL OF AGENDA

Motion by Maynard, and seconded by Bushong, to approve the agenda as written.

Vote: Ayes: 6 Nays: 0 MOTION CARRIED

III. MINUTES

July 22, 2019

Mahaney brought up the fact that the minutes did not reflect enough of the actual comments made by the Zoning Administrator, and the strong stance that he took regarding the shooting range. Mahaney feels that it is important for anyone that is reviewing the minutes have a good knowledge on how the Planning Commission and the Zoning Administrator acted and feel on issues. He feels the minutes are a basic gloss over of the last meeting, and he will not support approving the minutes as they are.

Soucy indicated he thought that the demonstration that Throenle gave on lead was pertinent to the discussion on the shooting range. He would also like to have revised minutes.

Motion by Maynard and seconded by Bushong, that updated minutes for July 22, 2019 be brought back to the September 16, 2019 meeting to reflect the comments made by Soucy and Mahaney.

Vote: Ayes: 6 Nays: 0 MOTION CARRIED

IV. PUBLIC COMMENT

Deborah Mulcahey, 633 Lakewood Lane – applauded the Planning Commission for sending the minutes back for revision. Had concerns about the recreation survey and only having 105 respondents – less than 2%. Residents feel that they are ignored. In reference to the Blondeau site plan, they have a total of 13 units on the site, and they want 80 storage units. She did not see anything on the site plan for the driveway or vegetation. Regarding the storage units on Carmen Drive, she still has concerns about snow removal and placement. She questioned Mahaney (as he owns storage units behind Ace Hardware) how many storage units are needed in Chocolay Township. Should also keep in mind that these are being placed in an area with sewer that will not be used. Regarding the Recreation Plan, she would like to see an ADA accessible toilet at the Marina. She is also concerned about properties being used for equipment that is being left on these sites by companies doing work in the Township, as this could impact funding for state and federal money for recreational plans in the future. Mulcahey also indicated that the Public book in the back did not have the updated packet for this meeting in it.

Scott Doughty, UP Holistic Medicine, representing MKD Group, 6044 US 41 South – owns the building to the east of the proposed Genshaw Storage buildings. They have some thoughts and concerns to express for review by the Planning Commission. Professionalism, cleanliness, aesthetics and ease of snow removal are extremely important. They are health care professionals that provide a relaxed healing environment inside and out. They have concerns about their need for tree lined privacy. Snow removal is also of concern. Drainage could also be of concern.

Mark Daavettila, U.P. Engineers and Architects – he is there with Chuck Genshaw (owner) to answer any questions the Commission may have on Item VIII.A.

VII. UNFINISHED BUSINESS

A. Blondeau Storage Units Site Plan Review

Staff Introduction

Throenle introduced the site plan review for the storage units at 125 Kawbawgam Road, and the request of the Planning Commission at the previous meeting to come back to the Commission with the driveway plan and whether a lot split needed to be conducted on that property. It is zoned commercial and has an overlay zoning of mixed use, so this use would fit into the concept of having multiple uses on the same property without the need for a lot split.

Commission Discussion

Mahaney asked if this parcel falls within the US 41 / M-28 Access Management Overlay District. Throenle indicated that it did not. Throenle indicated that this would pertain to properties fronting on US 41 or M-28. Mahaney stated that it also read “and other land at intersecting streets within 350’ of the US 41 / M-28 right of way. This is on a parcel of land that intersects. Mahaney indicated that it appears the lot falls in the 350’ and is right in the overlay district. Throenle indicated that the driveway already exists, so this would not be an issue. Mahaney stated that whenever you amend your property, such as adding new buildings, you need to go to one driveway. Throenle asked if Mahaney was suggesting that this get tabled again. Mahaney indicated that was his thought. There are things that spell out the setbacks for items that fall into this overlay district – a 50' setback would be required for the first building. Mahaney feels there are other items that should have been reviewed with Blondeau. Mahaney indicated that this was under Section 5.3 (Q) (3) "Parking Setback and Landscaped Area - No parking or display of vehicles, goods or other materials for sale, shall be located within fifty (50) feet of the roadway right-of-way. This setback shall be planted in grass and landscaped with small clusters of salt tolerant trees and shrubs suitable to the underlying soils ...". Maynard asked if this was 350' from the right-of-way to the building. Mahaney indicated that it was 350' from the right-of-way to the property line. Throenle indicated that in that case nothing could be built on US 41 or M-28. Mahaney stated that this was for new construction. Soucy asked if it had been determined that it was actually 350', and suggested using the measuring tool in BS&A. Maynard asked about splitting the lot, and if that would figure into this discussion. Throenle indicated that if Blondeau chose to split the lot, and made it 350' to encompass the driveway, it could be built as designed. Throenle indicated that if the intent is to do further research, he suggested they stop the conversation at this point and table it. Mahaney stated he thought that is what should happen.

Blondeau asked Mahaney if he owned storage units. Mahaney indicated that he does. Blondeau was under the impression that when Ace Hardware was sold, the storage units went with the sale. Blondeau feels that there is a major conflict of interest for Mahaney being involved in the conversation regarding the storage units. Blondeau feels that Mahaney should have recused himself from the discussion, not only for this meeting but for the last meeting. This project seems to just get pushed along and is getting out of hand. Mahaney agreed that it is getting out of hand, because Blondeau has not been given the right information. Mahaney indicated that there are ordinances within the Township that they need to follow. Mahaney asked Throenle if it was too late to recuse himself. Throenle stated that the discussion has already happened, so it was. Soucy indicated that the procedure would be to ask the Commission if he should recuse himself, and then it would require a unanimous vote from the Commission.

Throenle indicated that he is not convinced that the Access Management goes that far down, but he will do the research to determine the answer. This could also be a problem if there are any other new businesses that wish to come into the Township.

Maynard apologized to Blondeau for not initially giving him the right information when he proposed his idea. She would also like to suggest that they spend their time trying to accommodate this business in this area.

Throenle stated that it would not be just the 350', but an additional 100' easement from the center line of M-28. This would make it 450', and the project would be done. There would be no way to do a lot split at that point.

Throenle suggested that the project be tabled, and it be sent to the attorney for clarification on wording in Zoning Ordinance. Mahaney stated the attorney should also be asked about the driveway.

Soucy asked for Google street view, to see what the line of sight looks like from the driveway.

Throenle questioned what the intent was for the Access Management Overlay. Soucy asked if it could be brought up the Access Management intent could be put up on the screen. Throenle indicated that the intent is Section 5.3(A):

“...The provisions of this Section are intended to promote safe and efficient travel on the US-41/M-28 highways within Marquette County; improve safety and reduce the potential for crashes; minimize disruptive and potentially hazardous traffic conflicts; ensure safe access by emergency vehicles; protect the substantial public investment in the highway and street system by preserving capacity and avoiding the need for unnecessary and costly reconstruction which disrupts business and traffic flow; separate traffic conflict areas by reducing the number of driveways; provide safe spacing standards between driveways, and between driveways and intersections; provide for shared access between abutting properties; implement the Township Master Plan and the US-41/M-28 Access Management Plan recommendations; ensure reasonable access to properties, although not always by the most direct access; and to coordinate access decisions with the Michigan Department of Transportation, the Marquette County Road Commission, and adjoining jurisdictions, as applicable...”

Bushong asked if it has any bearing on the driveways, referring to Item R on the Access Management Plan. Throenle indicated that it depends on where he locates it. Mahaney stated it has a 50' setback.

Soucy asked about the volume of traffic on Kawbawgam Road. Throenle stated that right now it acts as a service road for the Casino, as well as residential, but will become residential only when the Casino opens. Soucy questioned if there are any exceptions spelled out in the Ordinance. Throenle answered he would be seeking the advice of the Township Attorney.

Commission Decision

Maynard moved, Soucy seconded that the discussion be tabled until the September 16, 2019 meeting when more information will be available regarding the Access Management Overlay Zoning.

VIII. NEW BUSINESS

A. Genshaw Storage Units Site Plan Review

Staff Introduction

Throenle suggested that this item also be tabled, as it has the same scenario of the previous discussion.

Commission Discussion

Soucy indicated that he was under the impression that there was an overlay map that would show which parcels were included in the Overlay District, as he remembers coming to the Township and requesting that his property be removed from the Access Management Zone. Throenle indicated that was not the Access Management Overlay, but the Mixed-Use Overlay.

Throenle put the large site plan on the table for the Commissioners, and there was discussion among the Commissioners on the map.

Mark Daavettilla, UP Engineers, and Chuck Genshaw approached the table also. Daavettilla asked if the 50' was from MDOT's right-of-way. Mahaney stated that it would be 350'. Daavettilla stated that the Access Management Standard reads "if the property is within 350' of this right-of-way, it is in the overlay district" but does not say from there any property line is an additional 50' setback. Mahaney pointed out that it says from an intersecting road. Genshaw stated that Section 5.3 (Q) 2 states, "Structure Setback - No structure other than signs, as allowed in Article XVIII, telephone poles and other utility structures that are not buildings, transfer stations or substations, shall be permitted within fifty (50) feet of the roadway right-of-way".

Throenle indicated that this still comes back to an interpretation from the attorney.

Daavettilla stated that within that zoning district, you would have to be 50' away from the MDOT right-of-way to put up a building, and to put in a driveway on Carmen Drive (25 mph) it would have to be at least 150' from the right-of-way.

Daavettilla stated that to put this off for another month was somewhat of a joke, just to have a little research done. Mahaney called for no more comments. Daavettilla indicated that he agreed with Blondeau on the fact that Mahaney should have recused himself, as it is competition voting against competition. Mahaney felt this project should be tabled.

Genshaw asked when this zoning came into effect. Throenle indicated in 2008. Genshaw then questioned if anything new would fall under these same setbacks. Throenle stated it would – preexisting buildings are exempt, unless something would happen to them.

Mahaney stated that they should get an attorney's interpretation. Soucy stated that possibly it should go to the Zoning Board of Appeals for interpretation. Throenle stated this would depend on the attorney's opinion.

Soucy had some questions for Daavettilla concerning drainage, as it appears to be a lower spot to the south and west, which could become a problem for the properties to the southwest. He is curious when the trees and shrubs are removed, if it will be able to handle the additional water. Daavettilla indicated that a portion is left gravel to help with drainage, and there is an additional storm water basin near Carmen Drive and another along the backside. Mahaney asked about the width of the snow removal (8-10 ft). He does not think this would be adequate. Mahaney wondered if it would cause problems for the apartments to the south.

Genshaw indicated that with the equipment he has, they do not end up with big snowplowed piles that take all summer to melt, as they have a snow blower that they use to blow snow back onto the driveway when it's nice to help with melting.

Scott Doughty (MKD) indicated that there was a ditch that runs around the property that could possibly be used. Genshaw indicated that he would be willing to talk with the adjoining landowner (MKD) and work some of the snow removal and drainage issues out.

Daavettilla asked about a variance – Throenle stated that he could ask for one from the Zoning Board of Appeals.

Bushong asked if Throenle could confirm that there was not a map on the Access Management Overlay District. Throenle did not find one in the Township electronic files. Soucy asked if there was a possibility that his predecessors may have made notes on this. Throenle indicated that he would have to dig back in the archives.

Soucy feels that it is very frustrating, that the Ordinance as it was adopted, did not take into consideration some of these things. As a member of the 41 Corridor Advisory Group, he knows that there was a sample ordinance that was passed around. He does not feel that what happened tonight was the intent.

Commission Decision

Maynard moved, and Soucy seconded to table the issue until the next Planning Commission meeting on September 16, 2019 to determine the applicability of the Access Management Overlay to this particular parcel.

Vote: Ayes: 6 Nays: 0 MOTION CARRIED

Throenle asked if there were any other items that the Planning Commission would like have addressed on the two applicant's site plans before the plans come before them in the next meeting. Mahaney stated that this was something that should be addressed before it comes back the at the next meeting with the interpretation. He does not feel comfortable doing that at this point, as he doesn't feel that the projects were analyzed enough after the Access Management came into play. Soucy indicated that all his concerns have been addressed. Bushong stated he had no other concerns, and that the Overlay District came as a complete surprise to him.

Mullen-Campbell affirmed it was a surprise to her also. Mahaney interjected that he wanted the interpretation and have the meeting stand as it is. Throenle stated he was just asking, and Mahaney cut him off by stating that is how he wanted to leave it.

B. 2020 – 2024 Recreation Plan Review

Throenle indicated that is the start of reviewing and updating the Recreation Plan. As was mentioned in public comment, there was a small turnout in the survey, but the responses landed about where he expected they would. Throenle indicated that he had taken the Senior group on tour of the Township, and was surprised that even some of the Seniors that had lived here their whole lives had no idea we had so many recreation areas. His idea is to point out where the areas are and identify them with signage. The cost is basically maintenance.

Throenle has put together a budget, which is basically a wish list. This will help the Commissioners prioritize on what should be done. There are some items that have been identified with a Risk Management review.

Throenle indicated that the Recreation Plan would need to go through the Township Board and be in place by February 2020 in order to qualify for any DNR funding / grants. Throenle indicated that the document itself is about 95% done.

Mahaney wondered how realistic the budget was. Throenle indicated that the primary source of funding for recreation projects is the DNR. Mahaney feels that it is very aggressive. Throenle indicated that what he is asking of the Commissioners is to determine the priority of the items.

Soucy asked if there would be another opportunity to go over this. Throenle indicated there was. Throenle also indicated that in the coming year, the Planning Commission will be starting to take a look at the Capital Improvement Plan for the Township.

Mahaney asked Throenle how accurate he thought the numbers were. Throenle indicated that this has been reviewed with the DPW staff. Another aspect is to keep in mind how to maintain what is done.

Maynard asked about matching grants from the DNR for maintenance. Throenle stated the DNR will not do grants on maintenance. Maynard asked if we were luckier getting a full grant than a matching grant. Throenle indicated that in the DNR's case, there are not full grants, all are some type of match. Throenle indicated the DNR looks at two things going in – ADA compliance and matching funds.

Soucy asked if there had been an assessment has been done on our facilities regarding the accessibility standpoint. Throenle indicated that there had been, and it is covered in the document. Soucy asked if it includes things that need to be addressed for accessibility. Throenle stated that it does.

Mullen-Campbell asked about an interactive recreation guide that had been done by an intern in the past. Throenle pulled up this interactive guide on the Township website under Recreation.

Mahaney noted that CABA (Chocolay Area Business Association) had been included as a participant in the spreadsheet. Throenle stated that they are in the process of trying to get this going again. There are 113 businesses in the Township, and the concept is to get them involved (or re-involved) in the organization.

Mahaney asked about the bike path on Green Bay Street. Throenle indicated that there is a plan to widen the bridge, to accommodate a bike / walking path that would be in conjunction with the Iron Ore Heritage Trail.

Mahaney asked if this subject was going to be discussed at the next meeting. Throenle indicated that it was, and that he would like the Planning Commission to give him a general direction on what they see as priorities.

Mahaney asked about the Soccer Association, and their pursuit of some land in Beaver Grove. Throenle indicated that the Soccer Association is very interested in pursuing the project. They are still working out details. Maynard asked if this field would be free to everyone. Throenle indicated it would not. Details are still being worked out. Throenle stated that the Soccer Association was working on funding the project through their association. The concept is that the property would be turned over to the Township and then be leased to the Soccer Association.

Mahaney asked Throenle if the Commissioners were supposed to rate the items on the spreadsheet – Throenle indicated that he would like the Commissioners to look through the proposed items to see if they make sense, and then come back to the next meeting to discuss. Throenle would prefer not to take anything out, since if it is not in the approved Recreation Plan, it would not be able to be funded through any grants. Soucy felt that by prioritizing the items, this should not be a problem.

Maynard referenced the survey: “Question 26: Listed below are possible future recreation opportunities in the Township. Check your support level for each opportunity listed.” Maynard also mentioned that in the past, in direct marketing 2.5% response on a direct mail campaign was what was expected. Maynard pointed out that of those that responded, the quiet sports and soccer, basketball, volleyball, and a community recreation center are high on the list. Non-motorized trails, the community center, summer programs for youth, and using school facilities scored the highest. She feels that is what the community seems to be interested in.

Throenle indicated that these are projects that could be done in cooperation with other entities, giving the example of the disc golf being in cooperation with Silver Creek Church.

Throenle indicated that one of the things we have lost is the cross country skiing trail on Kawbawgam, which will probably take 5 years or so before the tree growth is adequate. Throenle indicated that there is a possibility of doing smaller trails in areas such as Beaver Grove or Silver Creek, or even possibly Voce Creek.

Soucy thanked Throenle for conducting the survey, but mentioned that the under 21 crowd response is low, and he realizes that they are a hard demographic to capture in a survey such as this, but he wondered if there is an opportunity to have a short form survey when school kicks in to get a younger opinion. Throenle indicated that he could go to places like Cherry Creek School and talk to the children there and see what their interests are.

Mahaney stated that when the Planning Commission is looking at this, they will want to make sure that we are not competing with private enterprise. Throenle indicated that right now we have four different categories – Township owned recreation, cooperative recreation (recreation we do with the DNR or the State), private facilities (Gitchegumme campground or Chocolay River campground), and the public recreation facilities (fish hatchery). These are intertwined in how they work together.

Throenle indicated there have also been many comments from the public on trails – possibly one along CR 480. There is also the motorized groups, such as ATV, ORV, and snowmobiles.

Soucy was pleased to see the support for the trails. He now lives on the backside of Silver Creek, so he likes the ideas of disc golf, sledding, etc. Soucy likes the idea that the trails give access to many things. Throenle indicated that a lot of people do not know about the trails. Mahaney stated that this would come back to signage. Maynard feels that the trails are the most important aspect of the Township. She lives on the Iron Ore Heritage Trail, and is able to see all the different ages of people that use the trail.

Throenle asked if signage and direction (wayfinding signs) are a priority for the trails. Both Mahaney and Maynard thought it would encourage people to explore more. There are many things out there that nobody knows about. Maynard felt that signage would not cost all that much, and would provide an added boost to the Township. Throenle indicated that funding could possibly come from a community grant. Mullen-Campbell also thought it would be good to include the Marina.

Mahaney thinks the item “Purchase of trail maintenance services” is a very important aspect, and would promote the use of the trails in all seasons.

Mahaney stated that the Commissioners will take the list home and go over the priorities for the next meeting.

IX. PUBLIC COMMENT

None

X. COMMISSIONER’S COMMENTS

Milton – None

Maynard – None

Mahaney – stated that, as he sits on the Planning Commission, he does not take any of his own personal interests in judgement of anybody’s new or old business. He tries to be as fair as he can for the Township and the residents.

Soucy – stated that if there was an issue with the Asset Management zone that he would like there to be expediency in working together to get the issue solved in the most mutually agreeable way that they can.

Bushong – None

Campbell – Agrees with Soucy's statement

XI. DIRECTOR'S REPORT

Throenle indicated that the next meeting will be Monday, September 16 at 6:00 pm.

Soucy also added that the Michigan Association of Planning Conference is coming up September 25 – September 27 in Kalamazoo at the Radisson. The cost is about $400 to attend the conference. Details can be found at www.planningmi.org.

Throenle indicated that if they had never been to the conference, it is an excellent conference to go to.

A. Blondeau Storage Units Site Plan Review (SR-000000-19-45)

Staff Introduction

Matt Blondeau, owner of the property located at 125 Kawbawgam Road, presented a site plan for formal review (application SR-000000-19-15) to the Commissioners during the July 22, 2019 meeting.

Commissioners reviewed the plan, and tabled the decision until two issues were addressed regarding the plan:

- 1) Adding a driveway to the plan to show the access to the proposed storage units.
- 2) Discussion on splitting the property to separate the proposed project from the current use of the property.

The project was presented again at the August 26, 2019 meeting with Mr. Blondeau's revisions. Commissioners tabled the project again based on concerns the project was in the US 41 / M-28 corridor overlay district and did not meet the criteria for the corridor overlay district.

Staff did extensive research on the US 41 / M-28 overlay district issue to determine if the project was in that district. Staff found that the district does not extend to the Kawbawgam Road location, as the district ends at the intersection of US 41 South and M-28 (see attached US 41 South / M-28 Findings document).

As a courtesy, the Blondeau project was sent to the US 41 / M-28 Corridor committee for review. The Blondeau project does not affect the corridor; however, Mr. Blondeau will need a driveway permit from the Marquette County Road Commission for the entryway into his project.

Commission Discussion

Throenle advised the Commission that Matt Blondeau was present to answer any questions they may have.

Blondeau told the Planning Commission he had done everything asked of him and also had a conversation with the Road Commission. The only requirement they have is for him to get the driveway permit after the site plan is approved and pave the driveway approach to the right of way.

Blondeau asked Tom Mahaney of the Planning Commission to recuse himself from the discussion and voting due to conflict of interest. Blondeau felt Mr. Genshaw (next up on the agenda with storage units also) would agree.

Maynard asked for clarification on the map where the driveway is. Blondeau stated where she suggested was correct.

Throenle stated in the past couple of meetings there were questions raised concerning the natural buffer. He showed pictures to the Planning Commission that confirmed there was already a natural buffer present between the project and the Township pocket park.

Maynard asked if the first building built would be closest to the road, Blondeau stated he would be doing two buildings right away and they would be closest to the road and go back from there.

Soucy asked if this would happen within the year, Blondeau stated they would like to start tomorrow as he is running out of time with the weather.

Rhein stated he felt this project would make the existing property look better overall as it is currently a sand pit. Blondeau agreed and added the intent when he bought both apartment buildings on Kawbawgam Road, the intent was to clean up that whole intersection. He is also working on KBIC to tear down the old bank building on the corner of Kawbawgam and M-28.

Mahaney asked about a driveway permit and Blondeau stated the Road Commission said to get it after it was approved.

Mullen-Campbell asked if the driveway permit would be approved with the condition of the permit and Throenle stated it would not need to be as it is part of the build process.

Commission Decision

Bushong moved, Mullen-Campbell seconded, that after staff review and Planning Commission discussion, Site Plan Review Application SR 19-45 is approved in accordance with the standards outlined in Section IX of the Zoning Ordinance.

Vote: Ayes: 7 Nays: 0 MOTION CARRIED

B. Genshaw Storage Units Site Plan Review (SR-000000-19-51)

Staff Introduction

Charles Genschaw, owner of the properties located at 110 and 120 Carmen Drive, presented a site plan for formal review (application SR-000000-19-51) to the Commissioners during the August 26, 2019 meeting.

Commissioners tabled the project based on concerns the project was in the US 41 / M-28 corridor overlay district and did not meet the criteria for the corridor overlay district.

Staff did extensive research on the US 41 / M-28 overlay district issue to determine if the project was in that district. Staff found that the district does not extend to the properties on Carmen Drive, as the district ends at the intersection of US 41 South and M-28 and extends three hundred and fifty feet in circumference from that intersection.

As a courtesy, the Genschaw project was sent to the US 41 / M-28 Corridor committee for review. The Genschaw project does not affect the corridor; however, Mr. Genschaw will need a driveway permit from the Marquette County Road Commission for the entryway into his project.

Commission Discussion

Throenle advised the Commission that Mr. Genschaw and Mark Daavettila, U.P. Engineers, were available to answer questions.

Throenle told the Commission there was a slight difference in the application. Genschaw would be putting these units on two different parcels, two units on one parcel and one unit on the other.

Genschaw stated he had addressed the issues with the neighbors in the medical building on US 41. They went to the site after last month's meeting to discuss water issues in the southeast corner. Genschaw told the Commission they had agreed on a plan that would be helpful to those issues.

Genschaw stated he also had the discussion with the Road Commission about getting the driveway permit once the project is approved and paving the driveway approach up to the right of way. Genschaw also stated the Road Commission was happy about the location of the driveway as it will not be on a blind corner.

Rhein asked about the construction start date, Genschaw answered he is constrained by weather but it will be the determination of the project.

Maynard stated there were issues last month with the neighbors regarding snow removal and where he would be putting the snow. Genschaw answered they were concerned with flooding but he had discussed it with them and came to an agreement. Genschaw advised the Commission that they snow blow versus snow plow which seems better when the snow melts. Maynard wanted to make sure there is enough room for both parties snow removal.

Maynard also asked if Genschaw had a conversation with someone from the apartment building to the south. Genschaw stated he had talked with the manager in June regarding the removal of trees. He had advised her that he would need to remove some but would he would leave as many trees as he could and would also be planting more trees to replace the popple trees. He prefers a natural fence versus man made fence, plus the residents in the apartments use this area as a means to get to the grocery store. There have been no other conversations after that.

Genschaw stated that traffic in these type of areas are minimal. He would not be allowing the "rummage sale" type activity where they open up the units to sell their items as the increased traffic would not be fair to the people in that area.

Mahaney asked if he had areas for a proposed storm basin. Genschaw referred the question to his engineer. Daavettila answered there would be ponds that would be made to collect and hold water. Mahaney asked if they needed approval from the DEQ and Daavettila answered they did not.

Mahaney felt it was a big footprint with the buildings and gravel for snow removal. Genschaw felt there would not be an issue with melting as he felt, with the gravel, it would not hold water very long. If it does hold water he could put irrigators in to keep the water moving. Daavettila informed the Commission these size ponds are designed for a 100 year floods as they are currently used in Marquette Township.

Soucy asked the type of soil on the site, Daavettila answered Harvey is more sand where Marquette Township has more clay mixed in with the sand. Genschaw commented that there are bigger parking lots in that area that are paved and did not know if they issues with water, adding they at least have a place for it to run to.

Soucy commented that there were not many concerns for curbing in that area before but as there are more businesses in that are there is less places for water to absorb into.

Daavettila commented that they looked at the design pre-development and took into consideration how much water the property could hold and designed it the same way post development. He also stated that maybe the Chocolay Township Zoning Ordinance could be changed to incorporate storm water requirements to help with the engineering of projects such as this.

Mahaney asked if the south property line, where the run off is proposed to be, would be excavated as a ditch. Daavettila answered it would be for the whole length of the property. Genschaw stated it is already a ditch and Daavettila added it would be the grade would be a ditch with berm on the sides. Genschaw added they would not be developing as fast as one would think. He will do one building and see how everything is working, if they have issues with water or anything else, they can make adjustments.

Commission Decision

Maynard moved, Rhein seconded, that after staff review and Planning Commission discussion, Site Plan Review Application SR 19-51 is approved in accordance with the standards outlined in Section IX of the Zoning Ordinance.

C. 2020 – 2024 Recreation Plan Review

Staff Introduction

Last month, the Commissioners were given the survey results and a draft budget that serve as part of the foundation for the 2020 – 2024 Recreation Plan. Commissioners were to review the documents and make recommendations for priorities in the budget.

This month, a revised survey (including comments) and the draft budget was attached for Commissioner review.

Staff will continue to work on the 2020 – 2024 Recreation Plan to prepare the plan for Commissioner review for the October meeting.

Concentration of the plan will address the developed sites as priority for equipment updates, as these sites (Beaver Grove Recreation Area, Township Marina, Township Complex, Silver Creek Recreation Area, Kawbawgam Pocket Park and Lions Field) are the most used in the Township. The priority for the remaining sites (Voce Creek Recreation Area, Wicks Site, Brower Recreation Area, Beaver Grove Agriculture Area, Green Garden Site, and Green Bay Street Park) is to establish signage and recreation opportunities on those sites and provide that information to the public.

Commission Discussion

The Commissioners asked several questions regarding all the recreation areas and talked about several concepts for the Township.

The Commissioners will be revisiting this next month in hope of finalizing this plan so it will be able to be turned into the DNR.

VIII. NEW BUSINESS

A. Proposed Ordinance 61 Firearms Revisions

Staff Introduction

Throenle addressed comments made in public comment earlier regarding the appeal to the Township Board made by the applicant for the enclosed shooting range. The Board had concerns regarding the Zoning Ordinance, as well as the Firearms 61 Ordinance. The language presented at the meeting tonight does not address the Zoning Ordinance, it only addresses the Firearms 61 Ordinance portion. The Zoning Ordinance will be a separate discussion.

At the Township Board meeting on September 9, 2019 the Board proposed a revision to Ordinance 61 Firearms to accommodate indoor shooting ranges within the Township, with a request for the Planning Commission to review that request.

Language proposed by the Board is:

“Firearms discharged within indoor, totally enclosed, noise mitigated, & lead mitigated, firing ranges located within Commercial or Industrial Mixed Use Overlay Zones”

Staff has added revised proposed language to section 5 of the ordinance for Commissioner review.

In addition to the staff-recommended language in section 5, the PUD zoning district was added to the restricted zones in section 3 (this restriction was overlooked in the previous version of the ordinance). Staff also reordered the zoning districts in this section to make the section easier to read.

Commission Discussion

Mahaney explained the background to the Commission how the Planning Commission had made its recommendation to deny the application for the enclosed shooting range to the Township Board. The Board reversed the recommendation and approved the enclosed firing range. Adding the Board also suggested either a separate ordinance for shooting ranges or revisions be made to Ordinance Firearms 61 to accommodate this.

Mahaney feels the Planning Commission should have revised the Ordinance Firearms 61 before the Board approved enclosed shooting range. He now feels the Ordinance Firearms 61 has to be revised to suit the said business. It was discussed last month to examine a separate ordinance for this type of business or other options. He feels like they will be doing the Board's dirty work.

Milton stated they had talked about revising the Ordinance Firearms 61 before any of this came up. Mahaney stated that was correct but it is now it is revised now to suit a certain business. The Planning Commission may have not included some of the items in the revised ordinance had it been done previously.

Maynard wanted an explanation as to why at the July meeting it was stated no less than six times this should go before the Zoning Board of Appeals, but it did not go there. Throenle stated it was due to the appeal process being specific in the ordinance. He also stated this could be included with the next agenda item as well (Item VIII.B, discussion of the appeals process, which was added to agenda earlier by Mahaney). Throenle stated this was not pertaining to a certain business, it was pertaining to certain business type. Mahaney stated if this is the case he would go back to his comment this should be a separate zoning ordinance for an enclosed shooting range.

Throenle stated the Board had sent two items to the Planning Commission. One was to enhance the Zoning Ordinance as to where those are located and the permissions. The second was to look at the Ordinance Firearms 61 to clarify for the police so they know if they are enforcing an enclosed structure versus outside of that structure. Throenle stated of the two items, the Ordinance Firearms 61 was the easier one as the Zoning Ordinance will take more time. Also, doing the Ordinance Firearms 61 first will help the adjustment of the Zoning Ordinance to fit what is put into the Ordinance Firearms 61.

Throenle also reminded the Commission that the Police Chief stated at the Board meeting that he feels indoor shooting ranges do not fit under the requirements of the Ordinance Firearms 61. The Planning Commission needs to clarify the discrepancy of what the Police Chief feels should be enforced versus what is actually in the language.

Throenle stated in terms of interpretation, if the Zoning Board of Appeals was the direction for this ordinance, the concept would probably not be applied to Ordinance

Firearms 61 because their sole goal is the Zoning Ordinance. This language needs to be cleaned up by the Planning Commission as well as the intended language that was recommended from the Board.

The language that is included in the packet this evening has been tweaked by Staff and it is up to Planning Commission to look it over and decide if it makes sense or if it needs to go back to the Board, with changes after public comment for approval. This is the process; the ZBA does not have any involvement in this portion for this ordinance.

Maynard stated she felt uncomfortable with the precedence this is setting. She feels this language was designed for one business. Throenle answered that he agreed to a point but it comes back to a business type. This is what happens when there is a change to an ordinance, it seems to be because of a certain business but it needs to be changed for future businesses of the same type to be covered.

Rhein interjected and told the Commission that the Board was trying to clear up discrepancies for the Police Department. The Police Department felt the current ordinance was adequate and the Board wanted to make sure it was cut and dry so the ordinance matched what the Police found suitable. This is why the Board made the recommendations it did.

Mahaney stated it does not matter what the Commission does with the ordinance now as the enclosed shooting range is there. Throenle interjected and informed Mahaney that the Commission has the option to not include the language and send it back to the Board. Throenle stated the key element is Board does not mandate to the Planning Commission what language should be, it is a recommendation from the Board for the Commission to look at the ordinance.

Mullen-Campbell asked if the Commission had to make a motion this evening and Throenle advised her they can, it involves reviewing the language and seeing if it meets the needs of what the ordinance should look like. There is a motion involved but it states the language as presented or revised.

Maynard stated that personally she does not have an issue with an enclosed shooting range, she does, however, have a personal issue with lead. She would change the language to read 100% lead free and she would be fine with this and she would like it enforceable as such by the police department.

Soucy was in opposition to the site plan based on health and safety. He was not against the enclosed ranges in the community or even in that district; he would just like to have adequate protections in the wording of the ordinance. He feels that amending Ordinance Firearms 61 and the Zoning Ordinance is a start in the right direction to get him to the point he is satisfied. Throenle reminded Soucy that what is in Ordinance Firearms 61 is based on what is proposed in the Zoning Ordinance language is to make the enclosed shooting ranges a conditional use. The conditional use language automatically eliminates a few of the businesses that would come in to the Township. Conditional use has a heavy review process from the Planning Commission to make sure it meets all the criteria. This criteria is for enforcement by the police department.

Throenle asked the Commission how the Police Department would measure 100% lead free and what tools would be needed. Maynard commented the business would not have mitigation equipment as they would not need it. Throenle commented these units may not have HEPA filters or other safety features as it would be declared 100% lead free.

Throenle reminded the Commission to be careful how the language is worded as there seems to always be a way around the language. Mahaney asked if there were size limitations to prevent enclosed shooting ranges from coming into vacant buildings in the Township. Throenle commented this is where the Zoning Ordinance would come in, it controls things like size, footprint, and setbacks.

Mahaney feels the hardest point of this is the enforcement. Throenle added a thought for this discussion; this plan has been approved with mitigated lead enclosure. How would a police officer enforce this if there was a separate ordinance say 100% lead free. Throenle feels the Commission could tighten up the Zoning Ordinance for any similar businesses in the future.

Throenle advised the Commission they had three options regarding this ordinance. The first would be to accept the language sent to the Board as is, second would be to tweak it and put it out for public hearing, or third would be to reject it completely and rewrite new language. They could also send it back to the board to say the Commission is not dealing with this.

Mahaney stated this is a technical ordinance and maybe would like to table it until next month. He feels this is important to the Township and they should do some research.

Throenle stated that is the Commissioner's choice but he would like to see that the PUD is added to the restricted zone as it was overlooked when this ordinance was done before. It is important language that needs to be added and was a Police Department request. It would have to go to public hearing for that to be added.

Soucy felt this would be a very long ordinance if all the protections, that the Commissioner's wanted, were included. He stated they could do a "generally accepted agricultural management practices" which is through the Department of Agriculture. As long as you meet certain specifications, that are already accepted in the industry, this could get approved.

Commission Decision

Rhein moved, and Soucy seconded to table the Ordinance Firearms 61.

MOTION CARRIED

B. Proposed Change in Appeal Process (added to agenda)

Staff Introduction

Throenle stated Mahaney asked for this item to be added to the Agenda and asked Mahaney if he would like a change in the language for the denial process to go before the Zoning Board of Appeals. Mahaney answered this was correct.

Throenle respectively requested that the Commissioners discuss this tonight without decision as he needs to do research to see if the Zoning Board of Appeals is the correct area to send this to.

Throenle added the reason the Commissioners got where they are is from the Zoning Ordinance, Section 9.3.D which is the section that deals with appeals. Throenle disclosed he had a conversation with Soucy regarding the need for Planning Commission to look at the whole Zoning Ordinance to get it tweaked and fixed.

The appeals section, which is specific to site plan review, states "If any person shall be aggrieved by the action of the Planning commission, appeal in writing to the Township Board may be taken within five (5) days after the date of such action." Throenle stated from that perspective, the Zoning Board of Appeals does not look at site plans or anything from the standpoint of a site plan making sense. They look at the Zoning Ordinance language to see if it makes sense, not site plans. This why it went to the Board as an appeal process.

Mahaney stated in this case that just happened, the interpretation of "Amusement and Entertainment would come into play. Throenle stated it does not as it was rejected by the Planning Commission as a site plan review. Throenle stated he has researched history of the Township and this appears to be the only time this appeal process has been used. Throenle commented you do not find this appeal process any other place in the Zoning Ordinance, only in the section regarding site plans.

Soucy is familiar with the Michigan Planning and Enabling Act PA33 of 2008 it does allow a community to determine their process for dealing with site plans. It all depends on what is adopted in your ordinance.

Throenle stated as far as the Zoning Board of Appeals, if the applicant lost at that level they could bring it to the circuit court. The way the language is in the Chocoday Township Zoning Ordinance the Board has the authority to look at it and say yes or no based on the reason for denial. The Planning Commission has the right to review language and change this policy.

Mahaney commented he thought these were to go to the Zoning Board of Appeals was there if the Planning Commission were to deny something. Throenle stated not for a Planning Commission denial based on a site plan.

Items that would go to the Zoning Board of Appeals would be setback issues or issues that could be a hardship.

He pointed out the Planning Commission did make a revision to the Zoning Ordinance to allow campgrounds in Agricultural Forestry areas as it was not permitted in that area.

Throenle suggested the Commissioners table this for this evening and come back with languages they would like to see in the Zoning Ordinance. This would involve deciding if the language needs to be tweaked, changed or left alone. The existing language has been there since 1977.

Mahaney asked if the Zoning Enabling Act affected this in any way and Throenle stated it did not as the ordinance controls where the appeal goes as Soucy pointed out in the Planning and Enabling Act.

Mahaney asked how the Planning Commission could get to the motion to change the Zoning Ordinance. A request has to be made for the Zoning Board of Appeals to make an interpretation and someone would have to pay for it. Mahaney stated he felt that Soucy had specifically asked for an interpretation from the Zoning Board of Appeals and it never got to that point. This is why Mahaney is bringing this up, to put the Zoning Board of Appeals in the process.

Throenle stated this would up to the Planning Commission if this is what they choose to do. If they go this route, it would have to public hearing with the Planning Commission and a public hearing and two readings before the Board before it is approved. The Board can take the option of rejecting it.

Mahaney asked to put it on the agenda next month for review. Throenle stated it would be no problem but reminded them to provide him with language to review. Mahaney stated he would do some research on this.

Soucy commented he felt they got undermined on this project as he feels the Board has more political views versus judicial views he feels the Zoning Board of Appeals has.

It was decided to put it on next month's agenda.

C. Recreation Marijuana Law (added to the agenda)

Mahaney wanted this to be added to the evening's agenda as he sees the State has been moving along with licensing. Mahaney stated they had agreed to wait and look at this again when the laws became clearer. Maynard commented the Township had opted out. He would like this added to the agenda as well for next month.

Throenle respectively stated he has no problem adding this to the agenda next month but reminded the Commission he had a short window for next month's packet due to the fact he will be gone for two weeks. Mahaney feels he wants the recreational marijuana issue added to the agenda for next month as he sees the City of Marquette has also revisited it.

Throenle stated he would need direction from the Commission on what to add as there are different options regarding recreational marijuana. Throenle wanted to know if they want a full blown discussion, certain just options, or if you want none of it.

Soucy read off a list of the options: Growers - class A, B, C, Processors, Retailers, Safety compliance facilities, Secure transporters, Micro businesses, Excess growers, Event organizers, Temporary event, and Designated consumption establishments. He stated the last five items were due to the emergency rules that came out from the State, they were not part of the original five options, they are however, anticipated to be adopted into the law as they revise it.

Throenle asked the Commission of the remaining options, what would they like to see and Mullen-Campbell stated all of them. Throenle stated if you want the Township wide open there would have to be an ordinance put together and he would like it in writing from each of them, individually, to get the direction. Throenle reminded them that whatever decision is made, it cannot be easily reversed.

Throenle commented that he would also like that they include law enforcement in regards of enforcing what is decided. The police chief and staff are concerned where this will go and how it will be enforced.

Soucy stated he would be comfortable looking at other smaller communities and their best practices for guidance. He also commented the Township can still be opted out as they work out the details to make it happen in the most safe and effective way. Throenle stated to also include the County Sheriff in their research.

Mahaney felt it should be looked at as attracting new business to the community. Throenle answered to keep in mind what they would like the community to look like in the future. Throenle added this comes to how it should be put it into the Master Plan. This is a bigger picture that just changing the Zoning Ordinance to allow it. Mahaney stated they need to adapt to community and Township changes and should start looking at it now.

IX. PUBLIC COMMENT

Scott Emerson, 119 Lakewood Lane – Commented on the proposed Recreational Plan, marijuana language and presented a suggested ordinance for regulating flag size in the Township.

X. COMMISSIONER'S COMMENTS

Rhein - None

Milton – None

Maynard – None

Mahaney – Thanked Emmerson for his thoughts this evening.

Soucy – Thanked Dale for the research done regarding the Access Management Overlay. Feels confident with the Planning Commission decisions this evening.

Bushong – Will not be a resident or property owner in Chocolay Township. Accepted a position on the Sands Township Planning Commission, will continue to do both.

Campbell – Thanked Throenle and everyone else for their input this evening.

XI. DIRECTOR’S REPORT

Throenle will be gone for two weeks, the amount of information in next month’s packet will be limited. Would appreciate as much feedback, regarding the Recreation Plan, in the next ten days. The Commission is on a very tight schedule with the Recreation Plan and it will be a priority at the next meeting to be able to get to the DNR by February. Advised the Commission he had sent a DRAFT copy of the Recreation Plan in the email advising them the packet was ready, the revision dates will be added as it is revised. Reminded the Commission it is still in DRAFT form and is not available to the public. The next meeting is October 21 and Throenle will be gone until the 10th of October.

VII. UNFINISHED BUSINESS

A. 2020-2024 Recreation Plan Review

Staff Introduction

In August, the Commissioners were given the survey results and a draft recreation budget that serve as part of the foundation for the 2020 – 2024 recreation plan. Commissioners reviewed the documents and made recommendations for priorities in the budget.

Last month, a revised survey (including comments) and the draft budget was attached for Commissioner review.

This month, the first draft of the 2020 – 2024 recreation plan was available and attached for review. Pictures were added and history section was completed

Throenle asked the Commissioners if after reviewing the draft as a whole, if there were any sections they wanted to change/add to in the ten recreations areas.

Throenle stated his biggest concern is the Action Plan section and would like to address this first. This section is the general issues and strategies and the overall look at Township recreation.

Commission Discussion

Mahaney asked about electric charging stations, if this would be on Township property. Throenle answered that would have to be determined as the Township owns several properties, but also suggested the possibility of having it located at the Welcome Center or the turnouts.

Mullen-Campbell stated it may be safer in an area that has lights, Throenle answered absolutely and also commented that all of the Township facilities close at dark and would have to have lights installed to accommodate this. Mahaney felt something centrally located in the business center would be best.

Throenle stated they could possibly work and partner with businesses to make it happen. Throenle also pointed out it if was on a business property, it would be a question of who would own it, maintain it with, many things to work out. Mahaney asked who would pay for it, Throenle commented that he was not very familiar with these but would depend on the location and how it was set up. He also stated he would be against charging if grant money was used as it would be public use which is the intent of the grant in the first place.

Throenle told the Commission there is a bike repair/pumping station at the Welcome Center, it would be ideal to have another at the Lion's Field. This would help cover traffic on trails on both highways.

Soucy commented that electric cars will get more popular in the future and would get more use. He also questioned how long a person would have to sit at a charging station. Mullen-Campbell stated she thought it would be like a cell phone. Throenle was not sure about the time it would take but stated that battery life is always improving so felt in the future it may not be that long. Throenle also suggested talking to the gas stations in the area about adding them.

Rhein stated there are two charging stations currently in the City of Marquette, but he is not sure how they work. He also commented they may be the only ones between Marquette and Green Bay. He felt it would be nice to see more stations and if Chocolay Township could get in on it from the beginning.

Throenle stated he will get more information on the charging stations as a long-term strategy. Mahaney agreed that it will probably get more use down the road.

Mullen-Campbell commented she liked that the charging stations were listed in the Recreation Plan. Throenle stated that there may be items listed in the plan that seem odd but reminded the Commissioners that if the DNR does not see it listed they will not fund it.

Mullen-Campbell stated the history section was well written. Throenle answered that it was amazing to see how much history there was.

Bushong joined the meeting at 6:18 PM.

Throenle stated he had done a tour with the Senior Citizens of the recreation areas, some have lived here all of their lives, and the general comment on most of them was they did not know they existed. One item to consider is how to get the word out, how do we identify them, and which ones are a priority.

Throenle stated that through the Township insurance provider, there is a Risk Assessor available to determine what risk there is at these properties. The Township had this done prior to the last time the Recreation Plan was done and if anything needed to be fixed, they were added to the Action Plan section of that plan. This is a continual process when items are added to any of the recreation properties.

Maynard asked if there was a fee for the assessment, Throenle answered there was not; the insurance provider felt this would be a preventative action.

Recreation opportunities were discussed and are ongoing activities such as the Chocolay Festival to get people to do community wide events. One activity up and coming is pickleball, the new tennis courts at Silver Creek finished this fall, have combined striping so they can be used for either tennis or pickleball. This was not thought of five years ago and now is a national pastime. Other ideas are ice bowling, canoe/kayak instruction with local vendors, and fly fishing. Trout Unlimited would be willing to partner with Chocolay Township for fly fishing. Organized recreation would be teams such as softball, soccer, little league, and disc golf.

Underutilized watersheds and watershed preservations section, Throenle pointed out that the last time this plan was updated in 1999. He stated Chocolay Township has beautiful watershed for various activities and this outline should be updated.

Long term funding for recreation, is for the projects we build, and to keep them maintained. The strategy for this is how to keep the projects going after they have been funded so there would not be any long-term maintenance issues. He cited as an example would be the boardwalk at the marina.

Recreation easements will be something discussed in the future as well. Another big discussion from the Township is the lack of winter recreation, how do we improve this? We do have the hockey rink, but where can people snowshoe, cross country ski, or ride a fat-tire bike in the Township?

Long term funding will always be an issue, where will the money come from, we cannot always depend on grants as they are competitive and the more grants receive, the more you move down on the list for receiving more. The Township also has a higher income population so that moves us further down in the point system. What other funding is available?

Other long term are security systems, how do we keep them operating, they need energy.

Non-recreation programs are outside the scope of the recreation program that may affect the recreation program. We have talked about the Watershed Management Plan and there is the Community Rating System from FEMA that may potentially put some property in a scenario of a long-term park. When you look at something like this you have to also look at your emergency management system.

The Commission proceeded to discuss the recreation areas listed in the plan and their comments are as follows:

1. Beaver Grove Agricultural Area – this is a 14-acre site and has been used in the past as a lease for farming but has been dormant for the last five years. Has many potentials for use, such as a solar or agricultural demonstration farms or bee/butterfly attraction area. Maynard asked there had been any income to the Township in the past. Throenle commented that there is a small taxable stipend, so the Township wants to keep it as a lease agreement. Throenle stated that the most recent had been someone using the property for hay. If it is leased again the Township needs to have a reversal process in place to make sure the land is organically sound so it would not be treated with chemicals.
2. Beaver Grove Recreation Area – one of three most used sites in the Township. How do we take care of the aging equipment and how do we assure the viable use for the Township? How can these two be tied together, soccer could be a possibility. The pavilion also is popular with events throughout the summer. The restroom does need an upgrade.
3. Brower Recreation Area – 48-acre donated site with the understanding it would only be used as a recreation area, it is very wet. The Boy Scouts have looked at this in the past as a project, the plan was submitted but never acted upon. Possibly add signage.
4. Green Bay Street Park – this is a highly used neighborhood park, used for fishing and swimming. There is need to repair the stairs and the access to the site. This would also need signage to designate it as a Township facility. One other item would be to develop a partnership to address the erosion on the bank of the river.

Mullen-Campbell commented that the bridge will be replaced next year. Throenle stated that could make this park more accessible with the new bridge.

5. Green Garden Site – people use it for fishing and swimming. Intention to leave as it is, add signage to designate as a Township facility, as this is a high flood area.
6. Kawbawgam Pocket Park – overdue for renovations. Existing swings are older and for some reason the basketball court does not get much use. Better signage as it is next to the snowmobile and North Country trails. It is plowed in the winter.

Rhein commented that people use this area often for biking and walking dogs. Throenle commented this trail was part of the Kawbawgam ski trail in the beginning and it may also get more traffic when the casino project is finished.

7. Lion's Field – another one of the top three. This recreation area is done for the most part, except for possibly do something with the sandpit area. Ideas could be a dog park or archery range. There is another small area that could host a small playground. This park is also a trail head for the Iron Ore Heritage trail.
8. Marina – needs boardwalk repair, was damaged last winter. Launch has a newer rollout pier. Does the Township need to keep the tent platforms, they were put in 2010 as part of a grant, do not know if they have ever been used. Restroom facility also needs to be replaced as it is not ADA facility.
Mullen-Campbell mentioned comparing the cost of replacing the existing bathrooms to renting a port-a -potty. Throenle commented he would write this down as a question and look it up.
9. Township Complex – utilize the Township hall for more activities. There are not many more improvements coming, but there are plans to add water/sink in the meeting room. Try to keep the historical aspect as the meeting room was the school, the bell in the office entrance was the school bell.
10. Silver Creek Recreation Area – this is the area that will be concentrated on to fix. There are bigger projects here and the question will be where do the funds come from? Security is a concern as far as fire and rescue, there is one way in, would like to extend the road through. Possible bike path extension, snowshoe or ski trails. The tennis courts were replaced this year and should be finished by the end of the month. Mullen-Campbell asked if there would be liability to add a skateboard area. Throenle commented it would depend on how it was built and what the insurance company said about liability.
11. Voce Creek – small access from US 41, maybe develop existing trails for hiking, possible biking, snowshoe. Add signage designating it as a Township property. Possible location for income by adding another cell tower to service the residents on the southern end of the township.

12. Wick Site – has not been visited by land, no easement found. There was no property survey turned over when it was donated. This parcel will not get any attention but does has potential for canoeing or kayaking across Kawbawgam Lake. This is the lowest on the list.

Maynard stated it may not be a bad thing if three of the properties mentioned were not developed – Wick, Green Garden and Voce. Throenle agreed but stated he would like to add signs designating them as Township property.

Mahaney commented it the parks in the waterfront areas had adequate signs they may see more usage.

Throenle stated these fit in with the Action Plan we have been discussing the past few months regarding the funding and would suggest putting this out for public review if there are no changes. He reminded the Commission that this does need to be turned in to the DNR by February 2020.

Commission Decision

Mullen-Campbell moved, Maynard seconded, that the Planning Commission put this plan for public review tomorrow (October 22, 2019).

B. Proposed Ordinance 61 Firearms Revisions

Staff Introduction

At the Township Board meeting on September 9, 2019 the Board proposed a revision to Ordinance 61 Firearms to accommodate indoor shooting ranges within the Township, with a request for the Planning Commission to review that request.

Language proposed by the Board was:

“Firearms discharged within indoor, totally inclosed, noise mitigated, & lead mitigated, firing ranges located within Commercial or Industrial Mixed Use Overlay Zones”

Staff suggested revising proposed language the ordinance for Commissioner review as follows:

- Updating proposed language from the Board for section 5 to a “formal” format and language clarification
- Adding PUD to the restricted zones in section 3 of the ordinance, as it was overlooked in the previous revision of the ordinance
- Reordering the zoning districts in section 3 to make the section easier to read

Throenle explained to the Commission he has a Draft Firearms 61 Ordinance in the packet this evening reflecting the above changes and also added a definition for Sport Shooting Ranges or Range. The language for this was taken from the State language that revolves around shooting ranges.

Throenle has had conversations with the Bill DeGroot, the Township Manager to propose a slight change in the language to keep it more consistent.

DeGroot explained the reason for this change as being Section 5 only talks the about the description of firearms, to keep the definition consistent with the actual use the correlation has to be made “firearms to be defined as”, “the use of firearms within an indoor shooting range is”, “those particular uses such as”. This will help with use enforcement and use understanding to determine what the opportunity of use really is.

Throenle also explained that “indoor” was not included in the definition and asked the Commissioners if it should be as this particular scenario “indoor” would be an exception, automatically implying “outdoor” is not. Does this need to be a definition strictly for “indoor”?

DeGroot explained that what the Board suggested has two different opportunities for the Planning Commission to discuss. The first being as the Commission gets into the word or phrase of the actual use that should potentially include or not include “indoor”. The version handed to the Planning Commission by the Township Board does not include “indoor”. It is suggested that the existing use that is contemplated to the Township is exactly “indoor” and “indoor use” which was the intent of the verbiage that was discussed that evening.

DeGroot also explained the opportunity that was discussed in the definition section was to further define, to make it correlate with the rest of Section 5 pertaining to the uses of the permissions that were granted on the exception as to what firearms are defined as. These two areas of concern are to clarify the ordinance and allow the Planning Commission to target an ordinance revision, that is a bit more clear, defensible, and consistent of the events that have transpired from August to date, back to the Board. DeGroot stated he wants to honor both voices of the Board’s resolution and the Commission’s potential action without subsequent change to either discussion.

Police Sergeant Carrick commented that archery and firearms are being listed together but are separate items. DeGroot answered archery was not listed so instead of changing Section 5 to include archery and non-fire weapons it was easier to change the definition “such as” as it was a broader definition.

Commission Discussion

Bushong commented that archery does not fall under the definition of firearms in the definitions, it states “expel projectile by action of an explosive”. DeGroot advised the Commission the only other action they would have is to strike archery from that and in the Board’s version list archery as a potential indoor use.

Rhein commented that he felt it should be listed as “indoor” as he would not want any outdoor shooting ranges due to the issues with lead. With it being indoors at least it can be contained. He also feels archery should be left in there as well.

DeGroot reminded the Commission they have a zoning opportunity within the overlay district as well. When the Planning Commission goes back to the Board, how do you want Commercial and Industrial zones to be developed and what marketability future you want Chocolay Township to have.

Mahaney interjected he feels this ordinance is being modified for one business and will go back to his original statements in previous months that the meaning the approval of the indoor shooting range was done before the ordinance was contemplated being changed. He also feels the Board approved it without listening to the Planning Commission. It was brought up to do a separate ordinance for outdoor shooting ranges and it was not even investigated and now the Firearm Ordinance has to be changed to suit one business.

Maynard also interjected that unless the ordinance were to be changed to reflect the language as "lead free" versus mitigated she support or consider other language in the ordinance.

DeGroot commented that one of the items a Commission or Board has to evaluate is creating an ordinance that is so restrictive, whether it complies to Federal law, State law, or Local code, to where it becomes challengeable by right automatically. There are many words that cause the restriction to become the burden of how to enforce.

If we were to look at 100% capture for lead for example, how would this be enforced? It becomes a high problem of enforcement on the local level, do we have the skillset, the techniques to do this? Are we willing to take on the burden of risk, if challenged, how to enforce or have a certification of enforcement, whether it be someone on staff or reliable unit of government to back us up in the understanding of 100% in order to be defendable in court. DeGroot strongly suggest when thinking about that kind of risk, think of how it will be implemented. The Planning Commission has the right to suggest that language but what they have to question, of staff, is whether we have that opportunity and how do we prove that. He would not want the Planning Commission to write an ordinance where the staff does not have the ability to deliver the inspection, the quality, or the opportunity to validate the ordinance.

Maynard asked that the Planning Commission take the same position as California and ban all lead ammunition. This is her personal opinion as a Commissioner who is responsible for the health and safety of the community.

DeGroot understood but explained that weighing the risk as a community, Chocolay Township does not have assets to produce 100% compliance, California is struggling with this, they have lawsuits lined up. We have to be able, on the local level, to produce the tools to comply with an ordinance of regulation. If we do not do this, it will be just an ordinance on paper that we cannot enforce. DeGroot commented that we have the opportunity to be a bit more lenient and still strive for the target of 100% compliance, we can work towards that goal. He is acceptable to have Staff and Commission research and the opportunity of continuous improvement and possibly come back to the Planning Commission at a later date to amend any ordinances to 100% compliance in the environmental areas. We just do not have the tools, mechanisms, or certified staff as it stands right now.

Mahaney does not feel it should be up to the Township, he feels the burden of proof should be on the business owner, he does not think we are qualified as a Township to do this. Mahaney went on to say if they were doing a separate ordinance for shooting ranges, they could add this kind of language in there. He also feels if they were to have an ordinance there could be a way to hold the business to 100% and if they cannot maintain that, maybe they should not be there. He is against the shooting range and feels the lead is a big factor on the health of the citizens.

DeGroot does not disagree with Mahaney's expressed feelings in this process, the burden upon the Planning Commission is to review the definitions and suggest the ordinance to the Township Board that takes into account a new suggested use by looking at the existing two ordinances that they have asked for a review. Under the Planning and Enabling Act, the Township Board is the body to approve the Township's ordinances. The Commission has an opportunity to suggest tailored languages and how to implement it. DeGroot suggested to the Commission to find a way to work together to mitigate the situation.

Maynard stated the Commission does not have to all vote the same way, they do not need her vote for this to pass, but she needed to say how she viewed this ordinance. DeGroot stated he just wanted to be clear on how they got to this decision and advise the Planning Commission of the opportunity before them this evening.

Sergeant Carrick interjected with two comments. The first was regarding enforcement, the police have to prove, in court when they fine someone, their evidence, so they would have to be the ones to provide enforcement. The business could not provide evidence against themselves and they cannot do that.

Sergeant Carrick made his second comment regarding lead, stating that going to an indoor shooting range will reduce the amount of lead in the environment. As of right now State law allows a person with a small game license to shoot into any place with a backstop. There are several areas in the Township that lead is getting shot into the ground, gets rained on, and washed into the waterways. This will help greatly with the amount of lead in the ground.

Mahaney feels after the Planning Commission denied the shooting range and the Township Board approved it, they are spending more time trying to allow it within the Township. Throenle interjected by stating he agrees with his perspective, but he also sees this for any future applicants that attempt to do the same thing. It is not for one person; it needs to be in place if they come through the door in the future.

Mahaney was not sure the direction of allowing indoor shooting ranges was the directions the Township should be going in. Once you do this, it feels like you are allowing indoor shooting ranges. Rhein stated they could limit the number of shooting ranges in the ordinance.

Throenle interjected they have another item on the agenda that directs the Zoning Ordinance portion of this regarding where they are permitted, uses, and so on. This would control the shooting range concept. The Ordinance 61 Firearms does not permit shooting ranges in the Township, it would basically state if the Zoning Ordinance says it is ok to and the Commission conditionally approved it (if the Commission chooses to go forward with this language) then they are exempt based on Ordinance 61 Firearms.

Soucy stated his primary concern is not addressed in the Ordinance 61 Firearms but looking forward to the Zoning Ordinance. His concern deals with the construction of the shooting range itself as it does not really describe what it is. The definition says it needs to be noise mitigated but to what degree? The site plan does not deal with this. He feels having conditions that require what it is or refers back to a generally accepted standard from an institution that has a list of standards would they would not have to be listed in our own ordinance. He feels having standards from knowledgeable organizations is the best way to go for this.

Throenle stated when having a conditional use discussion, for an applicant, those conditions can be part of the conditional use permit, they do not have to be outlined in the ordinance specifically to state "A, B,C" but you can specify it in the conditional use that "A,B,C" have to be met to do this.

Soucy added this would rely on a future Planning Commission to take all the necessary steps to remember all the things that have to be included. We could use a conditional use process and have it all laid out. Throenle stated if they left it up to a future Planning Commission, they could have the flexibility to determine if it makes sense for "today". This allows them to look at the ordinance in the future and see if the previous conditions still make sense. Throenle stated, in his opinion, each case should be determined on its own merit, not from the perspective of one standard for all. Each applicant and location will be different.

Mahaney felt Soucy was on the right track with doing a separate Zoning Ordinance for this as it has to do with the health of the community. This is pertaining to discharging firearms, he feels this is totally different than a building project, it should be a whole different set of standards.

DeGroot interjected to explain what the Township Board recommended. The Board did not take a stance on use, it approved, by appeal, a site plan to allow the structure to be physically there. The Zoning Ordinance does not allow them to occupy the structure, as of now, the structure can be there as of now but cannot be used or occupied.

The Township Board recommended an opportunity to the Planning Commission to review the ordinance, to suggest a use that would fit the ordinance, and understand how and what can be done to tailor the conditions, complying with your denial, due to findings of fact from the Planning Commission that needs to be set forth.

The denial was based on the environment and concerns for noise and ventilation. One of these is covered under State law. Being compliant with State law as the backbone is significant. The Planning and Enabling Act allows a special use to be compliant and has to be reviewed on three bases: cultural, socioeconomic, and environmental. Based on this, when looking at the Zoning Ordinance discussion, the Planning Commission can look at the conditions being placed on it. State law also gives the Planning and Enabling Act to opportunity to look at site specific as it refers to the uses independently of each other.

DeGroot recommended the Planning Commission look at this as a conditional use opportunity as flexible as it can be because conditions do change. The opportunity that would be the best protection for the Township would be site-specific condition approved situation. DeGroot went on to explain, the more the restrictions are looked at as a guideline now, the more you have to change in the future as those guidelines change the less you become protected in the future.

DeGroot also explained that Ordinance 61 Firearms is a stand-alone ordinance enforced by the police not by the zoning district. Mahaney stated when enclosed shooting ranges were first brought up, the original Firearms ordinance, it stated specifically that the restricted zone was in the commercial district. Mahaney does not feel the ordinance needs to be amended, Rhein stated he felt it needed to be amended to have indoor range in the definition, so the police have the right to enforce the law. Mullen-Campbell felt it should be in the definition.

Bushong does not want to see archery included with firearms in the definition. Also add, under 5C, to add something explaining “firearms discharged within enclosed sport shooting ranges for which size and caliber designed”.

Supervisor Bohjanen made a suggestion to add impenetrable so it can't be enclosed with canvas. Sergeant Carrick commented anything is impenetrable, even his protective vest can be penetrated.

Soucy asked if there would ever be an issue as the mixed-use overlay district overlays many of the other restricted districts. Throenle stated the section for mixed use overlay district defines in the Zoning Ordinance specifically where they are located.

Commission Decision

Rhein moved, Milton seconded, that the proposed definitions and language for Ordinance 61 Firearms be accepted as revised and that the proposed ordinance be presented to a public hearing at a future Planning Commission meeting.

Vote: Ayes: 5

Nays: 2 (Mahaney/Maynard) MOTION CARRIED

Throenle asked for a five-minute recess. Mahaney agreed.

VIII. NEW BUSINESS

A. 34-19-05 Proposed Zoning Ordinance Revisions

Staff Introduction

At the Township Board meeting on September 9, 2019 the Board proposed a conditional use revision to accommodate indoor shooting ranges within the Township with a request for the Planning Commission to review that request.

The motion by the Board was:

“Amend Zoning Ordinance: Add as a Conditional Use within Mixed Use Commercial and Industrial Overlay Zones – “Enclosed Indoor Firing Ranges”. Section 1.5 of the Mixed Use Overlay Zone – “Relationship to Other Laws” that references more restrictive or higher standards referring to the Firearms Ordinance 61 (below), remains unchanged.”

Staff reviewed sections of the ordinance that would be affected by the proposed amendment. There are five affected sections in the Township Zoning Ordinance.

The first item recommended was in the definitions for Ordinance 61 Firearms, they asked that the same definition be put into the Zoning Ordinance to prevent discrepancy in language.

The second recommendation would be to look at the commercial district and add as a conditional use “sport shoot range” or “range”. This would also have to have “indoor” added so it would match the definition. The third would be adding the same wording to the industrial district.

The fourth change would be in the mixed-use district as the definition was also included in the mixed-use overlay district.

The last change would be for the actual conditional use, for the mixed-use district, would be included as an “indoor shooting range(s)”.

Throenle commented the discussion for the Commissioners is to look at the ordinance to make sure it makes sense by adding these changes and continue on to making this a conditional use in the overlay and industrial districts.

Commission Discussion

Mahaney commented he did not have a heading for mixed use, he does have heading for industrial and agricultural. Throenle answered that is due it being a different section in the ordinance.

DeGroot discussed the concerns regarding the conditional use permit section 16.2 Item 5 in the Zoning Ordinance which states:

“The conditional use shall not be hazardous to adjacent property, or involve uses, activities, materials or equipment which will be detrimental to the health, safety, or welfare of persons or property through the excessive production of traffic, noise, smoke, odor, fumes or glare.”

DeGroot stated this goes back to the question of burden of proof as stated in Item 10 and 11:

“Failure of continued compliance with those federal, state, or local statutes, regulations, and ordinances as they existed at the time the conditional use was issued may result in Planning Commission review and revocation of the Conditional Use Permit.”

“A conditional use permit shall not be effective until the applicant has provided proof that they have obtained all other required permits or licenses.”

DeGroot pointed these sections out to the Commission to show them there is one more section that is the basic determination the Planning Commission has in its Zoning Ordinance. This sections states:

“The Township Planning Commission may impose conditions with the approval of a conditional use which are necessary to ensure compliance with the standards for approval stated in this section and any other applicable standards contained in this Ordinance. Such conditions shall be considered an integral part of the Conditional Use Permit and shall be enforced by the Zoning Administrator. In addition, the Township Planning Commission shall also consider the activity levels of the proposed use and may impose conditions to insure the preservation and protection of property values of adjacent properties.”

DeGroot pointed out to the Commissioners they questioned, for indoor shooting ranges, the determination of mitigated versus 100%, backstop impenetrable or not, manufacturer’s standards. These are defensible positions of the burden of proof of in the Zoning Ordinance that your Zoning Administrator can use. He suggested the Planning Commission understands this section before they look at the definitions due to, they are listed under conditional use and can be enforced.

Mahaney thanked DeGroot for his comments. Soucy agreed the Zoning Administrator has power to curtail something bad from happening but feels the Commissioners should get conditions established to prevent this from happening.

Throenle stated he felt this was the point made by DeGroot. When an applicant comes to him for a conditional use permit that is the conditions are established, not through the Zoning Ordinance, due to each case being looked at differently. Throenle stated he is held to the conditions presented.

Soucy felt consistency is important and feels there would not be consistency this way. Throenle commented stated even if the language was not firmly planted in the Zoning Ordinance there could be issues. He also stated that until an ordinance is updated there is a standard to be held to. Soucy stated the State law supersedes and Throenle stated it would depend on how it is written and worded.

DeGroot suggested GAAMPs (Generally Accepted Agricultural and Management Practices) as they change. He further explained a more concerning feature in the Township that concerns him more than indoor shooting ranges are the GAAMPs under the Right to Farm Act. They change every year, when you look at what is compliant or conditional use this year could be different next year. He also commented that whatever is developed has to be inspectable, defensible, and enforceable and if it is in the Zoning Ordinance it needs to be enforceable by the Zoning Administrator, not a third party

Soucy stated he would envision this to be the conditions in the ordinance that were added by the Commission would be a guideline for future Commissions.

DeGroot commented that he would recommend strengthening the conditional use section within the ordinance. He also stated that he feels the current conditional use section does not require a true findings of fact determination. He suggested that within the conditional use application process and ordinance the Planning Commission should have a defensible findings of fact section. He asked the Commission if this would be enough to satisfy the requests from the Commission.

DeGroot went on to explain to the Planning Commission that under the State Planning and Enabling Act, "findings of fact determination" is a requirement under special use obligation, that the Planning Commission state exactly why they have come to the findings of fact, whether by approval, denial, or tabling, and specify by chapter and verse defensible by the Master Plan and Zoning Ordinance sections. In stating this, DeGroot strongly suggested the Planning Commission add a sentence in Section 16.2 that states:

"By resolution the Planning Commission determines in each case a findings of fact determinate on the Township Master Plan and Zoning Ordinance before final resolution of the application."

Maynard stated this would create a historical body for reference. DeGroot answered it would not only create a historical record that would be defensible in court and would also show future Planning Commissions why the determination for that site was reached.

Soucy stated his understanding was "by resolution the Planning Commission determines in each case findings of fact before resolution"

DeGroot told the Commission if they were willing to act on the contingency of the information from tonight, the information for the conditional use section can be brought back to the Planning Commission at the next meeting to reflect the suggested sentence.

Maynard stated she would like this revised language to come back to the Planning Commission next month.

Throenle asked the Commissioners if he could have a discussion next month regarding the language that was proposed in terms of location and conditional use, with the understanding it will come back to the Planning Commission, for review with the additions added.

DeGroot told the Commission that if they agreed with the change mentioned in Soucy's statement, they have the opportunity to have all ordinances come back with at next month's meeting. The drafts would be available, there would be no action on them, but the public hearings could be held at next month's meeting.

Throenle stated the Commissioners can review the information so it can be brought back next month close to the way they want it. Rhein stated they did need to change the definitions. Throenle stated the definitions would be changed to read:

"Indoor sport shooting range or range". The actual definition would be "Means an area designated, designed, and operated for use of archery or firearms such as rifles, shotguns, pistols, silhouettes, skeet, trap, black powder or any other similar sport shooting." Throenle went on to say this is the wording that was put into Ordinance 61 Firearms and the same definition would also be put into the Zoning Ordinance. He would bring it back next month with this language in the revised document along with the section revision that was recommended.

Soucy asked if there is a special use presented as a special use permit request and they also have a site plan, could they bring in the site plan first? Throenle answered the conditional use would be first.

DeGroot interjected that he and Throenle have had lengthy discussions regarding this. He stated there have been discussion regarding process within the Zoning Ordinance. He suggests the Planning Commission think about regarding site plan and conditional use. He told the Commission to think of a conditional use site plan as a concept plan, the applicant would have to show the Planning Commission how they were going to use the facility and/or property and how it would affect the adjacent communities but it will not show all of the setbacks and all the other information at that stage as it does not have to at that point.

DeGroot went on to explain that the developer would have an idea, the developer would come to Township staff to discuss the idea, develop a concept plan, staff have a discussion to decide if it is conditional use opportunity for that particular zoning district, then come before the Planning Commission to discuss the idea, concept plan, get a conditional use permit granted, and then onto site plan review. He also explained the Commission has an educational opportunity in the conditional use opportunity, and the Planning Commission's motion to appeal this to court. However, if the site plan meets the ordinance, the Planning Commission is bound by law to approve it regardless of feelings about use. If the plan does not meet the spirit of the ordinance the Commission has the right to deny or table. If it were to be denied because it did not meet the ordinance, it would then go to the Township Board.

Mahaney asked if the Commission were to miss something on the conditional use application or hearing, could it be brought up during the site plan review. DeGroot answered the Commission could ask the applicant but they are under no obligation to comply. Mahaney stated the real work is done under the conditional use hearing. DeGroot answered only if it is a conditional use opportunity but it does not get into a site planning situation.

DeGroot explained the Master Plan is the document of the Planning Commission and the Zoning Ordinance is the enforcing document of the Township Board.

Mahaney stated he would still like a separate ordinance for shooting ranges. If something gets missed under conditional use, by a future Planning Commission, it could proceed and there would be guidelines in place to follow.

DeGroot explained many communities talked about this but where would it end as there will be more conditional uses coming about. He stated the way the conditional use ordinance is written in our regulations now; he is not sure the Commission could enact a guideline that would allow the same rights they have now. The burden of proof is not on the us to help the developer develop within the Township, it is on the developer to prove to us that he can develop within the Township according to our guidelines.

Mahaney stated it goes back to his argument that the burden of proof can be put on the developer/owner to be 100% lead free. DeGroot stated the Commission may want to do this in the future but under the current conditional permit use right now he does not think this is possible. This restriction still exists now. Mahaney feels conditional use is a powerful weapon.

DeGroot explained that section 125 of the Planning and Enabling Act specifically calls out special uses. We have chosen to change the word "special" to "conditional" and he suggests the Planning Commission look at that.

Mahaney suggested that under the permitted use section, his thought was to take shooting ranges out of the mixed-use overlay zone but leave it in the agricultural and industrial zones. Throenle interjected they would have to go back and change Ordinance 61 Firearms, which was just modified this evening, to remove it from the mixed use overlay and add agricultural as a permanent district.

Throenle stated once this ordinance goes into effect with whatever changes, the applicant still would have to come back and get a conditional use permit, they have to go before the Commission before they can open the doors, assuming that was the direction the Commissioners took.

Mahaney stated he does not feel these ranges should be part of the business district. Throenle also told the Commission, as a courtesy of the site plan review, he sent out notices to the neighbors within 500 feet of the project. This has been a couple of months now, but to date he has not heard any negative comment of having a shooting range in that area other than the comments this evening.

Throenle also stated if conditional use is listed, the Commissioners have the power to list the conditions the applicant has to meet to be able to open the doors. If the applicant is denied based on the conditions, they have the option of going to court.

Soucy asked if this could be tabled until the next meeting and Throenle stated it could not as he needed to know the language that has to be brought back.

Soucy asked Mahaney if there would be any place in the mixed-use zone that would be acceptable for a shooting range, given the right conditions. Mahaney commented he was not sure it would fit in anywhere in the mixed use.

Milton stated he liked the flexibility the ordinance gives the Planning Commission currently. Mullen-Campbell, Bushong, and Rhein agreed with Milton. Mahaney stated that would be the majority, even though he is against it, the majority would speak.

Throenle stated he would request a motion from the Commissioners to advise him of the acceptable language to be brought back next month.

Commission Decision

Rhein moved, and Milton seconded the Planning Commission move forward with the changes made and discussed tonight to be presented at the next Commissioner meeting.

DeGroot asked for clarification for the record that Staff will bring back in a package the changes suggested for Ordinance 61, 34-19-05 (proposed Zoning Ordinance revision) and article 16.2 to include the language suggested by the Planning Commission to include the basic definition of finding of fact. This would be presented as a package of three separate ordinances to come back to you at the next Planning Commission meeting.

Throenle commented that one additional piece, the definition in Ordinance 61 Firearms, will be added as well.

Rhein moved, Milton seconded to these additions to his motion as well.

Vote: Ayes: 6 Nays: 1 (Mahaney) MOTION CARRIED

Throenle asked for clarification, from the Planning Commission, that the intent of the motion was for this to come back next month for a public hearing. Rhein answered yes, that was part of it.

B. Ordinance 67 Marijuana Establishments Discussion

Mahaney asked the Planning Commission to end the meeting move the discussion for Ordinance 67 Marijuana Establishments to the next meeting. Mullen-Campbell asked if there was a deadline for this and was told no.

Soucy felt it was tricky and stated his concern was this could be subject to a public referendum that requires 5% of the 3118 voters in the community that voted for governor. This would be only 156 people to overturn this. Soucy feels the need for due diligence to draft ordinance language to prevent this from happening.

Throenle suggested the Commission to send their corrections, questions, comments, or concerns regarding the proposed ordinance to the DeGroot, Township Manager so they can be addressed at the next meeting.

IX. PUBLIC COMMENT

Bill DeGroot, 2017 Wetton – plans a review of what is happening with ordinances according to changes in Michigan Tax Law regarding recreational marijuana in the City of Marquette, Negaunee, and City of Iron Mountain. Will also do an analysis of the impacts of commerce over federal law. He will also have information regarding Colorado and California, to see how it looks today after becoming a recreational state.

He is currently reviewing the opportunity of the Michigan Association of Planning to perform a training session before the annual meeting in January to discuss the Michigan Planning and Enabling Act and the Michigan Zoning Enabling Act. He has asked the Township Board to invite the Planning Commission and the Zoning Board of Appeals so everyone is there and can get an understanding of State laws and how they can help us. This will help set our priorities as we enter the new year.

He also has connections with the State Leadership of Michigan Association of Planning, and they are willing to come here for a training session. If there are other opportunities you would like briefs on, he is willing to bring experts in for training sessions as brief agenda item.

X. COMMISSIONER'S COMMENTS

Rhein - None

Milton – None

Maynard – None

Mahaney – Mentioned that there were many items on the 2019-2020 Planning Commission Priorities that had been completed and the Planning Commission should review this to see what they would like to tackle. He asked the Commissioners to glance at it before the next meeting to get a direction for future meetings.

Soucy – There will be an Asset Management conference at the Holiday Inn on October 30th which coordinates with the TMC (Transportation Management Council) conference all are welcome to attend. The summit will begin at 2:00 PM and is free to attend and the TMC conference will be $25-$35 to attend. Throenle asked this information to be emailed to him.

Bushong – none

Campbell – none

XI. DIRECTOR'S REPORT

Throenle asked if the Commission was ok with the function ability of the tablets used for the meeting packets. He stated the Commissioners could always ask if they wanted a paper copy of any of the meeting materials.

Throenle also asked if there were any items the Commissioners would like to see on the agenda, for next month, other than the hearings discussed this evening. Mahaney inquired what would be on the agenda as of now and Throenle commented that the following would be on the agenda:

1. Ordinance 61 Firearms for public hearing.
2. Zoning Ordinance for public hearing.
3. The marijuana talks that were not discussed this evening due to the length of the meeting.

The Commissioners agreed this would be a full agenda. DeGroot commented that the recreational marijuana discussion would be a lengthy discussion and one worthy of taking time in discussing.

V. PUBLIC HEARINGS

A. Proposed Ordinance 61 Firearms Revisions Public Hearing

Staff Introduction

Throenle advised the Commission there is a change in format how the sections are presented in the packet.

Throenle stated at the Township Board meeting on September 9, 2019 the Board proposed a revision to Ordinance 61 Firearms and to the Township Zoning Ordinance to accommodate indoor shooting ranges within the Township, with a request for the Planning Commission to review that request.

Language proposed by the Board for Ordinance 61 Firearms was:

"Firearms discharged within indoor, totally inclosed, noise mitigated, & lead mitigated, firing ranges located within Commercial or Industrial Mixed Use Overlay Zones”

Staff suggested revising proposed language the ordinance for Commissioner review as follows:

- Updating proposed language from the Board for section 5 to a “formal” format and language clarification
- Adding PUD to the restricted zones in section 3 of the ordinance, as it was overlooked in the previous revision of the ordinance
- Reordering the zoning districts in section 3 to make the section easier to read

At the October meeting, Commissioners revised the proposed language to specify that exempted shooting ranges must be indoor and clarified the proposed definition language regarding shooting ranges.

Throenle told the Commission he had a conversation with Richard Bohjanen (Doc), Township Supervisor, to cleanup a definition which was presented to the Commission. This change in wording would make it more specific to what the ordinance would be referring to.

Public Hearing

Scott Emerson, 119 Lakewood Lane – He is a Board-certified medical toxicologist. He has a comment in the packet but wanted to congratulate the Planning Commission for their denial of the firing range at their July meeting based on zoning and public health safety concerns. He feels changes from 100% lead free ammunition to lead mitigated ammunition would not assure public health and safety. He feels lead dust is still a problem.

He stated 100% lead free indoor firing range is the best way to go, would be easy to enforce, and the violation can be assessed as in the ordinance. It would also lead to uniquely clean ranges here in the Upper Peninsula. Stated the Federal is the largest ammunition manufacturer in the United States and they are moving to 100% lead free for all of their hunting and sport shooting ammunition.

Jude Catallo, 119 Lakewood Lane – Has a comment in the packet. She feels best protection for the Township and the residents would be lead free.

Public hearing closed at 6:20 PM.

Commission Discussion

Mahaney asked the Commissioners if they had any other comments after reviewing the packet and listening to public comment.

Maynard stated that she will personally remain consistent in her comments, as a founder of the Chocolay Township Raptor Center, that she wants to see 100% lead free in the ordinance.

Mahaney commented that 100% lead free has been an issue with the ordinance. He stated there is lead free ammunition available and he feels it would not impede the business from having an indoor shooting range and it would protect the citizens of the Township. He feels strongly if they are going to make an ordinance, they should do it right now.

Mullen-Campbell stated after doing more research she now shares the same views regarding 100% lead free ammunition.

Milton stated people will still purchase lead ammunition as it is less expensive. Maynard added the Raptor Center has done research and found there are more eagles that come in the winter with lead poisoning. They understand that hunting is an important recreational and economic part of the Upper Peninsula, but she feels with all the expenses that go along with hunting, the difference in price between lead and non-lead ammunition is a tiny piece of the overall hunting trip.

Mahaney told the Commission the ordinance is not trying to stop you from buying lead ammunition for hunting. Milton stated if lead is going to be taken out of the environment, lead manufacturers and ammunition suppliers will follow, that is the way the economics work.

Mahaney stated it is already happening as California is 100% lead free and manufacturers are making lead free ammunition. If he was a hunter, he would take the option of not breathing lead dust and buy the lead-free ammunition regardless of the price. It is all a personal choice. He added that we are not telling people they cannot shoot in the indoor range; we are just taking a safety measure to protect their health and that of the surrounding environment.

Maynard feels with the ammunition companies going to lead free and California is already lead free, it sounds like it is the industry that is leading this. Her question was, will we follow them? If we do follow them, it could lead to others following and create a snowball effect.

Maynard added that she knows we cannot take lead out of the environment, but we could take steps to minimize it and eventually eliminate it.

Mahaney it could be looked at from the standpoint of not hurting the business but encouraging the people who are afraid of lead contamination in an indoor shooting range to shoot outdoors where they feel safer. Mahaney stated he does not see this as a bad thing, it may increase more use of the facility being lead free.

Milton commented that he does not see this as bad either, but he will continue to go with whatever the price dictates. He has an older gun that only uses paper shells, he must go to gun shows and special places to buy old ammunition for it. He stated they do not make lead free in paper shells.

Maynard stated she is not telling people to not hunt or hunt with lead, she hopes they would not use lead, but this is about an enclosed environment and the Commission has an opportunity to make it healthier in this instance.

Rhein felt by making the indoor shooting range lead free, it could lead to a facility being built that does not have the vacuums, filters and other safety precautions; someone could go in and shoot with lead, that would go right into the atmosphere. He also feels that if the ammunition companies are going to lead free, eventually it will all be lead free.

Soucy commented that he was on the fence regarding lead. He knows there are animals that are affected and that is disappointing but there is a major study beginning in Marquette. Michigan State University and Northern Michigan University are doing this study on sustainable tourism and what it means to our community; how to promote it to define us. He feels the indoor shooting range factors into the sustainable tourism; would making the change to lead free ammunition make us a leader in sustainable tourism. He is leaning towards the lead-free ammunition as well.

Maynard stated there are many things that we, as people, would take as “normal”. She added, for instance, cosmetics had lead in the manufacturing. Mahaney commented that there was lead in water pipes and are now having to be replaced due to the dangers.

Mahaney stated the Commission has the opportunity to take this step for others in the future to look at, to see the awareness. He has no questions regarding the rest of the ordinance.

Throenle interjected and told the Commission the lead-free discussion comes down to enforcement. He asked the Commission, from the Zoning aspect, three questions.

First, who would be certified to do the testing to assure it is 100% lead free? Second, how frequent would this have to occur? Third, how do you insure the person entering did not have lead on them before entering the range, causing a contamination of the range that could lead to a fine for the owner.

Throenle also asked what type of testing would be done prior to a person entering the unit. He stated if the unit is to be 100% lead-free, there would be an issue, from the enforcement aspect, on determining how it got there if lead was found.

Mullen-Campbell asked if there was a way to leave the 100% portion out of the text for the ordinance. Throenle added that Mullen-Campbell had an interesting point, something for the Commission to consider. If they were to leave the ordinance at mitigate, with the intent as ammunition changes to lead-free by the manufacturers, this would take care of itself. This would keep the owner from getting fines that the owner did not cause. This would also help with the sustainable tourism aspect as it would show that the Township is heading in the direction of lead-free.

DeGroot interjected and told the Commission that the comments tonight by Throenle were extensions of conversations they have been having after reviewing past comments by the Commission and the public.

DeGroot stated there are many older homes with lead-based paint in the area. If a contractor works on one of the those and decides to use the indoor shooting range, DeGroot is concerned any lead-based contaminant could give a false reading for lead in the range as a result of the worker entering the range.

DeGroot personally believes in 100% lead-free in everything, would love to be the first in doing this, but as the Township Manager his question is how to enforce this through the police and what are the techniques to promise and insure that the Township staff is competent, trained, and has the ability to enforce this on a daily basis by understanding the enforcement techniques that are designed for indoor shooting ranges. The issue at hand is not hunting or shooting lead ammunition, it is the ordinance and the defendability of the ordinance for indoor shooting ranges.

As the Township Manager he wants to bring the Township an ordinance that will protect the residents at all costs which means it needs to be enforceable. As the Manager, his responsibility is to put this into a procedure that Staff can implement.

DeGroot also stated if the enforcement of the ordinance, regarding lead, were to go to court, it would be the Township’s responsibility to prove that the business was in violation, not a contaminant brought into the range by a person coming into the business. He added that the integrity of the ordinance would be called into question if the Township were to go to court by way of the enforcement tactics, the enforcement of the ordinance, and unified control of the ordinance. Even though DeGroot agrees with the toxicology, he does not have a certified person on staff to take tissue samples nor does the Township Police have the ability to take blood samples to prove it. The proposed enforcement strips take samples from the air and cannot be used to prove if lead came from a gun or not.

Emerson explained that according to the recommendation of the National Toxicology Registry for the firing ranges is there is a clean room with a clean, disposable suit provided to change into. His main concern is that there is always a range officer on duty that inspects the ammunition and asks if the gun is cleaned before entering the range.

Sergeant Carrick, Firearms Instructor for Chocolay Township, interjected. He told the Commission he is responsible for the cleaning and maintenance of the Township weapons. His firearm has been cleaned and has not been fired since but he would guarantee there would be lead found on it; it is impossible to get all of the lead out of it. He also told the Commission that blood level tests would not be accurate due to employees being active in shooting when off duty. How do you hold the employee responsible for what they do when off duty; you cannot do that.

Mahaney stated there is a penalty incorporated within the ordinance but asked how one would know if the velocity was not within the range of the unit; it would be up to the owner of the range. The same could be done if it was posted as lead-free, the owner to check before they enter. He also asked how the noise would be mitigated. He stated there are many ways to enforce penalties, but they need to reach a decision they feel would be safe for everyone, if they cannot do this why enforce anything?

Throenle commented that if they could take the emotion out of the subject and decide where we want the Township to be, it could be achieved if we state, "mitigate lead with the intent of getting to the 100% lead-free". He added that by establishing 100% lead-free Staff would have to figure out the enforcement. Would the enforcing officer have to remove their clothing and weapon due to the lead before entering the unit?

Mahaney suggested studying the law in California due to the State being 100% lead-free.

DeGroot interjected by stating the Planning Commission was required this evening to hold a public hearing and discuss the opportunity to change an ordinance that would then go to the Township Board for concept and discussion at that level. At that point in time, the Township Attorney would be engaged. He suggested, as an alternative, the Planning Commission state mitigate versus 100% lead-free and ask the Township Attorney to weigh in with his professional opinion of defending the Township in litigation and/or suggesting to the Township Board how this should be worded.

Maynard commented instead of concentrating on the 100% lead-free environment, maybe they could state that all ammunition used in the indoor shooting range must be lead-free and mitigate the environment as much as possible today. This would help the exposure of any additional lead being introduced into the environment inside the range. The ammunition would be lead-free, but the environment would be mitigated.

Mahaney stated if felt like a compromise and he liked it. Throenle made the draft changes to the ordinance exceptions that states:

(C) Firearms discharged within indoor sport shooting ranges that are totally enclosed and impenetrable by manufacturer-allowed calibers and velocities, mitigate noise, mitigate lead, require the use of ammunition labeled as lead-free and are located within the Mixed Use Overlay District or the Industrial (I) zoning district, and comply with all external government agencies including health and safety.

Soucy asked for clarification, before making changes, if this is the appropriate spot in the ordinance or would it be better in the conditional use section due to it being a police powered ordinance versus in the Zoning Ordinance where their special use could be revoked as the penalty.

DeGroot answered with the clarification on the enforcement side is the ordinance has the penalty built into it for violation. The Commission should decide which way they feel more comfortable with. DeGroot went on to explain that in the special use the Township has an opportunity to revoke the special use permit so that can never do it from that site again. The burden of proof for the Township becomes much greater to be able to revoke the special use.

Mahaney felt it should be put in the ordinance as they would have to follow the ordinance before they went into a special use.

Sergeant Carrick asked to speak to the Commission, Mahaney agreed. Sergeant Carrick looked up 100% lead free ammunition laws in California on his phone and stated that all the ammunition listed allowed for 1% lead so they should not be labeled as 100% lead-free.

The Commission decided to remove the wording “100%” and replace it with “ammunition labeled lead-free”.

Commission Decision

Maynard moved Milton seconded, that after providing required notification to the public, holding a public hearing and considering public input, the Planning Commission recommends that the Township Board approve proposed Ordinance 61 Firearms as revised.

B. Proposed Township Zoning Ordinance 34-19-05 Revisions Public Hearing

Staff Introduction

At the Township Board meeting on September 9, 2019 the Board proposed a revision to Ordinance 61 Firearms and to the Township Zoning Ordinance to accommodate indoor shooting ranges within the Township, with a request for the Planning Commission to review that request.

The Board voted to send the following instructions regarding the Township Zoning Ordinance to the Planning Commission for consideration:

“Amend Zoning Ordinance: Add as a Conditional Use within Mixed Use Commercial and Industrial Overlay Zones – “Enclosed Indoor Firing Ranges”. Section 1.5 of the Mixed-Use Overlay Zone – “Relationship to Other Laws” that references more restrictive or higher standards referring to the Firearms Ordinance 61 (below), remains unchanged.”

Staff identified seven sections in the Township Zoning Ordinance that were affected by the change:

- II Definitions – Sport Shooting Range or Range
- IV Zoning District Regulations – section 4.5.C
- IV Zoning District Regulations – section 4.6.C
- 5.5 Use Definitions
- 5.5.C Conditional Uses
- 16.2 Basis of Determination and General Standards
- Reordering the zoning districts in section 3 to make the section easier to read

At the October meeting, Commissioners reviewed the affected sections, and added additional revisions to section 16.2 Basis of Determination and General Standards.

Throenle stated he felt the Planning Commission heard and discussed what they needed in the previous agenda item. With that there will be sections in Zoning Ordinance 34-19-05 that will have to be revised to match the changes made to Firearms Ordinance 61 and he asked to proceed with the public comment portion.

Mahaney asked Throenle if the indoor shooting range applicant is approved or if they would still have to get a conditional use permit. DeGroot interjected and stated they would have to get a conditional use permit. Soucy commented that the site plan was approved, not the special use.

Supervisor Bohjanen interjected and told the Commission he felt they would not need the special use according to the ordinance, as it was at the time the site plan review took place. Throenle told Mahaney it would be a discussion outside of this meeting to get that answer.

Bohjanen stated it was an accessory structure that was already included in the zoning district at that time before it was modified. Soucy added that it was never included in the Zoning Ordinance as an accessory use; there is existing case law that states if the use is not listed in the ordinance it cannot be approved. Soucy added he could go back and do the research to find the court case, but he feels this would not be approved. Throenle stated he would look at this again, but they can finish this portion as this conversation is not relevant to this discussion.

Public Hearing

Scott Emerson, 119 Lakewood Lane – Has concerns about including this to the Mixed-Use Overlay Zone because with the distance requirements, this could include some residential areas. Feels it should be confined to the Commercial section of the Mixed-Use zone; has no issue with it being in the Industrial section. Feels it could be close to school and it should be in a more restricted geographical area. Even though a resident would have to get a conditional use permit he has concerns of any future Planning Commission not applying the conditions.

Public hearing closed at 7:23 PM.

Commission Discussion

Mullen-Campbell asked if there were apartments near the location of the indoor shooting range. Rhein commented that it would be a confined unit and meets all specifications of the weapons being used.

Throenle stated if you look at the underlying zoning for the Mixed-Use district it is restricted to commercial and it was not added to residential. Throenle also reminded the Commission that it does not matter what Commission is sitting here it would still have to be looked at as a conditional use. If the conditional use is to be looked the whole neighborhood aspect would be looked at as part of the application. He does not feel this needs to be applied but that would be the Commissioner's decision.

Throenle continued to go through the changes in the document that would be needed. A summary of the changes is as follows:

Comparison for Zoning Ordinance 34-19-05 of Current Township Zoning Ordinance with requested changes is listed below.

Number	Change	Revised Document Page	Revised Document Impact
1	II Definitions – Indoor Sport Shooting Range	12	New definition
2	IV Zoning District Regulations – 4.5.C	25	Added text
3	IV Zoning District Regulations – 4.6.C	26	Added text
4	5.5 Use Definitions	51	New definition
5	5.5.C Conditional Uses	59	Added text
6	16.2 Basis of Determination and General Standards	137	Added text, corrected spelling and punctuation

Throenle noted for the Commission in the Zoning districts this is not listed as a conditional use in the residential district but is listed as a conditional use in the commercial district. Throenle also stated the final section was in the site plan review in the application section.

Mahaney asked if there was ever a written statement on special use or if it was a decision the applicant went on. Throenle stated there was not, it was never in there and that was basically how it was done.

DeGroot reminded the Commission this was a contention with some of the Commissioners at the last meeting by not having this written statement as part of the public record. There was discussion of strengthening this language.

DeGroot explained that the belief was all findings of fact and conclusions forming the basis of the decision would include judgements of the Master Plan, judgements of a Zoning Ordinance, regulatory ordinances, and subjects that are regulated by the Township Board that would allow the Planning Commission to make a full and informed conditional use findings of fact.

Soucy stated the findings of fact make the Planning Commission decisions defensible in court; DeGroot agreed. Mahaney commented it made sense to have the language included but did not realize it was not already part of the process.

Soucy stated he had done some research and stated the Department of National Resources (DNR) has a large document they reference, produced by the National Rifle Association (NRA), for the design and operation of shooting ranges. He added that PA 269 from 1989, amended in 2012, that reference the generally accepted practices. He just wanted to bring the process of the DNR to the attention of the Planning Commission; maybe it would be good for the Planning Commission to follow. Bohjanen interjected and added that PA 269 is included in the agenda packet.

Soucy also suggested if they were to add something like this, it be added in Section 6, where general standards and other uses are discussed. It may help to have a more general outline from the NRA as he is uncomfortable approving a special use for a shooting range. Soucy feels he not knowledgeable enough with this and feels the NRA would be a good source of information with these guidelines.

Mahaney asked if this would be a basis of criteria and Soucy answered yes but general enough to be flexible for various situations.

DeGroot stated that a manufactured home park, wind energy or a lighting ordinance is similar to having a supplementary ordinance where a definition is expanded upon and could easily be added to this plan set going forward. It would have to generated but advises to not do it "on the fly" this evening as is would be too much of an issue. If this is what the Planning Commission would like he would like to work on the wording based on the Commissioner's comments and present information back to the Commission. This would create a stand-alone regulatory stance that would allow it to conform to the generally accepted practices that would list the impacts and remedies.

Mahaney stated this sounded like a direction of a separate ordinance for indoor shooting ranges. DeGroot stated it is not; it would be a supplemental ordinance that certain criteria would have to be matched.

Throenle asked Soucy how big the DNR document was. Soucy answered it is expansive and covers every different kind of situation with many sections. Soucy also commented there are specific chapters regarding indoor shooting ranges.

Throenle told the Commission based on that initial point and the holiday season upon us, it would be a minimum of ninety days for development of ordinance language research. Throenle added his recommendation would be to amend the ordinance with the intent, in the future, to add the language. This would prevent the delay of the ordinance therefore delaying the process. This would also give the Commission the opportunity to discuss and include other language, besides shooting ranges, at the same time.

Throenle also told the Commission he does not want to repeatedly open the Zoning Ordinance as it is costly to the Township with advertisements and such; it is confusing enough as it is. He also reminded the Commission an extensive breakdown of the Zoning Ordinance is something that is not done overnight and will not be ready for the next meeting.

Soucy asked if there were any indoor shooting range applications and Throenle answered the Lake Michigan Armory application is currently on the table. Throenle commented the site plan has been approved but the conditional use permit cannot be approved due to the language not being approved.

Soucy feels they should get it right the first time, do not rush into approving anything without all the considerations put in front of them and included in the ordinance.

Throenle offered a suggestion that if language was sent to the Township Board for approval, the Commissioners could use the conditional use power currently in the ordinance to allow the Commission to look at the conditions without the language having to be in the ordinance. The language could then be strengthened based on any conditions that may be part of the discussions versus being held to the language that may have been forgotten.

Mahaney agreed with Throenle and would like to see the language approved so the Commission would have the authority to deny the application for any reason they may find. He also agrees with Soucy and go in the direction of the Commission having the power of conditional use.

Soucy stated he may be able to support that if the Township could purchase a copy of the NRA source guidebook. Throenle asked if it was available at the local library and if Soucy would email him the title. Soucy said he would check on that.

Throenle asked the Planning Commission Chairperson to have a motion for Throenle to go forward with this, if this is what the Commissioners would like.

Commission Decision

Soucy moved Maynard seconded, that the Planning Commission request the Zoning Administrator to acquire and share with the Planning Commission a copy of the NRA 2012 Range Source book.

A. Recreational Marijuana Update

Staff Introduction

Throenle stated DeGroot would be the lead on this discussion. DeGroot reminded the Commission and the public that the Township Board took the position to opt out of the medical marijuana years ago and months ago for the recreational marijuana.

He stated recently there have been several communities across the Upper Peninsula that have changed their perspective and opted into recreational marijuana and a regulation for various reasons.

DeGroot stated he had been following this issue for some time. Due to his background as a Community Planner there may be larger issues, such as this, that the Commission will see him take the lead on. He and Throenle will be a tag team on issues. These issues will be looked at from a Community Planner perspective versus a Manager perspective.

He told the Commission that they had looked at the marijuana topic, the State law, and the changes that have been happening around the Upper Peninsula to give the Planning Commission the update they requested.

DeGroot looked at where the law stands, where the community stands, and how this will filter into the changes that may be made by the Planning Commission.

As of now there 1,773 different municipalities in the State of Michigan, 1,373 of which are listed as "opted out", even though this was a voter-driven initiative.

DeGroot told the Commission what is unclear and has not been defended is the talk we are going to have about reopening the "opt out" ordinance and potentially recommending an ordinance, in the future, to the Township Board for approval. This is so new there is no case law and State law guidelines are unclear if once "opted out", one can change and opt back in.

DeGroot would like to take the approach that the Commissioners would like to opt back in; how do we look at this and what opportunities do we have? Staff has put together the pros and cons of what other communities have done.

DeGroot stated Iron Mountain had blighted downtown buildings and is looking at this as economic revival for the downtown. He added there is information about Colorado and Washington in packet, both which have had legalized marijuana, recreational and medical, for a long time.

The City of Marquette looked at the voting results with the 2018 November General Election results where 70% of the voters wanted marijuana legalized to serve as the base for their decision.

DeGroot added that staff does not offer any decision making only the update that was requested and finalized by saying if Chocolay Township accepts this, according to State law they must accept all aspects. He does not believe Chocolay Township would benefit from the commercial aspect due to the ordinance being wide open in the City. He does, however, feel Chocolay Township would have the best opportunity with the micro business, research, agricultural, and production side of marijuana. He also told the Commission that Northern Michigan University had approached Chocolay Township a couple years ago to have a research-based center.

DeGroot stated he is not advocating any position; he is suggesting there are opportunities if the Planning Commission would like to define a character and deliver an ordinance to the Board of acceptance for certain provisos. It may be an opportunity for the Township to gain long term tax base if it were agricultural / research-based verses commercial based where we could be in competition that could lead to a "dark store" situation.

DeGroot told the Commission there is an abundance of research available that he would be willing to compile and share with the Commission if they were to choose moving forward with this.

Commission Discussion

Maynard asked how Chocolay Township voted on the marijuana in the 2018 election. DeGroot answered that staff had looked at this and he believed it was 54% in favor.

Mahaney asked what the surrounding communities have done; DeGroot answered that Sands has voted marijuana in, Negaunee is wait and see, Ishpeming is looking at opting back in, Iron Mountain is wait and see, and Munising is in the process of opting back in also.

DeGroot told the Commission that the evidence from Colorado, which has a similar governmental system to the Upper Peninsula, is this is a very personal choice, not something forced upon the community or something that a community has to abide by. We have an opportunity to review and develop an ordinance if we want.

Maynard asked if the understanding was there are three aspects; retail establishments, micro businesses and agricultural. DeGroot answered that was correct. She asked if the community were to opt in would all three aspects would have to be accepted; DeGroot answered yes but reminded the Commission he felt Chocolay Township would be most competitive in the micro business or agricultural aspect. She stated her memory was that those two aspects were the most appealing to the community.

Mahaney stated he felt there were five separate categories in the State law; the growers, the processor, the retailer, the testing facility, and the transporter. Mahaney continued these are five separate licenses to be applied for through the State.

Maynard asked if it was safe to assume that the growers and the research people would not be cash businesses. Throenle interjected and told her no, it would not be safe to assume. DeGroot commented he could not make a safe assumption as he did not know enough about that.

DeGroot told the Commission that it gets fuzzy on the research and federal compliance sides. In the past it was stated that if a business chooses to go this path there would be a loss of federal funding due to marijuana being against federal law. In his research with Colorado and Washington, he does not see where any federal funding has been removed from a local government that has complied with local State law. If we move forward and write this ordinance, we have to comply with State law first as our opportunity of defense. As far as federal regulations, it is still illegal except under certain provisions.

DeGroot told the Commission that as of now there are 30 states that have adopted some form of voter-led regulation to have a State law that requires medical or recreational marijuana that is acceptable. At some point there will have to be regulation change, DeGroot just does not know when that will be.

Milton commented to the Commission that they thought the sign ordinance was going to be bad. Mahaney commented they could adopt the same ordinance that Marquette has.

Emerson asked to interject, Mahaney allowed it. Emerson stated he was the one who talked with Northern Michigan University to look at the agricultural aspect in Chocolay Township. He also stated there could be two different cannabis aspects. He feels the medical cannabis should always be organic and there would be a high demand for organic. The Commission could add wording in the ordinance stating no harmful chemicals could be used.

Soucy told the Commission that his belief is that the tax revenue would come into the community is dependent on having a retail operation and how many. If a community did not have any, they would not receive any of the tax revenue "windfall".

Mullen-Campbell commented that she was watching a special on 60 Minutes regarding California that the people with the legitimate businesses are not making the money they as they cannot compete with the people growing it illegally and shipping it out of state. Maynard commented that it appears that the tax revenue has dropped; Mullen-Campbell stated in California it has.

Throenle reminded the Commission to consider, in regard to the tax revenue, that for two years no entity would receive any revenue from marijuana, as the communities that are looking for this for an economic boost will not see any revenue for at least two years.

DeGroot added that he was not looking at the taxation windfall or suggesting it. He was looking at State revenue sharing, and the way it has been dwindling and we do not get what we did before from it. The State law is set up as a buy-in basis.

DeGroot told the Commission the taxation he was referring to was land use equalization. This would be looked at as the long-term benefit to the community when doing property tax evaluations as it would stay local and it may be an opportunity to strengthen our long-term tax base.

Maynard mentioned a discussion previously about the retail side and cash businesses and Sergeant Carrick had discussed the potential for theft as there would be cash around as it was not able to be put in a bank due to marijuana still illegal on the federal side. DeGroot answered this was true and Colorado is facing this now.

Rhein commented that the micro growing facilities can be an eyesore. He has witnessed them in the Garden peninsula; they must be fenced in and some people do not care how their fence looks.

Maynard stated the research is important as it is a Schedule 3 drug but the amount of money, nationally, is not going towards the research. She has concerns about the affect on mental health and thinks it would be a big contribution if Northern Michigan University could spend time on the research in that aspect. Rhein is a believer in the medical based product.

Mahaney commented that the Planning Commission could put restrictions to the number of retail businesses allowed. DeGroot agreed yes, they can limit the number of permits.

DeGroot recommended the Commission make or pass a motion where the Planning Commission ask the Township Board if they would like the Planning Commission to generate a draft ordinance, this would be proper policy. He reminded them the ordinance that is in place now is to "opt out".

Maynard added the alternate option is "status quo" and DeGroot commented yes, the Township would stay as "opted out". Maynard asked if the Commission could get answers to questions asked tonight before petitioning the Board. DeGroot answered the questions as he understood were:

1. The limitations of the number of permits - this we know we can do.
2. The opportunity of restrictions within applications of the law – we cannot do as we must comply with the law as our best defensibility.

Mahaney suggested the Commission should go to the Board to get approval before doing the research. DeGroot answered that this would be the proper etiquette. Soucy asked if it would be prudent for the Commission to include a recommendation stating the reasons why the Commission is considering this. DeGroot stated that support of the resolution would benefit the clarity of the resolution to the Board; this would help them to understand the position of the Commission.

Soucy asked the Commission to prepare some points they would like included in the recommendation to the Board. Soucy commented that one would be industry diversification within the central Upper Peninsula. This could be an opportunity to participate in. Mahaney added it could be classified as the economic viability.

Mullen-Campbell stated research, Soucy added partnership and coordination with a research institution. DeGroot suggested including a point about the residents voting in favor of accepting this.

Commission Decision

Soucy moved Milton seconded, to request that the Township Board consider requesting for the Planning Commission to draft an ordinance based on the following considerations:

- economic viability
- coordination in participating with research institutions
- following the will of the residents of the community based on the results of the 2018 election, and to allow the investigation of the Michigan marijuana ordinance laws and regulations, and to amending Ordinance 67.

IX. PUBLIC COMMENT

Scott Emerson, 119 Lakewood Lane – Agrees with Soucy regarding the Lake Michigan Armory; does not agree the Board approved a site plan review based on the Zoning Ordinance, specifically the firearms ordinance and was not listed as a principle or conditional use in any zone. He felt the Commission did a great job tonight and is pleased with the way this Planning Commission is functioning. He also likes the ideas of the marijuana ordinance.

Bill DeGroot, Chocolay Township Manager – Advised of a training session opportunity for the Board, Planning Commission, and Zoning Board of Appeals members on December 3rd, 2019 at 6:00 PM. The Michigan Association of Planning will present this based on the Planning Commissioner's tool kit but he asked them to elaborate on the rules between the Township Board and Planning Commission and Zoning Board of Appeals as related to the Michigan Enabling Laws passed in 2008 and 2006. Just needs an RSVP.

X. COMMISSIONER'S COMMENTS

Rhein - None

Milton – Commented that the Zoning Board of Appeals would like the Planning Commission to look at an ordinance in Chocolay Township regarding “tiny homes”.

Maynard – None

Mahaney – Appreciates public comment and feedback is good to hear when tackling different ordinances.

Soucy – None

Campbell – None

XI. DIRECTOR'S REPORT

Throenle does not have a report but has a request to see what the Commissioners would like to see on the next agenda.

Mullen-Campbell suggested shelters for the bus stops. DeGroot commented he was asked to be on the Marq-Tran board.

Rhein suggested the infamous sign ordinance.

Maynard would like to take up the tiny home subject.

DeGroot stated ordinance and Master Plan reform have been on the list for some time and would like to get approval from the Planning Commission to start a framework to get them looked at and done in a timely manner. Mahaney asked what this was in reference to and DeGroot stated an example in the Zoning Ordinance, the sign and lighting sections where the standards need work for enforcement due to changes in case law. He would like to look at complaints, actions by the Zoning Board of Appeals actions and Zoning Applications regarding conditional uses; these areas dictate where the ordinances have problems. Focus on correcting those first and build a framework from there to address the rest. He would like to work on this to get the Zoning Ordinance and the Master Plan to get them up to current case law and current interpretation; this also allows them to be clarified with the ordinance.

Soucy commented there was a work plan approved with priorities; he would like to look at this to see where they are at.

Throenle stated the Recreation Plan will be on the next agenda so they can get it moved on. It is on the website for review.

A. Recreational Marijuana Update

Staff Introduction

The Planning Commission was granted the permission by the Township Board to amend Ordinance 67 Marijuana Establishments. DeGroot explained there are some items that are unfolding within the industry that will make the next steps of this ordinance challenging.

DeGroot told the Commission that the Board agreed that there is an opportunity for the Township to play a part within the industry, especially in the agriculture heritage and to support the “supply chain” effort within the industry. State law also includes a commerce side, but the Township could choose not to focus as heavy on the permitting process of those.

The Board felt the Commission should create dialog, have a public discussion, and end with a possible ordinance.

DeGroot told the Commissioners that draft Ordinance 70, that was included in the packet, was started four months ago but has not progressed much farther. He added it does comply with State law but may not go as deep into some areas of opportunity.

DeGroot stated this may offer the chance to focus on certain areas within the Township, such as agricultural areas or research along the corridor, through a Request for Proposal (RFP) process. By doing this it would allow us to see if there are any applicants out there and what does it mean. In the past, Northern Michigan University (MNU) research department had contacted the Township in the past to partner, they cannot be the applicant and it would be good to have to have a long-term taxable entity as the landowner that would benefit the tax rolls. Private Partnerships may be best opportunity, similar to what Iron Mountain has done.

The Commission has this opportunity to discuss this further and how it should look. In the three weeks since the start of this industry, there is now a new codification from the State within the permitting process. It states that all applicable businesses must have Union workers involved in the employment of the business. This has put some of the small businesses in a tight spot. This is not in the law but is in the permitting process within the Secretary of the State office. This will have to be worked out.

DeGroot suggested the best opportunity for business growth in the Township would be RFP process. After the perspective of the ordinance, then have a recruitment for that type of design and move forward from there. He reminded the Commission there is no timeline or obligation, as the Township has opted out of recreational marijuana, but we also see the possible benefit to the community by having this public conversation.

Commission Discussion

Maynard stated she supports the research for health effects of marijuana because the federal government has not put any money into the research due to it being a schedule three substance. Her feeling is any effort made in research would be a good thing.

DeGroot commented that he would like the Commission or the Township to officially reach out to the NMU research program to see what their request was, what it is they are proposing, and if the request still exists.

DeGroot added there are many effects that need to be understood before they can either write an independent ordinance or change the existing Zoning Ordinance.

Maynard clarified that that there were “three legs to this stool”, they are the agriculture, research, and retail; if the Township wants one, they would have to have all three.

DeGroot answered that was true but municipalities can control the levels in which they permit. All of the opportunities are included in an opt-in ordinance but the number of permits for each can be decided upon and set. His suggestion would be to have more permits for the “supply” side versus the retail side. He referenced neighboring Sands Township has two permitted medical marijuana establishments, which have the right to also permit under the recreational side as well. He stated there would communities around Chocolay that would need supply. He is not sure of any State sanctioned suppliers in the Upper Peninsula at this point.

Milton asked what the RFP would be put out for. DeGroot answered it could be for the actual request of the required permits similar to what Iron Mountain did for their permits. Iron Mountain actually put a RFP for the interest in permits, they gave bonus points for rehabilitation of existing buildings or certain land use characteristics. This would allow someone who has an application in to the State have a local letter of support and apply for the proposal and describe their business plans.

Soucy asked if this would take the place of the “lottery” system that other communities have done. DeGroot replied it was similar to that. DeGroot also stated that he did not know how many, if any, permit holders were in Chocolay Township due to the “opt out” ordinance currently in place. Throenle interjected that there are zero at this point.

Milton also asked if the Planning Commission or the Staff would be responsible for doing the RFP reviews. DeGroot commented legally he did not know if it would be the Board with the aid of the Planning Commission or what the role of the Planning Commission would be in the process as it is premature to understand what the industry standard is.

As of now DeGroot only knows of one or two communities that have done the RFP process and he would like to contact them on how the process was run and also have the Township attorney contact their attorney. Any way that this goes, it would still be a permit process that would end with Board action.

Milton commented that it didn’t seem very expeditious to run it through the Planning Commission. It would take three to four months. DeGroot commented it would not be a very expeditious process no matter what and the applicants would understand due to it being so new.

Soucy asked if it had to be a Union worker involved in the construction or an actual employee be in the Union. DeGroot answered that it is not construction based, it was employee based. This was from an article in the Free Press and DeGroot is not sure how this will change the permitting process.

Mahaney asked how long the City of Marquette worked on their ordinance. DeGroot commented it was most of the year, but it was in the fall when they adopted an ordinance; and they are still working on where to go within their Zoning Ordinance. DeGroot reminded the Commission that the City of Marquette felt compelled as they had 70% of their voters voted for Proposal 1.

Mahaney commented he read in their Planning Commission minutes that part of the criteria was the policing within certain districts. DeGroot commented that after reading ordinances in Washington and Colorado, that some of the burden is the industrial look of the establishments. DeGroot added it may not just be the stand-alone ordinance they create but the Zoning Ordinance may also have to be adjusted; doing this is the job of the Planning Commission.

Mahaney asked if the State has combined the licenses where you could grow, process, and retail marijuana all in one place. DeGroot stated they are if that is what the community wants. It would still be a local compliance issue and permits would be yearly, they would have to petition to change the permit. The Township could not deny but they can limit the number of specific permits; certain situations also depend on the land use permit. Bushong commented that it could be regulated by zoning district as well. DeGroot commented this is the reason he does not feel this is just a stand-alone ordinance. Looking at the uses will be a big part in the permitting process.

DeGroot reminded the Commission that Proposal 1 only passed by 54% in Chocoday Township and could still be a controversial subject. He added that listening to public comments and talking to people in the community it appears to be accepted as research and agriculturally based with limited retail base.

DeGroot explained to the Commission he does not expect any decisions tonight, just wanted to present what discussions are needed in the future and also told them this will not be a quick process.

Rhein stated the only problem he has is the fencing around the growing facility. He is familiar with these and they do not look nice. Suggested alternate options such as indoor growing facilities. Mahaney stated those are issues to be addressed when drafting the ordinance. DeGroot stated that hydroponic facilities are popular downstate.

DeGroot stated the plant will grow in almost any condition, just depends on the quantity needed from it to be a supplier. Maynard asked if it was an annual or perennial plant; DeGroot's understanding was that once it was producing it would keep producing and can become excessive very quickly.

Soucy added there is a potential for excess due to the cap on the amount one person can have. DeGroot added the production would be State certified to limit what you can grow.

Maynard is concerned what would happen if the value of the crop would decrease over time what would happen to the buildings, would they become blighted? DeGroot did not know the answer directly but has read about this happening in California. She felt the research aspect would be more immune from this.

Commission Decision

The Commission agreed to discuss this topic in further detail at upcoming meeting once Staff has prepared a guideline for full public review and involvement.

B. 2020 – 2024 Recreation Plan

Staff Introduction

Throenle advised the Commission that the draft Recreation Plan has been available for public review for over 30 days and there have been only two comments from the public or public entities. One comment was regarding the number of items in the Recreation Plan and the other was from Keweenaw Bay Indian Community (KBIC) stating they would like to be involved in any recreation development going forward.

Throenle proposed that the Commissioners discuss any changes that they would like tonight so the plan can be forwarded to the Township Board, for public hearing, to meet the March 1, 2020 deadline. This is the deadline it needs to be to the DNR.

Commission Discussion

Mullen-Campbell asked for clarification as she had read that there was some involvement from Gwinn and Sands Township is parts of the plan. Throenle explained that there are relationships with other local governmental entities that are cooperatives or regional recreational opportunity. Some grants are determined by relationships with neighboring governments.

Mullen-Campbell also asked the status of the ATV trail in Chocoday Township. Throenle advised the Commission that the organization promoting the trail has not returned with the additional information needed to move forward, this is the reason it has not come back to the Planning Commission.

Mahaney asked the status of the Silver Creek little league expansion. Throenle answered there was a change in leadership and have chosen a different direction. As of now they have committed to finishing the moving of the fence on the little league field but not with a plan for expansion; Throenle added he will look at it again in the spring.

Mahaney asked if there were any grants that the Township is currently looking at. Throenle commented that there is nothing substantial in 2020, if there is something it will have to be looked at in the next month as the grant applications are due early in the year. Anything recreational will also depend on the budget.

The Commission agreed it was a thorough plan.

Commission Decision

Mullen-Campbell moved, and Soucy seconded that after providing required notification to the surrounding government entities, public agencies and the public, the Planning Commission recommends the Township Board approve the 2020 -2024 Recreation & Natural Resource Conservation Plan as written.

X. COMMISSIONER'S COMMENTS

Campbell – Asked for meeting dates for 2020. Throenle answered the Township Board approved them, the first meeting for the Planning Commission in 2020 is January 20, the Commission can look at them and determine if there are any conflicts. Mullen-Campbell also asked if there was a joint meeting and Throenle answered there would be on February 17 at 5:30.

Bushong – None

Soucy – Thanked the Township for the tremendous job on keeping the pathways cleared with the amount of snow.

Maynard – Agrees with what Soucy said.

Milton – Merry Christmas to everyone.

Rhein – Merry Christmas.

Mahaney – Will be resigning his position on the Planning Commission tonight. Thanked the Board and Staff for the help over the years. It has been fun and a good run.

Manager DeGroot advised the Commission that the Board will vote on a recommendation from the Supervisor for the replacement of Mahaney at the January meeting. Once that is decided, the Commission will vote on the election of officers at their next meeting.

XI. DIRECTOR'S REPORT

Throenle stated the next meeting is January 20, 2020 at 6:00 PM. Thanked Mahaney for helping him over the years. Wished everyone a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

VIII. NEW BUSINESS

A. Election of Planning Commission Officers

Staff introduction

Throenle explained that each year the Planning Commission must elect new officers as directed by Article VI in the Procedures and Bylaws of the Chocolay Township Planning Commission.

Language in Article VI in the Procedures and Bylaws of the Chocolay Township Planning Commission states:

“The officers of the Chocolay Township Planning Commission shall consist of a Chair, Vice-Chair, Secretary, and Vice-Secretary. The Executive Committee shall consist of Chair, Vice-Chair, and Secretary. Said officers shall be elected by the Chocolay Township Planning Commission from among its members, at its January Meeting, and shall serve for a period of one year. (Amended 7-97, Amended 2-17)”

Don Rhein, who is the Board-appointed representative to the Planning Commission, is not eligible to be elected to any office according to language in Article III in the Procedures and Bylaws of the Chocolay Township Planning Commission. The language states:

“The member representing the Chocolay Township Board shall maintain liaison with the Chocolay Township Board. Such member may not hold office in the Planning Commission.”

Throenle further explained to the Commission, that George Meister has been appointed to the Planning Commission by the Township Board, however he has not been officially sworn in, so he would not be eligible to be elected for any position at this time.

Commission decision

Milton motioned for Maynard to be appointed to the chair position. Maynard graciously declined; she stated she has given this much thought but felt there were some young, enthusiastic, qualified people to be the Chair.

Motion Number 1 – Chair of the Planning Commission

Maynard moved, and Milton seconded to elect Soucy as the Chair of the Planning Commission.

Vote: Ayes: 5 Nays: 0 MOTION CARRIED

At this time Maynard handed Soucy the gavel, as he was the new Chairman of the Planning Commission for 2020.

Motion Number 2 – Vice-Chair of the Planning Commission

Rhein moved, and Milton seconded to elect Bushong as the Vice-Chair of the Planning Commission.

Vote: Ayes: 5 Nays: 0 MOTION CARRIED

Motion Number 3 – Secretary

B. 2019 Planning Commission Annual Report

Staff introduction

Throenle stated each year the Planning Commission must submit an annual report to the Township Board as directed by Section IX in the Procedures and Bylaws of the Chocoday Township Planning Commission (see document in agenda item VIII.A).

Language in Section IX in the Procedures and Bylaws of the Chocoday Township Planning Commission states:

“The Chocoday Township Planning Commission shall issue an annual report and such other reports as it deems desirable, of its progress and recommendations to the Township Board, and upon request of the Township Board, shall make such other reports as the Township Board may require.”

Throenle advised the Commission that any changes would be submitted to the Township Board. Once completed it will be submitted to the Board at the February meeting.

Commission discussion

Soucy commented that he read through the report and felt it reflected what the Planning Commission had completed in 2019.

Commission decision

Rhein moved, and Maynard seconded to forward the 2019 Planning Commission Annual Report as written to the Township Board for consideration.

Vote: Ayes: 5 Nays: 0 MOTION CARRIED

C. Proposed 2020 – 2021 Planning Commission Priorities

Staff introduction

Throenle stated the Planning Commission should establish a list of priorities for Board consideration at the joint meeting in February between the Board and the Planning Commission.

Each year, the Township Board and the Planning Commission mutually determine a guideline for Planning Commission direction throughout the remainder the current year and into the following year.

To begin the discussion with the Board, the Planning Commissioners review the current priorities and prepare a document to be presented to the Board for consideration at the joint meeting between the Board and the Planning Commission.

Staff is recommending the Commissioners review the priorities for 2020 – 2021 to determine if they are the ones the Commissioners wish to address for the coming year, and when the priorities document is complete, the document will be placed on the agenda for the joint meeting with the Board in February.

Commission discussion

After much discussion the Commissioners came up with the following list to be forwarded to the Township Board:

PROPOSED 2020 – 2021 PLANNING COMMISSION PRIORITIES

ITEMS FOR PLANNING COMMISSION CONSIDERATION FOR 2020 / 2021

- Review and update the Township *Master Plan

Review the master plan with the intent of presenting it to the Township Board as the five-year master plan direction for the Township
- Consideration for rewrite of the Township *Zoning Ordinance

Review and revise the Zoning Ordinance with the intent to simplify the language and to bring the ordinance up-to-date. This rewrite process will include regular review of State-legislated language that may affect the Zoning Ordinance.
- Further amend the Township ordinances to implement the Zoning Plan in the *Master Plan

Review Master Plan recommendations and reflect those recommendations in the Township Zoning Ordinance and non-zoning ordinances
- Determine ordinance status (opt in / opt out) for marijuana regulations in the Township

This status will determine if non-medical marijuana facilities should be permitted in the Township
- Address non-conformities regarding properties in the Agriculture / Forestry (AF) district

Determine regulations and changes required to reduce property non-conformances in the AF district

- Develop processes for the National Flood Insurance Program (NFIP) Community Rating System implementation

Develop processes and potential zoning regulation additions or changes to accommodate the program implementation for flood protection and flood insurance cost reduction throughout the Township

- Update the Chocolay River Watershed Plan as part of the Community Rating System project

Update the watershed plan to reflect changes that have occurred in the watershed since the last document was written

The last update on this plan was completed in 1999, and the plan should be updated as a regional plan with local agencies and government units

- Reconsider approach to private road regulation

Determine if existing language for private roads should be modified

- Plan for four-season transit facility

This Township-located facility will provide a place for the public to wait for Marq-Tran and ALTRAN public transit

- Consideration for Bluezone / AARP livable community design

Research quality of life design primarily directed toward senior citizens

- Coordination with Marquette County on the County 2040 master plan

Coordination with Marquette County on potential Township related items in the County 2040 master plan

- Development of an education plan

Development of an education plan for the Planning Commission both internally and externally

- Consideration for non-traditional homes

Review of Zoning Ordinance language for possible inclusion of non-traditional homes (under 800 square feet) as permissible primary structures in the Township

Commission decision

Maynard moved, and Rhein seconded to approve the proposed 2020 – 2021 Planning Commission Priorities as revised, and to forward the priorities to the Township Board for consideration at the joint Board / Planning Commission meeting scheduled on February 17, 2020.

Vote: Ayes: 5

APPROVAL OF AGENDA – Township Board

Zyburt moved, Lynch supported that the agenda be approved as presented.

MOTION CARRIED

APPROVAL OF AGENDA – Planning Commission

Bushong moved, Maynard supported that the agenda be approved as presented.

MOTION CARRIED

JOINT MEETING LED BY PLANNING COMMISSION - DISCUSSION OF PLANNING COMMISSION PRIORITIES FOR 2020.

Planning Commission Chair Soucy went through the issue summary presented.

Supervisor Bohjanen brought attention to the fact that there are two Planning Commission Priority sheets included in the packet – the first being the one that was approved for 2019 – 2020, indicating what has been accomplished, what is in progress, and what is suggested to move forward to the updated 2020 – 2021 priority list.

PC Chair Soucy questioned the fact that the Capital Improvements portion had been removed from the 2019 list and what the Township’s anticipated direction is in regard to capital improvements. Manager De Groot indicated that with an organization of our size, we do not need to have a capital improvements plan. It is not required under the law the way it is presented, and how we actually budget for it. As part of the budget process, and the way we are going to present the budget, we will be itemizing out how we fund capital projects by aligning the values we find within the Master Plan and aligning the budget document to lay out a multi-year capital plan. PC Chair Soucy felt this would be a good approach, as the Planning Commission's fingerprints would still be on the document.

Trustee Maki questioned the Road funding plan, asking if there was a document that covered this. Manager De Groot indicated the Road Asset Management Plan is the document that was used, and this can be found on the Township's website. Trustee Maki asked if there was a list. Supervisor Bohjanen indicated that this was a professionally generated list, but it is subject to change based on other projects.

PC Chair Soucy asked about private roads, and if they need to be built according to Road Commission specs. Planning Director Throenle indicated that new ones would need to.

PROPOSED 2020 – 2021 PLANNING COMMISSION PRIORITIES

Items for Planning Commission Consideration for 2020 / 2021

- Review and update the Township Master Plan

Review the master plan with the intent of presenting it to the Township Board as the five-year master plan direction for the Township

“PC Chair Soucy indicated that he feels this is one of the highest priority items, and should be started early in the year. The Township to decide what it is the community wants, before it can proceed with the Zoning Ordinance.

Manager De Groot indicated that the best way to work a community through a Master Plan rewrite involves three things: What types of legislative changes have occurred since the last Master Plan was written; All actual action by enforcement Boards (Township Board, Planning Commission, Zoning Board of Appeals); throw a wide net to interpret what the community value sets are. Manager De Groot feels that there should be at least two more joint meetings to discuss the outcomes of the wishes by the community and make sure the Township Board and Planning Commission are in agreement of and allow staff to work with the Planning Commission to make the first draft. There are two things this year that will help us – this is a Census Year which will provide a lot of the demographic information, which then gives the Township the time and opportunity to ask questions on what the community wants.

Trustee Maki asked about the possibility of water, as he gets questioned quite a bit. Manager De Groot indicated that it would take 5 to 10 years to plan correctly. He feels that there are opportunities in the Township – but the studies are not small. De Groot indicated that we are currently going for our first SRF funding for wastewater, and this may be a way to be able to fund a water source.

Supervisor Bohjanen indicated that there was a joint study between Chocolay Township and Sands Township. This was rejected by Chocolay Township, but the information found in that study may make a good starting point. Bohjanen said there is going to be a day in the not too distant future where the Health Department will say that we need a municipal water system – we have a lot of inadequate water in our community and the only testing that gets done is usually when the house gets sold as this would be mandatory testing. Supervisor Bohjanen and Planning Director Throenle have been invited to join a group of interested parties from Marquette County looking to establish a water coalition. Things are being done, just not done quickly.

Chair Soucy indicated that we need to keep in mind that the main reason for living in Chocolay Township is affordability.”

- Consideration for rewrite of the Township Zoning Ordinance

Review and revise the Zoning Ordinance with the intent to simplify the language and to bring the ordinance up-to-date. This rewrite process will include regular review of State-legislated language that may affect the Zoning Ordinance.

“PC Chair Soucy indicated that the Zoning Ordinance is a living document and needs to adapt with the times. He feels that it is important to always be looking at this document to understand what needs to be updated.

Trustee Maki indicated that he wondered about the overlay zone that was done a couple of years ago. Why was this not a text amendment to the Zoning Ordinance, instead of an Overlay Zone?

Commissioner Maynard indicated that one of the intents was to support small businesses in a “live / work” benefit.

Supervisor Bohjanen indicated the original intent was to maintain status quo and look to the future.

Trustee Maki stated that he feels the simpler the ordinance is, the easier it is to understand. We need to make it clear to anyone that is looking at it. He feels the overlay zone is more complicated and confusing than it needs to be.

PC Chair Soucy asked how many have been created in the overlay zone since it was created.

Manager De Groot indicated that there are opportunities that people are starting to push. The newer Zoning Ordinances and Master Plans are going toward a character-based enforcement. There could be a character-based zoning ordinance written specifically for the village.

Trustee Maki also brought up the Sign Ordinance, and the length of it now. PC Chair Soucy would like to go back and simplify this ordinance if the Board would like.

Supervisor Bohjanen stated that most of our ordinances have been written in trying to resolve disputes among neighbors rather than trying to make the Township better. There are three mechanisms that could be used in rewriting our ordinance: Contracting with a professional to rewrite the ordinance (planning or legal professionals), but they need to know how we want our ordinance to read; Plagiarizing from other Townships that have gone through the process; Having the Planning Commission write it themselves.

PC Chair Soucy indicated that you can borrow the text if there is no other way to word it. You may have to be careful on proprietary graphics for such things as a sign ordinance.

Manager De Groot indicated that his expertise is in planning. He feels he may be able to aid the Planning Commission and would like to volunteer to help the Planning Commission.

Commission Maynard feels that within the manager's office we have the expertise and practical experience to be able to help with the rewrite."

- Further amend the Township ordinances to implement the Zoning Plan in the Master Plan

Review Master Plan recommendations and reflect those recommendations in the Township Zoning Ordinance and non-zoning ordinances

- Determine ordinance status (opt in / opt out) for marijuana regulations in the Township

This status will determine if non-medical marijuana facilities should be permitted in the Township

"Trustee White asked about the marijuana issue. Chair Soucy indicated that the Planning Commission will be coming back to this. Manager De Groot indicated that we are in the process of working on how we may be able to fit into the supply chain that does not compete with neighboring communities. We have an intern whose sole focus is this, and he will be presenting to the Board at the April meeting (power point and white paper)."

- Address non-conformities regarding properties in the Agriculture / Forestry (AF) district

Determine regulations and changes required to reduce property non-conformances in the AF district

"Trustee Maki indicated that we needed to be cautious when review the agricultural zone and nonconformities that exist. There will never be conformity for some areas.

Supervisor Bohjanen thought there may be a need to have different rules for different sizes of agricultural areas. Manager De Groot indicated that this would be called sliding scale zoning. He also indicated that you can write whatever you want for a zoning ordinance, but if there is no support in the community we will not be able to enforce. We need to look at community character and community input in order to decide what should be out there. De Groot stated we need to balance State law with our community values. "

- Develop processes for the National Flood Insurance Program (NFIP) Community Rating System implementation

Develop processes and potential zoning regulation additions or changes to accommodate the program implementation for flood protection and flood insurance cost reduction throughout the Township

- Update the Chocolay River Watershed Plan as part of the Community Rating System project

Update the watershed plan to reflect changes that have occurred in the watershed since the last document was written

The last update on this plan was completed in 1999, and the plan should be updated as a regional plan with local agencies and government units

“Planning Director Throenle indicated that the last Watershed Plan was written in 1999. The watershed stretches from here to Sawyer. It also goes down the path of protecting resources. The Watershed Plan ties together with the Community Rating System and National Flood Insurance Program to help reduce the cost of overall flood insurance. This also ties into the Master Plan for potential park locations and benefit to the area as a whole.”

Trustee Maki asked about erosion and flood plain insurance. Throenle indicated that most residents in Chocolay would not be affected. At this time, FEMA, Army Corps of Engineers and EGLE are all in the process of flood plain mapping.

Commissioner Meister stated that on the environmental side, there is money available in State for restoration – need a Part 319 Approved plan – usually a 30% match on funds. Meister indicated that grant applications are due by March 14, with a 10% match.

Trustee Maki brought up the junk car ordinance and wondered why we are so worried about our water, if we are okay with allowing junk cars on property that could be seeping fluids into the groundwater.

PC Chair Soucy indicated that CUPPAD, in conjunction with LSCP, are now working on an Economic Resiliency Strategy. Soucy commented that not having blight in a community makes it more appealing.”

- Reconsider approach to private road regulation

Determine if existing language for private roads should be modified

- Plan for four-season transit facility

This Township-located facility will provide a place for the public to wait for Marq-Tran and ALTRAN public transit

“PC Chair Soucy has had conversations with other communities in the area. MarqTran does not pay for construction or maintenance. Soucy feels we need to be investing in these structures. A question was brought forward on the KBIC 2% money, and if this money could be used for something like this. This would also involve taking a look at transit planning, and coverage of the county. What does the community need, versus what can MarqTran supply.

There may be other options to consider, such as ride hailing (UBER, Lyft, etc)."

- Consideration for Bluezone / AARP livable community design

Research quality of life design primarily directed toward senior citizens

"PC Chair Soucy indicated that Commissioner Mullen-Campbell had brought up the idea of Blue Zones. This addresses aging in place. Mullen-Campbell indicated that there is nothing like this in Michigan right now. If you look ahead to our community in the next 15 to 20 years, as more research needs to be done. Mullen-Campbell stated there are no state funds, but it would be supported by foundation money.

Manager De Groot shared that in looking at how to approach our budgeting process and how the money is being spent. In looking for opportunities, the City of Kalamazoo has established a 501(c)3. The auditors have been asked about this, and he will be reviewing this. This would be an additional source of income that would be foundation funded for the sole purpose relieving the tax burden placed on residents.

PC Chair Soucy feels that this would be something that should be considered when looking at the Master Plan rewrite. "

- Coordination with Marquette County on the County 2040 master plan

Coordination with Marquette County on potential Township related items in the County 2040 master plan

"PC Chair Soucy stated that Marquette County will be holding Region Rallies, and have broken the county into four different areas: Chocolay and City of Marquette are grouped together as Borealis Beach; Ishpeming and Negaunee is the Iron Core; Western area such as Michigamee and Big Bay is Moose Hills; and Sands Township is Blueberry Fields.

Marquette County did a survey and gathered over 3,000 responses. It is a very extensive survey, and he feels that Chocolay could benefit from their results. PC Chair Soucy has volunteered to be a facilitator at their events. Soucy will forward the meeting dates to the Township."

- Development of an education plan

Development of an education plan for the Planning Commission both internally and externally

"PC Chair Soucy feels there are a lot of educational opportunities out there, and the Township could benefit from this. CUPPAD will be hosting a training on Asset Management 101 relating to annual budgeting."

- Consideration for non-traditional homes

Review of Zoning Ordinance language for possible inclusion of non-traditional homes (under 800 square feet) as permissible primary structures in the Township

"PC Chair Soucy indicated that this would cover things such as tiny homes – it is sometimes nice to have an option that is more affordable. Soucy stated the younger generation does not want large homes and would rather pay for a view, and this would also go along with aging in place."

PC Chair Soucy thanked the Township Board for the opportunity to present the Planning Commission priorities to them, and receive input on how they should proceed going forward.

Supervisor Bohjanen asked about the recommendation last year to rewrite the Sewer Ordinance, and where the process stood. Manager De Groot stated that we have to wait until Marquette City's Ordinance was drafted. This is done, and now we can proceed as we needed the Wastewater Treatment information before moving forward.

White moved, Rhein supported that the priorities for the Planning Commission be forwarded to the Planning Commission as written as the recommended Planning Commission priorities for the 2020 through 2021 calendar year.

V. NEW BUSINESS

A. Postponement of Meeting

Staff Introduction

Soucy asked for a motion to postpone the meeting until a later date.

Commission Discussion

Manager DeGroot explained to the Commission the proactive approach the State of Michigan is taking to help monitor the COVID-19 virus. He told the Commission the Governor had been in contact with the CDC, the President's Task Force, and the State of Michigan Health Department. The Executive Directive she signed went into effect on Friday, March 13, 2020. (see below)

Part 1 of the Executive Directive stated: "The order stated that all public bodies of departments and agencies of the State, including but not limited to boards, commissions, committees, subcommittees, authorities, and councils, must, to the extent practicable, consider postponing public meetings and/or agenda items that may be deferred until a later time."

Manager DeGroot recommended that the Planning Commission and staff abide by the Executive Order as there are no pressing issues before the Commission at this time. As of now it will be for the month of March but can be reevaluated based on future determination; staff will stay in contact and keep the Commission updated. Rhein asked staff to keep the Commission updated; transparency has been great and is what he is looking for.

Milton asked if they should communicate via email with the office staff. DeGroot explained there was an emergency meeting of the Township Board on Tuesday, March 17 to discuss the different options available to the Board. DeGroot also commented his assessment would be that staff would be initially available via email or telephone and would be in the office during regular business hours, pending any future mandates. He also stated the changes are made by the Board; he cannot change them. He also added that we are a public agency and we work for the public. Soucy thanked DeGroot for keeping the Commission informed and continuing the communication; he has total confidence it will be handled well.

Soucy asked that staff try to best of their ability to keep the people of the community calm and rational as best they can.

DeGroot stated he is working with the Clerk's department on a communication plan for the community. DeGroot does ask the community member to look after each other, especially the senior members, to get any available information to them.

Executive Directive 2020-02

No. 2020-2

To: State Department Directors and Autonomous Agency

Heads From: Governor Gretchen Whitmer

Date: March 13, 2020

Re: Public Meetings of State of Michigan Public Bodies During the COVID-19 Emergency

As governor, one of my most solemn obligations is to protect the health, safety, and welfare of Michigan residents, particularly in times of crisis. It is a core and critical duty of the executive branch to respond quickly and effectively to emergent threats to the public health, safety, and welfare of Michiganders, and to faithfully execute the laws of this state in a manner consistent with that priority.

With Executive Order 2020-4, I declared a statewide state of emergency due to the spread of the novel coronavirus (COVID-19). This is a new strain of coronavirus that had not been previously identified in humans, can easily spread from person to person, and can result in serious illness or death. To mitigate the spread of COVID-19 and to provide essential protections to vulnerable Michiganders and this state's health care system and other critical infrastructure, it is crucial that all Michiganders take steps to limit in-person contact, particularly in the context of large groups.

One of the cornerstones of public engagement in governmental activities is the ability to participate in the meetings of public bodies. The Open Meetings Act ("OMA"), 1976 PA 267, as amended, MCL 15.261-.275, sets forth guideposts to ensure that the public has meaningful access to the meetings and decision-making processes of certain public bodies. The OMA requires that "[a]ll meetings of a public body shall be open to the public and shall be held in a place available to the general public," and "[a]ll decisions of a public body" and "deliberations of a public body" must take place at a meeting open to the public. MCL 15.263(1)-(3). It further provides that "[a]ll persons shall be permitted to attend any meeting except as otherwise provided in this act" and "shall be permitted to address a meeting of a public body under rules established and recorded by the public body." MCL 15.263(1), (5). Finally, the OMA provides that "[a] meeting of a public body shall not be held unless public notice is given as provided in this section by a person designated by the public body." MCL 15.265(1).

The OMA promotes governmental accountability and fosters open and responsible governmental decision making. In conducting its business during this time of emergency, state government must ensure that it preserves these important governmental objectives without unduly compromising the public health, welfare, and safety of this state.

Acting under sections 1 and 8 of article 5 of the Michigan Constitution of 1963, I direct the following:

1. All public bodies of departments and agencies of the State, including but not limited to boards, commissions, committees, subcommittees, authorities, and councils, must, to the extent practicable, consider postponing public meetings and/or agenda items that may be deferred until a later time.
2. All public bodies of departments and agencies of the State subject to the OMA that must continue to meet must do so by means sufficient to enable meaningful access and communication for all participants. Participation by remote access technology, including conference calling, real-time streaming, or other platforms is acceptable, and sufficient to form a quorum, so long as public access and participation is preserved.
3. Public notice of the time and date of each meeting of a public body of a department or agency of the State subject to the OMA must be given in the manner required by the OMA, which includes publication of the notice on the public body's internet website. The public notice must include sufficient information such that the public's right to address a meeting of the public body is preserved.

This directive is effective immediately and will remain in effect until further notice.

Thank you for your cooperation in implementing this directive.

VIII. NEW BUSINESS

A. Future Planning Commission Meetings

Staff Introduction

Throenle discussed future status of the Planning Commission meetings regarding the status in the State which would limit the amount of people able to attend the meetings if they were held in the Township hall. Throenle listed three options for the Commission to discuss:

1. Schedule and conduct a meeting in the Township hall. Limit the number of people to fourteen to comply with the social distancing requirement. This would include seven Commissioners, up to three staff members, and four from the public.
2. Schedule the meeting exclusively virtual like this meeting.
3. Schedule the meeting in the Township hall and allow virtual access.

Commission Discussion

Soucy commented that he went through some of the Executive orders put into effect by the State and thought order 2020-75 pertaining to the Open Meetings Act (OMA) was in effect until June 30. His hope is that the virtual meeting would be an option going forward to allow more people to participate in meetings that may have issues doing so otherwise. His choice would be option three, to allow virtual meetings but does not have to be exclusive.

Maynard and Meister agreed they were comfortable with option three as well.

Rhein stated the Township Board had the same discussion and felt that there could be an issue if meeting at the Township Hall due to the Commissioners having to wear masks and with social distancing the recorders may inhibit the recorders from getting all of the conversation.

Manager DeGroot added that the Township Board did decide to go with a virtual meeting for one more month – the July meeting – due to the recordings with masks may not be clear enough for the public.

Soucy voiced his concerns if they had to limit the public attendance, how would they decide who was able to attend. Having virtual participation as an alternative would help alleviate this.

Soucy asked how the Commission could advocate to the State to extend the virtual meeting portion of the Open Meetings Act, not just by Executive Order, but have it become law as an amendment to the Open Meetings Act.

Maynard stated she felt it would provide “at risk” groups and senior citizens the opportunity to participate comfortably.

Manager DeGroot recommended if this is the direction the Commission would like to go, they should sponsor a letter to the Township Board, addressed to Supervisor Bohjanen and Clerk Engle and copy to include the rest of the Board to advocate for that position.

DeGroot further explained that there are two bills working through the Michigan legislative channels to allow electronic meetings for the remainder of this year as an amendment to the Open Meetings Act. This is being driven by the Michigan Township and Michigan Cities Associations. He added that they have gotten more participation at the Township Board level by holding meetings this way.

Meister stated he has no objections, suggested the meeting as a live broadcast and felt people email or send letters to get their comments to the Commissioners.

Mullen-Campbell joined with audio at 6:23 PM.

Commission Decision

Rhein motioned and seconded by Milton, for Soucy to draft a request to the Township Board of Trustees to request that they support legislation to conduct future Township meetings in a virtual format.

Vote: Ayes: 6 Nays: 0 MOTION CARRIED

Soucy reminded the Commissioners they had to choose one of the three options for the July meeting. He stated he felt the Commissioners were of similar mind and they should do option two, meet exclusively virtual for the July meeting with the potential of moving to option three for meetings after that.

Rhein agreed; he felt that option two would be best as well. Milton asked how the Township was currently handling their business for the Board meetings. Rhein answered that the Board was going to be doing a virtual meeting for their July meeting.

Maynard asked if that would be option two and Rhein answered yes. Maynard suggested the Planning Commission follow the Township Board. Soucy agreed and stated the Planning Commission would follow the suit with the Board for July and discuss it further at the July meeting.

Meister motioned and seconded by Rhein to go with Option 2 to schedule and conduct the July meeting virtually.

B. Proposed Marijuana Establishments Ordinance
Staff Introduction

Throenle informed the Commissioners that Manager DeGroot would lead this discussion. DeGroot explained that the Planning Commission and the Township Board had agreed some time ago on the direction to do research to allow the opportunity of permitting some form of recreational marijuana activity within the Township. His discussion was on what this activity would look like and what would a future ordinance look like, and what policies could make this happen.

He stated the Planning Commission had discussed staying with its heritage and going with the research and agricultural aspects, not the commercial route that some of our neighboring government agencies have done. This would focus on the supply chain option, the transportation, growing and the research for medicinal purposes.

DeGroot told the Commissioners that Chocolay Township had hired an intern (Ryan Knight) to delve into the marijuana subject, to research the legal background and to research the opportunity to create an ordinance; the results of this were a draft ordinance that was included in the packet.

This draft ordinance allows an unknown number of applications to fulfill the mission of the Planning Commission and the desire of the Township Board; both the Commission and the Board have the same thought process to allow these types of recreational marijuana businesses in the Township and its agricultural area. DeGroot and staff feel this is a good first attempt; he added that the presentation material can be used as a public discussion to allow the public to know the process the Township has taken to get where they are.

DeGroot added there are moving targets, such as how many allowable resources does the Township want in the community, how many grow facilities, how many micro businesses, and how many transportation facilities. With this ordinance being a stand-alone ordinance, this would be ultimately decided by the Township Board. Historically the Board has allowed the Planning Commission to have discussion and to review the draft ordinance.

DeGroot reminded the Commissioners there is no hurry if they needed more time to think about this, but he informed the Commissioners there have been some inquiries of residents to use their agricultural property as grow facilities. DeGroot stated he had shared the draft ordinance with the interested residents, and they have expressed support of the ordinance. He added that there were people at the last public meeting in February who also showed interest.

Commission Discussion

Meister asked for clarification of the scoring sheet that was included in the packet. DeGroot explained the scoring sheet is a culmination of what Iron Mountain did by releasing an RFP (Request for Proposal) to recruit business alternatives that would lead to using blighted buildings for these types of endeavors. This would mean the Township would be working with the State because, in order to release an RFP, there must be an active permit within a 60-day window of the request.

Soucy felt there would be a need for coordination between multiple entities to do this. DeGroot answered there would be but if the Township thinks of the business, they do not necessarily have to allow it. He also reminded the Commissioners there is no timeline for this discussion to be a reality. The Commissioners can take their time and methodically go through each step.

DeGroot also commented the Township could also do what the City of Marquette did by putting isolation factors on the number of permits issued but allowed marijuana in any land use.

DeGroot also stated that the Marquette Township Planning Commission is taking the approach of redeveloping commercial areas. He added the approach Chocolay Township takes will be decided on how the Planning Commission and the Township Board choose to have this conversation going forward. The mechanics within the Ordinance can be fine tuned but the Ordinance shell is a good example of staying close to Chocolay Township's heritage.

Soucy thanked DeGroot and the intern for doing the research and giving the Planning Commission good information. He also commented he has some apprehension due to what he is seeing with the City of Marquette having a concentration of distribution facilities in one area. He is concerned there could be blight in a concentrated area and would like to consider a dispersion option to prevent this from happening in Chocolay Township. Maynard and Rhein agreed that this concerns them as well.

Maynard commented that she thought Iron Mountain was going to issue one permit at a time on a wait and see approach; she wondered if this was still the case and if they issued more.

DeGroot thanked Soucy for discussing the implementation of the policy, whether through a conditional use or by the six-month trial that Maynard has asked about. He told the Commission that Iron Mountain did have a six month trial with the first permit; the first business was able to open, and they did issue a second permit. He was not certain if the second business opened due to COVID-19. He added they were going to see how the market saturation worked before issuing more.

Maynard would like to like to focus on the research and agricultural aspects; she feels these would not go away any time soon and would be more solid and secure.

Rhein commented that he would like to see a limit on the grow facilities as well; he has witnessed outdoor grow facilities that do not have the standards of how they should look, maybe require a site plan to make sure it is tolerable to look at. Mullen-Campbell agreed with Rhein.

Meister told the Commissioners that most grow facilities he has seen or heard of from his engineering background have all been enclosed in a building and not in a field and questions if this fits in the agricultural picture the Commission has.

Meister also stated he thought the ordinance was missing requirements for sensitive areas such as schools, daycare centers, and substance abuse counseling areas; this was mentioned when the City of Marquette was drafting their ordinance. He also questioned if there would need to for any security requirements or signage wording limitations.

Meister asked for clarification on some of the definitions of a Marijuana Safety Compliance Facility; he asked if this would this be a scientific laboratory. He also asked if the licensee must be a person or could it be an entity or a business. He felt the processor and processing could be clarified into one or change the names. He asked if the herbal extract and natural product industries would include research on anything other than marijuana, and maybe there needs to be a clarification to be based around the cannabis products.

Maynard liked the clarification of the herbal extracts and natural products industries and would agree to not include them in the marijuana research category.

Meister asked if there was a State requirement of the spacing of a marijuana facility from schools, etc. DeGroot answered there is a 500-foot minimum from any religious institution, school, or place of drug rehabilitation.

DeGroot reminded the Commissioners this is a stand-alone ordinance and he would like to have connectivity between it and the Township Zoning Ordinance. This would allow the site plan capacity in the Zoning Ordinance to be reviewed, especially how the nontraditional aspects of the Right to Farm Act interacts with the medical and recreational marijuana activities to accept the generally practiced hydroponic aspects. DeGroot stated that some of this may be traditionally outside of Chocolay Township's realm as far as a true site plan characteristic but within our realm in other areas such as signage, security, and others that are not traditionally associated with farming or protected under accepted practices but could be regulated by the Zoning Ordinance as a better alternative. He could see amending this ordinance to include and giving the full depth of bringing the Zoning Ordinance in as a conditional use permit or conditions placed on the permit. There may be more items within the Zoning Ordinance that come into this such as parking, acreage disturbance and minimum size of the lot in the AF district.

He suggested a blanket statement stating this would not be a replacement of site plan approval or false Zoning Ordinance compliance would be necessary. Meister agreed with the size of the lot in the AF district; the district could all be grow sites if it were to be just a warehouse. DeGroot agreed due to the way the Zoning Ordinance is structured.

Soucy stated he thought this was in the priorities for the year that needed to be addressed more in depth.

DeGroot asked the Commissioners if this was a good starting point and what direction the Commissioners would like to take from this point and what point would they like this to the public for their view. Maynard felt this was an excellent starting point and felt it has been examined from all aspects, she also appreciated Meister's comments.

Rhein suggested making a few changes and discuss them at the next Planning Commission meeting and send it to the Board from there.

Soucy felt it would take a couple meetings discuss this; he would like to take the extra time to get it right. He would also be interested to see what a comparable township has for their setback requirements in a similar district. Maynard and Mullen-Campbell agreed.

DeGroot and staff will take the comments and do the edits so the Planning Commission can see where the changes have been made. They will also try to address the priority section later as it may require more discussion.

C. 2020 – 2021 Planning Commission Priority Order
Staff Introduction

Throenle explained that the Planning Commission will review the approved list of priorities, approved at the February Joint meeting with the Township Board, to determine the order that the priorities will be addressed during the 2020 – 2021 calendar year.

Commission Discussion

Milton asked where the Marijuana Ordinance would fit into the list of priorities. Throenle explained it was approved by the Board was currently ranked on the list.

Meister commented he felt some of the priorities would be easier to get through in a short amount of time and some would take more time, even though they may not seem as important.

DeGroot stated he would like to discuss the Master Plan and the Zoning Ordinance what he views from the Manager's position. He explained that since September, he has been reading and trying to understand the inner relationship of the Township Master Plan and Zoning Ordinance also the general land use plan and how the community follows them; in reality he feels the Township is not following them.

DeGroot felt the approved Zoning Ordinance from 2008 has little connection to the 2010-2012 community planned version. The surveys that were sent and completed by the community were reflected in the land use policy statement of the 2015 Master Plan. He feels the Master Plan and the Recreation Plan are very sound documents with no real changes needed at this point other than tweaking the approval process and updating to comply with new regulations since 2015. He also added he felt the Master Plan should help guide the changes and additions of ordinances.

Meister felt the Township Master Plan, Zoning Ordinance, and implementing the Zoning Plan into the Master Plan would be the top three and the rest are no specific order. Rhein agreed.

Throenle suggested if the Zoning Ordinance is added to the top three to address the non-conformities in the Agricultural Forest (AF) district at the same time. Rhein agreed to this also.

DeGroot told the Commission in order to get a draft for change in the Zoning Ordinance, staff may have to come to the Planning Commission and ask for interpretation such as defining the lot sizes in the Agricultural Forest district. In the meantime, the Board can review documents to allow staff to work with residents for compliance and future development before there is an approved draft.

Soucy asked DeGroot if this would be an interpretation on the existing Zoning Ordinance or from the Master Plan.

DeGroot gave the example that 40% of the AF district became non-compliant as it was combined with another land use, which has created challenges in enforcement and development that the Zoning Board of Appeals cannot interpret or define. This is currently the Planning Commission's job to define interpretation of use. Milton agreed that the non-conformities has restrictions and need to be addressed.

Soucy asked about more training as a group, the development of an education plan. He suggested more training from the MSU extension office as an option.

Throenle discussed the priorities with the Commissioners and came up with the following items as priorities to be discussed at future Planning Commission meetings:

- Review and update the Township Master Plan
- Consideration for rewrite of the Township Zoning Ordinance
- Further amend the Township ordinances to implement the Zoning Plan in the Master Plan
- Determine marijuana regulations status
- Address non-conformities regarding properties in the AF district
- Coordination with Marquette County on the County 2040 master plan
- Development of an education plan

The remaining priorities will be addressed as time allows. Those include:

- Develop processes for the NFIP Community Rating System
- Update the Chocolay River Watershed Plan
- Reconsider approach to private road regulation
- Plan for four-season transit facility
- Consideration for Bluezone / AARP livable community design
- Consideration for non-traditional homes

Commission Decision

Mullen-Campbell moved and seconded by Rhein that the priorities for the Planning Commission be addressed in the new order as discussed and adjusted by Throenle for the 2020 – 2021 Planning Commission Priorities as the recommended direction for Planning Commission activities for the 2020 through 2021 calendar year.

D. Public Engagements Methods

Staff Introduction

Throenle explained that planning processes, such as the upcoming revisions of the 2015 Master Plan and the Township Zoning Ordinance will require public input to ensure the documents address the public's direction for the Township. He asked the Commissioners for suggestions on how to get the public engaged as the public will be a crucial part in the of the Township Master Plan and Zoning Ordinance process.

Commission Discussion

Mullen-Campbell suggested using the Cherry Creek Elementary Gymnasium for larger public meetings.

Meister suggested live casting through Zoom or YouTube; he felt that Facebook did not work as well. He also felt the Township website would work, but the website may need some updates to make it easier to navigate.

Throenle was also looking for ways to reach people without technology. Mass mailings have a big cost to to the Township and there is staff time involved.

Rhein suggested using the new Township sign. Soucy felt utility billing does not work. Meister suggested information added to the tax billing; Throenle explained that the timing of the tax bills is not always convenient.

Several Commissioners asked about a text or email alert.

A. Proposed Marijuana Establishments Ordinance

Staff Introduction

Manager DeGroot stated to the Commission the evening's discussion would be a continuation of the Recreational Marijuana discussion from the June Planning Commission meeting, where emphasis was on a way to protect the community values and still comply with the possibilities of having marijuana establishments within the community.

He stated staff made changes to the draft ordinance based on comments by the Commissioners at the June meeting that attempted to answer the Commissioner's questions and concerns. He stated that If the Commissioners agreed with the changes in the draft ordinance the next step would be to hold a public hearing to receive public comment to allow recreational marijuana establishments within the Township. He stated as part of the revision there were not many changes to the definitions other than site plan specific opportunities.

He said Commissioner Maynard suggested at the June meeting to allow one permitted use and wait six months to evaluate to allow another. He said staff felt if this was still the thought of the Commissioners, the definitions could be developed into a flushed-out way in the second half of the ordinance. DeGroot explained that all the other suggested changes were incorporated to connect the site plan to the existing ordinance to make it part of a Zoning Ordinance adoption as well. As of now he said this would be a stand-alone ordinance.

Commission Discussion

Soucy asked the Commissioners for their comments but stated he would like to take the ordinance process slowly and have as much time needed to do the ordinance correctly.

Maynard asked the difference between a micro business owner selling product and a retail establishment selling product and also asked if the micro business would be allowed to have the 150 plants or can this number be changed as she felt that was a large amount of product.

DeGroot explained that a retail establishment would just be selling the end product and would purchase their product from a supplier, where a micro business would include all aspects such as growing and selling onsite. Staff felt the micro business would consistent with the community characteristics due to the growing and research aspects and be more sustainable that just a retail aspect.

In regards the number of plants allowed in a micro business, DeGroot told the Commission that staff would have to do more research to prevent underquoting the law.

DeGroot mentioned the Right to Farm Act and Michigan Department of Agriculture have deemed the medical marijuana a viable crop so it could be possible that one micro business could supply multiple retail businesses with product do to the amount of product one plant can supply.

Soucy asked if the micro businesses could claim the Right to Farm Act on any nuisances that they create, even if in an urbanized area. DeGroot explained the definitions of the Right to Farm Act fall under the generally accepted agriculture management guidelines and nuisances still must comply with regulatory control of the districts they are in. He also explained that depending how the product is being cultivated, they may not have to comply with all parts of local zoning code as long as they still comply with the Right to Farm Act. The growing and cultivating would be protected under the Right to Farm Act, but the end sales would be under the regulatory of the taxation committee and law. This is why staff felt a blanket statement stating they had to comply with the Zoning Ordinance and other state or federal guidelines as prescribed so investigative powers would not be limited if needed.

Soucy asked if staff had statistics on the micro businesses, as he felt this would be the way to go for the Township.

DeGroot explained that the industry is so new that there are only a few micro businesses across the State and that he cannot give statistical information at this time. From what he has seen it is the larger corporations that are doing this as they have the funds to get them going.

Meister went online to find information on buffer zones and could not find much and stated that he felt most communities created their own asked if it was something they should add to the ordinance. DeGroot replied that it is not in the draft ordinance at this time but is something that should be established. DeGroot explained that State law does have requirements and they can add them to the ordinance but at this time he has concerns with the Agriculture / Forestry and other districts in the community. His concerns are that there needs to be a discussion or change in ordinance as there were many properties added to the Agriculture / Forestry district that was not originally intended and has them closer to urban areas. This has to be watched to ensure these businesses are not in areas they are not supposed to be even though they are zoned properly.

Meister also asked about Section 3 in the draft ordinance under regulations. He asked who would determine the local character if it should state "as determined by the Planning Commission". DeGroot felt it should be tied to the Planning Commission so they can have the power to review individual site plan requests regardless of location.

Soucy felt the Future Land Use and Character Areas have a description and defines land uses and the Master Plan also references this so the Commission could relate back to that as well.

DeGroot explained that the Planning Commission has the right to interpret land uses even if questionable, so any additions of ties to the Planning Commission decisions would be important.

No further action taken on this and DeGroot commented that staff would take the suggestions from this meeting and bring back answers for the Commission for next month.

VIII. NEW BUSINESS

B. Township Master Plan Discussion

Staff Introduction

Soucy reminded Commissioners that the Master Plan was one of the items that is on the priority list for 2020. He stated the plan from 2015 was well-written, but there were items that needed to be looked at as things have changed since that time. He pointed out that one of the items is the character areas, and another is to address inconsistencies with the current zoning ordinance.

Throenle also pointed out that there are items that need to be updated, and he stated, as an example, that the plan defines fourteen character areas while the zoning ordinance references seven zoning districts. He also referenced the non-conformances in the agriculture / forestry district that plan should address. He indicated the character areas discussion was the priority that should be addressed, as all other sections in the plan depended on that section. He would also like to look at new directions for solar, wind and tiny homes as discussion items for the plan.

Throenle stated the plan is the underlying guidance document for the zoning ordinance, with the intent the zoning ordinance will match up with the plan.

Commission Discussion

Soucy addressed the character area discussion with an idea to look at the character areas, possibly combining some of them.

Maynard asked Soucy to clarify if his intent was to combine the language. She felt that some of the districts were very close in definition and could be combined if there were no reason not to. She also asked for suggestions on how to review the categories, and what task the Commissioners were to address.

Throenle stated the direction for the meeting was to determine direction, not to define specific character areas or to combine character areas. He stated that would be the on-going process to review those areas, but the priority for the Commissioners was to decide if the character areas were to be used or abandoned.

Maynard asked which decided the other – the zoning ordinance or the master plan.

Throenle stated the master plan comes first, with the zoning ordinance reflecting the language in the plan.

DeGroot added that the plan is the general direction, with the intent of looking at the plan with a twenty-year vision. He stated the zoning ordinance is not intended to be a vision statement, he said that is the intent of the master plan.

DeGroot said the master plan identifies the character areas and creates a framework for those character areas to be defined. He said the zoning ordinance would further refine those definitions.

Throenle pointed out that table 7-2 of the master plan further aligned the character areas with the future zoning districts. He also pointed out that some of the character areas overlapped with the newly defined zoning districts. He again stated the Commissioners should look at combining those character areas but cautioned that it should be done carefully so as to not repeat the non-conformances that happened in the 2008 zoning ordinance.

DeGroot described the history of the zoning ordinance versus the master plan. He said when the zoning ordinance was written in 2008, it came from a regulatory way of thinking which put more emphasis on a single lot than looking at the character of a neighborhood. He stated the master plan was designed during a time when the character of an area, not a single building, was the intended factor for a neighborhood. He reemphasized that the zoning ordinance is written based on the policies established in the master plan.

Soucy requested ideas on how to review the plan going forward. He suggested that certain areas should be selected, with the intent of getting an in-depth review of the material.

Rhein suggested taking two or three character areas per meeting for review to see what would need to be changed.

Meister asked how detailed this information needed to be. DeGroot responded that the intent was to protect the character of the area – why it is important and what the benefits of the area are.

Meister also asked about the trends and directions regarding mixed use in neighborhoods. Maynard interjected that changes in global trends over the last several months would also impact the direction.

Soucy responded by outlining the general direction from an economic development direction, and stated the focus was on a dense mixed-use development. Mullen-Campbell concurred with Soucy's comments.

DeGroot commented that the age of the community and the willingness to travel added to the decision-making process, especially from a recreation, commercial, industrial, residential and community service needs perspective.

Milton added that some commercial uses require a one-hour fire separation in their developments. He said emphasis on water for the community would have to be addressed if there any desire to develop additional commercial development. Meister added that this was a hindrance to development in the downtown corridor.

Maynard looked at the commercial character areas and asked if they could be combined. DeGroot responded that they could, as the trend is leading away from shopping malls and other larger business developments. He also emphasized the master plan development belonged to the Planning Commission for approval and development.

Soucy suggested that the Commissioners review three of the character areas per meeting. Mullen-Campbell suggested that mixed use and agricultural forestry be addressed first. Meister suggested adding village mixed use. Rhein suggested that Throenle look at which could be combined for presentation; Rhein further refined the suggestion to look at character areas 1, 2 and 3. Maynard agreed with Rhein's suggestion, and added that character areas 10 and 11 be looked at next.

Bushong suggested character areas 1, 2 and 3, with 9, 10 at the next meeting and 11 to follow at the September meeting.

Throenle asked if there should be more than one group for the next meeting; Bushong suggested staying with one group for the next meeting to see how the process would work, and the Commissioners agreed.

Throenle asked for Commissioner input on the information they wanted to see for the character areas. DeGroot suggested visual examples from the way they are written today, with updates based on industry standards, so the Commissioners could see the intended direction.

Meister asked if images were appropriate. DeGroot answered that figures and displays would work well in the future, as it would reduce confusion for interpretation.

Throenle asked if Commissioners were interested in doing another community survey. Rhein asked about the results from the Recreation Plan. Throenle responded that approximately 200 responses came in.

Soucy indicated that not much would change regarding the plan overall. There have not been too many changes since the current plan was written, so his suggestion was to work on the plan first, then decide if more information from the public would be required.

X. COMMISSIONER'S COMMENTS

Bushong – apologized for missing last month's meeting and it was good to be back.

Rhein – felt the discussion was very informative and have a good plan to move forward. Asked if the O'Reilly store was still in progress or if it was on hold.

Throenle commented that his last correspondence with them in June was that they were in negotiations with contractors to move their project forward. Tentative opening date that was given to the Township was February or 2021.

Mullen-Campbell – had three comments to changes to possibly be made to the Master Plan.

1. Page 82 would need a picture of the new Township sign/message board.
2. Page 67 says the Township's electricity is powered by coal, do we have a new system?

3. Page 20, Appendix F there are no roads listed that begin with the letter “R”
Soucy – Noticed one edit to the Master Plan as well; it is the 30th Anniversary of the Americans with Disabilities Act and he felt that on page 92 the reference that states “the disabled...” should be changed to “people of all abilities”.

Meister – looking forward to working through the character areas

Maynard – thanked the Commission for their patience in walking her through the Master Plan, character areas, land use, and the zoning.

Milton – asked Throenle if the commercial districted that housed the kennel reverted to back to the Residential 1 area as is has not functioned as commercial for a year.

Throenle responded that the kennel is operational and will have a grand opening August 1, 2020. They had done extensive review and was determined to still have commercial capabilities and the intent of reopening within the one-year time frame.

XI. DIRECTOR’S REPORT

Throenle commented that he is looking forward to working on the master plan project with the information from the Commissioners.

III. MINUTES

July 20, 2020 Planning Commission meeting

Due to lack of quorum minutes from the previous meeting were not able to be approved.

IV. PUBLIC COMMENT

Deborah Mulcahey, 633 Lakewood Lane – Stated she was confused on how the Planning Commission was proceeding with the breakdown of the master plan. She said she was encouraged by the comment of supporting utility infrastructure cost in the village Mixed Use area. She said she does not like commercial areas used for storage units or contractor's yard. She also felt the master plan should be all-inclusive in supporting natural features; she felt the casino does not have enough of a vegetative buffer and she would like the Planning Commission to be mindful of this when looking at further development. She has concerns with community wide road noise and would like to work as a community with MDOT to address this issue.

Soucy added that his perspectives from being on the Planning Commission is to improve community livability and felt this is a good time when looking at the master plan.

X. COMMISSIONER’S COMMENTS

Soucy – Suggested doing some diagnosing of Zoom participant access before the next meeting. He said he knows this is a hard thing for people to adapt to; and hard to pick up where we left off at the next meeting. There was a lot of information in the packet and this will give him extra time to go over it. He thanked Throenle and the Township for the efforts in getting the information together.

Bushong – Stated that Soucy’s comments sounded good to him as well.

DeGroot – Suggested scheduling a Zoom tutorial meeting for any of the Commissioner that would want to attend. He has had success with the Township Board members with that tutorial. Soucy commented that sounded good and looks forward to that.

A. Site Plan Review – 1001 M-28 East (McDonalds)

Staff Introduction

Throenle presented highlights of the staff Site Plan Review document as presented in the packet.

Throenle addressed traffic flow to the drive through as related to the rear of the Moyle Center and the neighboring Interior by Design property to the west. He stated the drive through is “landlocked” and not accessible either from the rear of the Moyle Center or through the Interior by Design property. He added that because the directional signs from the west (beginning at the entrance to the Holiday Gas Station and proposed at Interior by Design) would not be on the project property, they would not be allowed under the Zoning Ordinance as they would be considered off-premise signs. He requested guidance from the Commissioners regarding the signage as the traffic attempting to access the drive through via the Interior by Design parking lot.

He completed his comments by stating that staff did not see any major issues with the project as designed.

Commission Discussion

Soucy began the discussion with concerns regarding internal circulation, and asked Throenle about the frontage road and Moyle property access. Throenle stated the circulation process was apparently designed to provide delivery access for the occupants of the Moyle Center as well as to the occupants of the Interior by Design building that previously had four occupants.

Soucy requested comments from the applicants. Jackson addressed the circulation issue, stating McDonalds was willing to look at the directional signage especially related to the Interior by Design traffic flow. He stated the overall purpose of the project was to prevent the backup of traffic queuing at the ordering board by providing the ability to take customers in multiple lanes, which allowed the customers to get through the drive through faster. He stated the project would last approximately three weeks during business hours, and that the drive through would be open during the construction. He stated snow removal would remain as done in previous years and that finished landscaping would occur in the spring of 2021.

Soucy expressed that business adaptation was important, especially with the changes required during the pandemic. He pointed out that restaurants especially were adapting with drive through answers to sit-down restrictions.

Maynard expressed a desire for the project team to look at using native plants instead of sod in keeping with Township commitment toward rural character. Jackson replied that only a small area (drive through islands) would be landscaped as part of the project. Cocanato added that McDonalds would look into the possibility with the owner / operator of landscaping areas around the project.

Maynard questioned the one-window pickup and pay design for traffic flow. Coconato replied that loop detectors are installed that notify McDonald crew as to who is placing the order, and orders are processed accordingly. He said McDonald studies show that this process speeds up the process for ordering and pickup. Jackson added that customers typically take longer to order than to pay, which is the reason for the two lane order / one lane pickup concept.

Soucy stated that staff site plan review showed that five parking spaces would be eliminated; however, his review showed eleven spaces would be removed. Jackson confirmed the number would be eleven. Throenle stated the increase in the number of parking spaces removed would not affect the overall parking count. Soucy suggested that shared parking could be achieved with the Interior by Design lot; Throenle stated that he did not see Interior by Design allowing the shared parking as the general direction for Interior by Design was to retain the lot for that business only.

Soucy asked where Moyle Center employees parked. Throenle stated he would have to research that question.

Soucy asked where trucks park. Rhein stated he generally sees trucks parking on M-28 and drivers walking into the restaurant.

Soucy asked for additional Commissioner comments. Bushong stated this project seems to be the general direction for McDonald drive throughs. Mullen-Campbell stated she looked at the drive through setup in Ishpeming and Marquette, and saw they were well done. Rhein stated this was a system they used everywhere, and that this was a win-win situation for this project.

Soucy asked Throenle if there were additional corrections needed on the site plan, especially regarding the snow removal. Throenle responded that he did not see the need for the snow removal information to be added to the plan, as that was covered during the approval of the Moyle Center site plan. He stated the Commissioners could add snow removal as a condition of approval if they chose. Soucy questioned the lack of Miss Dig information; Throenle stated this was further defined in the site plan as a contractor requirement. Coconato stated the general contractor will be required to do this as part of the project. Mullen-Campbell asked if the Miss Dig requirement should be added to the site plan as a condition; Throenle stated he did not think it should as that is addressed on the site plan.

Soucy asked if off-site signage would be addressed separately. Throenle stated the current off-site signage was previously addressed as a variance request, as the Zoning Ordinance specifically prohibits off-site signage. Throenle stated this would be a separate conversation outside the site plan process. Throenle added that the signs as part of the project would be addressed through the sign permit process.

Soucy stated that there did not appear to be any conditions that needed to be added to the approval. Bushong added that it be noted that the number of eliminated parking spaces be recorded in the staff notes to reflect the change from five to eleven.

Commission Decision

Maynard moved, Mullen-Campbell seconded, that after staff review, Commissioner discussion and Commissioner findings of fact, Site Plan Review Application SR 20-62 is approved in accordance with the standards outlined in Section 9.2 of the Zoning Ordinance.

Vote: Ayes: 6 Nays: 0 MOTION CARRIED

VIII. UNFINISHED BUSINESS

A. Township Master Plan – Future Land Use Discussion

Staff Introduction

Throenle presented highlights of the staff master plan future land use issue brief that was in the packet. Soucy requested the Bayou Bar and Grill be added as a change item since 2015, and Throenle added the Bayou Nature Preserve as an additional item.

Commission Discussion

Soucy expressed that a simplification could be done in the language in the plan. He added he is looking at the design with nodes and corridors. He identified Cherry Creek Road and US 41 South as the node with a circle around that area. He stated he thought there were three area corridors: a lower-speed corridor through the village area, a second after the residential area north of the village up to the Welcome Center, and a third heading east on M-28.

Maynard asked what the definition and distinction would be between the three character areas. Throenle stated the original design was to set off the village as a separate neighborhood, as well as to define the reasons for the descriptions. Throenle also pointed out that the area densities were different depending on the neighborhood, using Harvey as the densest and others as less dense, and as well as the lot widths. Maynard stated she felt the corridor and village were one and the same as opposed to other neighborhoods. Throenle indicated the village is platted as a residential area, and that there is a separation between the village and the overlay district. Maynard expressed that other communities such as Chassell had a true village; she felt we had more of a corridor feel as there is not an existing downtown area. Throenle responded that Harvey is a much more walkable area due to density than other neighborhoods in the Township. Throenle also pointed out that the village originally had a store and other locations within walking distance of the residents.

Maynard asked about the purpose of the character areas. Throenle responded that each grouping had distinct features with the intent of wrapping the zoning around those features. Throenle pointed out that the Master Plan and the zoning in the Zoning Ordinance are out of sync with each other, and the intent of this process is to bring them together in the same direction. Soucy added that the a master plan is the statutory guide to use when developing zoning. Maynard added that perhaps the descriptions should remain; Throenle stated there was no reason to change if Commissioners felt they should remain as is. Throenle added that updates, such as census data, were necessary in some sections without rewriting the entire plan. Maynard stated that the descriptions could be kept as is because of the distinctions described.

Soucy stated his direction was from the challenge of the zoning ordinance. He asked Throenle if that would complicate zoning administration. Throenle pointed out the zoning districts were intended to match up with the character areas, and that multiple zoning districts could be defined as the same. Throenle stated the direction should be the global design for the zoning with the specifics being added to each district. Rhein asked Throenle if Throenle was satisfied with the plan with the intent of zoning. Throenle replied staff sees the plan as a good master plan, but the zoning does not match it. Throenle stated that the Commissioners could stay with the current plan with updates or completely rewrite the plan, depending on their desires.

Soucy added that the plan is the community's vision and seemed to be well-balanced for community direction. He asked how the mixed use overlay district would be affected. Throenle stated that he felt that the original mixed use discussion was an attempt to fit the zoning ordinance as it was written to the master plan instead of rewriting the zoning ordinance to match the master plan.

Maynard expressed that she saw the reasons for the fine points added to the plan for the character areas. Throenle asked the Commissioners to consider if there was a necessity to change the character areas or to proceed with the plan with updates and with the intent of keeping the character areas as defined. Maynard stated she felt that the plan with updates would be a good direction to go. Throenle proposed that taking a chapter from the plan would be a good start for the next meeting. Maynard suggested putting multiple chapters on the agenda.

Milton asked for a due date for the project. Throenle stated that an approval was necessary to keep the plan viable, and Soucy added that the Planning Commission was required to review the plan every five years with the intent of either keeping or updating the plan. Soucy did not feel the update process would take long as the land use discussion was already covered in the current plan.

Soucy asked Throenle to consider more detail in the agriculture districts. Throenle stated the agriculture districts were the biggest areas of non-conformance and would be considered as part of the process.

Mullen-Campbell suggested that the order for review be chapters one, two and three for the October meeting, chapter four for the November meeting and chapters five, six and seven for the December meeting. Throenle agreed that would be a viable approach.

Commission Decision

Rhein moved, Bushong seconded that the review of the Master Plan would proceed for the next meeting starting with chapters one, two and three.

A. Proposed 2021 Meeting Dates

Staff Introduction

Throenle explained the proposed meeting dates for the Planning Commission should be reviewed as they will need to go before the Township Board for approval.

Throenle commented that the proposed meeting date of January 18, 2021 is Martin Luther King Day. He stated that the Township offices are not closed but it is a State holiday.

He added that the December 20, 2021 date is very close to Christmas. He reminded the Commissioners that the calendar is for twelve meetings; however, the Commission is only required to hold four meetings a year.

Bushong joined the meeting at 6:10.

Commission Discussion

Soucy waited for Bushong to connect remotely and filled him in as to where the Commissioners were in the meeting.

Soucy commented that the November 2021 meeting was on the 15th and that is the first day of hunting season which may pose some challenges.

Perry interjected and reminded the Commissioners that the February 15, 2021 date is around the time the Planning Commission holds the joint meeting with the Township Board; however, that day is a State holiday and the Township Board does not meet on a holiday.

Throenle reminded the Commissioners that, in the past, the Commission met with the Township Board first and proceeded to hold their scheduled meeting at the conclusion of that meeting. There was an option to move the meeting to date of the Township Board meeting and do the same thing.

Throenle asked Richard Bohjanen, Township Supervisor, what the proposed 2021 dates for the Township Board would be. Bohjanen commented that the Board's meeting dates will be on the December agenda, and he explained that the Board has their meetings scheduled for the second Monday of the month, except for the month of August which would not provide any conflict to the Planning Commission. He felt it would be a benefit to have the joint meeting on the date of the Township Board meeting versus the Planning Commission meeting to avoid the conflict of President's Day. Bohjanen stated the Board will consider a limited agenda for the February joint meeting to allow the Planning Commission meeting to start at 7:00 PM.

Mullen-Campbell asked if the joint meeting would be a Zoom meeting. Throenle commented it possibly would be. Soucy commented that the Governor's executive order would be in effect until December of 2021 and Bohjanen confirmed this. Bohjanen commented that he does not foresee major changes by February regarding the COVID-19 status as it would take time to get the vaccination program going; he felt a ZOOM meeting would be a reasonable possibility. Bohjanen also commented that an in-person meeting would not be possible as a joint meeting would have more people present (Board, Planning Commission, and staff) than would be allowable in the conference room.

The Commission discussed the December meeting date as it was close to Christmas. Milton felt they could change it to December 13, 2021 but Mullen-Campbell thought that would be the same date as the Township Board meeting. Bohjanen suggested that both meetings could be on the same night, one would just follow the other. After discussion, Commissioners agreed on December 13, 2021 at 7:00 PM.

Commission Decision

After discussion, the meeting dates proposed for the 2021 Planning Commission meetings were:

January 18	July 19
February 8 (Joint at 5:30, PC at 7:00)	August 16
March 15	September 20
April 19	October 18
May 17	November 15
June 21	December 13 (7:00 after Board meeting)

Mullen-Campbell moved, Maynard seconded, that the meeting dates proposed for 2021 Planning Commission be accepted as changed per discussion.

Vote: Ayes: 6 Nays: 0 Motion Carried

B. Master Plan Review – Section 7 (Land Use) and Related Appendices

Staff Introduction

Throenle pointed out that at the July meeting Commissioners began the review of character areas and future land uses as outlined in Section 7 and Appendix L of the Township Master Plan. Discussion ended at that meeting with a Commissioner-approved recommendation to review the language associated with the first three future land uses in Appendix L. Discussions continued through the September meeting, with a recommendation to accept the future land uses as generally defined.

Staff prepared two documents that refer to the Commissioner's September recommendation. The first document, 2021 Master Plan section 7 - draft, was a section within the proposed 2021 master plan that details the future land uses as previously discussed. The second document was the related appendices (T and U) showing the growth sector map and future land use maps.

Staff determined that section 7 is critical as the base for the remainder of the master plan. Throenle stated that all other sections within the plan (other than introductory sections) are dependent on the language crafted in this section.

Commission Discussion

Soucy asked Throenle how many changes were made to Section 7 and if any significant adaptations were made. Throenle answered the only change he made was to put the proposed land uses in alphabetical order to match up with Table 6 in the section, which would allow the reader to navigate easier through the section.

Mullen-Campbell stated that she had read through it and felt it was well written, easier to read, and she also liked the pictures.

Meister commented on the utility infrastructure for the corridor for mixed use; it mentions private sanitary and water systems. He asked if there was a piece done along M-28 with the new forced main and if so, it would be good to encourage residents to connect to the new system. Throenle answered that the mixed use language covered the mixed-use districts primarily in the US 41 South / M-28 corridor, and stated that what Meister is referring to is outside of the mixed use district and was covered further down in the section. Throenle also stated there is also a small section of mixed use on the corner of M-28 and Kawbawgam Road and at US 41 South and County Road 480.

Meister suggested the section referring to solar and wind being a conditional use be modified to state "small scale residential wind systems" so there would be no ambiguity for a large scale wind developer to put an application in for a wind farm. Throenle commented that he could make that change if that is what the Commissioners would like as the intent was not to have a large-scale wind developer.

Meister stated in the agricultural and forestry land section that the Township would like to keep agricultural as a character, but stated it is hard to make living from a small farm, let alone a large one. He felt there should be encouragement for people to make their land more usable. Throenle commented that he would add some language for additional uses and bring it back for Commissioner approval.

Meister discussed the Circulation and Access section that pertained to parking conditions needing repair. He did not agree with this but asked if the conditions should be listed.

Meister asked if there was strong enough enforcement of not allowing storage units in the procedure under the Land Uses and Development Patterns section and asked if storage units should be listed as a non-allowable use. Throenle stated the starting point would be that they are not an allowable use, but if an established business needed storage behind their facility, they could do that, as it would not be a primary use. Throenle also stated that a storage facility that did not use the sewer system would be discouraged or not permitted in the Zoning Ordinance. This would be a future item of discussion for the Commission to decide if they did not want that as a conditional use as there are various ways of looking at this going forward. Throenle reminded the Commission that the master plan is primarily recommendations for the e next five years or more; the basis is to use the plan as the guide for zoning.

Soucy commented that his understanding would be to list the districts, as they are listed in the Master Plan, as districts in the Zoning Ordinance to reflect what is described in the Master Plan.

Throenle stated that the comments were well taken with the intent they would direct the formation of the zoning ordinance.

Soucy stated that he had read through this section and did not find any significant changes. He added that this document was very thoroughly written.

Soucy asked Throenle about the Conservation Cluster Residential section, as he said he has not seen this used anywhere around the state in the communities he has worked with. He asked if there were other tools used to develop subdivisions and clustering. He added that the Commission did talk about tiny homes and eco villages that maximize the use of the land.

Throenle stated no developers have approached the Township regarding these developments but there are some known to be on the horizon. He feels some projects are on hold this year to see what will happen in the future.

Soucy asked if there needs to be anything added in this section for tiny homes or micro units, or would that be a different, more specific section.

Throenle answered that tiny homes are identified in the Village Mixed Use section and that is the only district at this point where those are called out. Throenle told the Commissioners that tiny homes are also listed in a zoning section of the master plan that they will address at a future meeting. Throenle commented that this is a change that needs to be addressed in the master plan as he has had several inquiries regarding tiny homes.

Soucy asked how the tiny home footprint matches up with the building codes at the County level. Throenle answered that the County does not set the standard of the footprint; they are there to make sure the structure meets the code when built. He said the Planning Commission and Board sets the footprint in the zoning ordinance.

Maynard thanked Soucy for inquiring about tiny homes as they needed to be accommodated in the future. Throenle asked the Commissioners if they want to add it to different sections, as this would be the time.

Meister asked how it would work if it was an adjoining structure, like a mother-in-law suite. Throenle answered that there accessory dwelling units already listed in multiple sections. Throenle also stated that the current Zoning Ordinance would have to be addressed when it comes to tiny homes because the current ordinance states that an accessory structure cannot exceed the footprint of the current residence. He said these standards would have to be looked at as an overall picture.

Maynard stated that if they modified the Zoning Ordinance to accommodate the new direction in tiny housing, they would not want to go back to modify the Master Plan as well. She does not feel particulars, such as size, should be in the Master Plan, they should be spelled out in the Zoning Ordinance.

Throenle agreed and stated the zoning ordinance is basically the “rules” to go along with the “guide” of the master plan. He told the Commissioners what is in the zoning ordinance must be mentioned in the master plan or there would be a conflict.

Maynard felt they should list tiny homes in the other districts in the master plan to allow for it to be addressed in the zoning ordinance.

Throenle asked the Commissioner to do a quick poll, as he would state the district and the Commissioner could comment on what districts should have tiny homes. Maynard asked if there would be districts that would not want tiny homes.

Soucy felt it naturally is related to the mixed-use neighborhood district. Milton felt they should not be in the commercial or industrial district. Maynard felt in all districts other than the commercial district.

Soucy mentioned the implications if it does not fit the character of certain districts; he was not sure of the impact on the neighborhood. He said being connected to public utilities should be considered as well.

Meister felt they should be a structure that fits the character of the neighborhood and not on a trailer; Milton agreed that wheels should be discouraged. Throenle told the Commission he felt the current footprint of 20 feet wide on a side of a structure was the reason this was established, to discourage single-wide trailers being placed in the Township.

Throenle stated that he can find more information regarding tiny homes for the next meeting. Throenle listed the items to clarify or investigate for the next meeting:

1. Change verbiage pertaining for wind systems to state “small scale” wind systems.
2. Look into the Agricultural / Forestry district to incorporate additional concepts to allow residents to use their property for uses not particularly agriculture.
3. Revise the circulation and public section to remove the current conditions.
4. Tiny homes; add more information.

Commission Decision

The Commissioners would like this section returned at a later meeting with the changes discussed.

C. Master Plan Review – Sections 1 through 3 and Related Appendices

Staff Introduction

Throenle asked the Commissioners to review the first three sections of the proposed 2021 master plan to determine if changes are required.

He told the Commissioners at the September meeting they developed a schedule of review for the proposed master plan. Sections one through three were determined to be the first sections to review, and a tentative schedule was developed.

Staff had prepared two documents that referred to the Commissioner’s September recommendation. The first document, 2021 Master Plan sections 1 through 3 - draft is a section within the proposed 2021 master plan that details the future land uses as previously discussed. The second document are the related appendices (A through C) that are referenced in sections 1 through 3.

Staff found that Appendix A is an extract of items that were originally written in the 2005 Comprehensive Plan. The Master Plan, 2015 Edition included many of the same items; Throenle told the Commissioners that most items have not been addressed since the adoption of the 2005 plan.

Commission Discussion

Soucy told the Commission he was not able to read through this section in its entirety before the meeting.

Maynard felt the history had not changed. Throenle commented that the charts have not changed due to the 2020 Census data not being released as of the date of the meeting. Throenle told the Commissioners he is not sure when the census data will be released but he can modify the charts at that time.

Soucy noted a couple of changes with the text in this section. Throenle noted the changes and will bring them back for review at a later meeting. Throenle added that when reviewing these sections, he asked the Commissioners not look at the formatting and just review the text.

Richard Bohjanen, Chocolay Township Supervisor, noted a spelling error that changed the meaning of the text in Section 3. Throenle noted it and will make the correction.

Commission Decision

The Commissioners would like this section returned at a later meeting with the changes discussed.

XI. Commissioner's Comments

Commissioner Mullen-Campbell

Feels everything looks good and it is nice to work on the project together; feels the Planning Commission is making progress and urged everyone to stay positive. Thanked Bushong for his time on the Planning Commission.

Commissioner Bushong

Announced that this would be his last Planning Commission meeting as he is stepping away due to running a busy business and personal life. He does not feel he has the time to dedicate to be a practicing member of the Planning Commission. He has appreciated the last two years; it has been fun.

Commissioner Maynard

Was struck when reading the master plan at how well written it is. She feels it is like polishing a diamond, kudos to whomever put it together. She thanked Bushong and stated it has been a pleasure to work with him.

Commissioner Milton

Worked with the Census Bureau and was surprised to see how many homes there are down some of the roads. Feels the Planning Commission should do something with the addresses in the Township as many of those did not have addresses.

Commission Meister

Feels the Planning Commission has a great document in the Master Plan to start with and they should have a fairly easy time with it and is glad to be part of it. Also apologized for his Internet issues.

Chair Soucy

Thanked Bushong for being part of the team. Told Bushong he was a great asset, he will be missed, and is always welcome back to join in for public comment. He told everyone they were doing a good job, that they will get back to it at the next meeting and requested everyone stay healthy.

XII. Director's Report

Planning / Zoning Administrator Throenle

Thanked the Planning Commission for participating tonight, and also thanked Bushong for his participation. He will put more master plan information together for the next meeting with Soucy's approval.

Stated he and Soucy had a discussion regarding the December meeting and asked Soucy if he would want to address that now. Soucy commented that he felt the December meeting would be a challenge as Throenle would be on vacation and he would feel more comfortable making any changes with Throenle present. Soucy suggested the Planning Commission put off meeting until the new year; Commissioners agreed.

Throenle wished the Commission a happy Thanksgiving and wished them an enjoyable holiday season.

B. Planning Commission Bylaws Review and Revision

Staff Introduction

Throenle explained the Planning Commission bylaws needed to be updated to accommodate the change of procedures for meetings from the State regarding the Open Minutes Act. Suggested presented to the Commissioners language changes were:

“Planning Commission Procedures and Bylaws-Of the Chocolay Township Planning Commission

Section 1. Regular meetings of the Township Planning Commission shall be held monthly at the Town Hall. The Planning Commission shall meet in accordance with the Michigan Open Meetings Act and all other State and local laws. (Amended 1-21)”

Commission Discussion

Commissioners reviewed the bylaws and accepted them with the recommended changes.

Commission Decision

Motion by Rhein, seconded by Lindsey, to accept the bylaws as written.

Roll Call Vote: Ayes: 5 Nays: 0 Motion carried

C. Planning Commission Public Meeting Participation Policy Review and Revision

Staff Introduction

Throenle explained that staff reviewed the Planning Commission Public Meeting Participation Policy as part of the bylaw review to address meeting interruptions and some minor editing changes. Suggested language changes presented to the Commissioners were:

“Public Meeting Participation Policy

I. Right to Speak

1. Any member of the public ~~speaking-recognized to speak~~ during public comment.
2. Any member of the public ~~speaking-recognized to speak~~ during a public hearing.
3. Any member of the public ~~presenting-recognized to present~~ materials during ~~the Presentations-a~~ portion of the meeting.

1. Individuals wishing to speak must be recognized by the ~~Chairman~~ Chairperson prior to speaking. Individuals not following this rule are subject to dismissal from the meeting.
3. All speakers will be limited to three ~~(3)~~ minutes per person. No person can grant his or her time to another speaker.
4. The Planning Commission Secretary, or designated representative, will be responsible to keep time on speakers and inform the Chairperson when time limits have expired.
5. At the close of public comment, Planning Commission members may address issues raised by speakers during public comment.

III. Public Hearings

Public hearings are generally scheduled for Planning Commission business for items such as conditional use permits, rezoning applications, and ordinance proposals.

4. Individuals wishing to speak must be recognized by the ~~Chairman~~ Chairperson prior to speaking. Individuals not following this rule are subject to dismissal from the meeting.”

Commission Discussion

Meister joined the meeting at 6:13 PM.

Commissioners reviewed the participation policy. Mullen-Campbell requested a change to sections II.3 and 4 for speaker timer purposed. Throenle suggested that the language be changed in II.3 to “All speakers will be limited to three minutes per person, unless granted a different time by the Chair.”

Commission Decision

Motion by Mullen-Campbell, seconded by Soucy, as to accept the Public Meeting Participation Policy as changed.

Roll Call Vote: Ayes: 6 Nays: 0 Motion carried

D. Planning Commission Annual Report

Staff Introduction

Throenle presented the Planning Commission annual report to the Commissioners. He explained there were three sections in the report:

- 1) Planning Commission Actions, which covered the Planning Commission meetings throughout the year.
- 2) Planning Director Activities, which covered the Planning Director meetings and training throughout the year.
- 3) Township Plans and Ordinances, which covered plans and ordinances the Planning Commission worked on throughout the year.

He stated the annual report would be sent to the Township Board for their review at the joint meeting in February.

Commission Discussion

Commissioners reviewed the report and accepted it without changes.

Commission Decision

Motion by Mullen-Campbell, seconded by Rhein, to forward the 2020 Planning Commission annual report as written to the Township Board for consideration.

Roll Call Vote: Ayes: 6 Nays: 0 Motion carried

E. Planning Commission 2021 – 2022 Priorities

Staff Introduction

Throenle presented the Planning Commission priorities for 2021 through 2022 for review. He explained the priorities were the same as 2020 with one addition that would address changing the language for the sign portion of the zoning ordinance. A status was added to the priorities: open (no action taken), in progress (Planning Commission is working on the item) and closed (the Planning Commission has completed work on the item). Throenle also stated priorities document would be a topic of discussion at the joint meeting in February with the Township Board.

Commission Discussion

Commissioners reviewed the priorities and accepted them without changes.

Commission Decision

Motion by Meister, seconded by Rhein, to forward the 2020 Planning Commission priorities to the to the Township Board for consideration.

Roll Call Vote: Ayes: 6 Nays: 0 Motion carried

After the vote, discussion took place regarding the February meetings. Questions were asked if the meeting would be held in Township facilities or if the meeting would be conducted online. Throenle stated a decision will be made in the near future.

A. Master Plan Review – Section 7 (Land Use) and Related Maps

Staff Introduction

Throenle indicated this section was updated based on comments from the Commissioners during the November 2020 meeting. Throenle changed a section title from Primary Working Lands Agriculture / Forestry to Agriculture / Forestry for ease of use in relation to the document and the zoning ordinance. He explained the purpose of section 7 to the new Commissioners.

Commissioner Discussion

Meister asked about agricultural uses. Throenle explained that those would be further defined in section four that will be presented at a future meeting.

Throenle stated he would like to have a discussion with the Commissioners at a later date regarding the size of agricultural parcels to determine if parcel sizes should be reduced. He stated the 2015 plan was designed to protect agriculture lands as much as possible, and he stated he would like a review to determine if that is still the intended direction for the Township.

Soucy requested adding a statement of intent, as the section goes beyond basic descriptions for the plan, especially in the use of recreation. Meister further clarified his ideas concerning the use of the agricultural properties. Rhein agreed with Meister's clarification.

Sloan asked what the differences were between the 2015 master plan and the current document. Throenle indicated that there were two changes: 1) the plan was changed from a landscape to a portrait (book format) presentation, and 2) language was reviewed with the intent to update it for 2021 consideration. Sloan asked if there was a way to see the differences between the two versions. Throenle stated that it would be difficult to mark the changes as the format change, rearrangement of sections, and other changes are reflected in the new version; he did say he could put a cross-reference together if the Commissioners requested it. Throenle stated he would get paper maps out to Sloan and Lindsey for consideration. He also explained the purpose of the Mixed Use Overlay District, and emphasized the plan must be completed in 2021. Soucy requested a further clarification of the character maps in relation to the land use maps be added to the section.

Commissioner Decision

Commissioners chose to wait on staff updates prior to approving the section.

B. Master Plan Review – Sections 1 through 3 and Related Appendices

Staff Introduction

Throenle indicated this section was updated based on comments from the Commissioners during the November 2020 meeting. He indicated census data would be updated in the sections and the appendices if it became available during the draft writing of the plan.

Commissioner Discussion

Commissioners reviewed sections 1 through 3 and accepted them without changes.

Commissioner Decision

Motion by Soucy and seconded by Rhein, to sections 1 through 3 and related appendices in the 2021 Township master plan be accepted as written.

Vote: Ayes: 6 Nays: 0 Motion carried

X. Public Comment

Supervisor Bohjanen expressed his pleasure to Soucy for Soucy’s speedy recovery from a recent health issue.

Public comment closed at 7:11 PM.

XI. Commissioner’s Comments

Commissioner Mullen-Campbell

She welcomed Sloan and Lindsey to the Planning Commission, and thanked Lindsey for accepting the Vice Secretary position.

Commissioner Rhein

He welcomed Sloan and Linsey to the Planning Commission, and expressed that both would be valuable assets to the Commission.

Commission Lindsey

Expressed her pleasure on being on the Planning Commission.

Commissioner Meister

He welcomed Sloan and Linsey to the Planning Commission, and stated he hoped 2021 would be a better year than 2020 so that more could be accomplished.

Rhein interjected to inform Meister he had been selected as Vice Chair.

Commissioner Sloan

Expressed her thanks for being part of the process and the discussion, and she was looking forward to working with the rest of the Commissioners.

Chair Soucy

Thanked Sloan and Lindsey for being part of the team.

XII. Director's Report

Planning / Zoning Administrator Throenle

He thanked Lindsey and Sloan for joining the team.

He reminded the Commissioners that the next meeting would be the joint meeting with the Board on February 8 at 5:30 PM. He also informed the Commissioners that a rezoning application would be presented at the 7:00 PM meeting. He stated that the format of the meeting (in-house or online or hybrid) would be decided soon and Commissioners would get a meeting notice telling them of the format.

He also stated that printed materials could be delivered, if necessary, to the Commissioners.

SUPERVISOR'S REPORT

Supervisor Bohjanen indicated that the Governor has extended restriction on meetings until March 29, 2021, so for the March meeting we will need to do a Zoom meeting or a hybrid meeting.

Approximately one-quarter of the people in Marquette County have had the first shot of the COVID-19 vaccination, and one-third of the people who have had their first shot, have had their second shot. Progress is being made, and the numbers in the County have been going down.

CLERK'S REPORT

Clerk Engle spoke about the Risk Limited Audit for the election. It was determined that this was not a valid sample, as not everyone pulled their ballots and gave their tally to BOE.

Reminder on the subscription that we have with Michigan Township Association. These are available to members of MTA (includes staff, Boards and Commissions, etc.). The subscription is available until mid-July 2021. There are many on-line modules to choose from.

PUBLIC HEARING – NONE

PRESENTATIONS – NONE

CONSIDER THE AMERICAN TOWER RENTAL AGREEMENT.

Manager De Groot was contacted by MD7 in an effort to reduce our monthly cell tower rate from American Tower from $1,375/month to $958/month and extend the life of the contract or to do a one-time buyout. The money we receive from the lease agreement is primarily used for improvements at the Silver Creek Rec area. De Groot was also contacted by another company, Landmark Dividend.

Trustee Symbal feels this is a waste of time and the Board should disregard. Symbal also indicated that the equipment is aging out, and it is not in our best interest to reduce the cell tower rate at this time. She feels we are somewhat protected by having the lease in place.

Clerk Engle was an employee of AT&T for 32 years and a Local Union President for 25 years. The way that AT&T runs their system is to purchase stocks in controlling amounts and then turn around and charge themselves higher fees to allow them to make more money. AT&T owns their own companies. The AT&T towers are not regulated. Engle thinks the Landmark Dividend option should be explored.

Trustee White is not willing to go forward with any of the options.

Supervisor Bohjanen also indicated that there is also the possibility of taking cash right now and use it in perpetuity for the Rec Area.

Lynch agreed with all comments made and would not adjust the rate per month.

White moved, Rhein supported to postpone this discussion until further information is available.

CONSIDER THE PURCHASE OF A REPLACEMENT PUMPER FIRE TRUCK.

Supervisor Bohjanen indicated that by having cash on hand, we will be able to save money by paying upfront. Trustee Rhein asked about any other quotes – Supervisor Bohjanen indicated that there were three proposals that went out, but two of them did not make an offer because of distance for servicing.

Engle moved, Zybert supported that the Chocolay Township Board award the request for quote and the purchase of a replacement Fire Engine to Pomasl Fire Equipment in the amount not to exceed a final total of $650,000.00. By awarding the contract to Pomasl Fire Equipment, the Township will be receiving a Pierce Manufactured Fire Engine to replace Engine #2142.

CONSIDER THE PURCHASE OF A PUBLIC WORKS TRUCK

Supervisor Bohjanen explained that this is part of the ongoing purchase plan and will also provide a third truck which will enable all DPW to have their own truck, which will help with the social distancing required by COVID-19.

White is concerned about the cost of insurance, repairs, maintenance, etc. De Groot indicated that the insurance would go up minimally, and since it is new, the cost of repairs and maintenance would be covered under warranty. There would also be added productivity, with better utilization of DPW's time. De Groot also stated that staff is working on an Asset Management Plan for all vehicles in the Township.

Engle moved, Lynch supported that the Chocolay Township Board authorizes the purchase of a new Public Works Truck, from Fox Marquette Chevrolet, with a not to exceed total cost of $42,000.00.

DISCUSSION ABOUT LINE 5 IMPACTS – UPDATE.

Supervisor Bohjanen indicated that since the last meeting, EGLE has authorized the building of the tunnel. There is also legal action being taken to stop the closure of Line 5. The Board felt that there was no need to go any further with this. Supervisor Bohjanen will continue to monitor and keep the Board informed.

DISCUSSION PRIORITIES WITH THE TOWNSHIP PLANNING COMMISSION.

The consensus of the Board:

1. Completion of a Master Plan – there needs to be significant progress made, and this should be an item on Planning Commission agenda until it is complete.
2. Zoning Ordinances – Sewer Ordinance, Marijuana Ordinance, Nuisance Ordinance, Sign Ordinance, Fence Ordinance. These are all in a stage of having been discussed between Supervisor Bohjanen, Manager De Groot, and PD / ZA Dale Throenle, and are ready for Planning Commission input, and then back to the Board for approval.
3. Budgeting of things from the Recreation Plan. Need to look at what really needs to be done. There needs to be decent playground equipment.

Planning Commission Chair Soucy indicated that there are grants available for septic and clean water – approximately $290 million available. Supervisor Bohjanen was unsure of who would request those funds. Manager De Groot indicated the existing water study is out of date, so we would not be able to apply for grants. We would need to re-evaluate the studies. At this point we would be seeking the initial administrative studies, and the draw down studies that would go into that. One of the things that could be a Planning Commission discussion later would be an ordinance discussion on abandonment of septic fields, and the dollar amount that our residents may be able to qualify for. This may be an additional addendum to sewer ordinance in the future.

PC Chair Soucy stated that the Planning Commission has touched on some of the other ordinances mentioned – marijuana, fences, sign, and they are prepared to look at those. Education may be in order for the Planning Commission for things like the sewer and nuisances.

Supervisor Bohjanen asked about creating a schedule for looking at the different priorities mentioned to produce a timeline. Along with the Board priorities, there are also the PC priorities of site plan reviews and activity like that.

Commissioner Lindsey indicated that she is very new to the Planning Commission, and there is an overwhelming amount of material to look at. She is in favor of training.

Manager De Groot indicated that he does have the background in Planning with 25 years of experience in this field in Michigan. He also pointed out that Chair Soucy is certified with AICP (American Institute of Certified Planners). Either would be a good resource if there are any questions.

Commissioner Meister feels that a lot can be accomplished this year by the Planning Commission. A schedule would help focus on what needs to be done.

Commissioner Sloan wondered about much time these things take up on the agenda, what the work behind the scenes would entail, and who would be responsible for this. Supervisor Bohjanen indicated that the person responsible for this is Dale Throenle. Throenle indicated the timeline would be dependent on what other types of issues come before the Planning Commission during the summer. Manager De Groot stated that all the priorities that have been talked about have an element of public involvement per State law, which would have to be anticipated. Commissioner Sloan asked about the order. Supervisor Bohjanen felt that the ordinances could also be done simultaneously. Chair Soucy liked the idea of taking on the different areas simultaneously.

Questions were asked about a shared or google drive. Manager De Groot indicated the Planning Commission is covered under the Open Meetings Act, which does not allow for these types of discussions. Trustee Symbal asked about using something like Trello. Manager De Groot indicated that the public needs an equal right to be able to speak.

Chair Soucy shared a screen shot of Trello for the Board. This screen shot will be added as part of the minutes.

Supervisor Bohjanen thanked the Planning Commission for joining the Board for this meeting.

The regular Planning Commission meeting is scheduled for Tuesday, March 2, 2021.

Rhein moved, Milton supported to adjourn the Planning Commission at 6:45 p.m.

CONSIDER THE HIRING OF AN ADDITIONAL POLICE OFFICER

Supervisor Bohjanen indicated that our part-time officer has been selected into the DNR Conservation Program. Manager De Groot indicated that in this year's budget we had budgeted for an additional part time officer. Since 2010, we have hired and trained 23 officers. At this time, we are looking to fill one full-time position. There has been a change in county structure, and the tribal police are no longer deputized. This will not result in a change in the budget.

Zyburt moved, Lynch supported to authorize the start of the hiring process.

A. Rezoning Application

Staff Introduction

Throenle explained that the parcel owned by Richard Peura (52-02-107-002-00) for rezoning consideration was located north of the Moyle Center. He summarized the information provided in the packet to the Commissioners, indicating the parcel rezoning was consistent with the Township Master Plan as the Master Plan indicated the parcel should be rezoned to commercial, and that the applicant, Tim Soucy, was the applicant for the rezoning. No public comment was submitted in relation to the rezoning. Throenle stated staff could not find a reason to deny the rezoning request.

Commission Discussion

Soucy opened the discussion indicating the parcel rezoning was consistent with the Master Plan and would fit within the surrounding commercial district.

Rhein stated he felt the rezoning did not cause any issues. He did ask the applicant about access to the property. Applicant Soucy replied he was working with MDOT to gain access to the parcel via the property to the east that was also owned by Peura.

Meister agreed that the rezoning made sense. Sloan asked what the applicant's plans were for the parcel. Throenle interjected that the applicant would bring the preliminary plans to the Planning Commission prior to building on the parcel. Chair Soucy indicated the plans would also be reviewed by the Corridor Access committee.

Commission Decision

Meister moved, Rhein seconded, that parcel 52-02-107-002-00 be changed from residential to commercial and sent to the Township Board for consideration.

Vote: Ayes: 6 Nays: 0 Motion carried

B. Mixed Use Consideration

Staff Introduction

Throenle suggested that since the Commissioners approved the rezoning, they should consider adding the parcel to the mixed use overlay district. He explained this would give the applicant options on the parcel related to both residential and commercial uses. He pointed out that the mixed use designation coincided with the district as it was described in the Master Plan.

Commission Discussion

Soucy indicated the decision for mixed use complied with the Master Plan and gave the applicant options for the district.

Commission Decision

Rhein moved, Lindsey seconded, to change parcel 52-02-107-002-00 to be added to the mixed use district.

Vote: Ayes: 6 Nays: 0 Motion carried

Milton joined the meeting at 7:19 PM.

Throenle indicated to the applicants that the next steps would be to take the rezoning and mixed use to the Marquette County Planning Commission and the Corridor Committee for consideration prior to the next Board meeting for Board approval.

The applicants were asked for comments. Peura indicated that the property was used as an air strip in the past. He is pleased that applicant Soucy is taking on the project, and Peura was looking forward to the development of the property.

C. 2021 Planning Commission Priorities and Schedule

Staff Introduction

Throenle explained that the Board made recommendations for the Planning Commission for items to be accomplished in 2021. He indicated staff developed a schedule for Commissioner review, and after review, the schedule would be presented to the Board for their consideration. Throenle presented an online tracking software package that would be used for the duration of the projects on the schedule.

Commission Discussion

Soucy asked how the schedule would work with potential applications from the public. Linsey asked if subcommittees would be formed to address some of the work as there appeared to be quite a lot of work on the schedule. Throenle explained that staff put together the documents that would be reviewed; he indicated that the Commissioners did have the option to form committees if they felt that the work was not being completed as quickly as it should. He indicated the Commissioners could change schedule dates as they saw fit in order to complete the schedule on time. He also explained that the items on the schedule gave flexibility to add additional items to the future agendas as necessary.

Commission Decision

Motion by Milton, seconded by Rhein, to forward the priorities to the Board for consideration.

Vote: Ayes: 7 Nays: 0 Motion carried

D. Zoning Ordinance – Section 18 Signs

Staff Introduction

Throenle reviewed the process of developing the proposed sign ordinance language. He stated staff reviewed the existing language, then decided to restructure the section from scratch; the purpose of starting from the beginning was to simplify the language, thus making it easier to read and to enforce. Throenle said the proposed language reduces the current ordinance language from twenty-two pages to approximately fourteen. He also stated the proposed definitions would be put into section two of the Zoning Ordinance so that all definitions in the Zoning Ordinance will be in the same place.

Commission Discussion

Soucy asked Throenle how many sign ordinances he had reviewed while doing the proposed language. Throenle replied he had looked at quite a few and adopted a format from a small township for the layout of the proposed language.

Lindsey stated she looked at the original ordinance language and found it to all be written with no descriptions. She liked the proposed language with the pictures, as it enhances the language and makes it clearer. Throenle pointed out that during his research, he found that many Townships also handed out a separate document that gave the applicant examples with pictures on how to apply for a sign permit, and these documents provided the base for developing the proposed language. He pointed out that the proposed language, not including the definitions, went down to about seven pages.

Throenle asked the Commissioners to look at the language to determine if it made sense for the Township for both the present and future signage questions. He also asked them to review the language to determine if there items that should be added or deleted from the language.

Rhein commented he had read the language several different times and stated he could not find issues with the language.

Lindsey commented on an MDOT sign that was advertising the closed Quiznos business. Throenle pointed out that the sign was from the Pure Michigan campaign; he stated he had been in contact with MDOT regarding the sign, and that their process was to review each sign in the spring of the year to determine if the signage was still valid according to MDOT and Pure Michigan records.

Throenle pointed out that the ordinance language would be directed to enforcing only signs that are under Township control; MDOT and the Road Commission would be responsible for taking care of signs in their respective right-of-way.

Sloan asked if the proposed language addressed the concerns that were expressed by a citizen at a previous meeting during public comment. Throenle responded that the language was written to address the ambiguity and conflict in the current ordinance. He stated the citizen's concerns were a very small portion of the project, as the intent was to review and revise the current twenty two pages of language.

Sloan asked about review of the language, as she understood that the review period was through the next meeting with discussion. She asked what the next step would be. Soucy responded that the Board held the final approval of the language. Throenle stepped through the process with the Commissioners as to how the language would get to the Board, emphasizing that the public hearing would be at a future Planning Commission meeting. He also said the language would go to for a legal review prior to the ordinance going to the Board.

Soucy asked the Commissioners if there were other questions. Meister questioned the difference between the language in section 18.8.c versus section 18.8.E in the proposed language regarding wall signs. Throenle replied that each building would be permitted to have its own sign. He stated that multi-use buildings, such as the Moyle Center, would be permitted to have signage for each business within that building, as is being done today.

Throenle asked the Commissioners to review the highlighted numbers for sign sizes in the document to determine if the numbers should remain as they are or should be changed. He also stated that a section was included to add home occupation signage on their properties, based on the number of home businesses that were established throughout 2020. Soucy stated it was important to look at the home business aspect as part of the changes that happened during the last year.

Meister pointed out that the wall sign language was not in the right area, as it was under ground signs and freestanding signs. Throenle stated he would bring back language for the next meeting to address the conflict.

A. Zoning Ordinance – Section 18 Signs

Staff Introduction

Throenle pointed out that he had modified section 18.8 to incorporate the requested changes from the March 2 meeting. Throenle requested the Commissioners review the language again and look at the numbers for sign sizes to see if the sizes met the Commissioner's desired sizes.

Commission Discussion

Soucy asked Meister if the changes in Section 18.8 were acceptable. Meister stated they were.

Soucy asked about off-site signs. He pointed out that there was a definition for them, but no reference in the language. Commissioners discussed the location, type, and who was responsible for enforcing those signs. After considerable discussion about the signs and the time frame that should be allowed for those signs, the Commissioners recommended to add language in the prohibited signs section for those areas that were covered under Chocolay Township zoning jurisdiction with a requirement that temporary signs would be allowed for on-site construction, landscaping, home improvement or temporary sales (such as a yard sale).

Commissioners discussed the reason for the section on non-conforming signs. Throenle explained there are five billboards that are considered non-conforming in the Township, but they would have to be removed if substantially damaged. No changes were made to the language regarding non-conforming signs.

Commissioners discussed property address signs. There was much discussion on the size of the signs, the number of signs on the end of a private driveway, and if the artwork around the address would be considered part of the sign. Language was left as written.

Commissioners discussed real estate signs. Commissioners decided that a time frame of two years would be a maximum time frame for the display of real estate signs, with an additional clause that would allow the signs to be up longer after discussion with the Zoning Administrator. Commissioners also decided to add language that the signs must be maintained in good condition, especially if the signs were up beyond two years. This language was added to section 18.2 and updated in sections 18.7 and 18.8.

Meister recommended changing the seasonal and community sign maximum to 16 square feet; commissioners concurred with the change. Commissioners agreed that the event language was fine as written.

Soucy suggested adding language for "visible from the road" to 18.2.G; Commissioners agreed with that change.

Much discussion occurred regarding political signs. Sloan recommended changing the time frame to 45 days to accommodate local elections. Commissioners agreed to keep the political sign sizes and changed the placement time from 30 days to 45 days.

Commissioners discussed home occupation signs. Meister suggested the sign should be changed to six square feet; Sloan concurred. Soucy pointed out that the sign would also help from an economic development standpoint as local residents are choosing to work and run businesses from home. Commissioners agreed that the sign size should be changed to six square feet. Soucy recommended that a maximum height be established; Commissioners decided that a maximum of six feet in height should be the limit. Commissioners agreed that one sign per property would be sufficient with no regulations as to where the sign can be on the property.

Meister asked what a festoon sign was. Throenle explained that it was a sign that had a “festive” or “glitz” feel to it.

Meister asked why the freestanding sign language regarding subdivisions and other developments was only in the agricultural district. Throenle explained that it was there because if the language were included in the General Exceptions section, it would cover all zoning districts, including commercial and industrial. He pointed out the language was also under section 18.7.

Meister also suggested adding the word “where” In 18.5.C to further clarify the language.

Commissioners agreed that sizes were good for the agricultural district.

Much discussion occurred regarding the length of time signs could be kept in place for new developments. Commissioners decided that two years was a good time frame, but additional provisions should be added that gives the Zoning Administrator the authority to require any sign remaining after the two years must be kept in good repair.

Commissioners discussed ground signs and kept the language as written.

Commissioners moved on to business centers. There was extensive discussion on this section, with Commissioners deciding to change the language to allow a maximum of 20 square feet per business unit up to a sign maximum of 100 square feet on the freestanding sign.

The commissioners also decided that if a second freestanding sign was available for properties that had over 300 feet that the combination of both of the freestanding signs cannot exceed the maximum area of 20 square feet per business unit.

Wall signs were discussed. Meister was concerned that 50 percent of the wall space was too much; he suggested the size should be 20 percent. Milton asked if the letters were spread out, would that be considered a separate sign. Throenle responded that that would be considered as one size and would be considered that way for measurement purposes. Commissioners discussed the size and changed the size to 25 percent of the wall space.

Sandwich and portable signs were discussed with no recommended changes.

Commissioners moved on to 18.10.C, where extensive discussion occurred regarding the language. After discussion, Commissioners recommended removing “unsafe” and “insecure” from the language.

Commissioners discussed item 18.10.D; no changes were recommended.

Soucy ended the discussion on the sign language with a recommendation to bring the language back for review at the next meeting. Throenle suggested that the Commissioners consider doing the public hearing at the next meeting, as they had already thoroughly reviewed the language. Rhein agreed with the recommendation.

Commission Decision

Meister moved, Sloan seconded, that the proposed language for Section 18 Signs in the Township Zoning Ordinance be presented for public hearing as changed at the April 2021 Planning Commission meeting.

Language Changes in the Document

 - c. The Zoning Administrator shall have the authority to require a sign be kept in good repair for any sign that exceeds the two year period.
- F) Seasonal decorations and community event signs which advertise public entertainment or events of public interest that occur either in the Township or in surrounding communities.
 - a. These signs cannot exceed 16 square feet in area.
- G) On-site directional signs visible from the road that do not exceed two square feet each.
- I) Political signs:
 - b. These signs cannot be placed more than 45 days before an election and must be removed within ten days of the election for which they were placed.
- K) Home occupation sign:
 - b. The sign shall not exceed six square feet in area or exceed six feet in height.
(will require a revision of Section 6.9 of the Township Zoning Ordinance)

18.4 Prohibited Signs

- M) Off-site signs within the zoning jurisdiction of Chocolay Township that do not advertise on-site construction, on-site home improvement, on-site landscaping, or temporary on-site events (such as a yard sale).

18.5 General Provisions

- C) Where conditional uses are permitted any number of freestanding or wall signs not to exceed a total combined area of sixty square feet, and not to exceed a height of 12 feet.
- D) Temporary signs are allowed in any district with approval from the Zoning Administrator.

18.6 Agriculture / Forestry (AF) District

- B) One temporary sign for a new residential development, advertising the sale or lease of lots, buildings, or units within the development.
 - b. Such signs shall be allowed on a temporary basis for a period not to exceed two years. However, the Zoning Administrator shall have authority to grant authorizations to continue such a sign for a reasonable period beyond the two years, providing that a substantial number of lots, buildings, or units remain vacant.
 - c. The Zoning Administrator shall have the authority to require a sign to be kept in good repair for any sign that exceeds the two year period.

18.7 Residential (R-1), High-Density Residential (R-2), Multi-Family Residential (MFR), Planned Unit Development (PUD), and Waterfront Residential (WFR) Districts

- B) One temporary sign for a new residential development, advertising the sale or lease of lots, buildings, or units within the development.
 - b. Such signs shall be allowed on a temporary basis for a period not to exceed two years. However, the Zoning Administrator shall have authority to grant authorizations to continue such a sign for a reasonable period beyond the two years, providing that a substantial number of lots, buildings, or units remain vacant.
 - c. The Zoning Administrator shall have the authority to require a sign to be kept in good repair for any sign that exceeds the two year period.

18.8 Commercial (C), Industrial (I), and Mixed Use Overlay Districts

- A) Ground signs:
 - a. Ground signs shall not be more than eight feet in height. Such signs may be multifaced but shall not exceed 60 square feet in surface display area per face.
- B) Freestanding signs:
 - a. A business center shall be permitted one on-premises freestanding sign, which may be directly or indirectly illuminated. Such sign shall not exceed 30 feet in height. A maximum of 20 square feet per business unit in the center is permitted up to a sign maximum of 100 square feet.
 - b. One on-premises freestanding sign, directly or indirectly illuminated, shall be permitted for each zoning lot, and the sign shall have a maximum area of 20 square feet and a maximum height of 30 feet.
 - c. The aggregate size of both signs cannot exceed the maximum area of 20 square feet per business unit.
- D) For each lot having a frontage of 300 feet or more, one additional free-standing sign shall be permitted provided that such signs are at least 200 feet apart.
- E) Wall signs:
 - b. The sign shall be limited to an area equal to not more than 25 percent of the area of the wall of the establishment upon which the sign is placed.

18.10 Administration and Enforcement

- C) Should any sign be found improperly constructed, or not in accordance with the requirements of this ordinance, the owner shall be required to make the sign safe, secure, and otherwise in compliance with the requirements of this ordinance within 30 calendar days of notice from the Township.

Commissioners recessed for five minutes.

VIII. New Business

A. Master Plan – Section 7 Land Use Plan

Staff Introduction

Throenle explained that he reviewed section 7 section from the last meeting and looked at the character area descriptions in Appendix L of the Master Plan, 2015 Edition. He said that after reading through those character area descriptions, he reformatted section 7 to incorporate the character area language into the future land use language. He stated he also added a section related to broadband to each future land use, as there were areas within the Township that did not have sufficient broadband coverage. Throenle stated he added additional language related to tiny homes and garcabins. He emphasized that section 7 was the driver for the new master plan.

Commission Discussion

Sloan asked if section 7 related to the future land use maps from Appendix T and Appendix U from the Master Plan, 2015 Edition. Throenle replied it did and walked through the maps with the Commissioners.

Soucy asked about the zoning plan, as he did not see the plan in section 7. Throenle responded that section 8 would be discussed at a future meeting that will cover the zoning plan in detail.

Soucy reported on his meeting with Lake Superior Community Partnership in regard to vacant business properties in the Township. He said that properties such as the Varvil Center were expected to turn over rather quickly. Throenle added that Lake State Industries was closing the Marquette location at the end of the month.

Soucy stated that discussion on section 7 will pick up at the next meeting. He also gave an overview on the properties and potential development for the former Quizno site and the red house on the corner of Corning and US 41 South.

Sloan asked if there were tracked changes on section 7. Throenle stated the entire section was reformatted, so providing a cross-reference to the former document would have been difficult. Sloan asked if the future land use maps were part of the concentrated effort; Throenle replied that they do, but not to look at the maps as zoning maps.

B. Master Plan Review – Section 7 Land Use Plan

Staff Introduction

Throenle asked Commissioners to approve the section as a draft, with the understanding that anything highlighted in the document would be updated as soon as the census and other related data was available. Throenle indicated the Commissioners would get another review opportunity when the entire plan is presented later in the year.

Commission Discussion

Mullen-Campbell indicated that she read through the section twice and was satisfied with the language. Sloan indicated no issues. Lindsey indicated the section was good as presented. Rhein did not find anything major that was missing from the language; his only concern was size of the housing.

Milton asked a question about Table 11 regarding the Conservation Recreation Area item. Throenle explained that the Conservation Recreation Area designation was for areas that would not be built as these are considered unbuildable areas that could be used for conservation and recreation.

Commission Decision

Lindsey moved, Mullen-Campbell seconded, that the language proposed for section 7 of the 2021 master plan be accepted as written.

VIII. New Business

A. Preliminary Site Plan Review – Contractor Business

Staff Introduction

Throenle introduced Tim Soucy as the applicant that wishes to develop the parcel that is located north of the Moyle Center. Throenle indicated that Soucy has submitted a preliminary plan and is looking for review from the Commissioners prior to submitting a formal plan. Throenle reminded the Commissioners that this was the time for Commissioners to present questions regarding the plan.

Commission Discussion

Soucy indicated the location for his driveway would be as far east as possible after conversation with MDOT. He indicated that road would be an easement across the neighboring property. He is looking at developing the property into six one-acre lots, with a road down the middle of the lots (three lots to the north, three to the south). One of the lots would be for his electrical business.

Rhein asked which lot Soucy was going to use for his business. Soucy indicated the lot would be the farthest one east on the north side of the proposed road (lot 3). Milton asked if there was going to be a large amount of fill required for the project. Soucy indicated there will be a logger coming in to clear the lot but did not expect to need much fill to complete the project.

Rhein asked where the drainage would be, as he did not want to see the houses on M-28 being affected. Soucy stated he would have his engineers look into it. Sloan pointed out that the submitted plans showed drainage staying within the project and draining to the northwest toward lot 1.

Sloan asked if there would be State involvement for drainage and stormwater runoff. Throenle responded that both the Township and Michigan EGLE (Environment, Great Lakes & Energy) would be involved in the process. He also stated Marquette County would be involved with the proposed road.

Sloan asked about a catchment basin. Soucy stated he would refer that to his engineers to answer as to where the location would be. Sloan also asked about runoff requirements. Throenle stated the Township does not have requirements regarding runoff, but that County officials would be involved in the decision process.

Sloan asked about the road connecting to M-28 and the proximity to the house at the east edge of the project. Soucy stated the road was at least 300 feet from that property's driveway.

Soucy also indicated that MDOT was concerned with the turning lane. Throenle pointed out that MDOT provided information that was included in the Commissioner packet.

Rhein told Soucy that he thought the plan was a good start. Rhein said he was looking forward to seeing the project go forward. Mullen-Campbell and Milton concurred with Rhein's comments.

B. 2021 Master Plan – Section 4 Community Systems

Staff Introduction

Throenle stated that he would do the introduction for sections 4, 5 and 6 together so that each section would not have to be done individually. He stated each section was extracted from the master plan and was redesigned and rewritten for the new master plan. He pointed out that there were three subsections under each heading: 1) Profile, which defined the Township as it is today, 2) Risk, which are existing or potential risks related to the section, and 3) Opportunities, which are possible projects or other items that would reduce the risks and provide for enhancements. He also stated that this was first presentation for each of the sections and that they were in draft form. He indicated the green highlighted sections were for Commissioner review, and the yellow highlights were for additional staff research.

Commission Discussion

Mullen-Campbell asked for Commissioner discussion. Rhein suggested a page by page discussion, with the intent to cover the items in green. Throenle did a screen share to provide an electronic copy for Commissioner review.

Commissioners decided to keep the language related to an annual asset management plan in the Transportation section as a way to provide checks and balances between the Planning Commission and the Board.

Commissioners reviewed the language related to road millages in the Transportation section and decided to keep the language. Rhein gave an overview of what roads were being addressed as a part of the milage process. Sloan wanted clarification that the millage was for everyone in the Township. Bohjanen gave additional information as to how roads were chosen for priority for repairs and replacement.

Commissioners discussed fire numbers and decided to keep the language. Mullen-Campbell pointed out that not only are the numbers good for fire protection, they are also good for package deliveries and other access to the address. Milton expressed that not having fire numbers in the Township gave the census workers a difficult time in the Township when attempting to find addresses.

Commissioners discussed the benefits of a water system for the Township described in the Water System section. Bohjanen provided an overview of the history related to water in the Township. Commissioners were satisfied with the language in the document.

Throenle pointed out that there are items in the Waste Management section being addressed with the current sewer system upgrades.

Commissioners decided to keep the language related to energy systems in the Public Energy section. They decided to keep the language related to solar arrays, solar access ordinances, and incentives for property owners to implement renewable energy measures in the same section. Rhein indicated that the direction should be for solar, and that wind power is a noise issue. Lindsey concurred with Rhein's comments.

Lindsey excused herself from the meeting at this point.

Commissioners did not provide changes to the Food Systems and Public Safety and Emergency sections. Throenle pointed out the fire number language was added to the section.

Commissioners recommended keeping the language for a livability committee in the Public Health section.

Extensive discussion took place regarding recycling and waste management in the Recycling and Solid Waste Management section. Commissioners changed the language:

“The Township should pursue options ~~a requirement~~ for Township residents and businesses to contract with their choice of waste management and recycling firms for waste and recycling pick up.”

Commissioners extensively discussed the 20-acre minimum for agriculture forestry lands in the Managed Development and Growth section. Rhein suggested the minimum should be 10 acres, but he preferred looking at a site plan to determine what is best by individual parcels. Throenle reviewed the history of the non-conforming lot sizes in the AF zoning district and how those non-conformances happened. He stated the intent of the 2008 zoning ordinance and the 2015 master plan was to preserve the agriculture / forestry land. After much discussion, Commissioners requested a rewording of the section for review at another meeting.

Commissioners decided to keep language related to PUD development in the AF districts and to keep the language related to resisting development of vacant land if there were existing development areas available.

Throenle pointed out that there was language in the Managed Economy section related to restarting the Chocolay Area Business Association (CABA). He talked about language related to a geocaching project, which the Commissioners decided to keep. Commissioners also kept the language regarding community gathering spaces and the four season community center.

Mullen-Campbell suggested tabling the decision on this section until the next meeting so that questions regarding the waste management option and the AF acreage issue could be resolved. Commissioners agreed.

C. 2021 Master Plan – Section 5 Private Systems

Staff Introduction

Throenle indicated this section is related to both private and business systems. He stated the statistics would be updated as soon as the 2020 census data was available.

Commission Discussion

Commissioners removed the following language in the Private Transportation section:

“It is important to revise the zoning ordinance to accommodate mixed-use options such as apartments above commercial or accessory dwelling units.”

Throenle told Commissioners this language was already in the Township Zoning Ordinance.

Commissioners removed the following language in the Private Transportation section:

“To facilitate car-sharing opportunities, the Township can permit designated car-share vehicle parking stalls throughout the Township at multiple locations on public or private property. The Township could also work with the City of Marquette to ensure that car-share or bike rental options are available to facilitate travel to diverse and multiple destinations. The Township can provide examples of car-share agreements to help residents organize their own initiative.”

The Commissioners replaced the language with

“The Township should assist in providing locations for vehicle recharging stations in the Township.”

Commissioners changed the following language in the Private Transportation section:

“Arranging flexible work options can help reduce transportation costs, such as telecommuting and four-day work weeks. These options should be explored as alternatives for both Township employees ~~and private citizens.~~”

Commissioners discussed tiny homes in the Housing Resilience section. Rhein suggested that the tiny homes should be limited in where they are located, such as a mobile home park. Mullen-Campbell disagreed with Rhein’s comments, as she believed that tiny homes would be acceptable in other districts. Throenle suggested leaving the language in the document, as both of their comments could be addressed as part of the zoning ordinance discussion. The Commissioners decided to keep the language.

Commission Decision

Rhein moved, Mullen-Campbell seconded, that the language proposed for Section 5 Private Systems be accepted as changed.

Vote: Ayes: 4 Nays: 0 Motion carried

D. 2021 Master Plan – Section 6 Natural Systems

Staff Introduction

Throenle indicated this section is related to any system that occurs naturally, such as the forest lands and waters throughout the Township.

Commission Discussion

Commissioners decided to keep the language related to larger minimum parcel size, conversion of productive farmlands, residential development sizes, PDR ordinances, conservation easements, and alternative uses for agriculture properties in the Farmlands, Forests, and other Productive Lands section.

Throenle stated the Choccolay River watershed extended across multiple jurisdictions, and that language in the plan was extracted from the 1999 watershed plan. He pointed out a need to get the plan rewritten, as well as adding a document covering the Sand River watershed.

The Commissioners decided to change the Township wetlands language in the Wetlands, Dunes, and other Areas of Particular Concern section to:

~~“The Township should encourage the establishment of buffer zones. Zoning standards could extend wetland protection to small depressional wetlands under 5 acres and encourage the establishment of buffer zones~~ or the preservation of native vegetation or mature trees around existing jurisdictional wetlands.”

Throenle indicated the need for the natural features overlay district is related to the erosion occurring along Lake Superior; the Commissioners decided to keep the language regarding the natural features overlay district. The Commissioners also kept the requirement for Township fire numbers found in the same section.

Commission Decision

Rhein moved, Sloan seconded, that the language proposed for Section 6 Natural Systems be accepted as changed.

Vote: Ayes: 4 Nays: 0 Motion carried

E. Ordinance 69 Nuisance

Staff Introduction

Throenle stated the purpose of Ordinance 69 was to combine and simplify language from Township ordinances 37A (Regulation of Nuisance), 55 (Vehicle and Trailer Parking and Storage), and 66 (Noise) into one ordinance.

Commission Discussion

Mullen-Campbell suggested Commissioners review the language with the intent of presenting the language for a public hearing at the May meeting. Sloan, Rhein, and Milton had no problems with the language as written and requested moving the ordinance on to a public hearing.

Commission Decision

Sloan moved, Rhein seconded, that the proposed language for Ordinance 69 Nuisance be presented for public hearing as presented at the May 2021 Planning Commission meeting.

Vote: Ayes: 4 Nays: 0 Motion carried

IX. Public Comment

None – no public was present

X. Commissioner's Comments

Rhein

Asked Throenle about the development that was going on near the NMU golf course. Throenle responded that a project was being designed but a formal plan had not been submitted to the Township for the project. He indicated that the two homes being built are being built independent of the proposed project.

XI. Director's Report

Planning / Zoning Administrator Throenle

Throenle requested feedback from the Commissioners related to the efficient use of the Commissioner's tablets. He suggested an alternative to return to paper packets. Commissioners preferred to keep the tablets for meeting use with the intent of seeing the documents and easily moving through the documents. Commissioners preferred a bigger tablet, with the delivery of printed large maps and site plans. Bohjanen stated it was good to have the document shared as it was during the meeting, as it made it easier to follow through the materials.

Throenle reminded the Commissioners that the May meeting would be a public hearing for the nuisance ordinance. He also thanked the Commissioners for taking the time to review the documents as they did during the meeting.

A. Master Plan Review – Section 4 Community Systems

Staff Introduction

Throenle stated the section was reviewed at the previous meeting and was tabled with the intent to discuss the items at this meeting. Throenle pointed out that the Commissioners accepted the language in the section except for those items highlighted in the section for Commissioner review. He reminded Commissioners that some highlighted items were indicated that way for staff review.

Commission Discussion

Meister indicated that the assessment studies for water systems statement should be retained; Commissioners concurred.

Throenle pointed out the change in the language found in the Recycling and Waste Management section regarding options for citizens regarding waste management and recycling was based on changes the Commissioners requested in the April meeting. Commissioners agreed to keep the changed language.

Sloan joined the meeting at 6:10 PM.

Extensive discussion took place regarding the minimum lot size in the Agriculture Forestry (AF) Zoning district. Commissioners decided the lot size in AF should remain at 20 acres; however, they decided that there should be a consideration for zoning districts to accommodate those AF lots that were under the 20-acre minimum. Commissioners changed the language to:

“The Township should review the non-conforming lot size and zoning situation in the Agriculture Forestry district (AF). The Township ~~should consider revising the minimum lot size in this district and~~ should consider adding additional zoning districts to accommodate the smaller lots. During the review, the Township should establish the type of uses permitted in the newly-established districts as compared to those in the existing AF district. Smaller lot sizes should be encouraged to allow for the establishment of hobby or small family farms.”

Commission Decision

Sloan moved, Rhein seconded, that the language proposed for section 4 of the 2021 master plan be accepted as changed.

Vote: Ayes: 6 Nays: 0 Motion carried

VIII. New Business

A. 2021 Master Plan – Section 8 Zoning Plan

Staff Introduction

Throenle stated this section is intended to address items found in the Township Zoning Ordinance that conflict with the master plan. Throenle pointed out that there were items highlighted in the Zoning Plan section for Commissioner review.

Commission Discussion

Commissioners covered the section page by page. Throenle pointed out that the item highlighted for notifications to property owners was currently done via the newspaper and letters sent to property owners within 500 feet of the property owner that was scheduled for the hearing. He stated that staff was looking a digital notification system as part of the Township website update. Commissioners accepted the language as written.

Commissioners decided to keep the language regarding minimum lot sizes.

Commissioners talked about the size of lots to accommodate tiny homes and where the tiny homes could be located. Throenle pointed out that the zoning ordinance would determine the districts where tiny homes could be located, and that discussion would occur when the zoning ordinance was revised. Commissioners decided to keep the language as written.

Commissioners decided to keep the language related to simplified site plan review.

Commission Decision

Sloan moved, Rhein seconded, that the language proposed for section 8 Zoning Plan be accepted as presented.

XI. Director’s Report

Planning / Zoning Administrator Throenle

Throenle pointed out that an informational document came in prior to the meeting that announced the Marquette County master plan was available for public review. He stated the review timeframe was 63 days.

Throenle apologized to the Commissioners for not having the public hearing for the nuisance ordinance on the agenda. He stated he missed the deadline for publishing the hearing the Mining Journal. Throenle told the Commissioners that the June meeting would be a public hearing for the nuisance ordinance.

He told the Commissioners that the master plan review was on schedule. He thanked the Commissioners for the work they had completed, and stated that the next meeting would start the discussion related to the master plan strategies.

Scott Emerson, 119 Lakewood Lane, Marquette Michigan

He spoke about the master plan strategies and enforcement emphasis for zoning changes because of the strategies.

V. Public Hearings

A. Ordinance 69 Nuisance

Throenle introduced the ordinance as a combination of existing ordinance 37A (Regulation of Nuisance), ordinance 55 (Vehicle and Trailer Parking and Storage) and ordinance 66 (Noise). He stated the intent was to consolidate the language from the three ordinances into one ordinance for consistency.

He stated two public comments were included in the packet.

Meister opened the public hearing for comment at 7:04 PM.

Scott Emerson, 119 Lakewood Lane, Marquette Michigan

He spoke about section 4.E of the proposed ordinance regarding exhaust noise and measurement of noise levels.

Stephanie Gencheff, 597 Lakewood Lane, Marquette Michigan

She spoke regarding the suggested time for construction. She would like to see the time frame changed as 10 PM seemed too late.

Meister closed the public hearing at 7:12 PM.

VII. Unfinished Business

A. Ordinance 69 Nuisance

Staff Introduction

Throenle stated that the issue sent in regarding light as part of the ordinance did not pertain to the proposed ordinance as light is covered under the Zoning Ordinance. He said that staff was not certified to measure light or sound.

Commission Discussion

Throenle requested the Commissioners address the number of inoperable vehicles in Section 5.O. Rhein suggested changing the number to two. Meister concurred with the change.

After Commissioner discussion, the Commissioners decided that the number should be set to two, and changed the section to read:

- (O) No more than two inoperable vehicles with or without all main component parts attached may be stored outside provided all other requirements of this section are met, and:
 1. The vehicles are stored only within the side or rear yard of the property.
 2. No discernable leakage of fluids can be seen.

Meister pointed out that the motor vehicle portion of the ordinance is still an enforcement issue under the vehicle code, and it should go to the Board to direct the police department for enforcement.

After discussion, Commissioners modified section 4.E to read:

(E) Exhaust Noise

The discharge into the open air of the exhaust of any stationary or mobile internal combustion engine without a muffler or other device which will effectively prevent or reduce loud or explosive noises from the engine as defined in Michigan state law.

Meister brought up the time frame for the end of construction time. After considerable discussion, Commissioners modified sections 4.F, 4.G and 4.H to read:

(F) Landscaping with Motorized Equipment

Except in the event of an emergency, landscaping with motorized equipment of any property other than between the hours of 7 AM and 9 PM, where the activity results in the creation of unusually loud noise or noise which injures or endangers the health or safety of others.

(G) Construction or Repairing of Buildings

Except in the event of an emergency, the demolition, excavation, alteration, construction or repair of any building or structure other than between the hours of 7 AM and 9 PM, where such activity results in the creation of unusually loud noise or noise which injures or endangers the health or safety of others.

(H) Construction or Repairing of Roads

Except in the event of an emergency, construction or repairing of roads which has the following condition is prohibited:

In any zoning district, except in the event of an emergency, the demolition, excavation, alteration, construction or repair of any road other than between the hours of 7 AM and 9 PM, where such activity results in the creation of unusually loud noise or noise which injures or endangers the health or safety of others.

Commission Decision

Mullen-Campbell moved, Rhein seconded, that after considering comment presented during a public hearing and Commissioner discussion, the proposed language for Ordinance 69 Nuisance be sent to the Township Board for consideration as changed.

Vote: Ayes: 6 Nays: 0 Motion carried

VIII. New Business

A. 2021 Master Plan – Section 9 Strategies

Staff Introduction

Throenle said this section is intended to address items found in sections 1 through 8 in the proposed master plan. He stated the concept is to identify the idea with the tasks to develop the idea. He stated there are three categories – administrative, capital, and regulatory – within the strategies. He indicated there were five sections highlighted in green for Commissioner decision purposes.

Commission Discussion

Lindsey stated that the strategies should make it as easy as possible for new business to locate in the Township.

Commissioners covered the section page by page. Meister asked where the strategies would be tracked. Throenle stated the Board would review the strategies and determine the priorities each year for the Planning Commission to consider.

Under the Economic Development section Commissioners decided to remove the language regarding four-season resort found in strategy ED-3.

Under the Future Land Use and Development section Commissioners decided to remove strategy FL-4 regarding negotiating with the state for agriculture easements.

Under the Natural Systems section Commissioners decided to remove Superior Watershed Partnership and replace it with non-profit in both occurrences in strategy NS-1:

“Collaborate with non-profit organizations, County Planning, Great Lakes stakeholder groups, and other regional partners, or attend targeted training sessions, to stay informed of research and data that will help anticipate climate change impacts.”

“Collaborate with non-profit organizations, County Planning, Great Lakes stakeholder groups, and other regional partners to plan and identify mitigation and adaptation strategies for anticipated climate impacts.”

Under the Public Safety, Emergency, and Health Services section Commissioners decided to change the language regarding community watch in strategy PS-7 to “Consider neighborhood watch groups to passively assist in public safety and enforcement tasks by notifying appropriate officials.”

Under the Transportation – Community section Commissioners decided to change the language regarding a four-season transit station in strategy TC-5 to “Work with ALTRAN and MarqTran to seek funding to construct a four-season transit station in the Township.

The project may involve a property purchase or easement.”

Under the Transportation – Community section Commissioners decided to remove the language for passenger rail found in strategy TC-5.

Commission Decision

Mullen-Campbell moved, Rhein seconded, that the language proposed for section 9 Strategies be accepted as changed.

Vote: Ayes: 6 Nays: 0 Motion carried

IX. Public Comment

Stephanie Gencheff, 597 Lakewood Lane, Marquette Michigan

A. Preliminary Site Plan Review – Parker Heights

Derek Parker, owner of the property, introduced himself and the project to the Commissioners.

Staff Introduction

Throenle pointed out to the Commissioners that the discussion would not require a decision on the part of the Commissioners. He told the Commissioners that the purpose was to discuss the project with the applicant and provide feedback on the project.

Throenle stated the applicant had two variations to the project as presented: the project would either be connected to the Township sewer system or have individual septic systems on each lot. The final decision would be based on a Township sewer system capacity study that was underway; determining connection to the sewer system for the project would depend on available capacity.

Throenle indicated there was site plan review checklist in the packet that checked against the plan that was submitted.

Commission Discussion

Soucy questioned the east portion of the property near the dog kennel. Savolainen, one of the project engineers, pointed out that the potential lots and the kennel were for future development. Parker indicated the portion of the property was sold to a private owner prior to developing the plans and was not part of the project.

Linsey asked about access to the kennel. Savolainen indicated the access was from US 41 South via a private road.

Soucy indicated it would be nice to have a non-motorized access to Ortman Road.

Meister said the development made sense, especially with where it was located; Rhein concurred, and said it was good especially with the sewer system located near the project.

Milton questioned the use of the kennel parcel. Parker indicated that he had not decided yet as to what to do with the kennel. He did state that if the project was approved, he probably would seek rezoning on the kennel portion to make it residential.

Linsey asked if the project was designed for condominiums or homes. Parker replied the project is designed for future homes.

Savolainen pointed out that the northwest portion of the property would be open space with an easement established for sewer access. He also indicated that MDOT would be contacted for permits for the project.

Milton asked about the difference between a site condominium plan and a proprietor's plat. Mileski, another project consultant, explained the differences to the Commissioners.

Rhein expressed his pleasure with the plan. Soucy pointed out the plan addresses the need for housing in the area.

Mullen-Campbell asked about site lighting. Savolainen asked the Commissioners for recommendations. Meister asked Throenle about ordinance specifications; Throenle responded that the basic requirement was downcast lighting, with the intent of providing lighting for safety. Throenle recommended consideration for entry / exit lighting to the project from US 41 South.

Meister requested aligning the entrance to the project with the private road across the highway. He asked about the road in the project; Savolainen responded the road will be built to Road Commission standards.

Soucy asked about signage at the entrance. Parker responded that it was still under discussion. Soucy asked Throenle if the sign should be included in the project; Throenle indicated that it should so that the Commissioners could see signage as part of the formal site plan review.

Parker stated that he would like to keep the two billboard signs that exist on the property. Throenle indicated they are allowed as long as no changes other than the messages were made. Throenle pointed out that the signs could not be moved or changed in dimensions; if they were, they would have to be removed.

Rhein asked about project deadlines. Parker indicated that he would like to begin selling lots before the end of the year.

Soucy asked about broadband access. Savolainen indicated that a decision was not made yet; however, it is a primary item for the development.

Discussion took place about deadlines for presenting the final plan to the Commissioners. Throenle indicated that there was a 21 day requirement for submitting the plan. The developers indicated they anticipated presenting the plan for the September meeting. Throenle pointed out that MDOT and County health department approvals would be required as well.

Commissioners concurred that the project was located in a good spot, and that it would be a good project for the Township.

B. 2021 Master Plan Review – Appendices Review

Staff Introduction

Throenle pointed out that the Commissioners were on track to get the plan out for September review.

He indicated the appendices were the final portion for Commissioner approval in the draft master plan. He provided a cross-reference to the main document for links to the appendices. He also stated that he would like to have an additional discussion on the agricultural forestry zoning district at the August meeting.

Commission Discussion

Soucy asked how many pages were in the appendices. Throenle indicated the total is 73 pages without adding the final section of public comment.

Soucy requested that the summary page from the Marquette County master plan update be included in the Appendices. Throenle indicated the page could be added as Appendix F.

Meister suggested that when the site plan is reviewed for the proposed M-28 project above the Moyle Center that the developer might want to consider the possibility of providing access above his project to incorporate the routes indicated on the proposed access change maps in Appendix E. Additional discussion involved the extension of the route to the north and to the south.

Mullen-Campbell indicated that page 46 of the appendices (Township Roads) had Riverdale Court instead of Riverdale Road.

Throenle pointed out that a new page with County road names was added as a cross-reference to Township roads. He stated many of the government entities use the County road name instead of the Township road name.

Throenle pointed out that the remainder of data in both the master plan and the appendices is waiting on the release of the 2020 census data.

Commission Decision

Mullen-Campbell moved, Rhein seconded, that the master plan appendices be accepted as changed and be reviewed at the August meeting.

Vote: Ayes: 6 Nays: 0 Motion carried

X. Public Comment

Stephanie Gencheff, 597 Lakewood Lane, Marquette Michigan

Asked how expensive a new survey would be to conduct for Township input. Her interests were related to population and job changes.

She clarified her statement that she was not against public water; she preferred her well water over public-provided water.

Soucy responded that statistics could be pulled regarding Gencheff's questions. Meister suggested a new online survey with the same questions to determine if there were changes since the last survey. Commissioners discussed the potential of doing a new survey. Bohjanen stated it would be a good thought for the future.

XI. Commissioner's Comments

Rhein

Good discussion during the meeting.

Milton

Echoed Rhein's comments.

Mullen-Campbell

Good work session.

Lindsey

Pointed out articles found in the newspaper regarding projects occurring in the area. She mentioned specifically the recycled glass found in the garden areas that the Girl Scouts maintain in the Township. She also mentioned a town hall meeting with State representative Sarah Cambensy at the library on July 28.

Meister

Suggested that the Board set aside monies for grant matches so that applications could be considered for grant-funded projects.

Soucy

Concurred with Meister's suggestion.

XII. Director's Report

Planning / Zoning Administrator Throenle

He asked the Commissioners to consider changing the August meeting from 6 PM to 7 PM. He stated the Board is scheduled to meet at 5 PM and changing the meeting to 7 PM would give Rhein the ability to attend. Commissioners agreed to change the meeting to 7 PM.

He indicated that there would be a site plan review at the August meeting.

He reported that Lindsey had dropped off information in the office. He indicated he was particularly interested in the Releaf program regarding trees along the corridor.

He also informed the Commissioners about upcoming Township technology and web site changes.

I. Meeting Call to Order

Chair Ryan Soucy called the meeting to order at 7:00 PM.

The time was changed to accommodate the Board meeting held earlier in the evening.

II. Roll Call

Members present at roll call:

Ryan Soucy (Chair)
George Meister (Vice Chair)
Donna Mullen-Campbell (Secretary)
Don Rhein (Board)
Eve Lindsey
Rebecca Sloan

Members absent at roll call:

Kendall Milton

Staff present:

Dale Throenle (Planning Director / Zoning Administrator)

III. Additional Agenda Items / Approval of Agenda

Mullen-Campbell requested to do new business first to allow the site plan review to occur first. Soucy requested to add an item to discuss his potential conflict of interest with the site plan review.

Rhein stated Soucy should be allowed to participate in the site plan review discussion and decision as Rhein saw no reason for Soucy to be excluded; Sloan concurred.

Rhein moved, Meister seconded, to approve the agenda as discussed.

Vote: Ayes: 6 Nays: 0 Motion carried

A. Soucy Conflict of Interest

Soucy outlined his credentials and his relationship to Tim Soucy, the site plan applicant. He stated he was not receiving a financial consideration from the project. Commissioners discussed the issue; all had positive comments related to Soucy's lack of conflict.

Rhein moved, Meister seconded, to allow Soucy to participate in the site plan review discussion.

Vote: Ayes: 6 Nays: 0 Motion carried

B. Site Plan Review – Soucy Electric

Staff Introduction

Throenle introduced the project being proposed by Tim Soucy, the owner of Soucy Electric. Throenle pointed out the location of the project would be north of the Moyle Center on M-28 in the commercial district. He indicated the site would be a developed site with Soucy planning to locate his business on lot 3 of the project. He presented aerial pictures of the site to show the location.

Sloan asked for clarification as to where the wetlands are. Throenle indicated that the lot under consideration was not under wetland consideration. Throenle also explained the process that EGLE and the Township Zoning department follows when requested to review wetlands.

Throenle indicated there was site plan review checklist in the packet that checked against the plan that was submitted. He stated that outdoor storage was not on the submitted plans. He added that the topography map was added prior to the meeting as was distributed to the Commissioners for consideration. He added that snow removal was not shown on the plan.

Commission Discussion

Meister asked about the use of the building. Soucy stated he would have a bathroom, and would eventually add an office, but the primary use of the building was to be a warehouse.

Meister asked about the well location; Rhein followed with a question concerning the septic location.

Meister questioned the drainage from the property. Throenle showed on the map where the water would flow toward the north toward Silver Creek and the adjoining wetlands. Meister suggested a conditional approval for the site plan with a well location and storm water flow and retention.

Sloan asked about site lighting. Soucy stated he would be installing a minimum set of lights on the building for site security.

Chair Soucy asked that a snow removal location be added to the site plan.

Commission Decision

Meister moved, Sloan seconded, that the site plan for Soucy Electric be approved with the following conditions:

The well location be shown on the site plan, that storm water retention and flow for location for lot 3 be added, and the snow storage be added, with staff approval when conditions are met.

Vote: Ayes: 6 Nays: 0 Motion carried

A. 2021 Master Plan – Agriculture / Forestry (AF) Zoning District Considerations

Staff Introduction

Throenle gave Commissioners a background on how parcels in the Agriculture / Forestry (AF) district became non-conforming. He also presented a section of the 2005 master plan that presented a provision for divisions of AF acreage. He added this should have been addressed in the 2008 ordinance but was not.

He stated the proposed change would only apply to parcels larger than 10 acres, allowing those owners to split off five acre parcels for up to four five acre parcels for those that had 40 acres.

He also added that language should be added to the master plan draft to support wildlife corridors and recreation in the AF district.

Commission Discussion

Considerable discussion took place regarding the AF acreage split provisions. Most of the discussion was centered on the intended perception of what the AF district represented.

Meister stated that the split provision should not be included, as the intent for the AF district was to keep open space and the perceived rural character that went with that; Sloan concurred. Rhein felt that there was not really an issue in doing the splits according to the table.

Commissioners suggested that another survey be completed prior to the start of the zoning ordinance to determine what the public decision should be on these parcels. Commissioners also wanted to see the zoning maps that existed prior to the 2008 ordinance to determine what parcels were involved and the impact that would have on the zoning ordinance and the AF district.

After much discussion, the Commissioners drafted the following language changes to the Agriculture and Forestry (AF) subsection in the Land Use Descriptions section.

Under Intent:

“The intent of this land use category is to preserve tracts of lands for forestry or agriculture activity, to promote open space for wildlife corridors, to increase food security, provide for wood products and fuel, protect wildlife habitat, reduce risk of wildfire, preserve rural character, and to provide outdoor recreation opportunities.”

Under Future Land Uses and Development Patterns:

“These areas include lands that should not be divided into smaller parcels because of river corridors, wetlands and the preservation of scenic rural character. However, lot division requirements for these parcels should be reduced to a minimum of ten acres, with the potential of considering further minimum splits in the AF district in the Township Zoning Ordinance.”

Commission Decision

Sloan moved, Rhein seconded, that the language proposed for the Agriculture and Forestry (AF) portion in the Future Land Use Plan section of the proposed 2021 master plan be accepted as changed during the meeting.

Vote: Ayes: 6 Nays: 0 Motion carried

B. Master Plan – Appendices Review

Staff Introduction

Throenle pointed out the changes in the appendices that were added from the last meeting’s discussion.

Commission Discussion

Soucy stated the changes looked good as presented.

Commission Decision

Mullen-Campbell moved, Rhein seconded, that the language proposed for the master plan appendices be accepted as presented.

X. Public Comment

Kendra Symbal, 100 Aspen Drive

Stated she appreciated the work the Planning Commission was doing, and the effort put into the work.

Stephanie Gencheff, 597 Lakewood Lane, Marquette Michigan

Stated she felt that five acres in the agriculture / forestry district was too small.

XI. Commissioner's Comments

Sloan

A. Site Plan Review – Parker Estates

Staff Introduction

Throenle introduced the formal site plan review for the project being proposed by Derek Parker, the owner of Parker Estates on US 41 South. He indicated the plan was presented previously as a preliminary site plan review, and he returned the discussion to the Commissioners for their conversation with the applicant.

Commission Discussion

Parker informed the Commissioners that he had drawn up a formal master deed for the project, that the MDOT permit was received, that adjustments were made to the internal road for the project, and connections to the Township sewer system were added to the plans as a result of the suggestions from the preliminary site plan review.

Savolainen, one of the project engineers, indicated the sewer connection was changed on the new plans to avoid the wetland at the northeast corner of the property. He stated EGLE (Michigan Department of Environment, Great Lakes & Energy) was reviewing the drawings for approval. He also addressed the MDOT (Michigan Department of Transportation) approval for the entrance to the project. He indicated that each property owner would be requested to install a six-foot dusk-to-dawn light at the end of the property driveway for safety purposes along the proposed road, and that a request would be submitted to Marquette Board of Light and Power to install a light at the entrance from US 41 South.

Soucy asked about the development possibilities for the wetland area. Savolainen responded that the area would be established as a common area for the development and would serve as part of the path for the sanitary sewer system.

Sloan asked if all the property run off would go into the wetland area. Savolainen responded that it would not; he said much of the water would run into a storm water retention basin with an overflow into the wetland if necessary.

Sloan asked about a sidewalk along the highway. Throenle pointed out that the corridor in that area does not have either a sidewalk or bicycle lane.

Throenle told the Commissioners that Township staff had completed a sewer study for the Township. He stated that based on the study, the project was eligible for connection to the system.

Sloan asked about the quality of the water. Parker indicated that the water quality was good, as he was using the same aquifer for the kennel located near the project.

Soucy introduced comments that were received prior to the meeting regarding the sanitary sewer system. Savolainen responded that the system was designed to run along the right-of-way on US 41 South. Manhole access for cleaning the system would be accessible to vehicles and personnel for cleaning and maintenance purposes. He indicated that nothing can or will be built above the sanitary system.

Soucy asked what conditions the retention basin was designed for. Savolainen responded that it is designed to accommodate a 100-year occurrence of rain.

Milton asked if the sewer flow was gravity from the project to the lift station. Savolainen responded that was the proposed design due to contours on the project.

Sloan asked if there was a maintenance plan as part of the development. Savolainen responded that the master deed covered the maintenance for the common areas.

Savolainen indicated that the septic portion of the plan (sheet C-6) was an optional plan that would have been used if the Township did not approve connection to the sewer system.

Soucy read a question requesting how water and sewer would be provided to the two eastern lots. Savolainen responded that those lots were outside of the proposed project, but they could be added to the sewer system if necessary.

Milton asked about the kennel near the project. Throenle indicated the parcel was carved out in the past as an Agriculture / Forestry (AF) parcel to accommodate the kennel. He stated that Parker would be required to request a rezoning on the parcel in the future if Parker wanted to develop the parcel for residential use.

Commission Decision

After Commissioner review, Sloan moved, Rhein seconded, that Site Plan Review Application SR 21-64 be approved as presented.

Vote: Ayes: 5 Nays: 0 Motion carried

B. 2021 Master Plan Review

Staff Introduction

Throenle presented the final draft of the master plan to the Commissioners for language review. He stated his intent for this review was to address 39 highlighted sections in the document and have the Commissioners comment on those sections. He indicated that pictures would be added and formatting redone prior to the plan being sent to the Board. He also stated that the plan would be submitted for public review, and that Commissioners could provide comment during the 63-day public review if they chose. He indicated that the public review would include both the plan and the related appendices.

Commission Discussion

Throenle presented the items for review. He stated the change and asked Commissioner comment.

Throenle suggested that the language for the first paragraph in the Wastewater Management Risk Assessment section be removed and replaced with new text to reflect the development of the sewer system.

Text removed was:

“Five of the Township’s major pump stations have now been operating with the original components for 44 years. In addition to bringing their future reliability into question, this also means that the stations are operating on technology that is now generations old and far from energy efficient. Additionally, the piping is not of approved design to allow less than 50 lineal feet of isolation between the sewer line and residential wellheads, leading to complications in the well permitting process and limitations to well placement on the site. Approved forms of sewer pipe would allow a ten foot lineal isolation distance to the wellhead. The issue could also be addressed with a municipal water system.”

The replacement text was:

“All five of the Township’s pump stations have been updated or will be replaced in 2021, financed through a twenty year bond issued in 2020. Risk is low for failures at each of the new stations.”

Sloan asked questions regarding the millennial versus boomer statistics in regard to population. Throenle stated that he took all statistics regarding the population from the census data so as to not confuse the statistic sources.

Sloan asked what would need to happen to recruit a younger population to the area; Rhein responded that jobs would be the biggest factor to draw others to the area. Rhein also indicated that housing prices would determine who moves in and who stays in the area. He stated too that the Chocolate Area Business Association (CABA) is coming back online to assist in promoting economic development for the Township.

Sloan recommended an edit change for the text in the Private Transportation Profile section. The text stated “Most workers commute in the Township commute to their jobs.” Throenle changed the to “Most workers in the Township commute to their jobs.”

Throenle stated the percentage of 23.78% should be changed to 76.22% in the Housing Resilience Profile section as the number was taken from the wrong column in the supporting data.

Commission Decision

Sloan moved, Lindsey seconded, that the language proposed for the 2021 Chocolate Township master plan and appendices be accepted as changed and forwarded to the Board for consideration for public review.

Vote: Ayes: 5 Nays: 0 Motion carried

X. Public Comment

XI. Commissioner’s Comments

Rhein

Appreciated the comments and discussion throughout the master plan process from the other Commissioners and staff and commended all for a great job.

Milton

Pointed out that he would pay attention to the amount of trash he was contributing to the landfill.

Sloan

Asked what should be done with written public comment. Soucy responded that she could address the comments if she chose.

Both Sloan and Rhein stated that the conflict of interest discussion did not affect the decision that was made in the Soucy decision. Bohjanen added that a financial conflict must be considered as part of the discussion.

Throenle pointed out that the Commissioners followed the language found in the Michigan Planning Enabling Act. He read the language to the Commissioners, showing them that they followed the process as it was written.

Sloan asked about the meeting dates and agenda publication. Throenle stated that there was a possibility of improving delivery to the public in 2022.

Sloan asked about the survey. Rhein stated the Board looked at possibly doing a survey in January related to the zoning ordinance.

Sloan asked about the signs along the beachfront near the Welcome Center. Throenle stated that the signs are posted on private property.

Rhein stated that the second turnout now had access to the beach. Bohjanen indicated that the paths were open due to the efforts of Jeff Glass, Bohjanen, and Township Manager Bill DeGroot.

Throenle pointed out that there was language in the master plan addressing public access to the beach.

Soucy indicated that a code of conduct would be another method of addressing the conflict of interest issue. Throenle recommended addressing the issue during the review of the Planning Commission bylaws in 2022.

Lindsey

Appreciated the discussion regarding public comment. She also appreciated the work that went into developing the master plan from both the Commissioners and staff.

XII. Director's Report

Planning / Zoning Administrator Throenle

He commended the Commissioners on their participation in the Master Plan process. He thanked the Commissioners for their comments as he learned a great deal during the process.

Michael Dayton, 114 Chocolay River Trail

Requested review of the overlay district map in the proposed new roadways plan for East Main Street for connection to Chocolay River Trail.

Jeff Conklin, 120 Chocolay River Trail

Agreed with the concerns from Dayton. He also requested review of the overlay district map in the proposed master plan to consider keeping the parcel west of his property zoned for residential use.

Soucy asked if additional comments were received. Throenle replied that two were received and were included in the packet.

Conklin asked if a letter sent by his neighborhood association had been received at the Township. Throenle stated that no letter or phone call had been received; he stated that the communications found in the packet were the only comments that came in during the sixty-three day public comment review.

Rhein moved, Milton seconded, to close the public hearing.

A. 2021 Master Plan and Related Appendices

Soucy pointed out there was an option to continue with the discussion of the master plan adoption or to move the discussion to the joint meeting in February. He asked Throenle to give staff introduction.

Throenle presented a brief introduction to the plan and added that he had included a document in the packet that gave the staff edits that were performed on the plan. He stated that one section, Village Mixed Use, was inadvertently removed in April of 2021, and that it was added back.

Sloan asked if the section was added back to the document that went out for public review; Throenle stated that it was. He stated that the language was discussed and approved by the Commissioners in the April timeframe.

Throenle stated the Commissioners could proceed with one of three options: 1) accept the document as written; 2) add additional changes to the document; or 3) table the discussion of the plan to the February meeting. He suggested that the Commissioners table the discussion as three Commissioners were not present at the meeting.

Rhein moved, Soucy seconded, to postpone the discussion of the master plan until the February meeting.

Vote: Ayes: 4 Nays: 0 Motion carried

IX. New Business

A. Planning Commission Training Session – What is Planning?

Staff Introduction

DeGroot asked the Commissioners if they wished to change the training session to March based on the previous motion related to the master plan. He gave a brief overview of what the training would encompass and the purpose for the trainer.

Commission Discussion

Soucy stated that it would be more beneficial for the Commissioners to move the training; Sloan agreed.

DeGroot requested that the Commissioners look through the documents prior to the training in March.

Commission Decision

Sloan moved, Rhein seconded, to postpone the Commissioner training until the March meeting.

Vote: Ayes: 4 Nays: 0 Motion carried

B. Election of Officers

Staff Introduction

Throenle stated that election of officers was an annual responsibility of the Commission. He pointed out that the Commissioners that were absent were eligible to be elected and that Rhein was not eligible as the Board appointed him to the Commission.

Commission Decision

Rhein moved, Milton seconded, to elect Soucy as Chair.

C. 2022 Meeting Dates

Staff Introduction

Throenle presented the proposed meeting dates for the 2022 calendar. He stated the joint meeting with the Board was on February 14, followed by the Planning Commission meeting. He pointed out that all meetings started at 6 PM except for the joint meeting that started at 5:30 PM followed by the Planning Commission meeting at 7 PM.

Commission Decision

Rhein moved, Sloan seconded, to accept the Planning Commission meeting dates as presented.

Vote: Ayes: 5 Nays: 0 Motion carried

D. 2021 Planning Commission Annual Report

Staff Introduction

Throenle presented the staff-prepared Planning Commission annual report to the Commissioners. He stated that the plan would be submitted to the Board for their review after approval from the Commissioners.

Commission Discussion

Soucy asked Throenle if the report would be discussed at the joint meeting with the Board. Throenle the report would be delivered to the Board, but it would be up to the Board if they wanted to discuss the report.

Soucy pointed out there were many accomplishments, even though the pandemic kept activities to a minimum.

Commission Decision

Rhein moved, Linsey seconded, to send the report to the Board for the February meeting.

Vote: Ayes: 5 Nays: 0 Motion carried

X. Public Comment

XI. Commissioner's Comments

Soucy

Told the Commissioners about a webinar training coming up the following week regarding woodlands preservation. He felt the training would be beneficial for the Commissioners, especially related to the Township's rural character. Rhein asked Soucy to forward a link to the webinar. Throenle asked Soucy to forward the link to him so that he could forward it to the Board as well.

Sloan

Asked if the master plan would have to be modified in response to the public comment received earlier in the meeting. She asked if a public hearing would be required as well if changes were made. Throenle stated that would be determined by the intensity of the change; in this case, the answer would be yes, as language and related maps would be changed, as it would change the character of the plan.

Rhein asked which road was in question. Throenle stated it was the proposed road that went from Main Street to M-28 East. He added that the request concerning the overlay district could be handled in the upcoming zoning ordinance discussion.

Throenle displayed the proposed map showing the proposed overlay district. Throenle pointed out that the owner of the parcel closest the neighborhood was leaning toward keeping the parcel as residential. He showed the Commissioners where the parcel was in reference to Chocoy River Trail. He further indicated that a portion of the property was wetland and would not be able to be developed. He added that the proposed mixed use district was also in the 2015 master plan, and that property owners in that proposed district were in favor of changing to mixed use.

Throenle stated that the property in question would have to be rezoned and added to the mixed use district as part of the process. He stated that even if it is in the plan, the requested change may never go through the rezoning process; it was up to the property owner to initiate the process.

Throenle displayed the wetland map for the area to show more detail about the parcel in question. Lindsey asked about the proposed roads in the master plan and if anything had changed.

Linsey

Apologized for late arrival to the meeting. She questioned property sales and development (Lakestate Industries / Free Store, Quiznos, Subway, and new houses on Brewer Road). Throenle provided an update on each property. She also asked about the proposed water project; Rhein stated the Board is looking to bring in someone to do a viable water study for areas in the Township. She gave a brief report about attending a NCLL (Northern Center for Lifelong Learning) program. While there, she got a copy of the County master plan and statistics from around the County.

Rhein

Stated he enjoyed working with the rest of the Commissioners and was looking forward to working with them again during the year.

XII. Director's Report

Planning / Zoning Administrator Throenle

He reminded the Commissioners that the joint meeting starts at 5:30 on February 14. Sloan stated she would not be at the meeting as she would be traveling.

SUPERVISOR'S REPORT

Supervisor Bohjanen has a few statistics on COVID – during the week ending February 7, the average number of cases reported was 18 per day, this week it is less than 10 per day. 67.9% of people in Marquette County are vaccinated. Bohjanen also stated that he is frustrated by the fact that the statistical information is not complete. He has received information on a program called Flash Poll. Not sure of the price, but if the Board is interested, staff will research further. It was stated that there are many platforms out there that may be worth exploring.

CLERK'S REPORT

Clerk Engle stated that we will be having a May election – Marquette Public Schools millage proposal.

PUBLIC HEARING – PROPOSED ORDINANCE 69; NUISANCE, NOISE, AND VEHICLES

- a. Written Comments Received – D. Mulcahey, 633 Lakewood Lane
- b. Written Comments Received – J. Wilson, 1987 M-28 East

Supervisor Bohjanen indicated that there has been some input received and changes made and reviewed by our Township attorney.

Pam Basal, 200 South Big Creek Road – stated that staff has done an excellent job in drafting this proposed ordinance. She has a couple areas that she would like to offer for consideration: (1) Section 5(F) – Landscaping with Motorized Equipment. Would like to see the hours of operation extended a bit during the summer in the Agricultural Zoned areas. (2) Section 6(F) – Properly licensed vehicles shall not be parked or stored in the front facing yard unless in a driveway. She would like consideration given to situational events that only happen once in a while (garage sales, etc.).

Supervisor Bohjanen also brought to the Board's attention that there had been written comments received from D. Mulcahey, 633 Lakewood Lane and J. Wilson, 1987 M-28 East, which have been included in the packet.

Bohjanen asked for Board input on any of the comments received.

White indicated that she agrees that there should be an addition to Section 5(F) indicating summer hours.

Symbal commented on the driveway information and parking violations. If no one complains, is it a violation? Bohjanen stated we choose not to “nit-pick” the definition of a driveway. Bohjanen also pointed out J. Wilson’s suggested language on parking on other’s property.

Symbal moved, Zyburt supported to amend language to read “No person shall park, store, maintain or place, or permit to be parked, stored, maintained, or placed, a vehicle or vehicle parts upon another’s property primarily zoned for residential occupancy without consent of the property owner or tenant.”

MOTION CARRIED

Rhein moved, Engle supported that Ordinance 69: Nuisance, Noise, and Vehicles be accepted with modifications during the 1st reading and be brought forward for a 2nd reading at the March meeting of the Township Board.

PRESENTATION – LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS

Jo Foley, 308 Corning Street – Executive Vice President to the Marquette County League of Women Voters. Foley gave a presentation on the mission of the LWV and briefly reviewed the resolution template. The resolution lays out three goals: to protect democracy, to promote policies that protect access to ballots for voters and build on the progress of the 2020 elections. The LWV is asking that Chocolay Township Board support this resolution.

CONSIDER ZONING BOARD OF APPEALS APPOINTMENTS

White moved, Rhein supported that the Chocolay Township Board appoint Dave Lynch to the Zoning Board of Appeals.

MOTION CARRIED

CONSIDER PURCHASE REPLACEMENT OF POLICE CAR.

Township Manager De Groot explained that our 2018 Dodge Charger has some very costly repairs that will have to be made (drive shaft, trans axle, CV joint, cracked transmission) at an estimated cost of $7,000 plus downtime of at least one month after the replacement funds are received. In our budget, we are scheduled to buy a new police vehicle later this year. Currently, there is a 2022 Charger that is in Lansing that would fit our needs – it is equipped properly and our components would fit. There is an extended warranty available for purchase. To order a new vehicle, it would be 2023 before we could get on the list, with a 30-week wait time. We have $40,000 budgeted under our capital account for a new vehicle. We are able to use ARPA funds for the purchase as this was a budgeted item. We would be able to get this vehicle for 2021 pricing. We would plan on selling the 2018 as surplus “as is”.

Lynch moved, Zyburt supported that the Chocolay Township Board enter into a contract with LaFontaine CDJR – Lansing for the emergency purchase of a 2022 Dodge Charger Police Vehicle.

JOINT MEETING DISCUSSION WITH PLANNING COMMISSION

At 6:12 pm, Ryan Soucy called the Planning Commission to order, with the purpose of the joint meeting being to enter into a work session with the Township Board.

Roll Call: Ryan Soucy, Don Rhein, Eve Lindsey

Public Comment for Planning Commission: None

Dale Throenle, Planning Director / Zoning Administrator, provided an annual report to the Township Board on undertakings / accomplishments for 2021. The bulk of the year was focused on the Master Plan. The Planning Commission also covered some mixed-use considerations, sign ordinance, site plan reviews, housing project on US 41, original draft of Ordinance 69. Throenle also went over the various activities that he has attended.

White asked why meetings were not held in October, November, and December. Throenle indicated there was nothing outstanding. Soucy commented that the Planning Commission has been efficient with items that they have been handling.

CONSIDER MASTER PLAN SUPPORT

Supervisor Bohjanen indicated that he felt this was a well written document that contains ambitious goals, put together by Staff and the Planning Commission. White agreed that the Planning Commission had done a good job.

Manager De Groot thanked the Planning Commission for diving into the process of planning for the next 25 years. There have been some questions about the connection of Chocolay River Trail and Main Street. This somehow made it into the Master Plan in 2005 and has carried forward from that point. Staff is recommending the elimination of this connection. De Groot thanked the residents of Chocolay River Trail and Main Street for speaking out on this subject. It is recommended that Appendix E be reflective of this change and the end of this topic going forward.

Manager De Groot also indicated there is a Wetland Complex in that area – in the 1908 plat map this was showing as a park. In the master deed, this would be the open space for Chocolay River Trail. Current zoning on this wetland complex requires a 100' setback from Silver Creek.

In 2010 the Planning Enabling Act enable the Master Plan to be a Board document. Chocolay Township has chosen to delegate the responsibility of developing the document to the Planning Commission and present to the Township Board for approval.

Symbal stated that the was happy for the number of people that showed up at the meeting, along the number of letters received in response.

Soucy commented that he was happy to see the community support – it’s vitally important in putting together a Master Plan. The Master Plan is a collective vision for growth in the township, so it is important. Soucy thanked staff for doing their due diligence in putting together this document.

Manager De Groot stated that being involved in the process is what is needed as the Planning Commission moves forward with the Zoning Ordinance rewrite. Urged residents to stay informed. This will not be a quick process.

Public Comment:

Brian ??? 123 Chocolay River Trail – thanked everyone for the work that they put into this. Wants to go on record that he is opposed to any zoning changes.

Sam Elder, 125 East Main – expressed his appreciation to the Board and the staff for their work – he chose to live on a dead end road and he lives in Chocolay Township for a reason.

Jackie Calcaterra, 170 East Main – thanked the Board for their work. Also indicated that people choose to live on dead end streets for a reason.

Mike Dayton, 114 Chocolay River Trail – planning documents are not something you just spit out overnight, and he appreciates the Board and Planning Commission listening to their concerns on the extension of the road. Also thanked them for digging into the issue of the wetland parcel.

Lynch moved, Rhein supported that the Chocolay Township Board postpone action on the resolution until the Planning Commission has a chance to bring it back at the March meeting.

MOTION CARRIED

CONSIDER WATER SYSTEM FEASIBILITY STUDY PROPOSAL OHM

Manager De Groot indicated that at the January meeting the Board reviewed the scope of work that would be provided. The funding would come out of the 1st allocation of the ARPA funds that were received in 2021. This aligns with a 9 month workplan, and if we are interested in moving forward, we may be eligible for other opportunities for grant funding.

Engle moved, Zyburt supported that the Chocolay Township Board authorize the Township Supervisor and Clerk to enter into a contract with OHM to complete a Water System Feasibility Study.

MOTION CARRIED

CONSIDER RESOLUTION FROM LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS

Clerk Engle wanted to clarify that ballots are not automatically sent to voters – they are sent an application which must be returned. We then verify signatures before actually issuing a ballot.

White indicated that she has a couple issues regarding the request to make Election Day a State holiday, and also believes that we have not been denying anyone to vote.

Engle suggested that this may happen in larger cities.

Rhein asked that the section on Election Day being a holiday be omitted. If people want to vote, they will find a way to vote. Engle also indicated that there are a number of ways to vote – if not able to vote on the actual day of the election, they are able to obtain an absentee ballot.

RESOLUTION supporting the cause of protecting democracy, promoting policies that protect access to the ballot for voters and building on the progress of the 2020 elections.

Engle moved, Symbal supported that:

WHEREAS, access to voting and participation in free, fair and secure elections is fundamental to our system of governance; and

WHEREAS, Michigan’s election security protocols are among the strongest in the nation. Robust voter-ID laws prevent or intercept fraudulent attempts to impersonate voters. Multiple security checks bolster our absentee voting process. And gold-standard paper balloting ensures all our election outcomes can be verified; and

WHEREAS, in 2018, Michigan voters overwhelmingly supported amending the constitution to expand voting rights, make it easier to register and easier to vote, by the following percentages of votes cast on Proposition 3: 67% support among 3,064 Township voters, 68% in Marquette County, and 67% Statewide; and

WHEREAS, restricting voting rights and undermining the fair, nonpartisan administration of elections is harmful to all communities, but disproportionately impacts (already marginalized) voters of color, lower-income communities, the elderly, as well as disabled voters; and

WHEREAS, in recent months, state legislatures, including Michigan’s, have introduced dozens of bills that essentially restrict access to voting, make election administration and oversight less equitable and efficient, and undermine existing laws that maintain election security and ensure nonpartisan counting and certification of votes; and

WHEREAS, elections in Michigan have been conducted safely and securely and without any significant fraud, up to and including the 2020 election, as the Senate Oversight Committee Report concluded; and

WHEREAS, in 2021, the Secretary of State unveiled a legislative agenda that would improve access to voting whether early, absentee, or in-person; expedite absentee ballot processing; and make voting more convenient, demanding that every valid vote is counted and accurate election outcomes upheld;

Now, therefore, be it RESOLVED that the Chocolay Township Board on this 14th day of February, 2022 strongly supports policies that expand and protect equitable access to voting and that strengthen and sustain a robust election infrastructure, including both material and human resources:

- Allow overseas service members and spouses to return their ballots electronically;
- Earmark sufficient funding for elections to recruit, train and retain needed election workers, to add sufficient election equipment such as secure drop boxes and tabulators, and to support voters with disabilities;
- Allow the processing of Absentee Ballots and establish Early In-Person voting the weekend prior to Election Day; Any rule governing the mailing of absentee ballot applications to registered voters by state or local election administrators should apply equally to all other organizations, including nonpartisan voter engagement groups and political parties;
- Mandate the same training standards for election workers and election challengers.

The Board urges the Michigan House, Senate and Governor Whitmer to take immediate and long-term action to support the goal of preserving democracy, ensuring access to voting, and continuing to promote the integrity, security, and fairness of all elections throughout the State of Michigan; and be it further

RESOLVED, that the Chocolay Township Board strongly opposes all legislation or other efforts that would restrict access to the ballot, undermine the nonpartisan, fair and efficient administration of elections; and restrict voting rights; and be it further

RESOLVED, that a copy of this Resolution be forwarded to the Office of the Secretary of State, the Governor's Offices in Lansing and Northern Michigan, and the members of the Upper Peninsula delegation to the Michigan State Legislature.

MANAGER UPDATE – SEWER AND BUDGET

Budget – State revenues are coming across higher than anticipated on the constitutional side (Chocolay Township). At this time, we are working on separating out a true capital fund and generating the opportunity of having a table showing five-year projections. We are also working on developing an Asset Management Plan for the Township. This used to be part of the regular project on what was seen as projects. There are some regulations in Capital Improvement Planning which is generated by the Planning Commission. We will be receiving our second payment of the ARPA funds of approximately $310,000 in July. The allocation has been allocated to Premium Pay, OHM Water Study, and Redistributing in the form of small local business grants. All funds must be under contract by 2024, with completion of expenditures by 2026.

Sewer – we are still in a holding phase, as we are not at 80% completion due to supply chain issues. Wiring casing in the pump stations, conduit that goes to the pit, SCADA system is not yet fine tuned – we are still getting “ghost alarms”. Hopefully this will be resolved in the next few weeks. Staff still needs to be completely trained on the system.

Rhein asked if anyone else uses this system, and if so if they have the same problems. De Groot explained that there is a balance of power that BLP needed to fine tune, and then we needed to play with flow rates. Unfortunately, those living close to the station have had audible alarms going off. He appreciates the public’s understanding and patience as we work through this. We have not yet finalized the last billing with Oberstar.

PUBLIC COMMENT

Stephanie Gencheff, 587 Lakewood Lane – Urged everyone to dig a little deeper into the bills that were passed by the House / Senate and the language that is in those bills.

Janet Dossler – she and her husband were born and raised in Bessemer and moved to Saginaw 30 years ago. It is completely different there, and not always easy to obtain a ballot.

Karen Schmitt, 280 Shot Point – has been an election worker for the last two elections. She complimented Max Engle (Clerk) and Lisa Perry (Election Clerk) for being excellent trainers. Feels that the challengers need to be trained also. She stated that the elections are very well run and security is a major component.

Zybert moved, Rhein supported that the meeting be adjourned.

A. Site Plan Review – 6448 US 41 South

Staff Introduction

Throenle introduced the site plan proposed for the Grove 'R Daycare and Preschool. He stated the applicant, Sue Ridolphi is proposing an addition to her current structure at the site. Throenle gave an overview of the staff review of the application to the Commissioners.

Commissioner / Applicant Discussion

Dave Ridolphi was in attendance as the contractor for the project.

Soucy asked where the water wells were located on the property. D. Ridolphi identified the location on the plans.

Rhein questioned the septic. D. Ridolphi indicated that there are three septic tanks on the property that were placed while the restaurant was on the property.

Sloan asked where the addition was going to be placed, and if the addition was going to be added to the existing structure. D. Ridolphi stated that it was.

Sloan asked if there were trees between the property and the neighboring apartments. D. Ridolphi stated there were.

Rhein stated that he did not find any issues with the floor plan.

Soucy asked about handicap parking. D. Ridolphi stated there would be an additional space added for the addition.

Mullen-Campbell asked about snow storage. D. Ridolphi stated there was sufficient room on the property for the snow storage.

Commissioner Decision

Soucy moved, Milton seconded, to approve site plan review SP-07.

Vote: Ayes: 5 Nays: 0 Motion carried

B. Planning Commission Training Session – What is Planning?

Township Manager Bill DeGroot presented a session to the Commissioners regarding the basics of planning and the responsibilities of the Commissioners in regard to planning. He focused on three main points during the presentation: 1) why plan?; 2) planning and zoning laws; and 3) Planning Commissioner responsibilities.

Commissioner Milton asked how planning is affected by the Right to Farm Act. DeGroot explained the exemptions for the Right to Farm Act and added that, depending on the circumstances, the exemptions might have to be addressed under the Michigan Department of Agriculture.

Soucy asked about the bipartisan infrastructure act funding. DeGroot explained the process and projects affected by the process. He added that the Planning Commission will be working with a capital improvement plan in the future.

Sloan asked about the Build Back Better program. DeGroot outlined the program and what could be done on a regional basis in regard to the money.

Mullen-Campbell asked about resulting funds and how much of that would come into the Township budget for water projects. DeGroot explained that it would depend on the programs and the partners involved. He indicated that a water system feasibility study was underway, and that questions would be answered as the water system study continued.

Sloan asked again if the water feasibility study was underway. DeGroot answered that it was, and it was being funded with American Rescue Plan Act funds.

Milton asked about the company doing the study and where they were located. DeGroot answered that the company, OHM, had offices around the state and were managing the project from the Houghton office.

Rhein asked if everyone received a questionnaire regarding the water study. DeGroot stated that the questionnaires were mailed out with the property notices. He pointed out there was a link on the Township web site for the survey.

Sloan asked about the scope of the study. DeGroot outlined the phases of the study to get information from each area of the Township to determine need, and the water study will be used to determine if there is a need for a water system in the Township.

Soucy asked how the Township could become more engaged with regional partners such as NMU and KBIC. DeGroot explained that conversations can be had at any time, but those should be coordinated in order to understand how they would affect decisions related to the master plan.

C. Joint Meeting Discussion

Throenle pointed out that this discussion was for the Commissioners to discuss anything related to the joint meeting in February, particularly related to the rewrite of the Township zoning ordinance.

Soucy stated that one other item discussed during the meeting was the concerns related to the extension of Main Street as they were incorporated into the master plan. He stated that it would be corrected in the plan.

IX. Unfinished Business

A. 2021 Master Plan and Related Appendices

Staff Introduction

Throenle stated that the master plan presented was the latest version of the plan. He pointed out that the Existing and Proposed Multi-use Paths and Trail map was updated to remove the proposed connection road between West Main Street and Chocolay River Trail. He stated staff found documents from 1993 that the connection was to be blocked with a six foot berm when the Chocolay River Trails subdivision was created. He also stated that a bullet from the proposed appendices was removed that indicated the connection should be proposed. He stated that a portion of the maps that were included in the plan appendices were updated to a new format and that no data on those maps was changed. He asked for two motions: one to accept the changes, and a resolution to accept the plan.

Commissioner Decisions

Soucy moved, Rhein seconded, that after conducting a public hearing and reviewing the proposed Charter Township of Chocolay Master Plan, 2021 Edition and related appendices, the documents be accepted as presented.

Vote: Ayes: 5 Nays: 0 Motion carried

Sloan read, and Rhein seconded, the following resolution:

(Meister joined the meeting prior to the completion of the resolution at 7:10 PM).

RESOLUTION OF ADOPTION

CHARTER TOWNSHIP OF CHOCOLAY MASTER PLAN 2021 EDITION

- WHEREAS the Michigan Planning Enabling Act, Act 33 of 2008, as amended, authorizes the Planning Commission to prepare a master plan for the use, development, and preservation of all lands in the Township; and
- WHEREAS the Charter Township of Chocolay Planning Commission has supervised an update to the Charter Township of Chocolay Master Plan, 2015 Edition, adopted on May 18, 2015, to be called the Charter Township of Chocolay Master Plan 2021 Edition; and
- WHEREAS citizens were given the opportunity to provide input for the development of the Plan via public meetings held throughout the Plan development process; and
- WHEREAS the Charter Township of Chocolay Planning Commission has duly reviewed the draft plan consisting of eleven sections: Introduction, Community Values, Community History and Demographics, Community Systems, Private Systems, Natural Systems, Future Land Use Plan, Zoning Plan, Strategies, Photo and Image Credits, References, and related appendices containing maps and reference materials; and accepts this plan as a guide for development of the Township pursuant to the authority of the Michigan Planning Enabling Act; and
- WHEREAS the Charter Township of Chocolay Planning Commission has reviewed the draft master plan over the course of many meetings and provided comments for its refinement which have been incorporated into the Plan; and
- WHEREAS on October 11, 2021, the Charter Township of Chocolay Board of Trustees approved the distribution of the plan to the notice group entities identified in the Michigan Planning Enabling Act for review, and a 63 day public comment period was duly noticed and completed; and

WHEREAS all the required notifications and draft documents were distributed per the requirements of the Michigan Planning Enabling Act; and

WHEREAS the Charter Township of Chocolay Planning Commission conducted a duly advertised public hearing on January 17, 2022, to receive public comment on this plan; and

WHEREAS a set of Plan amendments were presented at the hearing as a result of public comment; and

WHEREAS Pursuant to MCL125.3843 the Township Board has not asserted by resolution its right to approve or reject the proposed Master Plan and therefore the approval granted herein is the final step for adoption of the plan as provided in MCL 125.3843;

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the Charter Township of Chocolay Planning Commission does hereby adopt on the date listed below the Charter Township of Chocolay Master Plan 2021 Edition, along with the amendments attached to the minutes of the January 17, 2022 public hearing, and does direct the Secretary of the Township Planning Commission to deliver a copy of the adopted Plan to the Township Board and to the County Planning Commission and other notice group entities identified in the Michigan Planning Enabling Act along with this Resolution as certification of the adoption of the Plan;

BE IT ALSO RESOLVED that this Resolution be published inside the back cover of each copy of the Charter Township of Chocolay Master Plan 2021 Edition to certify that all maps, charts and descriptive and explanatory matter therein are a part of the Plan as so signified by the signature of the Chairperson of the Charter Township of Chocolay Planning Commission on this Resolution.

The Master Plan shall be effective as of the date of adoption of this resolution.

VIII. New Business

A. Planning Commission Training Session – Zoning Ordinance Rewrite

Township Manager Bill DeGroot presented a session to the Commissioners regarding the project for the Township zoning ordinance. He stressed that the ordinance would be a complete rewrite, not an update to the current ordinance.

DeGroot showed the Zoning Board of Appeals appeal references to identify what non-conforming conditions should be considered as part of the new ordinance.

He reminded the Commissioners that the ordinance would follow the previously approved master plan.

He showed a flow chart of the process for the development and delivery of the new ordinance.

Sloan asked if the process would be similar to the master plan process. DeGroot stated it would not. He stated that the language had to be developed first, starting with the definitions. He added that a cross reference of land use would be added to lay the groundwork for the document. He stressed that there is not a definite timeline for this project.

Milton asked if the Zoning Board of Appeals would have input. DeGroot stated they would be able to review the new ordinance similar to the public, but the workload belonged to the Planning Commission.

Soucy stated he felt that the Commissioners would become “experts” on the ordinance since they were developing the ordinance from the ground up. DeGroot suggested that it would be a desired outcome of the project.

DeGroot stated the Board was looking for a survey-type software that would be able to quickly poll the residents as one method of getting information for the ordinance project. Mullen-Campbell stated the current water survey was a good example.

Mullen-Campbell asked about legal review. DeGroot stated the Township attorney would be reviewing the document to ensure that the ordinance would endure legal challenges.

Meister asked what the best format for the ordinance would be. DeGroot responded that many different forms were available, but that the custom form that would be a combination of land use based and form based would probably be the outcome of this project. He emphasized that State acts such as the Right to Farm Act would play a large part in the development process.

DeGroot stated again that the ordinance would be a rewrite and that the schedule would be flexible to accommodate the best development of the ordinance and to accommodate the public vision.

Rhein asked if the sign portion of the ordinance would be revisited. DeGroot stated it may be revisited, but other issues such as the AF district and overlay district would also be part of that discussion.

Mullen-Campbell asked if the water issues would be part of the discussion. DeGroot stated that it was more a policy issue than a zoning ordinance issue.

Soucy asked about the format of the document, such as graphic descriptions. DeGroot stated it would depend on what was trying to be represented to detail the explanation of the text as to the format of the final document.

B. Housing Discussion

Soucy indicated that there was an inter-governmental group from the area that is discussing common housing issues in the area and gave an overview of the purpose of the group.

Meister pointed out there was media information out about tiny homes and asked if there was community information or studies related to how tiny homes are received in various communities, including governmental issues. Rhein also mentioned that disposal of waste should be considered in that research.

Sloan asked if there was a need for a tiny home solution in the Township. Discussion ensued regarding housing costs and number of people possibly living in the units.

Throenle stated that staff has received an increase in the number of calls from potential home builders looking to start with a smaller footprint than what is currently permitted. He indicated that the callers were from various income levels, and many were looking for a smaller footprint for retirement. He added that there have also been calls looking to build accessory structures for the parents to live on the same property as their children. Discussion ensued regarding how to accommodate accessory structures in the Township. Rhein added that well and septic systems need to be considered in the discussion too.

Throenle added that multi-family units such as apartments and duplexes should also be considered, and public safety issues should be addressed, especially in relation to fire

Meister added that PUD (Planned Unit Development) could address some of the housing concerns.

C. May Meeting

Soucy stated that on the night for the May 16 meeting, there would be a training session regarding planning for solar energy related zoning. He said he would be attending the session and would not be available for the meeting.

Other Commissioners expressed an interest in attending the training. Throenle stated he would not be available that evening either, as he would be attending a conference.

Commissioners discussed moving the meeting to a different night or cancelling the meeting.

Commissioner Decision

Meister motioned, Rhein seconded, to cancel the May 16 meeting to allow Commissioners to attend the training session.

VIII. New Business

A. Planning Commission By-Laws and Procedures

Throenle introduced the proposed rewrites of the by-laws to the Commissioners for consideration. He outlined where the changes were in the document and the intended purpose of the changes.

Meister stated he had questions regarding the Capital Improvement Program in section VII, item 2. He wanted to know how that process would work.

Throenle stated the process was to develop a plan each year, with the intent that it would be presented to the Board in time for Board budget considerations.

Sloan asked about the documents and who would prepare them. Throenle responded that staff would generate the documents and present them in a timely fashion to the Commissioners so that they would have time to work through the details.

Sloan asked how the documents would be presented to the Board. Bohjanen stated the intent would be to present the document at a joint meeting in August so that items that were approved could be placed in the budget for consideration before the end of the year.

Throenle pointed out there will be detailed training available for the process.

Meister had questions regarding article 4, section 7 regarding missing meetings. He felt that the Township Supervisor should have more discretion regarding this section.

Throenle changed the language to incorporate the proposed discretion phrase.

Meister had questions regarding the newly-added section on conflict of interest. Commissioners discussed what conflict of interest actually means. Throenle pointed out that the sub items in the section get more explicit on what is considered a conflict.

Sloan had a question regarding article X, section 2 regarding training. Commissioners discussed if this was a requirement to stay as a Commissioner. After considering the language, the section was revised, and sections 2 and 3 were removed.

Throenle directed the Commissioners to article XII. There was an extended discussion regarding the notice of changing the bylaws. The section was shortened to allow for changes at any regular or special Planning Commission meeting.

Commissioner Decision

Rhein motioned, Sloan seconded, to change the bylaws as discussed.

Vote: Ayes: 5 Nays: 0 Motion carried

Throenle stated that the participation policy had been updated to add Township staff to the policy with a right to speak. He went over the additional minor changes that were in the policy. The Commissioners had no comments on the changes.

Commissioner Decision

Sloan motioned, Rhein seconded, that the language proposed for the Planning Commission Public Meeting Participation Policy be accepted as presented.

Vote: Ayes: 5 Nays: 0 Motion carried

B. Township Zoning Ordinance Current Definitions and Current Land Uses

Throenle stated the sections presented were an extract from the current zoning ordinance for consideration for the new ordinance. He stated that the Commissioners should look at the definitions with the intent of determining whether the definition fits the practices that are in place or should be in place in the future.

Throenle showed a diagram that showed the way staff measured height to show an example of conflict between definition between and staff practice.

Rhein stated that definitions should be changed to the practice in place so that the language can be supported.

Throenle stated the Commissioner's task was to review the definitions to determine if the definition was still needed, and if so, determine if the definition made sense.

Commissioners discussed the best approach for working on the definitions. Rhein suggested that the definitions be spread across a three month period so that they could be covered more thoroughly.

Throenle also presented the land use categories in the zoning ordinance with the intent that the Commissioners would review those in the future.

Commissioners decided that the review would occur of both over the next three meetings. Meister requested that any definitions in the Township master plan be included for discussion.

C. Planning and Zoning for Solar Energy Systems Training

Throenle reviewed the documents that were presented at the training. He pointed out that there was no language in the zoning ordinance that related to solar energy systems.

Rhein stated the training was very informative and stated that the training provided resources that would help in the development of the language in the zoning ordinance.

Mullen-Campbell asked if the new motel owner received a grant to cover the installation of the panels on the roof. Throenle stated he did not know.

Meister stated that consideration for farms had to be considered, especially when developing large solar arrays.

Rhein stated that part of the process should include the cost of cleanup when the project mechanical reaches the life expectancy. He also stressed that the training emphasized not rushing into the project.

IX. New Business

A. Township Zoning District Maps

Throenle stated the purpose of the first map in the packet was to have an official zoning map that reflected the zoning districts within the Township, and that the map was a requirement of the Michigan Zoning Enabling Act. He stated the last map was published in October of 2017, and that the new map reflected all zoning changes that were approved since that time. He added that the map also reflected the recent change of KBIC-owned parcels into a Federal trust status.

Sloan asked what the process for the maps should be, and who approves them. Throenle stated that the maps are discussed and approved at the Commission level, with the intent of a public hearing and final approval at the Board level.

Meister asked if the four additional maps were part of that process. Throenle stated the four additional maps were intended to provide a close-up view of the total zoning map by dividing the map into four quadrants. He stated the additional maps were not considered official.

Sloan asked what changes were reflected on the maps. Throenle stated the changes were reflective of zoning changes and any parcel changes that may have occurred since the last maps were published. He showed the Commissioners the example of changes in zoning from R-1 to WFR along the river, and changes in zoning from WFR to R-1 along Kawbawgam Road. He added that the changes in those zoning districts was completed through a process that included notification to all affected residents, a public hearing and final approval from the Board.

Commissioner Decision

Rhein motioned, Sloan seconded, that the proposed zoning maps be sent to the Township Board for public hearing and consideration as presented.

B. Township Zoning Ordinance Definitions A through H

Throenle stated the zoning ordinance definition discussion was based on the decision in the June meeting to discuss the definitions over a three month period. He stated he split the definitions into three groups, with the intent of getting through A through H during the meeting. He stated the document that was provided in the packet was set up with five columns; the first three were the definition language extracted from the zoning ordinance, column four was the sections in the ordinance where the definition was applied, and column five was the pages in the ordinance where the definition was referenced.

Meister indicated that he was looking at the definitions with the intent of determining if there was a need for each definition. He stated he preferred to look at each definition to determine if it was still needed, and if so, that the language be looked at to determine if it should be updated. He stated that he wanted to make the definitions easier to read for the public and to reduce issues where several definitions were stating the same thing.

Commissioners decided to review each definition with Meister's suggestion and spent a considerable amount of time reviewing each definition. Their review consisted of four possibilities: 1) keep the definition as is, 2) modify the language, 3) cite language within a definition that appeared to be more legislative than definition to be moved to the body of the new ordinance or 4) delete the definition.

The Commissioners added a definition for agritourism that did not exist.

Commissioners reviewed 64 definitions in sections A through F. The definitions were recorded as:

- 2 required an addition of ordinance text
- 16 required changes
- 25 were deleted
- 16 were kept as is
- 5 required further staff research

Commissioners tabled sections G and H until the next Planning Commission meeting.

C. Agriculture / Forestry Zoning District (AF) Non-Conforming Parcels

Throenle stated the Board wished to discuss non-conforming parcels at the joint meeting in August, with a particular look at the parcels in the Agriculture Forestry (AF) zoning district. Throenle stated the purpose of the Commissioner discussion was to prepare for the joint meeting discussion.

Throenle gave a brief history on the non-conforming parcels in the Township and related how the parcels in the RR-1 and RR-2 from the 1977 zoning ordinance were all combined into the 2008 ordinance as Agriculture Forestry (AF), which required a new minimum of 20 acres to be conforming to the district.

Using an electronic version of the maps, Throenle presented the non-conforming districts map, then overlaid those districts with the zoning map that existed prior to 2008. He then added the current zoning map that gave a perspective to the Commissioners as to where the primary non-conformances were.

Sloan asked what the major impact of the non-conformance was. Throenle stated that the parcel owner could still build on a non-conforming property if the setbacks of 30 feet were met, but that owner could not divide the property if the owner did not have at least 40 acres as a parcel size. He reminded the Commissioners of the public comments made at the June meeting that expressed the desires of a family to divide their parcel of 18 acres that could not be done because the acreage did not meet the minimum of the district.

Sloan asked what the Zoning Board of Appeals process was for this. Throenle stated that for setbacks, the Zoning Board of Appeals could grant a variance if the owner could prove that the conditions were not self-created.

Meister asked if an owner could take a land split to the Zoning Board of Appeals. Throenle stated he would have to research that question as he did not have an answer.

Meister indicated that the non-conformances should be considered with a look at the parcel size and to keep the character of the AF district. He suggested a new zoning district, naming it RR1, to accommodate parcels of a smaller size.

Commissioners discussed this option and concluded that option would be a good starting point for the discussion.

Meister took a copy of the non-conforming parcel map and drew in suggested areas that could be combined into the new district. He showed the Commissioners his suggested combinations and gave the map to Throenle for staff to research other possibilities. Primary areas were located along US 41 South and M-28.

A. Board Joint Meeting with the Planning Commission Discussion

Commissioner Discussion

Soucy requested input from the rest of the Commissioners regarding the joint meeting that was held prior to the meeting.

Mullen-Campbell responded that she learned a great deal from the meeting and was glad to be part of it.

Meister stated that he felt that the AF district was the primary issue. He also stated that he would like to see issues that affected residents addressed as soon as possible, rather than wait until the ordinance was completed. He asked Throenle if that were possible.

Throenle clarified that the primary issue with the AF district was the ability for residents to split their properties, as the current requirement is a minimum of 40 acres before a split could occur. He stated that a structure could be built on a non-conforming lot as long as setbacks could be met.

Sloan asked if the current ordinance could be modified, and what would the process be. Throenle responded that the current ordinance could be updated via a zoning ordinance amendment process that was already in place.

Meister expressed that his primary concern was preserving an open space vista throughout the Township, while at the same time addressing the smaller acreage possibilities. Sloan expressed a similar opinion.

After reviewing a map showing the zoning districts from 1977, Meister expressed that the RR-1 district from that map should be reconsidered. Sloan stated that the Commissioners should review the map that Meister designed at a previous meeting to see if that would be a good starting point.

Both Commissioners Meister and Sloan expressed a disbelief that the 2008 map showed the combining of the 1977 zoning districts into the 2008 zoning districts as they are today. Sloan stated that she did not realize that the affect was as bad as it is.

Throenle stated the current trend is to look more toward a rural acreage size that is manageable. He indicated that conversations with real estate agents showed that new owners were not necessarily interested in farming, but they were interested in having chickens, horses, and doing small agricultural-type activities such as hoop houses.

Meister stated that he was seeing a change from the desire to have chickens and growing from home as a result of coming out of the pandemic. Throenle followed that with a general direction of people moving from other areas to the upper Midwest as an exodus from other parts of the country.

Throenle pointed out if there is a change in the lay of the land, the question has to be asked what the other changes in infrastructure and public safety that may occur as the land changes go into effect.

Further discussion occurred regarding the size of the parcels, and how to accommodate a future split. Throenle pointed out that the maps in the master plan could serve as the starting point for discussions on the different characters.

Meister asked about land uses within a character based system. Throenle pointed out that the descriptions for the character areas had those recommendations already outlined.

Meister asked if staff would provide documents for future meetings for discussion. Throenle stated that providing documents would be part of the process.

Sloan asked what the future land uses were and how they were defined. Soucy replied that the future land use was designed to show what projected uses were for an area, and that zoning would be a set of regulations for that area and projected uses. Meister further explained that the future land use is what potential infill might be. He explained that the 70 acres on Cherry Creek Road would be an example of that infill as a residential project in the AF district.

Meister asked if the issue was truly the ability to build on a parcel. Throenle stated that the real issue is that the ability to split a smaller parcel was removed with the 2008 ordinance.

Commissioners decided that character area maps and zoning maps should be used as the starting point for the process. Throenle indicated that the future design should include input from the police department, fire department, and public works as part of the discussion.

B. Marquette County Citizen Planner Classroom Program

Commissioner Discussion

Throenle stated the Citizen Planner program was designed for both Commissioners and the public, and an opportunity to participate is coming to Marquette.

Soucy stated he had reached out to MSU Extension to determine if select classes could be attended, as the class requires a six-week commitment. He stated the reply was no option was available to attend selected sessions.

Commissioners in general did not see how it would be possible to attend all the classes. Soucy indicated the training was a special package of classes offered to those that attend in Marquette.

Throenle pointed out that the Commissioners could attend at no cost to them. Symbal asked if Commissioners could be paid if they attended the class. Throenle stated that would have to be addressed with the Township Manager and Township Supervisor.

Soucy asked Throenle to view the Zoom options to determine if they were the same as the in-person classes. Throenle confirmed that they were.

Sloan stated she would look into attending the classes in person.

X. Public Comment

Kendra Symbal, 100 Aspen Drive

Wanted to know what was available for residents regarding the environmental options in the area when considering climate change.

Soucy indicated that he and Throenle had attended a local training for solar training.

Symbal asked about charging stations and potential locations within the Township. Meister asked how a government agency could charge for the electricity for the charging stations, and what type of infrastructure would be required to do the process. Soucy also pointed out that there would be an increase in demand on the grid. Throenle added that the Township would not be involved in relation to the demands on Township staff. He further added that the Township was looking at private locations within the Township.

David Denise, 3090 M-28 East

Requested that the Commissioners consider changing the parcels in his neighborhood on the east side of the Township to a zoning similar to residential that would change setbacks to allow for more build space on smaller parcels.

Deborah Mulcahey, 633 Lakewood Lane

Opposed to considering reducing the acreage size in the agricultural zoning district to any size less than 20 acres. She spoke on the size of lots in waterfront, and rural character, suggesting that no changes should be made to parcel sizes in the Township. She stated she did not understand the documents that were included in the packet regarding the parcel non-conformances.

A. Township Zoning Ordinance Definitions

Staff Introduction

Throenle stated there were two parts to the discussion about the definitions. He said the first part was to review the definitions that had already been discussed to determine if there were additional changes, and the second part was to begin a review on additional definitions.

Commissioner Discussion

For part 1, Commissioners reviewed the revised definitions for letters A through E and made minor changes. Throenle added that the definition for woodlot was added as it was part of the exclusions in the Agriculture definition.

For part 2, Commissioners addressed definitions beginning with the letter F and continued through the letter M. Throenle stated he would split the Lighting Related definition into individual definitions for review at the next meeting. Soucy requested that relevant definitions from Upper Peninsula Food Exchange (UPFE) be added as well.

Meister left the meeting for a personal emergency at 6:44 PM. Commissioners continued and completed the review of the definitions through the end of the document.

IX. New Business

A. Zoning Districts and Related Non-Conformances Discussion

Staff Introduction

Throenle asked Commissioners to consider tabling this item until the next meeting, as he felt this was one of the most critical sections to be discussed for the project. He added that more Commissioner input would be more valuable to the process.

Commissioner Discussion

Rhein moved, Mullen-Campbell seconded, to table the discussion until the next meeting.

Recommended that the Planning Commission meeting be moved to the Township Fire Hall for the next meeting. Throenle stated that accommodations could be made as the facility supported the use of the TV and noise would be limited. He said he would check with the Fire Chief to determine if the room was available.

Rhein moved, Mullen-Campbell seconded, to move the Planning Commission meetings to the Fire Hall.

Vote: Ayes: 4 Nays: 0 Motion carried

Soucy

Brought up that there were issues with the FCC awards for the broadband auctions in the Township. Starlink, one of the bidders, was no longer eligible to retain their portions of the bid, which has opened some of the areas in the Township to new potential bidders. He mentioned that he would be looking at this at the MTA conference, as it was one of the conference topics. Milton added that TDS, a company from Alger County, had fiber installed on Green Garden Road. Soucy stated that Connect Michigan was starting a program to map the fiber network throughout the Upper Peninsula.

Mullen-Campbell

Stated progress was good, and she hoped to see an ordinance by the end of the year.

XII. Director's Report

Planning / Zoning Administrator Throenle

Reminded the Commissioners that the next meeting will be October 17. He told the Commissioners that Mullen-Campbell would not be at the next meeting as she would be attending training. He added that the Board approved a new Commissioner, who should be at the next meeting.

A. Zoning Districts and Related Non-Conformances Discussion

Staff Introduction

Prior to the introduction, Throenle stated Mr. Beach would not be part of the Planning Commission due to a job change that will take him out of the area for several months. He added that Commissioner Mullen-Campbell was not in attendance as she was participating in the Citizen Planner training.

Throenle stated that the zoning district discussion was tabled at the last meeting due to a small number of Commissioners being present for the meeting. He asked the Commissioners to begin the discussion of the issue by looking at the document in the packet that outline proposed changes to sections 6.1 and 6.2 of the Township Zoning Ordinance.

He stated the proposed changes include a rewrite of existing language, removal of footnotes under the table in section 6.1, and a table with the proposed changes in zoning district names, lot sizes and setbacks. He stated that the proposed changes included the renaming of the Agriculture / Forestry (AF) zoning district to Resource Production (RP), the renaming of the Waterfront Residential (WFR) zoning district to Shoreline Residential (SR), and would incorporated a new zoning district called Rural Residential (RR) that would have a minimum lot size of two acres. He added that there is a proposed change from 125 feet to 100 feet for minimum lot width in the RP, RR and SR zoning districts.

Throenle then used the remaining documents and maps in the packets to show how the decisions were made regarding the proposed changes.

Commissioner Discussion

Sloan asked if there was a map layout of what was proposed. Throenle responded that the map was not designed yet, as he was waiting on the outcome of the discussion before developing the map.

Meister proposed that AF parcels in the triangle above County Road 480 and west of US 41 South should be included in the R1 zoning district to resolve the non-conformances. He further proposed that changing lot sizes down to two acres and establishing them as rural residential in the areas south of County Road 480 to address the non-conformances that exist in those areas. He added that the AF uses would be the same for those rural residential properties.

Sloan asked what the new districts would be. Throenle stated the districts would be R1 (residential), R2 (high density residential), AF would be changed to RP (resource production), and a new district RR (rural residential) would be added with a two acre minimum for the district.

Meister added that not all non-conformances would be addressed, as some parcels would still be below the two-acre minimum. He stated he liked the idea of bringing back the rural residential district, especially for the smaller AF parcels.

Throenle stated that the rural residential district would incorporate the AF feel, and land uses could further define what could be done in that district. Rhein added that it would eliminate many of the issues that exist in the AF district today.

Sloan asked about the non-conformances along Lakewood Lane. Throenle stated the primary purpose for reducing the non-conformances along the shoreline was to change the lot size to 100 feet as the primary issue was lot width, not lot size. He pointed out that the land uses would not change. He also stated that the footnote in the zoning ordinance for placement of anything up to 720 square feet would be removed in the new language.

Throenle asked the Commissioners to consider a setback requirement for any structure under 100 square feet. He stated that based on the current zoning ordinance, anything under 100 square feet could be placed anywhere on a property, including on the lot line. Milton questioned the purpose of a setback if this placement was acceptable. Meister asked if there were complaints regarding sheds on the lot line; Throenle responded there were not. Milton added that there was a 15 foot fire separation requirement between structures.

Rhein asked what would happen to existing sheds if this was changed; Throenle stated those sheds would be permitted to remain where they were. Meister added that his understanding was that the 15 foot fire separation requirement was between occupied structures.

Throenle reviewed the proposed replacement table with the Commissioners that showed the proposed districts, acreage sizes, and lot width. Rhein stated that he did not have issues with how the table was defined; Meister agreed with Rhein.

Throenle added that the steps remaining would be to look at the table, define where those districts would be, and what the uses would be for the districts. Milton stated that he liked the four to one ratios; Throenle added that the Township was required to follow that for land splits.

Soucy asked how many of the sample communities included in the packet had a two acre minimum. Throenle walked through each and provide the size for each; two were at five and one was at two. Rhein added that the two-acre minimum and the 20 acre resource production was a good compromise; Meister agreed.

Sloan stated she wanted to make sure that the rural character was preserved as part of the process. She stated that the sizes were good, but she was concerned as to how this would be mapped out. Meister responded that the fit will be determined for what makes sense for residential and rural residential.

Meister suggested that the proposed table be used going forward, and that the next step be to being mapping the solution; Rhein supported the suggestion.

Sloan asked Throenle to provide maps for the next meeting that showed the separation in acreage sizes between the acreage sizes. Throenle stated that staff would provide maps for the two, five, ten, and twenty acres mapped out for the next meeting. Milton asked that under two acre parcels be represented too.

Throenle added that land use discussion would be part of the process for the next meeting.

Soucy asked if an open house could be set up for the public to review the potential changes. Throenle responded that it would be a good idea, but that it might have to wait until March or April so that the residents that are out of the area for the winter could be included. Meister asked if that could be set up as a virtual session; Throenle said that it could.

Bohjanen was asked for his input to the discussion. He stated that the Township will be using a multi-media product called Flash Vote to gain additional opinions from the community. He added that he would like to see a consideration for a sliding scale in property sizes, and to add a RPR (resource production residential) to allow for contiguous properties around one of the RR zones (five acres or less) to do farming related activities. Meister agreed that another layer of five acres may be a good idea. Throenle added that the requested change could also be added to the table.

B. Township Zoning Ordinance Current Definition Review

Staff Introduction

Throenle reminded Commissioners that definitions beginning with A through E had already been reviewed. Throenle stated the Commissioners should start with the list of definitions provided in the packet for second review.

Commissioner Discussion

Commissioners reviewed the revised definitions for letters F through a portion of L and made minor changes. Commissioners stopped at the definition of Lodging; they will resume the review at the next meeting.

A. Zoning Districts and Related Non-Conformances Discussion

Staff Introduction

Throenle stated that staff was directed at the last meeting to develop a map of parcel sizes of less than two acres through acreage over twenty throughout the Township. He introduced the map and related findings.

He also included a map that Meister provided through email earlier in the day.

He stated staff was recommending a parcel size for the AF district of five acres. He added that language could be specified in the ordinance language regarding what could be done based on acreage sizes.

Commissioner Discussion

Sloan asked about Meister's map legend. Meister stated he was sketching in different zoning areas in an attempt to group by parcel size. Throenle pointed out that the discussion for the meeting was not to decide where the parcels were to be located, but acreage size. He emphasized that Meister's map was for information only.

Throenle added that if AF was changed to R-1, it would severely limit what residents could do in that new zoning, and Sloan added that the firearms ordinance would be another consideration.

Sloan asked about the staff map. Throenle pointed out that there were large acreages throughout the Township, and stated staff recommended acreage size be the starting point while looking at the language would come later. He walked through the percentages of non-conformances that would be achieved based on acreage size, and added that regardless of minimum size there would be parcels that would remain non-conforming.

Rhein stated he had no problem with the minimum acreage size, as that would be a good move to remove the non-conforming parcels. Soucy added he would be comfortable setting the acreage to five, as two acres would seem to change the overall character of the district.

Meister stated that the Commissioners should look at planning for the future and not for removal of non-conformances. He stated that five acres was small and should be either ten or fifteen acres. He added that parcels above County Road 480 should be included in a residential setting.

Throenle stated that adding individual zoning districts would convolute the process of removing the non-conformances from the AF district, as it would add more zoning districts that would further split up the AF district. He stated staff reviewed the non-conformances with the future in mind.

Meister stated that five acres would not provide the open fields and vistas that larger acreages would. Sloan added that the process would reduce the non-conformities while addressing the future.

Rhein stated that regardless of size, putting a house in the middle of the acreage does not solve the view problem. He stated that the objective could still be met with property efficiency with a five acre minimum. Meister stated he wanted the residential feel along the corridors while preserving the larger acreages. Throenle added that could be controlled through the zoning ordinance language; he showed the language from the current ordinance that outlined acreage minimums.

Rhein added that larger acreage splits would be more difficult to access because of the cost of building roads into the larger acreage.

Sloan asked for an example what would happen with an acreage split. Throenle stated that houses can be built on any size parcel in the Township as long as setbacks could be met. He added that a house could be built right on the road regardless of the size of the parcel; he added that this negates the vista protection as houses built on the road do not give a clear view of the property behind it.

Meister asked for opinions from the Commissioners regarding lot size. Mullen-Campbell asked if language could be written to permit smaller lot sizes to be split; Rhein stated that it could not, as that would not be allowed in the language.

Meister stated the issue is not the split size, but the size of the acreage. He emphasized that lots above County Road 480 should be considered residential and not AF.

Soucy asked if a variable could be added where boundaries could be established as areas were developed. He asked if this could be added with an overlay.

Meister added that he wanted to see several zoning districts established across the AF district to accommodate the smaller acreages. He stated a concern that once a large parcel of 40 acres was split, then the land would be lost for future farming. Sloan disagreed. Throenle added that a family in the area had just done that reversal in the North Big Creek area.

Sloan asked Meister about the properties along the lakeshore. Meister stated that those properties would probably be zoned as residential or rural residential.

Soucy asked Bohjanen for his opinion. Bohjanen stated that an overlay district would be one solution. He added that the entire area could not be rezoned, that the citizens would have to petition to rezone the property. Soucy interjected that spot zoning could not be introduced to fix the problem.

Meister asked about the concept of spot zoning. Soucy stated the future land use map would help in that decision. Bohjanen stated that spot zoning in itself was not necessarily illegal, and that ordinance language could be established that would cover the issue. Throenle pointed out that the future land use map approved in the Township master plan designated all those areas as AF.

Commissioners discussed the 1977 zoning maps versus the 2008 zoning ordinance. Milton asked what Sands Township was doing with development. Throenle responded that Sands Township was concentrating its development around the crossroads area.

Commissioners agreed that the 1977 map seemed a good starting point for the solution to the problem. Throenle added that the master plan did have language in it to get the problem resolved. He added that documentation could not be found to determine how the 2008 decision was made to make everything AF.

Throenle asked the Commissioners if staff should take the issue back to determine how to move the parcels back to what they were in 1977. Rhein stated that would make better sense as to get the solution in place. Throenle added that simply reducing a parcel to five acres would not necessarily allow for building, especially if wetlands and bodies of water existed on the parcel.

Meister added that his preference is to keep development where it is and maintain the large open areas as open areas.

Sloan asked Throenle about the proposal regarding the acreage sizes. Throenle stated that the future land use map in the master plan was the governing factor for the decisions that will be made for zoning. He added that the question was what to do with all of the parcels within the AF zoning districts that were changed and how to accommodate the fixes needed to correct the situation.

Throenle requested that staff be given an opportunity to go back and review the process, and to provide the best options for the problem.

Sloan asked Bohjanen about rezoning a property. Bohjanen stated that in 2008 the zoning was changed, and that staff has asked for legal assistance from Township legal council to get the direction for getting the issue resolved.

Commissioners asked staff to revisit the issue and to bring back recommendations for consideration. Throenle stated that would take some time, and the earliest the Commissioners could expect to see something would be at the January meeting, especially with the holiday schedule coming up. Soucy asked that sliding scale be included in the considerations.

B. Township Zoning Ordinance Current Definition Review

Staff Introduction

Throenle reminded Commissioners that they stopped at the definition of lodging, and that section of definitions from the previous meeting would need to be completed. In addition, He added that Commissioners should review definitions beginning with N through Z to complete the definitions.

Commissioner Discussion

Commissioners reviewed the revised definitions from lodging through the letter M, and made minor revisions. Commissioners continued the review starting with the letter N, and requested a review of the definitions for nonconforming building, nonconforming lot, nonconforming structure, and nonconforming use. Commissioners requested the State definition for nursing home and requested a rewrite of the definitions for rural character and setback. Commissioners made minor changes to several other definitions. Milton requested a definition for riparian rights.

A. Preliminary Site Plan Review – M-28 East

Staff Introduction

Throenle stated that the applicants are planning to build an education center on M-28 East between Nagelkirk and the America's Best Value Hotel. He added that the applicants have met with Township staff several times to go over the plan, and that staff recommended the applicant do a preliminary site plan review with the Planning Commissioners prior to a formal site plan review application. He stated that the project is designed as a low use, low traffic project.

Commissioner Discussion

Peter Dupuis, project manager for Gundlach Champion, indicated that Gundlach Champion has been chosen as the design builder for the project for Iron Workers Local 8.

He spoke about the engineered drawings and indicated that a driveway application had been filed with MDOT.

He explained that during the year, there would be two employees at the site, with additional use of the building from March through October for training purposes. He added that the estimated maximum number of people training at the site at one time would be approximately ten people. He added that the front of building would be used for offices and classrooms. He indicated that the building would be 100 feet wide by 160 feet long and thirty feet tall, and that an area in the rear of the building would possibly be built down to accommodate the training cranes that would be installed.

He stated that the Ironworkers Local 8 own the property. He stated some of the trees on the property would be removed, but the intent is to keep the remainder as buffer between neighboring properties. He added that the waste collection would be an on-site septic field and that soil borings still had to be completed, and the well would be in the front of the building. He indicated that the intent is to run three-phase power to the property, and lighting would be minimal.

He stated they would not build a fence unless required, as they intend to use the trees as a natural fence. The building would be a prefabricated metal building, with interior design still to be determined. He covered the diagrams and plans shown on page two and three of the submitted plans.

Dupuis stated the bike path would be considered as part of the project, especially for vehicle traffic. He stated that the project, if everything was in place, would be completed by the end of 2023, and added the proposed schedule for the project.

Soucy asked Throenle what the driveway spacing was according to the access management plan. Throenle stated that this project was outside that management plan and added that the management plan stops approximately 300 feet from the intersection of US 41 South and M-28 East. Dupuis added that he hoped there would not be a traffic study as there would be a small amount of traffic accessing or leaving the property.

Meister asked if the driveway could be moved to the east side of the property; Dupuis said that he would consider that change.

At 6:24 PM Commissioner Sloan joined the meeting.

Meister requested that the storm water flow be considered; Dupuis stated that a stormwater basin would be considered.

Milton asked about deliveries and if there would be an overhead door; Dupuis responded that the location would be added to the final site plan.

Gencheff asked if all activities would be indoors; Dupuis stated that would be the case. Gencheff was concerned with noise affecting the wedding venue located next door, especially during the training months.

Gencheff asked if the site would be clear cut; Dupuis stated that the cutting would be kept to a minimum while providing access for the septic field in the rear and the placement of the building.

Meister asked Throenle if there was a required buffer for the project; Throenle stated there was none for the commercial properties and that the only area of concern would be the residential properties at the rear of the project. Throenle added that the buffer from the residential properties could be a fence.

Meister stated the project made sense for the location and was looking forward to seeing the final plans. Soucy added that workforce development and training is good for the region.

Sloan asked about the access to the rear of the property; Dupuis stated that the final plans will show the access from the front and the rear.

Soucy reminded Dupuis to use the site plan checklist for the final site plan presentation.

Sloan asked about noise impact; Throenle stated that the operation of the site would be primarily during daylight hours and would not be a concern for night time noise.

Dupuis asked about submission dates for the final site plan review. Throenle stated the submission date is twenty-one days prior to the meeting that the applicant wished to be on the agenda. Soucy added that the meeting in February would be on February 13, 2023.

B. 2023 Meeting Dates

Staff Introduction

Throenle stated the dates in the packet are proposed dates for the Planning Commission meetings in 2023. He added that the Board had already approved the dates. He said that the two meetings with the Board could not be changed.

Commissioner Discussion

Soucy asked the Commissioners if the dates were good; Commissioners agreed that they were.

Meister moved, Rhein seconded, that the meeting dates for 2023 be accepted as presented.

Vote: Ayes: 7 Nays: 0 Motion carried

C. Industrial Zoning District Conditional Use Discussion

Staff Introduction

Throenle stated that a situation existed at 6565 US 41 South regarding a residential use in the Industrial zoning district. He added that public comment regarding that situation had been heard earlier in the meeting. He showed an electronic map with the location of the parcel.

Throenle outlined the situation, stating that if the residence was destroyed for whatever reason, it could not be rebuilt as a residence since that was not an available use in the Industrial zoning district.

Throenle stated that staff is recommending that the Commissioners consider adding a residential conditional use to the Industrial zoning categories in the Zoning Ordinance. He stated that Commissioners could consider rental of the properties as an additional consideration for the district.

Commissioner Discussion

Soucy stated that he believes the Commissioners are interested in finding a solution. Rhein stated he had no problem moving forward with finding an answer. Meister asked what the ramifications would be to other properties within the Industrial district and if the owner could have both a residence and a business on the same property.

Throenle responded that each property owner within the district would have to apply for a conditional use permit on the property unless Commissioners decided that single family residential would be a permitted use. He stated that uses throughout the Industrial district at this time were primarily light industrial. He added that Commissioners could establish conditions as part of the approval process.

Soucy asked Throenle if Throenle had seen the resource that Soucy had sent regarding Class A non-conforming uses for a property; Throenle stated he had not, but that he would look into it.

Meister stated he did not see a reason why people could not have a house where they work; Gencheff added that they should be able to rent the house as well. Meister added that this would not be considered a dangerous industrial situation, as there was no heavy industrial use around the property. Soucy stated that the Township industrial districts are primarily light industrial as opposed to heavy industrial.

Throenle stated the proposed schedule would be to bring back the ordinance changes to the Commissioners at the January meeting.

D. Zoning Districts and District Intent Statements

Staff Introduction

Throenle stated that staff has taken a direction of writing some of the language for the ordinance. He stated that the direction was to determine what the name will be for the zoning district and the intent of the district.

Commissioner Discussion

Soucy suggested that the Commissioners start with the agriculture intent statement. He stated that the proposed intent language for that district did not have any reference to residential.

Meister asked Throenle if there would be two intent statements – one in the master plan and one in the zoning ordinance. Throenle responded that the intent statement in the zoning ordinance would be a one-sentence summary of the master plan direction.

Soucy asked Throenle if the language would be considered a legal statement; Throenle responded that the intent statement was not designed to be a legal statement but was to be used to determine permitted and conditional uses within a zoning district.

Meister suggested one change in the phrasing; the rest of the Commissioners agreed.

Commissioners then discussed Commercial. Throenle stated that the intent of the district would be to remove the overlay district and establish the district as mixed use.

Soucy recommended that the district name be changed to Neighborhood Commercial; Commissioners agreed.

Meister suggested that staff look at the intent statement in the Casco Township zoning ordinance; Throenle responded that staff would look at that and bring back a version of that for the next review.

Commissioners moved on to the Conservation Recreation district. Throenle pointed out that those areas that cannot be developed be potentially set aside for this district. Meister stated the language looked good and suggested that the language include what could be put in the area outside of habitable homes.

Discussion continued about where this zone would be located.

Discussion on the industrial district centered on the differences between light and heavy industrial. Throenle identified the areas of industrial zoning throughout the Township. Meister felt that the Fraco industrial area was heavy, and the rest would be light industrial. Rhein added that the Lakenen crane business should be considered heavier industrial.

Milton asked about the auto salvage yard. Throenle stated that it was a salvage yard located on South Big Creek that is now closed and will not be reopened as a salvage yard.

Meister suggested that the area on US 41 South be changed in zoning from Industrial to Commercial, which he felt would eliminate the house question within the district. Rhein agreed with the suggestion.

After considering the changes, the Commissioners decided to keep the Industrial zoning district name, with the intention of changing the industrial zoning on US 41 South to Commercial.

Commissioners chose to change the name of Municipal Properties zoning district to Government Properties and kept the proposed language for the new district.

Throenle stated he struggled with the naming of the Residential Development district, and Commissioners discussed this at length, with a concentration on mobile home parks. Throenle suggested that Commissioners look at the High Density Residential to determine if that met the need. Commissioners decided that the Residential Development language be removed as the High Density language met the criteria. Commissioners determined that mobile home parks would be considered later as part of the uses within each district.

Commissioners reviewed the Residential zoning district and kept the language as written.

Commissioners reviewed the new Rural Residential zoning district. Throenle pointed out that the Rural Residential district is not in the current zoning ordinance but was included in the 1977 zoning ordinance. Meister added low-density to the intent statement; Commissioners agreed with the change.

Throenle stated that Waterfront Residential was changed to Shoreline Residential for two reasons: one, anyone that had a property bordering a body of water (Lake Superior, Chocolay River, and related), and two to remove the idea of waterfront. He stated that many owners within that district believe the front of the house is on the water side, and that the zoning ordinance specifies that the front is the access to the property.

Commissioners agreed that the new name should be shoreline residential, and they retained the intent statement.

E. Land Use Discussion

Staff Introduction

Throenle explained that the chart the Commissioners were using was extracted from the current Township zoning ordinance. He explained that there were three categories on the chart: P, which indicated permitted use in a zoning district, C for conditional use, and greyed box neither being allowed.

Commissioner Discussion

Using the three categories, Commissioners worked through the first two pages of the document, discussing the categories for each land use. At the end of page two, they decided to continue the discussion at a future meeting.

Soucy asked Throenle about bylaw approval. Throenle stated that the bylaws were rewritten last year, and that he could bring them back for review at the next meeting if the Commissioners wished to review them.

Rhein moved, Meister seconded, to keep the bylaws as written.

Vote: Ayes: 6 Nays: 0 Motion carried

B. 2022 Planning Commission Annual Report

Staff Introduction

Throenle stated the report was an annual requirement that was required to be presented to the Board showing activities from the previous year. He added there was a section in the report showing the activities of the Planning Director for the year.

Commissioner Discussion

Soucy asked the Commissioners if there were comments about the report. Meister stated the report was concise and easy to get through.

Gencheff asked about the Board direction for resolving non-conformances in the AF district. She asked if that involved changing the parcel sizes. Meister replied that there are multiple parts to that question; one was to look at the non-conformities as well as looking at the zoning requirements for the district as the Commissioners proceed through the discussions. Gencheff asked what the priority was: resolving the nonconformances or keeping the rural character. Soucy replied that would be further discussed in the joint meeting agenda item later in the meeting.

Soucy asked Throenle if there was anything Throenle wanted to highlight about the report. Throenle replied that he believed the Board will see the amount of work the Commissioners did throughout the year.

Meister moved, Rhein seconded, to forward the 2022 Planning Commission Annual Report as presented to the Township Board for consideration.

Vote: Ayes: 6 Nays: 0 Motion carried

C. Industrial Zoning District Conditional Use Discussion

Staff Introduction

Soucy stated that the Commissioners heard public comments at the last meeting regarding a residential use in the Industrial zoning district. Throenle added that Commissioners had directed staff at the last meeting to present possible solutions for Commissioners to consider.

Throenle presented three possible solutions: 1) do nothing and keep the district as it is; 2) Add a residential and a rental conditional use to the Industrial zoning district, with the intent that the owner would apply for that conditional use; or 3) rezone the seven parcels in the related Industrial zoning district to Commercial, and put the overlay district in that zoning area to allow for residential use.

Commissioner Discussion

Soucy stated he remembered at the previous meeting that Commissioners were considering the Commercial rezoning with the overlay option; Rhein concurred.

Mullen-Campbell asked if the overlay was a mixed-use overlay; Throenle stated that it was, and that all current Township Commercial zoning districts had the mixed-use overlay district applied.

Soucy stated he saw this option as a better option, as it was not as intensive as the conditional use in the Industrial district. Meister added that it was a better idea to switch to Commercial to avoid putting residential and rentals in an Industrial district. Rhein added that the area was more of a Commercial district than Industrial. Mullen-Campbell asked if the rezoning would be just for that property; Rhein stated that the seven parcels would be included for rezoning.

Soucy asked Commissioners to look at the long-term use of the district and how that might affect the Township twenty-five years later. Meister stated that Commercial was better as it blended better with the surrounding residential areas.

Sloan asked what the timeline would be for the change. Throenle stated that the Commissioners would set the timeframe for the public hearing, and that required notifications would go out to the parcel owners and the surrounding neighbors about the rezoning. He added that once the public hearing was held, and Commissioners approved the language, the language would be forwarded to the Board for a first and second reading.

Mullen-Campbell asked if the public hearing could be held at the February meeting. Throenle responded that there was time to get the notifications out to meet the fifteen day notification requirement.

Rhein asked if the public hearing could be held at the joint meeting. Throenle stated it could, and that a first reading could be held at the same meeting. The second reading would occur at the Board meeting in March.

Bohjanen stated he was unsure if the first reading could be held at the same meeting as the public hearing. Throenle replied he understood that the Board could accept the document with changes discussed after the public comment was presented.

Soucy asked Bohjanen if the public hearing could be held at the joint meeting. Bohjanen stated he was concerned about the amount of public comment and expressed that it might extend an already lengthy agenda. He did agree that the public hearing could be scheduled if the Commissioners chose to do it that way.

Meister moved, Rhein seconded, to that the zoning for seven parcels located on US 41 South as presented be changed from Industrial (I) to Commercial (C), and to move the consideration for change number 34-23-01 to a public hearing.

Vote: Ayes: 6 Nays: 0 Motion carried

Meister moved, Mullen-Campbell seconded, that the overlay district map and language be expanded to include the zoning for seven parcels located on US 41 South as presented and to move the consideration for change number 34-23-01 to a public hearing.

Throenle asked when the Commissioners would like the public hearing to occur.

Rhein moved, Sloan seconded, that the public hearing be at the Board meeting on February 13, 2023 at 5:30 PM.

Vote: Ayes: 6 Nays: 0 Motion carried

D. Joint Meeting Considerations

Commissioner Discussion

Soucy stated he wanted input from the Commissioners for the joint meeting in February as to what the Commissioners would like to discuss at that meeting. He added that the items Board wanted on the agenda for discussion included sending completed definitions to the Board, a legal update regarding the AF zoning versus land use and the related strategies for the new ordinance based on that discussion, and the direction for an ordinance that is easy to read and understand. He added that the Board wanted to know what obstacles that exist to prevent the Commissioners from going forward.

Meister addressed Gencheff's question from earlier in the meeting. He stated that it was important to get the decision right. Rhein stated that he informed the Board that the decision was important, but the information was based on what legal opinion would be shared at the meeting.

Sloan addressed Gencheff's question by showing the question as outlined in the packet, and added that the master plan completion was part of the discussion. She wanted to make sure that the Board understood that the zoning ordinance discussion was started last September.

Soucy suggested that the Commissioners develop a set of guiding principles for discussion of the zoning ordinance rewrite to evaluate how to get out of circular discussions and to resolve issues. Sloan suggested that Commissioners determine the direction for the packet and future discussions. Rhein added that the discussions could follow that format.

Gencheff asked Throenle to clarify the issues about non-conforming properties. Throenle responded that the property owner could still build if the setbacks for the property were met. He stated the primary reason the AF non-conforming issue was important is that a property owner cannot divide property unless they have a minimum of 40 acres. He added that there are now several owners of properties in the Township that lost that right to divide when their parcels were included in the AF district when they previously were able to split based on their 2 acre or 5 acre zoning. Sloan interjected that the non-conformances would never be completely eliminated; Throenle agreed.

Throenle added that an additional consideration was that the lakefront parcels that are primarily 100 foot wide lots were all made non-conforming in 1977 when the zoning ordinance set the minimum lot width to 125 feet. He added that no explanation for this decision has been found in the Township records.

Throenle also added that moving the affected AF parcels back to a RR-1 or RR-2 zoning would put those parcels into a requirement for a minimum lot frontage that does not exist in the AF district.

Throenle emphasized there are families in the Township that wish to split for inheritance purposes but cannot. The only options to the family are to grant the property to one heir or to sell the parcel to a non-family member and split the proceeds.

Gencheff asked if relief could be granted based on family circumstances. Throenle stated that could not be accomplished, as the minimums were established for all properties within a zoning district.

Commissioners discussed the issues between non-conformances versus the splitting issue. Meister and Sloan agreed that the parcel size was more important. Throenle cautioned the Commissioners that changing zoning from AF to R-1 instead of RR-1 or RR-2 gives the property owner the capability of increasing density as more splits could occur. Throenle added that moving parcels into an R-1 district removes the ability to have AF considerations on their property.

Meister stated that consideration for properties should not be on a case-by-case basis, but on an overall direction. Soucy added that could be one of the guiding principles for the ordinance discussion.

Gencheff asked if AF considerations would be lost if a property was moved to R-1. Rhein responded that would be the case. Throenle added that the Commissioners have two considerations; one is that the current ordinance mandates the direction for a zoning district, and two is that the new ordinance can specify what uses can or cannot be permitted in a zoning district. Meister added there are limited possibilities within each of the districts as they are determined in the current ordinance. Throenle pointed out that the mixed use district was the difference, in that there are many more options in that district.

Sloan added that the consideration should be how people are affected with changes that may or may not happen. Soucy summarized Sloan's comments as another guiding principle to be responsive to public opinion regarding change of use.

Gencheff asked if people would be notified regarding the public hearing. Soucy stated the notifications would go to those within 300 feet of the requested change.

Soucy added that another policy should be a concentration on health, safety, and welfare. Meister felt welfare was hard to define, as property value was a priority. Rhein added that housing size and location should be a priority. Meister asked to add property values as part of the policy. Sloan added character of the Township should be included as well.

Soucy asked Bohjanen to participate in the discussion. Bohjanen stated that much of the conversation will revolve around the upcoming legal discussion as the issues are discussed. He was under the impression that the property owner might have to apply for the rezoning, with the emphasis on more rights instead of less. He suggested that more conversation be reserved for the joint meeting when the legal opinions are presented.

Meister asked Throenle if a property was rezoned from AF to R1 is there a grandfathering aspect that goes with the property. Throenle stated that if there was change that stopped the use, then the use would end.

Soucy asked Meister if he had a specific question or questions for the attorney. Meister replied that he was looking for a direction on what they can and cannot do in relation to making property changes, with the intent of looking at the zoning map to determine long-range impact.

Soucy and Meister both wanted to know from the attorney about the changes, especially if a resident does not want to be rezoned.

Soucy asked Throenle if he knew what tools are available for regulating character in a district. Throenle asked for a Commissioner definition of character. Meister responded that form-based code and public opinion determine that answer; Sloan agreed. Throenle added regulation could be as restrictive as the Commissioners wanted it to be, and he added a caution that it must be enforceable.

Throenle added that if the ability is removed from the property owner to do something that was already available then that was going in the wrong direction. He also stated that the enforcement aspect was a big portion of the decision, regardless of how a district was set up.

Soucy asked the Commissioners if there were any roadblocks that needed to be addressed, especially in relation to the AF district. Sloan was concerned about not doing a singular approach to answering questions. She felt that there were too many topics discussed at the same time in relation to the AF question, and all should be addressed one at a time.

Soucy asked if there were any concerns that should be addressed to the Board. Meister replied that he wanted to see a realistic timeline for the development of the zoning ordinance.

Mullen-Campbell asked for an explanation of the word “repurpose”. She was unclear how that applied to the AF district discussion. Soucy added that if language is unclear, then it needs to be one of the guiding principles to make sure that it is.

Soucy asked if there any additional concerns that should be addressed, and stated that he would like to see more training sessions from Township Manager DeGroot. Soucy asked if that should be added to the questions; Commissioners agreed it should.

Soucy introduced FlashVote, which is a new tool that the Township invested in to get survey data for various Township projects. He was curious as to how the Planning Commission could use the tool for their projects. He asked Throenle for more detail on the product; Throenle deferred the question to Bohjanen.

Bohjanen gave a quick overview of the product, its capabilities, and why the Township invested in the software. He pointed out that the software is a way to gain input that is not presented through public comment or public hearings. He stated that the purpose is put together short surveys of five questions to get quick feedback to questions that are part of a project. Rhein added more detail to Bohjanen’s description.

Gencheff asked if the survey went out separate from the newsletter; Bohjanen replied that it did. Gencheff stated that would be a good way to get survey data – describe the issue in the newsletter, then ask the questions about it.

Meister asked about the previous discussion related to the master plan survey and discussion on simplifying those questions. Rhein stated that is why the FlashVote format was chosen: to simplify the questions and to get quicker answers. Gencheff asked how much the software cost and how the survey responses are sent out. Rhein responded that if a person signs up, that person will get the same results as the Board. Bohjanen responded that the Township has a one year contract, and the cost is $6,000.00. He added that if the product does not work out, then the contract will not be renewed, and other options will be explored.

Gencheff asked if the email addresses were available, could the product be removed and those that registered answer questions via the newsletter. Throenle responded that was possible, but the bigger intent of the product was to get information that could be filtered by the responses by separating residents from those outside the Township that responded. He added that the survey would be linked in the Township web site to get more participation.

Soucy and Meister asked if the surveys could be down to the neighborhood level. Throenle responded that conversation had to be had with the software provider to determine if that was possible. Bohjanen added that other ways of getting the surveys would be possible, including a mailing option. Soucy added that it would be a good item to look at in the future.

Throenle asked Soucy to summarize the points that were given to give Throenle an easier way to find them for the minutes.

Rhein moved, Meister seconded, that the following items be sent to the Board for consideration at the joint meeting in February:

Proposed Guiding Principles for Considering the Zoning Ordinances

- a) More clarity in zoning ordinances*
- b) Not changing ordinances because of an individual's problem*
- c) Responsive to public opinion*
- d) Health, safety, welfare, and protection of property as a consideration*
- e) Consistency with the master plan*

Questions for the Board

- 1) Questions for the lawyer – what are the cans and cannots of rezoning*
- 2) Realistic timeline for the rewrite of the zoning ordinance*
- 3) More at-meeting training sessions*

Obstacles

- 1) Not shifting too much in the approach to solving the issues given to the Planning Commission*

APPROVAL OF AGENDA.

Rhein moved, Engle supported to approve the agenda as presented.

MOTION CARRIED

PUBLIC COMMENT – None.

CONSENT AGENDA

- A. Approve Minutes of Previous Meeting – Regular Meeting, January 9, 2023.
- B. Approve Revenue and Expenditure Reports – December 2022 (unaudited) and January 2023.
- C. Approve Bills Payable, Check Register Reports – January 3, 2023 (Check #'S 25858 – 25874, in the amount of $46,948.63), January 11, 2023 (Check #'s 25875 – 25894, in the amount of $21,318.04), January 18, 2023 (Check #'s 25895 – 25905, in the amount of $19,864.91), January 18, 2023 (Check #'s 25906 – 25920, in the amount of $19,846.90), January 27, 2023 (Check #'s 25921 – 25933, in the amount of $10,953.41), and January 27, 2023 (Check #'s 25934 – 25937, in the amount of $10,939.67).
- D. Approve Bills Payable – Regular Payroll of January 5, 2023 (Check #'s DD3012 – DD3042 and Check #'s 11305 – 11309 (11300 – 11304 Voided), Federal, State, and MERS in the amount of $40,482.56), and January 19, 2023 (Check #'s DD3043 – DD3071 and Check #'s 11310 – 11314, Federal State, and MERS in the amount of $41,365.84).

White asked about the Revenue and Expenditure report with the Township Board line being overbudget. S. Sundell explained that later in the meeting there was a budget amendment to remedy this – this overbudget amount was due to settlement fees on the FOIA court case.

Zyburt moved, Rhein supported to approve the consent agenda as presented.

SUPERVISOR'S REPORT

Supervisor Bohjanen spoke on the Town Hall meeting that was conducted by MCSWMA on January 30, 2023. Don Rhein, Kendra Symbal, and himself were in attendance. The information that came from the meeting was that tipping fees will be going up by approximately 25%. Mandates came from State level (EGLE) and they have the power to do this by refusal to renew the landfill license.

CLERK'S REPORT

Clerk Engle stated that we will be having a May election – MARESA is proposing an increase in their millage by 1.5 mills for a period of 20 years. Township staff is currently working on getting the Absentee Voter applications out. MARESA will be reimbursing the Township for extra costs associated with the election.

TREASURER'S REPORT

This report will be given on a quarterly basis.

PUBLIC HEARING – NONE

PRESENTATION – TOWNSHIP ATTORNEY – REZONING OPTIONS FOR THE AGRICULTURAL / FORESTRY DISTRICT

A presentation was given by Roger Zappa, Township Attorney on rezoning options. He feels this can be done, but only the Township Board can legally amend. A rezoning can only occur if there has been a mistake or a change in conditions. 42% of parcels in the Agricultural / Forestry district are non-conforming. Questions that need to be asked are, is it in the public interest and is it consistent with the Master Plan. The Master Plan does not dictate what zoning should look like, but it is a guideline. Rezoning also requires getting feedback from residents – public hearings, surveys, etc.

Zyburt moved, Engle supported to have the Chocolay Township Planning Commission join the meeting.
MOTION CARRIED

CONSIDER ZONING DISCUSSION OF THE AGRICULTURAL / FORESTRY (AF) DISTRICT.

1. MOTION BY PLANNING COMMISSION TO JOIN MEETING

Soucy moved, Milton supported to join the joint meeting with the Township Board.
MOTION CARRIED

Milton moved, Mullen-Campbell supported to approve the agenda as presented.
MOTION CARRIED

Rhein moved, Mullen-Campbell supported to approve the January 16, 2023 Planning Commission meeting minutes as presented.

MOTION CARRIED

2. PUBLIC COMMENT PLANNING COMMISSION

Nancy Richards, property at 495 County Road 480 – would like to be able to divide property between herself and two siblings.

3. TOWNSHIP ATTORNEY – REZONING OPTIONS FOR THE AGRICULTURAL / FORESTRY (AF) DISTRICT / REVIEW AND DISCUSS DIRECTION OF THE AF DISTRICT / FLASHVOTE USAGE

Question on Zoned / Un-zoned districts – Atty. Zappa is not suggesting overlay zones – this a discussion for the Planning Commission on what makes sense for compatibility for what is there. The Planning Commission has discretion on what is in the best interest of the public. The Township may want to look at different AF parcel sizes – possibly an AF1 and an AF2. All of this would require public input. Need to avoid being looked at as “arbitrary and capricious” – not supported by Master Plan or ignores public input.

Supervisor Bohjanen stated that many things have changed in the Township since 1977 and 2008. Agriculture has all but left the Township. There has been a generational change and the people that were farming in the past are now looking at needing to dispose of their land. The Township needs to make a decision on if they want to look at rezoning or not, the size of the parcels, and the use of the parcels. He feels that the Township should look at rezoning.

Supervisor Bohjanen feels that we need to put FlashVote to use and find out what the landowners and public want. By law, we need to notify property owners within 500 feet of what is going to change, but Bohjanen does not feel that this is enough. A mailing to all property owners in the Township might be a better option – this may be a little expensive, but not cost prohibitive.

Supervisor Bohjanen indicated that he had found the items that were to be sent to the Board for consideration on page 52 of the packet (Planning Commission minutes from January 16, 2023 – page 8 of 9).

Guiding Principles for Considering the Zoning Ordinances:

- a. More clarity in zoning ordinances*
- b. Not changing ordinances because of an individual’s problem*
- c. Responsive to public opinion*
- d. Health, safety, welfare, and protection of property as a consideration*
- e. Consistency with the Master Plan*

Questions for the Board:

- 1. Questions for the lawyer – the cans and cannots of rezoning (which have been discussed)*
- 2. Realistic timeline for the rewrite of the zoning ordinance (Bohjanen feels we should work as quickly as possible, but not a set timeline).*
- 3. More at-meeting training sessions*

Soucy (PC Chair) indicated that what he is hearing is that status quo is not sufficient and the Planning Commission needs understand what the public feeling really is. He does not feel that we can get that from just Public Hearings. To get a better sense of the community, we need tools like FlashVote and going out into the community to obtain their input. Soucy feels expedience should also be added to this list.

Supervisor Bohjanen asked Atty. Zappa about making minor amendments as we are working through this. Atty Zappa reminded that we need to consider each one – it is somewhat of a hazard to do piece meal zoning. Proceed with caution and make sure it makes zoning sense and that it is not just a favor.

Township Manager De Groot stated that the Board and Planning Commission have a lengthy process ahead of them. There are a lot of different ideas floating around right now. These ideas need to be brought to the public – charettes, postings on the website, a webpage that is aimed specifically at this subject, required public meetings, FlashVote usage. Need to look at both the Planning (creating a Master Plan creating districts) and Zoning (provides uses to those districts). Need a plan on how to reach more people. FlashVote would be a maximum of 5 questions per survey, which takes about 2 minutes to complete.

The Planning Commission will be putting together questions for the FlashVote survey.

4. REVIEW PLANNING COMMISSION YEAR END REPORT

PC Chair Soucy indicated that the Planning Commission had a great year and have accomplished a lot. The Planning Commission is a good team to work with. It was also indicated that the Planning Commission would be interested in more of the in-person training from Township Manager De Groot. The Annual Report is also addressed in Page 2 of 9 in the January 16, 2023 Planning Commission meeting minutes.

5. PUBLIC COMMENT PLANNING COMMISSION

Jason Copeman, realtor – his family has various acreages in Chocolay Township. Has been on various committees. Spoke on parcel sizes, open space, protecting farming (Right to Farm), 1997 Land Division Act, and subdivisions.

6. COMMISSIONER COMMENT

Donna Mullen-Campbell – learned a lot, need to keep simple and straight forward, zoning and land use, clarify acronyms.

Stephanie Gencheff – looking forward to putting ideas of public involvement in place

Kendell Milton – small lots have already been allotted non-conforming lots in the AF district
Ryan Soucy – eager to get started with the process to resolve our non-conformities and get things in line.

7. MOTION BY PLANNING COMMISSION TO CLOSE PLANNING COMMISSION MEETING.

Soucy moved, Mullen-Campbell supported to close the Planning Commission portion of the Joint meeting.

MOTION CARRIED

DISCUSS POLICE / FIRE INTERNSHIP PROGRAM.

Manager De Groot described the Internship Program for Police and Fire. In the initial campaign, we hired 2 part-time applicants moving forward in our police force. They are prescreened to go to the Police Academy. Both come from a background in criminal justice and are looking to work for us in the long term. Before they go to the Academy they do ride arounds with the Police and also do training with the Fire Department.

Sergeant Carrick described the cross-training program. By cross-training with the Fire Department, they will be better equipped to help handle situations when coming to the aide of the Fire Department. Once they complete the Police Academy, they will go into the Field Training Program.

Manager De Groot hopes that this will turn into a long-term training program. The funding part of this program, the State has enacted a program with COVID funds where the Academy tuition will be borne by the State, and the Township will be reimbursed up to $4,000 for part-time wages.

White wondered if bad press had anything to do with the lack of interest in becoming a police officer. Sergeant Carrick indicated that it was a combination of bad press and cost. Manager De Groot indicated that in the interview process, it was pointed out that the bad press was the reason they were interested in going into public safety. As an example of good press, one of our former Chocoley officers – Zane Weaver- who has since gone on to be a State Trooper was recognized for his response to a fire scene which was successful in bringing people out of a burning building.

MANAGER UPDATE FOR THE SEWER AND BUDGET

Sewer – the punch list has been completed, and we are now finalizing the paper work.

Budget – our auditors are in house – everything seems to be going well. No significant issues have come forth at this time. We now have both sides (revenue and expenditures) going through the system. We should soon be able to start expanding how we are looking at things – fee schedules, room rentals, etc. We are getting to the final parts of where we need to be. Will be able to give quarterly reports. By the end of the year, we will be in a position to project costs. Staff will be working with the Clerk’s department on the roll out of the FOIA software. De Groot also indicated that he is happy to help educate the Planning Commission.

BOARD MEMBER COMMENTS

Don Rhein – Like having the discussion between the Planning Commission and Board, along with Attorney input.

Kendra Symbol – asked about the ETA on the new website. De Groot indicated we are doing testing on it – will plan on having a presentation to the Board in March. Symbol also thank Atty Zappa and the Planning Commission for being there.

Judy White – None.

Dave Lynch – Absent.

Ben Zyburt – Wanted to give Manager De Groot kudos on the internship program and thinking outside the box. Manager De Groot indicated that this was a team effort.

Max Engle – None.

Richard Bohjanen – asked that the Board members pay attention to the minutes and the correspondence at the end of the packet. Lots of information.

PUBLIC COMMENT – None.

Zyburt moved, Rhein supported that the meeting be adjourned.

MOTION CARRIED

The meeting was adjourned at 7:24 p.m.

A. Joint Meeting Discussion

Staff Introduction

Throenle stated that the focus of the discussion was to take the information received at the joint meeting earlier in the evening and formulate a plan regarding that information.

Commissioner Discussion

Rhein felt that priority number one should be to formulate questions for the public to answer with the FlashVote software that were related to the development of the new zoning ordinance. He suggested that questions should be mailed to Throenle prior to the next meeting.

Milton asked about FlashVote; Rhein gave a quick overview. Gencheff asked how the public would be involved in the process. Soucy responded that the process would be to develop the questions, choose the five the Commissioners wanted for the public to answer, and then discuss at the next meeting how that information would be given to the public for response.

Gencheff asked if the questions should be on one topic or multiple topics. Milton replied that the questions should be focused on the AF rezoning that was discussed. Soucy added that Meister and Sloan should be notified about the development of the questions.

Soucy stated that staff would come up with a suggested approach for the next meeting, and that the Commissioners would be revising that approach as they saw necessary.

Mullen-Campbell asked for a further clarification on the approach. Soucy replied that it would involve meeting with the public in a townhall meeting format or other methods that may be discussed.

Gencheff asked how the public would be notified. Rhein responded that media sources such as the newspaper and TV should be utilized.

Gencheff asked if notifications would be sent out to the public via email. Throenle responded that there was a small number of public email addresses that the Township acquired two years before, and that email addresses would be stored as part of the sign up process for the FlashVote. Soucy suggested that the first townhall meeting be an introduction to the FlashVote process so that the public would be educated about the overall process.

Gencheff asked how the public relations process would work. Rhein stated that the Township Manager was the liaison between the Board and the Planning Commission and could be the point of contact for the public relations process.

Gencheff asked if email addresses could be collected at the Township office. Soucy responded that postcard notifications were very effective for reaching out to the public.

Soucy asked if Commissioners had other reactions to the joint meeting. Mullen-Campbell stated that controlled growth and rural character were important, and that smaller lots should be encouraged. She added that residents that she spoke with were concerned about their property rights, and that the legal information the Township attorney presented added gave her additional information.

Gencheff asked what the non-conformances would be by dropping acreage size from 20 to 10 acres. Rhein responded that the number dropped significantly. She asked what the impact would be by dropping to five in regards to comments from the Clerk in the previous meeting. Rhein responded that the Clerk could still do what he wanted as far as agricultural uses are concerned for his property because his property is in the Agricultural / Forestry district.

Soucy reminded the Commissioners that staff had previously presented a table showing the relation between the size of the acreage and non-conformances. Gencheff asked if dropping to ten acres would help the folks with the 17 acres. Throenle responded that 10 acres would not resolve the situation as they would need 20 acres to split; he added that the property was originally rezoned as RR-2, which established a five acre minimum in 1977. Gencheff asked if the property owner was "grandfathered." Throenle responded that the ordinance controlled the acreage size. Throenle added that the Township attorney pointed out that the parcels could be rezoned back to the zoning from 1977 without impacting the rural character or uses of the properties.

Gencheff asked about adjacent zoning to the property. Throenle stated that rezoning might be possible, but, as the attorney had pointed out, the uses currently on the property could not be restricted by a rezoning, which would happen by going from AF to R-1.

Soucy stated that the Commissioners had to get away from making decisions based on individual requests. Throenle responded that it did not matter who owned the property, as uses would be taken away if any property were rezoned from AF to R-1.

Soucy stated that statistical significance regarding FlashVote should be a goal of the Commissioners. He added that a minimum threshold should be established to determine the value of the responses.

X. Public Comment

Jennifer Baldwin, 6565 US 41 South

Wanted to know what the process would be for the hearing. Soucy responded that she would see a notice in the newspaper about the hearing, that the hearing would be at the Planning Commission, and that the issue would be on the agenda as unfinished business. He added that the process would be sent to the Board for a first and second reading. Rhein added that there would be a minimum of three months in the process. Throenle added that the Planning Commission meeting would be on March 20, and the Board meetings would be April 10 and May 8, assuming all went well.

Jason Copeman, realtor

Spoke about smaller lot sizes. His concern was that folks that wanted to stay on their property, especially those on fixed or limited incomes, could do so if there was an ability to sell a portion of the property to gain that revenue. He also spoke on statistical significance, indicating that the significance should be based on all participants receiving the information.

A. Proposed Zoning Ordinance Changes

Staff Introduction

Throenle deferred the staff introduction to DeGroot.

DeGroot gave the background on the decision not to hold a public hearing regarding seven parcels located on US 41 South. He explained that the current zoning ordinance did not have an option for residential in the mixed use overlay and that the hearing could not take place because of the missing language.

He explained potential options for addressing the situation. Option one was to add residential as a conditional use in the Industrial district. Option two was to stay with the Commissioner's previous decision to rezone the properties to Commercial with a mixed use overlay, which would remove some available uses in the Industrial district and require changes to the mixed use overlay district. Option three was to write a new ordinance that followed the direction of the master plan for developing a new neighborhood mixed use district. He stated the purpose for the evening was to determine the direction the Commissioners wanted to go so that proper public notice could be posted for that choice. He added that following a finding of facts determination at the Planning Commission public hearing the determination would be forwarded to the Board for final action, regardless of the option selected.

For option one, DeGroot stated that a public hearing would be held, with the intent that all of the industrial areas would be affected. He added that the control for residential was the addition of the language as a conditional use.

For option two, DeGroot stated that three public hearings would be held, and they could be held sequentially at one meeting. He added that the direction for the change had to be for all seven property owners, not just one, and not remove land uses that were still needed.

Sloan asked what the time frame would be if option one was chosen. DeGroot responded that the applicant could apply for a conditional use application as soon as the Commissioners decided to move forward with option one.

Sloan stated that she believed that option two was the intended direction that the Commissioners had selected, as she felt the area appeared to be more commercial than industrial. DeGroot replied that if that direction was chosen, then the inherent rights of the Industrial district would be lost.

Gencheff asked if there was any current industrial activity in that area; DeGroot responded that there was not. Rhein stated that there were rights that would be lost if the district was rezoned to Commercial. Gencheff responded that if the property owners consented that would not be a problem. Rhein responded that if any property owner rejected the change, then the process would have to be restarted.

Gencheff asked why the properties were rezoned from C-3 to Industrial. Throenle responded that C-3 in the 1977 ordinance was considered heavy manufacturing commercial, and there was no industrial district defined in that ordinance.

Soucy gave a brief background on why the discussion was taking place. He stated that the decision the Commissioners were making was not based on one property owner, but primarily for the purposes of addressing anyone who had a similar problem in the Industrial district. He stated option one would be the best solution for moving forward to resolve the issue.

Meister asked if there were any historical issues with the Industrial zoning as it is set up now, and if there were any problems with commercial type uses in those areas. Throenle responded that there was none.

DeGroot outlined the rebuild issue for the property in the district. He stated that financial lenders would not provide loans for the property as the property owner could not rebuild in the event of a total loss.

DeGroot asked the Commissioners to consider if the change they were looking at was a short term decision or if additional conversation was needed to look at matching the 2008 ordinance with the master plan.

Gencheff asked if option one could be completed in the short term while looking at other long-term solutions. Both DeGroot and Throenle stated that would be possible.

Sloan stated that the intent was to look at the longer term but that a short term solution should be considered.

DeGroot stated that the motion made in January was not driven by an applicant, which meant the Township would be making the change to the ordinance. He added that because the language did not exist in the current ordinance that the language could not be changed.

Meister stated that it would be reasonable in the Industrial district to have a residence on a property especially if the residence was part of a business. He stated that he was in support of option one, and that as discussions occurred in the future, the discussion could center on the uses in the district.

Soucy read the description of Neighborhood Mixed Use from the Township Master Plan; he emphasized that the change agrees with the master plan and the future land use.

Commissioner Decision

Meister moved, Rhein seconded, that the proposed language for the Township Zoning Ordinance listed as change number 34-23-01 Option 1 to add two conditional uses to the Industrial district be accepted as presented with the following findings of fact:

- Conformance to the direction of the master plan
- *Residential use is reasonable for an ~~residential~~ industrial district under some circumstances.

Milton stated he did not feel it was a good idea to have residential in the industrial district. He stated he was not in favor of adding residential to the district.

Soucy stated the conditional approval would give the Commissioners the ability to look at the considerations for each conditional use as it is presented.

Meister added that for the house that is in the Industrial zone, the buyers would already know that the location was in the industrial zone. He stated that if a new residential build request was presented, the requestors would be well aware that the location was in an industrial zone, and they would be primarily be building where they work.

Sloan stated that the Township industrial areas were not truly industrial as she saw it. Soucy added that the area where the residence is currently located would be more neighborhood mixed use in the future. DeGroot reminded the Commissioners that the master plan was a guide to follow and that Commissioners could redefine what those characteristics are.

Vote: Ayes: 6 Nays: 1 (Milton) Motion carried

DeGroot stated that the next step would be to set up the public hearing and establish the language for Commissioner and public consideration. Throenle added that the public notification would be sent to all residents within 500 feet of all Industrial properties throughout the Township.

Soucy expressed his thanks for staff preparation of the options that were presented. Throenle asked Soucy if the public hearing should be scheduled for April 17, 2024; Soucy responded that was the correct date.

B. Non-Conforming Parcels in the Agriculture / Forestry (AF) Zoning District

Staff Introduction

Throenle deferred the staff introduction to DeGroot.

DeGroot introduced the topic with a background on the current zoning ordinance and the February joint meeting with the Board where the attorney provided some information regarding the Agriculture / Forestry (AF) zoning district non-conformances. He referenced a statement made in the 2005 master plan, followed by a reference to the combination of all districts into one AF district in the 2008 zoning ordinance. He stated that the primary direction was to reduce the non-conformances in the AF district, with the intent of getting public input during the process.

DeGroot referenced a document that was included in the Commissioner meeting packet, and explained the reasoning behind each of the three proposed districts. He added that the primary direction was to retain agriculture uses in each of the proposed districts.

Commissioner Discussion

Meister asked if the presented document represented a sliding scale of property sizes. DeGroot replied that it was more of a guiding document for starting the conversation. He added that Township-wide town halls would be held to educate the public on the process.

Meister asked if a map change would be required; DeGroot replied that it would.

Rhein stated he liked the layout on the proposed document, especially since it did not remove rights from the current property owners. DeGroot replied that the document is still in draft form, and that other changes would be added later. Throenle added that the zoning district names could be any name; the uses would still be agriculture related.

Milton asked if the Michigan Land Division Act required ten years between splits; DeGroot replied that the parent parcel had to exist for ten years before the parcel could be split again.

Soucy stated that the document was a good starting point for the discussion. He asked how it would work if there was a holdout on changing the zoning for the area. DeGroot replied that the public hearing would be at the Planning Commission level and that the Board would be responsible for addressing the issue.

Meister asked what "unlimited" meant under the AF designation on the document. DeGroot replied this would be larger commercial type operations that were consistent with traditional agriculture practices.

Meister asked about the PA 116 designation. DeGroot explained that if a property was in the program, then the property would not be eligible for splits.

Commissioner Decision

Rhein moved, Meister seconded, that the proposed language for the Agriculture Forestry districts serve as a starting point for discussion.

Sloan asked if the intent of the motion was to add further detail to the information that was already presented. Soucy replied that staff would add to the document and bring it back for future public discussion and Board decision.

Sloan stated that she understood that the non-conformances would still exist. DeGroot replied that once the language was implemented, then the non-conformances would be reduced as property owners decided to opt into the new districts.

Gencheff asked if someone that was zoned A-3 be able to change to A-1 allowing someone to achieve smaller parcel sizes in AF. Rhein responded that it would be possible, but each case would be reviewed by the Planning Commission prior to that happening.

Soucy asked if the deed restriction and master deed statements would stay with the property if a rezoning took place; DeGroot stated that it would stay with the property.

Sloan asked about updating the map to show how the parcels would be affected. DeGroot stated that the map does not make a difference because it would not reflect how the individual property owners felt about the rezoning of their individual properties.

Vote: Ayes: 7 Nays: 0 Motion carried

C. Public Input Discussion / Survey Questions

Staff Introduction

Throenle stated that there was a request for survey questions for the FlashVote tool to get additional data regarding the AF discussion; he added the idea was to get additional public input on the topic. Throenle requested five questions from the Commissioners for going forward and asked the Commissioners to avoid open-ended questions.

Commissioner Discussion

Meister asked if there would be context added to the survey so that the public would understand the purpose of the question. Sloan added that definitions, such as non-conforming, would be required so that the public would understand the concept in the questions.

Soucy stated that he took a different approach to the questions by starting with a more basic approach and outlined his questions for the Commissioners. Meister proposed a question regarding rural character; Commissioners discussed the options to associate with the question.

Commissioners discussed the possible questions in more detail that should be included in the survey, and how the survey questions would be delivered to the public.

Milton asked how the survey would be advertised. DeGroot responded that a campaign would be put together to get the word out to the community.

Soucy asked if a virtual option could be added to the Township public meetings; DeGroot responded that it could.

DeGroot added that a statement would be added to the bottom of the survey to get participants to sign up for future survey participation. Meister suggested a popup on the Township website to suggest participation in the survey process.

Commissioner Decision

Rhein moved, Sloan seconded, that the questions for the survey be as follows:

- 1) How do you like to receive notifications about upcoming events and Township information. (with a list of choices)
- 2) Are you familiar with the new Township Master Plan (yes / no) (add a link to the Master Plan with the survey question, if possible)
- 3) Are you familiar with the Township Zoning Ordinance (yes / no) (add a link to the Zoning Ordinance with the survey question, if possible)

4) Would you feel comfortable attending a future neighborhood public input workshop and sharing your thoughts on Township development or planning (yes / no)

5) Rural character question to be extracted from the 2013 master plan survey

Vote: Ayes: 7 Nays: 0 Motion carried

D. Proposed Zoning Ordinance Definitions

Staff Introduction

Throenle stated the definitions were those that were not covered during previous definition discussions. He added that there were sixty definitions found in section 5.5 and section 18.2 of the Zoning Ordinance have not been addressed yet.

Commissioner Discussion

Commissioners asked how the definitions would be addressed. Throenle proposed that each definition be looked at individually.

Commissioner Decision

Rhein moved, Sloan seconded that the definitions be delayed until the next meeting.

XII. Director's Report

Planning / Zoning Administrator Throenle

Throenle asked the Commissioners what items they would like to see on the agenda for April. He added that there would be a pending site plan review for the meeting.

Mullen-Campbell asked if the site plan was for QuikTrip. Throenle stated that QuikTrip would not be coming to Chocoday Township. He stated the possible site plan review will be for the Iron Workers project on M-28. He added that another site plan review could possibly be on the agenda for May.

Commissioners decided that three items should be on the agenda:

- 1) Public hearing for the 6565 US 41 property
- 2) Definitions
- 3) Pending site plan review

Meister added that at some point the Commissioners should look at the site plan submittal requirements. DeGroot added that other items such as natural features should be added to that discussion.

Meister suggested that a faster pace for development of the new zoning ordinance would be appropriate; DeGroot agreed.

DeGroot asked what items the Commissioners would like to continue training in the future. Soucy suggested that a site plan review workshop with site plan examples from other communities would be a good choice. Commissioners asked that the training be added to the May meeting.

Rhein stated he would not be at the April meeting.

Michael Johnson, 317 Lakewood Lane

Spoke in support of permitting detached accessory dwelling units in the Township.

VI. Public Hearings

A. #34-23-01 Proposed Changes for the Industrial Zoning District

Staff Introduction

Throenle stated the purpose of the language change was to allow for a conditional use of residential in the Industrial zoning district. He emphasized that if the language was added, the Planning Commission would conduct a public hearing for a conditional use of residential for those wishing to add a residential use to their property in the future.

Commissioner Decision

Sloan moved, Mullen-Campbell seconded, to open the public hearing.

Vote: Ayes: 6 Nays: 0 Motion carried

Public Hearing

Nancy Holdwick, 1419 M-28 East

Spoke on both her and her husband's behalf. They questioned the reasoning behind the proposed changes and wanted clarification as to the details of the proposed changes.

Rusty Northrup, owner of Marquette Fence

Asked for the reasonings for putting residential in the Industrial district, especially since the residence would be surrounded by noise and dust.

Missy Lehtomaki, Select Realty

Stated the reasoning for the request was related to the residence located at 6565 US 41 South, which is located in the Industrial zoning district. She spoke as the representative of those wishing to purchase the property.

Sam Garrow, owner of Marquette Fence

Asked if the purpose of the request was to address one owner or the entire district.

Jessica Elliston, 240 Timberlane

Stated that the residential use would have to be approved as a conditional use, and that a residence could not be approved unless that occurred.

VIII. New Business

A. #34-23-01 Proposed Changes for the Industrial Zoning District

Commissioner Discussion

Milton stated he did not feel it was a good idea to allow residential in the industrial district, as anyone coming in with a manufacturing change would be required to get a conditional use permit to enhance the industrial district. He felt that residential in the industrial district was not a good addition to the district, based on the industrial uses that would surround the residential use.

Gencheff stated that she agreed with Milton in principle for the future, but that the property in question on US 41 South was different in that it was built in the 1970s, and that the uses surrounding the properties were generally commercial. She added that the Commissioners should carefully consider changing some of the industrial districts to Commercial zoning. She also noted that large scale residential uses in the Industrial zoning district would not happen. Sloan added that was not the intent; Gencheff agreed.

Meister stated that the intent was not to open the industrial district to residential zoning, but to address the unique property issue on US 41 South. Sloan added that the key for her was that the surrounding businesses were generally commercial and not industrial. Meister added that the reason for the proposal was not only to address a single property, but also to allow business owners to consider adding a place to stay on their property if they chose to do so. He added that the reasons for adding a residence would have to be presented and approved, and that the purpose of this change was not to address only one property owner.

Soucy read the findings of facts from the March meeting; the decision was in conformance with the direction of the recently passed master plan, and that the use was reasonable in the Industrial district in some circumstances as determined by the Planning Commission.

Soucy stated that any residential use in the Industrial zoning district would be considered on a case-by-case basis.

Soucy asked Throenle to explain the options for a decision on the issue. Throenle stated that there are three options: 1) deny the change, 2) to add single family dwellings to the Industrial district as a conditional use, and 3) to add registered rentals as a conditional use to the Industrial district. He added that finding of facts had to be added no matter the decision.

Commissioner Decision

Sloan moved, and Gencheff seconded, that the proposed language for the Township Zoning Ordinance listed as change number 34-23-01 to add single family dwellings as a conditional use to the Industrial zoning district be accepted as presented with the following findings of fact:

- 1) We find that it's under the Planning Commission purview to make recommendations that guide the control of development in the Township. This area is more commercial in nature with light industry. It is complementary to a mixed use neighborhood.*
- 2) We also find that it is in the general spirit of the master plan that this area is expected to evolve over time to become a mixed use neighborhood that is able to accommodate a variety of needs and uses.*

Vote: Ayes: 5 Nays: 1 (Milton) Motion carried

Commissioner Discussion

Commissioners discussed the conditional use for a registered rental dwelling in the Industrial zoning district. Sloan asked if the person requesting the residential use would have to know if the property was to be rented prior to getting approval for the conditional use. Throenle stated that two conditional use applications would have to be submitted; one for residential use on the property and the other to rent the property.

Soucy stated that the decision would be only allowed in particular circumstances. Meister added that caretakers or managers might be a possibility in the future; he was not in favor of an Airbnb-type rental.

Commissioners discussed how to ensure that future Planning Commissions understood the intent of the current Commission's intent. Meister suggested adding an intent statement in the ordinance language to clearly outline what the intent should be. Soucy asked for suggestions as for the intent language.

Meister proposed that the intent of the conditional rentals would be to allow employees or immediate family to be able to stay in proximity to the business and not to be open to general rentals. Soucy added that this would be added to the motion.

Sloan moved, and Meister seconded that the proposed language for the Township Zoning Ordinance listed as change number 34-23-01 to add Registered Rental Dwellings as a conditional use to the Industrial zoning district, and a statement be accepted as revised with the following findings of fact:

- 1) That an intent statement be added to the Township Zoning Ordinance that states the intent of the conditional rentals would be to allow employees or immediate family to be able to stay in proximity to the business and not to be open to general rentals.*
- 2) We find that it's under the Planning Commission purview to make* recommendations that guide the control of development in the Township. This area is more commercial in nature with light industry that is complementary to a mixed use neighborhood.

- 3) We also find that it is in the general spirit of the master plan that this area is expected to evolve over time to become a mixed use neighborhood that is able to accommodate a variety of local uses and needs.

and that the proposed language be forwarded to the Township Board for consideration.

Vote: Ayes: 5 Nays: 1 (Milton) Motion carried

Sloan moved, and Meister seconded that “and that the proposed language be forwarded to the Township Board for consideration” be added to the first motion.

Vote: Ayes: 6 Nays: 0 Motion carried

B. Final Site Plan Review Application SR 23-04 – Ironworkers Local 8 Training Facility

Staff Introduction

Throenle introduced the revised site plan from the Ironworkers Local 8 regarding a proposed training facility that will be located on M-28 East between the hotel and Nagelkirk. He stated the plan was a formal presentation that derived from a preliminary plan that was presented at the December 2022 meeting.

Commissioner Discussion

Peter Dupuis, representing Gunlach Champion, outlined the plan for a commercial training facility for Ironworkers Local 8. He introduced Tim Roman, the business agent and training coordinator for the Ironworkers Local 8, and Ross Bennett, the chief estimator and project designer from Gunlach Champion.

Dupuis spoke on the internal details of the building and indicated that the only major change from the preliminary plan to this one was that the entry to the site moved to the east of the property from the west side. He indicated that the building height would not exceed 30 feet, and parking would be available on three sides of the building. He added that Bennett was working with MDOT to finalize the entry from M-28, and to address concerns regarding going over the bike path. He stated that there would be a septic system on site pending a perk test on the site from the Marquette Health Department, and that connection to the Township sewer system may be considered if the site did not pass the perk test.

Soucy asked what the proposed hours of use would be. Roman responded that the primary training would be February through April in blocks of time from 7 AM to 3:30 PM. He added that during non-training times, there would only be one or two staff members on site. He stated that there may be some additional training scheduled, and that there would be two social events during the year; one in the summer and the other at Christmas and scheduled quarterly meetings. He stated that there might be some Saturday training for welders.

Mullen-Campbell asked about the impact on the wedding venue next to them. Roman stated that there would be minimal impact as all noise would be contained within the building, and that training would generally end prior to a scheduled wedding.

Meister stated he was satisfied with the proposed use. He added that he wanted to know about the topography or grading since none was indicated on the plan, the sizing of the utilities, lighting specifications, and where the discharge point would be for stormwater. His concern for lighting was there were no mounting heights or specifications on lighting types indicated. He added that his primary concern was the location of stormwater retention.

Soucy indicated that the main items to look at were the driveway and the stormwater drainage.

Meister asked Throenle about the screening requirement from the commercial neighbors; Throenle responded there was no requirement for that, as they were designed for commercial to residential.

Sloan asked how far away that trainees would come for training; Roman responded that some traveled from Milwaukee to receive training in the Upper Peninsula.

Gencheff asked about the increase in parking from the preliminary plan; Dupuis responded that would be to cover the two large events that occur each year, and Ross added that was also to address the number of spots required in the zoning ordinance based on the square footage of the building.

Meister asked about machinery that may be parked in the back of the building; he asked that the storage be designated on the site plan.

Soucy asked what was driving the need for the training facility. Roman responded that the primary reasons were shortage of workers and a need for a permanent facility. Soucy added that it was a key regional project.

Commissioner Decision

After Commissioner review, Meister moved, Milton seconded, that Site Plan Review Application SR 21-64 be approved with the following conditions:

- 1) Complete proposed grading*
- 2) Proposed lighting per the application requirements*
- 3) Demarcation of where outdoor storage in the back*
- 4) Depiction that the stormwater retention is adequate and where the outflow will be*
- 5) All pending permits are secured*

Vote: Ayes: 6 Nays: 0 Motion carried

IX. Unfinished Business

A. Proposed Zoning Ordinance Definitions

Staff Introduction

Throenle stated that the definitions presented are from other sections within the Township Zoning Ordinance. He added that page one of the definition document included definitions that had been considered previously but were not finished.

Gencheff asked why carports were not included in the ground cover ratio definition. Throenle responded that he was not sure as that was a carryover from the 1977 ordinance. Meister said that there were reasons stated in the past, but he could not directly remember what they were. He added that some communities added carports to the ground cover ratios, while others did not. Throenle added that the time to update the language would be now if there were changes that should be made.

Milton added that the primary reason for consideration was the amount of infiltration that would occur. Meister added that the ratio was also important to reduce the overall urban look of a property.

Meister asked Throenle to look up ground cover ratio in the zoning ordinance to see how it was being used. Throenle found the floor area ratio information in section 6.1 (C), and the ground cover ratio in sections 6.1 (D) and 10.2.B.e for Planned Unit Developments. He added that those were specific to the MFR, C and I zoning districts.

Commissioners discussed whether to keep the floor area ratio and ground cover ratio definitions as they seemed to be redundant. Commissioners decided to remove the floor area ratio definition and to modify the ground cover ratio definition. Commissioners suggested changing the language in 6.1 to remove item C and modify D to make it ground cover ratio and change the percent in MFR to 40 percent.

Meister asked why woodlots were excluded from the agriculture definition. After further discussion, Commissioners decided to remove the woodlot exception from the definition.

Gencheff asked about the 30 per cent ratio for the accessory dwelling unit. She asked if the percentage should be upped to 50 per cent, and if who uses the accessory dwelling unit could be changed to accommodate additional family members or caretakers. She added that she preferred that the accessory dwelling unit should be attached. Meister responded that sometimes it is more difficult to make it attached than it is to build detached, especially when trying to do things such as plumbing and match roof lines. Milton requested that caregivers be included in the list of those that could stay in the dwelling unit.

Throenle stated that he would research what the City of Marquette did with accessory dwelling units and bring back that information back to a future meeting. Meister requested that Throenle add wells and sewage disposal to that research to determine how that would be handled with separate units.

Soucy stated that the rest of the definitions would be tabled until the next meeting.

X. Public Comment

Maggie Johnson, 317 Lakewood Lane

Spoke in support of increasing the size of detached accessory dwelling units and detaching the accessory dwelling units. She also addressed the cost and use of the unit after the original unit was no longer used as an accessory dwelling unit .

Michael Johnson, 317 Lakewood Lane

Spoke on the size of his lot and stated that an accessory dwelling unit would not absorb much of his property.

Nancy Holdwick, 1419 M-28 East

Thanked the Commissioners for letting her speak earlier in the meeting. She also spoke on the vagueness and confusion in the language of the notices that were sent out in the mail. She added comments related to the rental next to her property and complimented the Commissioners on the rental part of the Industrial zoning district discussion.

XI. Commissioner's Comments

Milton

No comments.

Gencheff

Expressed a concern that the Township was getting dangerously close to adding two residences to a property. She was looking forward to seeing what the City of Marquette had in its language.

Meister

Expressed questions regarding rentals as a result of the accessory dwelling unit question.

Soucy

Stated that he hopes that the Township digs deeper into the housing issue to determine what is best for the Township. He said he would provide additional resources for the next meeting.

Sloan

Stated comments related to rentals. She thanked Soucy for his leadership during the meeting, especially during the site plan review motion.

Mullen-Campbell

Options should be explored regarding aging in place.

XII. Director's Report

Planning / Zoning Administrator Throenle

Throenle asked the Commissioners what items they would like to see on the agenda for May. He added that there would be a pending conditional use / site plan review for the meeting.

Commissioners decided that three items should be on the agenda:

- 1) Conditional use / site plan combination
- 2) Definitions
- 3) Agriculture district discussion

Meister asked about the survey. Throenle stated the marketing plan is the next step in the FlashVote process.

Soucy and Mullen-Campbell stated that they may not be available for the next meeting.

Throenle asked the Commissioners to review the handout on training and to contact Suzanne Sundell if a Commissioner wished to attend training.

VII. New Business

A. Conditional Use Permit CU 23-11 – JX Truck Center

Meister stated he had a potential conflict of interest with the project as he is employed by GEI and he was involved in the site plan for the project. The Commissioners voted to recuse him from the discussion.

Meister moved, Rhein seconded, to recuse Meister from the conditional use discussion.

Vote: Ayes: 6 Nays: 0 Motion carried

Staff Introduction

Throenle stated the reason for the conditional use request was that JX Trucking is changing the use of the former Blondeau property from the existing use of a trucking facility to a truck sales and rentals, truck repair, and parts sales at the location.

Public Hearing

Commissioner Decision

Rhein moved, Sloan seconded, to open the public hearing.

Vote: Ayes: 5 Nays: 0 Motion carried

Public Comment

Olivia Carlson, 160 East Wright Street

Had questions regarding the replacement of the fence between the project parcel and her property.

Nancy Fradette, 126 West Terrace

Spoke on both her and her husband's behalf. She stated that they had written comments on the project (included with the agenda materials), and wanted to reinforce their position that they were opposed to the project, especially regarding water concerns, noise, and diesel fumes.

James Fradette, 126 West Terrace

He added to his wife's comments that he was concerned about fuel dumping on site as part of the new project and expressed concerns regarding the effect on his well.

Carl Besola, 6262 US 41 South

He spoke in support of the project.

Commissioner Decision

Rhein moved, Sloan seconded, to close the public hearing.

Vote: Ayes: 5 Nays: 0 Motion carried

Commissioner Discussion

Throenle reviewed the documents presented in the packet regarding the project. He stated the project would be located in the commercial zoning district with the addition of the mixed use overlay district. He stated there were no staff objections to the project; however, staff recommended that the proposed extended hours be shortened to 11 PM to conform with the times detailed in Township Ordinance 68.

Soucy requested an overview of the project from the applicant.

The applicant stated that there would not be any fuel on site, and that the applicant operates in similar zoning districts throughout their service area. The applicant stated that they have been in business since 1970 and did not have any violations in any of their locations. The applicant added that they have 1,350 employees and are located in four states. He added they are moving their operations from Negaunee and a showroom would be added to the current building on the site.

Soucy went through the standards outlined in the packet and explained that the standards were part of the conditional use process. He read the first standard and the related staff comments. Milton stated he had no problem with the first standard.

Sloan asked how many trucks would be entering and exiting the site, and if the traffic was coming off US 41 South. Gencheff asked if the trailers would be on trucks. The applicant stated that the traffic would be roughly 18 to 20 trucks, similar to what was there previously, with the limit being the number of bays available for repair. The applicant replied that the trucks would also include large delivery trucks, and possibly trucks with trailers.

Soucy asked the Commissioners about the proposed hours. Commissioners decided that the hours should be set to 11 PM; the applicant stated that would not be a problem.

Soucy asked about the due care compliant plan. The applicant stated that the plan was in place for the previous owner, and that the new owner would comply with all parts of the plan.

Sloan asked about the above ground tank removal; the applicant stated that the tank would be removed. Gencheff asked about the removal of contaminated soil; the applicant stated that the soils had been remediated in the past and were still being analyzed to ensure removal of any contamination.

Gencheff asked if the contaminated area would be paved over; the applicant stated yes, and that it would limit infiltration of surface water to the contaminated area. Sloan asked if the contaminated soils would be removed prior to the paving; the applicant stated that they would remove the soil if any contaminated soils were found.

Gencheff asked about storage of hazardous waste. The applicant responded that there will be an above ground tank for oil disposal and batteries, both of which will be removed from the site by licensed contractors.

Soucy asked about existing or proposed floor drains. The applicant responded that there are drains in the existing building within the shop floor and in the restrooms, but not in areas where there would be hazardous materials.

Soucy asked about the first condition as discussed. Commissioners agreed that there was not an issue with that.

For the second standard, Soucy asked about the use changing the character of the surrounding area; Commissioners did not have a problem with that.

For the third standard, Soucy asked about the potential interference with the general enjoyment with adjacent properties. Rhein stated that there would be an improvement based on what the applicant has presented. Sloan added that it met the general usage of the commercial district.

For the fourth standard, Soucy asked if the property would be improved; Commissioners agreed that it would.

For the fifth standard, Soucy asked if the use would be hazardous to neighboring properties. Rhein felt that the applicants addressed that adequately. Gencheff asked about the storage of diesel fuel; the applicant stated that there would not be a use for diesel fuel on site. Commissioners agreed that hazards would not be an issue.

For the sixth standard, Soucy asked if the use would generate a need for additional government services. Gencheff asked about stormwater in the rear of the property; the applicant stated that a detention pond would be installed to capture the runoff. Commissioners agreed that there would not be a need for additional services.

For the seventh standard, Soucy asked if the use met the general conditions of the zoning ordinance and master plan; Commissioners agreed that it did.

For the eighth standard, Soucy asked if the use met the requirements of Federal, State and other local ordinances; Commissioners agreed that it did.

Soucy asked the applicant if applications were in for all other required permits; the applicant replied they were in progress.

Soucy asked the Commissioners if there were any conditions to add to the use; Rhein responded that the 11 PM deadline for the proposed hours should be included.

Commissioner Decision

Soucy moved, Rhein seconded, that after Commissioner and staff review and analysis in consideration of Conditional Use application CU 23-11, and the understanding that the proposed use is compliant with all terms of Section 16.2 Conditional Use Permits Basis of Determination and General Standards and the intent of the Township Zoning Ordinance, the Planning Commission approves Conditional Use Permit 23-11 with the following conditions:

- 1) Shall not commence repair operations between 11 PM and 7 AM.

Vote: Ayes: 5 Nays: 0 Motion carried

B. Final Site Plan Review Application SR 23-12 – JX Enterprises, Inc.

Staff Introduction

Throenle reviewed the final site plan staff report for the JX Truck Center regarding a proposed trucking facility that will be located on US 41 South at the former Blondeau property. He stated that the plan was for a facility that would sell, rent, and repair trucks, and that would also be set up to sell truck parts. He requested that the applicant provide more detail on snow removal and stormwater flow, and suggested that the applicants consider permeable solutions where possible for the project.

Commissioner Discussion

Gencheff asked about the retention pond location; the applicant stated that it would be located in the far east corner of the parcel as shown on page C-130 of the submitted site plans. Soucy stated he was not clear as to how drainage would go to the north of the property as shown on C-120; the applicant stated that C-120 showed existing, and page C-150 showed the proposed.

Soucy asked about snow storage and dumpster location. The applicant stated that C-130 showed the dumpster location. The applicant stated that snow storage would be moved to the south if necessary.

Sloan asked about the parking spots along the rear of the property; the applicant stated that the parking spots were not in the setback.

Sloan asked about the entrance into the property. The applicant stated that the easement was north of the Dry Dock.

The applicant presented the plan starting with page G-130. The applicant started with the traffic flow into the property. The applicant added that trucks in for repair would be located in the back of the property. The applicant stated that the north cut-through to the surrounding neighborhood would be removed and sodded, and that a fence would be installed as a separation between the applicant and the neighbors.

The applicant stated that the contractors and all working on the site would be required to follow the due care compliant plan.

The applicant explained the details of the architectural plans shown on the plans. The applicant added that a business sign would be placed on the property so that traffic on the highway could see it.

The applicant covered removal and demolition, including the above ground tanks, parking, paving, and general location of items on the site.

The applicant covered snow storage and general site grading. Soucy asked where the stormwater went after it left the site; the applicant stated it went into a wet area, then eventually into the creek.

The applicant covered the utility plan, including the water and sewer connections, and landscaping.

The applicant stated that the lighting would be contained within the property. Rhein asked if the lighting would be downcast; the applicant stated yes. Gencheff expressed a concern that there would be a large casting distance based on the location on the poles. The applicant stated that the lights would be casting light toward the site that would provide site security and site safety.

Soucy asked if there would be a key provided for the fire department for site access; the applicant stated that a lock box would be provided.

The applicant covered the site boring details and the remaining construction areas.

Gencheff asked about the fencing; the applicant stated that it would be either a wood or vinyl privacy fence. Gencheff asked if there was a problem with the fencing in relation to the light at other locations. The applicant stated that the truck lights would not be an issue as they are generally three feet or less in height. Gencheff expressed a concern that the residents will see the light; Sloan added that the residents will see the ambient light. Sloan asked if the lights could be further in from the setback; the applicant stated that it would create a problem for snow removal and movement on the site based on the concrete base for the lights.

Soucy asked the capacity size of the detention pond. The applicant stated that it was sized to contain nearly the same amount of discharge that is currently being discharged from the site.

Commissioner Decision

After Commissioner review, Rhein moved, Sloan seconded, that Site Plan Review Application SR 23-12 be approved as presented.

Vote: Ayes: 5 Nays: 0 Motion carried

C. Planning Commission Training – Site Plan Review.

Staff Introduction

Township Manager Bill DeGroot presented training materials on site plan review as the Planning Commissioners requested.

Sloan asked about the concerns about stormwater. DeGroot stated that stormwater should be considered regardless of what other agencies did as the Township should be concerned with the effects. Meister added that the County Drain Commissioner did not do site plan reviews for stormwater, and that those plans would be sent to outside consultants to make that determination. Bohjanen added that the Township responsibility included protecting neighbors.

DeGroot asked about future topics. Gencheff expressed an interest in training regarding attached and detached dwellings. DeGroot stated that training could be presented in the future. DeGroot also stated that natural features would be a great topic in the future.

VIII. Unfinished Business

A. Proposed Zoning Ordinance Definitions

Staff Introduction

Throenle stated that the definitions presented were from previous meetings. He asked if there were specific definitions that needed to be changed versus addressing each definition.

Meister stated that the definitions needed to be finished. Sloan asked if the definitions should be done as homework and brought back to the next meeting.

Throenle explained the highlighting found in the document. Throenle suggested that Commissioners look at the definitions prior to the next meeting and complete the definitions by the next meeting.

Gencheff asked about communication towers as essential services; Throenle explained that private wireless towers would not be considered essential towers as much as the towers for public use.

Soucy requested staff look at the State-oriented definitions to determine what changes should be included.

Meister commented on the accessory dwelling unit. He requested that the regulation be removed from the definition, and that the accessory dwelling unit definition should be removed.

Meister recommended that all definitions that are not used should be removed from the definitions. Soucy agreed, with the understanding that the definitions could be brought back as needed.

Commissioners stopped the discussion on page three of the provided document.

Soucy stated that the rest of the definitions would be tabled until the next meeting.

B. Proposed Agriculture Zoning District Language

Soucy tabled this item until a future meeting.

IX. Public Comment

Maggie Johnson, 317 Lakewood Lane

Spoke about concerns about the increase in traffic to the new trucking site and where parking would be for the new project location and the Dry Dock Bar & Grill as the Dry Dock increases its business.

X. Commissioner's Comments

Rhein

No comments.

Sloan

No comments.

Milton

No comments.

Soucy

Expressed a "good work" compliment to the Commissioners.

Meister

Expressed that he wanted to see faster progress on getting the ordinance completed. Soucy added that a work session would be scheduled if significant progress was not made at the next meeting.

Gencheff

Expressed that she was in the middle of a deep learning curve; other Commissioners expressed that she was doing well with that progress.

XI. Director's Report

Planning / Zoning Administrator Throenle

Throenle stated that the zoning ordinance updates for the Industrial zoning district were approved by the Board and would be official before the end of May. He added that there will be a conditional use hearing on the agenda for June related to that zoning ordinance update.

Throenle stated there was a virtual training opportunity available that Commissioners could attend and that the details were available at the Commissioner's table.

He added that the Commissioners each had a book in front of them that had a copy of the zoning ordinance, master plan, and other documents that would serve as reference materials for future meetings.

Throenle stated that FEMA published notices in the Mining Journal that the flood plain maps are in the process of being updated, and that comments to FEMA would be open until August. He added that those in the flood plain would be required to purchase insurance if they have a Federally backed mortgage or if their bank requires it. He added that an elevation study for an owner's property could reduce the cost of the insurance for that property.

Throenle asked the Commissioners what items they would like to see on the agenda for June. He added that there would be a conditional use hearing for the meeting.

Commissioners decided that three items should be on the agenda:

- 1) Conditional use hearing
- 2) Definitions starting with "D"
- 3) Agriculture district discussion

Throenle thanked the Commissioners for their efforts for the site plan review during the meeting.

Spoke on his concerns with the proposals related to the proposed changes to the parcel sizes in the agriculture zoning district.

Deborah Mulcahey, 633 Lakewood Lane

Spoke about the size of acreage in the agriculture zoning district and the uses within the district. Mulcahey stated her opposition to the concept as well as the need for more public review and comment, referencing FlashVote. Additionally, Mulcahey spoke on the conditional use agenda item, and the rezoning agenda item.

Frank Jeffries, 545 Mangum Road

Spoke on his concerns with the proposals related to the proposed changes to the parcel sizes in the agriculture zoning district. He added that no one knew about the meeting and the discussion concerning the agriculture properties.

VII. New Business

A. Conditional Use Permit CU 23-19 – 6565 US 41 South

Staff Introduction

Throenle stated the reason for the conditional use request was give the new property owners the ability to move into the existing house and make it their residence. He added that the primary reason the process had to happen was that the mortgage insurance company could not insure the property as it was. He added that the zoning ordinance had been updated to allow the conditional use to happen.

No written comments were received from the public regarding the conditional use. No comments opposing the conditional use were received during the meeting.

Commissioner Discussion

Soucy stated the following findings of fact for discussion:

“That the proposed special use is supported by the master plan’s vision of future land use and complies with the standards of the zoning ordinance and

The special land use would bring the property into conformity. There is nothing different about it than what currently exists and so the change would have no impact other than to reduce that non-conformity and provide relief to the non-conformity.”

Meister asked if the owner / applicant were in the right order to complete the conditional use. Throenle stated that the owner applied and that the conditional use would transfer to the new owner after purchase of the property was completed.

Commissioner Decision

Mullen-Campbell moved, Rhein seconded, that after Commissioner and staff review and analysis in consideration of Conditional Use application CU 23-19, and the understanding that the proposed use is compliant with all terms of Section 16.2

Conditional Use Permits Basis of Determination and General Standards and the intent of the Township Zoning Ordinance, the Planning Commission approves Conditional Use Permit 23-19 as presented.

Vote: Ayes: 6 Nays: 0 Motion carried

VIII. Unfinished Business

A. Proposed Zoning Ordinance Definitions

Staff Introduction

Throenle stated that the definitions presented were the remaining definitions for consideration for the proposed zoning ordinance. He added that the definitions highlighted in yellow in the document were definitions that were for the same item but were found in two different places in the ordinance.

Commissioner Discussion

Gencheff asked why the State of Michigan requirements were removed from the day care definition. Throenle responded that it was an inadvertent removal from the language. Soucy added that he wanted to see the definition names changed to match the PA 116 Act of 1973 and to include the capacities in the definition.

Rhein suggested starting at the top of the definitions and going through the list. Throenle suggested looking at each group of definitions under each letter.

Meister stated that the second condominium definition could be removed; Soucy agreed.

Meister brought up questions regarding the fence definition and the height. He was concerned with the specified height for hedges or living bushes. He added that height should be clarified when the fence portion of the ordinance is discussed.

Gencheff asked about ground cover ratio. After a brief discussion, the Commissioners decided to leave the definition as is.

Meister recommended removing the second multi-family dwelling unit definition; Gencheff agreed.

Meister recommended removing "Subdivision" from the Rural Cluster Development Subdivision title.

Soucy requested that State licensed residential facility be removed as each are defined elsewhere in the definitions.

Commissioners decided to remove the word "literal" from the proposed variance definition.

Throenle emphasized to the public that the definitions would be draft only, and that they would not be officially adopted until the new ordinance was adopted.

B. Proposed Agriculture Zoning District Language

Staff Introduction

Throenle stated that in 2008 the agriculture district was changed to move all agriculture properties to a twenty acre minimum. He added that the reason for the establishment of the proposed agriculture districts was to return the sizes to the sizes established prior to the 2008 ordinance, and to reduce the current non-conformities in the current AF zoning district.

He also stated that the agenda was posted each month on the Township web site, and he apologized to those in attendance if they did not get the meeting notice prior to the meeting.

He added that Commissioners should look at each of the district's uses to determine what would be permitted and what would be conditional. He stated that the language developed will be considered draft language, and that there would be future town hall meetings with the public to review the language.

Commissioner Discussion

Soucy stated that the Township attorney said that nothing could be completed until the public had a reasonable opportunity to respond to the changes. Throenle added that the intent was not to overdevelop the Township or to increase the tax base.

Meister added that the intent was to address the sizes of the existing parcels, especially those that were in the one and two acre sections. He added that changes may occur after reviewing the draft maps and public input. Throenle added that the review of the uses would determine what could happen in each of the smaller districts.

Commissioners reviewed the intent statements for each of the districts. Throenle explained the legend in the document that would be used during the discussion. Throenle requested that the Commissioners use the Proposed Land Use Cross Reference document that was provided in the packet to review the districts.

Commissioners reviewed each of the land uses found on the document, and provided suggested changes. Throenle explained that the uses highlighted in green were State-related, and he would provide further detail on those at the next meeting.

Commissioners reviewed the restrictions and prohibitions comparison included in the document. They removed "no animal farming or riding activity" from AG 1; removed "limit of one domestic animal per acre" from AG 2; and removed "Rural Residential Cluster permitted with 50% or more open space and detailed in the master deed" from AG 3.

Commissioners did not remove anything from the regulatory control comparison table. Soucy recommended adding the Michigan Planning Enabling Act and Michigan Zoning Enabling Act.

Commissioners did not add any additional items to the use table from the suggested added uses table as those items were covered in earlier discussions during the meeting.

C. Proposed Land Uses

Commissioner Discussion

Meister stated he was not sure he wanted the minimum acreage size to be ten acres for the agricultural district. Rhein asked Meister if Meister wanted the size to be fifteen acres. Meister stated he was concerned what the view would be and if it would still be “rural character” if the acreage was set to ten acres.

Commissioners discussed this change and decided to change the acreages to under three acres in AG 1, three to fifteen acres in AG 2, fifteen acre minimum in AG 3.

Commissioners discussed the lot size minimums and setbacks and accepted them as presented in the document.

Sanders requested to be able to give public comment; Soucy suggested that Sanders meet with him during the break.

Commissioners took a five minute break at 8:31 PM and started with the rezoning application (item VII.B) when they returned.

VII. New Business

B. Rezoning Application 34 23-19 – 537 West Branch Road

Staff Introduction

Throenle stated that the applicant, who is the owner of the parcel, had purchased the property from the State of Michigan. Throenle said that this presented a unique situation, as the land was shown on the Township zoning map as State Lands, but there was no corresponding section in the zoning ordinance that provided permitted or conditional uses for State lands. Because the applicant wanted to put a structure on the property, Throenle stated he could not sign a Zoning Compliance permit because there were no uses defined in the zoning ordinance. He added that the Township attorney had stated that because the lands were identified on the zoning map, they were considered zoned, and a rezoning of the property was required to get the issue properly resolved.

Throenle added that the applicant had already built a structure on the property without a permit, which further added to the complexity of the problem. He added that regardless of the type of structure, agricultural or otherwise, a zoning compliance permit was required for reasons of determining where the structure was located on the property.

Public Hearing

Rhein moved, Meister seconded, to open the public hearing.

Vote: Ayes: 6 Nays: 0 Motion carried

Public Hearing Comment

Kathy Aalto, 430 Foster Creek Drive

Gave a brief history on the parcel in question. She expressed concerns about the structure being built without permits and owner hunting on the new property. Using the computer monitor available at the meeting, she showed the Commissioners the location of the property and the location of the new structure.

Rhein moved, Meister seconded, to close the public hearing.

Vote: Ayes: 6 Nays: 0 Motion carried

Commissioner Discussion

Soucy asked Throenle what the options were regarding the rezoning and the violation on the property. Throenle responded that the State lands had to be rezoned according to the attorney direction. Meister stated he was not sure that the structure was an agriculture building. Throenle stated staff had looked at the same picture and had drawn the same conclusion; he added that the concern was rezoning the property with a newly added violation on the property.

Further discussion continued among the Commissioners regarding the rezoning. Commissioners decided to rezone the property, and to forward it to the Board for approval.

Commissioner Decision

Soucy moved, Milton seconded, that the zoning for the parcel known as 52-02-135-016-02 located at 537 West Branch Road be changed from State Lands to Agriculture / Forestry (AF), and the rezoning be sent to the Township Board for consideration, pending legal review.

Vote: Ayes: 6 Nays: 0 Motion carried

Commissioners decided to continue with item VIII.C Proposed Land Uses in the agenda.

IX. Public Comment

None

X. Commissioner's Comments

Milton

Asked if the Shaw's property was considered a brownfield. Throenle responded that the County Treasurer was the owner of the property and that there were plans underway to have the County Land Bank take control of the property. Soucy asked if the property was identified by the land bank as a potential demolition project. Throenle responded that that was part of the discussion, and no decision had been made yet.

Gencheff

Expressed that she was trying to understand why there were no commercial districts within the Township. She asked if it was acceptable to put a house in the commercial district. Throenle responded that the intent of the mixed use overlay district was to allow property owners to work and live on the same property.

Mullen-Campbell

Felt that it was a good work session, and that everyone kept working to get things completed.

Rhein

Expressed a “thanks” (along with Milton and Mullen-Campbell) to staff for the materials in the agenda packet.

Meister

Stated that it was good meeting, and that he was satisfied with the results of the meeting discussions.

Soucy

No comments.

XI. Director’s Report

Planning / Zoning Administrator Throenle

Throenle thanked the Commissioners for their efforts during the meeting, especially regarding the amount of information that was reviewed.

Throenle gave an update on the FlashVote process and stated that the first survey would be released soon.

Throenle stated there was a Planning and Zoning training opportunity available that Commissioners could attend in Harris sponsored by the Michigan Township Association and that the details were available at the Commissioner’s table.

Throenle stated that FEMA has published a new method of applying for a Letter of Map Amendment (LOMA) for those that were concerned about their homes being in the flood zones on the proposed FEMA maps. He told the Commissioners that the details were provided to them at the Commissioner’s table, and that they would be available to the public.

Throenle indicated that there were 27 topics still to be covered for the proposed zoning ordinance.

He suggested that the items to be covered for the next meeting be a completion of the definitions, finish up the zoning districts and uses, and present a layout of the new zoning ordinance document. He suggested that the next discussion after that would be related to the accessory dwelling units.

Throenle reminded the Commissioners that the August meeting would be a joint meeting with the Board.

Commissioners agreed that the suggested agenda items be used for the July meeting.

Throenle again thanked the Commissioners for their extended participation.

Vote: Ayes: 6 Nays: 0 Motion carried

IV. Minutes

A. June 19, 2023 Meeting

Soucy expressed a concern received from Deboah Mulcahey that the minutes did not accurately reflect Mulcahey's comments. Commissioners discussed the comments and recommended that staff review the comments for the next meeting.

Mullen-Campbell moved, Rhein seconded, to add to Ms. Mulcahey's comments.

Vote: Ayes: 6 Nays: 0 Motion carried

V. Public Comment

Bill Sanders, 105 Country Lane

Read his email sent to the Commissioners on his concerns with the proposals related to the proposed changes to the parcel sizes in the agriculture zoning district in relation to the master plan.

Deborah Mulcahey, 633 Lakewood Lane

Agreed with Sander's comments, spoke on missing comments in minutes, the importance of minutes, and the gathering of information from the public in regards to the agriculture discussion.

VI. Presentations

VII. Unfinished Business

A. Proposed Zoning Ordinance Definitions

Staff Introduction

Throenle stated that the definitions were presented as a final draft. He stated that six definitions were added to cover State-mandated additions, and asked the Commissioners to review the state definitions to determine if the language was sufficient.

Commissioner Discussion

Soucy stated that he was in favor of leaving the State definitions as written. Gencheff asked if the definitions could be changed if they were state-mandated. Throenle responded that minor changes could be written to make the definition more readable.

Meister asked if the definitions could include a statement that said they were from the State so that if the definition changed the ordinance would not have to change.

Gencheff asked if the requirement was to include all the State-required facilities in the residential district; Throenle responded that was the case.

Soucy questioned the location of child care centers; he felt that the requirement was not in the language to require location in a residential district. After further discussion, Soucy requested that staff look into that to clear up the confusion.

Gencheff pointed out that there was a conflict in use for group child care home in the use table; the table showed conditional, where it should show permitted.

Meister asked about the note included above the definitions in the document. Throenle stated that it was designed for information only. Meister asked if the state definitions could be referenced in that section, instead of including the direct language in the ordinance. Soucy added that definitions should be included to establish a way to directly find the necessary definitions.

Commissioner Decision

Rhein moved, Meister seconded, that after Commissioner review the proposed zoning ordinance definitions be approved as presented.

Vote: Ayes: 6 Nays: 0 Motion carried

B. Proposed Agriculture Zoning District Language

Staff Introduction

Throenle stated that the discussion was a continuation of previous meeting discussions.

Commissioner Discussion

Gencheff asked about medium density in AG 1. She pointed out there was a discrepancy in density between two pages in the document. Throenle stated she was correct that medium density was the determination.

Commissioners discussed the differentiation of density across the three districts. Soucy added that the discussion was an exploration of the possibilities for each district, and that the Commissioners were developing a concept for the public to review.

Gencheff asked where the districts would be located, and how would they identified. Meister stated that the intent was not to make new small parcels, but to adjust the parcels to meet what already existed. He requested that maps be drafted to see where the different parcel sizes would be. Throenle added the intent was to review and adjust acreage for those parcels that were changed in 2008; he stated that it was not the intent to set parcels up for development.

Meister added that the smaller parcels should not be held to the same constraints as those that have larger acreage. He requested that staff come back with maps showing the relationship with the language the Commissioners are trying to develop.

Commissioners continued to discuss the mapping and locations of the proposed districts. Throenle added that staff could provide the requested maps.

Throenle asked if there were any changes requested for the proposed language. Gencheff asked if AG 1 should be changed to one to three acres; Throenle responded it would be better to state less than three acres to accommodate the smaller parcels with the understanding that the County Health Department would determine if there was adequate space for well and septic on the property prior to building.

Meister added a request to state that an AG 1 lot could not be divided into lots less than one acre. Soucy requested the language be considered a regulation; Throenle added the statement in the regulations section of the proposed document.

Meister stated he had a question about the examples under the medium processing, and whether any of those should be included in the agricultural districts. Throenle stated that they were listed as not permitted; Meister asked if that should be reconsidered. Commissioners decided to change the requirement to conditional in AG 2 and AG 3 for parcels of 20 acres or more.

Soucy asked that child care center be highlighted across the uses as well.

C. Proposed Zoning District Intent Statements and Land Uses

Staff Introduction

Throenle stated that the use table covered all uses across all zoning districts. He requested Commissioners review the intent statements and the use table.

Commissioner Discussion

Gencheff pointed out that medium density should be added to the AG 1 intent statement; Commissioners decided to change the density statement to low in AG 1 and AG 2 districts.

Commissioners discussed mobile home parks. Meister expressed that the intent was to provide multi-family units in higher density residential with mobile home parks set as a conditional use. Commissioners agreed on the change.

Commissioners discussed the proposed use cross reference table. Gencheff asked how many accessory dwelling units could be allowed on the property. Throenle and Rhein stated that the language regarding that would be decided later on when discussing the language within the ordinance.

Commissioners changed the accessory dwelling unit MU district to conditional use.

They changed accessory residential home occupation – tier 1 and tier 2 to conditional use in the I district and changed the daycare example to relative care.

Commissioners changed the CR district to conditional use for accessory structure.

Commissioners added sales to the title for agriculture – commercial soil modifications.

Commissioners changed the CR district to conditional use for auditorium and place for public assembly.

Commissioners changed the I district to conditional use for charitable or philanthropic organization sales.

Staff will research the child care center uses.

Commissioners changed the GP district to conditional use for commercial recreation – indoor and commercial recreation - outdoor.

Commissioners changed the MFR district to conditional use for culture center.

Commissioners changed the MFR and MU districts to conditional use for emergency services facility.

Commissioners changed the AG 2 and AG 3 districts to conditional for the food packaging and bottling works.

Commissioners changed the AG 2 and AG 3 districts to not permitted for the food truck or other mobile vendor as a principal use of a lot.

Commissioners changed the MU district to conditional use for funeral home.

Commissioners changed the CR district to conditional use 40 acres minimum for hunting or shooting preserve; staff will look at state requirements for a hunting or shooting preserve.

Commissioners added outdoor drive-in theatre with conditional use in the AG 1, AG 2, AG 3, I, and MU districts.

Commissioners split kennel into indoor and outdoor, with conditional for the indoor in the AG 1, AG 2, AG 3, I, and MU districts.

Commissioners changed the AG 1, AG 2, and AG 3 districts to conditional use for light intensity processing with accessory storage.

Commissioners changed the AG 1, AG 2 and MFR districts to conditional use for medical clinic.

Commissioners changed the AG 2 and AG 3 districts to conditional 20 acres minimum use for medium intensity processing and handling.

Commissioners changed the MFR district to conditional use for mobile home park.

Commissioners removed funeral services and gas station from the examples for moderate regional commercial - moderate traffic intensity.

Commissioners changed the AG 1, AG 2 and AG 3 districts to conditional use for outdoor food and beverage service.

Commissioners changed the I, MFR, MU, R1, R2, and SR districts to conditional use for planned unit development.

Commissioners changed the AG 1, AG 2, and AG 3 districts to conditional use for private club.

Commissioners added not related to agriculture to retail food and drink.

Commissioners added not related to agriculture to retail sales.

Commissioners changed the AG 2 and AG 3 districts to permitted use 20 acres for riding stable or animal breeding facility accessory to a residence.

Commissioners changed the AG 2 and I districts to conditional use, and not permitted in GP for site condominiums.

Commissioners changed the MFR, MU, R1, R2 and SR districts to conditional use for solar energy system (SES) – accessory ground mounted

Staff will look at State law to see if large commercial arrays can be left out of an ordinance.

Commissioners changed the MFR district to conditional use for transportation – high impact.

Staff will look at the State mandates to determine if wind energy conservation systems must be included in the ordinance.

Commissioners changed the CR district to conditional use for wildlife management.

Commissioners changed the CR district to not permitted and the MU district to conditional use for wireless communication facility.

Throenle stated he would bring the revised chart to a future meeting.

VIII. New Business

A. Proposed Zoning Ordinance Document Layout

Staff Introduction

Throenle stated that he extracted the document layout from the master plan to prepare for inclusion of language as it is written in the future, with a cross-reference to the current zoning ordinance. He added that a cross-reference document was included to show the relationship to the current zoning ordinance.

Commissioner Discussion

Soucy recommended that section 5.3 be changed to 5.1, and numbering would change within the section to match the change; Meister agreed.

Commissioners discussed the location of site plan review and conditional use, and decided to keep the sections where they are.

Throenle indicated that there were sections identified at the end of the document that were not referenced in the new format.

Commissioner Decision

Meister moved, Rhein seconded, that the proposed zoning ordinance document be approved as revised.

Vote: Ayes: 6 Nays: 0 Motion carried

IX. Public Comment

Bill Sanders, 105 Country Lane

Spoke on uses such as solar and wind that had to be included, and to do so as conditional uses. He added comments in support of the inclusion of a one-page summary of site plan review and conditional use, and spoke about the AF property sizes.

Richard Bohjanen, 140 Edgewood Drive

Added a humorous comment that “grow things” was not discussed in relation to uses in the agriculture district.

X. Commissioner’s Comments

Rhein

No comments.

Gencheff

Expressed that she was concerned about promoting sprawl.

Milton

Asked if the Parker property was going to be a contractor yard. Throenle responded that the equipment was being used for the properties within the development.

Mullen-Campbell

Felt that it was a good work session, and that everyone was asking good questions.

Soucy

Thanked the Commissioners for a good job.

Meister

Stated that it was good meeting, with the bonus of completing the agenda. He added it would be good to continue to look at the solar and wind energy requirements.

XI. Director's Report

Planning / Zoning Administrator Throenle

Throenle stated the next meeting on August 21 would be a joint meeting with the Board that starts at 6 PM, and the regular meeting would start at 7:30 PM.

He added that the Board had two agenda items; the first would be a presentation on where the Commissioners were on the AF topic, and the second would be a discussion on the minimum square footage requirement for a residential development; Rhein followed with additional information on the square footage topic.

Throenle stated that the agenda for the 7:30 meeting would be a discussion of the topics from the joint meeting, and that items discussed during tonight's meeting would be brought back in September.

Throenle again thanked the Commissioners for finishing off the definitions and the use table.

MOTION CARRIED

PUBLIC COMMENT

The Johnsons, Lakewood Lane – have attended several meetings where accessory housing was on the agenda. Interested in finding out changes that are being considered. They have three issues: (1) detached versus attached unit; (2) size of unit – 1,000 square feet to accommodate a barrier free home; and (3) what happens to unit after initial use.

Deborah Mulcahey, 633 Lakewood Lane – spoke on keeping things legal and accurately reflecting data in minutes. Feels entire community has not spoken in regard to the zoning changes that are being proposed – she supports the concept of allowing smaller homes. Mulcahey wondered about the problems with non-conforming properties as there has only been one ZBA meeting in the past 12 months. She is opposed to changes in Agricultural / Forestry and feels the Township is fixing a problem that doesn't exist. Does not support changing waterfront from 125' to 100'. Use Flashvote to find out what residents want.

Frank Jeffries, 545 Mangum Road – questioned what is actually being done with the rezoning – would like to understand this better. (Supervisor Bohjanen indicated this will be discussed later in the agenda.)

CONSENT AGENDA

- A. Approve Minutes of Previous Meeting – Regular Meeting, July 10, 2023.
- B. Approve Revenue and Expenditure Reports – July 2023.
- C. Approve the Quarterly Financial Reports – Second Quarter (April – June) 2023.
- D. Approve Bills Payable, Check Register Reports – July 11, 2023 (Check # 26236 - 26259, in the amount of $35,985.47), July 20, 2023 (Check #26260 – 26283, in the amount of 65,197.52), and July 28, 2023 (Check # 26284 – 26295, in the amount of $18,102.10).

- E. Approve Bills Payable – Regular Payroll of July 6, 2023 (Check #'s DD3429 – DD3466 and Check #'s 11381 – 11386, Federal, State, and MERS in the amount of $49,716.54), and Regular Payroll of July 20, 2023 (Check #'s DD3467 – DD3494 and Check #'s 11387 – 11392, Federal State, and MERS in the amount of $49,083.79).

Zybert moved, Rhein supported to approve the consent agenda as presented.

MOTION CARRIED

SUPERVISOR'S REPORT

Supervisor Bohjanen introduced the two newest members of the Chocolay Township Police Department – Mason Mitchell and Tyler Harvala. They have just completed the Police Academy and graduated on August 18.

Bohjanen feels there is a significant amount of concern in not getting the public's input regarding zoning changes. Zoning is a living document and changes with time. Later in the meeting, there will be a discussion between the Township Board and the Planning Commission about this subject. Only a small representation of the public is in attendance at the meetings, but there is a plan to have community meetings, use Flashvote to get public input, followed by public hearings, 2 readings and then adoption. This is a long process and hopefully will involve a lot of input from the public.

CLERK'S REPORT

Clerk Engle indicated that more laws have passed, but there is still not a lot of clarity on the 2024 election process. Engle suggested that on the Presidential Primary it may be best to wait until closer to the election to vote, as there tends to be many candidates that drop out before the actual election. Once the ballot has been cast through the tabulator there is no opportunity to spoil the ballot and change your vote.

APPROVAL OF AGENDA.

Milton moved, Mullen-Campbell supported to approve the agenda as presented.

MOTION CARRIED

PUBLIC COMMENT

Deborah Mulcahey, 633 Lakewood Lane – spoke on keeping things legal and accurately reflecting data in minutes. Feels entire community has not spoken in regard to the zoning changes that are being proposed – she supports the concept of allowing smaller homes. Mulcahey wondered about the problems with non-conforming properties as there has only been ZBA meeting in the past 12 months. She is opposed to changes in Agricultural / Forestry and feels the Township is fixing a problem that doesn't exist. Does not support changing waterfront from 125' to 100'. Use Flashvote to find out what residents want.

- A/F FRAMEWORK PRESENTATION BY PLANNING COMMISSION

Chair Soucy explained that the Planning Commission's task was to develop a proposed plan for the AF zoning district to strike a balance between eliminating non-conformity, allow for the reasonable splitting of lots, and preserve the integrity and character of the Township's rural areas in a way that mitigates the possibility of sprawl. This has now been narrowed down to a framework that reflects the 1977 Zoning Ordinance by breaking the AF district into three districts. These districts are differentiated by intent, size, and use. These may look like:

AF 1 – under 3 acres (rural residential area)

AF 2 – between 3 – 15 acres (hobby farms to allow for more agricultural uses)

AF 3 – over 15 acres (more of the larger scale farming operations)

More public input would need to be gathered to see if this may be an option. Neighborhood scale with town hall meetings throughout the Township. Possibly some small scale maps.

Milton feels that the Planning Commission came up with a format that is easy to read in explaining the types of changes that are being proposed. This is more of a list type proposal.

Gencheff explained that the Planning Commission will not be creating any smaller lots, just trying to bring more areas into conformity.

Supervisor Bohjanen commented that the rezoning that took place in 2008 took the rural residential properties and made them AF, which at the same time made them non-conforming to AF. This seems to affect three areas where property rights were taken away from them. The whole object of this new process is not to take people's rights away from them, but to add uses and rights back. The Township has talked with the attorney on this. The public did not have that much input into the 2008 Zoning Ordinance. The Zoning Board of Appeals has been stable at this point because the property ownership has been stable. It is now coming to a generational change where it may not be as stable anymore.

Rhein indicated that this has been a long drawn-out process, and he feels they are doing their due diligence to reach out to the residents.

Engle stated that he lives in a non-conforming parcel. He has not had a problem but has known people that are trying to sell in his area that are having problems. Bohjanen indicated that there are many different size lots on Karen Road.

Bohjanen stated that the agricultural aspect has diminished – people that are farming already have the land. Others don't want to farm.

Bohjanen also stated that there has been talk about possibly having Agricultural (AG 1, AG 2, and AG 3) as its own zoning district, and keeping Forestry separate, because of the difference between open fields and forest.

Township Manager De Groot indicated that the Township has never declared state lands with an underlying land use. 31% of the land in the Township (which is owned by the State) is not zoned.

- TOWN HALL MEETINGS – TIMING, DUTY, AND ATTENDANCE

Bohjanen indicated that the Planning Commission will be moving forward with a document, possibly by spring / summer of 2024. Mullen-Campbell wondered if this is something that the Planning Commission should try to accomplish by the February 2024 joint meeting. Bohjanen indicated that would be an acceptable time frame.

Bohjanen feels that having three town hall meetings would be the most effective. Soucy indicated that he feels they should be based on location and meet people where they are to give people a chance to attend. Bohjanen indicated that everyone within the districts should be given notice for the town hall meetings.

Soucy feels that releasing a map on what this proposed zoning may look like, it will draw immediate scrutiny on what the Planning Commission is trying to accomplish. Doing it in smaller sections may help mitigate some of the comments.

Bohjanen asked how Flashvote can be used to gain insight. Rhein suggested starting simple to find out what people actually know about the zoning. Soucy indicated that would help the Planning Commission know what needs to be addressed at the town hall meetings.

De Groot stated that having a map for land use categories that don't exist could be very confusing. It may be better to do maps based on roads, not parcels. The Township has the power to rezone with public input – the danger is on what is enough public input. Need to be able to take a concept to the public, and then get feedback from the public. One thing that needs to be settled is the question (which was not addressed in 2008) if base zoning exists at the AF level for State-owned property. With the State looking at selling their property, how we look at base zoning is important. Bohjanen feels that in that case Forestry should be what looks like forestry, and Agricultural should be agriculture.

Soucy questioned what kind of buy-in is needed for State land. De Groot indicated that what can be done is a statement at the beginning of the Zoning Ordinance stating that “upon sale of State land private base zoning exists”. Base zoning would need to be identified for this statement.

- STRUCTURE SIZE BELOW 800 SQUARE FEET

Soucy indicated that the Planning Commission is looking at the possibility of tiny homes and ADUs. They have looked at a variety of sources (such as AARP) along with the fact that we are in a regional housing crisis. Supply and demand in the housing market are driving up prices, which makes it very challenging for younger people with smaller budgets to find housing. The addition of tiny homes could be a possibility in helping to solve this problem.

Bohjanen asked if this would require just amending dimension requirements or does this require another zoning district. Soucy felt that this could fall under “Special Use” or possibly a tiny home community. Bohjanen indicated that a tiny home community would require a developer. Gencheff feels that the size requirement should be lowered and tiny homes permitted. Rhein feels that we shouldn’t go too small – there needs to be a limit (such as 720 sq. ft.). This is also something that should go to the Town Hall Meetings.

Mullen-Campbell wondered if “homesteads” need to be considered, and how they would be sold.

Soucy indicated that the Planning Commission will come up with Flashvote questions at their regular meeting following the joint meeting.

MANAGER UPDATE FOR SEWER AND BUDGET

Sewer – Manager De Groot stated that the final reconciliation and punch list are done. Everything has been submitted to the state to close out the project.

Budget – staff has been working diligently, and the draft will be presented at the next meeting in September. December is the last month to approve the budget. We are not expecting any big projects going into 2024, unless they are funded by grant funds.

PUBLIC COMMENT

Deborah Mulcahey, 633 Lakewood Lane – spoke on people not going before the Zoning Board of Appeals. She feels that there are lots of changes, so does not agree with references to no changeovers. Questioned how bank or insurance company would know if a property is non-conforming. Spoke on the implications of changing the zoning district – taking. Applauds the idea of community and town hall meetings. Feels we need to find ways to get the information out to the public. As we move forward in doing presentation to the community, she feels it is sometimes difficult to follow what zoning is about – need to “dummy it down”.

The Johnsons, Lakewood Lane – just wondered if any decisions have been made, and how does this apply the accessory housing.

Frank Jeffries, 545 Mangum Road – spoke on the cost of building – young people are not able to afford. This is a heavy load for the next generation.

Zyburt moved, Rhein supported that the meeting be adjourned.

A. Joint Meeting Debrief

Commissioner Discussion

Soucy recommended the Commissioners start with the AF district discussion and asked for comments from DeGroot.

DeGroot stated that he was pleased regarding the amount of discussion on the issue. He added that it was time to ask the community about the future direction.

Soucy stated that feedback was necessary for the issue to be presented to the community. He asked for Commissioners for ideas related to the township hall meetings (such as charettes and maps).

Rhein stated that using maps needed to be done with the idea that the public would look at the maps as “final”, and that needed to be done with caution.

Gencheff stated that the maps would be important as the public would want to know what district they are associated with. Soucy stated that it would be better to ask what district they wanted to be in; Rhein agreed with the concept. Milton stated that information on the issue was readily available, and easy to understand. Gencheff asked what happens if only a few show up at the meetings; Rhein suggested that FlashVote be used to gain additional information, which would give additional sources for the decision process.

Gencheff stated that she had attended a Michigan Township Association meeting, and asked questions about getting the public involved in the process. She suggested sending FlashVote notifications with the tax bills. She stated she was not happy with the advertising cards that were sent out previously with the notice about FlashVote.

Commissioners discussed the use of email for notification purposes. Gencheff asked what the obstacles were concerning sending out emails; Throenle stated that sending out mass emails generally wound up in junk folders and that it was difficult to get people to sign up for the email process. Throenle added that the fastest way to get information out in the Township was word of mouth. He added that inserts with the tax bills were additional costs that would have to be considered. DeGroot added that communication methods were researched and reviewed in the past, and the communication issue that existed in the past and now is very similar. He suggested that the Commissioners address one issue at a time instead of trying to address all of them at the same time.

Throenle asked Soucy how he approached information while working with CUPPAD. Soucy responded that the primary method was word of mouth, followed by a post card sent to all the affected parties. Bohjanen added that residents do look at the posted agendas on the website, but it does not generate citizen input.

Gencheff asked about sending text messages; DeGroot suggested that staff would look at the methods to get the data out to the public. DeGroot also described the process of getting set up with FlashVote, including the negative response from the public when a text was received with the last vote that was sent out.

Throenle asked the Commissioners to consider the timeframe for the townhall meetings, especially since the time was short for those that would be leaving the Township for the winter. He suggested that the Township be divided into quadrants to gain public participation.

Bohjanen asked if a FlashVote question could be asked regarding attending a townhall meeting. DeGroot responded that the question had already been asked, and that participants generally stated that they would not attend.

Commissioners discussed the locations for the meetings. Locations discussed included the Township hall, Township public parks, Cherry Creek School, Lakenenland, and the casino.

Rhein suggested three meetings prior to the middle of October, at the Township hall.

DeGroot suggested that one meeting should be a later start time to accommodate those that have things to do at 4:30 through 6:00 PM. Commissioners decided that the meeting dates would be September 26 from 4:30 to 6:00 PM, October 10 from 7:00 to 8:30, and October 17 from 4:30 to 6:00 PM. The Commissioners decided that all meetings should be in the Township firehall with the ability for any resident to attend any session.

Maps were discussed as part of the presentation materials. Throenle asked Soucy to describe what the meetings should look like. Mullen-Campbell suggested that the meetings should be informal. Soucy added that an informational process should be available that directs the questions that the citizens might ask. Throenle suggested a pre-recorded presentation; Soucy suggested that it be one that could also be shared before the meeting.

Throenle asked what documents the Commissioners would like to be presented to the public as the "final draft." Gencheff suggested that a document that showed what was permitted and was conditional for the AG districts be put together. Gencheff asked if accessory dwelling units would be discussed; Rhein responded the focus should be only on the AF question.

DeGroot asked how fast documents could be produced on foam presentation boards to get the data for the public presentations. Gencheff responded she felt the boards could be finished in forty-eight hours.

Soucy asked the Commissioners to develop a list of suggested documents that would be used for the public presentations and that list would be discussed at the next meeting. Gencheff asked if information would be available to show citizens what zoning they are ready are in. Throenle stated the information could be available if the Commissioners wanted that.

Throenle changed the topic to accessory dwelling units and minimum square footage. He stated that the ordinance stated floor area and not footprint, and that a structure could be two floors at 400 square feet each that achieves the current 800 square feet requirement.

Gencheff asked about the 30 percent requirement for accessory dwelling units.

Throenle stated that was causing concern because of the size of the original structure. Gencheff asked that staff research how other communities addressed the issues, especially when considering owner-occupied and rentals.

IX. Public Comment

Richard Bohjanen, 140 Edgewood Drive

Suggested that a map be available for AF residents to put a pin on the map where they live to indicate the proposed zoning that they would be prefer. He suggested colored pins to represent the difference between AG 1, AG 2 and AG 3.

X. Commissioner's Comments

Rhein

Stated that there were great discussions, especially with the Board. He suggested that DeGroot's direction of one item at a time be followed.

Mullen-Campbell

Felt neighborhood canvassing was important.

Milton

Asked where the FlashVote information was on the website.

Gencheff

Expressed that she agreed with Rhein's comments.

Soucy

Thanked the Commissioners for a good job.

A. Discussion of Planning Commission Absences

Commissioner Discussion

Soucy addressed Commissioner Sloan's absences from the last three meetings. He addressed this while referring to the Commissioner bylaws where three consecutive absences were cause for removal from the Commission. He added that Sloan was a valuable asset to the Commissioner team.

Soucy asked Throenle if there was additional information regarding Sloan's absences. Throenle stated that her family circumstances were dire, and that was the reason for the latest absence.

Meister added that he felt Sloan was a good contributor and wished to keep Sloan as part of the Commission; Mullen-Campbell and Rhein agreed.

The Commissioners decided to wait and see how Sloan's situation would go.

B. Draft Ordinance Considerations for the Agriculture / Forestry (AF) District Work Sessions

Staff Introduction

Throenle presented the materials that staff suggested be made available for the town hall meetings. He added that the materials would be set up in a display format at various tables throughout the room during the work session. He added that State lands would not be included on the agriculture zoning district map so that concentration on the maps would be the agriculture / forestry zoning district.

Throenle added that a map will be placed on one of the tables to allow the public to put a pin in the map to indicate their preference related to the proposed language. He stated that a public notice was put in the newspaper and that a post card would be mailed to the owners of agriculture properties as an invitation to the town hall meetings.

Throenle stated that a handout with frequently asked questions and the proposed uses for the three districts would also be available.

Commissioner Discussion

Meister asked Throenle if an electronic GIS map could be set up to record the choices of the public during the work sessions. Throenle stated he would investigate that as a possibility.

Gencheff stated that if more information was presented, the public may be overwhelmed. She added that the times for the proposed meetings did not match up to the decided times from the previous meeting, but she was satisfied with the times that were newly published; Throenle stated that he was responsible for that error. Rhein stated that the times would be better as newly published to allow the public time to go home from work prior to the work session.

Throenle added that staff had started a presentation that would be available at the meeting. He stated that it could be a rolling presentation that would continue throughout the work session.

Meister asked about the format of the work session, and how formal it would be. Throenle stated that the work session was set up to allow the public to come to the session at any time, without a formal framework for the night. Throenle added that the work session was intended to gather information and not a session where the Commissioners would make a decision at the end of the night. Meister suggested that there be a formal presentation at the beginning and a continual roll of the presentation throughout the evening.

Gencheff stated that she preferred that the sessions be informal, to allow the public to come as they chose. Rhein added that the Commissioners could address the issues with the public and direct them to the rolling presentation.

Mullen-Campbell asked for name tags so that the public could identify the Commissioners and staff; Throenle stated that those could be provided.

Gencheff asked about PA 116 and how that would apply. She asked that it be added to the AG 2 district; Throenle stated that it was a State regulation and that it would be applicable to any property that qualified.

Gencheff about base zoning for the State lands. Throenle stated that discussion would occur at a future meeting so as not to confuse the public.

Gencheff asked about the map showing the AG 1, AG 2 and AG 3 districts. Throenle emphasized that the map was not a zoning map, but one that showed the size of the parcels within the agriculture zoning district.

Gencheff asked about the future land use map. Throenle stated that the future land use map and future growth maps were intended to show the public where projected impacts would be within the Township over the next five years. Throenle emphasized that the maps were to show how parcels exist as of today.

Soucy asked what a success rate should be on getting the public comment. Throenle stated that 634 cards will be mailed out, and 10 percent of that would be 63. He added that there would be no guarantee of how many people will attend each of the township hall meetings; he stated that additional ways to get input should be considered if there is a low turnout at the meetings.

Rhein stated that putting the meeting in the paper, mailing the cards, and posting the meeting on the Township sign should bring people in; Meister added that it would show that the Commissioners did what they had to do to get public input.

Gencheff asked what the next step would be going forward if there was little or no public participation to resolve the non-conformances and where the zoning districts would be. Throenle stated that staff would not be directing the Commissioners as to where the zoning districts should be, as the Commissioners would be making those decisions.

Gencheff asked for a zoning map that showed the parcels prior to 2008; Throenle stated he could provide that for the Commissioners.

Gencheff asked what the difference was between the mixed use district versus AG 1. Throenle stressed that they would only be agriculture related business; Meister stated that the parcels in that district would be primarily residential as most of the smaller parcels already have houses on it. Meister added that the Commissioner's job was to determine the best allowable uses in those districts, with a concern about how that would affect the Township in the future.

Soucy asked what the Commissioner roles would be during the work sessions. Throenle stated that the roles should be related to the message the Commissioners wanted the public to know about the process. He added that the target for resolution of the issue is February, and that the solution would be a modification of the current zoning ordinance. Rhein stated that the message to the public should be related to addressing the non-conformities and to get feedback on concerns related to their properties.

Gencheff asked what to do if other issues, such as accessory dwelling units, come up while in discussion with the public. Commissioners decided that if that occurred, that the answers should be in relation to the agriculture discussion.

Soucy asked what materials should be presented at each table. Milton suggested a uses handout on one of the tables. Discussions were related to those items, and Commissioners decided that the tables should be:

- 1) 1977 zoning map, 2008 zoning map, Township AF zoning district map, and Frequently Asked Questions handout
- 2) Future land use map, future growth sectors map, and AF acreage sizes today map
- 3) Proposed acreage sizes map, proposed district uses handout
- 4) Parcel pin map

Soucy asked for Commissioners to choose which table they wished to represent; Commissioners established a tentative table selection.

Commissioners discussed if an additional meeting should be held to determine if changes should be made to the meeting format. Commissioners decided not to hold an extra meeting.

Gencheff asked if the pin map would be cumulative. Throenle stated that it would be easier not to have the pins, but that cumulative would work as well.

Soucy asked Throenle what Throenle thought Throenle's role would be during the meetings. Throenle responded that he would be in the background as a resource.

Gencheff asked if the presentation would be looped; Throenle stated that it would, and that page numbers would be added to indicate where the viewer was in the presentation.

Soucy agreed to meet with staff to determine the presentation detail.

Gencheff asked if a box could be added to sign up for the Township newsletter. Commissioners agreed that it was a good idea. Rhein asked if the Board needed to approve the idea; Throenle stated that it would be a voluntary signup. Throenle stated that the signup would be an individual sheet to keep the email address confidential. Throenle added that addresses collected for FlashVote would not be used for the email list. Meister added that the newsletter would help develop a better sense of community.

Commissioner Decisions

Mullen-Campbell moved, Rhein seconded, to send out the notices for the townhall meetings on September 6, October 10 and October 17 of this year.

Vote: Ayes: 6 Nays: 0 Motion carried

After Commissioner review Meister moved, Milton seconded, that the proposed presentation materials for the townhall meetings be approved as presented and suggested for amendment between the Chair and staff.

Vote: Ayes: 6 Nays: 0 Motion carried

Meister asked how larger crowds would attend; Throenle stated that staff would review that.

DeGroot addressed questions from those in attendance; the questions asked focused primarily on the reason for the proposed changes. DeGroot and Soucy stated that the primary purpose was to increase property rights, and to reduce the number of nonconforming parcels within the Agriculture / Forestry (AF) zoning district.

Throenle stated that the maps in the room for the work session were not to be considered the proposed zoning map, as that will be developed in the future.

A. Draft Ordinance Considerations for the Agriculture / Forestry (AF) District Work Sessions

Staff Introduction

Throenle gave an overview of the townhall sessions and the detail that was presented at the sessions. He stated that the pin maps that were used for the self-selection at the meetings had been converted to GIS maps that were included in the packet. He added that there was an error in section VII.A.12 in the packet; about the middle of the page the text should read “3 to 15 acres” instead of “3 to 10 acres”.

Commissioner Discussion

Rhein stated that he felt the sessions went well, and that comments from the public were well received. Soucy stated that the public felt that they were being heard, and that the primary concern was to keep an agricultural flavor to all the districts. Sloan pointed out that the comments in the packet supported the concepts that some changes were desired, but that most with the larger acreages wanted to stay the same. Gencheff added that Soucy did a very good job of presenting a consistent message during his presentations at the meetings. Mullen-Campbell added that it might be good to have a townhall session again in the spring.

Commissioners addressed the maps that were presented that represented the self-selection. Meister felt that the self-selections pointed to a preservation of some areas but that others could be changed. He added that he felt the acreage sizes should be discussed to determine if they were the correct sizes.

Rhein suggested that the sizes be changed to accommodate the larger parcel sizes; he recommended that the sizes be changed to five acres for AG 1, 5 to 20 for AG 2 and 20 and over for AG 3. Commissioners suggested that maybe the three districts should be combined into two; Mullen-Campbell stated she felt that three districts were necessary to keep the distinctions in place for each district.

Sloan suggested looking at the maps to determine where the changes should occur. She stated that the area near the western end of County Road 480 be changed to AG 1 as many of those parcels were small in size; Meister agreed.

More discussion ensued regarding that area; the Commissioners agreed that area would be the best for the AG 1 designation.

Meister asked Throenle if it would be possible to draw zoning areas instead of rezoning individual parcels. He suggested that lines be drawn across parcels to accommodate a block effect. Throenle responded that if lines were drawn across parcels with different zoning, it would be difficult to determine where on the parcel one set of zoning uses would end, and where the other would begin. He stated if a parcel was zoned with one zoning designation, that the zoning areas may be jagged, but the result would be only one zoning district per parcel as a result.

Throenle asked the Commissioners what the target date was for the completion of the agricultural zoning discussion. After discussion, Commissioners agreed that the target for the public hearing for the Planning Commission should be the February meeting. Meister stated that staff could bring back the maps showing the proposed districts at the December meeting, and that the maps could be modified at that time in preparation for the public hearing in February.

Commissioners discussed the other areas on the map, with discussion centered on the best choices for different areas in the Township. They decided that the parcels on the Sand River section located at the northeast corner of the Township should be in the AG 1 district. Changing discussion to the West Branch Road / Foster Creek section of the Township, they decided those parcels should be in the AG 2 district. Commissioners decided parcels identified in the center of the map north of Green Garden Road would be in the AG 3 district.

Commissioners discussed the parcels located on Mangum Road from Maple Road to the east and decided that the size of the parcels indicated the section should be in the AG 2 district. They then moved the discussion to the lower portions of Cherry Creek Road and the Karen Road area, and decided those parcels should also be in the AG 2 district.

Moving up Little Lake Road, Commissioners decided to put those parcels around Shimon Court into the AG 3 district. Above that, going to County Road 480, Commissioners decided that area should be designated as AG 2.

Commissioners discussed the parcels on the south side of M-28 East from Wanda Drive to the east. They decided that parcel sizes there showed the parcels should be in the AG 1 district.

Gencheff asked about changing the base zoning from the State Lands and asked how those parcels would be designated. Throenle suggested that the State Land rezoning question be addressed after the AF discussions were completed, so that the state land parcels could be designated into the previously decided zoning locations; Commissioners agreed with that suggestion.

Commissioners discussed the two parcels located between Townline Road and Old Kiln Road on the border of the Township; they directed Throenle to suggest where those parcels should be designated, as they seemed to be outlier parcels.

Commissioner Decision

After Commissioner review and discussion, Meister moved, Rhein seconded, that the next steps for the agriculture zoning district be as follows:

- 1) Staff should prepare a draft map for the December meeting.
- 2) Staff should designate on the map the areas discussed and group the agriculture districts according to discussion during the meeting.

VIII. New Business

B. Housing Discussion

Soucy stated that he had asked staff to put information in the packet regarding housing. He had acquired the information from a recent Michigan Association of Planning conference and wanted to begin the discussion of housing in the Township. He added that the primary concern from the conference was a lack of housing, especially for those that were aging, and he suggested the Commissioners begin looking at the accessory dwelling unit question.

Soucy asked Throenle for staff comments. Throenle stated that he had prepared some extracts from the census data throughout the County and had compared that data to the State of Michigan numbers. Throenle added that the numbers indicated a significant aging population in the County, with Forsyth Township showing the highest of all within the County. He further remarked that the documents in the packet showed a need for accessory dwelling units, and that a direction for most of the discussion was the ability to rent the unit after it was established. He added that considerations for accessory dwelling units in the Township should consider the cost of the units, the number of units per parcel, and how the well and septic issue would be resolved if two residences were on the same parcel.

Commissioner Discussion

Using his laptop, Soucy showed a “Single Year by Sex” census table from the 2020 census to both the Commissioners and the public in attendance.

He described the age-related data and showed the critical timelines for accommodating accessory dwelling units within the Township to address aging in place issues.

Meister stated that he did not have an issue with accessory dwelling units; he wanted them to be that the owner of the property had to be living on the property where the accessory dwelling unit would be located. Gencheff agreed, stating that California had a large issue with company-owned properties and the rental of the secondary units when primary owners were not on the properties.

Mullen-Campbell asked when a discussion on the accessory dwelling units would take place; Meister suggested that the conversations begin as soon as the agricultural districts discussion was completed; Soucy added that the conversations could start in March of 2024.

IX. Public Comment

Michelle Weitek-Stephens, 550 Little Lake Road

Spoke about the accessory dwelling unit discussion, and asked the Commissioners to keep in mind the number of residents that leave for the winter. She spoke on agricultural uses and structures, and the need to keep space from neighbors because of those uses and structures. She also expressed concern about lot sizes for agricultural use.

Jill Bradford, 555 Little Lake Road

Spoke on making the right choices for each agricultural parcel. She also expressed concern to the Commissioners for wanting to change parcel sizes. She stated that what was presented at the townhall meetings should be what is followed as those are the acreage sizes that were presented to the public and what the public used for the self-selection maps.

X. Commissioner's Comments

Rhein

Great discussion; was glad to see the mapping discussions that took place, and that the issue was coming to a close.

Mullen-Campbell

Stated that it was a good meeting of discussion.

Sloan

Felt that there was a lot of progress made during the meeting regarding the agriculture discussion.

Gencheff

Expressed that she was concerned about making sure the decisions were made to keep residents from losing use rights on their property.

Soucy

Thanked the Commissioners for a good job.

Meister

Expressed that he was looking forward to finishing the agricultural district discussion.

XI. Director's Report

Planning / Zoning Administrator Throenle

He stated that there would be an agenda item in December to discuss the meeting dates for 2024. He added that the next meeting would be December 18, and wished the Commissioners a "Happy Thanksgiving".

VII. New Business

A. Preliminary Site Plan Review – Dollar General Store # 30520

Staff Introduction

Throenle pointed out that the applicant representative was attending via Zoom.

He stated that Dollar General purchased the property at the corner of US 41 South and Silver Creek Road. He added that the plan had gone through review by the Corridor Committee with no recommendations for any changes.

Commissioner Discussion

Rusty Doss, representing Dollar General, gave an overview of the project. He stated the store would be the largest footprint that Dollar General has, with the intent of having a larger selection of groceries.

He added that MDOT would be reviewing the application with a recommendation that would be coming on January 12, 2024.

He stated that 15 feet of the tree line along the property lines would be retained as part of the project.

He walked through the plan, showing snow storage, well locations, utility connections, and addressed a proposed lighting plan.

Doss stated that he would take the Commissioner comments and the MDOT comments and present those as a formal site plan review in the near future.

Meister expressed that his biggest concern was already being addressed with the MDOT review. Rhein stated that his concern was the snow storage area, and if it would be large enough.

Sloan asked if the entire site drained to the proposed drainage area. Doss stated that the runoff would be piped to the stormwater area in the southwest. Meister added that for the final review to indicate if any of that water would be flowing over to Silver Creek Road. Doss added that storm water storage would be part of the MDOT review.

Meister stated that a minor change would be in the landscaping area; he indicated that the cotoneaster and privet shrubs were semi-invasive and suggested that they be replaced with something more native to the area. Doss said he would change the plantings as requested.

Throenle added that the Corridor committee recommended that stop signs be placed on the bike path on both sides of the of the entrance; Doss stated he would add that to the plans.

Meister asked about the retaining wall. Doss stated that the wall would be primarily used for grading purposes but could be heightened if necessary.

Gencheff asked about a deceleration lane into the property, and access from Silver Creek Road. Meister commented that would be addressed from the MDOT review.

Sloan asked about the existing building. Doss stated that there was some interest from the neighboring property regarding moving the building, and that it was being handled through the real estate division of Dollar General.

Soucy asked about the market research and the support of two similar establishments in the Township and what would happen if the market expectations were not met. Doss stated that the real estate folks did the research with the intent of making the location successful.

Milton asked who the current owner of the property was; he was told that Portage Creek LLC was the current owner.

B. Proposed 2024 Planning Commission Meeting Dates

Commissioner Discussion

Mullen-Campbell asked if the January 15 meeting could be moved to January 22. Commissioners did not have an issue with the change.

Meister asked if November 18 could be changed. After discussion, the Commissioners changed the date to November 25.

Commissioner Decision

Rhein moved, Mullen-Campbell seconded, that the meeting dates proposed for 2024 Planning Commission meetings be accepted with a change from January 15 to January 22 and November 18 to November 25.

Vote: Ayes: 7 Nays: 0 Motion carried

VIII. Unfinished Business

A. Proposed Zoning Ordinance Amendments for the Agriculture / Forestry (AF) Zoning District (34-23-02)

Staff introduction

Throenle stated that the language being presented was the same that was presented over a series of previous meetings, with slight changes to the intent language. He added that the direction was to have the language incorporated into the current zoning ordinance. Throenle stated that the zoning ordinance would be changed by:

- 1) Removing section 4.7 Agriculture / Forestry Zoning District (AF)
- 2) Renumbering section 4.8 Municipal Properties (MP) to section 4.7.
- 3) Renumbering section 4.9 District Planned Unit Development (see Article X) to section 4.8.
- 4) Renumbering section 4.10 Special Uses in Designated Zoning Districts to section 4.12.

- 5) Inserting the proposed sections 4.9 AG 1 – Agriculture 1, 4.10 AG 2 – Agriculture 2, and 4.11 AG 3 – Agriculture 3.

Throenle suggested that Commissioners review the document with the intent of either presenting it for a public hearing or bringing it back for another review prior to a public hearing. He added that the document presented showed the markup as to how the language will look in the zoning ordinance.

Commissioner discussion

Soucy asked if the language included the proposed size of the zoning districts; Throenle responded that it did.

Gencheff asked about the zoning maps; Throenle stated that the map discussion was a separate agenda item.

Sloan asked about the setbacks; Throenle stated that the language was what was presented at the Townhall meetings.

Meister stated that the acreage size was the remaining discussion item for him. He added that he would prefer that the discussion be completed at this meeting.

Commissioners discussed the acreage sizes and retained the acreage sizes as written. Throenle added that residents in the new districts would have the right to petition to change their zoning for their property assuming that their property bordered a district that they wanted to be changed to. He added that no one will be required to split and go to a smaller acreage size.

Sloan suggested that the language be changed for AG 3 to remove “large scale” from the language; Meister concurred.

Commissioner decision

After Commissioner review, Meister moved, Rhein seconded, that the Township zoning ordinance be amended as amendment number 34-23-02 to accomplish the following:

- 1) Remove section 4.7 Agriculture / Forestry Zoning District (AF).
- 2) Renumber section 4.8 Municipal Properties (MP) to section 4.7.
- 3) Renumber section 4.9 District Planned Unit Development (see Article X) to section 4.8.
- 4) Renumber section 4.10 Special Uses in Designated Zoning Districts to section 4.12.
- 5) Insert the proposed sections 4.9 AG 1 – Agriculture 1, 4.10 AG 2 – Agriculture 2, and 4.11 AG 3 – Agriculture 3 and related language as revised with the following findings of fact:

- 1) The proposed ordinance changes are in congruence with the Master Plan statements for future land use
- 2) 62 percent of the parcels in the Agriculture / Forestry district do not conform to our ordinance regulations on minimum parcel size

- 3) The Planning Commission sent post cards to all Agriculture / Forestry parcel owners, held three public workshops, and received substantial input from 84 residents
- 4) Page 89 in the master plan refers to rural residential zoning, page 48 is the problem statement, pages 63 to 65 in the master plan appendix are the future land use maps, page 93 in the appendix is the section on future zoning, and page 111 is the strategy and that the proposed language be presented for a public hearing at a future Planning Commission meeting.

Vote: Ayes: 7 Nays: 0 Motion carried

Rhein moved, Mullen-Campbell seconded, that the public hearing be held at the February 12 meeting at 7 PM.

Vote: Ayes: 7 Nays: 0 Motion carried

B. Proposed Zoning Map for the Agriculture / Forestry (AF) Zoning District (34-23-02)

Staff introduction

Throenle stated that the maps in the packet covered the discussions that have taken place from the beginning of the map discussions.

He explained that the proposed zoning maps had three sections: 1) proposed AG zoning districts, 2) proposed AG zoning districts with the surrounding current zoning; and 3) wetlands laid over the proposed AG zoning districts.

Gencheff asked about development in the wetland districts and the purpose of changing the zoning. Throenle stated the primary purpose was to give residents the choice of uses on their parcels while reviewing the wetland requirements.

Throenle showed a hand drawn map used at the previous meeting that was used to determine the maps presented to the Commissioners.

Commissioner discussion

Gencheff expressed several concerns regarding the drawing of the proposed maps. Rhein and Meister stated that the maps were drawn based on recommendations from the previous meeting to staff to put on new maps.

Meister made a statement regarding spot zoning and that the districts should be set up as contiguous runs representing the same district. He recommended that the Commissioners look at the quadrants and discuss the changes. He sent a drawing to Throenle of what he was proposing so that the maps could be updated and walked through the changes with the Commissioners.

Commissioners reviewed the changes presented and discussed the differences between the AG 2 and AG 3 possibilities.

Commissioner decision

Meister moved, Rhein seconded, that staff proceed with the changes discussed and bring the map back for discussion at the next meeting.

Vote: Ayes: 7 Nays: 0 Motion carried

Throenle stated if a decision was made at the next meeting, time would be sufficient for notifications to be mailed to all parcel owners in the Agriculture / Zoning district regarding the upcoming public hearing for both the language and the map.

IX. Public Comment

Kevin Taylor, pastor of Silver Creek Church

Spoke on the upcoming Dollar Store project and the removal of the building that is on the property.

Jill Bradford, 555 Little Lake Road

Spoke on the discussion on the agriculture zoning process, and thanked the Commissioners for both the discussion and the maps that were online. She also wished the Commissioners a safe and healthy "Merry Christmas."

X. Commissioner's Comments

Rhein

Wished everyone a "Merry Christmas". Stated that it was a great discussion; expressed things are heading the right direction and glad to see that things are getting done.

Mullen-Campbell

Stated that it was a good meeting of discussion, and that things were moving along at a good pace. She added that 2024 would be an interesting year and added a "Merry Christmas" and "Happy New Year" to everyone.
